

Chapter 251: Robbery On The Train (1)

There was no one in the security post in the carriage. She couldn't find anyone to inform them about this situation.

This time, Ye Jian didn't alarm Principal Chen. She laid on her bed quietly. She never fell asleep again.

At around 2 am, the train slowed down to let another train passed again. Ye Jian was already tensed up. She listened to her surroundings carefully.

Around 15 minutes later, a movement could be heard on the train. Most people were asleep at this timing. Even those people who bought hard seat tickets were sleeping soundly.

After some time, Ye Jian heard the doors between the carriages closing. She opened her eyes slowly. Her left hand slowly moved towards the silver thread on her right wrist.

"Don't move first." Principal Chen's voice came from beside her. "Let's understand the situation first."

He pointed at the middle-aged couple below them. He made a signal with his hand. He wanted Ye Jian to not alarm the other passengers first. Principal Chen sensed that something was amiss too.

Ye Jian nodded slightly. She maintained her position and silently observed her surroundings.

Most people were deep asleep now. Ye Jian could hear the snores of the middle-aged woman who had been maintaining her vigilance all this while. Even she couldn't keep herself awake. She probably used too much energy just now.

Someone started walking. Ye Jian heard someone waking up. The person who woke up made a sound of disapproval. After half a second, the person's tone changed. It was filled with fear. "What are all of you trying to do?"

He spoke loudly but the noise of the train covered up his voice. Only his neighboring berths heard him.

The people sleeping at the back had no reaction. They didn't know what was happening in front.

"Robbery." Principal Chen sighed. Every time there was a holiday, this kind of thing would happen on a train. "Girl, don't act rashly. We need to catch a snake by its head. Let's see who is their leader first."

It was impossible for them to not care about this matter. Principal Chen had some money on him too. It was meant for him to buy some books in the provincial city.

The passengers in the first compartment were all woken up. Under the threat of guns, they took out all their money obediently.

“Fk, is this all you’ve got? Take off your pants!” Someone only took out a few pieces of notes. The robber collecting the money got angry and slapped the person. “If I find more money on you, I will kill you!”

“You, you... you are so unruly!” An old man couldn’t bear to see the person getting hit and stood up for him. The robber saw this and slapped the old man too. He said fiercely, “Stupid old man. If you dare to say another word, I will kill your grandson!”

The old man had a three-year-old little boy beside him. This was his weakness.

Ye Jian clenched her fist slowly. These robbers hit the elderly and threatened the life of a child... This is absolutely lawless!

The slap frightened the other passengers. Some people wanted to stand up for the old man but the guns in the robbers’ hands held them back.

Chapter 252: Robbery On The Train (2)

Ye Jian got up. The people around her had woken up due to the commotion too. However, none of them moved. Ye Jian said to the middle-aged man, “Uncle, you have a cellular phone. Hurry up and call the police.”

...

The middle-aged man moved his body slightly. Ye Jian saw him hiding something in his pillow. Then, he kept still and pretended that he didn’t hear what she said.

He wasn’t planning to do anything. He didn’t want the robbers to know that he had a cell phone.

Ye Jian smiled. Do you think that you can protect yourself like this? Do you think that you will be safe by keeping yourself clear from other people’s business? How naive!

The robbers wanted to keep everything quiet at first. However, when some people didn’t cooperate, the robbers knocked their guns on the beds. The sound struck fear in everyone.

The sound also woke everyone in the carriage. Some people were in such a deep sleep they didn’t know what was happening. A young man who got annoyed said, “Are you looking for death...” No sound could be heard after that.

The young man saw the light reflecting on the metal pipes. He had no weapons on him so he chose to keep quiet.

“Put all your money on the bed. If you don’t follow what we say, you will be beaten up. Let’s see if your bones are harder or these metal pipes are harder.” The robbers gave up their plan of waking people up by the compartments. They used their metal pipes and knocked on the berths. The sound woke everyone in the carriage up.

