

BOOT CAMP 1721

Chapter 1721: Follow Him

Ye Jian didn't take this threat to heart at all. However, Major Xia's looks were too outstanding. His features were elegant. His dark eyes contained a faint smile that could make a woman's heart flutter. He looked at her affectionately. Ye Jian couldn't help but raise her eyebrows. Her lips moved slightly as though she was saying something.

Xia Jinyuan was obviously stunned for a moment. Then, he smiled. His thin lips curved upward in a faint smile. He looked like an elegant young master who was sitting by the window and sipping tea. He accidentally found the most beautiful flower. His smile suddenly bloomed and his natural, noble aura quietly surged.

Even though he was wearing a combat uniform, he could still exude the noble, elegant, and proud aura of a noble young master.

He had really grown up and become much bolder... so bold that he could even tease her.

Ye Jian said, "Such a masculine face is really pleasing to the eye!"

There was still 15 minutes before they arrived at the bordering town. Ye Jian successfully managed to tease Xia Jinyuan so that he didn't dare to tease her anymore. He didn't want to make himself suffer.

It was extremely cold in December, and at night, it was almost a dozen degrees below zero. When the helicopter arrived at the military airport, it was exactly five in the morning. The howling north wind was completely different from the forest in Sichuan Province.

The wind here could directly penetrate through all the layers of protection against the cold, and with the fiercest force, it seemed to penetrate into your bones. In an instant, it was so cold that even your bones would become like icicles that could not withstand a single blow. Just a little bit of force was enough to break them.

Ye Jian carried her bag and got off the helicopter. She felt as though her blood seemed to have stopped flowing. Even her heart felt cold.

"Ask them to gather and change their equipment." Xia Jinyuan had already turned into a wild wolf. He was not affected by the wind at all. In the blink of an eye, he was a few steps ahead of Ye Jian.

Ye Jian adjusted the straps of her backpack and chased after his tall and straight back.

The members of Storm Commando and the Xueyu unit were already getting ready. Half an hour later, everyone was ready to leave for the Gobi Desert for 15 days of training.

The Gobi Desert in the northwest was relatively alright during the day in winter, but at night, the cold was unbearable. If the protection against the cold was not done well, one would not wake up but unknowingly enter an eternal 'slumber'.

All the team members were checking the cold-proof and heat-proof combat equipment to prevent any problems from dragging them down.

This time, the Gobi desert training was still about actual combat training. The main focus was on the water ghosts of Storm Commando. It could be said that this training was to improve the members of the Frogman Commando Unit. They not only had to fight with their bodies but also expand their combat field so that everyone could win a battle in a more complicated environment.

The desert they entered this time was the second-largest desert in the country. It covered an area of 45,000 square kilometers. The name of the desert meant 'a place infested by wild boars'.

What was even more amazing was that the desert landscape here was unique. Looking down from the sky, the desert formed a tree branch pattern. It was extremely spectacular.

When Ye Jian followed Xia Jinyuan into the campsite, Li Jinnian was sending the plans, proposals, and risk assessments he made yesterday night back to the military headquarters. The commander-in-chief of the navy saw the two of them first.

"Little Ye, clean up your equipment first. We still have 20 minutes before we gather and leave." Time was tight. The commander-in-chief of the navy didn't know about Ye Jian's physical condition. He just wanted to complete the most important task.

Chapter 1722: Brand New

Ye Jian immediately tidied up her equipment. As it was new equipment, she only finished putting it on under the guidance of her comrades.

This was the first time Ye Jian saw such equipment. From the back, she couldn't see anything different. She only felt that her backpack was much smaller. However, when she looked at it from the front, she could tell that there was something different about this equipment.

When she was looking at the drawings Xia Jinyuan drew and listening to his explanation, Ye Jian didn't have any concept of this set of equipment. After this set of equipment was put on, she put on the sensors on her thighs, then on her waist and back. Upon putting on the backpack, she felt that there was something different about this set of equipment.

The weight was already much lighter.

"The power exoskeleton was started in 1960 by General Electric, but they only developed equipment for one hand at that time. They started their research in 1983 at MIT. Our country's research and development was later than theirs, but the trial period is over now, and we're entering the modification and prototype period. If there's anything that you think isn't reasonable enough or needs to be changed during the march, you have to write it down, Azure Bird."

