

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 21 My Newlywed Wife, Lottie Green

When she came out from the restaurant, a black Maserati parked outside.

Elijah let go of Lottie's hand and sat directly in the front passenger seat.

Lottie felt helpless and could only open the door of the back seat.

On the leather seat in the back, Ralph was sitting there quietly and looking at the laptop in his hand.

He was exuding a cold yet noble aura.

Although they had been married for quite some time, her heart still shivered whenever she saw his cold side face.

“Why are you here...”

Ralph did not look at her. He still focused on the laptop screen and his slender fingers were tapping on the keyboard gracefully, “Our son was created by someone. Of course, I have to visit the police station in person, like his Dad.”

Lottie pursed her lips and sat in, “So you know it all?”

Ralph stopped working, turned his head, and stared at her with his dark pupils, “Do you think they could get a ten-carat diamond ring without my permission?”

Lottie silenced.

What he said made sense.

A ten-carat diamond ring was not cheap. Even though the Chapman family was rich, he would not give his five-year-old children so much pocket money.

“So, you know it too?”

Ralph folded the laptop and leaned back comfortably on the leather seat. With a faint gaze, he said, “Josiah has checked it out.

What happened yesterday is related to your sister.”

“But she is smart. She has cut off all the connections with the man, and even the phone number which was used to contact Miller was registered under Arthur’s name.”

Lottie clenched her hands tightly.

Her guess was right.

Claudia was related to the matter that happened yesterday!

His voice was low but it eased her nervous heart, “We have been married not long, so I can’t suppress your father because of something which I have no full evidence of. Firstly, it does not make sense, and secondly, it is not good for you.”

Lottie’s heart got warmed suddenly.

Ralph was always being cold to her.

She had never thought he would be so considerate.

He not only investigated what happened to her yesterday, and he even considered the impact on her once he suppressed the Green family. ..

She pursed her lips and looked up to meet his depthless eyes, “Thank you...”

“Lottie, he’s your husband, so you don’t have to say thanks to him.”

As soon as Lottie finished speaking, Elijah who sitting in the front seat spoke lightly, "And there is no need for you to thank him." 'It's Fabian's idea to revenge for you and I designed the whole process.

Daddy didn't do anything except providing a ring and 20 thousand dollars."

Lottie was speechless.

Ralph raised his eyebrow, "Without my support, can you guys go so smoothly?"

"Yes, we can."

Elijah's immature voice sounded quite resolute, and it was definitely not something he should have at his age, "If I tell grandfather that I want to buy a ring for Lottie under your name, he will definitely agree."

Ralph squinted slightly and stopped talking.

Lottie was stunned there.

Did Elijah make Ralph speechless?

She carefully peeked at the man next to her with the corner of her eyes.

He was leaning on the leather seat and closed his eye for a doze.

Maybe he was really tired, or just he could find no more words to argue with Elijah.

The car started.

Lottie's cellphone started to ring constantly.

It was a news reminder.

When she was with Luke before, she was worried every day that he could be defamed. So, she developed a good habit of watching the news every day.

At the moment, the atmosphere in the car was dull, so she picked up her cellphone and checked some news.

Unexpectedly, it was about Claudia!

“Breaking news! The daughter of the Green family defrauded a minor to steal his parent’s diamond ring!” “The ten-carat diamond ring was stolen? A wealthy daughter actually did this.”

“Discuss rationally. How to convict her of instigating a minor to steal?”

There were all kinds of news about Claudia defrauding minors on the internet.

Someone posted a previous video in the restaurant.

Someone even released the chat log of Claudia and Fabian.

Lottie clicked into the chat screenshot, and read them one by one...

The more she read, the more she was getting angry!

Claudia was really not wronged of being charged with this accusation!

In the chat log, she asked Fabian for money more than once.

Other than Fabian concealed his age, everything else was asked by Claudia!

She even said to Fabian, “Your mother is so old, so the diamond ring will be wasted on her finger.”

“Give it to me. You have such a rich family, so your parents won’t be angry if they find out.”

Lottie clenched the cellphone, and the anger in her chest was burning.

Although she knew it was Fabian and Elijah leading Claudia into a trap on purpose, these contents made Lottie furious.

Arthur said before that Claudia grew up in the slum with those bad girls who brought her bad habits.

Even she was back to the Green family now, she was still disgusting as before!

