

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 171 Don't You Show Me Some Respect

“Hey girls, it’s so boring to drink alone. Why don’t you play with me?” Just as Lottie and Lorry were drunk, a lustful voice sounded.

Then, there was a burst of laughter.

“Boss, do you want these two girls? Can you give me one?”

The leader of the gang laughed and said, “These two girls are so fragile. I am not enough!” Hearing that, Lorry felt worried.

She didn’t look back.

Listening to the footsteps getting closer and closer,

She couldn’t help pushing Lottie’s shoulder.

Lorry lowered her voice, “Call Ralph.”

“Lottie, call Ralph!”

She knew there were five or six people behind.

They are strong men.

Lorry looked around.

She found that all people around looked away to avoid trouble.

Lorry shouted, “Lottie!”

But Lottie was so drunk that she couldn’t hear her clearly.

She bent on the table, and looked up at Lorry in confusion, saying loudly, “Why do you keep asking me to call my husband?” “Can’t I stay here alone?”

Hearing that, those strong men walked toward Lottie and Lorry faster.

Lorry bit her lip helplessly.

She pointed behind and said in a low voice, “Lottie, there are bad guys!” “Bad guys?”

Lottie raised her head and looked behind.

There were about four or five men standing not far behind her.

These men were all tall and strong with tattoos.

The leader had a beard, and looked fierce.

When Lottie raised her head, they laughed and said, “This girl looks familiar.”

One of the thin man said, “She is an actor.”

“She looks beautiful, and her husband is also very rich!”

“Her husband is named Ralph, the richest man in Rexwell!”

Lorry was stunned. She quickly stood up and nodded, “Yes!”

“Her husband is very rich!”

“Can you let me call her husband and ask him to give you money?”

“Do you think we are greedy for money?”

The bearded man laughed and said, “If there is a chance to get money, we will do it.” “But you also can’t escape tonight!”

He stroked his beard and looked at Lottie lustfully, “We play with you first, and then ask your husband to bring money to save you.”

“You’d better think about how to serve us well.”

Lorry held the corner of the table tightly, and her face instantly turned pale.
She knew

Hooligans were unreasonable.

What should she do?

The place was remote, and it was already too late.

The people around did not want to help them.

This place was remote, and no one else would come in a short time...
Lorry bit her lip. She regretted coming here with Lottie.

If they followed Yoyo to leave,

They wouldn’t meet these hooligans.

Lorry glanced at Lottie.

She found Lottie couldn’t stand still.

Lottie clutched at the table with both hands to steady herself.

Lorry took a deep breath.

“You take me away.”

Opening her arms, Lorry stood in front of Lottie, “She has a husband, but I don’t.”

“If you hurt her, her husband will kill you.”

“I’m alone, and no one will make trouble to you.”

Lorry's face was pale, and her nails were deeply embedded in her palms, "Take me away. I serve you."
"Leave her here to wait for her husband to save her."

"So that you can play with woman and get the money."

The bearded man smiled and held Lorry's chin, "You are her good friend. If she has a coquetry to her husband, her husband will also make trouble to us."

"We don't want to take this risk. It's better to take you away."

The bearded man was so cautious that Lorry felt desperate.

She didn't know how to do.

She and Lottie were weak.

This place was so remote. Even if they called the police, everything would be over when the police came.

"She becomes very cruel when she is drunk."

Lorry said, "I know her well."

"When she's drunk, she doesn't even know her husband, so she can't serve you well." "She won't remember what happens."

While Lorry was defending, the bearded man touched her face.

Lorry dodged.

The bearded man slapped her heavily.

Lorry felt dizzy.

She heard that the bearded man said angrily, "Don't you say that you can serve me well?"

Lorry took a step back. She grabbed Lottie's hand, and said, "Run."

Lottie smiled, "Why do we run?"

"He hit you."

Lottie shook off her coat and rubbed her fists, "I avenge you"

Lorry quickly grabbed her sleeve, "Lottie, you're drunk!"

"I'm not drunk."

Lottie looked at the man in front of her and said, "Lorry is my friend."

"You can't hurt her without my permission."

Those men frowned. They looked at each other, and then rushed up together.

Lottie smiled. Even though she was drunk, she could deal with these people.

Few people knew Lottie was good at martial art. She often acted as a low-ranking stunt double, so no one knew that she was the descendant of Arthur Bell.

Even though she was drunk now, these punks were ordinary people with greater strength for her. Lorry was stunned.

Everyone around was shocked.

After knocking down the bearded man, Lottie stood up, and put one hand on Lorry's shoulder to leave together. She said, "Am I powerful?"

Lorry was too shocked to speak for a long time.

"Powerful!"

"Lottie, you're too powerful."

Did Lottie learn it as a stunt double for these years?

She shouldn't look down on a stunt double.

She thought that a stunt double had no any skills.

She did not expect that Lottie was so good at martial art.

However, the bearded man stood up after they left.

He called all the hooligans nearby.

Lorry and Lottie were surrounded by them.

"How dare you hit me?"

The bearded man sneered. He walked toward Lorry and Lottie and was about to slap Lottie's face. However, his wrist was grabbed suddenly.

"Mr. Poole."

Ralph said indifferently, "You make trouble to my wife again and again."

"Do you give me a face?"

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 172 It's Not too Late to Apologize

Lorry quickly helped Lottie sit on the bench by the roadside.

Lottie leaned against Lorry's shoulder, and said arrogantly, "I can beat them!"

The bearded man frowned and tried to pull his hand out, but he failed.

He had used almost all his strength. His face was flushed, but he still could not pull out his hand.

The bearded man stared at Ralph, "Let me go!"

"All my followers are here. Don't force us to kill you!"

“Really?”

Ralph smiled and looked around, “Can your followers help you?”

The bearded man frowned and turned around.

Twenty of his followers were subdued.

The bearded man’s face suddenly turned pale.

He turned around and stared at Ralph, “You...”

When did he call so many people? ?

“Mr. Poole.”

Ralph shook off the bearded man’s hand. He fired a cigarette and said, “Don’t you know not to offend someone you can’t afford?” He pointed at Lottie, “She is my wife.”

“I hear that you want to be rude to my wife, and ask me to give you money.”

“Good idea.”

“But.”

Ralph exhaled smoke. He turned around, and sat down on the bench opposite Lorry.

He leaned against the bench and crossed his legs elegantly, “First of all, you live.”

The bearded man felt afraid of Ralph’s homicidal intent.

He bit his lip to glance at Lottie and Lorry, and his followers.

Suddenly, he knelt down in front of Ralph, “Mr. Chapman, we are drunk to talk nonsense.”

“Please forgive us.”

Lorry burst out laughing.

The bearded boss was so arrogant just now, but now he was very poor!

She thought that he would rather die than apologize.

But he knelt down in less than five minutes when facing Ralph.

“I know you do that for money.”

Ralph asked, “Give me the records of transferring money and chatting from your client.” The bearded man’s face turned pale.

“Mr. Chapman, I can’t give it to you.”

If someone knew that he betrayed his client, he would never receive such a job again! “Sean.”

Ralph did not force him. He looked at Sean and said, “Call the police.”

“Mr. Chapman!”

The bearded man felt worried when he heard that Ralph was going to call the police.

“I can do whatever you want!”

“Don’t call the police!”

