

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 191 Welcome Home

Lottie rubbed her eyes, "What is the good news?"

Ralph rubbed her head, "I find Yumi."

Did he really find Yurni?

Lottie looked at Ralph and asked, "Really?"

She had been looking for Yumi for so many years, but there was no news at all. So she was very suspicious of what Ralph said.

"Really."

He kissed her and said, "When do I lie to you?"

Lottie got up and felt excited, "Where is she?"

"Are we far away?"

"When do we visit her?"

Ralph chuckled.

He looked at her and said, "Do you want to see her?"

"Of course!"

Lottie said, "I've spent so much effort on finding her."

She smiled, "How do you find her?"

"Because..."

Seeing that she was so happy, Ralph teased her, "Because of you." He hugged her, "You go home to take a shower and dress up first. I'll take you to see her, okay?" Lottie frowned and hesitated for a moment, "Okay."

She looked at his bandaged wound, "Do you feel better?"

"It doesn't matter."

Ralph looked at her, "I am not painful when seeing you."

He felt very happy.

Elijah, Fabian and Stella were his child.

He finally found her!

Lottie probably couldn't believe that she was Yumi.

Thinking of this, Ralph smiled, "Go home to dress up."

“Yumi is the biological mother of Elijah and Fabian. She is your rival in love, so you have to dress up to see her.

Lottie nodded, “Yes!”

She should dress up to see Yumi.

Besides, Yumi should be her former friend.

She should dress up to meet her old friend.

Thinking of this, Lottie took a deep breath and said goodbye to Ralph, leaving the hospital. Not long after Lottie left, Ralph’s mobile phone rang.

It was Fabian.

He said, “Daddy, the venue is ready.”

“The big mirror is placed in a prominent place!

“When will you come?”

Ralph smiled, “Why are you more anxious than me?”

“Of course!”

Fabian said, “I feel excited because you are willing to arrange a wonderful wedding for Lottie.” He asked, “Daddy, why?”

“Why do you suddenly hold a wedding for Mommy?”

“Is Mommy pregnant?”

Ralph rubbed his eyebrows and said, “No.”

“Why?”

“You’ll know after the wedding.”

After that, Ralph closed his eyes.

He thought of Lottie.

He even looked forward to seeing her in a wedding dress in the auditorium.

He wanted to tell her that she was Yumi at their wedding.

She was the biological mother of three children

He owed her too much.

So he wanted to give her a wedding that she’d never forget in life.

“Mr. Chapman.”

Sean came in and reported, “The diamond ring and the dress are ready.”

After saying, he hesitated for a while.

“You have not recovered yet. Moreover, you had conflicts with the Chapmans for Miss White yesterday. Is it an appropriate time to hold a wedding?”

Ralph glanced at him and said, “This is my wedding. Why do I care about others?”

He closed his eyes, “Ask the doctor to give me a ache sealing needle. I don’t want her to think I’m a patient at our wedding.” Sean glanced at his bandaged hand and sighed.

When Lottie returned to the villa, Mario led the servants to wait in two lines at the door.

“Welcome home, Mrs. Chapman!”

“Welcome home, Mrs. Chapman!”

Lottie felt shocked.

After a while, she smiled and said, “What’s up?”

Mario smiled and replied, “Today is important to you!”

Lottie frowned. She thought that it was reasonable.

It was very important for her to find Yuri.

But they were too serious.

Something that Lottie did not expect happened later

She felt confused that why the makeup artist help her put a bridal makeup. Maybe she looked more beautiful wearing the bride’s makeup.

But when the maid gave her a wedding dress, she couldn’t keep silent.

“Well. I think it is not appropriate to wear a wedding dress.”

The maid smiled and said, “Mr. Chapman said that this dress can show your status.” “Don’t worry. You should believe Mr. Chapman.”

Lottie was speechless.

She sighed and went to the dressing room to change clothes.

When Lottie got into the car, she felt very confused.

She took out her phone and was about to call Ralph.

At the moment, her cell phone rang.

It was Arthur.

Why did Arthur call her?

Lottie frowned and answered the phone.

“Lottie.”

Arthur said seriously, “Did you fight with someone at the airport yesterday?” “Did you show the skills I taught you?”

Lottie frowned, “Yes.”

Arthur had warned her that these skills could not be showed up in public. However, she was kidnapped at the airport yesterday, so she had no choice. “Why do you know it so quickly?”

Arthur was silent.

After a while, he said angrily, “I regret teaching you!”

“If I had known that you are so disobedient, I wouldn’t teach you even if you are killed by others!” Lottie was shocked.

She asked, “Dad, why do you say that?”

“Leave Rexwell now and go to a place where no one knows you.”

“They have found you.”

Lottie was stunned. When she was about to ask who he referred to, she heard a loud sound. ... Her phone fell down.

She raised her head.

The bridge was broken.

The car stopped.

Lottie was too shocked to speak.

She looked ahead, “What happens?”

She had seen all kinds of blasting scenes in the crew for many years.

But she still felt shocked when seeing the real blasting scene of the bridge exploding. At this time, a row of black BMW cars drove in front of her car and stopped. Many men in black got out of the car.

A bodyguard held an umbrella and opened the leading Bentley car door.

A middle-aged man with gray hair got out of the car.

He strode over to Lottie.

He bowed respectfully, “Welcome home, Miss Green.”

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 192 I Found My Biological Parents

“Hello everyone, Mr. Chapman suddenly announces this morning that he will hold a wedding ceremony with Miss Green today.” “The venue is quite luxurious.”

“I hear that the bride will wear a wedding dress worth tens of millions dollars to attend this wedding today.”

“It is the most luxurious wedding in Rexwell!”

The auditorium was overcrowded.

There were lots of reporters and guests.

At the backstage, Stella was sitting in the middle of Elijah and Fabian. She put her hands on her cheeks and said, “My uncle has no chance.”

“But it doesn’t matter. I also think my uncle is not suitable to Lottie.”

Hearing that, Fabian smiled.

He touched Stella’s arm and asked, “Do you think my mommy and Daddy are a perfect match?” Stella thought for a while and said, “People who love each other are the best match!”

“Well. If you know it earlier, you will not support your uncle to fall in love with my mommy.” After saying, Fabian touched Elijah’s shoulder, “Brother, do you agree that?”

Elijah frowned to stare at his laptop and ignored him.

Fabian felt dissatisfied.

He stood up and stretched out his hand to block the computer screen, “Brother!”

“What are you doing?”

“Today is Daddy and Mommy’s wedding ceremony. It is a big event for us!”

“Stop watching your computer!”

Elijah frowned and pulled away his hand. He said seriously, “Something happens to Mommy.” Fabian said, “What are you talking about?”

Stella also frowned and turned to look at Elijah’s computer.

She was shocked and said.

“Is this Auntie Lottie’s signal?”

Elijah nodded.

He closed his eyes and said, “I see the news that the Great Bridge is destroyed. Mommy must cross the bridge to get here.” “I monitor Mommy’s signal just now.”

“Her signal is off.”

Hearing that, Fabian realized the seriousness of the matter.

He rushed to find Ralph immediately.

Ralph was leaning against the bed, his face was pale.

Seeing Ralph, Fabian was worried, "Daddy."

"Why are you so weak?"

Sean sighed, "I already arrange someone to find a doctor."

Fabian went over to hold Ralph's hand tightly, "Daddy, are you fine?"

"I'm fine."

Ralph smiled.

He looked at Fabian and asked, "Is your mommy here?"