The person who was in charge of putting her equipment on was Big Shark. The entire set of equipment took less than two minutes to put on. It was quite fast.

After putting on her helmet, Ye Jian took two steps back. Big Shark nodded in satisfaction. He smiled and asked Ye Jian, "Have you seen this American sci-fi movie? You look like an actress in that movie."

He gave the name of the movie. It was a science-fiction blockbuster that was released in the second half of 1984.

Ye Jian knew that she hadn't seen it before. However, she had seen other sci-fi films before. Hence, when Big Shark talked about it, she felt that it was true. "I haven't seen that sci-fi movie before. But now that you mention it, I do see the resemblance."

"You can tell the age difference between the two of us at once," Big Shark said jokingly. "However, this one of ours is more complicated than the T600. It's more technical. We are the first batch of soldiers to use it. Hence, our suggestions are very important. You have to pay attention during the march."

This concerned the military power of the country. Ye Jian was not a careless person. She would only be more cautious.

Xia Jinyuan and the commander-in-chief of the navy had already changed their equipment. The two teams walked out of the barracks as fast as they could while whistling.

"The two teams will be divided into smaller teams. A total of four teams will board the vehicle!" The armored vehicles were already in position. As the commander-in-chief of the navy gave the order, the two teams quickly formed four smaller teams. They carried their rifles and boarded the vehicle.

The armored vehicles would only send the teams to the periphery of the Gobi Desert. Next, they would enter the desert on foot.

It was still dark at 5.30 o'clock. The campsite was located in an isolated corner. There was no light in the surroundings. Ye Jian was the first to jump into the car. She sat in the innermost area of the armored car. A few strong figures jumped into the car one after another. The four groups of comrades got into the vehicles at the same time.

Li Jinnian and Ye Jian sat opposite each other. When they got into the vehicle, he turned on the nightlight on his helmet and passed a set of training materials to Ye Jian. "Have a look at the 15-day training schedule before we reach the outskirts of the Gobi. If you have any questions, raise them early."

Ye Jian took the training materials and read the first page. Her pupils constricted. The more she read, the more serious her expression became.

At this moment, she was really thankful for the new set of equipment on her. How could she outrun a trained military dog with tens of kilograms of weight on her?

That's right. On the first day upon entering the Gobi Desert, they had to be tracked and searched by military dogs!

Chapter 1723: Afraid Of Dogs?

Military dogs had high intelligence and had undergone special training. As for Ye Jian, she was afraid of dogs.

After reading through the entire training plan, no matter how difficult it was later on, nothing was as scary as the 'military dog tracking and searching' on the first page.

It was said that once bitten, twice shy.

The difference was that it wasn't a snake that bit her but a dog.

When she was six years old, Ye Ying took a fancy to the neighbor's puppy. The neighbor's mistress didn't get along well with Sun Dongqing. The more Ye Ying wanted it, the more the family didn't want to give it to her.

Sun Dongqing couldn't bear to scold her daughter so she scolded her neighbor for being petty. Her neighbor's mistress was a shrew too. After hearing what she said, she scolded her. She said that Ye Ying was jealous of other people's good fortune. When she sees the belongings of others, she would want them for herself. She was extremely petty. If she didn't get what she wanted, she would make a fuss about things like an uneducated brat.

How could Sun Dongqing, who had always been protective of her family, accept Ye Ying's scolding? She took a broom and rushed up to fight. She even fought over a dog. The two families completely fell out with each other. However, Ye Ying didn't stop and continued to argue.

Sun Dongqing couldn't coax her anymore so she thought of a solution... As the vehicle swayed, Ye Jian touched her outer thigh and pursed her lips.

When she was young, she was afraid of Sun Dongqing. She was afraid that she would be beaten up so she listened to Sun Dongqing and went to the neighbor's house to steal the puppy for Ye Ying. In the end, when she picked up the puppy, its mother rushed out from the side and bit her leg.

From then on, she was afraid of dogs. She had been afraid until now.

Ye Jian secretly readjusted the training materials and handed them back to Li Jinnian. She smiled bitterly and said, "I'm a little worried. I'm afraid of dogs. This time, the military dogs are large. I haven't even started but my palms are already sweating."

There was a thin layer of sweat on her palm.