Lottie felt very pleased when she saw the curses to Claudia on the internet.

Soon, they arrived at the police station.

When they just got out of the car, Lottie saw Kevin's car park not far away.

It seemed that Claudia's matter was a big mess, so even Kevin came to the police station.

'Ill stay here.'

On the front passenger seat, Elijah opened the laptop and wore the headphone, "Fabian and I also won't go in or make trouble." 'Ok?

Ralph who had been dozing off opened his eyes and opened the car door gracefully to get out of the car.

Lottie got off the car quickly and followed him.

"Sir, please check it carefully. That is impossible!"

"My daughter is so kind and innocent. How could she do such a thing!"

In the police station, Eira cried helplessly, "It must be the kid who is on purpose!" "My daughter would not do such a thing!"

"The evidence is conclusive!"

The policeman on the side scolded with an indifferent tone, "Your daughter is still not willing to take off the ten-carat diamond ring now!"

Eira wiped her tears and looked at Claudia, "Claudia, just..." "No!"

Claudia lowered her head and held the diamond ring in her hand tightly, "Even if this is a kid's gift, it is also a gift. There is no reason to give the gift back."

"You're not receiving a gift. You are instigating and defrauding."

A husky and low voice sounded.

Claudia and Eira quickly raised their head, and they saw an arrogant and noble man in a crowd. He was walking towards them with his long legs.

Claudia's eyes widened.

Wasn't this...

Wasn't this man the man in the photo that the kid sent her?

When she first saw the photo, she was so fascinated by him, so she started online dating the little kid even without giving deep thinking.

But now, she realized that he was even more handsome and noble than he was in the photo after seeing him in real life! The arrogant and noble aura exuded from Ralph made her bewitched...

"Such a handsome guy."

Eira lowered her voice and sighed.

"Mr. Chapman."

The policeman next to them greeted Ralph politely, and turned back to glanced at Eira and Claudia,

“This is Mr. Chapman, the father of Fabian Chapman.”

“If you don’t want to make a big mess, just talk to him.”

After he finished speaking, the policeman turned and left.

Claudia looked at Ralph until she forgot to take a breath.

Eira pinched her to get her back to her sense. She stammered and said, “Hi, Mr. Chapman, are you married?” After she finished asking this, Claudia regretted it.

His kid was so big, so how could he not get married?

Ralph indifferently showed a meaningful smile, “I just got married recently.”

After he finished speaking, he pulled over the woman who followed behind him and said, “This is my newlywed wife, Lottie Green.”

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 22 Get Ralph Back

The surroundings became quiet for a moment.

Claudia and her mother, Eira, all looked at Ralph and Lottie in shock. And then, they looked at each other confusedly.

“Are you Ralph Chapman!?”

Finally, Claudia frowned and asked boldly.

Ralph raised his lips slightly and put one hand on Lottie's shoulder. "Yes, I am."

Eira was so shocked that she couldn't even talk!

How could it be!

It was because Claudia didn't want to marry that cruel man, so she used tricks to ask Lottie to marry
Ralph.

In rumors, Ralph was a weird and cruel man who was disfigured by the fire!

But now, the man standing in front of them was handsome, noble and so arrogant that everyone had to look up at him.

"Hubby, you don't know them yet."

Lottie held Ralph's arm proudly and introduced them with a faint smile. "One is my stepmother, Eira, and the other is my stepsister, Claudia."

Ralph raised his eyebrows and smiled. "I didn't expect you to be relatives." "Since you are Lottie's family, then I don't want to bother it with you too much."

While saying this, Ralph's gaze fell on the ten-carat diamond ring in Claudia's hand. "However, this ring must be returned to me.

This is the gift that I prepared for my wife."

Claudia bit her lips tightly and her hands clenched into fists.

This ring... should have belonged to her!

Ralph should belong to her, too!

Lottie, the bitch!

“Since it’s all a family, why make it so clear?”

Eira came to interrupt them immediately, “Mr. Chapman is so rich, so you don’t care about a ten-carat diamond ring, right?” “Just treat it as a gift from the new brother-in-law to Lottie’s sister for the first meeting.”

Lottie frowned. The mother and daughter were really shameless.

How could the new brother-in-law give the ring to the sister at the first meeting?

It was even a ten-carat diamond ring!

“Im sorry.”

Ralph glanced at Eira, “I have no habit of giving gifts to outsiders.”

