

BOOT CAMP 1941

Chapter 1941 Hello, Classmates

With Hou Zi's help, things would undoubtedly be better.

When the results were out, Ye Jian carefully recalled what she did just now. She confirmed that she didn't leave any loopholes but she didn't reject Hou Zi's help either. She could only thank him sincerely again.

In the face of her politeness, Hou Zi couldn't help but laugh. "We're family. You're too polite." When he saw the girl in front of him becoming embarrassed because of his words, Hou Zi laughed out loud.

A girl with some contradictions.

When she smiled, she was very innocent. But only Little Six would dare to look for a girl who could remain calm even when she saw blood. Ordinary people did not have such courage.

Looking down at the time, it was indeed getting late. He remembered that there was someone waiting for him at home, so he said to Ye Jian, "Yiwei is still waiting at home. I won't be waiting with you here."

After sending Hou Zi off, Ye Jian received the report at around five o'clock. When she returned to the hotel, it was already six-thirty.

She was not lying when she told Principal Chen that she was going to a high school reunion. There was indeed a class reunion.

The Year Three Class One of Provincial No.1 Middle School was led by their form teacher, Mrs. Tong. There were 34 students in the class who were admitted to the top universities. There were 19 students in the second class. Among them, six of the girls from Ye Jian's dormitory were admitted to the top universities. However, some of them failed the college entrance examination.

Class Monitor Lu Xin was one of them.

He had a severe cold on the eve of the college entrance examination. On the first day he entered the examination hall, she fainted and unfortunately fell off the list.

He was the first to arrive at Venus Hotel. The students who came one after another saw a figure in a military uniform from afar. After being stunned for a moment, they rushed over. "Class Monitor, what the f*ck?! Class Monitor, you... You really joined the army! F*ck, I thought you were just joking!" The boy who came over hugged his former class monitor. Although they had only been separated for half a year, their eyes still turned red when they met each other.

Lu Xin had grown a lot taller and stronger. Even though he had only joined the army for a month, he already had the aura of a soldier. Upon hearing this, he laughed and said, "Why would I lie to you? I previously told my family that if I didn't get into a good university, I'd join the army."

“You’re so awesome, Class Monitor! You’re really... really noble!” A boy who chose to repeat his studies gave him a thumbs up. “You’re better than me. Look, I’m still revising for the examination. I wonder if I can get in next year.” “When did the ‘talent’ in our class become so lacking in confidence? Bring out the courage that you had when you competed with Ye Jian back then. It’s not a problem for you to get into university!” A sweet laugh came from behind him. Zhang Yueyan, who had not appeared for half a year, stood behind the boys with a gift box in her hand. She was much prettier than when she was in high school.

The boys turned their heads and stared at her. “A girl sure changes when she’s older. Zhang Yueyan, you’ve become a beauty!”

Zhang Yueyan rolled her eyes at her former classmates. “Although I was a little ugly in the past, I didn’t pose a problem to you guys, did I? I didn’t make you guys puke just by looking at my face.”

“Hahaha, no, no. Come, let’s go in together. We’ll let the class monitor wait alone. The class monitor is a soldier now. He’s resistant to the cold!”

Lu Xin pushed the boy who was speaking and pretended to look disgusted. “Quick, let’s go in. You’re like a paper doll. Don’t catch a cold and expect me to carry you to the hospital.”

“Class Monitor, are any of our classmates inside? Is Ye Jian here?” Zhang Yueyan wanted to see Ye Jian the most. After taking two steps, she turned around and asked, “Does she know about our gathering?”

Chapter 1942 You’re Too Bold

“Yes, yes, but she’s not here yet.” Lu Xin looked at the time. It was four in the late afternoon, an hour away from the agreed time of five. “If she’s coming from her hometown, she’ll probably arrive later. You guys go in and take a seat first.”

They didn’t expect their old classmate, Ye Jian, to be staying in a five-star hotel opposite them.

The meeting time was five o’clock now. Ye Jian had slept till noon since she came back from the hospital. Venus Hotel was opposite her. She wasn’t afraid of being late.

Ye Jian watched as the test report came out of the fax machine bit by bit. With a calm expression, she picked up the original copy and immediately called Commissioner Cai, who was waiting for the fax.

