

Chapter 951: Little Fox, I'm Nervous too

That was her. That was her face. Her eyes were bright and beautiful and her face was like the morning glow. Spring was on her face.

Everything turned silent. It was as though all the noises were blocked. She couldn't hear the bubbling sound of the stream or the happy chirpings of the morning birds. She could only... hear her own heartbeat.

It was beating very quickly, so fast that she felt it was going to jump out soon.

"Relax, relax, be obedient, and relax a little... I'm nervous too. This is my first time kissing in the wild. I'm nervous too." Xia Jinyuan didn't kiss Ye Jian immediately. He held Ye Jian's slim fingers with his slender hand and interlocked their fingers so that she could grab his hand tightly. Light pecks landed on her forehead continuously.

At first, Ye Jian was extremely nervous. When she heard Xia Jinyuan saying that he was nervous too, she couldn't help but smile. So she wasn't the only one who was nervous. Actually... he was nervous too.

Xia Jinyuan carefully evaded her injured arm as he kissed her. He didn't close his eyes so when he raised his head slightly, he could see the curve on her lips. She seemed to like it when he was nervous.

It was good that she liked it. He was indeed nervous after all.

His mellow voice was like red wine; intoxicating and seductive. The intimacy made people's hearts beat furiously. "Just now, it was our fight. Only the two of us were fighting alongside each other."

"We had no reinforcements. It was only us..." His kiss landed beside Ye Jian's ear. He even used his teeth to bite her ears softly. "I found a young lady that isn't afraid of my bloodstained hands. She even told me what kind of love we would have."

His voice was warm, so warm that it allowed Ye Jian to slowly relax.

It was gentle and warm. It allowed her to let down her guard slowly.

Ye Jian allowed herself to open her eyes by a thin line. She saw his handsome face zooming in. It was only a few inches away from her face. She also saw his love for her in his gaze.

Xia Jinyuan loved Ye Jian. This was beyond doubt.

"Hold my hand. Don't be afraid. Trust me... Trust that I won't lose control and do anything to harm you. Close your eyes and enjoy the success of our battle. Enjoy our way of loving..." As he lowered his body, the tall grass started swaying and rustling. Through the cracks of the tall grasses, one could see Xia Jinyuan kissing Ye Jian, who was below him, passionately.

His love wouldn't be growing in the dark or struggling in the damp and cold corner. The love he wanted must be as blatant as this! It must be as open as this!

In Winter, they would be neighbors with the snow mountains and in Summer, they could make friends with the sea. In Autumn, they would dance in the yellow sand, and in Spring, they would spend time together in the jungle. No one would die young and no one was afraid of each other.

She could help him to clean the blood on his body and he could help to clean hers.

They wouldn't ask each other why their bodies were dirty and why there was so much blood. They understood each other and encouraged each other. They wouldn't hide from each other out of fear or escape out of fear. Xia Jinyuan and Ye Jian's love would grow under the sunlight and in the end, it would become a towering tree that bears numerous fruits.

Ye Jian had already closed her eyes and accepted his kiss.

Her reflection was in his black pupils. She could see the expression on her face... There was no resistance or anxiousness on it. Amidst his low voice and gentle kisses, her heart had already accepted them.

Accepted... the man that made her feel at ease. The heart that had been closed for two lifetimes opened slowly. One day, she would accept him entirely.

Chapter 952: The Flattened Grass

With the sky as the roof, and the earth as the house, Xia Jinyuan finally managed to continue the 'bad things' that he didn't complete yesterday morning.

With no resistance, Ye Jian followed her heart and accepted his passion. But this time, she could clearly feel how fast Xia Jinyuan's kissing skills were improving. Just a second ago, she was thinking of reminding him not to laugh, but in the next second, she was already kissed to the point that she was feeling dizzy. Her body slumped softly in the grass.

The long grass was flattened patch by patch. The intimate sounds were telling the world of how passionate the lovers were. Occasional sounds that would make people blush could be heard over the gushing stream, and it would carry with them soft whimpers that were sweet as honey.