“Besides, this ring is specially prepared for my wife.”

He looked at Claudia calmly, “And.”

“You do not deserve it.”

Claudia took a step back with a pale face, “Why do you say that?”

Ralph smiled faintly, “You should know why I said that.”

Claudia raised her head and met Ralph’s eyes.

His depthless cold eyes made Claudia shiver.

His eyes were too sharp as if he could see through all Claudia's secrets. She lowered her head immediately, "I don't understand what you mean." Ralph continued to laugh, "I thought Kayden has told you very clearly today." Claudia was stunned and her face turned pale.

She understood.

Ralph still remembered what happened yesterday.

But, didn't Ralph hate women the most? He even caused the death of two fiancées before.

Why was he so good to Lottie?

"Ms. Green."

Ralph said coldly again, "Give me the ring."

Claudia bit her lips. Even though she felt unwilling, she still took off the ring.

The Green family could not provoke the Chapman family.

What happened yesterday had already reduced Chapman Group's funding for the Green family by half.

The ring was back to Ralph.

Lottie took a deep breath and she was finally relieved.

She turned around and began to ask the police officer about the whereabouts of Fabian.

"Lottie."

Ralph behind her pulled her back.

She slammed into his chest hard.

Lottie covered her aching nose. Before she could speak, Ralph held her hand in his palm.

Ralph held her right hand with one hand and put the ring on her ring finger with the other hand.

When he put the ring on her, his actions were gentle, serious and so charming that had drawn everyone's attention.

Lottie looked at his face and was stunned.

"The bride and groom exchange rings!"

Suddenly, a crisp childish voice sounded.

Lottie got back to her sense and viewed around following the sound. She saw Fabian was at a distance of fewer than two meters beside her. Fabian took the photo with a phone and said happily.

The police officers around also began to applaud.

Seeing those unfamiliar faces smiling and blessing her, Lottie's face flushed suddenly.

She was so embarrassed that she wanted to find a place to hide.

Suddenly, she was hugged by Ralph's big hands.

"Put your face on my chest, so that people will not see your face as red as a monkey butt." Ralph's low and smiling voice sounded above her head.

Lottie gritted her teeth. She knew that he was laughing at her!

But at the moment, she had no better choice except to hide in his arms.

She closed her eyes and lay in his arms. She sensed the safety which was brought by his warm body temperature.

The distance between both of them was so close that she could hear his heartbeat and even could count his breathing clearly.

After a while, the voices of the surroundings gradually became quieter and the air began to freshen up.

There was a smiling voice from Fabian, "Lottie, how long do you want to lie in daddy's arms?"

Lottie just got back to her sense.

They were at the gate of the police station.

She hurriedly jumped off Ralph and coughed awkwardly. "Shall we go home now?"

"Yes"

The butler said respectfully, "The matter has been settled."

"Mr. Chapman forgave Claudia because she is your sister, but she must apologize publicly."

Lottie nodded. This should also be the best result.

After all, the fact that Ralph had two children could not be made public, and Claudia took her reputation so seriously.

Now everyone knew that she cheated and instigated minors, and she also needed to apologize publicly.

These were enough to teach Claudia a lesson.

She took a deep breath. Then she took Fabian and walked towards the car with a cheerful voice.

"What do you want to eat tonight? I'll make it for you!"

Ralph stood there and looked at Lottie's playful and cute look. He curled his lips faintly, "Have you been injured at work today?" "No!"

When talking about today's work, Lottie was a little depressed. "I don't know which bastard that ordered the Filming Town to change a job for me!"

"I work as an acting double for a day and spent a day in the sun. The income is less than half of that of a stunt double!" She clenched her fists angrily. "I must figure out that which bad guy is against me!"

Ralph was speechless

In the police station...

Claudia recorded the apology video with the help of the police.

"How lucky the bitch Lottie is!"

Eira complained while they walked out of the police station. "If we knew Ralph is so young and handsome, then we shouldn't have used tricks to force Lottie to marry him."

"That is a ten-carat diamond ring! I feel distressed thinking about it now!" "That diamond ring should belong to my daughter, Claudia!" "It's okay, mom."

Claudia looked ahead and squinted slightly. "Since I can give Ralph to Lottie, then I can get Ralph back."

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 23 Am I So Ugly

In the Chapman's Villa...

Lottie was humming happily in the kitchen while preparing food.