The test report had already been sent over. The next step was to wait for Commissioner Cai’s news. As long as the two test reports were a match, Sun Yaozu’s good days would come to an end.

Commissioner Cai, who had received the fax, saw the contents, and his face darkened. “Ye Jian, how did you get the other party’s eye tissue? Where is he?”

He was worried that Ye Jian had taken the other party’s life directly.

“Don’t worry. I won’t dirty my hands for a person like that. He’s still alive. He’s lying in the hospital now,” Ye Jian explained. She was originally indifferent, but at this moment, she pursed her lips and revealed a vicious aura.

She looked at the portrait she had just drawn and said calmly, "There's one more thing I'd like to trouble you with. I wonder if there's a criminal called Sun Yaozu in the police system?"

"Does the eye tissue belong to Sun Yaozu? Is he someone from your hometown?" Commissioner Cai, who was a soldier and previously a criminal investigator, keenly sensed that something was wrong. "So, when you saw the photo and the investigation data, you immediately thought of this person, right?"

Ye Jian didn't think that she could hide it from Commissioner Cai. She replied softly, "Yes." There was a chill in her eyes. She continued, "He was the one I thought of at the time. I was very suspicious... even certain."

After talking about Sun Yaozu's matter, Commissioner Cai's expression turned serious and agitated. However, this agitation didn't stay for long. He immediately suppressed it. "Ye Jian, you have to listen to me. If the test report is a match, you must remember to stay calm."

"We need to thoroughly investigate how he went up against your mother back then. Before your mother died, she said something about her hometown. It's very likely that she knew the identity of this person, or perhaps..."

Commissioner Cai lowered his voice. Ye Jian shuddered as she listened.

'Or perhaps, your mother had always been in contact with him. She trusted him.'

If it was really as Commissioner Cai said, what role did Sun Yaozu play back then?!

'Mom, if you trusted Sun Yaozu back then, why did you trust him?'

When she was young, her family didn't have much interaction with Ye Zhixiang's family!

"I can't kill him, but I can interrogate him. If the test report is a match, I want to interrogate him," Ye Jian said softly with an aura that didn't allow anyone to question her. "I must get some information about the past from his mouth!"

Sweat started forming on Commissioner Cai's forehead. "You're too bold, Ye Jian! Don't forget that you're a military cadet now. Problematic cadets won't be tolerated."

"I'll handle this matter properly. As long as the test report is a match, I'll go to the Southern Province immediately! Why should Sun Yaozu be safe and alive? Why was your mother's life story erased? Ye Jian, just think about it and you'll know how powerful he must be!"

"Remember, we don't want anything to happen to you!"

Chapter 1943 Our Legend

It was precisely because she knew that she had been holding it in all this while that the hatred in her heart was overflowing. Now that there was a trigger, the heavy shackles could no longer lock that hatred.

Two lifetimes. Two lifetimes of hatred. She had tolerated it for too long!

Ye Jian's eyes turned red. She clenched her fists so tightly that her knuckles looked like they were about to break out of her skin. She took a deep breath. "I know. Don't worry."

For the sake of the people who were worried about her, she had to endure it. After Commissioner Cai got the test report, she would have a good chat with Sun Yaozu.

This call took a lot of effort. Ye Jian ate her lunch and lay on the bed. She seemed to be sleeping, but at the same time, that didn't seem to be the case. She seemed to be having a strange dream.

One moment, she was in her previous life. The next moment, she was in her current life. After that, she went back to her previous life again. When she woke up, she was drenched in a cold sweat. She hugged her blanket tightly and panted heavily.

She did not like to dream at all. The dreams she had were never sweet dreams... Ye Jian only realized that she was drenched in sweat when she got up from the bed. Even her pillow was wet.

She had less than half an hour before the agreed meeting time. Ye Jian, whose face was pale just now, rushed to the bathroom in the blink of an eye.

It was 20 minutes before five o'clock when Ye Jian crossed the road. She was less than 100 meters away from Venus Hotel.

