

Bride Of The Mysterious CEO Chapter 102

Leonardo ignored her and walked out of the meeting room.

Elena sat on the chair in disappointment and asked Jasper. "Why didn't you speak up for me just now? I feel like he was deliberately targeting me."

Before Jasper could say anything, the assistant called Michelle came in. "Miss Elena, please go back. The decision made by our CEO will never change."

"I have made it very clear. If I can't sign it today, I will come back tomorrow. If I can't sign it tomorrow, I will come back the day after. I will not give up."

Elena brought Jasper out of the meeting room. On the way back, she had been thinking of countermeasures. She would try another method the next day.

She had to be prepared to fight a protracted battle.

Jasper reminded her from the side, "Madam, why don't we go back? I'm afraid that the two of us will not be able to resolve this matter. If we continue to persist, it will only delay time."

Elena furrowed her brows as she recalled what Ryan had said to her. It was not easy for her to help Ryan with something, and she did not want to give up so easily.

"I will think of something else about this matter. You go back and tell Ryan to withstand the pressure and wait for my good news."

"Since Madam doesn't want to go back, I won't go back either."

“Okay, let’s work hard together.”

Elena put away the documents and strode out.

Jasper glanced at Michelle and shook his head. Michelle also looked at him and revealed a strange smile.

“Jasper, long time no see.”

Jasper looked out and made sure that Elena would not hear him. Then he whispered. “You be careful. If Madam hears you, it will be exposed!”

“Don’t worry. I will be careful. I will come out for a drink tonight when I have time.”

Michelle did not know what kind of person Elena was in the past. But today, he had experienced it.

“It’s better to forget about drinking. We will talk about it in the future.”

Since Ryan asked him to protect Elena, he had to protect her well. If something went wrong, his life would not be enough to compensate for it.

After sending Jasper off, Michelle came to the office.

The man was standing in front of the French window, holding a glass of red wine in his hand.

“Master, the two of them have already left.”

“Find people to guard that hotel and not allow strangers to stay in. you must ensure the safety of the two of them.”

The man still wore a mask on his face, but his voice was no longer as cold and hoarse as before.

Michelle nodded in agreement and said, “Master, there are no outsiders now. You can take off the mask.”

The man drank the wine in his cup in one gulp. “During this period of time, I will always wear the mask. There are people secretly looking for trouble with me. You go and find out who it is.”

Leonardo put down the glass and sat on the luxurious sofa.

Michelle’s eyebrows were tightly knitted together, “It should be someone from somewhere else.”

“Adams?”

“Well...” Michelle did not know how to answer.

Michelle did not know who said Adams that his master had a handsome face under his mask and had always wanted to have dinner with his master.

“Send someone to tell him that if he does this kind of thing again, I don’t mind giving him a taste.” Leonardo’s face was full of impatience. This man was as annoying as a dog skin plaster.

“One more thing. Recently, a woman appeared beside Adams...” Michelle said and observed Leonardo’s expression.

“This is good. It will save me trouble.” Leonardo leaned against the sofa and closed his eyes.

He had been on the plane for the whole night and was a little tired. He wanted to have a good rest.

“Mister, it should be that woman who instigated Adams and made him...”

“Asking him to find trouble with me?” Leonardo did not take it to heart. He was not afraid of anyone provoking him, he just felt impatient.