Li Jinnian wasn't surprised at all. He looked at her and said calmly, "Back then, Sea Anemone was afraid of dogs. He was so afraid that no matter what kind of dog he saw, even if it was a pet, he would always avoid it. But now, as a scout, he's no longer afraid of dogs. Is your fear toward dogs as severe as his?"

He didn't think it was a big deal. Everyone had things they were 'afraid of'. Some people could choose to never touch the things they were afraid of, while others had no choice but to face it until they won.

Ye Jian belonged to the latter. As a soldier, she had to face everything head-on and win.

Ye Jian smiled bitterly and sighed. "I'm just as scared as Sea Anemone. I'm scared of big and small dogs. I was bitten when I was young, so I'm scared till now."

She had never thought of hiding it. This kind of thing could not be concealed just because she wanted to. Moreover, she would have to face it very soon, and she needed to report it to her captain in advance.

“A psychological trauma?” Li Jinnian, who had a calm expression the entire time, said calmly, “That’s good. Let’s see if we can overcome it this time. You can still follow me. There’s nothing to be afraid of. The military dogs have received professional training. They won’t bite you. They’ll only track and search.

“Also, the more you show fear, the more the military dogs will follow you. Relax and think about how to avoid getting tracked by them.”

At this point, she could only do so. If she was really targeted by the military dogs, she probably wouldn’t panic too much.

The year she came back, she had gone home to look for Grandpa Gen. The Tibetan Mastiff, Heiga, had put its forelegs on her shoulders. At that time, she... was quite calm.

Chapter 1724: Need To Overcome It!

Thinking about this, Ye Jian felt much calmer. If something really happened, she probably wouldn’t have the time to think about whether she was afraid or not. Instead, she would be thinking about how to get out of the predicament.

After some mental preparation, Ye Jian gradually calmed down.

Li Jinnian didn’t take this matter seriously either. She wasn’t the only one who was afraid of dogs. After being bitten by a dog when she was young, she became afraid of them. She just needed to get over it.

Back then, Sea Anemone only took half a day to overcome his fear.

The first time Ye Jian entered Storm Commando, she went through a high CO2 test. She was able to pass this kind of test that tortured people physically and mentally. Hence, it would not be difficult for her to overcome her fear of dogs.

After three hours of rest, Li Jinnian found Xia Jinyuan and brought this up. What surprised him was that Xia Jinyuan didn’t know about this. “You didn’t know that she’s afraid of dogs? Have you never noticed it before?”

This was the first time Xia Jinyuan heard about it. He frowned and replied with certainty, “No, I’ve never heard her say it before.” Logically speaking, it was impossible. Grandpa Gen had a Tibetan mastiff. She wasn’t even afraid of Tibetan mastiffs, so why would she be afraid of dogs?

“I’ll keep an eye on her.” Li Jinnian didn’t ask anymore. He only came over to ask Ye Jian how scared of dogs she was.

Xia Jinyuan looked around and found Ye Jian who was moving her limbs. He asked, “How did she react when she saw the training plan? Did she have a huge reaction?”

“She didn’t have a big response. She just read through the entire training plan and told me that she’s afraid of dogs. I’ll keep an eye on her.” Li Jinnian only had 10 minutes to rest and adjust before he said a few more words related to training. After that, he led the team into the vehicle.

Ye Jian was still in the same vehicle as him. When they reached the destination, she didn't mention that she was afraid of dogs anymore.

After six hours of maneuvering, they arrived at their destination. This was the Gurbantunggut Desert located on the northern border, surrounded by tall mountains and isolated terrain. The reason they chose this place to complete their training was mainly due to the terrain. There were mountains, hills, and the sandy Gobi Desert.

The two teams completed their training in the Gobi before entering the desert to complete their training.

They set off at 5:30 in the morning. There was a total of 20 minutes of rest halfway through the journey, and the armored vehicles arrived on time at 10:30. The members of the two teams, who were already prepared, jumped out of the vehicles and quickly assembled before being led into the Gobi by the leaders of the four teams.

Without a compass, they only had a satellite locator. This was to make it easier for the helicopter to provide support if anything happened to the team members.