100

Lu Xin had always been paying attention to his surroundings. Just then, he saw a figure walking over with her head held high and chest pushed out. Her arms naturally swayed by her sides. He was most familiar with her mannerisms and temperament. He couldn't help but stand even straighter, even adjusting his military uniform. He feared that he would lose his bearings.

As Ye Jian got closer and closer, Lu Xin started to feel nervous. Ye Jian was not wearing a military uniform but she looked valiant. She gave him a feeling of respect. He didn't even realize that he was saluting her.

Standing in front of Lu Xin, who was wearing a military uniform, Ye Jian was as shocked as the other classmates. She was about to ask, "Class Monitor, you really joined the military." However, he gave her a military salute.

The military salute came suddenly. Ye Jian was unprepared, so she instinctively returned the salute.

"Hey, hey, hey. Do you need to salute each other? This is a class reunion, not a meeting between a chief and a soldier. Ye Jian, don't scare our class monitor."

A few of them who came out to welcome Mrs. Tong happened to see Ye Jian. They couldn't help but burst into laughter. The laughter didn't stop. A boy reacted quickly and rushed over. He grabbed Ye Jian's hand with both hands and said happily, "Let's shake hands. Quick, let's take photos too. Do you still have films? Take more photos! I'll sponsor the cost of the films!"

"You're too smart! You beat me to it! Don't help him take the photos!"

"Are you stupid? Let's take a photo together, okay? Class Monitor, come, come, come. Please help us take a photo first."

After taking a group photo, someone suggested taking a group photo with both Ye Jian and Lu Xin. Lu Xin, who was holding a camera in his hand, scolded jokingly, "You're so troublesome. You don't have any more film. Use it sparingly."

Ye Jian's gaze moved slightly. She had lowered her head intentionally just now. The class monitor seemed to have noticed it.

Several boys were going to welcome Mrs. Tong. Seeing this, they didn't say anything else and just waited for the gathering to start.

Chapter 1944 Difference

Ye Jian waved at them and smiled at Lu Xin. "Class Monitor, it turns out that you weren't just casually saying that back then. You were recruited into the army in winter. You should still be in the boot camp at this time."

Indeed, soldiers understood soldiers best. None of the others asked any questions.

"I wasn't assigned anywhere else. I've always been in the Southern Province. I didn't expect the company commander to agree and really give me two days of leave," Lu Xin, who kept his back straight, replied with a smile. His tone seemed a little restrained.

"It couldn't have been that easy for a recruit to take leave upon joining the military, right? Class Monitor, you couldn't have gotten two days off that easily, right?" Ye Jian, who knew the military well, didn't believe that it was so easy to take two days off.

A more humorous company commander who was slightly easier to talk to would usually have a belly full of ideas to deal with the troublemakers. What more a company commander who had a strong style of doing things and was a man of his word? Recruits taking leave after joining the army for a month? Did they treat the army as their own home and think they could do whatever they wanted?

The company commanders under Commander Liu, Commissar Yan, and the rest were easy to talk to, but none of the new recruits would have the guts to ask for leave immediately after joining

“I was really given two days of leave. If you don’t believe me, take a look!” Lu Xin looked at her with an imposing manner. His scalp was slightly numb as he hurriedly opened the pocket on his coat and took out the neatly folded note. “Look, the company commander’s signature is on it.”

Ye Jian saw that he was so nervous that his forehead seemed to be covered in sweat. She couldn’t help but laugh out loud. He didn’t seem like the smooth and slick class monitor from before anymore.

She sized him up for a while. “Why do you look like a different person? The recruitment period is not over yet. You shouldn’t have changed so much. You don’t look like our class monitor anymore.”

Lu Xin got even more nervous when she did not take it. He opened the note and passed it to her. “You’re not allowed to change the topic. I have to let you see my leave application. Look, here... is my company commander’s signature and the stamp of release. There’s even the time stated for me to return to the team. I have to return to the team before five o’clock tomorrow.”

Ye Jian took a look at it, and it seemed genuine. Lu Xin was from the chemical defense regiment. “Hehe, isn’t your team nearby? I’m quite surprised. How did you directly get assigned to the chemical defense regiment? However, my squad leader said that soldiers may not necessarily be permanently allocated to the chemical defense regiment. It’s very likely that they’ll only be allocated after the new recruits’ training.”