He was afraid to be caught by the police!

Ralph smoked and said, “The records of transferring money and chatting.”

The bearded man sighed. He took out his mobile phone from his pocket and handed over to Sean, “Here you are.” “But please don’t speak it out.”

Sean took the phone and checked it.

“Mr. Chapman.”

Sean frowned, “It’s Yoyo.”

“Yoyo!?”

Lorry was furious, “She’s so vicious!”

Yoyo had meals with them in the food stall, but when she left, she contacted the gangsters immediately to bully her and Lottie! ? She’s so vicious!

Fortunately, with the help of Lottie, she already broke up with Yoyo.

Otherwise, she wouldn’t even know how she died!

“Keep the evidence.”

After Ralph said to Sean, he glanced at the bearded man and his followers.

“I don’t call the police, but it doesn’t mean that I don’t avenge my wife and her friend.”

“Make them lie on the bed half a month.”

After saying, he stood up and strode to Lorry.

He grabbed Lottie’s shoulder and said, “I take her home.”

Lorry adored Ralph very much.

She watched Ralph take Lottie away.

He was so powerfull

Mr. Chapman was not worse than Alfred!

Regardless of his appearance, and temperament, and even his love to Lottie, he was superior to Alfred! Lorry once thought that Lottie was so stupid that she didn’t like Alfred.

But now, she felt that Lottie was stupid if she liked Steven!

“Let’s go.”

Ralph picked up Lottie and strode away.

Lorry quickly followed him.

She could hear the whine behind.

Lorry patted her heart while walking.

For the whole night, she felt like that she was riding a roller coaster.

From the beginning, she felt despaired when she found that they couldn’t escape. But when Lottie knocked down those gangsters, she was happy that they could leave. After a while, she felt worried as they were surrounded. Now, Lottie’s husband came here to save them, which made her feel excited.

It was much more exciting to make friends with Lottie than with Yoyo! Thinking of this, she took photos of Ralph holding Lottie and sent it to Yoyo.

“Lottie’s husband is so powerful!”

Lorry thought that Yoyo must be waiting for the news.

Lorry was right.

In the hotel.

Yoyo was lying on the bed with her mobile phone in her hand. Every five minutes, she took out her mobile phone to have a look and wait for the reply.

But to her surprise, she did not receive the message from the bearded man, but from Lorry. Yoyo frowned and had a bad feeling.

At this time, “Are Lorry and Lottie caught by the bearded man?”

Why was Lorry available to send her a message?

Did the person who kidnapped Lorry send it?

Yoyo felt confused and opened the message.

She saw Ralph’s back.

He was holding Lottie and walking forward.

Ralph’s back was tall and strong.

Lottie’s legs were swaying.

It was a very beautiful picture, but it made Yoyo terrified.

They failed.

Ralph went to save Lottie.

Yoyo bit her lip tightly. At this moment, another message came.

It was not sent by Lorry, but a name called Stars Surrounding the Moon.
"You are found."

"It's not late to apologize."

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 173 Alfred Saves Mommy

Yoyo was so scared that she threw her phone into the trash can.

At this time, her laptop on the bedside table started on its own.

It showed the same sentence.

"You are found. It's not late to apologize."

Seeing this, Yoyo suddenly collapsed.

She picked up her slippers and threw them toward the laptop.

The connection was broken.

In the Chapmans' Villa.

"What's going on?"

Fabian looked up at Elijah and Stella in confusion, with his hands on his cheeks, "Please explain." "She smashed the laptop."

Elijah and Stella said.

After saying, they looked at each other and smiled.

Then they continued to work with a laptop in each of their hands.

Fabian felt bored, so he could only draw on the drawing board.

Finally, he could not stand boredom. He took out his mobile phone and sent a message to Lottie, "Mommy, are you all right?" Lottie did not reply for a long time.

Fabian frowned. When he was about to put down his phone, the message came.

"She is asleep."

Fabian was confused and quickly replied, "Thank you!"

"I'm her son. My name is Fabian Chapman."

"Who are you? Are you my mommy's friend?"

The message came slowly, "I'm not her friend."

"I'm her husband, your daddy."

Fabian was stunned.

He frowned, "Why are you with Mommy?" Daddy should be in a meeting at this time as usual.

Elijah was worried that Lottie met with Alice and Yoyo by herself. Before Lottie went out today, he put the positioning and monitoring system on her, so that he and Stella could keep an eye on her all the way.

Therefore, they were able to see on the computer clearly what happened to Lottie today.

When Lottie had meals with Yoyo, Elijah was afraid that she would make any trouble to Lottie, so he asked Lottie to transfer the monitoring system to Yoyo secretly.

Therefore, Elijah and Stella turned to monitor Yoyo.

They did find some clues on Yoyo.

After leaving, Yoyo contacted the local head of a small gangster, and paid them to bully Lottie and Lorry. Stella asked Frank to save Lottie immediately.

Just now, Stella received a message from Frank. He said that Lottie was safe and was taken away. They thought that Lottie was saved by Frank and taken away by Lorry.

But now, why did Ralph answer the message with Lottie's phone?

"Daddy."

Fabian felt confused, and asked, "How did you know it?"

The moment he sent out the message, Ralph replied.

"Are you only allowed yourselves to monitor her and pay attention to her, but not let me worry about my wife?" Fabian Chapman, "..."

He frowned and looked up at Elijah and Stella, who were still working hard.

"I really don't understand... Daddy, when did you start paying attention to mommy?"

"Didn't you prevent her from investigating our birth mommy?"

"Mommy told you that she was going to investigate. Weren't you angry?"

"Brother asked you to make allowance for Mommy. Didn't you teach him a lesson?"

"Why did you suddenly..."

Their father suddenly appeared next at Lottie Green's side?

Why did he also appear on time?

Facing the series of questions from Fabian Chapman, the man on the other end of the phone frowned slightly.

He glanced at the woman sleeping soundly in the bed and sighed deeply.

"Being angry is one thing."

“Her safety is another thing.”

Even if he was unwilling to let her get involved in the affairs about Yumi, if she insisted to do it, how could he ignore it? He had secretly sent someone to follow her since the moment she left.

The one who was following her would send him a message every hour to tell him her current situation.

Tonight, when Lottie Green went to the food stall under the bridge with Lorry and Yoyo, he had already felt that something was wrong.

Therefore, he specially canceled the cross-border meeting tonight and waited for her to ask for help. If there was no danger, it was naturally the best. In that case, he would just stay in the office all night. If there was any danger, even if she didn't say anything, he would be the first one to rush to her.

This was his duty as a husband.

Therefore, Yoyo's plan naturally did not escape from his bodyguards.

In fact...

When those hooligans came over to her, he had already arrived with the troops.

The reason why he did not go straight to her was that he wanted her to take the initiative to contact him. After all, he was still in a cold war with her.

He wanted her to give him an out.

But he didn't want to alert the enemy.

If these hooligans did not take action, but they came up to control them, then there would be too little evidence for punishing Yoyo.

Of course, the reason why he didn't take action later was that...

Lottie Green was too strong.

She was able to knock down the five people by herself, which not only shocked Ralph Chapman, but also shocked Frank sent by Stella.

And then...

He sighed, “Let Connie Houghton come to the hotel.”

“Just tell her that Stella sent someone and saved her.”