"Sean, give me some medicine and help me make up."

"I must hold a wedding for her."

Sean was worried and said, "But you are very weak now."

"Lottie is the most important for me."

He was about to get up.

"Daddy, Mommy can't come!"

Fabian held Ralph's hand tightly and said seriously, "The Great Bridge is broken just now. Mommy's mobile phone signal is off." Ralph was shocked.

After a while, he asked, "Where does she go?"

"I don't know!"

Fabian felt very worried and said, "Elijah says he can't monitor the signal of Mommy's mobile phone."

"Maybe Mrs. Chapman's mobile phone falls into the river!"

Sean held Ralph and said, "Mr. Chapman, calm down. I arrange someone to find Mrs. Chapman right now." "You'd better..."

"I go to find her by myself."

Ralph struggled to stand up.

With one his hand holding Fabian, he put the other hand on the wall, "I go to find her right now."

He was very worried about Lottie.

She should be trapped in place.

Her phone probably fell into the river.

Ralph thought.

He struggled to walk out of the lounge.
Suddenly, he fell down.

“Mr. Chapman!”

“Daddy!”

“Someone give him drug secretly.”

Outside the ward, Edward felt relieved. He looked at Kayden and Ralph’s three children and said, “The toxicity of this medicine depends on person’s excitement.”

“Today is Ralph’s wedding with Lottie, so he is too excited that he is poisoning.”

Edward sighed and wrote on the medical record book. He said, “Ralph is fine. When the medicine takes effect, he feels dizzy and can’t stand up.”

“He should collapse earlier.”

“Maybe it is his strong willing to hold a wedding ceremony with Lottie that makes him insist until now.”

“He will get better after having a good rest.”

Kayden looked at Ralph and said, “He can’t have a good rest.”

Edward sighed and closed the medical record book. He asked, “Is there any news about Lottie?”

“No.”

Kayden sighed and said, “The bridge was destroyed, and all the surrounding surveillance cameras are destroyed, too.”

“People who protect Lottie are injured. Most of them are unconscious for the serious explosion, and the rest are knocked unconscious by others.”

“I’ve asked them, but find nothing.”

“But I find her phone and wedding dress.”

“There is nothing else.”

Kayden sighed, “I really can’t figure out where she is.”

“It’s not easy for them to get together. Why does this happen?” Hearing that, Fabian frowned.

He asked, “Uncle Grant, what do you mean?”

Edward and Kayden looked at each other.

After a while, Edward sighed and squatted down, “Elijah, Fabian and Stella, come here.”

Elijah and Stella who are trying hard to find Lottie jumped off the chair and went over to Edward, “What’s wrong?” “Your daddy plans to announce it at the wedding.”

Edward sighed and turned to look at Ralph who was still unconscious. He said, "Your mommy is lost now, and your Daddy is in a coma."

"I tell you on their behalf."

After saying, Edward handed the file bag to Elijah and said, "You are smart. You see it by yourself." They looked at each other and felt confused.

Elijah opened the file bag.

There were six DNA test reports inside.

It showed the relationship among Elijah, Fabian and Stella with Lottie and Ralph respectively.

Elijah Chapman's birth mother was Lottie.

Stella Barton's birth mother was Lottie.

Stella Barton's birth father was Ralph Chapman.

Three of them were stunned.

Elijah came to his senses first.

He took a deep breath and said, "Lottie is our birth mother, and Stella is our biological younger sister." Fabian and Stella were stunned.

How could it be so coincidental?

They had a good impress with each other, so they often played together. As a result, they were triplets!
? Stella was stunned for a long time. She felt very excited.

"I call Alfred right now!"

In the Bartons.

Alfred sat on the chair, and listened to elders' nagging.

"I hear that Carson already found the daughter of the Bells."

"It may be fake news. The Bells has been looking for her for so many years, but they still can't find her out." "Maybe she already dies."

Hearing that, Alfred Barton felt very irritated.

He went to the balcony to have a rest.

At this time, his phone rang.

He smiled and said, "You are so heartless. You finally remembered to call me."

Stella said, "Uncle Alfred, I find my biological parents!"

Alfred asked, "Really?"

“My daddy is Ralph, and Mommy is Lottie!”

Alfred was so shocked that his phone fell to the ground.

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 193 I Don't Want to Forget It

“You find the wrong person!”

In a luxurious European-style room, Lottie was tied to the bed. Her voice was already a little hoarse, “I’m the daughter of an alcoholic in the slums. You find the wrong person!”

She had been caught by these people for two days.

That day, Ralph asked her to go home and change clothes to see Yumi, but she was caught by these people on halfway.

It had been two days!

Ralph’s hand was injured. She did not know whether he was fine. Was he looking for her? Thinking of this, she continued to shout, “Please let me go home.”

“Miss Bell.”

After a while, the door was opened.

Mario came in, “You’ve been shouting for two days. Take a rest.”

Lottie glared at him angrily, “Let me go home!”

“This is your home.”

Mario chuckled and sat down. He looked at Lottie and said, “you look quite similar to Madam.” “I finally find you.”

Mario’s greedy gaze made Lottie uncomfortable.

She turned her face away and said, “It’s just a coincidence.”

Mario laughed.

He changed a comfortable position with his cross-legged, “I am not wrong.”

Lottie rolled her eyes.

She turned around and stared at Mario for a while. She asked, “What do you want to do?”

He caught her, but said that she was Miss Bell.

Why did he tie her up on the bed?

“I find you to control the Bells.”

Mario glanced at her, “You’re the daughter of the Bells. You should be responsible for the Bells.”

Lottie was shocked.

“Must I be Miss Bell as you told?”

“Must I burden it as you told?”

“What do you regard me as?”

After that, she glared at him coldly, “I ask you to send me home immediately!”

“I have my husband, my children, and my own life!”

Whether she was the so-called Miss Bell or not, she did not want to stay in this depressing place for even only one day! “Miss Bell.”

Mario sighed, “You always care about the past. How can you be in power of the Bells in the future?” Lottie Green frowned, “Who wants to be in power of the Bells?”

“You.”

Mario stared at her, and his eyes instantly became serious and cold.

He stared at her face, and his voice and eyes were as cold as ice, “You have the Bells’ blood. You were born to burden the fate of the Bells and become the helper of the old master and the young master.”

This was the first time Lottie Green had seen such crazy gaze.

She was so scared that she stepped back, “I...”

“You don’t have to be in a hurry to refuse.”

Mario sneered, “I know you can’t let go of everything you have in the country and your meaningless feelings and persistence.” “It doesn’t matter.”

He looked at Lottie Green’s face and smiled coldly, “We’ve invited a doctor who’s been studying hard recently to make people lose their memory.”

“He will help you forget everything about the past, and become man Friday for the Bells.” After saying that, Mario gracefully stood up and left under the shocked gaze of Lottie Green.

Watching him leave, Lottie Green felt her head rumbling.

Forget the past.

Forget...

No!

She could not forget!

She could not forget Ralph, Elijah and Fabian!

In the past 23 years, she had always been dim.

She grew in a wrong family, deceived by her best friend, and finally was betrayed.

After marrying Ralph Chapman, she finally felt what home meant and what real life was. What? It was called light.

He was a beam of light in her life.

Now, someone wanted to use medicine to make her forget that bundle of light!

She struggled violently.

Not knowing how long passed, the door was opened again when Lottie Green was tired.

This time, it was a tall man wearing doctor's overall and carrying a medical kit.