"Doesn't it feel good? I heard your voice... It's much softer than before." The diligent and studious Xia Jinyuan asked shamelessly. When the rustling sounds of the long grass stopped, Xia Jinyuan had a perfect ending as he let Ye Jian lie on his body and hugged her, sticking her body close to his intimately.

The restlessness did not stop. It was only controlled. Their chests were rising up and down, and the heat of their breaths was hot enough to burn their hands.

Ye Jian had already cautiously avoided the most obvious and agitated part of him. Her upper body was pressed against his chest, while her legs were opened up quietly, and placed on both sides on his waist. She was afraid that she would be accidentally flustered and that he would breathe heavily.

She was so careful that she didn't even dare to breathe loudly. Suddenly, when she heard him ask that... Ye Jian's eyes trembled slightly and decided to just close her eyes and pretend to fall asleep!

She can't hear it if she's asleep!

Bastard!

He always liked to ask such questions that made her feel shy! How could she answer them? She didn't want to.

She rested her head on Xia Jinyuan's shoulders, but the movements of her trembling eyes couldn't escape the man who had been staring at her, "We've already kissed until our lips are swollen and red, are you still shy? Then I'll have to answer the question myself."

"It must have felt good. Hearing your voice makes me feel good too, which led to my body reacting a little too strongly. It shocked you so much that you don't dare to lie completely on me." Xia Jinyuan, whose lower body was still restless, quickly adjusted his breathing, suppressing his passion with his strong self-control. Every word was diverting his attention away, to calm down as soon as possible.

"Aren't your legs tired? You can lay them down now, everything's back to normal."

Everything is back to normal. Her lower abdomen would no longer be prodded.

Ye Jian wasn't moving, she was asleep...

"You're really asleep? Little Fox, don't you know that being asleep is the best time for people to take advantage of you?" Xia Jinyuan's thin lips moved slightly as he spoke playfully, admiring her trembling eyes, "The prince woke the sleeping beauty by kissing her, let me try to be a prince too."

"Xia Jinyuan!" Ye Jian opened her eyes and stared at him with watery eyes, "Please shut up now! I need to calm down... Can you... be a little normal?"

She was a bit angered by the embarrassment.

"Okay, okay. I'll stop. I'll shut up immediately." He who understands the times is a wise man. Xia Jinyuan held back his laughter and quickly stroked her back with his palm, "Don't be angry, don't be angry. The next time when I ask you about this, how about I ask for your opinion first?"

"I'm just someone who wants to be better. I only want to make progress and not take a step back. Sometimes, I just can't help but ask you. I'm afraid that I'll hurt you when I'm nervous."

Chapter 953: What A Rascal

"Little Fox, I'm also very nervous. This is my first time interacting with a girl. I'm not any more relaxed than you are. However, I'm a man, and a man has to take the initiative. That's why even if I'm nervous, I have to make the first move. It's called accumulating my practical experience."

"Like a soldier in battle, if we only use our mouths and talk, there's no chance of victory. Only by practicing can we gain experience and win all battles and build our confidence."

Ye Jian, who had her eyes closed, heard this and was amused by him. He actually said that he was nervous. The nervous one should be her instead.

“You finally laughed. Just now when you were angry, I was really scared. It’s good that you laughed. Let me relax now.” Xia Jinyuan pretended to be frightened, and looked at Ye Jian with a look in his eyes that begged and hoped for her to comfort him.

What a rascal!

The vibration of the phone was felt in his pants. Xia Jinyuan didn’t need to blink his soft eyes and they had already turned cold. In one second, the rascal morphed into a soldier, one with a cold face without a hint of gentleness from before.

Ye Jian moved quickly, immediately getting off him. She looked at him calmly as he answered the phone.

It was a call from the military. The Southern Province’s target has been eliminated. Regroup with G3 immediately and rescue K7!

“It’s confirmed that K7 has been captured. Q King, the army hopes that the number of comrades that went abroad will be the same as the number of comrades that returns.” The major general’s cold voice came out of his mobile phone. “The operation in Southern Province was perfect, and the military unit speaks highly of Ye Jian’s capabilities.”

“Tell her, even though she’s still a student, her achievements will be recorded clearly and be waiting for her when she wears the uniform and serves the motherland!”

