

Chapter 751: Testing My Endurance

Xia Jinyuan laughed when she apologized so quickly. After cleaning her wound, he put aside the tweezers and raised his eyebrows. There was a smile on his dashing face, which softened Ye Jian's heart. His smile was warm, and his gaze was like a mild current, which could envelop her cold appearance.

There was a trace of bitterness in the corner of her eyes. As she felt his warmth, there was a complicated emotion in her head that she was unclear about. She couldn't help but reach out her hand, softly touching his elegant eyebrows. She said in a trance, "Xia Jinyuan, if one day you regret it, what should you do?"

If one day, he found out that the person standing in front of him had a secret of living her second life, who came back for revenge but accidentally entered another world that opened up her heart.

She changed her life of misery, weakness, and sorrow. If it wasn't for her past life, would Xia Jinyuan have known Ye Jian now?

She didn't like to lie and wasn't used to lying. Having a secret like this allowed her to live recklessly, but it was also her shackle, which made her refuse to have another person in her world.

But it was undeniable that the person in front of her cared about her, thought about her, and could hold her hand and walk together with her. He had something magical that could ease her mind. No matter how heavy the wind and rain were outside, with him around, she had somewhere safe to be.

However, before she was ready, she couldn't accept the security that he gave.

Xia Jinyuan saw her in a trance and heard what she said. Although he could feel her hesitation, there was still no way to understand why her heart hesitated.

He curled his lips and smiled at her, "I don't have that much foresight when dealing with feelings. What I like must be what I'm willing to love wholeheartedly. As for lies, Little Fox, don't forget that I'm an excellent hunter. My eyes are much better than Commander Xia's."

"I can read people. So even if you're young and underaged, I have to do something."

His hand movements didn't stop. He was very accustomed and skilled in doing these things. After a while, the new gauze was already gently wrapped with the bandage.

Ye Jian heard that and narrowed her eyes slightly, "Sometimes, it's not enough to look at the surface. The appearance might not be true! Captain Xia, we still have time. While I'm considering it, you should too."

Xia Jinyuan stood up, preparing to clear the old gauze away, "I know what I want. You have to think about it."

Inadvertently, his gaze fell on Ye Jian's chest. Although her hand was holding on to the bathrobe, because of the trance just now, her hand slipped down. And because she was looking up at him, the curvature of her chest was more prominent. Xia Jinyuan was able to see the most exquisite scenery.

Such a scene came suddenly, and he was flustered. He reached out his hand and pulled the bathrobe up and sighed, "You are testing my endurance. Fortunately, I can still maintain my senses because of your age. When you're eighteen, you can't test my endurance like this again."

Chapter 752: My Dear, I Need To Fight

Ye Jian was having other thoughts in her mind, but after he teased her, she looked down instinctively to see which part of her body was revealed. When she saw the small round thing in front of her chest, which she was even able to see herself, she choked and started coughing.

"I'm going to wash clothes!" Every time during such a moment, the only thing Ye Jian could think of was escape, escape, escape... Escape as far away as she could. She wasn't able to maintain her composure in the face of such a situation at all!

Xia Jinyuan laughed until his chest heaved up and down furiously. He spoke casually behind her, "I don't mind seeing such sceneries occasionally, especially if there's such scenery for me every time I come here... Is that a benefit?"

Benefit in your dreams! Ye Jian had already walked over, but when she heard this, she ran back. She grabbed the pillow on the bed and threw it at the face of the man who was laughing heartily. "It was an accident. Also, Captain Xia, do you know what's see no evil?"

"I do. That's why I wanted to help pull your collar up like a gentleman, but you grabbed me and prevented me from doing it." She stomped her feet in embarrassment. As for Xia Jinyuan, he became even more composed. He maintained his calm aura and continued, "I didn't see much. I just glanced at it unintentionally."

Master Xia, the person who caught the pillow that was thrown at him, the man with an elegant aura around him, became a man that Ye Jian furiously wanted to bite.

The cell phone that was placed on the cabinet beside the bed suddenly rang. The dull ringtone caused the teasing between the two people to stop suddenly. This ringtone was specially used for any emergency in the military unit.