Fabian Chapman, who was on the other end of the phone, “...?”

“Dad, why are you so dramatic?”

“Isn't it because mommy wants to find my birth mommy? You won't allow it. You two have a fight, right?” “Don't you even want to deny that you saved her?”

Although he thought so, the little Fabian nodded and typed quickly on the phone with her little fingers.

“Okay, I'll contact Aunt Houghton now.”

“Then let Aunt Houghton tell Mr. Barton.”

“When Mommy woke up, the first person she saw was Uncle Barton. Then Uncle Barton would tell mommy that it was he who saved her with Frank and the others.”

“Mommy will be very grateful to him, treat him to a meal, cultivate her feelings for him, and finally marry him and become Stella’s mommy, okay?”

Ralph Chapman was silent as he looked at the message on his phone. After a while, he took a deep breath, “Do you want a beating?”

“It’s not that I want a beating, but that’s what you mean, Daddy.”

“Aunt Houghton has no ability to save mommy.”

“If you don’t admit that it’s you who saved mommy, then Uncle Frank will be the one.” “Uncle Frank is one of Uncle Barton’s heelers.”

“Isn’t that equivalent to Uncle Barton saving mommy?”

Ralph Chapman, “...”

“Forget it.”

His phone was snatched away before he finished his last sentence. The drunken Lottie Green had already sat up.

She grabbed the phone and threw it to the wall.

The phone crashed to the ground.

She wrapped her arms around Ralph Chapman’s neck, “Honey...”

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 174 I Had Taken Antialcoholic Drug

Lottie Green frowned and subconsciously grabbed Lottie Green’s arm, “What’s wrong?”

“Don’t blame me...”

She bit her lip and stared at him with blurred eyes, “I want to help you find her...”

“If she is still alive... I hope that Elijah and Fabian can stay with their birth mother...”

“After all... I’m not their biological mother.”

She closed her eyes. Her voice was muffled because she was drunk, but he could still figure out what she meant.

“At least let her come and take a look at Elijah and Fabian. They’re so cute...”

“I want to know why she wanted to leave, why she didn’t come back to find you before she died...”

"I still want to know..."

She closed her eyes, "A lot of evidence shows that I should be pregnant and give birth to children at the same time with her." "I should have known her, I should have known her!"

"I want to find her... I want to ask her what my child was like when I was pregnant."

"I still want to know..."

As she spoke, her voice gradually lowered.

"I still want to know if my child is really dead..."

"I suspect that my child is not dead..."

"If he really died, why did they erase my memories? Why did they treat me like a crazy...?"

In the end, there was even a hint of crying in her voice, "You have your own child..."

"I also want to find my child..."

"Although I don't know what I can do after finding him..."

"I may not even hear him call me mom."

"But... as long as there is hope, I still want to find..."

"My biological mother is an irresponsible mother. Dad said that he is still alive and if I want to find her one day, I can take the jade pendant to seek..."

"But I don't want to find her at all, and I don't care about that jade pendant... Otherwise, I wouldn't have lost it for so long without looking for it..."

"Because for so many years, she had never looked for me and Claudia Green at all..."

Tears rolled down her cheeks, "Dad said that mom isn't an ordinary person. She's very powerful..."

"Since she is very powerful, she will definitely be able to find me if she wants to..."

"She just doesn't want to see me..."

"I can't be like her... Even if I can't find my child, I have to try my best to find him..."

As she spoke, she raised her red and swollen eyes and looked at him with tears, "Can you understand me?" "For Elijah and Fabian and for myself... I want to find Yuri..."

Ralph Chapman held her tightly in his arms.

After a long while, he sighed, raised his hand and gently rubbed her face, wiping the tears from the corners of her eyes, "Your alcohol tolerance has improved."

Every time she was drunk, she would lose her mind.

But now, she was serious and rational enough to say so many words.

Lottie Green raised her eyes and looked at him with a intoxicated smile.

After a while, she leaned over and kissed his lips, "Lorry gave me the antialcoholic drug."

Because she had been in the entertainment industry for a long time, Lorry always knew that there were some social engagements that she could not refuse.

Therefore, Lorry carried antialcoholic drug with her. She had stuffed two pills into Lottie Green's mouth after she had fought off those people for the first time.

Ralph Chapman could not help but narrow his eyes when he heard her explanation, "So you're awake from the time I went to find you?"

"I'm not very sober."

Lottie Green smiled, "I'm still a little dizzy..."

After that, she hugged Ralph Chapman's neck and kissed his face, "But I still have reason." "Bad guy."

The man raised her chin and gently bit it, "You deliberately pretended to be drunk and asked me to take care of you, huh?"

"I really thought you were drunk. I took you upstairs to feed you water and help you take a bath..."

"Well, I know you didn't regard me as a substitute."

Lottie Green avoided him and lay in his arms with a smile, "So..."

The woman blushed, "I think I should do something for you and the two kids."

"I heard from Alice White and Yoyo many times that I was Yumi's substitute all day."

"But I'm not angry at all."

She raised her hand and placed it on his chest, "I know you're here. I'm not a substitute."

No matter what others said, it was not as important as his real thoughts.

And...

Yesterday in his office, she said that she would deal with Alice White and the others to find Yurni.

But he was afraid that she would be hurt, so he strongly opposed it.

After a quarrel, she returned home angrily to find Elijah Chapman and plan with him.

Although he had quarreled with her on the surface and had a cold war with her, he had always cared about her.

She had always known that his men were following her.

He would abandon the company's business and personally go to the food stall to protect her. He would also take her to the hotel when she was drunk and do everything for her.

Wasn't this more convincing than Alice White and Yoyo's words? Thinking of this, Lottie Green took a deep breath, "I still gained something today."

Ralph Chapman looked down at her, "What?"

“Yoyo’s cousin is the president of the bedlam.” “Lorry helped me find out that a woman who had experienced the fire was sent to the bedlam to erase her memory.”

As she spoke, she raised her head and looked at him with her clear eyes, “I think this woman who has experienced the fire... is Yumi.”

Ralph Chapman frowned.

“Should we go there now, or tomorrow?”

Lottie Green was stunned, “What?”

“Should we go and find Yoyo’s cousin now, or tomorrow?”

Lottie Green stopped for a while and was delighted, “Honey, are you willing to help me with the investigation?” “Otherwise?”

He raised his hand and gently pinched her nose, “You’ve told me so much. How come I won’t help you?”

“You are my wife.”

The man’s voice was low and elegant, but serious.

Lottie Green’s face instantly turned red.

She bit her lip and stammered, “Thank you...”

“What are you thanking me for?”

He sighed, picked up his mobile phone and called Sean Holland, “Check out the current president of the bedlam.” “Keep an eye on her after finding her.”

“Let’s go to meet her tomorrow morning.”

After that, the man hung up the phone.

Lottie Green looked up, “We’re going tomorrow morning?”

“Yes.”

The man raised his hand and rubbed her head, “It takes time to investigate since Sean Holland is not a supernatural being.” “We shouldn’t go there tonight.”

“You’ve been tired for the whole day. Have a good rest first. We’ll go find her when we get up tomorrow.” Lottie Green pursed her lips and nodded obediently.

It should be... “Tomorrow, I should be able to find out something.”

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 175 How Dare You Provoke Lottie Green

Throughout the night, Lottie Green didn’t sleep well.