"First, let one team lead the way and see what's waiting for us. The other team will cover the path secretly. The other two teams will push forward from left and right." Xia Jinyuan was in charge of two teams. After entering the Gobi, the two teams didn't move forward immediately. Instead, he arranged for them to be deployed. "All the military dogs are excellent military dogs selected from the military dog base. Each military dog has someone in charge of it. They are only in charge of tracking and searching. As for who will deal with us after they find us, the military has always liked to remain mysterious. Hence, I'm not too sure about that either.

"So, brothers, take it easy. Don't walk alone. Dogs have a strong sense of smell and hearing, especially trained military dogs. Although they won't bite us, they will consume our stamina if they target us."

Training in the desert was meant to strengthen the combat capabilities of the special forces. The military would not just arrange for the dogs to chase after them. There would definitely be something bigger.

Chapter 1725: Run

All the team members agreed with this point. How could the military just play some small tricks when faced with such a complicated environment? However, the plans written in the training were all small tricks. Those that weren't included were the big moves.

The eyes of the water ghosts of Storm Commando were all shining. This was the closest, longest, and most difficult training they ever had. The more demanding the conditions and environment, the more they would discover their shortcomings and improve their combat ability!

"Since we're here, we should just wait for the military's ultimate move! We won't be happy if we only see small tricks." Big Whale grinned. His white teeth were particularly eye-catching against his dark complexion. They looked like the canines of a beast.

The rest of the water ghosts nodded and were eager to start the training.

The two teams were divided into four groups, and the four groups were divided into two smaller groups to support each other. Once two people were needed to carry out a mission. They could move forward one after another.

Naturally, Ye Jian was still in the same group as Li Jinnian. Her military boots stepped on the Gobi sand and the dry cold wind blew as she walked into this desolate but awe-inspiring land.

This was a colorless place. The sky was blue, and the ground was gray. The hills and short ridges stood in the air all year round, enduring the corrosion of the wind. Ye Jian couldn't help but walk more softly.

Leaning forward slightly, Ye Jian and Li Jinnian exchanged positions before and after holding their guns. They signaled to the team members behind them to pass quickly.

Her and Li Jinnian's team was in charge of leading the way and finding out what was waiting ahead. It had been two hours since they entered the Gobi. From 10:40 to 12:40, they hadn't found anything along the way.

The more it was like this, the more tense everyone became. It was as if there were countless eyes staring at them from behind these low mountain ridges that were like broken rocks. No matter where they went, they seemed to be followed by shadows.

There was a faint smell that was carried by the wind. Ye Jian, who was in front, suddenly glared at her team members. She made a hand gesture to signal them to disperse. The team members behind her all dispersed.

Woof, woof, woof! The barking of dogs could be heard. Then, several military dogs ran over until their limbs were covered in sand. They were in high spirits.

They were coming from up ahead!

There were a total of 12 military dogs. After they ran to where the team members had dispersed, they lowered their heads and sniffed around with their noses. Two of the military dogs were so excited that their tails were wagging. They roared as they chased toward the side.

The soldier in charge of two dogs immediately reported, "Target found!"

"Alright, keep an eye on the target! Let's see how far they can run and how long they can run!" A stern voice came from their wireless communication device. It was the voice of a major general who had arrived at the Gobi in advance.

Soon, the other ten dogs also found their targets and began to spread out in all directions to pursue them.

Ye Jian and Li Jinnian ran very fast. They needed to shake off the dogs as soon as possible and increase the distance between them so that the wind could blow away their smell.

With a brand new piece of equipment, they could increase their speed and not be affected by their combat equipment.

“We’re being targeted! Brothers, let’s go first!” The voice of the Xueyu unit sounded from the earpieces. They were being targeted by another group of dogs. “There’s a serial number on the dogs. The dog chasing us has a serial number 24. F*ck, it can’t be the 24th dog, right?!”

If that was the case, the military was ruthless to have sent out so many military dogs at once!

Chapter 1726: Test

Immediately after, another two team members panted as they contacted their comrades. “The one chasing us is number 17. It’s very likely that it’s the 17th dog! It’s very fast. It’s a race between us and it!”

Although they had already dispersed, the atmosphere suddenly became exceptionally tense.

That was because no one could guess what the military was planning. No one!

Xia Jinyuan and Li Jinnian were the same. They couldn’t guess what the military wanted to do! The only thing they could be sure of was that it was definitely a big move, and it was not an ordinary big move!