Xia Jinyuan's expression darkened. He turned and grabbed his phone. At the same time, he didn't forget to signal to Ye Jian and asked her to go into the bathroom.

As long as Ye Jian wasn't part of the Xueyu unit, she wasn't allowed to listen to the content of any emergency calls from the military unit.

Ye Jian knew this ringtone too. Thus, when she saw this, her awkwardness and shyness disappeared. Ye Jian took the bag placed beside the end of the bed and entered the bathroom. She turned the tap on to its biggest and started taking out her underwear and cotton bras to wash.

Xia Jinyuan's military uniform, which was washed using the showerhead, was hung on the hanger where the towels used to be hanging. Water was still dripping down from the clothes.

Ye Jian looked at the big shower towel that both of them didn't use. Without closing the tap, she took a towel and wrapped Xia Jinyuan's military clothes with the towel tightly. She was using the towel to dry the military uniform a little more.

If he received such a call, it would undoubtedly mean that he had some emergency mission. He would need to leave immediately after the call. The only thing she could do now was to not let him wear a uniform that was still dripping with water when he leaves.

In the room, Xia Jinyuan's handsome face had turned cold and sharp. "Okay. I'll return to the military unit immediately. However, there's a huge storm in the Southern Province now. There might be a delay in the flight. I'll go back as fast as I can."

After one year of secret investigations, they had discovered the scheme behind the people who sent the mercenaries and the soldier from the other country, who were found in the depopulated zone. Those people were killed by the Xueyu unit last year. Now, it was time for them to give a powerful retaliation.

Sometimes, people bear with something patiently so that they could give a better retaliation. It was so that they could uproot their enemy once and for all. That was why they pretended that they were forced to keep quiet out of resignation and helplessness.

They would never let those people with evil intentions know what they were planning to do.

The person on the other end of the phone said something else in a low voice. Then, the call, that lasted for no more than 20 seconds, ended.

Xia Jinyuan pushed the door of the bathroom open and saw Ye Jian wrapping his military uniform with a huge towel. She heard the noise and turned around. Then, she smiled and said to him, "The towel can absorb some water. You can wear your pants first. It's still wet, but at least it isn't dripping water."

Chapter 753: Times Spent Together

Ye Jian used the huge towel to wrap the uniform and placed it on the vanity table. She used so much force that the knuckles on the back of her slender hands turned a little greenish-white.

Xia Jinyuan never knew that the feeling of having someone washing his military attire was so warm and sweet.

Xia Jinyuan's gaze was gentle as she looked quietly at Ye Jian while she cleaned his military uniform. She took out the uniform from the towel and placed it on another huge towel. Then, she bent down halfway and straightened the creases on the uniform with her hands.

"It's very wet but at least it isn't dripping water. You don't have to worry that your clothes will wet the seats of the taxi." Her words sounded miserable but that was the truth. Ye Jian noticed that Xia Jinyuan wasn't moving so she passed his pants to him. "Change your pants inside. I'll use the hairdryer to blow your uniform for a little while."

“Have you booked your plane ticket? Will the plane be able to take off properly in this huge storm? Do you want to ask the hotel when the first flight to the capital city will be?”

At this moment, Ye Jian revealed a level of thoughtfulness that didn't coincide with her age. However, to Xia Jinyuan, this was normal.

Children who didn't have parents were always more mature. They could only live properly if they knew how to take care of themselves. Ye Jian belonged to this category. She was a lady that could take care of herself properly.

He took over the wet pants that weren't dripping with water. There was a smile on his handsome face. “Every time I go far away, I always pack my own luggage. Sometimes, there isn't even any luggage. I just wear my combat attire, take a gun, a communication device, and leave without any hesitation for my belief.”

“In the past, the first thing I did when I come back was to wash the gunpowder and blood off my body. Then, I'll have a good sleep. I'm very happy to see you helping me to tidy my military uniform, Little Fox.”

He spoke softly. His deep voice still sounded a little stern due to the call just now, but it was much softer already. “There's no need to go through so much trouble. This is good enough.”