There were several times when she woke up from nightmare.

In her dream, there were soaring fire and child's crying.

The big fire burned on her body and eroded her skin, making her scream involuntarily.

"Ah-!"

She screamed and woke up from her dream.

Ralph Chapman, who slept beside her, frowned slightly, and his face instinctively showed the displeasure when he was woken up.

But a moment later, his eyes softened. He knew that Lottie Green must have had a nightmare.

He pulled her into his arms and asked lazily, "What's the matter?"

His embrace made her feel warm.

Lottie Green leaned into his embrace and closed her eyes silently, "I'm fine."

Probably because she had been paying too much attention to Yumi recently, she dreamed that she had been burned by the fire.

However...

She began to wonder.

The big fire back then... Was it really Yumi who set the fire because of her postpartum depression, or... Someone else did it? "Don't worry too much."

The man closed his eyes and held Lottie Green tightly in his arms, "Sean Holland had already found Yoyo's address last night." "He has already taken his men to guard her house. When you are in a better mood, shall we go there?"

Lottie Green turned to look, a trace of gratitude rising from the bottom of her heart.

"Thank you..."

In the end, she wanted to find Yumi herself.

If Ralph wanted to find her, with his power and influence, it was impossible that he could not find her within five years.

However, he was willing to help her find someone he didn't intend find.

Thinking of this, Lottie Green felt warm in her heart.

"Don't thank me."

The man raised his hand and gently knocked on her head, "Do you want to sleep a little longer, or do you want to depart right now?"

Lottie Green frowned and thought for a moment, "Let's go now."

"Sleep for a while on the way."

She didn't sleep well.

But it was equally important to find Yoyo's cousin.
Looking at her haggard face, Ralph Chapman sighed.
"I hope you can have a good rest after all of this."

"I can't rest."

Lottie Green yawned and got up from the bed to wash up, "Whether I can find out Yumi's whereabouts in the next few days or not, I have to go to the village to finish the outdoor scene."

She sighed as she washed her face, "There's only one outdoor scene in this movie. As the heroine, I have to go."

Ralph Chapman frowned lightly. He smiled lightly as he put on his jacket, "Since you're so busy, why do you still want to meddle in someone else's business?"

"That's not someone else's business."

Lottie Green smiled sweetly, "How can the business between you and your babies be someone else's?" Her words made Ralph Chapman's hands, which were buttoning, slightly stop.

After a while, he chuckled and said, "That's right."

Ten minutes later, the couple got in the car to Yoyo's cousin's house.

Yoyo's cousin was Yelly. Five years ago, Yelly took over the bedlam after Yoyo's mother went to prison. After becoming the president of the bedlam, Yelly bought a house in the villa area in the south of the city.

After she changed from an ordinary director of the psychiatry department to the president of a bedlam, she had lived a life of living in a villa and driving a luxury car.

Lottie Green had reason to suspect that the reason why Yelly was so successful was because of what had happened between Yumi and her.

The hotel they lived in was very far away from Yelly's house.

Sitting in the back seat of the car, Lottie Green was in a daze. As the car swayed, she leaned against Ralph Chapman's shoulder and fell asleep.

Not knowing how long it lasted, she heard Ralph answer a call in a daze.

At the meantime, she didn't hear what was on the other end of the phone. However, she heard Ralph Chapman's cold and low voice, "When did it happen?" "Okay, I see."

From his cold voice, Lottie Green could sense that something was wrong.

She frowned, yawned, looked up, and asked in a daze, "What's wrong?"

Ralph Chapman looked at her deeply and hesitated for a moment. Then, he sighed and said, "Yelly is dead." Lottie Green instantly lost all desire to sleep.

She widened her eyes, "Dead!?"

How was that possible! ?

Lorry's investigation of Yelly was confidential.

Moreover, even if it was not confidential, she was not on good terms with Lorry before last night. No matter what others did, they would not associate it with her!

How was it possible? Yelly died when she was on the way to find her.

Lottie Green's body began to tremble. She looked up at Ralph Chapman's face, trembling. "How... how did she die?" "Suicide."

The man closed his eyes, "It happened just now."

After that, he indifferently asked the driver to turn the car around, "There's no need to go."

Lottie Green's hands grabbed tightly onto the hem of her clothes, "What a coincidence..."

"Is it... is it not too late for us to find her last night?"

"It's all my fault... I shouldn't have rested..."

"I shouldn't have slept..."

"It has nothing to do with you."

Ralph Chapman took a deep breath and interrupted her softly.

He took out his mobile phone and showed her a piece of news from this morning. "She committed suicide because of this." Lottie Green pursed her lips and picked up his phone.

There was a piece of news about the economic profit.

She saw Yelly's name on the list of people plotting against the public.

"She committed suicide because of this."

"The police started investigations for a long time and took action last night. Yelly committed a serious crime. Maybe she was afraid of being caught, so she jumped off the building early in the morning and committed suicide."

The man sighed and gently raised his hand to rub Lottie Green's head, "It has nothing to do with us."

"Even if you arrived last night, she might not tell you the truth, or she might still die." Lottie Green was so shocked that she couldn't speak.

Without this news, she would really think that Alice White and Yoyo already had the ability to do anything. Not only did they know that she wanted to seek confirmation from Yelly, but they even killed Yelly!

What a coincidence.

"Don't think too much."

Ralph Chapman sighed lightly and held her in his arms, "Didn't you say that you were going to the village for an outdoor scene?" "Get ready in the next few days. When you come back after filming, I'll look for him with you."

She lay in his arms and nodded obediently, "Okay."

It seemed that this was the only way.

She leaned in his arms in frustration and closed her eyes, but she couldn't fall asleep no matter how hard she tried.

"Honey, Yelly's death really has nothing to do with us, right?"

The man looked up at the scenery outside the window with deep eyes, "Yes."

In the old house of the Chapman family.

Alice White listened to the voice on the other end of the phone in shock.

"Yelly jumped off the building?"

"Why did it happen so sudden?"

Before she could finish her words, someone knocked on the door.

She quickly hung up the phone and opened the door.

Yank stood outside the door stood.

He walked in with a gloomy face and kicked the door.

"Yank..."

Alice was in confusion and bit her lips. "Why are you so angry in the morning?"

"What happened?"

"What happened?"

Yank glared at Alice coldly. "If I hadn't placed my man to be one of Ralph's bodyguards, do you know what would happen today?"

"How dare you provoke Lottie?"

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 176 Lottie's Daughter

Alice was stunned.

Her voice trembled when she heard that. "Yank, what... what are you talking about?"

Listen."

Yank frowned and glared at her. "Do you really think Yelly's death was an accident?"

“No matter how tight-lipped she is, Ralph can make her speak!”

Alice suddenly took a step back. “So Yelly’s death...”

“I did it.”

Yank glanced coldly at Alice. “How many times have I told you not to interfere in the affairs between Ralph and Lottie?” “I did think to make you and Ralph a couple. But after so many years, you should know that it’s impossible!” “Have you forgotten what you did back then?”

“You almost killed them all!”

“You mentioned Yumi again and again in front of Lottie. Do you want her to find out that she is Yumi herself?” “Or...”

Yank looked at Alice wearily. “Do you think that I’m too free now and deliberately give me a hard time?” Alice bit her lip and lowered her head. “I...”