Children started crying first. Then, the screams from ladies could be heard.

Outside the carriage, lightning flashed across the sky. Thunder roared. The lightning lit up the carriage for a few seconds. Around ten men of different ages and sizes could be seen holding metal pipes and standing fiercely in the carriage.

All of them started shouting at the passengers. They threatened the passengers with the metal pipes and forced them to take out their money.

The middle-aged woman below Ye Jian turned pale.

Suddenly, she stood up and threw the bag under her pillow on Ye Jian's bed. She begged Ye Jian, "Girl, you are a student. They will not be too harsh on you. Can you help me keep this bag? I will take it back from you later."

Ye Jian wanted to laugh. The woman was trying to say that if she didn't keep her bag properly and hand it over to the robbers, she would ask her to compensate the money to her.

Nothing good would come from this.

Ye Jian threw the bag back. She said lightly, "They didn't even let off a child. Why do you think they will let me go? Also, don't try your schemes on me. I don't want you to ask me for compensation after this money disappears."

The middle-aged woman looked awkward when her plan got exposed. She turned and looked at the middle-aged man. Then, she looked at Principal Chen.

Before she could say anything, Principal Chen said coldly, "There is danger in front of us but all you can think of is scheming against other people. Looks like you are not a law-abiding businessman."

The middle-aged woman started cursing when both of her plans failed. "Leaving people in the lurch. You all will be unlucky for life!"

"Go and save other people now." Ye Jian's gaze turned cold. She gazed at the middle-aged woman intently and said, "If you dare to take a step back, you will be unlucky for life!"

Chapter 253: Robbery On The Train (3)

The people from Yannan City were famous for bullying the weak and fearing the strong. They were smart but timid. After Ye Jian glared at them, they didn't dare to do any more cheap tricks.

The middle-aged woman's breath got heavier. She sat beside her husband and whispered to him, "Don't call the police. Those people might let us off when they robbed enough people in front." Although she was whispering, Ye Jian could hear everything.

"Don't talk so much. Keep the money safe." The middle-aged man didn't even listen to what his wife had to say. He just asked her to stop talking and take care of the money.

Ye Jian's impression of the couple dropped.

At the compartments in front, Ye Ying sat obediently beside Ye Zhifan. She grabbed her father's clothes tightly. Her face was expressionless but her eyes showed how frantic she was now.

"Father, let's not retaliate. Let's give them all our money." She didn't want to lose her life for money.

Ye Zhifan patted his daughter's hand. They would definitely have to take out some money. However, he would not give the robbers everything. "Don't talk. You are a student. They will not do anything to you. I will give them the money."

The other passengers on the train thought the same way too. They would give some money to the robbers but they wouldn't give everything.

Some people wanted to hide their money but when the metal bars knocked on their beds, they became agitated. Some even screamed. They weren't able to hide their money calmly.

When the robbers came to knock on the beds in Ye Jian's compartment, the middle-aged couple got extremely frightened. After the robbers walked passed them, the two of them looked as though they almost fainted.

However, Ye Jian still heard the middle-aged woman sighing softly, "That was lucky."

Lucky? Lucky that the robbers didn't snatch their money and their cellular phone?

"Uncle, if you don't use your cell phone to call the police now, your belongings will disappear five minutes later. Once the train slows down in front, these people will jump through the windows. It will be too late to call the police then." Ye Jian reminded the couple again after the robbers left.

But even after she told them the consequences, the couple didn't do anything.

Her eyes were cold. It was understandable that they wanted to protect themselves. However, they had the chance to help other people. If they still chose not to do anything now, they were heartless.

Principal Chen sighed. He waved his hands. "It's useless. Everyone just wants to protect themselves." He sounded disappointed and helpless. He paused for a moment before asking Ye Jian, "Do you know who is their leader?"