Ye Jian lowered her eyes. The ventilation fan was on in the bathroom. Amidst the quiet whirring of the ventilation fan, her voice could be heard faintly, “There'll be a chance. Change your pants first. I'll go out.”

She took the belt down from the hanger and wiped it with the towel. Then, she passed the military pants to him along with the belt left the bathroom while hugging his military uniform and his shirt.

It didn't take much time for Xia Jinyuan to change his pants. By the time he finished, Ye Jian hadn't even dried half of the sleeve of the shirt. Xia Jinyuan walked over to the cabinet beside the top of the bed half-naked. His sexy and muscular upper body was revealed. He took his cell phone and sat down casually at the top of the bed while scrolling his phone.

“A car will come and fetch me later. You can spend the night in the hotel and go to school tomorrow morning for your morning self-study. Take your dinner at the hotel. The rain is heavy so try not to go out.”

The sound of the hairdryer was very loud. Hence, he leaned close to Ye Jian's ear when he was speaking. A man's smell immediately engulfed Ye Jian. Even her breath was filled with his scent.

This kind of scene should be seductive but both of them had kept their thoughts. No matter how close they were, they wouldn't be affected.

Ye Jian placed the hairdryer in the other sleeve. She turned her head and looked at him with a dark gaze. She pursed her lips slightly as she said, “When are you leaving?”

“In around ten minutes. There should be enough time to dry the shirt.” Xia Jinyuan deleted the message instantly after he finished reading it. The military unit had already bought his plane tickets. It wasn’t a flight to the capital city. He was going to a city that was closest to the borders of his country.

Chapter 754: I Want to Take Care of You Very Much

The car would arrive in ten minutes, but Ye Jian wasn’t able to dry the shirt during this period of time.

A moment ago, he was still saying that they had an entire afternoon. In a blink of an eye, they were racing with time. This was the life of a soldier. Even when they were on holiday, they couldn’t relax entirely. There would be notifications of emergency missions anytime, and they would need to return to their military unit immediately.

Especially for special soldiers like Xia Jinyuan, their time didn’t belong to them. It belonged to the country.

When Xia Jinyuan saw Ye Jian shaking his shirt with one hand furiously, his gaze started to darken. His tall and slender figure started moving closer to her slowly.

He was so close that his shoulder pasted on her shoulder. Even though the thick bathrobe, his scorching body temperature still flowed over. His warmth retained on her skin.

“This time, I might have to stay there for a longer period of time. It will be inconvenient to contact you over there. All communications will be lost. You must take care of your arm injury. Don’t let it split open again. A gun wound isn’t like any other injuries. If you don’t take care of it, you might get infected. Sometimes, a small wound can result in an amputation.”

“I want to take care of you very much but, Little Fox, this is the truth a soldier has to accept. When your loved one needs you the most, you had to leave her. You can’t even contact her.”

“You said that I will be fooled, but I’m ‘lying’ to a kind and good lady too.” He lowered his head. The slightly cold lips planted a light kiss on her forehead. “This Xia Jinyuan will not be a responsible man who can always stay beside his girlfriend. Hence, this Xia Jinyuan used the easiest methods to catch the girl that he fell in love with.”

“I want to be the only one who can admire the most beautiful scenery in my eyes. This kind of Xia Jinyuan is quite a bastard, but he still wanted to have this happiness. Don’t worry. As long as you have feelings towards me, we will have a long time to understand each other.”

“To us, time is about understanding and accepting each other, and then staying together forever. I will love until you’re the only lady in my world. I hope that, in your eyes, in your world, there’ll only be a man called Xia Jinyuan.”

He stretched his hand out and turned off the hairdryer she was holding. There were still three minutes left. Why should they waste it on a shirt that couldn’t be dried?

He’d rather spend the time hugging her tightly and kissing her deeply again.

As their lips touched, their breaths intertwined. At the start, Ye Jian's widened her eyes. But, slowly, she closed them.

If... love really came, please allow her to have some time to accept this man, a man whose kiss she didn't resist.

She lived for two lifetimes. The difficulties she received in her past life allowed her to be rewarded in this lifetime. In that case, would love, something that she never thought of having, be bestowed to her too?

She responded to him like an amateur. She placed her hand lightly but resolutely on his heart.