The man was wearing a hat and a mask. From a distance, she could not see his face clearly. But she knew that he should be the person who came to take away her memory as Mario said! She instinctively backed off. Her wrists and ankles were injured by the iron chain, but she did not notice it at all.

As if she had gone mad, she shook her head desperately, "No, no!"

"I beg you..."

The man still walked over coldly and opened the medicine kit neatly.

A smell of disinfectant came.

Lottie Green watched as he slowly placed the medicine on the table one by one.

Every time he took out one, her heart would shrink violently.

"Doctor..."

The man in doctor's overall sighed and turned to look at her, "Long time no see."

The man's clear voice caused Lottie Green's eyes to widen.

This voice...

It was a little familiar!

Seeing her staring at him blankly, the man shrugged helplessly and took off his mask.

When she saw his familiar face, her tears almost fell.

"Doctor Han!"

The man in front of her was none other than Hank Han, who had once said in Rexwell that he would help Lottie Green find the antidote to amnesia!

"Shh."

The man made a gesture of silence to her, "If you make a louder sound, they will know our relationship. Aren't you afraid that they will change the doctor for you?"

Lottie Green paused and quickly lowered her voice, "What do you come here for?" "For you."

Hank Han shrugged, "In order to help you find the antidote to amnesia, I went through all the major research institutes in Europe."

"Then I finally found a way for you to regain your memory."

Lottie Green's eyes widened in excitement, "You really found it?"

"Yep."

"Because if you want to know the principle of amnesia, you must find the drug which made you lose your memory."

Hank Han took a deep breath and said, "When I was investigating the matter of amnesia medicine everywhere, the Bells found me."

"They're willing to pay a sky-high fee and ask me to save a portion of this medicine for them. They want to keep it as backup." "I'm indeed short of money, so I agreed."

"But I didn't expect that the Miss Bell they mentioned who needed to erase her past memories was you."

Lottie Green bit her lip and looked at him helplessly, "I... don't want to lose my memories."

"So Dr. Han..."

She raised her head and looked at him seriously, "Can you pretend to have injected for me? Can I also pretend to lose my memory?"

"Then you go and find Ralph Chapman..."

Hank Han glanced at her indifferently and said, "No."

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 194 Who Are You

Lottie Green was a little desperate.

She looked at Hank Han helplessly, "Doctor Han..."

She lowered her voice and took a deep breath, "If you lack money, my husband will give you a lot of money when you get out." "You don't have to..."

Hank Han glanced at her indifferently and smiled.

"Lottie Green, do you think I'm still lacking money when I get here?"

After that, he began to gracefully prepare the medicine.

The slender needle plunged into a small bottle and then was injected into another small bottle, "You may not know much about the Bells as European magnate."

"The Bells is a giant tiger that is not easy to deal with in Europe."

“The Bells has a solid background and is not easy to deal with. But there are many people who covet the Bells’ property or oppose them.”

“Twenty-three years ago, the head of the Bells, Jerry Bell, who held great power, died in a simple car accident. His wife, who was seven months pregnant, secretly fled to an unknown city to have a baby.”

“After Jerry Bell passed away, the Bells were turned upside down in an instant. In the family, relatives competed for power and profit. Outside the family, they coveted the Bells.”

“Later, the children were stolen, and Yuki had no choice but to return to the Bells.” Yuki is also a powerful figure.”

“After returning to the Bells, she directly found out the first one who wanted to fight for power and profit. She shot him dead by herself.”

“Because of this, Yuki established her authority in the Bells, and she became the new matriarch of the Bells.” “Then she began to deal with the others in the Bells while secretly sending people to look for her daughter.” “It’s been 23 years...”

Hearing Hank Han’s words, Lottie Green was lost in thought, “Yuki... is my mother?”

“What do you think?”

Hank Han smiled and said, “But in the past, the Bells have always turned a blind eye to find Miss Bell.” “After all, they think that the matriarch is still young. Many things can be done slowly.”

“Many people hold a pessimistic attitude towards finding Miss Bell. They think that Miss Bell was not stolen by the bodyguard. She should be dead.”

Lottie Green frowned.

From the way Mario and the others had brought her back and erase her memory anxiously, they seemed to be in a hurry.

It was not like what Hank Han had said.

Hank Han shrugged as if he had seen through her doubts, “What I said is the past.”

“The Bells is in a state of extreme nervousness.”

Lottie Green frowned in confusion.

“The Bells has encountered an unprecedented crisis.”

The man took a deep breath, “Half a month ago, the matriarch of the Bells, Yuki, was poisoned and turned into a vegetable.” Suddenly, Lottie Green raised her head, “A vegetable?”

“Yes.”

Hank Han continued to prepare the medicine in his hand, “After Yuki became a vegetable, and the Bells had no leader. Most of their business in Europe was taken away by the second largest business group in Europe, LY Company.”

“LY Company was not able take away the first commercial place in in Europe, so they keep an eye on the Bells for a long time.

Rumor has it that LY Company can’t get rid of the relationship with Yuki being poisoned.”

“The Bells doesn’t have a card that can compete with LY Company. The only thing they can rely on is marriage.” “As for marriage, it requires Miss Bell to return to her original position.” Lottie Green gasped.

Therefore, the Bells had spent so much effort to bring her from abroad, tied her up, and erase her memory just for... Let her marry someone?

“But I’m already married!”

“No one cares.”

Hank Han’s lips curled into a smile. Holding the injector, he slowly walked over to her. Her heart suddenly became alert!

She subconsciously backed away, but she couldn’t dodge no matter how hard she tried!

In the end, the moment Hank Han’s needle pierced her skin, she suddenly looked up at him and said, “What’s the use of telling me this?”

“Won’t I forget everything after you inject for me?”

Hank Han looked at her with a faint smile and said, “I think it’s wrong that Ralph Chapman used to say that you are stupid.” Lottie Green frowned. Just as she was about to say something, everything went dark in front of her.

She had a long dream.

In her dream, she was tied on the bed of the bedlam. She was injected with tranquilizer again and again, struggling again and again.

She screamed and roared like a madman-

“I want my children!”

“I want my children!”

“My children are still alive!”

Those people from the bedlam snorted and warned her, “Don’t look for your children anymore. They will never recognize you for the whole life!”

“You just provided your womb. Do you really think he will marry you and take you seriously?” “Doctor, she has always been so crazy. We have no choice but to use our trump card.”

“Let her forget everything.”

Lottie Green’s eyes widened and she screamed as she was injected with unknown liquid. The liquid was exactly the same as what Hank Han had injected into her.

His memory fell forward again.

Arthur Bell rescued her in the fire.

“I shouldn’t have saved you back then, now you’re in trouble.”

Arthur Bell carried her thin and unconscious body and sighed helplessly, “They asked me to strangle you directly. How could I be so cruel...”

“But I didn’t expect that I would pay so much for you!” “Don’t make trouble again! We’ve found some clues.” “I have no choice but to send you to the bedlam to hide for a while.”

“No matter how powerful the Bells are, they won’t investigate the bedlam.”

Lottie Green closed her eyes and listened to his words. She couldn’t help but smile.

Time went back again.

It returned to the big fire.

Yank Chapman, dressed in a suit and leather shoes, stood in front of her with a smile. “Take the children to have a good rest. My brother will be back soon to visit you.”

“You don’t have to thank me. As a member of the Chapmans, I naturally can’t bear to see you separate from the children and won’t let you suffer.”

“I’ve already taught them a lesson. Those who lie to you have to pay the price.”