"There is only one person who didn't step up." Ye Jian looked away from the couple. She lowered her voice and said, "The man who bumped into me hasn't appeared."

Someone didn't want to hand over his money again. The robbers beat the person up. Screams of agony could be heard. Still, no one stepped up.

"Damn it, I can't take it anymore," The person sleeping on top of Ye Jian's berth suddenly said. The young man who was going to the provincial city for work climbed out of his berth and wanted to jump down.

Principal Chen knew that he was unable to do anything alone. He stopped the young man. "Young man, wait for a moment. Let's think of an idea together." As long as someone wanted to uphold justice, it would make things easier.

Chapter 254: Robbery On The Train (4)

"Everyone will be hurt if this carries on." The young man gritted his teeth and climbed down his bed. He kept his voice down as he said, "The robbers will be happy if none of us retaliates."

The middle-aged woman heard this and replied softly, "Why don't you go out and chase those bastards away?"

Ye Jian looked at her angrily. Did she think that other people were stupid?

A familiar voice floated over from the front. "Why are you hiding your money? Our lives are more important. We can't win against these people. The doors leading to other carriages are locked. No one can enter. It's useless to call the police too. We are in a mountainous region. The police will take a long time to come. By that time, the robbers will be gone."

This person appeared to be caring for the passengers. Ye Jian narrowed her eyes.

"The quicker we take out our money, the faster these people will leave. It's more important to protect our lives. We can always earn more money, right?" The man took out his money and placed it on his bed. "It's not worth losing our lives for this money."

"It's that man's voice. He is persuading other people to hand over their money." Ye Jian smiled gently when she remembered who this person was. "He is right and wrong at the same time. This place is some distance away from the next station. Based on the speed we are traveling at now, we will reach the next stop in around half an hour."

"That means that they have approximately 20 minutes to snatch all our money."

Ye Jian whispered to the young man beside her, "Brother, what you need to do is simple. There is a cellular phone under the uncle's pillow. You must borrow it and call the police. Such matters should be dealt with by the police."

She emphasized the word 'borrow'. She was telling the young man that he didn't need to ask the uncle nicely. He could use some forceful actions.

Everyone was standing together so the middle-aged woman heard what Ye Jian said. She trembled in anger. She gritted her teeth and said, "How dare you? Fine, if you dare to snatch from us, you must be on their side."

"Old Liu, keep your phone properly. This girl is so evil." They had half an hour until they reached the next station. It was good for her if all the people in front of them didn't cooperate with the robbers.

That way, the robbers would not be able to reach them. If the police came now and alerted the robbers, it might endanger their lives.

Ye Jian understood what she was thinking. She smiled and said sarcastically, "You want to keep your money and let the robbers leave on their own. Auntie, you are thinking too much."

"If you call the police after they snatch your money, you will not be able to get a single cent back." Ye Jian hit the soft spot of the couple. Principal Chen didn't stop her. He allowed Ye Jian to threaten the couple.

The middle-aged man lowered his voice, "Block the robbers for me. I'll call the police." He was worried about letting other people take his cell phone.

The commotion in front got louder. The robbers knew that they didn't have much time left so they pointed the metal bars at the passengers and got even fiercer.

The children started crying. Even some timid ladies started crying too.

Chapter 255: Robbery On The Train (5)

The middle-aged man shivered when he heard the noises. He stuffed the cellular phone in Principal Chen's hand. "Brother, you can do it."

The train continued moving. On this rainy night, the policemen from Yu An Police Station drove a fleet of police cars out of the station. Everyone was armed with guns. They rushed towards the direction of the train station.

They received a call. A bunch of more than 10 robbers brought illegal weapons onto train no. 6483, carriage no. 9. They were planning to rob all the people in this carriage.

The police didn't alert the workers on the train. The person who called the police clearly said that there were no guards on the carriage at all. They couldn't deny that there might be someone within the workers collaborating with the robbers.