She felt the powerful heartbeat on her palm. The heartbeat knocked into her heart through her palm.

Her heartbeat started following his rhythm too. It was beating a little too quickly.

This was his heartbeat. This was the most fragile part of a human body too. It was the part where a special forces soldier had to protect the most. Yet, he allowed her to touch it so easily.

Chapter 755: Wait for My Return

Ye Jian couldn't help but remember that two years ago, he was still investigating her secretly. Yet, now, they were two people who could kiss each other.

This was their third kiss.

When she wanted to lift her hand, Xia Jinyuan had a premonition. He raised his hand directly and placed his hand on hers, which was covering the part of his chest where his heart was.

He pressed her hand down forcefully so that she could feel his heartbeat clearly as well as his nervousness and excitement when he was kissing her.

Their love didn't have so much time for them to be romantic. It didn't give them extra time to feel sad or sorrowful either. When they had the opportunity, they should use the precious time they had to protect their equally precious love.

During a time like this, even their kiss had a time-limit. Besides that, Xia Jinyuan had to curb his desire to stretch his arms out to hug her.

His chest was really hot. It was so hot she trembled a little. He held her other hand, which was supporting her on the bed. Their fingers interlocked. Slowly, Xia Jinyuan exerted force on his waist, and the two of them fell back on the bed.

Her heart was palpitating furiously. Ye Jian's hand was still placed in front of his chest even when she laid on the bed. Her other hand was held tightly by Xia Jinyuan. She could feel the half-naked and muscular man lying right above her. She saw his black eyes sparkling a dark light. Ye Jian got even more nervous. She felt as though her heart was going to jump out of her chest.

Xia Jinyuan's eyes turned darker as he looked at Ye Jian who was lying below him. Because she laid down suddenly, the loose bathrobe slid down from her shoulders. If you followed the deep V neck and looked down, you could faintly see the deep indent.

Xia Jinyuan swallowed his saliva lightly. His gaze stopped on the huge patch of fair skin for a few seconds. Then, he moved his eyes away naturally. There was no change of expressions on his handsome face.

He didn't move anymore. Instead, he stood up and took his shirt that was placed beside the bed. His voice was a little deep and hoarse after the kiss. He said, "Third time."

This was the third kiss. He remembered it.

Ye Jian pursed her lips tightly. She looked at Xia Jinyuan with her black and bright eyes as he wore the half-dried shirt that was still warm from the heat of the hairdryer. He tucked the end of the shirt into his pants and tightened his belt. Then, he wore his military uniform tidily and swiftly.

He wore the damp jacket as well as the equally damp military cap. Now, Xia Jinyuan wasn't the man just now who made her heart anxious with the emotions in his eyes. He was a soldier with a cold aura who was going to go on a dangerous mission. This kind of Xia Jinyuan made her feel at ease.

After tidying himself up, Xia Jinyuan fixed his gaze on his little fox and said in a deep voice, "Wait for my return."

These were six simple words. After he finished speaking, he turned around. He left the gentleness behind and took away the coldness of a soldier... There was no gentleness in him anymore.

Ye Jian had already calmed down. She watched as he walked out of the hotel room door. She said slowly, emphasizing each word, "I hope that all of you come back safely."

The Major that left didn't turn his head back. However, he slowed down his pace and nodded slightly. This was his reply to her words. For her sake, for their families' sake, to repay the country that groomed them, they must come back safely.

She hadn't asked him when he told Uncle Chen about their relationship. She thought that they had a few hours, but when she heard the sound of the door shutting, she realized that they really didn't have much time to spend together, really not much...

After thinking for a while, Ye Jian took out the door card and closed the door haphazardly. Without even changing her bathrobe, she chased after Xia Jinyuan.

Chapter 756: I Want To Send You Off

When she went to Pakistan for her mission, the team members from the Xueyu unit, who were in charge of protection on the outskirts, sent off their comrades secretly. This time, she was going to send Xia Jinyuan off too. She was going to send her comrade, who worked together with her on the battlefield, off!

She ran really quickly. When she reached the lift, she noticed that one lift was still traveling up while the other was already on the fifth floor.