Lu Xin saw that she believed him and was afraid that the wind would blow away the leave application. He quickly folded it carefully and put it back into his pocket. He said, “I don’t know why the company commander gave me two days of leave so readily. I guess it’s because my performance is not too bad.”

The better the performance, the stricter the team would be. The class monitor’s performance was good and he took two days of leave. Based on her experience... after these two days of leave, the class monitor was going to be in dire straits. His leader would show him special ‘concern’.

The pitiful class monitor still did not know the tactics of army leaders. It was better not to remind the class monitor for the time being, in case he would not be in a good mood for the gathering later.

Ye Jian sympathized with him.

Lu Xin, who didn’t know the routine of the military leaders, didn’t know what would happen when he went back. He urged, saying, “Go in and take a seat first. All the girls in our class are here. Zhang Yueyan asked if you were here. An Jiabin asked the same thing. When they heard that you weren’t here yet, they were worried that you wouldn’t come.”

He was too embarrassed to say that standing together with her was like seeing the chief. He felt pressured even though she was wearing casual clothes.

Chapter 1945 So Sour

Seeing this, Ye Jian didn’t ask anymore. She smiled and said a few words before entering the venue.

An Jiabin was the first to see Ye Jian. She had insisted on sitting near the entrance of the venue. The moment she saw Ye Jian, she screamed loudly. Then, her loud voice that threatened to shatter the lights in the venue was heard. “Ye Jian! My Jian!”

“You’re finally here!” When she came forward, she had already hugged Ye Jian tightly. She bumped into her and hugged her. Ye Jian choked and coughed.

Her ears were almost deaf too... An Jiaxin’s voice was unusually loud and became the loudspeaker of the entire venue. The others who did not notice what was going on at the entrance of the venue turned to look at her.

“You bumped into me so hard that I’m about to vomit blood.” Ye Jian tried her best to push away her friend who was hugging her. “Let go of me. My neck is hurting because of you.”

An Jiaxin immediately relaxed a little and said, “Tell me, why didn’t you contact me even though you’ve been back for a few days? Are you busy accompanying your man?”

... ‘Busy accompanying your man’? Ye Jian’s lips twitched slightly when she heard that. Her good friend, who she hadn’t contacted for a semester, had improved a little.

Zhang Yueyan and the other girls who were in the same dormitory as Ye Jian stood up at the same time. The five figures rushed toward the entrance. “Ye Jian...”

“Ye Jian...”

They shouted loudly. The others who were sitting in their seats couldn’t help but stand up. They smiled collectively at the girl whom the whole class admired—Ye Jian. They smiled and greeted her.

Before the gathering started, a small crowd had gathered around Ye Jian.

Zhang Yueyan and the other three were so excited that they started crying. The reason why they were able to get into the first class was because of Ye Jian. If it weren’t for Ye Jian, it would be good enough if they could get into the second class.

After all, they were considered to have entered the school through connections. Otherwise, how could they have entered Provincial No.1 Middle School?

An Jiaxin didn’t want to leave Ye Jian’s side, but she had to let go because of the others’ enthusiasm. “I finally met you. When did you come back? Why didn’t you contact me? Did you arrive in the provincial city long ago?”

There were too many things she wanted to say, so she quickly said, “I’ll ask later. We were all waiting for you to come. We didn’t see you even after waiting for so long just now, so we were worried that you weren’t coming.”

“I was on vacation for almost a week. I was busy with something, so it wasn’t convenient for me to go online. I only found out about the class reunion a few days ago,” Ye Jian answered her friend’s question before talking to the others.

Meng Wen, who competed with Ye Jian ever since she entered the school, was still the same as before. She leaned on a girl’s shoulder and said with a half-smile, “A top student is indeed different. I almost thought that Mrs. Tong was here. She's indeed the idol of the entire class. She'll be surrounded wherever she goes."

"Meng Wen, it's a good thing that you got into a good school. If you had gotten into a normal school, the whole class would've been humiliated by you." Ye Jian smiled at her. Her voice was slightly raised. Then, she teased her, saying, "It's really a good thing that you got into a good school. If not, I wouldn't be able to fool around with my classmates today."