Hence, they only informed the train conductor and asked him to slow down when the police reached.

Principal Chen tilted his body slightly after he called the police. He looked at the robbers who were searching through the berths one by one. He signaled to Ye Jian.

"No, I'm the most suitable person." Ye Jian rejected him the moment she understood what he meant. "You are an adult. I'm a child. It's better for me to go. I've got a defense weapon. I can protect myself. Also, I have my own considerations. My uncle..."

She had been revealing too much about herself for the past few days. It's time for her to pretend to be rash and stupid.

Ye Zhifan had his eyes on her. Every time she ended her lessons, someone would be following her back to the recruit camp. Luckily, there were guards at the recruit camp. If not, the person might have followed her all the way in.

She needed to do something to let Ye Zhifan put down his guard against her. She didn't have the ability to overthrow Ye Zhifan now but he could play some small tricks on her.

When Ye Jian mentioned her uncle, Principal Chen knew what she meant.

Ye Jian had the ability to protect herself. He knew this. Thus, he passed his briefcase to her. "You need a reason. This will be your reason."

The middle-aged couple's expression turned complicated. They seemed worried and hesitant.

"Girl, you... be careful." The middle-aged woman felt uneasy when she saw a little girl like Ye Jian volunteering to drag the time for them.

Ye Jian was surprised. She lowered her voice and teased the woman, "Auntie, your change makes me feel uncomfortable. You should be happy that I volunteered to give money to the robbers so that we can waste some time."

The middle-aged woman was a selfish person. However, she knew what decision would benefit her the most.

Ye Jian exposed her selfishness and made the woman even more uncomfortable. But she still said, "Try... to drag them longer."

The young man saw Ye Jian walking towards the robbers and got worried. He raised his voice a little, "Be careful."

"Don't worry. They just want money. They will not kill anyone. There is a boss sitting there. They hit people so that they can instill fear in the passengers. If they kill anyone, they won't be able to bear the consequences."

This was why she dared to step up.

A student was of no threat to the robbers.

Before she went out, the robbers started slapping someone again. "Damn it, where did you hide your money? Are you not going to cooperate with us? I will beat you to death!"

Chapter 256: Robbery On The Train (6)

"Big brother, please spare me. This money is needed to save the life of my husband. Please show some mercy." The person who was hit didn't dare to retaliate. She could only kneel down and beg the robber pitifully.

The passengers in the carriage were silent. Besides the woman who was crying and the robbers who were shouting, no other sounds could be heard.

If these two sounds were muted, the carriage would be dead silent.

“Please, my husband is the sole breadwinner of the family. I took a lot of effort to find all this money. Please...” The woman kowtowed to the robbers.

But no matter how hard she knocked her head on the ground, her money was still taken away.

The robbers laughed. “Not bad, there’s 5000RMB. This is a big sum of money.” He finished counting the money and mocked the woman, “We don’t have money too. Your money is enough to save us. Saving ten lives is better than saving one life. You will have good fortune. Hahaha.”

The woman cried in despair. The robber laughed heartily. These two entirely different sounds made everyone frowned.

Everyone’s heart started trembling when they heard the hopeless cries of the woman. However, they couldn’t do anything. If they helped the lady, their lives might be in danger. Who would stand up for them at that time?

The woman saw that no one was willing to help her so she started pleading the person closest to her. “Please, everyone, help me. I really need the money to save my husband’s life.”

Did anyone reply to her? No!

No one stood up. Those that wanted to help her got pulled back by their companions. The robbers had weapons. If they used the weapons against them, they would be dead.

The doors were all locked too. They couldn’t run out and ask for help.

Ye Ying was so frightened. She only dared to glance at the robbers from the side. At this moment, a robber shone his torchlight in their direction. Her heart started pounding furiously. She saw the woman crawling towards them.