Fabian took a bench and sat right in the middle of the kitchen. He then bent his head to look at her with both of his hands under his cheeks and said, "Lottie."

The woman stopped chopping and turned back to look at him, "What is it?" She said.

"I wished you were my biological mother."

The little boy stared into her eyes seriously, "Your eyes look exactly like ours. Are you sure that you're not our biological mother?" He asked.

Lottie gave a helpless smile and turned back to chop the vegetables, "But I never gave birth before..." Immediately she stopped after saying halfway through.

She gave birth to a dead fetus five years ago.

'Does that count as giving birth before?' She thought.

Her heart hurt for a while when she thought of her past, but immediately she switched the topic, "Have you ever seen your Mommy before?" She asked.

"Nope, not at all." He said.

Fabian shook his head and said, "I heard that our Mommy died when she was giving birth to us."

"But I keep feeling that she's not dead yet, she must be still alive somewhere in this world, waiting for us to find her!" Listening to the child's immature voice, she sighed softly.

She sliced a small chunk of ham and stuffed it into his mouth, and she then knelt down to hug him and said, "If you believe your Mummy is not dead yet, she must be still alive."

“You must quickly grow up and go to find her!” Feeling the warmth of the woman’s hug, Fabian looked down and continued munching the ham in his mouth.

‘It will be so great if she were our biological mother.s’ He thought.

In the study room upstairs...

Elijah was sitting on the office table, struggling with his arms crossed.

“Are you going to forgive the woman just like that?”

She was the one who caused Lottie to nearly get raped yesterday.

‘Is daddy, Lottie’s husband, gonna let that evil woman go just like that?’ He thought.

Ralph looked up to give him a cold stare and said, “Of course not.”

Claudia’s business was still developing and there were still chances for the Chapman Group to make trouble for her in the business field.

However, today’s matter must come to an end once and for all.

If this matter was exposed, the information people knew currently was definitely unable to satisfy their curiosity.

If Fabian and Elijah’s identities were exposed, both of the kids would be unable to live a peaceful life anymore.

Even though he was a powerful person, he was not willing to let the children take the risk.

He promised the woman that he would protect those two kids.

“What does that mean?”

Seeing him remaining in silence, Elijah bit his lips. There was anger in his voice.

He was good-tempered all the time, unlike Fabian who cried and laughed whenever he wanted, and this was the first time that he looked so angry.

Ralph looked at him and slightly smiled, "So Lottie Green means that much to you huh?"

Elijah blushed as he turned away and said, "She's your wife and my Mommy."

Ralph gave him a sharp look with his arms crossed and said, "Just because of that?"

"Of course."

The little kid jumped off the office table and said, "Since you're not willing to do so, I'll deal with that woman myself." He marched out the door with his short legs after saying so.

"Wait a minute."

Ralph sat on the executive chair behind him. He slightly frowned and lifted his hand to point at a box on the table, "Give this to her, and say it's a gift from you." Ralph said.

Elijah lifted the box to take a look inside and said, "A whitening cosmetic set?"

The little kid raised his sharp eyes to look at Ralph.

He knew his father very well. His father used to be indifferent, 'What made him so kind all of a sudden?' He thought.

Elijah's stare made Ralph feel uneasy.

He awkwardly coughed and said, "I told your cousin, Kayden, to take care of her today."

"Oh, that idiot."

Sighing softly, Elijah left the room with the box of cosmetics in his hand and said, 'I'll forgive you for now.'

Ralph smiled helplessly as he watched his son leave.

"Uncle Ralph!"

Just when Elijah left, Ralph's phone rang. It was from Kayden Chapman, "Have Lottie returned home yet?" "Did she tell you that she has done an easy job today?"

"Does she look happy?"

Ralph squinted his eyes dangerously and said, "She is happy indeed."

"Haha, of course, she is. I'll always get the job done for you."

"She even has no idea about my help, right?"

"Yes, you will also have no idea about where your pocket money is in the future."

Kayden was speechless.

Kayden on the phone was in pain. "Uncle Ralph, trust me. I will definitely find a safer option to take care of my little aunt!" "Good."

Ralph's voice was still emotionless, "I will also consider a safer end for you."

On the other side of the phone, Kayden was sweating in fear.

After dinner, Lottie happily took the box of whitening cosmetics Elijah gave her into her room.