“Thank you.”

Lottie Green looked greedily at the two children in her arms and earnestly thanked Yank Chapman. Later, it was dark.

She choked on the fire.

Smoke billowed.

Her first reaction was to cover the faces of the children with a wet towel.

A man rushed in.

He was handsome and imposing.

“I’m the father of the children!”

The man pulled her up directly, “I’ll lead you the way!”

Lottie Green glanced at the skinny children, “Take them away first!”

“Okay, wait for me to come back!”

With that, the man carried the two children and disappeared into the sea of fire.

The fire grew stronger and stronger.

She waited in the fire, but he never came back.

The fire devoured everything. The fire licked her face, making it hard for her to breathe. In an extremely difficult situation, Lottie Green suddenly opened her eyes.

In front of him was still the villa of the Bells.

She had a dream.

“It seems that you have remembered something.”

Hank Han, who was sitting on the sofa, crossed his legs elegantly and looked at her indifferently, “How do you feel?”

Lottie Green frowned and looked at him warily, “Who are you?”

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 195 Believe It or Not, I Will Kill You

“Lottie Green.”

Hank Han frowned.

Although he said that he injected her with the medicine to make her lose her memory, in fact, he gave her the antidote! She should have remembered everything about the past now.

Why did it seem like Lottie Green has really been injected with the medicine that made her lost the memory? He looked down at the medicine in the medicine kit and felt confused.

How could she...

“Are you acting?”

“Although I’m an actress,”

Lottie Green looked up at him indifferently, “I’m not acting.”

The woman turned to look at her hands, which were tied to the bed by iron chains, and frowned, “Let me go.” Hank Han took a deep breath, “Don’t you remember me?”

Lottie Green narrowed her eyes and smiled faintly. Her voice was cold, “Do I need to know you?”

“Then do you remember who you are? Who is your father, who is your husband, and who are your children?” A layer of coldness appeared in Lottie Green’s eyes, “Are you check on a household occupant?”

The woman’s cold eyes made Hank Han shrink his body, which was rarely seen.

Something was wrong.

Either there was something wrong with the composition of the antidote, or someone changed his medicine.

The current Lottie Green was completely different from before.

Even expression in her eyes was different.

Frightened by her gaze, he took a step back, swallowed his saliva, and said cautiously, “I just want to confirm your current situation.”

Lottie Green rolled her eyes coldly, "My name is Lottie Green." "She is the eldest daughter of the Bells, who has been lost in Rexwell."

"My father was the patriarch of the Bells who passed away many years ago. My mother, Yuki, became the matriarch of the Bells after my father's death. Not long ago, she was poisoned and turned into a vegetable."

"My adoptive father's name is Arthur Bell." "I have three children, two sons and one daughter. When my daughter was born, she was thrown away. My sons were taken away by their father in the fire."

As she spoke, she changed into a comfortable position and leaned against the head of the bed, "I have an ex-boyfriend named Luke Berry, who is a star. Now he is very popular."

"I still have..."

The more Hank Han listened to her, the more he felt that something was wrong.

"You remember all this..."

"Then... do you remember your husband?"

Lottie Green raised her eyes, "What a joke. Where did my husband come from? The Bells asked me to come back just to let me get married. How could I have a husband?"

Hank Han knocked on his forehead.

He still felt shocked.

He took out his phone and checked it for a long time. He found a photo of a man and showed it to Lottie Green, "Do you know him?"

The man in the photo had a cold face and delicate facial features.

He was wearing a black suit and looked aloof and proud.

The man in the photo coincided with the man who abandoned her in the fire in her mind...

"Wait for me to come back..."

"Stop looking for your children. They will never recognize you for the whole life..."

"You've just provided your womb. Do you really think he'll marry you and take you seriously..."

"Don't blame us for treating you like this. It's your children's father who asked for it. He doesn't want you to go out alive..."

The pain and suffering in her mind gradually merged together and became the face of the man in front of him.

She stared at the photo, and the hatred in her eyes grew deeper and deeper.

Finally, she raised her head and said coldly, "Where is he?"

Hank Han was delighted to see her reaction to Ralph Chapman's photo, "You still remember him, right?"

"I will recognize him even if he burns into ashes."

After that, she looked up, "Where is he?"

Hank Han sighed, "He's not in good condition now. He's in a coma every day and his life is uncertain..."

Originally, he had thought that if he had said that, Lottie Green would have been sad and worried. But she just frowned slightly, "It's a pity for him to die like this."

Hank Han stiffened.

"People like him should be cut into pieces."

Hank Han, "..."

When he raised his head, he realized that Lottie Green's eyes were filled with hatred when she mentioned Ralph Chapman.

It...

He looked up at her, "You don't like him anymore?"

"How can I like him?"

"Take away my children and let me wait in the fire."

"He didn't come to look for me until I was unconscious."

"He locked me in the bedlam, torture me every day, beat me, and don't let me see my children. I have almost lost my life several times."

"In the end, I was injected with the medicine which makes lost my memory. And he take the child away in case that I will miss them."

After that, she looked up at Hank Han coldly, "I want to tear such a man into pieces!" Hank Han collapsed to the ground in an instant.

He did not use the wrong medicine.

Lottie Green did recall the memories she had lost in the past few years.

However, there was still something wrong with the medicine.

She had forgotten all her feelings for Ralph Chapman had changed her love for him into disgust and hatred.

It...

If he started to escape now, could he escape from Ralph Chapman's pursuit?

At this time, Eric pushed the door open and came in.

"Doctor Han, what's wrong?"

Eric smiled and helped him up, "How is Miss Bell now?"

"Eric."

Before Hank Han could open his mouth to speak, Lottie Green, who was sitting on the bed, shot him a cold glance.

The woman's voice was cold, "Are you trying your best to tie me up from Rexwell just to lock me up in the room as a toy?" Her tone and eyes were completely different from before!

Eric went up to her in surprise, "You finally admit that you are Miss Bell?"

Lottie Green nodded, "Aren't you going to untie me?"

"Hurry up and untie Miss Bell!"

He excitedly ordered the servants behind him, "Go!"

Lottie Green glanced at him coldly, "There's no need. You can come personally."

Eric hesitated.

Leaning against the bedside, she looked at him with a chuckle, "Why, as Miss Bell, can't I even order you, a housekeeper, to serve me?"

After a pause, Eric took a deep breath and walked over with a smile, "It's my honor to serve you."

With that, he unlocked all the chains quickly with the key.

The moment he unlocked the chain, a light flashed in Lottie's eyes.

The next second, she accurately grabbed Eric's neck and pressed him against the wall.

She was so quick that no one had time to react.

By the time they came to their senses, she had already taken control of Mario.

Lottie pressed him hard and stared coldly at his pale face. "You've been hiding your strength. Do you think I'm easy to bully?" "Do you want to tie me up with chains?"

"Believe it or not, I can kill you right now!"

Looking what Lottie done, Hank, who was sitting paralyzed on the ground, subconsciously shifted his body backward.

He had caused a big mess.

Because of his antidote... the lamb became the wolf.

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 196 I Can Contact the Chapman Family

"Miss... Miss Lottie..."

Being stuck in the neck, Eric's face turned purple. "You..."

"Spare me..."

"Now you ask for mercy?"

Lottie snorted coldly and continued to exert force in her hands.

“Lottie Green!”

Seeing that Mario was dying, Hank behind her hurriedly called her name.

The woman narrowed her eyes slightly and kicked Eric’s leg hard before released him.