“I just can’t stand that Lottie has always been with Ralph, and that Ralph has always loved her so much...” Yank gave a wry smile. “What if I don’t like you loving Ralph?”

“Should I learn from you to take you back by force?”

Alice was stunned.

She raised her head and was about to say something.

After a long while, she braced herself and said, “Yank... you are more than ten years older than me.”

“You and my father are comrades-in-arms.”

“I have always... regarded you as my elder brother.”

The woman’s words made Yank unconsciously forced a smile. “I was just joking with you.”

“I can protect you this time, but not every time.”

“I promised your father that I would be your backer in the future, but I can’t promise to settle your problem perfectly every time.” The man got up and turned his back to Alice. “Take care of yourself.”

After that, he opened the door and left.

The sun shone on the corridor which looked much more dazzling.

In a trance, he seemed to see Alice’s father, Mr. White.

He lay on the hospital bed covered in blood and held his hand. “Yank, I know you are a steady man coming from a good family.” “I’m about to die. You can put all the blame on me for the failure of this mission.”

“I only have one request...”

“Can you marry my daughter?”

At that time, Yank sighed. “But I was a dozen years older than her.”

“Then help me protect her and take care of her until she gets married, okay?”

“Okay...”

Yank closed his eyes.

Mr. White had helped him take all the blame.

It was all thanks to Mr. White that he was promoted, rewarded, and became the pride of the Chapman family.

He could not break his promise to Mr. White.

After Yank left, Alice was stunned for the whole morning in her room.

At noon, she called Yoyo again. They met in a cafe and reviewed what had happened yesterday.

They had never expected that Lottie, the one who was ignoble and should be despised, attacked them instead.

If it weren't for Yank's quick reaction, what had happened back then would have been exposed today!

In addition to her shock, Alice was also frightened.

“What should we do?”

She had said too much about Yumi before, and none of them was true.

If Lottie and Ralph continued to investigate...

Just as Alice was like a cat on hot bricks, Yoyo's cell phone rang.

“Hello, here is the Paternity Testing Center of Rexwell. The result of your hair samples came out...” “I'll get it later.”

After hanging up the phone, Alice frowned. “What's wrong?”

“Nothing.”

Yoyo shrugged. “Do you know that Alfred has an adopted daughter?”

Alice nodded.

She had met Alfred's adopted daughter by accident before.

She looked... very similar to Lottie.

She had never had a good impression of her.

“This child was adopted by Alfred in the orphanage in Rexwell.”

“She is about the same age as Ralph's son.”

Yoyo stood up. “In addition, she looks so similar to Lottie...”

Alice's eyes widened. “So you suspect...”

"I suspect she might be the girl you threw away."

"I secretly got that little girl's hair and sent it over with Lottie's hair for a paternity test." "The result just came out. Do you want to go with me and take a look?"

Alice stood up excitedly. "Let's go!"

The result of the test confirmed Yoyo's suspicion.

Stella Barton was Lottie's daughter.

"This is getting interesting..."

Hold the Testimonial, Yoyo smiled coldly. "Alfred's adopted daughter is Lottie's biological daughter..." Alice bit her lip, and an idea suddenly came to her mind.

Even if Ralph didn't care about Lottie giving birth to a child, if he knew... that Lottie had given birth to a daughter for his rival in love?

Although Alfred made it public that Stella was his adopted daughter.

But there were also many media speculations that the saying of adopted daughter was just an excuse for Alfred to maintain his single man image.

Many people believed that this so-called adopted daughter was his biological daughter.

So...

"Don't tell anyone about this."

While Alice was lost in her thoughts, Yoyo frowned slightly and put the Testimonial into her bag.

"It's not the right time to make it public. It'll only make them discover the holes. We have to think about it carefully." "I got it."

Alice nodded. Just as she was about to say something, Yoyo's phone rang again.

It was her family who urged her to attend Yelly's funeral.

She was annoyed by their nagging and left by taxi.

Alice hesitated in the testing center for a long time, and pushed the door open and walked in the room.

"Can you give me another copy of the Testimonial that Yoyo just took away?"

"I know you must have backup here."

"I can pay you well."

When Alice received a call from Alice, they were having dinner together.

The two little guys, Elijah and Fabian, kept putting food into Lottie's bowl.

"Mommy, it taste good, take one!"

"Mommy, try this!"

In the face of the two enthusiastic little guys, Lottie could only helplessly raise her head and ask Ralph for help.

Ralph chuckled. Just as he was about to speak, his cell phone rang.

It was the number from the Chapman's villa.

He frowned and picked it up.

"Ralph, it's me, Alice."

"Don't hang up."

On the other end of the phone, Alice took a deep breath. "I have something important to tell you."

"About... about Lottie's daughter."

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 177 Stella Is Our Daughter

Lottie's daughter? Ralph frowned.

He turned to look at the woman sitting in the middle of Elijah and Fabian in the distance and lowered his voice. "What tricks do you want to play again?"

"Ralph, why are you so wary of me?"

Alice's lips curled into a faint smile. "As you know, Lottie once had a child." "Since you love her so much, you should do something for her, right?"

"Don't tell me you don't want to know where the child that Lottie gave birth to is?" Ralph was silent for a moment. "Where are you?"

"I'm in the cafe downtown. We used to drink coffee together here."

After receiving Ralph's reply, Alice smiled happily. "I'll wait for you. See you later!" Ralph frowned and hung up.

He put down his phone and glanced at the mother and sons in the distance. "There's something urgent in the company. I'll go to work."

"Ok!"

Lottie smiled and waved at him. "On the way, asked Sean to buy you some milk. You ate too little." A faint smile finally appeared on Ralph's serious face because of her words.

"I see."

After that, he looked at her with a faint smile. "Eat more."

"It's really disgusting."

Fabian propped his chin with hands on the dining table and mumbled, "Will this be our daily life in the future?" "I want to grow up soon and find a girlfriend to show off love too."

Elijah gave him an indifferent look. "There are still thirteen years left. It'll be soon."

Fabian lay on the table dejectedly. "I'm only five years old."

"Thirteen years, it will take a long time..."

"Learn to endure."

Lottie gently knocked on the little fellow's head. "You are over anxious, boy."

Fabian pursed his lips and sighed helplessly.

"I'm leaving."

Alice smiled faintly when he saw how harmonious the mother and sons were before he left.

"Didn't Daddy say that he had finished his work today?"

After he left, Elijah asked with a frown.

Fabian shrugged. "Maybe it's a sudden business. How could I know everything?"

"He can't secretly meet other women in the name of going to work, right?"

"Your daddy is not such a person."

Lottie rolled her eyes at him and continued eating.

Elijah and Fabian looked at each other helplessly.

It seemed that these two adults had finally fallen in love with each other sensibly!

It's really worth to celebrate!

When Ralph arrived at the cafe, Alice was elegantly sitting on a chair and stirring the coffee in front of her with a small spoon.

"Ralph."

Seeing him coming, she quickly stood up and forced a big smile. "You're here!"

"Yeah."

Ralph frowned slightly and sat down with an indifference expression in front of her. There was a distance between them.

"Ralph, I'm really happy to see you."

Alice smiled and pushed a cup of coffee to Ralph. "Your favorite flavor."