The cosmetic was a well-known brand from overseas that she only heard of but never bought before.

She didn't expect Elijah to give her such a luxurious gift after she grumbled about staying under the scorching sun the whole day just now!

Lottie sat in front of her dressing table, took a few pictures with the cosmetic in her hand, and carefully unboxed it. She then applied some of it on her face and sent a voice message to Connie Houghton proudly, "The cosmetic my son gave me is so nice!"

Ralph leaned against the door, watching her bragging about the gift her son gave her. He couldn't help smiling.

'She has been flattered by that small gift?' 'She even takes photos and brags to her friend.' "I also wish I had two considerate and handsome sons like you!"

From the other side of the phone was Connie expressing her jealousy for Lottie, "However I'm more curious about the children's father." She said.

"Those people say that Ralph Chapman is weird and ugly. How would that kind of person give birth to such great children?" Lottie bit her lips and said, "My hubby is not ugly..." The saying "Hubby" made Ralph smile once again.

He didn't know why but whenever Lottie called him "Hubby", it sounded so pleasing to the ear that it made him recall her charming look in the bathtub that day.

"So when will you take a photo of your husband for me?" Connie asked.

"Of course not, before then not many knew what he looks like because he likes to stay low profile. I won't show his photo to anyone." Lottie said.

"Stop quibbling. Your husband must be ugly."

"Your husband is ugly, and you're ugly, too!"

“int”

Mario was going upstairs to deliver milk for the two little Masters. When he saw Ralph leaning against the door, immediately he greeted him.

The sound by the door shocked both Lottie and Connie on the phone.

Immediately she turned her head back.

By the door there stood a cold yet elegant man leaning against the door. It seemed like he had stood there for a long time already.

“Lottie Green, your husband must be so ugly that you are afraid of showing him to me!”

On the other side of the phone came the sound of Connie’s joking.

Lottie was so frightened that she quickly shut off her phone, “Em... I was just joking with my friend.”

“A joke with me?” Ralph asked.

Ralph gave a faint smile as he entered the room and closed the door. His tall body approaching her slowly.

His aura was so strong that she was forced to move backward until she ended up hitting the side of the bed and her whole body collapsing onto the bed.

Ralph lifted his hand and surrounded her right in the middle.

His long arms reached out for her phone and he clicked the video calling button to Connie.

It only took a while for Connie’s frightened face to appear on the phone.

Ralph switched off the phone's volume, bowed down to look at Lottie by the bed, and said, "Lottie Green."

His warm breath was hitting on the tip of her nose, "Tell her if I'm so ugly that you're afraid to show me to her."

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 24 What Did You Say

The aggressive aura surrounding this man made Lottie's brain disorientated.

In front of her was Ralph's handsome face that could make every woman scream.

Ralph used his hand to hold up her chin, and a playful smile spread across his lips, "I am indeed a low-profile person, but I shall allow you to be high-profile."

Such easy words paired with his deep and magnetic voice made it so charming.

Lottie felt herself powerless.

Her brain now was completely blank, and she had forgotten the words that she wanted to say.

His rough fingers rubbed against her lips, "If anyone dares discredit me in the future, let me know, and I will make them suffer the deadly pain."

After he finished talking, he gleefully looked at her reddened face, turned around, and left.

Lottie was dumbfounded on the bed. Her head was full of the scene that happened just now when he touched her body and smiled faintly.

After a while, she regained her sense.

Beside her, her phone was still on a video call with Connie.

But because Ralph lowered the volume, she only realized it now.

With a blushed face, she increased the volume.

Connie on the phone immediately screamed in surprise!

“Oh my god, Lottie! Was that just Ralph Chapman?”

“He looks so handsome. He’s not like what the rumor said!”

“His charm almost killed me! Just now when I watched his action to you, I was eager to watch you make love with him!” “You both look like a good match for each other! He is even more handsome than Luke Berry. You are so lucky!” Connie’s compliments made Lottie’s mood lighten up.

Suddenly, Connie slapped her forehead, “Lottie, I suddenly find something.”

“You didn’t reject his touch just now.”

Lottie paused slightly.

The incident that happened five years ago left her with a traumatic experience.

These five years, she could not even be intimate with Luke.

But it seemed that from the very beginning, she was never fully repulsive by any intimate contact with Ralph.

“Did Ralph actually heal you?”

Connie said in disbelief, “Or in other words, have you fallen in love with Ralph?”