Mario was in pain and weak. He fell to the ground against the wall finally.

Lottie turned around and returned to the bed. She crossed her legs and sat there elegantly, looking down at Mario.

“Now do you know who the master is and who the servant is in this family?”

Mario covered his aching neck and said with difficulty, “I... I know.”

“Good.”

The woman stared coldly at him. “I have a task for you.”

“At your service.”

“I have three children.”

Lottie gently played her hair. “Two sons and one daughter.”

“Now their age should be...”

She looked down at the time. “Should be five years old.”

After that, she glanced at Hank. “What’s the name of the man in the photo just now?” Hank was startled and quickly said, “His name is Ralph.”

“OK.”

The woman looked down at Eric’s face as if she was a king. “The children’s father is Ralph.”

“Two sons are in his hands, and the daughter needs to be found.”

“I’ll give you a week to bring my children back.”

Mario covered his neck and raised his head with difficulty. “Miss Lottie, you... you came back this time to marry into the Bartons and let the Bells get an investment...”

“Isn’t it inappropriate for you to find your children so overtly?”

Lottie raised an eyebrow. “When did I promise to marry the Bartons?”

Mario frowned. “If you don’t get married, the Bells...”

The woman sneered.

“In your opinion, other than getting married, there is no other way for a woman to get her family out of trouble?” “Don’t forget that I’m Yuki’s daughter.”

Her mother was able to make the Bells stand firm in the European business world by herself after her father's death, so could she!

Thinking of this, Lottie raised an eyebrow. "I can do whatever she can." Mario was still hesitant. "But..."

"But what else?"

Lottie glared at him. "Don't you listen to me?"

"No, I dare not..."

"Then what are you waiting for?"

She glared at Mario again. "A week later, I want to see my three children." After that, she thought about it again.

"Bring Ralph here too."

Hank coughed lightly when he heard this. "Why bring Ralph here?"

If Ralph knew that Lottie was in such a state because there was something wrong with the medicine he gave her... He was afraid that Ralph would tear him to pieces on the spot.

Lottie shot him a cold glance. "Beat him up, of course."

After that, she suddenly thought of something and turned to look at Hank lightly. "Did he marry?"

If she remembered correctly, that woman had come up with such a solution because she wanted to marry Ralph but had no fertility.

Hank hesitated for a while and said, "He's... married."

"I really feel sorry for his wife."

Lottie yawned and glared coldly at Mario. "What are you waiting for? Get out and look for them!"

Mario paused for a moment, then scrambled up from the ground and quickly walked out of the door.

"Mario, are you... really going to help Lottie find her children and Ralph?"

When they came out of Lottie's room, a group of servants followed behind Mario, bowing and handing him tissue.

Mario took the tissue and glanced at the man coldly. "Why would I bring them here? To help her regain her memory?"

After that, she wiped the cold sweat on her forehead with a tissue. "I knew that Hank would spend my time worrying, so I specially asked someone to change his medicine."

"In order not to be discovered, I didn't put too much dose." He looked ahead coldly. "But it seems that it's enough for now." "But Mario..."

The maid behind him hesitated for a moment and said, "Why do I feel that the current Lottie is not as good as the one who has not lost her memory..."

Before she lost her memory, Lottie had made a scene, but she hadn't been so violent. Now her personality seemed to have changed a lot since she had lost her memory... Mario sneered. "What's the good of it?"

"Let her be. When the wedding day is up, knock her out and send to the Bartons." "Once she gets married, she will be a member of the Bartons."

After Yuki became a vegetable, the LY Company was casting a greedy eye on the Bells. Meanwhile, the Bells' relatives were constantly thinking of taking over and annexing the Bells.

The Bells was now under attack from all side.

Although not long ago, the Bells had married the second daughter to the young master of the second branch of the Bartons, it was far from enough.

The real wealthy and powerful branch of the Bartons was the main branch.

The young master of the main branch, Alfred Barton was a righteous gentleman who had a marriage contract with Lottie since she was a child.

If Lottie married him, the Bells would have been saved!

Thinking of this, Mario frowned. "By the way, did the Bells reply?"

The maid hesitated a little. "Yes..."

"They said that Mr. Alfred went back to Rexwell that very night. It seems that something happened to the girl he likes..." Mario's brows furrowed tightly.

"Did the Bartons say how long he would be back?"

"They said that it will take one to two weeks..."

One to two weeks.

Vaguely, Mario remembered that Lottie asked him to bring the three children back in one week.

After a long silence, he glanced at the servant and said, "Pretend to look for her first but don't let her find out." If he didn't do anything, he was afraid that he would be strangled to death by Lottie before Alfred came back.

"Do you really think Mario will help you find the children?"

Standing in Lottie's bedroom, Hank looked at Mario who was standing in a distance with back to them and asked the woman behind him with a frown.

Lottie leaned back in her chair, gracefully grinding a sharp knife. "Of course he can't really help me, but at least he has to pretend."

Hank paused and quickly turned around. "What are you going to do? Give up?" "Of course not."

Lottie lowered her gaze and stared at the shining blade. "I plan to go back to Rexwell to find them personally after I settle matters of the Bells."

Looking at her sharpening action, Hank subconsciously took a step back.

“It will take a long time, won’t it?”

Lottie looked up at him. “Do you have a better idea?”

Hank was silent for a moment.

After a while, he raised his head and said, “Why don’t you let Ralph bring the children here by himself?” Lottie smiled. “Are they willing to come obediently?”

Hank nodded. “I can contact the Chapmans.”

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 197 I Want to Make a Deal with You

Lottie glanced at him indifferently. “Go ahead.” Hank took out his mobile phone.

He remembered that he had saved the number of the Chapmans, but no matter how hard he searched on the phone, he only found Yank Chapman.

The man frowned and thought about it.

Yank Chapman could as well.

After all, they were all members of the Chapmans.

Taking a deep breath, he walked out of the room and dialed Yank’s number in the corridor.

In the Rexwell Central Hospital.

After a whole night of coma, Ralph finally woke up.

It was quiet all around in the early morning.

There were two beds in the ward. He was lying on one while three little children were lying on the other. Looking at the three children sleeping together, the man sighed helplessly.

He didn’t want to disturb them, so he got out of the bed with difficulty and walked out of the ward with a crutch.

“Sir!”

Sean leaned against the bench in the corridor, dozing.

Seeing Ralph come out, he jumped up directly.

Ralph gestured to him to keep silent.

Sean glanced back at the three little children sleeping in the ward and lowered his voice silently. “They are very tired for guarding you for a day and a night.”

After that, he quickly supported Ralph’s body. “When did you wake up? How do you feel now?”

“I’m fine.”

With Sean's help, Ralph carefully sat down on the bench and asked, "Do you have any news about her?" Sean fell silent at his question.

After a long time, he sighed. "No."

"We've searched all the airport and station in Rexwell."

"We've searched almost every monitoring, but we can't find any trace of Madam leaving the city." "But she is definitely no longer in Rexwell."

"We've also checked the domestic city, but we haven't found Madam's entry record..."

Sean carefully looked at Ralph's face. "So... should we use our man in Europe..."

Ralph closed his eyes and said, "Look for another day at home. If we can't find it, let them start over there." Sean nodded. "Okay."

After the conversation, Sean was silent for a while. "What should we do with Alice White?"

"She has been locked up for several days since Madam captured her."

"Mr. Yank came to see you yesterday. It seems that he wants to plead with you..."

Ralph rubbed his brows.