She turned and ran towards the fire escape stairway without any hesitation.

She felt thankful to Ye Ying for chasing her in her past life. Because of this, she developed a habit. She would look for emergency exits and fire escape stairways whenever she reached a new place.

Thus, with this habit, she was able to find the fire escape stairways immediately without wasting any minute!

The slippers on Ye Jian's feet were kicked away by her. This was because she didn't run down the stairs. Instead, she jumped... with one hand holding the railing. The action looked simple, but regular people wouldn't dare, and wouldn't be able to do it. In a blink of an eye, she managed to climb down many steps.

She dashed out of the fire escape stairways and scared a group of tourists who were preparing to take the lift. Imagine a person wearing a bathrobe, who was running furiously but without any sound at the speed of the wind, floating pass you like a white ghost. How was it possible to not scare people?

"What's wrong with the management of your hotel? Elders will have a heart attack from this scare!" A shrill scream of a lady came from Ye Jian's side. Ye Jian was focused on chasing after her comrade so she didn't listen to the voice carefully. A thought just flashed past her mind. Why does this voice sound a little familiar?

She ran all the way to the lobby and saw the tall and slender figure walking out of the spinning glass door. There was a car parked outside. As he walked out of the door, the doorman of the hotel immediately opened the door of the back seat and bowed down politely to invite him into the car.

Ye Jian didn't go out. She stood at a place where she could see him getting into the car and watched him silently, sending him off quietly just like those members of the Xueyu unit who were hiding in the dark in Pakistan.

Xia Jinyuan thanked the doorman and prepared to get into the car. Suddenly, his body froze. He turned around abruptly and saw the person who was supposed to be in her room through the spinning glass door. She was wearing a white bathrobe while standing in the lobby. She used her gaze to send him off silently.

She was barefooted. He didn't hear the sound of her running even when she jumped down the fire escape staircases or rushed out of the door. That was because he was in the elevator when she was running down.

Ye Jian stared at the man who stopped moving because he detected her gaze. The sky was dark. The hotel on their lights outside the hotel to the brightest. The light had a warm tone. The man standing under the warm orange light was tall and straight like a tree. The face under the large peaked cap was handsome and sharp.

On his perfect and handsome face, there was a smile. His eyes, which were as bright as the North Star, was smiling too. Ye Jian smiled lightly. Her eyes turned into crescents. It was a warm smile.

He understood why she ran over. She always knew that he understood so she smiled.

The two of them stared at each other for only three seconds. Then, Xia Jinyuan moved his lips and said something. After that, he bent down and entered the car. He seemed to say something to the doorman, but because he was bending down, Ye Jian didn't see it.

She only knew that he told her to take care of herself and nothing else.

There was no time for him to say anything else either.

Chapter 757: A Familiar Person From Her Past Life

The car left the hotel and drove into the rain. The attendant in the lobby of the hotel ran over in small steps while holding a pair of cotton slippers. This was the pair of slippers Xia Jinyuan ordered the doorman to bring for Ye Jian.

Someone was coming towards her furiously from her back. The moment Ye Jian finished wearing her slippers and thanked the attendant, she felt something amiss behind her. She instantly turned around and took the chance to pull the attendant behind her.

She felt that the person was looking for her, but the attendant was here too. Hence, she couldn't confirm her thinking immediately. Yet, she instinctively pulled the attendant behind her to protect her.

"Where are your parents? Ask them to come out!" The lady who walked over was wearing an expensive-looking dark purple long dress and a cashmere shawl placed around her shoulders. She was in high heels and her aura was just like her voice, haughty.

A flash of surprise appeared on Ye Jian's indifferent face. No wonder she found the voice a little familiar just now. She knew this person.

This was her Little Aunt, Ye Zhixiang. In her past life, she always drove an international-brand car whenever she went back to the village to visit her relatives. It was rumored that she opened many big companies.

The last time she met Ye Zhixiang was when she just turned 18 years old. She ran back to Ye Zhifan's family because she wanted to take her registered residence booklet to create her identification card. Coincidentally, she saw Ye Zhixiang and her husband, who's right eye was blind for some reason, coming back, so she ran out with all her might.