Ye Jian kept sticking to his mobile phone. The words of the major general could be heard clearly. With a cold expression, she didn’t pay attention to her merits, but about... how dangerous the next mission will be.

“I will regroup with G3 immediately and head for the border.” He didn’t say anything much, but his words were filled with vehemence and coldness. “The Southern Province targets have been eliminated and our identities have not been exposed. Commander Q King, requesting for support.”

The major general admired his resolute and fearless subordinate, and nodded, “Helicopter support, Southern Province Air Force Base. I give you four hours. The plane will land after four hours.”

With the helicopter, he could go back to the battlefield swiftly and rescue K7!

Four hours... Ye Jian roughly estimated the time. Although they didn’t have much time, they could still make it.

And the time left that they could spend together began to count down. It wasn’t four hours. It was only one and a half hours together at most.

“K7’s rescue is extremely urgent. The military can provide help within the country. Once you are abroad, communication would be cut off. Q King, K7 could have possibly thought of sacrificing himself upon entering ST. Finding out his location would be rather difficult.”

“ST mercenaries have always welcomed women...” The major general’s voice gradually lowered, and Xia Jinyuan’s expression became cold. A minute later, he refused without any hesitation, “Reporting, I refuse the military’s proposal this time.”

“The rescue of K7 is our unit’s matter, I don’t wish for anyone else to participate! You know how dangerous this is. Eight of us went there and only seven of us came back. No one can guarantee that nothing will happen when we are rescuing him, and...”

Chapter 954: I Refuse! Over!

Xia Jinyuan looked at the figure walking towards the car, and his voice became lower, “Additionally, Ye Jian has never stepped into danger alone. Although she’s excellent in all aspects, she is still a student. I object to this proposal by the military!”

“The military wants to send her not just to rescue K7, but they also hope that during the mission, she could provide...”

“I refuse! Over.” Without waiting for the major general to finish, Xia Jinyuan forced an end to the topic.

The major general at the other end of the phone choked up because of that. He wanted to scold him... but not yet! He still needed to discuss!

“Q King, the military will not make decisions that would not help with your mission. Ye Jian has cooperated with your team many times, and as a female soldier, she would be most suitable to infiltrate the ST mercenaries. Why are you...”

Xia Jinyuan gladly welcomed Ye Jian’s participation in missions like the one in Pakistan, but this time around, he refused it, without leaving any room for discussion, “The ST mercenaries are notorious all around the world. Female captives have never been able to walk away unscathed before. Major General, Ye Jian is a girl and that is exactly why I disagree.”

The ST mercenaries are an organization that only accepts money. They are cruel, lack a conscience, bloody and they torture their captives... Now that he was in their hands, K7 can only use up a number of his lives to stay alive.

Even male soldiers would need to have a few lives. For female soldiers... they will always end up in a much more tragic state!

It’s not just torture, but humiliation as well!

“Major general, with mercenaries like them, I don’t know how the military had come up with such a proposal.”

Every word in his last sentence was foreboding, and full of doubt, denying the military's decision. It was fortunate that he had a good temper, otherwise, he would have asked if their brains were not functioning.

After finishing his sentence, he ended with an 'over', forcing an end to the conversation.

Get Ye Jian to infiltrate the ST mercenaries alone? How could he agree to that?

Although she was captured in Pakistan, at least they were religious and would never do anything that would humiliate female captives. But for these mercenaries, anyone who heard of them a little would be appalled!

After hanging up, Xia Jinyuan thought about it and immediately turned off his phone.

The military said that it was a proposal, and it was discussed carefully. They wanted to see what he thought about it and maybe get him to ask his little fox... Xia Jinyuan only needed to think about her fearlessness and he would shudder.

If the little fox knew about it... She would definitely agree!

She would agree, but he really disapproved of it!

Turning off his phone, Xia Jinyuan walked to the car and patted Ye Jian's shoulder like a comrade, "The military is very satisfied, and your achievements will be recorded. You now have three military merits. Little Fox, good job! When you graduate from military school, you might even be promoted to a major."