Lottie shook her head, "Impossible." "Why is it impossible?"

"A guy like Ralph should be the Prince Charming for every woman. How can you be so sure that you didn't fall in love with him at the first sight?"

Lottie paused slightly.

Did she fall in love with him?

Maybe yes, or maybe no...

The next morning, when Lottie woke up, Ralph was still sleeping.

She propped her face with her elbow and looked at Ralph beside her seriously.

He was really a handsome man.

The words that Connie said lingered in her ears.

Would she fall in love with this man just at the first sight?

"How long do you want to look at me like this?"

All of a sudden, the man said this in a cold and deep voice.

Lottie came back to her sense, and Ralph in front of her had opened his eyes.

"Mrs. Chapman is looking at me early in the morning. Do you think I am tasty?" Her face blushed and she got down from the bed and went downstairs.

Looking at her flustered back, a smile spread across his face with satisfaction.

After breakfast, Lottie went to the Filming Town.

The moment she opened the door, a man in a suit came forward to welcome her, "Hello, I am Natalia Ross's assistant, Noel Davidson."

The man smiled and reached out his hand, "We heard that you are the best stunt double in this town, so Natalia asked me to come to invite you to be her stunt double."

Lottie pinched herself, "Are you sure it is Natalia Ross looking for me to be her stunt double?"

She felt like she was in a dream.

Natalia was her favorite actress!

But Natalia was a very famous actress, and usually insignificant stunt double like her would not have any chance to contact her.

It was hard to imagine.

But now this person was telling her that Natalia was inviting her?

"Yes."

With a smile, Noel brought her to the filming base, "You are the only female stunt double in this Filming Town. Natalia has seen your shows, and she thought it was good."

After he said it, he opened the door of the restroom, "Just go inside."

Lottie was still in disbelief as he followed him in.

This was not a dream.

She stood anxiously in front of the door, not sure what she had to do.

In the resting area, Natalia was wearing an ancient costume and retouching her makeup.

When Natalia saw her coming, she politely gestured Lottie to take a seat, "Noel has told you already, hasn't he?"

"Don't suffer so much in the future. Just focus on being my stunt double, and I will pay you thrice of what you have gotten before."

Happiness came so suddenly, and Lottie was dumbfounded, "Ms. Ross, you do not have any connections with me, so why do you insist on using me as your stunt double?"

Natalia smiled, "Because I have a friend who thinks that you are very competent."

Kayden Chapman came and begged her early in the morning, so she had to do him a favor.

"Do I know this friend of yours?"

Lottie furrowed her eyebrows. In her memory, she did not know of anyone who could be of high status.

Natalia smiled softly, "You will know him soon."

At the moment, the door of the resting room was opened, "Ms. Ross, the director asked if you are ready or not." "Yes."

Natalia smiled and stood up, "Lottie, are you interested in watching me do some scenes?"

Lottie nodded her head and followed her.

When they reached the site, she realized that Luke Berry was the leading actor in the movie that they were filming.

And Luke was not the only one on the site, because Isobel Mitchell was also there.

She was here to visit Luke on site.

At this moment, Luke and Isobel were both sitting at the dining table, drinking the same bowl of soup.

When Luke saw Lottie who was standing behind Natalia, Luke was frozen.

“Luke, what are you looking at?”

Isobel followed his gaze and looked where he was looking at...

Her stunned gaze became mocking.

She snorted, “No wonder she broke off with us. It turns out she has found a new gold mine.” Lottie knew that they were referring to her.

She pretended not to hear them and trailed closely behind Noel and Natalia.

At last, the filming was started, and Lottie sat in a little chair not far away, silently watching them.

‘Lottie, I thought you are as great as you said.’

As Lottie was focusing on looking at Natalia’s acting on-site, an indifferent voice was heard behind her, “You purposely became a stunt double for Natalia because you know that Luke is the leading actor in ‘As White as in Snow, right?’”

She crossed her arms and walked over with an arrogant look. She looked at Lottie in disdain, “Still lingering around.” “But you should know there is no place for you in Luke’s heart.”

Lottie smiled, “I should thank him since there is no place in his heart for me.”

“If not, I would have vomited.”

After finishing her sentence, she turned her head around and looked at Isobel, "I have known you for eight years, and I always thought you had high standards."

"But you surprised me because you even like the leftover trash."