Chapter 1946 Times Have Changed

In the two years of high school, Meng Wen was the only person Ye Jian would scold in front of her classmates.

However, Ye Jian was still quite magnanimous toward Meng Wen. She would just smile at whatever Meng Wen said and wouldn't really care about it. After all, she had lived for two lifetimes. It would be unbecoming of her to be so calculative.

Moreover, Meng Wen was just putting up a strong front. She didn't do anything dirty. Ye Jian didn't like to fight with others, so she didn't make things difficult for her.

However, it was different today. It was rare for them to see each other again. In the end, they only met for a short while and Meng Wen was already being unforgiving. No matter how good Ye Jian's temper was, she couldn't allow her to say anything inappropriate. What did she mean by 'top students are different'? Meng Wen insinuated that Ye Jian came here on purpose and Meng Wen even mentioned Teacher Tong. Could it be that she had forgotten the most basic principle to respect teachers after going to university for half a year?

Meng Wen was someone who was afraid of hardships. She was used to bullying Ye Jian. Although she was reluctant to give it up when they graduated, she couldn't help but feel arrogant when she saw that Ye Jian was still popular. She wanted to kick her down.

Unexpectedly, Ye Jian, who never liked to fight with her, actually embarrassed her this time. Meng Wen couldn't react in time.

The students around them laughed when they saw this. They nudged Meng Wen, whose face was turning red, and joked. "Do you know your mistake now? Don't expect Ye Jian to give in to you every time. It's her magnanimity to give in to you. Meng Wen, don't always treat Ye Jian's magnanimity as nothing." "When a rabbit is triggered, it bites. The moment you showed up, you said such sarcastic words. We've already been separated for half a year. You're already a university student now. Why are you still so petty? You're a top student too, after all."

Meng Wen's face was as red as fire, but she refused to admit her mistake. She straightened her neck and said, "I was born with such a mouth. You guys don't have to be bothered about it."

"Yes, yes, yes. We all know that you just have a sharp mouth. That's why we still talk to you. If your words were sharp and you actually meant them, not many people would dare to talk to you.”

When An Jiaxin heard this, she laughed and fell into Ye Jian’s arms. “My stomach hurts.” Even if Meng Wen wanted to nitpick, she still had to look at the occasion. Her classmates hadn’t seen each other for half a year. They didn’t even have time to reminisce about the past. How could Meng Wen do this now?

“Meng Wen, you have to change your habits. If you meet a boy that you like in the future and you act like this, the boy will be frightened.” An Jiaxin teased her. She didn’t like her in the past. Later, Ye Jian told her that some people were just like this. It was easy for them to say things that offended others but they were still kind-hearted.

Meng Wen was such a person. When she heard that Ye Jian’s house was destroyed by the rain, she was worried for a long time.

Since her classmates all knew about it, they did not target Meng Wen. They only reminded her to be careful with her words.

Ye Jian noticed that embarrassment flashed across Meng Wen’s face at An Jiaxin’s words. She raised her eyebrows and felt that there was a chance. She joined in the fun. “Meng Wen, I think what Jiaxin said makes sense. If that’s the case, won’t you regret it?”

“Sigh, I would indeed regret it very much.” Meng Wen sighed heavily. She was really worried now. “It wouldn’t have been easy for me to fall in love with someone. If I really made him run away because of my words, I would regret it so much that I would beat my own chest.”

When the surrounding students heard this, they wanted to comfort her. However, it was unknown who laughed first, but in the end, they were all laughing.

Chapter 1947 With Her, There’s Hope

Class Monitor Lu Xin brought Teacher Tong and the other teachers of various classes in. They happened to hear the loud laughter from the group of people. The laughter was genuine. It was as though they had never separated. The scene made them think they were still sitting in the classroom of Class One, preparing for the college entrance examination.

“Mrs. Tong, the students in your cohort are still the same as before. I feel comfortable just looking at them.”

“It’s also the best batch of students I’ve taught. Ye Jian contributed the most. She pulled the whole class to fight together. Mrs. Tong, she’s the glue of this class.”