According to the rank structure, students who graduated from Specialized Secondary Schools and Universities are generally awarded the rank of Second Lieutenant, while those who graduated with an Honours degree are awarded First Lieutenant. Some will first get Second Lieutenant and be promoted to First Lieutenant after their training. Doctorates would be Lieutenants.

It is extremely rare for someone to already have military merits before going to the military school like Ye Jian.

Her special status could not be defined as an ordinary citizen. Ye Jian would never want her military merits to turn into practical rewards, and Uncle Gen and Uncle Chen would never agree to that too. To retain an outstanding talent like Ye Jian, the military managed to reach a consensus without discussion with both sides – recording the merits.

Chapter 955: Can You Be Decent?

Now that her military merits were recorded, after graduation, Ye Jian's would be rewarded per the seventh ordinance of military rule. Her three military merits are remarkable enough for that.

That's why, it isn't impossible.

But for Ye Jian, that was a bit too far in the future for her. She wasn't thinking about herself now, but the major who was talking and laughing with her, "Don't think about me now, think about your matter first."

“K7’s captured, your identities are ambiguous, and you have to beware of being hunted down. Captain Xia, I hope that even if you get injured, you will be able to come back.”

Rescuing someone is often more dangerous than attacking. They knew, and naturally, Ye Jian knew as well.

Ye Jian was blunt and straightforward, but her words were filled with care and concern for him. Xia Jinyuan raised his eyebrow and embraced Ye Jian in his arms, quickly kissing her slightly red lips, “I can’t lose my life just like this. I’m still waiting for my little fox to graduate and to hold my hand at the graduation ceremony!”

“I’m still waiting for my little fox to enter university. To...” He sounded happy before, but his voice started to get lower and lower. He leaned towards her ear and whispered... One could only see Ye Jian, who had just calmed down, turn red again because of his words, as though scorching hot air had rushed to her face, burning her earlobes and turning them red.

He actually said... to use condoms together!

“Xia Jinyuan! You’re too indecent” Ye Jian lifted his foot... She didn’t hold back and immediately stomped on his foot, “I’m only seventeen years old, you... Can’t you be decent?”

...Was he really being indecent? He felt that it was normal.

Seventeen... Hmm, she’s a bit too young. She’s an underaged senior high student. It seemed a little too straightforward when he suddenly said that.

However, Xia Jinyuan endured the pain and maintained his gentlemanly demeanor, saying gracefully, “Your actual age is seventeen, but you can be regarded as eighteen. And, your maturity always makes me ignore your age. Your psychological age must be twenty years old.”

Although it was painful, it was worth it to be able to see the shyness on her face.

His slender fingers, which had become rough due to the long-term handling of weapons, gently rubbed her cheeks as she looked at him. A low and sexy male voice could be heard, “This is a very normal thing, and it’s not like you’re fourteen years old, an age in which you would be ignorant. You have to know what you should know when you are seventeen.”

“I hope that I will be the one to tell you these intimate things, for me to tell you these openly. I also hope that you can accept them with a healthy mind because condoms will become indispensable in our lives in the future.”

“I’m not being indecent by telling you now. I only want to tell you, only want to let you know and understand. Little Fox, don’t you think it’s suitable for me to tell you these things?”

Ye Jian was silent. She couldn’t refute what he had said.

Major Xia was extremely talented when it came to things like reasoning. Even if she has lived two lifetimes, she was not his opponent!

She can't beat him in being shameless.

And her skin isn't as thick as his.

And she isn't as eloquent as him!

Thinking about it, Ye Jian was a little dumbfounded. She realized that in life, she couldn't win Xia Jinyuan at all!

Chapter 956: A Normal Interaction

"Think hard and think about whether what I said made sense or not." After releasing his hand, Xia Jinyuan opened the car door and entered the car. As he bent over, the corner of his mouth that steadily lured an innocent fox into his trap curved up.

He had to let the little fox get used to these. Seventeen is not that young anymore, how can she not understand what she should know? Is she waiting until she is in her twenties? That's too late!

When she is in her twenties, it should be the time when she is fine with all these. He doesn't want the both of them to be unhappy when they are trying to get intimate with each other. He wants to be happy with her, and for her to be happy.