“Father, put your legs up. Put your legs up.” She was afraid that the woman would grab Ye Zhifan’s legs and asked them for help. Her face turned pale. “We can’t bother about her. We must not bother about her.”

The robbers wouldn’t give the woman a chance to ask for help. One of the robbers raised his metal bar and wanted to hit the woman.

Just as the metal bar was going to land on the woman, a tiny figure tripped and bumped into the robber.

“Fk, who on earth...”

The robber stumbled. He raised his metal bar and wanted to hit the person who bumped into him. Another robber who came with Ye Jian laughed. “Why are you hitting her? She is just a student. She got frightened and came to send us some money. What is this called? A wise man...”

“A wise man adapts himself to circumstances.” Ye Jian pretended that she was trying to remain calm. “We will give you this money. Can you return the money to the woman?”

Ye Ying was stunned when she saw Ye Jian.

After a while, she regained her senses and gave a sinister smile. Who does she think she is? Does she think that she is really invincible?

Chapter 257: Robbery On The Train (7)

Ye Zhifan turned serious.

He went to Liao Youde's house a few days ago. As they were chatting about Ye Jian, Liao Youde's son, Liao Jian, came and told them something.

Ye Ying asked him to play some tricks on Ye Jian in the city. However, they were found out. He saw Ye Jian climbing from the ground floor to the seventh floor without any help. She came down from the seventh floor in an instant after that.

He also mentioned that he once asked two hooligans to follow Ye Jian. Yet, the next day, the villagers found them tied to a tree. They were tied for an entire night.

Ye Jian's relationship with the military unit was very good. Was it possible that... Ye Zhifan started to think of a possibility. His gaze turned even colder than just now when he had to hand over his money.

If this girl really learned some fighting skills in the military unit... It would be harder for Yingying to surpass her. Then... Yingying wouldn't be able to marry into a wealthy family.

Ye Ying was so excited she clenched her fist. If she talked anymore, she would definitely get into trouble. She was waiting for these people to teach Ye Jian a lesson.

When Ye Jian held the woman up, she took a quick glance at Ye Zhifan.

The flashlight moved around the carriage. Ye Zhifan's expression was sinister. Ye Jian smiled. She was right. Ye Zhifan had his eyes on her.

When she thought back about what happened in school, she felt that she went overboard. She should have concealed herself.

Ye Jian used a discussion tone and asked the robber, "If we give you the money, can you return this auntie her money?"

Ye Ying almost wanted to laugh. Did she think that she could settle this issue? Come on, Ye Jian, this discussion was... She was looking for death.

Was this how smart she is? She is just being rash!

The more you speak, the more mistakes you make. Ye Zhifan sneered when he heard what Ye Jian said. Ye Jian was smart but when compared to Yingying, she was still lacking. Yingying would not try to act brave in such a situation.

The robbers were stunned for a moment. This was their first time seeing someone so bold. After they regained their senses, they started laughing loudly. They threatened Ye Jian. "Young lady, are you trying to bargain with us? Hurry up and get out of here. If not, we will not show mercy."

Everyone felt hopeful when someone stood up against the robbers. However, when they saw who it was, their hope diminished again.

Ye Jian held the woman up and found a place to sit for her. A man, who looked like a businessman, walked up from the middle of the carriage. "Don't make things difficult for a student. You can take this money."

A few people took out their money and placed them on a bed. They hoped that Ye Jian was able to return to her berth soon.

If there were evil people, there will be kind people too. Ye Jian's gaze turned a little soft. At least these people were willing to speak up for her. She whispered in a voice only the woman could hear, "Auntie, everything will be fine. Don't think too much."

She will not be able to scare the robbers alone. She needed every one in this carriage to work together. That way, everything will be fine.

Chapter 258: Robbery On The Train (8)

If someone was willing to step up as the leader, things would get easier.

She was the first person to come out. Principal Chen would step out next followed by the young man. If this happened, these people that helped her would stand up too.