There was only one thought in her mind. If she ran a little slower, she would be beaten to death by her uncle-in-law.

She was really frightened at that time. She forever remembered how vicious her uncle-in-law treated her. When she was still in Primary Four, her Uncle-in-law, Sun Yaozu, beat her until she turned unconscious and threw her out in the ground covered with snow on the eve of New Year.

Hence, when she saw her uncle-in-law at that time, she instantly remembered what happened in Primary Four. She didn't dare to ask about her registered residence booklet anymore and just ran away frantically.

Now, it had been 11 years since she last met Ye Zhixiang, including her past life. But, when she saw her again, Ye Jian was still able to recognize her immediately.

As compared to the time when she saw Ye Zhixiang in her past life, Ye Zhixiang looked much younger. Ye Jian could tell that her Aunt was someone who took care of herself.

Ye Jian looked at her calmly and smiled lightly. "I'm the guest of the hotel. I don't need my parents to take responsibility for what I did in the hotel. Also, who are you? I don't think that you have the right to see my parents."

The attendant stepped forward quickly too and smiled as she asked, "Hello. If you need any help, you can contact any of the service staff of the hotel."

Ye Jian smiled at the attendant who spoke and walked straight in the direction of the elevator.

So what if Ye Zhixiang was blood-related to her? She, Ye Jian, didn't owe her anything. Hence, it didn't matter if she revealed her identity or not.

Grandpa Gen once told her, "You live your life and they can live theirs. We will mind our own business."

She could tell that Grandpa Gen didn't want her to have any interaction with Ye Zhixiang's family. She didn't know why Grandpa Gen had this intention but she didn't want to know either.

On the other hand, Ye Zhixiang was a little surprised when she saw Ye Jian. Why did this little girl seem so familiar? Especially the way she talked and acted just now. It was really familiar.

She felt that she had seen her somewhere before, but she couldn't recall anything.

She was only stunned for her moment, but the rude little girl had already walked past her and left arrogantly.

"Stop right there!" Ye Zhixiang glared at the attendant when she saw this and chased after Ye Jian with her high heels. "Where did you come from? You have no manners at all. You scared my elder. Her heart is hurting, but you aren't even apologizing!"

Chapter 758: This Was a Difficult Family to Get Along With

Ye Jian didn't really know what kind of person Ye Zhixiang was. Thus, she was stunned for a moment when Ye Zhixiang suddenly shouted loudly.

She only met Ye Zhixiang twice in her past life. Both times, it was an unpleasant experience. Hence, even though she wasn't familiar with her Aunt, she didn't have any good feelings towards her. After hearing her shout, a wrinkled face that looked kind and amiable appeared in Ye Jian's mind. The face seemed kind but in actual fact, the old lady showed no kindness to her granddaughter.

She was Ye Zhifan's mother, Ye Ying's grandma.

That year, one of the main reasons why she chose to stay with Ye Zhifan was because both Ye Ying and she didn't have any status in front of their grandma. Their grandma would give them equal treatment when scolding or hitting them.

On the other hand, she was kind towards Aunt's two sons, especially the one who took on Aunt's surname, Ye. Her grandma treated him exceptionally well.

These memories, which were hidden in the depth of her mind, the memories that wouldn't surface without a stimulation, started popping up in her mind one by one. They were the bad memories she had when she was staying with the Ye family, the memories she was afraid of recalling when she was young.

She ignored Ye Zhixiang's shouting and walked to the reception. She placed her room key on the marble reception table and said to the lobby manager, "Can I have a look at my registration information?"

Ye Zhixiang was stunned for a moment just now. She probably found her a little familiar but couldn't remember her yet. Once she recalled who she was, she might come to the reception to look for her information. Thus, she needed to ensure that Captain Xia's information wouldn't be leaked.

The lobby manager wanted to comfort the guests' emotions. But, when he saw the young lady coming over to check her registration, he took a look at her room key and replied politely, "This is the VIP room for our hotel. The person who registered for the room is called Ms. Xia."

Ms. Xia? Who was that?