Ralph looked down at the cup of coffee and had no intention to drink it. "Go ahead."

"I don't have time to waste."

He said in a deep and cold voice.

Alice was a little depressed.

After a while, she took a deep breath and asked, "Ralph, we couldn't even have a civilized conversation, could we?"

"I don't want to waste time on you."

Ralph looked down at his watch. "I'll give you ten minutes."

Alice got a cold shoulder.

She took a deep breath and simply put the Parent-Child Testimonial on the table.

"Ralph, since you're busy, let's keep it simple.

"Do you remember Alfred?"

"The movie king was said that he had some affairs with Lottie."

"He has a daughter named Stella."

"To the outside world, Stella is known as his adopted daughter, but in fact, Stella is his biological daughter."

As she spoke, she handed the Testimonial to Ralph. "When I first saw Stella, I felt that she looked very similar to Lottie." "Combined with the fact that Lottie once gave birth to a child, I found someone to do a DNA test."

"Look, the test results showed that Stella... is Lottie's daughter."

Ralph took over the Testimonial.

This was a copy.

However, he could still recognize the authenticity from its rigorous wording and corresponding logo.

The final result of the test was: The possibility of sample A and sample B being the mother-daughter relationship was 99.99%.

Therefore, Stella... She was Lottie's daughter.

The man pursed his lips and did not speak.

Looking at him, Alice knew that he believed that the result was authoritative.

She couldn't help but smile and said in a gloating tone, "I've seen on the Internet that Alfred has always liked Lottie." "But who would expect..."

"Lottie is the mother of Alfred's child."

"They are a family..."

Ralph held the Testimonial tightly.

After a while, he raised his face and looked coldly at Alice. "Who said they are a family?"

"Lottie is my wife."

Alice was so shocked by his serious and cold gaze that she almost couldn't speak.

When this man was angry, the surrounding air would become oppressive!

She took a deep breath and plucked up her courage to continue, "Mom, Dad, and Daughter, a family of three, aren't they?" "Lottie is Stella's biological mother, and Alfred is Alfred's biological father. They are indeed a family!"

"Ralph, I know it's hard for you to accept this fact now."

"But you do have two sons, right? Do you have the heart to see their family unable to reunite?"

Ralph narrowed his eyes slightly.

After a long while, he leaned back and looked down at the woman in front of him coldly and arrogantly, like an emperor. "Who said Stella is Alfred's daughter?"

Alice paused and continued, "Stella is Alfred's daughter!"

"Alfred is the movie king, and he has many girlfriends in the entertainment world. Even his girlfriend can't be publicly announced.

How can he make it public that he has a biological daughter?"

"That's why he said that Stella is his adopted daughter to cover-up the truth!"

"Ralph, I really don't lie to you. Stella is the daughter of Lottie and Alfred!"

"Really?"

Alice smiled faintly when he saw how eager Alice was to explain. "Do you have another certification?"

"Since you know that using a Parent-Child Testimonial to prove the relationship between Lottie and Stella, why don't you prove the relationship between Alfred and Stella by another DNA test?"

Alice was stunned and could not speak.

"Actually."

Ralph gracefully leaned over and placed his hands on the table. "Stella is the daughter of Lottie and mine."

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 178 Haven't You Seen Someone Lost in Love

Alice was shocked that she felt even the air quieted down.

Alice widened her eyes and looked at the man in front of him with a stiff body and could not speak. Undoubtedly ... She just knew about it, why had Ralph learned about it?

No, it's impossible!

Alice bit her lip tightly.

Ralph had no reason to doubt Lottie. He didn't even know whether she had given birth to a son or a daughter! And...

He had only sexed with Lottie. If he had truly known that Stella was his daughter, he would have known that Elijah and Fabian's mother was Lottie too!

It was even more impossible for him to sit so calmly in front of her...

Alice was fearful with doubts in her mind, a mixture of emotions spreading over her face. After a long time, she finally calmed down and said, "No... impossible!"

"Stella... How... how could she be the daughter of you and Lottie, Ralph...?"

Ralph looked at her livid face and smiled faintly, "Without a DNA test. It's possible for anyone to be Stella's father." "I'm not familiar with Alfred, but I vaguely remember that he is also a proud person." How could such a person let his own daughter call him stepfather for benefits? Therefore, Ralph could conclude that he was not Stella's biological father.

And who exactly was her father...

He didn't care, nor did he want to know.

He didn't want to investigate more about Lottie's past.

After all, those memories were too cruel and painful for her.

But no matter what...

Stella was her biological daughter. It was good news.

Alice was stunned by his words.

In the end, she looked at his eyes and heaved a long sigh of relief.

It took a load off her mind.

Fortunately, Ralph was not that powerful.

She took a deep breath and looked up. "I'll do the DNA test."

Today, she realized that the people in the Paternity Testing Center could be bribed.

As long as she paid enough money, it should not be a problem to make a fake Testimonial.

Thinking of this, she smirked proudly. "But what I hope is that when I give you the evidence that Stella is Lottie and Alfred's daughter..."

"Ralph, you should accept the result and let Lottie reunite with her family."

Ralph raised his eyebrows lightly and looked at her with an unfathomable expression. He tapped the table lightly. "Are you... ordering me?"

He said in a tone full of king-like arrogance and disdain.

Alice felt very stressful that she instinctively swallowed her saliva. "I... I didn't..."

She bit her lip. "I'm just..."

"You don't have to worry about Lottie in the future."

"As you see, she once had a boyfriend, given birth to a child, and even had been in the mental hospital."

"I accept everything."

Alice's face instantly turned pale. "Ralph, in fact, you deserve better..."

"It's up to me but not you whether it's worth or not."

The man glanced at her coldly. "Don't beat the air."

"I won't abandon her, no matter how many memories you've got."

"You want me to give up on her?"

The man's eyes turned cold. "Unless I die."

After saying this, he stood up, turned around, and left without hesitation.

Alice White sat on a chair and watched as he walked away. His heart was filled with jealousy and anger.
Why!

What right did she have?

She knew Ralph Chapman first, and she wanted to marry him first!

What was the result?

As a result, even though Lottie Green had so much bad history and her reputation had been ruined.
Ralph Chapman still loved her and wanted her!

Why! The angry Alice White swept all the coffee on the table to the ground.

"Crack!"

The fragments and coffee were smashed to the ground.

The sound here attracted everyone in the cafe to look at her.

She glared back fiercely. "What are you looking at?"

"Haven't you seen anyone fall in love?"

After coming out of the coffee shop, Ralph Chapman wearily sat in the car and closed his eyes.
Sean Holland, who was driving, frowned and asked in a low voice, "Sir, what's wrong?"

"I'm fine."

The man sighed.

After a long time, he opened his eyes again. "Go to the company."

“By the way, do something.”

“What?”

“Find someone to get Alfred Barton’s hair and compare it with Stella Barton’s.” Sean Holland was stunned. “Isn’t Stella Barton adopted by Alfred Barton?”

“When Alfred Barton announced that there was an adopted daughter, he took out his adoption procedure.”

“Then let’s do an appraisal.”

Ralph Chapman turned around and looked at the scenery outside the window. He looked serious and said, “I’m not afraid of anything.”

Lottie Green received a notification from the director in the afternoon.