Also, she needed to catch the leader of the robbers. However, she needed to ensure everyone's safety too.

Xia Jinyuan once told her that she must never give her opponent a chance to retaliate. The best way was to lure these people to the back so that they wouldn't be able to catch anyone as their hostages.

Money was the bait. The more enticing the bait was, the higher the chance they would be lured.

Ye Jian opened the bag. There were a few thousand inside. "My uncle says that you can talk to him behind. He is willing to give more money."

The first round of bait had been planted. It hooked the appetite of the robbers. Ye Jian wanted to know if the second bait was enough to hook the leader of the robbers, someone who had not made any movements yet.

Principal Chen stood up and coughed lightly. He opened his mouth and said calmly, "Let's discuss over here. Don't scare the other passengers. Even if you snatch the money of everyone in this carriage, it might not be as much as what I have here."

“Who is the leader? Please come out. Money is not a problem but it is not good to hurt people. Girl, come back. Let the adults handle the rest of the matter.” He waved his hand and asked Ye Jian to go back to his side.

The leader of the robbers didn't expect his robbery to go so smoothly. He moved his shoulders and smiled as he got up. He didn't stop Ye Jian from going back.

The passengers that were sleeping in the same compartment thought about something and their expression changed instantly. They hid in a corner. They didn't even want to go back to their beds.

The leader shrugged and smiled as he walked over. “Money given voluntarily is good money. But I have to see how much you've got first. Don't try to satisfy me with just a few thousand dollars.”

Greed took control of him. The entire carriage was filled with his men so the leader laughed wildly.

“I have money but not much. I can give you 30,000RMB. If you're afraid that I'll pull a cheap shot, you can ask everyone to come over and leave two people to guard the door. What do you think?”

As compared to these robbers who only knew how to play with metal bars, Principal Chen's aura was more domineering. He was someone who killed many enemies with his sniper rifles.

The leader's expression changed. He snorted, “Why will I be afraid? This place is filled with my men. If you dare to play any tricks, I'll play with her.” He pointed at Ye Jian. “What a beautiful child she is. It must be fun to play with her.”

Ye Jian's emotions were triggered by his words. Killing intent appeared in her eyes. Play with her... someone seemed to have said the same thing before. What happened to that person?

She stabbed a pair of scissors forcefully into his heart!

She narrowed her eyes as she looked at the leader walking towards her. She secretly placed her left hand on her right wrist.

If he dared to touch her, she would kill him.

Chapter 259: Robbery On The Train (9)

She was unable to hide her malicious aura from Principal Chen. Principal Chen raised his hand and patted Ye Jian's shoulder lightly. He asked her to stand at the back of the carriage. “Let the passengers behind come forward.”

He felt that this child had too many thoughts on her mind. Just now, a single sentence from the leader made her want to kill him. She needed to learn to control her emotions.

Once she was able to do that perfectly, Grandpa Gen and he would feel at ease sending her to the battlefield.

This girl didn't have anyone to rely on. If she didn't learn to be tactful, she would have a hard time surviving.

This was the thought both Grandpa Gen and Principal Chen had. They hoped that when they were not around, Ye Jian can live a good life on her own. She must rely on herself and not on other people.

These two elders kept grooming Ye Jian's independence. In the future, this would give Xia Jinyuan much headache. During that time, Ye Jian would be living a good life, so good that she felt her life was perfect... without love.

The leader didn't feel that an elder and a child would be of much threat to him. He walked to the back of the carriage and blocked their path. "Old man, don't try to play any tricks. Give me the money obediently and don't care about anything else."

There was not much time left. His gaze turned vicious. He took a metal pipe from his sidekick and pointed it angrily at Principal Chen. "Give me the money! Hurry up!"

He said to the robbers, "Three minutes. Pick up your speed."

They were planning to ravage the carriage!

The young man sleeping above Ye Jian gritted his teeth and took out a hot water bottle filled with hot water. He shouted, "What are you all waiting for? Are you waiting for them to rob all your money?"