To be happy when they do anything together, such as kissing, touching, and caressing. All he wants is for her to be happy.

Ye Jian silently knocked her head. She lived for two lifetimes... And she's still under the thumb of a Major Xia who's born in the 90s. In her past life, she made mistakes after mistakes and lived in a mess. This life, she finally got the life that she wanted, but why does she have to meet Xia Jinyuan?

She had no way to deal with him!

Looking at her annoyed and conflicted face, Xia Jinyuan started the car and smiled even wider.

Being a bit naughty when he was younger has become an advantage now that he has grown up.

You will have thicker skin when you're naughty, and you could do everything you wanted without feeling guilty at all!

When Ye Jian got in the car, the major stepped hard on the accelerator, taking the car to the speed of 240 miles per hour. The whole car drove out of the mountain like a racing car and headed straight to the city center.

After getting in the car, Ye Jian was still uncomfortable. Condoms... How can he say that so easily?

The car was traveling very fast. She had just sat down and the trees on both sides were already passing by the corner of her eyes like afterimages. One blink and several kilometers would pass. A slightly tense Ye Jian looked at the man driving. That serious face... as if nothing happened just now!

Gap, there's still a gap. No, no, she has to calm down. What's done is done. Why am I still thinking about it? It's just making me uncomfortable!

Xia Jinyuan was already thinking about serious things. He was fooling around with her before, and now he has to talk about business. He sternly urged, "Although the mercenaries in the Southern Province have been eliminated, it doesn't mean that they won't be entering the borders. You should stay in school these few days. It's best to not go out."

Ye Jian, who was also quick to get back to her senses, had a cold expression and replied, "Eight people and no survivors, it would be normal for them to come over. But, I'm safer than you. Captain Xia, you don't have to worry about me."

Don't have to worry about me, don't be distracted by me, don't get hurt because of me.

"Don't worry about me too. Stay in school and let your injuries heal up." After understanding her unspoken words, Xia Jinyuan's heart grew soft as he focused his vision on the road. A like-minded love, with more understanding, more respect... This kind of love belonged to Xia Jinyuan.

"Besides studying, don't think of anything else in school. Just like me on the battlefield, besides thinking about how to wipe out the enemy, I won't think of anything else. Stay in school and take care of yourself, and I will take care of myself on the frontlines. We must all be well. Understand?"

While waiting for the red light, Xia Jinyuan held Ye Jian's hand and gently rubbed the back of her hand with his thumb. Looking at her with soft eyes. "We must take good care of ourselves."

Chapter 957: Cause Him To Feel Exhilarated

Take care of yourself so that I won't worry. I will only feel at ease if you're fine.

Ye Jian smiled as she nodded her head. "I will. You too." The hand that was holding hers was dry. She yearned for the warmth of his hand. Ye Jian hesitated for a moment before raising her right hand and placing it on his right hand. She didn't dare to look at Xia Jinyuan. She just stared ahead of her.

She wasn't used to being proactive. She kept feeling that she was secretly doing some bad things. Every time she acted voluntarily, she had to prepare herself mentally for a long time and take the step while suppressing her awkwardness and embarrassment.

Her proactiveness caused Xia Jinyuan's gaze to turn even warmer. Ye Jian moved her body uncomfortably. Her throat felt dry as she said, "Drive. Drive. Why are you looking at me?"

"Little Fox, I have to be able to drive the car first." Xia Jinyuan lowered his gaze and looked at his right hand that she was holding tightly. He was in a good mood as he smiled and continued, "For the time being, I'm not able to use one hand to engage the gear and drive at the same time."

Ye Jian released her hand immediately as though she was struck by lightning.

This was too awkward! When did she hold his hand so tightly?

She wasn't looking straight ahead now. She was looking sideways. She looked out of the window... and showed the back of her head to Xia Jinyuan. Xia Jinyuan laughed softly.

He met a bold but easily embarrassed little fox. No matter how he looked at it, she was extremely cute.

This cuteness was magical. It made him unwilling to give up on her time and time again. Sometimes, he felt that listening to her voice was enough to disperse his tiredness for the day.