"Okay, thank you." Everything would be fine as long as it wasn't Captain Xia. She didn't care about who Ms. Xia was. She squinted a little as a tinge of coldness appeared on her calm face. She said in a composed tone, "If someone asks about my information later, I hope that the hotel can abide by the basic rules of the service industry and keep your customer's information confidential. Thank you."

VIP's information must definitely be kept confidential. The lobby manager gave up the thought of finding the parents of this young lady after looking at her registration information.

In the Southern Province, the VIPs of their hotel were either their boss's friends or someone whom even their boss had to bow down to.

The lobby manager quickly agreed to Ye Jian's request and asked a service staff to send Ye Jian up the elevator. Then, he went to console the furious guest.

Ye Jian didn't know how the hotel settled this issue. She returned to the room where remnants of Xia Jinyuan's aura was still left behind. Ye Jian entered the bathroom first with an emotionless expression and washed her undergarments clean first.

Her undergarments were light pink in color. There were some small dots on them too. It was a design young ladies would like. As for the size... Ye Jian couldn't help but purse her lips. He never touched it before so how was he able to guess the size through observation? He even observed it while she was wearing clothes.

She was someone who was very sensitive towards numbers, distance, and size. However, when she saw the lower part of his body... As Ye Jian thought about this, she suddenly blushed.

Her skin, which was like white jade, started getting tainted with light pink. Then, the pink became darker. It was like the color at the tip of a peach blossom petal, beautiful and bright, enticing people to pick it.

Xia Jinyuan was still able to maintain his composure and remained a gentleman when this lady was in his embrace. We have to compliment his endurance!

Chapter 759: Mysterious Past

Maybe it was because she suddenly thought of an unspeakable and immeasurable size, so Ye Jian stared blankly in front of the mirror as though she was struck by lightning.

Then, she slapped her forehead with her hand which was full of soap bubbles. Calm down, calm down, don't imagine, don't think too much either!

Her gaze landed on the mirror. She saw her red face in the mirror. Her eyes were sparkling. Her entire body seemed so soft and delicate it felt as if water could be squeezed out of her skin. She was surprised by how enchanting she was. This was a side that she felt unfamiliar with. Ye Jian widened her eyes for a few seconds before splashing water on her face.

The person in the mirror wasn't her. She couldn't even recognize herself!

How could she have such an expression? Where did her indifference go to? Where did the sharpness in her eyes go to?

She washed her face until the hair near her forehead was wet. After feeling the warmth on her face subsiding, she looked up at the mirror again. After a long time, Ye Jian nodded her head in satisfaction.

She didn't dare to think about it anymore. She quickly washed the clothes she needed to wear tomorrow and hung up her clothes for a while before blowing them dry with the hairdryer.

On the eighth floor of the hotel room, in room 808, Ye Zhixiang spoke to the elder that was lying on the bed. This old lady was Ye Jian's grandma. "Mother, I saw a familiar young lady just now. She's the one who scared you until your heart hurt. Thinking about it, why do I feel that the young lady looks like Sun Xueqing?"

"Do you think that young lady is that bastard from Brother's family?"

In the Ye family, the person who always made decisions was Grandma Ye. This old lady was very powerful when she was young. She looked amiable, but she wasn't a simple person. She secretly took over her Brother-in-law's assets and even landed a good name for herself in her village.

Grandpa Ye was a vicious character too. He was never softhearted when he snatched his brother's assets. He didn't even pretend to be polite in front of his brother.

The two elders stayed in one room. However, the old man was currently playing mahjong with his son-in-law and the subordinates of his son-in-law in the other room.

After hearing this, Grandma Ye opened her closed eyes. She was more than 60 years old, but because of her portly presence, she seemed to be only 50 years old.

“Your brother hasn’t sent any news. We can ask him once he comes over. There are many people who look similar to each other in this world. There’s no need to be surprised by such a small little thing. They just look similar. Don’t frustrate yourself.”

The old lady spoke with a gentle and harmonious tone. She was smiling too.

However, from Ye Zhixiang’s fearful expression, you could tell that the old lady wasn’t as kind as she seemed. She had a portly presence, but the viciousness in her eyes wasn’t something that should exist in an old lady.