He opened his hot water bottle and pretended that he was going to splash it.

Once someone acted, the butterfly effect started. Some people who wanted to retaliate long ago reacted quickly. They took their hot water bottles out from under their beds. Some even grabbed their fruit knives.

Those people that hid some of their money decided to retaliate too.

The train was slowing down. Some robbers noticed this and shouted, "Boss, the train is slowing down but it's not at the station yet!"

No one knew what was happening. Even the leader was clueless. Someone knocked on the glass of the carriage door and stuck a piece of paper on the glass.

The robber guarding the door was astounded. He ran to the back. "Boss, there is a situation. We need to run!"

The minute he finished speaking, the robber standing behind Ye Jian shouted anxiously, "Boss, let's go! The train is going to stop soon!"

At this moment, the police from Yu An City were standing on both sides of the railway with guns in their hands. The moment the train stopped, they would rush to surround carriage no. 9.

All the passengers in the carriage knew that the police were here. They didn't feel so frightened anymore.

Within a minute, the entire situation in the carriage changed. The robbers no longer had an advantage.

The leader of the robbers finally understood that he was fooled. He narrowed his eyes and said furiously, "Damn it. You played with me! You even called the police!"

Chapter 260: A Messy Confrontation

The train was still 15 minutes away from the station. Hence, the robbers were alerted when the train slowed down. Also, just like what Principal Chen said, there was someone cooperating with them within the crew of the train.

The leader raised the metal pipe and aimed it at Principal Chen's head. His gaze turned vicious. "Fk, you were dragging time! You are looking for death!"

The robbers were vulgar people. They raised the metal pipes in their hands and wanted to beat Ye Jian and Principal Chen up before they leave.

Ye Jian had her silver thread in her hand. She was waiting for this moment. She twirled the thread around the leader's metal pipe and pulled it. The metal slipped out of the leader's hand.

"Principal Chen, this is for you. Is it suitable for you?" There was a huge mess in front. Ye Zhifan had no time to care about her now. The head of the snake was here. She needed to catch it.

The leader was stunned when Ye Jian took his metal pipe away. He looked at his empty hand that was frozen in mid-air. Then, he looked at Ye Jian. His face was twitching. He was burning with anger.

"No wonder you are so bold. You do have some capabilities. Brothers, whoever who kills this old man and this young girl will get all the money snatched today!"

The leader was smart. Although he was indignant, he still remembered that it was against the law to murder someone. Hence, he asked his sidekicks to do it for him.

The temptation of money ignited the spirits of these 20-year-old young men. They raised their metal pipes and slashed it at Ye Jian and Principal Chen.

The passengers at the back were on their guard the entire time. When they saw the robbers trying to hurt the two people that tried to save everyone, the young man sleeping on the berth above Ye Jian shouted, "I'll let me scald you to death!"

He poured all the hot water on the bandits. The other male passengers followed suit and poured hot water all over the bandits.

The bandits were only wearing a thin layer of clothes. When the hot water was poured on them, they started screaming in pain. Their screams were even louder than the screams of the passengers.

“Ladies and children, move to the back! Hurry up!” The male passengers felt their adrenaline running. Some timid male passengers followed the ladies and the children. They came to the link between carriage no. 9 and no. 10. Then they realized that it was locked, they pounded the door furiously.

The robber was frightened by all the people that rushed to the door. He threw his metal pipe away and pretended to be a passenger.

It was 3 am now. The passengers in carriage no. 10 were deep asleep. They were not affected by the commotion at all.

Both the doors of carriage no.9 and no. 10 was locked. This was done on purpose so that the passengers in carriage no. 10 would not know what was happening in the other carriage.

Some agile man climbed to the luggage rack and pushed all the luggage down onto the robbers. In times of crisis, human potentials are released. This was a good way to stop the robbers.