"Lock her up."

"Let Lottie handle it when she comes back..."

The person who Alice had hurt was Lottie.

The one she should say sorry was Lottie too.

Even the person who had brought her back was Lottie.

Although Lottie wasn't in Rexwell now, he believed that she would come back eventually.

"Ralph."

At this time, a deep voice of a man came from the end of the corridor.

Ralph looked up.

He saw Yank smiling.

At this moment, the sky was slightly bright. The tall and straight Yank in a windbreaker strode towards him with a fruit basket and flowers in his hand.

Ralph narrowed his eyes. Six years ago, after the fire, Yank also went to the hospital to see him.

"Don't worry. We have already buried the mother of the children."

"You've tried your best. Don't blame yourself too much."

"You must live well with the children in the future."

Back then, what Yank had said in front of his bed seemed to be still echoing.

Back then, he still felt that his eldest brother didn't care about him, and Yank was the one who really loved him.

He believed it and regarded him as his closest relative.

But now...

As he watched Yank walk towards him step by step, he only felt that it was ironic.

Yank clearly knew everything.

Back then, he had told Ralph that he had found Yumi, the girl he had accidentally slept with and gotten pregnant.

At that time, he also said that he would bury Yumi's body well.

But in the end...

Five years later, when Yank saw Lottie standing beside him, he chose to remain silent, not saying anything.

When Lottie desperately tried to find the non-existent Yumi, he remained silent and secretly helped Alice.

His elder brother, whom he thought was the closest, protected only Alice from beginning to end.

"Ralph."

Yank stood still in front of Ralph and looked at him with concern. "How do you feel?"

"I also asked my friends at the police station to investigate the disappearance of Lottie..."

"Are you worried about her?"

Ralph looked up and swept coldly across Yank's face. "You wish she could never return, right?"

The man's words caused Yank to be silent for a moment.

Then, he chuckled. "I know Lottie's missing drive you in a bad mood." "But I am indeed worried about her and you."

Ralph snorted coldly. "The one you are worried indeed is Alice, right?"

Yank's mind was exposed. He forced a smile and turned around to sit down on the bench beside Ralph. "Alice has done something wrong. I am willing to apologize for her."

"She's just too willful..." Ralph narrowed his eyes.

He turned to look at Yank and then looked ahead. "The first time she made a mistake, you can teach her a lesson, the second time, you can protect her, but what about the third time?"

"Alice has schemed against Lottie and then me, that's the first time."

"Set fire when I first met Lottie, that's the second time."

“That’s the third time for her to hire a killer to kill Lottie while she was filming in the mountain village...”
After that, the man once again turned to look at Yank. “Don’t you have a bottom line for protecting her?” “But I do.”

“I didn’t know what she had done to Lottie in the first two times.”

“If I know, I won’t let her live before the third time!”

His words made Yank’s face turn slightly pale.

“There are indeed a lot of things that Alice did wrong...”

Yank also closed his eyes. “It’s my fault for not teaching her well.”

At that time, he only said to Alice once, “If you marry Ralph, then my plan will be much faster.” Because of this sentence, Alice had become like this.

She had always wanted to help him and become his right-hand man.

He had always known.

Thinking of this, Yank sighed. “Ralph, I’m not here to quarrel with you.”

“I’m here... to make a deal with you.”

Ralph frowned and turned to stare at him coldly without saying anything.

It was quiet in the corridor.

Yank coughed lightly. “I’ve found Lottie.”

“But as an exchange, I hope you can release Alice and let me take her away.”

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 198 Prepare to Leave Tomorrow

The corridor instantly became much quiet.

The atmosphere became tense.

Ralph frowned and turned to look at the ward behind him.

The door, which had been closed, was now opened a little.

He sighed lightly and looked up at Yank coldly. “Yank.”

“Is Alice that important to you?”

Yank chuckled. “It depends on how important Lottie is to you.”

Ralph changed into a comfortable position and leaned against the bench. “Lottie is important to me because she is my wife, my children’s mother, and the most beloved woman in my life.”

“Then, what is Alice to you?”

“Perhaps, she is you beloved, right?”

Yank smiled faintly. "I only want to ask you, are you willing to make this deal?"

With that, he looked at Ralph. "You must have tried your best to find her. Do you have any clues?"

"My news will allow you to find Lottie. The earlier you find her, the easier she could return to you."

"Would you make this deal..."

"Whatever you want."

Ralph narrowed his eyes.

Yank was purposely provoking him.

He took a deep breath and said coldly. "Since you can find the clues of where Lottie is, I believe I can find it with my own ability." After that, he smiled coldly. "I think even if Lottie knows, she will support my decision."

"She won't hope that I will let go of the person she personally captured in order to get her news."

Yank's face suddenly turned cold.

"Ralph, do you have to go against me like this?"

Ralph also laughed coldly. "Yank, do you have to let Alice off so easily?"

After that, he changed into a comfortable position and leaned against the bench. "Or, you are not indulging but ordering Alice to do so those things..."

"Ordering her?"

Yank narrowed his eyes and smiled.

"I just think she is a little girl."

"If you are not willing to do this deal, then forget it. I have the way to make you hand over Alice obediently."

After saying this, he stood up and looked down at Ralph, who was sitting on the bench. "But, can you find Lottie? Or would she still be your wife when you find her. Who can tell?"

After that, he strode away.

Ralph leaned against the bench and closed his eyes silently.

When Yank arrived at the elevator's entrance, Ralph called out lightly, "Yank." Yank stopped and looked back at him coldly. "What's wrong?"

"Do you go back on your word?"

Ralph frowned tightly. "Can't Brotherly feelings compare to your love to Alice?"

He knew that this time, regardless of whether he dealt with Yank or not, they would never be able to be the same as before in the future.

Yank paused and smiled. "Who is your brother?"

He looked at Ralph coldly. "My mother is the legal wife of our father. And what about your mother? Do you still remember?" "Are you qualified to call me brother?"

After saying this, Yank sneered and walked into the elevator.

Watching he step into the elevator, Ralph's uninjured hand clenched into a fist.

He, Ank, and Yank were indeed not born by the same mother.

Ank and Yank's mother was the legal couple of their father.

Ralph, on the other hand, was born of a young and beautiful woman brought back by their father after Mrs. Chapman dead.

She was only two years older than the eldest son of Mr. Old Chapman. The Chapmans would not allow Mr. Old Chapman to marry her.

She accompanied Mr. Old Chapman without any status, maintaining this love that was not valued by anyone.

Not long after she gave birth to Ralph Chapman, she died of depression.

The brothers of the Chapman family were actually not as close as they appeared.

However, Ank Chapman was the only one who showed obvious disgust for Ralph Chapman.

Yank Chapman had always appeared as an amiable second brother.

Ralph Chapman had always felt that Yank Chapman was different from Ank Chapman when he was a child.

But now...

He looked at Yank Chapman's back and narrowed his eyes slightly.

No wonder Alice White was so good at disguising herself.

It turned out that there was a good teacher to teach her.

"Daddy."

Just as the man was silent, the door of the ward behind him opened.

Fabian Chapman got her head out of the door of the ward and looked at Ralph Chapman excitedly.

"Daddy, come in!" Only then did Ralph Chapman come to his senses. He pushed the door open and entered the ward.

Fabian Chapman silently closed the door behind him.

In the two hospital beds in the ward, Elijah Chapman and Stella were sitting with their laptop in their hands.

Ralph Chapman frowned and walked over. "How is it?"