Mrs. Tong was deeply touched by the teachers’ words. “Yes, Ye Jian is the best student I’ve met in my decades of teaching. She’s very tenacious and has a pure heart. It’s very rare.”

“All of us boys call Ye Jian ‘Boss’ in private. We feel confident when we study with her.” The boys who went out to pick up the teachers agreed with what they said. Ye Jian was indeed the glue of the class. With her around, nobody would get lost in life and not know what to do. She was their guiding light.

After a long time, the media would interview the teacher who taught a female general, two leaders of the assembly hall, five provincial government officials, a diplomat, and several big entrepreneurs. They would ask her what teaching methods she used to make these students from Provincial No.1 Middle School achieve such glory.

At that time, Mrs. Tong, whose hair had already turned white, would smile and say to the reporters, "Because there was one person who was the glue of the class. My students all said that with her around, they would always have their goals and hope."

The reporters would then ask Mrs. Tong, who had dedicated her entire life to education, who she was referring to. Mrs. Tong would smile as she looked at the graduation photos of the graduates. After a long time, she replied, "Whoever you think is the glue of this class."

At this moment, the students of Class One did not know what their futures would be like. When they saw Mrs. Tong and the teachers from the various classes standing at the entrance of the venue, they immediately stood up in unison and greeted the teachers respectfully.

Ye Jian loved her two years of high school life. Although there were people like Ye Ying and Yao Jing, all the teachers had stood by her side and dealt with the matters between students fairly. As for the form teacher in junior high, she had already forgotten about her.

Time passed more quickly than ever before, and the students intended to play the whole night. Meanwhile, a few teachers had to go home.

The boys were in charge of sending the teachers off. Ye Jian sat outside with Mrs. Tong and waited for her partner to come.

Mrs. Tong, who had white hair at her temples, nodded gently when she saw that the students she taught were sitting upright and relaxed. She felt gratified. "It's only been half a year since we last met. Ye Jian, you've changed the most out of everyone in the class." "Even when I'm sitting in front of you, I can feel the valiance of a soldier. This image of you is very good. Seeing that you can still persevere to this day, I believe that you'll definitely achieve something in the future." She had taught so many good students but Ye Jian left the deepest impression on her. Sometimes, she would dream of Ye Jian walking to the front of the class and explaining the difficult questions.

Such a good student. It would probably be hard to find another one like her in the future.

Ye Jian respected Mrs. Tong very much. When Grandma Ye brought Ye Zhixiang over to create trouble, Mrs. Tong and Principal Cao stood at her front, afraid that she would get hurt.

This was also the most touching moment for her.

After that, she tried her best to help her classmates in order to repay the school and teachers for their sincere protection.

Chapter 1948 Learning To Be A Human

"I'm not asking to be successful. I just hope to do the right things and have a clear conscience." Ye Jian held Mrs. Tong as she sat down. She smiled and said, "I remember that when I entered the school, I told you that sometimes, hiding one's strength doesn't mean that one is weak. Hiding one's weakness is also a form of protection. But you said that it's survival of the fittest.

"You also told me that 'Provincial No.1 Middle School is a big dance that allows students to roam freely. It was because of what you said that I started to interact with my classmates."

Mrs. Tong smiled as she looked at the student who remembered her words. The pride in her heart was self-evident.

"To tell you the truth, when I returned to school, I was prepared to be isolated. If you hadn't asked me to get along with my classmates from time to time and join the group activities, I think I might really have been alone in high school for two years."

She was not good at socializing or talking. Plus, with Ye Ying around, she didn't think that her high school life would be good.

Later, as she gradually integrated into the class and was often called for a heart-to-heart talk in the office, Ye Jian's way of handling things changed. She started to have the gentle nature of a girl. She was no longer as domineering as a boy.

The smile on Mrs. Tong's face deepened at the mention of the past. "When I asked you to fill in the enrollment materials, the words you told me when you pointed at your parents' made my heart ache.

"At that time, you had to protect yourself, so you had your guards up. You were even wary of your teachers. I was very surprised at that time. Why would you be so guarded? It was as if you thought your teachers would hurt you. "After that, I went to look for Principal Chen to understand your situation back in junior high school. Only then did I understand why you were wary of teachers. I knew that you needed some counseling.

