

Bride Of The Mysterious CEO Chapter 118

“Take a good care of your man. Don’t blame everything on us. Ryan has never been associated with Roman. I believe you know very well about this.”

“And if you dare to insult my husband again, don’t blame me for not caring about our relationship.”

Elena turned her head and looked at Mason. “Grandfather, I will investigate the accident five years ago. There are too many suspicious points. I have to take it seriously. If I find out that the incident is related to the people here, I will definitely not tolerate it.”

Elena did not believe that everything that happened back then had been covered up. She knew that the car accident was the same as the one that happened to Ryan. So she would definitely find out the truth about this matter.

Five years ago, she lost her father.

For five years, her mother had suffered from illness and torture.

She lost her everything in these five years.

She swore that she would make the culprit pay the price.

“Your parents got into a car accident. They deserved it. Why should you blame it on us?”

Amara still did not have any fear. Instead, she became even more arrogant and domineering.

After all, she had never been bullied since she was young. Now that she was bullied to such an extent, how could she be willing to accept it?

Elena had a cold smile on her face. "Is that so? I will definitely investigate this matter thoroughly. Back then, I did not find any clues in the Monor family, but it does not mean that I will not be able to find them in the future. Although so many years passed, I can tell you all clearly that all of you are within my scope of investigation."

After thinking for a while, she looked at Jonathan. "Uncle, you should look for Roman about the company. Without Roman's permission, Ryan has no right to give you the contract."

Jonathan heard Elena's words and became anxious. "Elena, things are not what you think. Lewis Group really needs help now. You are also a member of the Lewis family. For the sake of Uncle finding good family for you, please help me."

When Elena heard that Jonathan still dared to talk about her marriage, she instantly became furious.

"When Uncle says this, why don't you pat your conscience first? You know what exactly happened to my marriage in your heart. What happened in these few years, I also have a clear account book in my heart."

Jonathan kept saying that this was a problem with the Lewis family company, but he didn't say what the problem was. Even at this point, he still didn't tell the truth.

Elena looked at Mason. "Grandpa, the matter has already reached this point. Don't you want to tell the truth? If you continue wasting time like this, my husband and I will be leaving."

In the end, Mason still sighed. He looked at Elena in front him and shook his head helplessly.

"Jonathan, you should tell them everything. My face has been completely thrown away by you. I worked so hard to create the Lewis group, but I didn't expect that it would all be destroyed by you. Have you considered my feelings? Do you know how we've been living these past few years? Now that you've done something like this, I don't want to bother with you anymore."

“I’m sorry, it’s my fault. After I entered the company, I used a large amount of money to gamble, and I lost all my money. If I don’t have a large amount of money to make up for this loophole, the company will face bankruptcy...”

Jonathan was also very vexed. He didn’t know when he lost so much money that he almost lost the company.