“I found it.”

Taking a deep breath, Stella was the first to speak. “Just now, when you were dealing with that person, Brother Elijah Chapman and I had already started to locate the person he had recently contacted.”

“The data analysis shows that he received a call an hour before he came here.”

“The signal source of that phone came from...”

Stella’s eyes suddenly widened.

After a long while, she raised her head and opened her big watery eyes. “They’re from the Bells, the second family in Europe.” The Bells.

Ralph Chapman frowned. He had heard of the Bells.

The Bells used to be the first family in Europe. Later, the head of the Bells passed away, and the Bells began to be managed by his wife, Yuki.

After Yuki took over, the Bells changed from the first family in Europe to the second one.

Although it was the second family, the Bells had always maintained a good relationship with the first family, the Bartons. There was an arranged marriage that had been involved for many years.

“The caller who called my second uncle has been locked. His name is Hank Han.”

In the distance, Elijah Chapman raised his head. “I’ve contacted Mommy before. She’s the genius doctor who went abroad to find medicine for her amnesia.”

Ralph Chapman frowned.

The Bells.

Hank Han.

A bad feeling rose in his heart...

“Recently, there has been gossip about the Bells in Europe. The Bells has found the lost Miss Bell many years ago.”

“If Miss Bell returns to the Bells, she will keep her promise and marry Alfred Barton, the eldest young master of the Bartons.

From now on, the Bells will receive the protection of the Bartons and will not be annexed by competitors.”

After that, Elijah Chapman looked up at Ralph Chapman and asked, “Daddy, what are you going to do?”

What should I do...?

Ralph Chapman narrowed his eyes and picked up his phone. “Sean Holland, get ready. I’m going to Europe.”

“I’ll go too.”

Stella blinked her big eyes and carefully raised her hand. "I'm Uncle Bartons' adopted daughter. I'm familiar with that place." "Bring me along."

Elijah Chapman silently closed the laptop. "I can help you break many computer mechanisms."

"The Bells is full of traps. It's impossible without me."

Seeing that they had said so, Fabian Chapman had to raise his hand silently. "Well... I can help you lie. My mouth is quite good..."

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 199 Can You Carry Me

The Bells' Villa.

Lottie Green sat in the study, flipping through some books on economics that she couldn't understand, while listening to the teacher in front of her telling her the basics of economics.

It had been three days since Hank Han had called the Chapman family.

She didn't hold any hope for Eric, but Hank Han didn't do anything.

The woman frowned tightly, and there was a trace of helplessness in her eyes.

In the past three days, she tried several times to escape from the Bells, but she failed every time.

Either someone saw through her and caught her, or she didn't escape successfully at all.

She bit the pencil and stared at the book in the teacher's hand, lost in thought.

Although at the beginning, she had told Eric that she could also restore the glory of the Bells like Yuki.

But when she really started class and learned about the business of the Bells, she knew one thing-she was not this material.

But it was even more impossible for her to marry a stranger.

For her, the Bells were just a family that she had just returned.

She had no sense of belonging to the Bells, nor did she think that she was a member of the Bells, let alone waste her happiness for the Bells.

The only thing she wanted to do now was to go to Rexwell and find her three children. Then, she would catch Ralph Chapman and ask him to kneel in front of her to apologize to her.

Thinking of this, the woman turned to look at the scenery outside the window, trying to find other ways to escape from the garden.

Not long after, the class was over.

As the teacher tidied up his things, he looked helplessly at Lottie Green. "Miss, with your learning attitude, it's impossible for you to become an excellent successor of the Bells."

Lottie Green rolled her eyes at him. "Who said that I'm going to be an excellent successor of the Bells?" She didn't want to inherit it at all!

The teacher in charge of teaching her sighed, shook his head, and left.

Lottie Green didn't even look at it. She continued to sit by the window and watch the garden outside.

Not long after, she found a small gap in the northernmost part of the garden.

Although the gap was not big, she was thin. It should not be a problem for her to pass through there.

The woman's eyes continued to move forward.

That gap leads to...

It was the road outside!

Lottie Green jumped up from her chair excitedly.

Just as she was about to go to the gap in the back garden to check, a small black figure came in through the gap.

Lottie Green couldn't see his face clearly from too far away.

But she could see that it was a little boy in black, who looked only five or six years old.

After coming in from the outside, the little fellow looked around the back garden like a thief.

There was only one rockery between them, and Eric was rushing forward with a few bodyguards.

That was to say, as long as Eric and the others turned a corner, they would see the little guy who had just broken in, who was acting like a thief!

Sitting by the window of the study on the second floor, Lottie Green frowned. After hesitating for a long time, she still opened the window a second before Eric and the others turned around.

"Eric!" The woman's crisp voice stunned Eric and the others.

The little boy in black in the distance also looked up at her in shock.

Feeling the shock in the little fellow's eyes, Lottie Green gave him a look asking him to leave quickly. Then she leaned against the window with a smile and looked at Eric. "Today's class is over."

Eric frowned and chuckled disdainfully. "Did you learn it well, Miss?"

"It's just so-so. There's a problem that I'm not clear about. I want to ask you for advice."

Eric smiled coldly and said, "I'm going to deal with something now. I'll explain it to you when it's done." After that, he turned around and strode away with his followers.

After Eric left, Lottie Green heaved a long sigh of relief and looked in the direction of the little boy.

The little guy in black had squatted on the rockery and waved at her with a smile, indicating for her to go over.

Lottie Green frowned.

According to her current character, it was her limit to be able to help a strange boy before Eric found out.

But...

The woman thought for a long time in the study, but still lifted her legs and went downstairs to the small garden.

There was a small cave in the rockery, and there were stone stools in the small cave.

When Lottie Green arrived at the rockery, the little fellow in black was sitting on a stone bench and looking at her with a smile.

"I knew you would come to see me."

The five or six year old kid blinked his eyes and looked at Luna with a smile.

Luna frowned.

The little guy looked familiar.

But she couldn't remember when she had seen him.

Taking a deep breath, the woman stared at him. "What's your name?"

"My name is Fabian Chapman."

The little fellow sat on the stone bench with a smile. "You are my mommy."

Lottie Green's entire body froze.

After a while, she shook her head helplessly and smiled. "Impossible."

She did have two sons and one daughter, but her two sons were both in Rexwell and together with Ralph Chapman.

How could he come to the Bells?

"It's possible."

Fabian Chapman sighed. "Daddy knew that you were at the Bells, so we came without stopping."

"After we came to Europe, we found Dr. Hank Han and knew that you had lost your memory. You don't remember us anymore."

"But I am your real son!"

The little fellow took out a wrinkled DNA identification book from his pocket and said, "This is a copy. It clearly says that my mommy is you and Daddy is Ralph Chapman."

Lottie Green frowned, took the piece of paper, and unfolded it.

"According to the appraisal, the possibility of Fabian Chapman and Lottie Green becoming mother and son is 99%." Looking at the numbers on the appraisal book, Lottie Green paused.

She looked up. "Are you really my son?"

"Of course!"

"Then..."

The woman glanced in the direction of the gap. "Where are your brothers and sisters?"

"They're in the hotel!"

Fabian Chapman looked at Lottie Green with a smile. "Daddy lives with us in the hotel, which means that he will visit the Bells tomorrow."

"But I missed you so much that I came to you secretly."

After that, the little fellow took a deep breath, stood up with grievances, and walked to Lottie Green's side.

He stood still in front of the woman and stretched out his arms silently. "Can you hug me?"