Dozens of military dogs were deployed. They came in pairs, so there were only 24 dogs. The 24 dogs were tracking two people each, which meant there were still two left.

Ye Jian thought about it and said to Li Jinnian softly, “Is the military planning to split all of us up? Do they want to observe Storm Commando?”

As soon as she finished speaking, Li Jinnian narrowed his eyes slightly. As he crawled on the gravel, he contacted his comrades, “Everyone, pay attention. After we split up, we don’t need to look for any team members. We’ll head straight to the final meeting point.”

Since they couldn’t guess the military’s plan, they could only take it one step at a time. Their goal was to reach the final rendezvous point and deal with the first day of the Gobi training.

“Mix the two teams together. Demon King Li, give me your coordinates.” Xia Jinyuan couldn’t guess what the military was planning so he immediately gave his opinion.

“According to my previous experience, 90 percent of us will be in the desert for annihilation and long-distance raid training. It’s not appropriate for Storm Commando to head to the rendezvous point in pairs.”

Xia Jinyuan didn’t have much time to express his opinion in a euphemistic manner.

Whether they believed him or not depended on Li Jinnian and the others.

Ye Jian tilted her head and looked at Demon King Li. She said softly, "Q King and the rest are from the special forces. They are much more experienced than us. Demon King Li, I think we can mix them up."

"Send the coordinates to each group and quickly complete the mix-up!" The time Li Jinnian took to think it through was the length of time for Ye Jian to say one sentence. After giving his instructions, he said to Xia Jinyuan, "Q King, if the elimination score is still counted, it's very likely that you will be counted if you follow us."

The military had already told them very clearly that the quota for the overseas competition next year was quite limited. They had to show results if they wanted a shot to go overseas to compete for glory!

The Xueyu unit belonged to the special forces. They had a huge advantage in the highlands, deserts, and Gobi training. If they wanted to fight for a spot, there was very little chance for Storm Commando to qualify. It was already very likely for the 22 members to qualify.

Xia Jinyuan located Ye Jian's position. After hearing what Demon King Li said, his thin lips curled up slightly. Under the black goggles, his dark eyes flashed with a smile. "Demon King Li, our two teams are in the same team now. It's normal to mix around. It's not normal if we don't."

Why did he say that?

That was because the two teams would be going overseas next year. They couldn't just be members of the Xueyu unit. If that was the case, it would be meaningless for the two teams to train together.

Li Jinnian quickly understood why Xia Jinyuan wanted to mix the teams up!

"Thank you for the reminder." Demon King Li, who had not realized it before, immediately apologized and gave his team members another order. "Complete the mix-up and advance quickly. Report to me if anything happens."

No matter what happened along the way, reaching their destination was their goal.

Chapter 1728: The Landing Was Done Beautifully

Li Jinnian had already spread out the map of the Gobi. After locating their current location, he looked at a certain spot on the map and said, "The area five kilometers in front of us is suitable for an ambush."

Xia Jinyuan took a look, and his eyes became darker. "Attention, attention! Five kilometers ahead of us are the hills. It's suitable for ambush and annihilation."

"We have to deal with these military dogs first! Otherwise, if we search here and the military dogs track us from behind, we won't be able to do anything at all!" The members of Storm Commando were a little out of breath from being chased by the military dogs. They could only continue to move forward after dealing with the military dogs.

They had run at least ten kilometers now. If they ran another five kilometers, they would encounter an ambush. As long as the military dogs were behind them, they would be targets waiting to be captured and destroyed.

“Gentlemen, I agree to get rid of the military dogs first. Running would consume too much stamina, and we have too little food and water. Once we run out of food, the outcome will be even worse.”

The members of the Xueyu unit expressed their thoughts.

Xia Jinyuan looked at Ye Jian. “You’re afraid of dogs. Are you ready?” He wanted to get rid of the military dogs first.

“I’m alright,” Ye Jian replied.

“We’re still five kilometers away from the hills. Before we enter, we have to deal with the dogs behind us!” Xia Jinyuan ordered. He wanted every team to deal with the dogs chasing them before heading toward the hills.

All the team members immediately took action when they received the order. Ye Jian was asked to deal with the military dogs alone. The rest of them protected her secretly.