They would go to the mountains to shoot the exterior in advance and set off early tomorrow morning. “Are you leaving tomorrow?”

In the group chat, Lorry kept complaining, “I’m not ready yet.”

“Didn’t you say next week?”

Mr. Bane sighed and sent a voice message in the group chat, “Because of the schedule arranged by Alfred Barton, the time of leaving the Exterior is early.”

“Alfred Barton has something important to deal with at home. Everyone, please understand.”

Lorry sent a helpless emoji.

Turning around, she began to whisper to Lottie Green, “Are you ready?”

“I really don’t want to go to the mountains at all. I heard that it’s raining frequently over there, and there’s also a landslide...”

Looking at the message she sent, Lottie Green didn’t know whether to laugh or cry. “It’s not the rainy season recently. You think too much.”

“What’s more, the natural disaster happened a few years ago. We will only go for a week, and we may not necessarily encounter it.”

“Anyway, I’m still afraid.”

Lorry sent a sad emoji and said, “You are good at martial arts. If anything happens to you, you must protect me!” “Okay.”

She smiled helplessly. Just as she was about to reply to Lorry, Connie Houghton called her.

“Lottie, have you seen the news?”

“Who is that woman?”

Lottie Green saw the list of items which Mr. Bane sent in the WhatsApp group that they needed to prepare ahead. She looked at it while chatting with Connie Houghton. "What gossip is it?"

"Alfred Barton has a woman?"

"It's more terrifying than this!"

Connie Houghton pursed her lips. "It's about your Mr. Chapman!"

Lottie Green frowned. "What's wrong with him?"

Connie Houghton directly threw a link over. "Look!"

"Mr. Chapman just had coffee with a woman in the cafe. The atmosphere is not very good."

"After drinking the coffee, Mr. Chapman turned around and left. That woman went crazy in the cafe and said that she had broken up."

Connie Houghton said carefully, "Do you know that woman?"

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 179 Do You Think I'm Still Sleeping

Lottie Green frowned and opened the link as she made the call.

There was a small video secretly taken by someone on the link. The woman sitting opposite Ralph Chapman was Alice White.

Alice White first took out a piece of paper from behind and handed it to Ralph Chapman. The atmosphere between the two was not very good.

In the end, Steven left with the piece of paper, and Alice White was so angry that she smashed things in the coffee shop.

In the end, the video was recorded by the people in the cafe with their mobile phones. Alice White looked crazy.

"What are you looking at? Don't you see that someone has fallen in love?"

Her crazy look was really... It didn't look good.

"Lottie, do you know this woman?"

On the other end of the phone, Connie Houghton asked in a low voice.

"Yes."

Lottie Green smiled faintly and turned off the video. "This woman is Alice White."

Connie Houghton took a deep breath. "Is she Alice White? The one who has been trying to marry Mr. Chapman?"

Although Connie Houghton had never seen this person before, she had more or less heard some rumors about Alice White from Lottie Green.

For example, Alice White claimed to be Ralph Chapman's fiancée. What's more, she used Yumi to attack Lottie Green.

"It's her."

Lottie Green turned on the speaker, put the phone on the table, packed her luggage, and talked to Connie Houghton. "It should be at noon today."

No wonder Ralph Chapman said that he wanted to go to the company after answering the phone. It turned out that Alice White was looking for him.

On the other end of the line, Connie Houghton bit her lip. "Lottie, is Ralph Chapman..."

Lottie Green didn't answer her question. Instead, she changed the topic lightly. "Mr. Bane just said that the crew is going to go to the mountain area for an Exterior-level week. He said that Alfred Barton has other plans next week."

"You've always been paying most attention to Alfred Barton. Where is he going next week?"

Connie Houghton pursed her lips silently when she heard Lottie Green mention Alfred Barton. "He's going back to Europe next week, his home."

"The reason why the fans found it seems to be because... his cousin is going to get married."

"She married the Second Miss of the Bells, who is in line with their family."

After that, Connie Houghton couldn't help sighing. "I heard that the Bartons and the Bells have decided to arrange a marriage for this generation."

"Not only did Alfred Barton's cousin marry the Second Miss of the Bells, but Alfred Barton himself has also engaged the First Miss of the Bells."

"But the eldest daughter of the Bells has been abducted since she was a child. Her family has been looking for her for more than ten years, but they haven't found her."

"It's also said that the Bells didn't find her at all and let her live on her own."

Speaking of this, Connie Houghton sighed. "The relationship between rich and powerful families is really complicated... If you don't want to find a good daughter, then don't."

"That's why Alfred Barton still can't marry a new wife even though he has adopted his daughter."

"But..."

Connie Houghton paused for a moment and said, "Judging from Alfred Barton's attitude toward you, I think he will cancel the engagement and come back to chase you."

Lottie Green was amused by her. "What nonsense are you speaking?" "I'm already married. Why is he chasing me? It's more like chasing you."

"Ralph Chapman can even go and see the woman who is pursuing him behind your back. What's wrong with you chasing a man?"

Connie Houghton curled her lips and felt very unfair. "Lottie, I always thought that Mr. Chapman was so nice to you. He wouldn't be like other men!"

“He is indeed different from other men.”

Lottie Green chuckled and continued packing. “I don’t think there’s anything between him and Alice White.”

“It’s just a cup of coffee.”

“If we had a room together, I might have been nervous.”

After that, she let out a long sigh of relief. “Let’s not talk about this anymore. Are you familiar with the place where we are going tomorrow?”

Ralph Chapman held a meeting for the whole afternoon.

Recently, a foreign branch company was on the market. The market there was in turmoil, and many unexpected situations needed to be dealt with by him.

He didn’t even eat dinner. He just ate a sandwich and continued to work.

It was not until five o’clock the next morning that the meeting, which he had held for more than ten hours, finally ended.

On the way back, the man leaned tiredly against the leather seat of the car and asked faintly, “Is Madam in the crew or at home?”

“He’s in the crew.”

Sean Holland answered fearfully, “Last night, Madam said that the crew would go to the mountains tomorrow to shoot an Exterior-level shoot. She was afraid that she would be late from home in the morning, and she didn’t want to waste others’ time, so she went to the crew.”

After that, Sean Holland also glanced at the time. “Now the crew should be ready to leave, right?” Ralph Chapman nodded and closed his eyes. “Let’s go to the crew’s hotel.” Sean Holland frowned. “Do you want to see Mrs. Chapman?”

He coughed lightly and said, “When Madam set off yesterday, she specifically told me that you were too tired to go to a place like the mountainous area. She went to work, and it only took a week. It will be very fast.”

Sean Holland’s words made Ralph Chapman’s heart stop slightly.

The man smiled faintly.

“She’s quite considerate.”

“But...”

Sean Holland braced himself and said, “Yesterday afternoon, there was a video of your meeting with Alice White, and it was taken and posted on the Internet...”

Ralph Chapman slowly opened his eyes. “And then?”

“I saw that you were so busy yesterday that you didn’t have time to deal with these things, so I asked someone to delete it and control the public opinion online.”

“I thought my movements were fast enough that Mrs. Chapman couldn’t see...”

“But last night, Madam and her friend called. It seemed that she saw it...”

In the back seat of the car, the man frowned fiercely.

He picked up the phone handed over by Sean Holland.

The video on the mobile phone showed that someone secretly took a picture of him meeting Alice White.