Ye Jian listened to his low laughter and recalled her actions just now. She couldn't help but hold her forehead.

Why was she always doing such childish actions in front of him? Just now, by the stream, he had even kissed her neck. Why should she feel awkward now?

Her neck...

Ye Jian quickly touched her neck. It didn't turn red, right? ... Just now, when he was kissing her, it felt a little stinging.

Ye Jian was feeling her neck to see if there were any red marks on it. Xia Jinyuan knew the answer so his lips curled up at an obvious angle and he said, "There are two red marks, one on each side. The size is appropriate too and the shapes are not bad."

...

"You did it on purpose, Xia Jinyuan!" Ye Jian glared at him before letting her hair down. She still felt worried so she pulled her hair to the side such that it blocked the sides of her neck. This should be able to cover the marks.

Just now... was quite a little violent. Why did she allow him to kiss her neck? And even let him leave kiss marks behind?

She wondered when they would disappear... If her classmates noticed them, especially... especially if An Jiaxin discovered them, how was she supposed to explain?

Xia Jinyuan did it on purpose!

"It wasn't on purpose. I couldn't control my emotions. When I noticed it, there was already one mark. It's easy to misunderstand if there was just one mark so I left two. If there were two strawberries, people wouldn't misunderstand." Xia Jinyuan's explanation seemed reasonable. His happy gaze slid past Ye Jian's face occasionally. His eyes were so bright there seemed to be lights shining inside.

Ye Jian was still thinking about how violent they were just now such that he left marks on her. When she raised her eyes and saw the lights in the depth of his eyes. They were like stars in the night sky. His scorching gaze landed on her body and Ye Jian felt her face getting warm. The tips of her fingers trembled slightly... The temperature in the car seemed to rise a little too. She started perspiring on her back.

His mark was left on her body. When he thought of that, he felt exhilarated. He left his mark and his smell... he seemed to have really ingrained her in his flesh and blood.

Chapter 958: Captain Xia, Hurry Up And 'Marry'

Just thinking about it slightly caused Xia Jinyuan to lower the car window. He allowed the fresh and cool morning breeze to calm down his boiling blood so that he wouldn't seem like a young boy, making her restless and agitated all the time.

At the same time, Ye Jian, who was sweating, wound down the car window too. The sound of two car windows sliding down was heard simultaneously. The inside of the car remained silent for a moment. The two of them exchanged glances. A smile slowly appeared at the edge of their eyes.

None of them spoke anymore. One remained silent and drove the car quickly while the other sat there quietly. Occasionally, they would communicate with their eyes. An exchange of gaze was better than any words.

G3 came out of the provincial hospital and drove the car he drove from the hotel yesterday at the fastest speed to the gathering point. In four hours, they needed to arrive at the base to take the helicopter gunship to leave the Southern Province.

The elimination mission in China had ended. Now, they needed to save their comrade, K7.

The entrance of the highway was their last gathering point. One and a half hours later, Xia Jinyuan arrived. Before he could stop his car stably, G3 opened the car door and jumped into the car agilely. "There are three hours left. We will be able to arrive at the base in two hours."

As he spoke, he glanced at Ye Jian and saw the bandage on her arm. G3 raised his eyebrows and said, "Another glory added. All the best, Ye Jian!"

"All the best, G3!" Ye Jian turned her head and smiled at him. "I will wait for you to come back safely."

The car stopped stably and Ye Jian took the car keys G3 passed to her. She pursed her lips and said to Xia Jinyuan, "There's still a month before the maple leaves turn golden-yellow. I hope that you will be able to come back at that time and look at the mountain of gold maple leaves with me in your military uniform."

G3's car belonged to Hou Zi too. Ye Jian would drive and return it to Hou Zi.

"It won't take long. It will be a fast mission. It's still early so you can return to the 23rd level to take a rest after your breakfast. You can also spend time in the library. There's no need to rush back to school." Xia Jinyuan opened the car door and hugged her gently. He reminded her thoughtfully, "I'm going away and you'll still be here to wait for me. We must both be safe."