Isobel furrowed her brows in anger, "Do you mean Luke is trash?"

"No."

Lottie yawned, "You have misunderstood."

"What I meant was you and Luke are both trash."

After she finished her sentence, she crossed her arms against her chest, turned around, and walked away.

"Lottie, keep being stubborn!"

Isobel gritted her teeth as she stared at Lottie's back, "You will never have the chance to hold Luke's hand in this lifetime, but I will!"

The moment she finished her sentence, Natalia also finished her action.

Noel walked over and gave a script to Lottie, "As the crew would like to speed up the process of filming, the director has asked Natalia to go over to another site. You can go to change clothes and put on makeup. After that, you will be filming some scenes with Luke Berry."

"The plot is for you to stand in your own spot, and Luke will walk to you step by step, and then he will hold your hand." Lottie felt it was funny.

She raised her head, looked at Isobel, "What did you say? Did you just say that I will not have a chance to hold Luke Berry's hand in this lifetime?"

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 25 You Just Like to Abuse Yourself

Isobel's face was gloomier than a cloudy sky.

Lottie smiled, "It's needed for work. You're not jealous, right?"

Luke just so happened to come over at that moment.

Isobel aggrievedly threw herself straight into his arms, "Luke, Lottie is making me angry on purpose."

"I asked her to treat the acting with you seriously, but she said I was being jealous..."

"We've been together for so many years, why should I be jealous of her?"

Luke wrinkled his eyebrows and coldly swept a glance at Lottie, "Although we had an unpleasant past, we're on set now." "I hope you put aside your prejudices of the past, Lottie Green. Take your work seriously and be professional."

"Okay."

Lottie stretched her back, "Since we're taking our work seriously, then isn't it also unprofessional for Mr. Berry to indulge his girlfriend in telling me what to do on set?"

Her voice was quite loud, attracting the attention of many casts and staff members.

And some of them also began to discuss.

"I think she is right. So many stars all have their girlfriends, but I haven't seen any of them who need their girlfriends to accompany them on set every day."

“You don’t understand. This is a publicity stunt. That Isobel Mitchell was a net celebrity before. She didn’t have any great work and if it wasn’t for her relationship with Luke Berry, she couldn’t even get a film contract. That’s why she needs to show affection every day to validate her existence!”

‘That’s just really disgusting. With no talent and only relying on crooked ways to survive in the entertainment industry...’ The sounds of those people’s comments were getting louder and louder.

Isobel was embarrassed and then her face turned pale.

In the end, she got out of Luke’s arms with a cold face, “I’m going to leave first.”

Luke hurriedly went after Isobel and coaxed her for a long time while holding her hand.

Lottie sat on a chair and flipped through the script while looking at Luke who was coaxing Isobel at a distance. Her heart was feeling a bit uncomfortable.

She and Luke had been together for six years, but he had never treated her like that.

Ten minutes later, the set started shooting.

Lottie was standing there with her back to the camera and watched Luke walk towards her step by step.

It was a modern-day drama in which Luke played a cold and ruthless domineering president.

Luke, with completed makeup, wore a white suit and walked towards Lottie with cold and sullen steps.

Sounds of other actresses’ gasps could be heard all around.

“So handsome...”

“Luke Berry is worthy of this year’s hottest actor in Taurus Awards. He’s so charming!” ‘I really dream that he could be my husband...”

Lottie frowned while listening to the praises and looked at Luke’s face quietly.

The more she looked at that face, the more disgusted she felt.

Lottie really didn’t know what she loved him so much in the first place and had actually wasted six years of her youth for such a man.

He wasn’t even half as good as Ralph Chapman.

‘Lottie Green.”

As there were no lines between them in this scene, so when Luke held Lottie, he lowered his voice and said, “You did it on purpose just now, didn’t you?”

“You deliberately said that I’m unprofessional because my girlfriend is here, and let those people scold her.” Lottie faintly narrowed her eyes and sneered, “Sort of on purpose.”

If Luke hadn’t said he wanted her to be professional at first, then she wouldn’t have deliberately targeted Isobel.

She wasn’t as vicious as they were.

“I hope you won’t do this next time.”

“Isobel is shy, unlike you don’t care no matter how people talk about you.”

Lottie felt cold as if it had fallen into an ice cave.

Isobel was shy.

Was she shameless then?