Ye Jian had no objections to this arrangement. She really needed to overcome her fear of dogs. It was just a shadow left behind from her childhood. Now that she had lived two lives, how difficult would it be to overcome it?

The important thing was whether she was willing to face it and overcome it.

The military dog was right in front, and behind it was a soldier dressed in desert camouflage. When the soldier saw a figure suddenly appear from behind the rock, he immediately stopped the military dog. They were in a confrontation.

Then, Ye Jian moved slightly and the soldier ordered the dog to get closer.

It was a German shepherd. It was tall, powerful, and had strong offensive capabilities. However, it was still inferior to the Tibetan Mastiff, Heiga.

Facing it, Ye Jian clenched her fists slightly and asked the soldier, “How do we deal with this?”

“Remove its serial number from its body and I’ll bring it away. It’s very aggressive, but it has a mouth guard on, so you don’t have to worry about being bitten.” The soldier explained and then shouted at the military dog named Soldier, “Go, Soldier!”

The powerful military dog barked and pounced on Ye Jian. Its speed was extraordinarily fast. It was like a bolt of lightning. In an instant, it appeared in front of her.

Ye Jian used the rifle in her hand to block the attack of the military dog. As she didn’t want to hurt the military dog, she held the rifle horizontally and blocked the attack of the military dog. Ye Jian didn’t kick it with her leg. Instead, she pushed the rifle forward and pushed Soldier away.

The military dog, who gave out a low whine, sprang lightly from the gravel and then lunged again.

This time, its target was Ye Jian’s calf.

Dogs were much more agile than humans. Ye Jian didn't have much time to hesitate. When the military dog bit her calf, she used her hands to stop the head of the military dog. Then, she kicked her legs and jumped up. Her body was as light as a swallow.

Xia Jinyuan, who was secretly protecting her, only saw that slender figure flying across the blue sky like an eagle avoiding the enemy's attack. She knelt on one knee and landed on the ground.. Her posture was so beautiful that he focused all his attention on her.

Chapter 1729: Overcoming

The military dog reacted quickly. It would usually be able to subdue a criminal easily, but it met Ye Jian today.

Ye Jian, who had just landed on one knee, moved forward a few times to avoid the attack of the military dog. These German shepherd dogs that came out of the military camp were trained by the soldiers. Every time they attacked, they were angry.

Attacking from the back was even more dangerous than attacking from the front. Ye Jian dodged quickly and fiercely. She knelt on the uneven gravel and supported herself with one elbow. After a roll, she used the momentum and continued rolling a few times... Even so, she didn't manage to avoid the attack of the military dog.

A violent barking sound came from behind her. The unique smell of the beast rushed toward the back of her head. Ye Jian knew that she couldn't avoid it anymore. She didn't have the time to stand up. Her eyes darkened as she turned around.

This action made Xia Jinyuan, who was secretly protecting her, start breathing heavily. The little fox was going to fight with the military dog head-on!

Li Jinnian, who had a cold expression on his face, clenched his fists tightly. He glanced at her before quickly looking away. He was in charge of guarding the front. He couldn't stare at Ye Jian for too long.

"I can't sense her fear," Li Jinnian said in a low voice to Xia Jinyuan, who had his back facing him. "If she hadn't said it in advance, you and I wouldn't have noticed."

Ye Jian's thoughts were very deep. At the age of 20, she had already reached the stage where her feelings and thoughts didn't show themselves. In the future when she grew older, she would become more unpredictable.

Xia Jinyuan, who was looking straight ahead, nodded lightly. "She has been like this since she was young. It's hard to tell if she's afraid or not. She's very calm and won't let others discover her flaws easily."

The environment she grew up in did not allow her to be afraid. He thought that the word 'fear' didn't exist in her dictionary. She would only face everything head-on.

No matter how bitter, tired, or difficult it was, she would face it.

Li Jinnian didn't look at her anymore. With Xia Jinyuan watching over her, nothing would happen to Ye Jian.

They didn't make a move not because they couldn't but because they wanted her to overcome her psychological trauma!

The soldiers from the Xueyu unit who were guarding the area also looked at the figure who was fighting with the dogs. They held their rifles tightly and looked at the figure with a sharp gaze.

The comrades were fighting in front. They could not drag her down.