Ye Jian raised her hand and hugged him. Her voice was soft and calm, "You'll go far away and I'll stay behind. I just hope that everything will be fine. I'll wait for you to come back."

This time, Xia Jinyuan didn't even salute before he left. He opened the car door decisively and only left the back view of the car to Ye Jian.

In the car, G3 turned his head. He saw Ye Jian standing at the side of the road and saluting at their car. She was sending them off silently like their comrades in camp.

G3 raised his hand and saluted back at Ye Jian until he couldn't see her figure. Then, he put his hand down and said seriously to Xia Jinyuan who was focused on driving, "Q King, you have met a good girl. After she grows up, you should find a chance and let her marry you."

"There are too many single men in the military. You can take the lead and spread the luck and joy to us. Maybe one day, we will all be able to find some who will marry us."

The soldiers from the Xueyu unit didn't dare to say that they would marry someone. They only dared to say that someone would marry them. However, even though they really wanted to get married, no one wanted to marry them.

No one dared to take them in. People like J5 and K7, who had such good criteria, always claimed that they wanted someone to marry them whenever they had free time. They made this claim for so many years but no one married them.

There was nothing much to say about the other comrades. All of them had good physical conditions but no one dared to get married.

The high-risk profession they were in meant that they needed to be extremely careful when choosing their love.

Chapter 959: I Even Drank Your Saliva

G3's teasing caused Xia Jinyuan to raise his eyebrows. He tapped his fingers lightly on the steering wheel and said calmly, "G3, don't think that I don't know what you're doing. We came back together but I came to the provincial city while you went to Hongkou City. After trekking for a few days and nights, did you meet that teacher who is helping the poor with their education?"

"I saw her. I snuck into her room and took a few glances at her. I even killed two mice along the way before coming out." G3 admitted what he did directly. When Xia Jinyuan allowed him to go to Hongkou City, he had already guessed his intention. His comrade had given him the chance. How could he disappoint him?

All the soldiers in their teams were monks but that wasn't because they didn't have anyone they loved. They just didn't chase after the ladies because of their unique profession.

Xia Jinyuan's proactiveness taught them a lesson. If you liked a lady but didn't chase her, are you waiting for her to wear a wedding dress and marry another man?

That was too brutal.

“You just killed two mice and didn’t do anything else? You didn’t even have any physical interactions?” From the rearview mirror, Xia Jinyuan could see G3’s expression turning dark instantly. He lifted the corners of his lips. He had the thought but didn’t have the guts to do it. He needed to work harder.

He needed to be like him. Never regret after making a move and follow one path until success.

The topic of girlfriends was always the Achilles’ heel of the soldiers. G3 closed his eyes and took a rest. He didn’t want to cause trouble for himself. When Ye Jian got out of the car, he saw the fresh and special little red mark at the side of her neck!

It was bright red. He could tell that it was planted not long ago!

No wonder he looked so proud and happy. He managed to kiss her neck... This ace soldier was always the one leading the way, even when it comes to having a girlfriend!

Ye Jian was too honest. After this mission ends, he must ask J5 to give her some lessons. How could she give in the Q King all the time? She should consider his single comrades too.

G3 thought about Q King’s relationship in envy before he thought of the lady he liked. After some time, his soft sigh was heard in the car. “I wonder if K7 regrets not seeing that girl properly?”

Speaking about his comrade like this made him feel like he was just beside him.

Xia Jinyuan laughed softly. “No. However, I’m sure that after he comes back, he will think of ways to fall in love. However... I feel that it will be a little hard for K7 to find a girlfriend. He’s a soldier but he has an obsession with cleanliness. I can’t imagine how he will kiss his girlfriend.”

K7’s obsession with cleanliness was so serious all his comrades from the Xueyu unit would complain about it. Once, J5’s water bottle ran out of water so he took K7’s bottle and poured some water into his own. The two mouths of the bottles were kept less than a finger’s distance apart... K7 straightaway poured all the water into J5’s bottle. Then, he said a sentence that made J5 vomit blood. “The water has your smell. It’s dirty.”