"Things turned out well. The students in your class all fight for each other. Every student likes to talk to you. They even turn to you to make decisions for them. Ye Jian, you're doing very well now. I hope that no matter what kind of life you have in the future, you'll still be the current you.

"Continue to maintain a positive attitude. I'll watch you go further and higher step by step. Now, I'll be talking about adult topics. In the future, whether you enter the military or society, connections are very important.

"All the other girls in the class are from wealthy families. There are also many classmates whom you have helped before. They all have a certain level of family connections.

"Look at the venue today. Zhang Yueyan's and Yang Yi's families paid for it together. They did it not because of me but you. A few parents even called me to thank me. They hope that I can give them your contact information. Ye Jian, these are your valuable connections. "As long as you continue to work hard and stand at the height where others wish to befriend you, your path will become wider and wider. Even if you encounter a moment of difficulty, the people you have helped before will lend you a helping hand.

“The experience that society has given you will also give you more space on stage. All of this is due to your hard work and can’t be separated from you.”

Hearing this, Ye Jian seemed to understand something. Her clear eyes widened slightly. After a while, she said in a low voice, “Back then, you arranged for me to live with Zhang Yueyan and the rest. Were you trying to teach me how to build connections?” “It’s good that you know this. There’s no need to say it out loud. This is also the only thing that I have done with my own selfishness.” Seeing that her student finally understood her arrangements, the kind smile on Mrs. Tong’s face grew deeper.

Chapter 1949 Understanding

Feelings of being touched always came unexpectedly. Ye Jian held Mrs. Tong’s skinny hands tightly and said softly, “Thank you, Teacher. If you hadn’t told me... I really wouldn’t have known what you were thinking.”

“Since I got you to come to my Class One from Class Six, as the form teacher, I naturally had to be responsible for you. Your results were already very good, but you still needed help with people and things. I tried my best to help you, but the most important thing is that you were able to stand on your own.”

Then, Mrs. Tong joked, saying, “I’m also very proud. The smartest student I have has just realized that she’s not the teacher’s opponent.”

Ye Jian felt warmth in her heart. She smiled until her eyes curved into crescents. Her eyes that reflected the light were clear and bright like crystals. “In the eyes of all our classmates, you’re the best teacher. None of us is your match.”

“You’ll all surpass the teachers. At that time, the teachers will still be teachers, while all of you would’ve changed. You’ll all become pillars of support.” Mrs. Tong had a lot of confidence in this batch of students because of their unity and bond. Even if they were separated, Ye Jian’s influence on them would not disappear.

This was Ye Jian’s personal charm.

Ye Jian turned her body and hugged her teacher. She said softly, “You have to take care of yourself. You have to watch all the students in Class One become successful. We’ll make you proud.”

“I’m proud of you now. Why wait till the future?” Mrs. Tong tidied Ye Jian’s clothes for her and looked at the energetic girl. There was a gentle smile, and the wrinkles on her face seemed benevolent. “Lu Xin looks like an adult when he wears the military uniform. He’s very masculine. It’s a pity that I didn’t get to see you in your military uniform. Next time, send a photo of you in your military uniform so I can see what you look like in it.”

It was just a small request, but Ye Jian couldn’t satisfy it. She said in a low voice, “Teacher, I’m sorry. I purposely avoided getting photographed tonight. I even did some small actions to avoid getting my face captured. I didn’t let them take photos of my front view.”

Her words stunned Mrs. Tong. Couldn't cadets get their photos taken? There was no such rule.

"There are some reasons that I can't tell you. Please don't be shocked," Ye Jian lowered her eyes and explained softly.

Although she didn't understand why, Mrs. Tong believed that there was a reason that couldn't be said. She smiled slightly. "I know that you're no longer an ordinary university student. You're a soldier who will serve the country in the future. With your ability, I'm afraid you're not an ordinary soldier."

"It's okay if you can't do it. Just pretend that I didn't say anything. Learn well and work hard in the future. I will always support you."

Meeting a teacher like her who had such a high sense of morality had left a deep impact on Ye Jian. She affected all the students in Class One of Grade 12 as well.