Ye Jian, whose back was hurt by the uneven gravel, looked at the figure of the huge dog that seemed to be descending from the sky. Her pupils shrank and she clenched her teeth. As the military dog approached, Ye Jian hugged the front limbs of the dog fiercely and accurately.

The soldier standing at the side immediately shouted, "Be careful!"

An appropriate reminder was definitely necessary. Although military dogs were trained, they would still retain their beastly nature during training. The most primitive beastly nature of dogs was to pounce on the weakest and most fatal spot—the neck.

Ye Jian realized that she had made a mistake. Her original plan was to grab the front legs of the military dog first, then shake it off before getting up herself.

Now, that was completely impossible.

The force of a military dog's pounce was considerable as they were trained to learn such movements over a long period of time. At the same time, soldiers would also undergo training for this.

At this moment, when she grabbed the front legs of the military dog with both hands, the training base had also covered this!

It was a mistake! She shouldn't have grabbed its front legs but its neck!

Chapter 1730: She Needs Reinforcements

The soldier in charge of the dog was already close to Ye Jian. This was just a training session. The dogs were not facing real enemies or criminals. They were facing their brothers and comrades. They had the responsibility to protect their comrades.

"Be careful." He did not remind her too much.

Although they were brothers and comrades, they were training, after all. There was no room for falsehood.

The sharp and ferocious canine teeth were shining from inside the mouth guard. Its teeth were three times more powerful than the knife made of animal bone. Once bitten, its teeth would sink into the bone! It would be a very deep puncture!

Woof woof woof!

The military dog barked again and again. Its saliva dripped down from the tip of its long tongue onto Ye Jian's face.

Ye Jian, who was particularly sensitive to smells, held back the nausea in her stomach. She remembered the smell left on her pants when she was bitten that year!

Her heart could not help but tremble as panic grew within her like vines, wrapping around her until she felt suffocated.

Her hands did not seem to have much strength left. Her wrists were weak and trembling.

Woof! Woof! Woof! The smart military dog flailed even more fiercely. The sharp dog seemed capable of biting her neck and finishing the enemy!

Ye Jian's pupils constricted as she started breathing heavily. She couldn't lose. How could she lose?!

'Steady, you must hold on!'

She had to find a way to grab the neck of the military dog so she could knock it down!

Xia Jinyuan didn't move. He couldn't see the expression on her face but he could feel her fear. Ye Jian was indeed afraid of dogs!

The more afraid she was, the more she had to face it!

His gaze was cold and sharp as he stared at the fight in front of him. His expression was rather calm as if he was not very worried.

"Face your fear, my little fox." The young major spoke in a low voice that only he could hear. "After facing it, you will realize that it's nothing."

The soldier next to Ye Jian was also tense. He observed her from a close distance and noticed that her arms were trembling. This was a sign that she was still trying to hold on.

"Just a little more," he reminded her again.

Ye Jian didn't seem to hear him. All of a sudden, her slightly bent arms began to stiffen slowly. It looked like she was struggling so much that she couldn't straighten her arms. She was slowly being suppressed by the military dog.

The comrades from the Xueyu unit turned around and their faces darkened. "Q King, Azure Bird can't hold on anymore! She needs reinforcements!"

"It's not time yet," Xia Jinyuan replied coldly without moving.

"Her hands are already shaking. It's time!" The comrade's voice was a little anxious. If Xia Jinyuan didn't go over to support her, he wanted to rush over himself! However, Q King was in charge of supporting Azure Bird, and he was in charge of keeping watch. He couldn't change the deployment without permission.

Xia Jinyuan remained unmoved. Even the expression on his handsome face didn't change. The only change was the dark look in his unfathomable eyes. It was as if a storm was coming.

He wanted to see how Ye Jian would react. He wanted to see if she would persevere or give up!

Ye Jian naturally didn't choose to give up. Her hands continued to bend slowly until she was about to make a move. She suddenly let go of her right hand. The soldiers at the side didn't see her movements clearly. In the blink of an eye, her right hand grabbed the neck of the military dog.

The tables were turned. Ye Jian, who moved like lightning, quickly grabbed it with her left hand.

Woof! Woof! Woof! Woof!

The dog that was being grabbed by the neck struggled even harder. Its brown fur stood on end, and its offensive power reached its peak!