Luke's words were still hurting her so much, "If something like this happens again in the future, then I will no longer be so kind to you."

Before Lottie could refute his words, the director had already called for a cut.

"Good job. That's okay."

Luke let go of Lottie's hand indifferently, "Remember what I said."

Standing still, Lottie looked at Luke's back as he left, biting on her lips hard.

She had mixed feelings, upset, disappointed, or even heartbroken.

Lottie could find that Luke really cared much about Isobel.

He worried about her, said ruthless words for her, and betrayed Lottie for her.

But Luke had never done any one of these things for Lottie.

She had completely lost in this relationship of six years.

The day's work was over, and Lottie returned home sullenly.

"Lottie, are you not happy?"

After finishing dinner, Fabian rested his cheeks on both of his hands, blinked his big eyes, and looked at Lottie's face seriously, "You only smiled five times tonight, and they were all bitter smiles."

"You have something on your mind?" Looking at the little one's bright eyes, Lottie shook her head helplessly, "I'm fine." "No, you're not fine!"

Fabian pursed his lips, and while he was telling jokes to amuse Lottie, he took out his cellphone and sent a message to his brother.

“Elijah, something big has happened! Lottie is in a bad mood today!”

Elijah, who was reading a book upstairs, picked up his phone and took a look at it. Then he went straight to the study.

In the study, Ralph was reading a document seriously with his head down.

Hearing a sound at the door, he raised his head, “Anything?”

“Yes.”

Elijah walked over. He climbed onto the chair with his short legs, then from the chair to the table, and finally sat directly in front of Ralph and stared straight at him with his wide eyes, “Your wife’s not happy today.”

Ralph wrinkled his eyebrows, picked up the phone, and dialed a number, “Come to me.”

A minute later, a tall bodyguard knocked on the door and came in warily. He placed a small notebook on the desk, “This is Mrs. Chapman’s itinerary today.”

Ever since Lottie was kidnapped by Mr. Miller last time, Ralph had asked someone to silently protect her every day.

Elijah frowned and picked up the small notebook. Then he realized, “Ex-boyfriend and an ex-best friend showed their love to Lottie.”

“That’s why Lottie is not happy.”

Ralph frowned slightly.

When he was on the set that day, he clearly saw how Lottie faced Luke and Isobel. She had a carefree look on her face back then.

But why she was annoyed by them again?

Was Luke Berry really so good that she still couldn't forget him until now?

Ralph tugged his collar in annoyance and lowered his head to continue working.

Elijah snatched the document over, "Mr. Chapman."

"As a husband, what you should do now is to go and make your wife happy."

"Instead of working here."

"You have to know clear about the situation now. You have a lot of money but only one wife."

Elijah rarely said so many words.

Ralph looked at his earnest little face and smiled, "Since Lottie was married in, you've talked a lot more." Elijah was stunned for a bit. He blushed slightly, "Have 1?"

"Yeah."

Ralph's large hands took the document back nimbly and organized them on the table, "You like her that much, huh?" "Yes..."

Elijah pursed his lips and lowered his head, "I also don't know why."

"I just think she's very affectionate and she's more like a mom than others."

Ralph sighed, lifted his arms, and carried the little one out of the study, 'I'll go to make her happy now.' "Okay."

It was the first time being hugged like this by his dad, and little Elijah's face blushed to his neck, "Daddy, I'm very happy that you're willing to treat her well."

Ralph laughed helplessly, "Since the two of you like her, then I will follow you as well."

"She's my wife. Of course, I should make her happy."

Ralph went back to the bedroom after sending Elijah back to his room.

In the bedroom, Lottie had her eyes closed and was applying a facial mask while listening to the news broadcast.

When Ralph entered the room, the radio just so happened to be broadcasting the entertainment section.

"Mr. Berry, there are endless speculations about your recent romance. May I ask what's your thought about it?"

"People all think that it's Isobel who took advantage of me, but that's actually not it. We've been together for five years and when she was with me, I was just a nobody..."

"Snap!"

Luke's interview was just halfway through when a large hand with long and slender knuckles turned the radio off directly.

Lottie opened her eyes hastily.

In front of her eyes was Ralph who was several times more handsome than Luke.

Ralph wrinkled his eyebrows faintly and looked at her, "You watched them show their love on-site during the day, and you still want to listen to them showing their love over the broadcast at night?"

"Lottie Green, you just like to abuse yourself, huh?"