After sending Mrs. Tong off, Ye Jian returned to the gathering venue. After that, the group of people went to the hotel's karaoke room. All of them wanted to hang out for the entire night.

There was no need for the class to consider the fees. Zhang Yueyan's and Yang Yi's fathers would take care of everything. They also told them to thank Ye Jian.

Ye Jian and Lu Xin didn't drink. In the end, they were the ones taking care of the drunk students. Ye Jian didn't know whether to laugh or cry. Meng Wen carried a bottle of wine and ran to the stage, shouting that she wanted to catch whoever she wanted.

Chapter 1950 Understanding

This time, An Jiaxin was very well-behaved. She only drank a few glasses of beer and didn't dare to drink too much. She was afraid that she would get too drunk and when she woke up tomorrow, Ye Jian would be gone.

Ye Jian arranged for them to stay in a hotel. There were four of them and one room. When she was done, An Jiaxin couldn't even straighten her back.

Ye Jian didn't drink but she reeked of alcohol. When she came out of the shower, she saw An Jiaxin lying on the bed and looking at her with sparkling eyes. "What's with your gaze? I said that I'd chat with you tonight."

"Unbelievable! Unbelievable! All of you are so mysterious! You promised you would accompany me, but in the blink of an eye, you guys disappeared!" ... 'All of you?

Ye Jian wiped her hair and sat by the bed. She smiled and asked her, "Who else? Tell me about it. It sounds like it's not a simple story."

"I'm going to take a shower first, then I'll talk to you. It's a long story. I need to talk about it slowly." An Jiaxin blew into her palm and looked at herself with disdain. "What a strong smell of alcohol. Wait for me and don't sleep. I'll be done soon!"

At this moment, Ye Jian didn't feel sleepy anymore. The class reunion had warmed her heart. Even those who failed the college entrance examination chose to attend the gathering instead of avoiding it. In their words, 'a year later, we'll be a hero again'. All of them chose to seriously revise. With their abilities, their grades definitely wouldn't be too bad.

It was a pity that Class Monitor Lu Xin chose to join the military instead of retaking the examination.

Ye Jian suddenly slapped her forehead. Why didn't she remind Lu Xin that he could still enter the military academy even if he had decided to join the military?

As long as he met the basic requirements for a soldier to enter the military academy, he could give it a try.

Thinking about this, Ye Jian recalled Lu Xin's room number and dialed a set of numbers without hesitation. He had to take care of a few drunk boys, so he definitely wasn't resting at this time.

Lu Xin answered the call quickly. He was surprised when he heard Ye Jian's voice. "Why aren't you resting? It's already four in the morning."

"Class Monitor, I want to ask you about your future plans. Do you want to be conscripted? Or do you want to be a volunteer? Maybe you have other plans?" Ye Jian didn't tell him what she was thinking. Lu Xin was an intelligent boy. She should ask him about it first. If he had no intentions of entering the military academy, she wouldn't mention it.

Lu Xin immediately laughed. "Don't tell me you called just for this?"

"Yes. Didn't I say that I wanted to talk to you?" Ye Jian leaned against the head of the bed. She looked serious. "I just feel that it's a pity that you didn't repeat your studies and joined the military."

"No, no, no. It's not a pity at all. Joining the military has always been my dream. At that time, I was shocked when I knew that you were determined to enter the military academy. I didn't expect that there would be a girl with the same goal as me." Lu Xin heard a plop sound from beside him. As he was speaking, he turned his head and saw a drunk boy fall onto the floor from the bed and roll to his feet.

As he covered the boy with a blanket, he replied with a smile, "I have some other thoughts. I'll talk to you when I have the chance. I'm not sure if it'll work out. If it does, I'll contact you."

Since he had a plan, Ye Jian didn't mention it again. She said a few words to him before wishing him a good night. An Jiabin walked out with her wet hair and slippers. When she saw Ye Jian hanging up the phone, she chuckled and asked, "No way, you're talking to your friend?"

"I realized that you're getting more and more capable after you went to university. You should dry your hair. Let's have a good chat after you're done." Ye Jian waited for her to dry her hair.