J5 flared up in anger and shouted furiously, “I drank water that has your saliva in it but I don’t find it dirty!”

“That’s your problem. What does it have to do with me?” K7 replied softly like a fairy. J5 was so angry he punched the floor a few times. He said that the water has his smell! He didn’t have bad breath!

This was a problematic obsession. When they were training, in an operation, in a drill, or having long training sessions, there would always be situations where there wasn’t enough water and they needed to ask their comrades for water. However, K7 never shared anyone’s bottle. He’d rather remain thirsty until his lips cracked than drink another person’s water.

Chapter 960: Ye Jian, You’re An Indispensable Comrade

K7's extremely serious obsession caused Xia Jinyuan and G3 to keep quiet. After some time, Xia Jinyuan said in a slightly serious tone, "Do you think that fellow will die of thirst?"

After he finished speaking, there was another long silence before G3 sighed and replied, "Maybe. That's why we need to be quick. Based on my understanding of him, he doesn't drink other people's water, doesn't sleep with other people, doesn't share utensils with others... Oh my god! In the past, I never felt that something would happen to him. Now, I feel that his obsession might kill him!"

Brutal beatings, pressing his head in water, snakes, insects, rats, ants, all kinds of medicines including cardiac stimulants, drugs, capsaicin... They were confident that K7 would be able to pull through everything but they were worried that he would die in the hands of his own obsession.

Die from thirst... he wouldn't do that, right?

The two of them thought about this silently all the way until G3's phone rang. This was the phone he used to contact the military.

There was no caller ID. G3 picked up the call and before he could open his mouth, Major General Lu's voice sounded from the other side. "Have you met up with Q King?"

Why did he sound as though he was going to reprimand Q King? What did Q King do... that could make Major General Lu reprimand him?

As a Special Forces soldier, G3 was extremely sensitive. He noticed something amiss with just one sentence.

He glanced at Xia Jinyuan and said, "Report, Q King is driving."

"You replace him and drive. I have something to tell him." The major general drank three cups of cold water before he was able to suppress the flames of anger in his heart. Then, he thought about it in Xia Jinyuan's shoes and decided that he wouldn't penalize Xia Jinyuan for not listening to commands.

G3 covered the mouthpiece and leaned back slightly. He asked Xia Jinyuan softly, "Q King, what bad things did you do? The major general called me."

"Nothing. I just hung up on him." Xia Jinyuan was driving on the left lane so he slowly moved to the right lane. Ye Jian wasn't beside him now so it was alright to pick up the major general's call.

"We are on the expressway now. We still need to find a temporary parking space so please give us some time. Over." G3 gave a thumbs up to Q King who dared to hang up on the major general. At the same time, he reported their current situation to the major general.

The major general acknowledged his reply and continued, "Remain in contact. if you dare to hang up my call again, I will punish you by military law."

Fortunately, his hand was slow and he didn't end the call. G3 felt that he was lucky. He was prepared to throw this hot potato out anytime.

He didn't have Q King's guts. He didn't dare to hang up on the major general.

Xia Jinyuan stopped the car at a temporary parking space and took G3's phone. "I'm Q King."

"Little brat, you're getting bold! How dare you hang up on me?" The major general was still emitting smoke from his nose. However, in comparison, his voice was... slightly gentler. Xia Jinyuan was a proud person. If someone went up against him, the more stubborn he would be.

A tiger needed to be stroked. He would stroke the fur of this tiger now!

His voice turned deep again as the major general persuaded, "I know what you're afraid of but you need to trust Ye Jian. All of us trust her. How can you not trust your comrade? Ye Jian is not just anybody. She's your comrade!"

"K7 is not just anybody too. He's Ye Jian's comrade! K7 is in danger now and Ye Jian will not be a bystander. All of us hope that she can participate in this mission. Why does your unit need a female soldier?"

"I'm sure that you know the reason clearly. Female soldiers have characteristics that male soldiers like you don't have. She could lower the vigilance of the ST mercenary team and this will give unexpected results."

"Ye Jian is calm, mature, courageous, and resolute. There's a low possibility that she will get distracted. If she participates in the rescue mission, the military will have more confidence in your safe return."
