

Bride Of The Mysterious CEO Chapter 114

It was not easy for him to slowly take over Ryan's business. Now that he had signed such a big contract, it would only make Ryan more deeply rooted in the Monor family company.

"Since you can sign such a contract, I believe you can solve these troublesome cases as well."

Roman continued to push all the documents on the table in front of Ryan and handed all these troublesome problems to him.

However, before Ryan could say anything, Elena stepped forward and took a look at the documents. Then, she tore all the contracts.

"What are you doing?!"

These contracts were all important documents signed by Monor family and the companies that were close to each other. There were also some important confidential documents. Elena tore them off in front of him?

Ryan did not say anything, because he felt that his wife was doing the right thing.

They had already collaborated with other countries, so why would they care about such small contracts?

"President, it seems that you still don't believe in our abilities. These documents are not challenging for us at all. Since we can sign a contract with Kings, why should we care about these small companies?"

Elena threw all the torn pieces of paper on Roman's table.

“President, you should find someone to clean up your own table. The two of us prepared this contract for a long time. I also ran for a month to get it. So you don’t have to continue using useless things to drag us down.”

“The most important thing right now is how to consolidate the contract with King. If you offend this big client, the Monor Group will suffer a loss.” Elena threatened.

Elena knew that Roman wouldn’t dare to bet. He could not afford to gamble either. If he offended the company, everyone would be implicated.

Roman raised his head and looked at Elena.

Although she was Ryan’s wife, he had to admit that this woman was very efficient and capable. Compared to Amara, this woman was much better.

What was he thinking at that time? Why was he with Amara? If he had pursued Elena at that time, perhaps his company would not have any problems now.

On the other hand, Amara, other than having a family that could support her, she was useless. Although she usually had some ability to work, she was far from being as good as Elena.

“I know. In the future, you two will handle all the information. I will not let a third person interfere.” Roman had no choice but to admit defeat when he thought of this. After all, this cooperation was facilitated by the two of them.

Moreover, the CEO of that company had a very unique personality. Naturally, he would not hand it over to other people just like that.

Elena smiled and picked up the contract. "President, you can rest assured about this. Since the two of us are already in charge of this case, we will definitely handle it until the end. Therefore, we will definitely not let anyone have the opportunity to snatch the business from the two of us."

"Ryan, there is something I have to remind you. Your so-called cousin should not stay in the company anymore. It is useless. She only likes to form cliques, and she also likes to gossip about others. Our Monor Group does not care about idle people."

Roman had already discovered this many times, so he reminded Ryan to get rid of it as soon as possible.

Although the two of them did not get along, but he knew what kind of personality Ryan had. He definitely would not choose such a woman to work in the company. It seemed that Elena was thinking of letting Tina enter the company.

"We will see it." After Elena finished speaking, she pushed Ryan out of Roman's office.

After they walked out, Elena and Ryan heard a series of crackling sounds coming from the office.

Elena laughed and said. "It seems that your brother has quite a temper."

"Ignore him." This man's temperament had always been like this.

Elena and Ryan returned to the office. Both of them looked at each other and started to laugh loudly. They vented the emotions they had been holding back.

Tina, who was outside, heard the sound and was about to go up to check it out, but she still had to pay attention to it during this period of time. She did not want to expose her thoughts.

“Hahaha... You didn’t see the expression on Roman’s face just now. It was too funny. For a moment, I thought I wouldn’t be able to hold back my laughter and start laughing in front of him.”

Seeing the smile on Ryan’s face, Elena clearly felt that Ryan had become a lot more cheerful these days.

Elena also hoped that Ryan could walk out of the shadow of the car accident and not be cold all day.

“Of course you will be angry if you throw a stone at you own feet. His ultimate goal is nothing more than to chase me out of the company. Unfortunately, his wish has failed. Usually, he can endure it. Today, he was so angry that he lost his temper in the company.”

Ryan understood Roman. This man would try his best to maintain his perfect image in front of others. But this time, he was the one who got himself into trouble.