“Mother, you have many experiences so you’re able to remain calm. However, I can’t do it. When I see that little girl’s face, I feel hatred,” Ye Zhixiang gritted her teeth as she said. She even broke the fingernail on her pinky finger. “Yaozu’s right eye...”

The smile on Grandma Ye’s face disappeared. She scolded in a low voice, “This happened more than ten years ago. Are you afraid that other people won’t know about it so you want to give other people a reason to blackmail us?”

“What’s wrong with his right eye? It was just a work accident. The company compensated you, and you are able to lead a good life because of the compensation! Remember that!”

This scolding forced the anger on Ye Zhixiang’s face to subside. She had no choice but to suppress it. There was nothing else she could do.

Chapter 760: The Frightening Grandma Ye

Grandma Ye couldn’t bear to see her daughter’s unwilling expression. She said, “The person is already gone. Why are you still taking it to heart? Also, your brother is raising that child. Why are you still worried?”

“Shouldn’t you be happy that he raised her into a useless person? What’s there to be unhappy about? Don’t pull a long face the moment we come back to the Southern Province. I’m smiling every day, even at this old age. Why are you getting angry for no reason all the time at such a young age?”

“My son-in-law is doing well in his business. As the wife of a rich businessman, there are three things you must remember. First, protect your two sons. Second, guard the wealth of your family. Third, dress up beautifully!”

Grandma Ye didn’t mention her son-in-law, who was blinded in one eye, at all. There was nothing to talk about him too. A lady didn’t live for a man, especially a man like Sun Yaozu. It was impossible to keep a man like him. When he had the money, he would run loose. He would either have an affair with an actress or go out with a model.

Grandma Ye wouldn’t persuade her daughter to stay with such a man. Money and her sons were the two most important things she should grasp in her hands.

Ye Zhixiang wanted to say something else but she noticed that there were no signs of a smile on the old lady's face anymore. She controlled her anger and took out an exquisite phone. She dialed a number.

The phone signal wasn't good on such a stormy day. After saying a few sentences, Ye Zhifan hung up as he couldn't hear the conversation properly due to the bad signal.

He turned and looked at his wife unhappily. "My mother is at Hotel Caesar now. My younger sister is here too. Why aren't the two of you accompanying her? How unbecoming!"

"Also, I need to explain what happened to Ye Jian to my mother. If not, the two of us can forget about having a peaceful life. As for the past, Sun Dongqing, you know what happened."

Ye Ying didn't want to go because she didn't feel any affection towards the grandma that wasn't kind to her.

As for Sun Dongqing, she didn't want to go because of two reasons. One, she didn't want to see that old woman who always picked on her and second... she never treated Grandma Ye as her mother-in-law at all.

As for the reason, her daughter, Ye Ying, wouldn't know, but she knew.

She pulled the corners of her lips and said coldly, "The rain is so heavy. It's hard to even drive a car in this weather. Why does the old lady want us to bring Ye Ying to meet her in this rain! Why isn't she living her good life with her Ye Zhixiang? Why did she come back to the Southern Province?"

She felt angrier as she spoke so she complained, "She would only stay in the provincial city whenever she came back. I don't care when she comes back. I just pity you. No matter what time it is, you have to go over once the old woman asks you to!"

"That year, it was snowing very heavily. She sat on a plane to come here but what about you? The snow was so heavy all the mountain roads were blocked. How far did you walk to reach her? Old Ye, I feel wronged for you."

No matter how stupid Sun Dongqing was, at least her heart leaned towards Ye Zhifan.

That was why Ye Zhifan didn't change his wife even though he climbed higher in status.

When he was young, he couldn't decide his wife on his own. It was the old woman who made him marry Sun Dongqing. At first, he thought that she would be a troublesome person, but instead, she was pretty and only cared about him. Even when the old lady created trouble for him behind his back, she would help him secretly.

After so many years, he had affairs outside but he never thought of getting a divorce because of what happened when they were young.

He didn't love her anymore, but she was still on his side.

Ye Zhifan sighed when he heard this. He glanced at his daughter, who was confused by their conversation and whispered, "My mother has been an prideful person her entire life. Suppress your anger and visit her. Once she leaves, everything will be fine."