"I miss you so much."

Looking at the little fellow's big, pitch-black eyes, Lottie Green's heart pounded violently.

The little guy's eyes were so beautiful.

She was so beautiful that she felt that if she did not agree to hug him today, she would be unforgivable. The woman took a deep breath and reached out to hold Fabian Chapman in her arms.

But what she didn't expect was that when her body and the Fabian Chapman's were holding each other, she suddenly felt a pain in her back!

She quickly let go of him and found that the little fellow was holding a needle with blood in his hand!

The blood on the needle was from him!

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 200 I Am the Head of Our Family

"Little thing, you framed me!"

Lottie Green grabbed Fabian Chapman's neck and pressed him against the wall with great strength.

"Who the hell are you?" The coldness in her eyes stunned Fabian Chapman for a few seconds.

A few seconds later, the little fellow began to struggle. "I am... your son..."

Fabian Chapman couldn't breathe, "Mommy, I'm... testing if you're my biological mommy."

Lottie Green frowned.

Looking at the little fellow's big black eyes, she was silent for a moment and loosened her grip.

But she still looked at him coldly. "Make it clear!"

"It's like this..."

Fabian Chapman stretched out her little hand and grabbed her finger, pausing word by word. "Have you ever heard of that old saying?"

"A tiger never eats its son." "Even if you don't remember us now, as long as you admit that we are your children, you won't hurt us." Lottie Green narrowed her eyes. "Tigers don't eat their children. The premise is that Tiger's son won't hurt her!"

After that, she glanced at Fabian Chapman's little face. "If the needle you just used was a poison needle, would I still be alive now?"

"Of course."

Fabian Chapman blinked her big eyes and looked at him. "Are you still alive?"

Lottie Green frowned, and the coldness in her eyes intensified. "What I'm saying is, if that needle was a poison needle, then I..." Before she could finish her words, she suddenly felt her body go limp, her legs go limp, and her whole body floated...

He felt as if all her strength had been sucked away.

At the same time, she loosened her grip on Fabian Chapman.

The little fellow grabbed her hand and tried her best to support her soft body. "Mommy, the one I just stabbed you with was a poison needle."

There was a hint of coldness and hatred in Lottie Green's eyes. "Who the hell are you..." The little fellow said something again. She had lost consciousness and could not hear anything.

"What are you waiting for? Come and help!"

When Lottie Green completely fainted, Fabian Chapman frowned and struggled to support her body while shouting at her headphones.

"We'll be there soon!"

Stella's voice came from the headset. "Second brother, you are really good at lying!"

Fabian Chapman rolled his eyes. "Don't talk nonsense. The Bells will find out later!" "No."

In the headset, Elijah Chapman's steady voice sounded. "Everyone in the Bells is under my surveillance. Eric has been pinned down by Daddy. Don't worry."

After a pause, Elijah Chapman said again, "Don't be so fierce to Stella."

"She's my sister."

Fabian Chapman curled his lips.

He was just too anxious and his tone was not good. Why was he so fierce to Stella?

It had only been a few days since his sister had been recognized, and his brother seemed to not love him anymore! While he was thinking, Hank Han's deep voice came from behind him. "Fabian Chapman, I'm here."

Fabian Chapman held Lottie Green and let Hank Han carry her on his back. Under the cover of several bodyguards, they left the gap behind the garden.

After Hank Han got in the car, Fabian Chapman did not forget to remind the bodyguards, “Seal this gap and don’t let the Bells find it.”

After the arrangement, Fabian Chapman took a deep breath and got into the car. It was a recreational vehicle.

Hank Han put Lottie Green on the bed of the recreational vehicle, and then tied her up neatly with a canvas belt.

Stella put her hands on her cheeks and looked at the unconscious woman who was still tied up. “Mommy, are you really so scary now?”

Hank Han quickly nodded. “Yes!”

With Lottie Green’s current strength, if they didn’t coax her in this way, there was no way for her to obediently follow them! This woman had a bad temper now!

Elijah Chapman lowered his head and knocked on the computer while lightly frowning. “That’s for you.”

“Maybe Mommy won’t do anything to us.”

“When she was chatting with Fabian Chapman just now, her attitude was very good.”

“Maybe losing her memory will change a person’s temperament greatly, but her attitude toward her relatives will not change.” Stella sat by the side, silently reading Elijah Chapman’s words.

Family...

She finally had a family member...

Subconsciously, the little girl stretched out her hand and grabbed Lottie Green’s finger. “Mommy, you have to get better soon.”

She still wanted to go to the beach with the gentle Lottie Green and do many things that she had dreamed of, but she had never done before.

The little girl’s words silenced the air in the car.

Fabian Chapman sighed, walked over, and gently hugged Stella’s shoulder. “She will get better. Trust me.” Elijah Chapman lightly furrowed his brows and did not speak.

The car started.

However, their car had just walked out of the Bells’ two intersections when it was forced to stop. “Someone is blocking the way.”

The driver stopped the car, exasperated. “What should we do?”

Fabian Chapman frowned and looked at the front of the car subconsciously.

A pure black car stopped in front of their recreational vehicle.

A middle-aged man in black opened the door and stood in front of the car indifferently, looking up at them.

Hank Han looked up and his pupils suddenly widened. "The clothes he is wearing... are from the Bells!" He bit his lips tightly and said, "Didn't we say that everything went well? Did Ralph Chapman hold Eric back..." "Why is this man in front of me..."

Elijah Chapman calmly raised his head to look.

Then, the little fellow lowered her head and continued her work. "He's not here to chase."

"Fabian Chapman, take Stella down and make it clear to him."

Stella looked back at him in surprise. "Brother Elijah Chapman, this person's clothes... are indeed from the Bells."

"What we should do now is to escape."

Why was he so calm?

"He's Grandpa."

"Or, my previous grandfather."

Elijah Chapman's voice was still calm. "He's not a bad guy."

"Maybe, when Mommy was still very young, he was the only one who hoped that Mommy could survive safely." "Ok!"

As soon as Elijah Chapman finished speaking, Fabian Chapman directly held Stella's hand. "Let's go down." There was a hint of timidity in the little girl's eyes.

However, the hand held by her brother was extremely warm.

She bit her lip and gently held Fabian Chapman's hand. "Okay."

"With my brothers here, I'm not afraid!"

In the past, Stella had dreamed of being reunited with her family.

But she always felt that even if she found her family, it would be difficult for her to quickly integrate into the family.

After all, she had been separated from her family for five years.

But now...

Her two brothers were both very warm.

Her brother didn't like to talk, but he always took care of her silently.

His second brother had a lot to say, but he had a sharp mouth and a soft heart. He was fierce, but in fact, he was a sister-con.

Daddy...

She was a little unfamiliar with Daddy, but he was also a good person.

If Mommy could get better, she would be so happy!

Thinking of this, the little girl took a deep breath and firmly stepped out of the car with Fabian Chapman.
“Second brother, let’s fight for mommy!”

Elijah Chapman, “...” Fabian Chapman asked, “Have you read too many comics and novels recently?”
Stella rolled her eyes, grabbed Fabian Chapman’s hand, and got out of the car.

Arthur Bell didn’t expect that the people in the car had discussed for such a long time. In the end, it turned out to be two little kids.

He crossed his arms around his chest and said, “Get the adults out of the car.” “All the adults in the car have to listen to us.” Stella raised her head and looked at him fearlessly. “Grandpa, if you have anything to say, just tell me.”

“I’m our boss!”