The man’s knuckles began to turn white as he held the phone.

He didn’t expect that Alice White would play this trick on him!

The man narrowed his eyes and watched the video three times.

“How was she feeling when she left yesterday?”

“I can’t see clearly.”

Sean Holland told the truth. “She’s very calm.”

“But when she talks to friends, her voice is still a little nasal...”

Sean Holland carefully looked at the man’s face from the rearview mirror. “I guess Madam must have... cried.” Ralph Chapman’s eyes darkened.

His heart sank.

This little woman didn’t have much confidence in their feelings. Even when she was drunk, she said that he didn’t love her.

He told her at noon that he was going to the company for a meeting, but in fact, he was going to see Alice White.

She saw... “He should be thinking too much, right?”

Thinking of this, the man closed his eyes and sighed deeply. “I won’t go home.”

“Get ready to go out of the village of the Exterior.”

Sean Holland was stunned. “But sir, you didn’t sleep all night...”

The man glared at Sean Holland coldly. “Do you think I’m still sleeping?”

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 180 Let’s Go out and Live

The car drove from Rexwell to the mountainous area for an entire morning.

Lottie Green leaned against Lorry’s shoulder and slept the whole morning.

By the time she woke up again, the car had already arrived at the entrance of the city.

Looking at the bright sunshine outside the window, she was in a good mood. She couldn’t help closing her eyes and feeling the clear temperature.

Lorry looked at her silently and said, "Don't pretend to be in a bad mood."

After that, she patted Lottie Green's shoulder lightly. "I think Mr. Chapman has his reasons."

"If he has something to do with Alice White, he doesn't have to wait until now."

Lottie Green was taken aback.

After a while, she opened her eyes and smiled helplessly. "Do you think I care about yesterday's news?" On the contrary, she did not take it seriously at all.

She was very clear about Ralph Chapman's feelings for her. There was no need to be suspicious. Moreover...

Alice White was so angry that he smashed things in the end. Presumably, their conversation was not pleasant.

The purpose of someone releasing such a video was very simple.

Or to guide public opinion and say that she and Ralph Chapman were not happy.

Or, she wanted to take the opportunity to create a gap between Ralph Chapman and her.

Unfortunately, these people had miscalculated.

"Don't you care?"

Lorry furrowed her brows and looked at Lottie Green silently. "I saw that you've been very haggard this morning. You didn't sleep all night, did you?"

Lottie Green yawned and nodded. "Indeed, I didn't sleep all night." "But it has nothing to do with the news." Because her mind was full of things related to Yumi recently, she basically forgot the content of the script.

In order not to delay the film, she stayed up late last night and read the script again.

She didn't sleep until early in the morning. She was indeed haggard.

"Stop being so stubborn."

Lorry sighed. "Everyone has seen the news, and they also know that you are not feeling well..."

"It doesn't matter."

"If you want to cry, just cry. It will make you feel better."

Lottie Green started. Just as she was about to say something, the car stopped.

Mr. Bane stood up and said, "Here we are!"

The actors on the bus got out of the cars, and everyone dragged their luggage to the production site arranged by the crew.

Just a few steps away from dragging her luggage, someone grabbed her suitcase.

She looked back in surprise.

Behind him was Alfred Barton, dressed in black.

The man pulled her suitcase with his big hand and said in a low voice, "Let me do it."

"Great!"

Before Lottie Green could say anything, Lorry quickly agreed on her behalf. "Thank you, Alfred Barton!"
"I'm fine."

Alfred Barton dragged his suitcase and calmly walked in front of Lottie Green and Lorry.

Lottie Green frowned and glanced at Lorry.

Lorry blinked at her and whispered into her ear, "Ralph Chapman can even see other women behind your back. Why don't you ask Alfred to get your luggage?"

"Only the prefecture officials are not allowed to light lights when they set fire?"

Lottie Green gave her a helpless look. "It's not the same thing."

However, it was a good thing for someone to help her get her luggage, so she did not care too much. A group of people slowly walked into the construction site rented by the crew.

"Sir..."

A black Maserati was parked on the dirt road in the distance.

Sean Holland stared fixedly at Lottie Green's luggage being pushed through the door by Alfred Barton. He coughed awkwardly.

"Mrs. Chapman might be tired... She just found someone to push her suitcase..."

Sitting in the back seat of the car, the man frowned as he watched her leave.

Because of the wrong calculation, the number of actors was two more than that of the rooms in the central government.

Mr. Bane and the owner of the construction site adjusted themselves for a long time. Finally, the owner of the construction site was willing to take out two rooms in the next village.

But the problem was that the make-up house was a shabby house with a three-story villa set by actors.

No one was willing to live in a small house.

In the end, Mr. Bane sighed and said, "Why don't we just draw lots?"

"I'll write it!"

Yoyo, who was standing aside, quickly took the paper and pen enthusiastically. "How many did you write in total?" Mr. Bane frowned and glanced at the crowd in the hall. "Alfred Barton and Lottie Green, please don't write."

"Let's count everyone's numbers and reduce them by two."

Yoyo's hand paused slightly, and she smiled lightly. "Why did you cut them off?"

“They are the protagonists.”

Lorry rolled her eyes. “The main purpose of this trip to the Exterior is to film the story of the protagonist. Of course, they have to live in a good place.”

“If you go to live in a small house, if you get sick and catch an accident and delay the shooting progress, can you take responsibility?”

Yoyo smiled faintly. “But we are all from the city, and no one is born to owe anyone.”

“Besides, it’s summer now, and it’s not cold. Do you really get sick just because you live in a small house?”

Lorry frowned. “What do you mean?”

“What I mean is equality.”

After that, Yoyo turned to look at the other actors. “Am I wrong?”

After a moment of silence, the actors began to echo, “Yes, yes.”

Who would be willing to leave the big villa and live in a small house?

If Lottie Green and Alfred Barton were also drew lots, they would have a chance to stay in the big villa! Mr. Bane frowned and looked awkwardly at Lottie Green and Alfred Barton. “You two...”

“Forget it.”

Lottie Green’s lips curled into a faint smile. “Don’t draw a lot. I’ll go.”

The meaning of Yoyo’s words was that as the protagonist, she and Alfred Barton should not be special. “Then I won’t make it special. I’ll go live there.”

It was just that the living environment was not good, and she could still bear it.

She had even lived in the Crazy Man’s Yard, not to mention the small house in the countryside. Thinking of this, she walked up to Alfred Barton, pulled her suitcase, and turned to look at the landlord. “Where is he?” “I’ll go with you.”

Alfred Barton furrowed his brows and did not let Lottie Green take the suitcase away.

He dragged his suitcase with one hand and her with the other. “Let’s go.”

The man’s words not only shocked Lottie Green, but also everyone present.

Lorry rushed up to stop him. “Forget... forget it?”

“I just want to accompany Lottie, you...”

“Didn’t they say there were two rooms over there?”

Alfred Barton looked up at Lorry indifferently. “We’re not living together.”

The landlord echoed, “Yes, yes.”

“The two houses live opposite each other, and they can’t be exchanged!”

“That’s it.”

Alfred Barton swept a cold glance at the actors around him. “Since none of you are willing to live outside, then I’ll go out with Lottie Green.”

“The hero and heroine are not here. You can do whatever you want.”
