Chapter 41 She Fainted

When Elena arrived at the company, everyone was already working in their own desks. Elena came to her office with an awkward expression.

Elsa walked over from the side, "Do you know what time is it? Do you really think the company is your own home? Do you think you can come and go as you please?"

"I am sorry supervisor. I did get up little late today. I worked overtime a little last night. When I went back, the door downstairs was already locked. So when the wind blew, my body felt a little uncomfortable." Elena explained.

However, Elsa was not optimistic about Elena's explanation, "Just say that you are lazy. I told you that you do not have so many excuses to work in this company. If you do not want to work, pack your thing and get the hell out of here."

"Manager, what I said is true. I am still burning up right now." Elena said again.

Elsa crossed her arms and looked at Elena. "Since you are having a fever, why did you come to the company?"

"Hurry back to your job. Don't lose your job as soon as you come. There are many people who want to squeeze into Monor family to work but have no chance. You have already come in through the back door. Let me tell you, if you don't want to work here, get the hell out of here and get some space for others."

After Elsa finished teaching Elena a lesson, she angrily stepped on her high heels, which were more than ten centimeters long and left. The entire floor was being steeped on by her until it made clanking sounds.

Elena let out a long breath. This could be considered to have passed the test, right? It was better to quickly return to her job and continue working.

She had not finished reading those documents. She knew that those people were deliberately making fun of her, but Elena did not want to admit defeat to them.

Elena was dizzy from reading the documents due to her illness. In a daze, Elena felt a little sleepy and fell asleep on the table.

But in the next second, she heard a bang and it scared Elena so much that she shivered. She stood up and saw Nova standing in front of her. She even put down a stack of new folders in her hands.

“You actually dare to sleep here! Did the company ask you to sleep here?” Nova’s face was full of disdain. When she saw this woman, she felt disgusted. She did not know what method this woman used to seduce Roman that he actually let her enter the Manor’s.

Elena looked at Nova and then looked at the stack of documents, “What are these?”

“Of course there is new information that needs to be sorted out by you.”

Elena frowned. She opened one of the documents but found these documents were not new at all. They were all from a few years ago.

“These are things from a few years ago. Why do you want me to sort them out?” Elena was somewhat dissatisfied. Asking her to deal with the documents for this year was already within her tolerance limit, but she did not expect these people to be more and more excessive.

“You still dare to yell at me? Do you really think you are someone important? Don’t think that you can do whatever you want just because you are following Mr. Roman. Is the president someone that a woman like you can get close to?”

“Who do you think is bad? Tell me again.”

Elena originally held back the matter of this woman giving her trouble, but she did not think that this woman would actually dare to scold her. If a tiger does not show its might, do you really think that I am Hello Kitty?

“Let’s talk about you. What do you think?”

Just as Elena was about to go forward and argue, the sound of door opening suddenly sounded behind them. The two of them turned around and saw that it was Jackson.

When Nova saw Jackson, she was stunned for a moment before her heart was filled with joy. “Master Hall, why are you here?”

Everyone in H city knew that Jackson was a famous playboy. Whoever could be with him would definitely become successful in the future.

“Do I need to report to you about what I’m doing here?” Jackson’s face was full of disdain. He looked at the woman who was unhappy. Then he looked at Elena, who was beside him and said, “Sister-in-law ...”

“Ahem, hello, Mr. Hall” Elena coughed and interrupted Jackson.

Jackson skimmed through the documents and saw the pile of documents on the desk. He frowned and said, “She is here to be the assistant to the General Manager, not to sort out the files.” Jackson’s tone became heavier and heavier and then his eyes became cold.

“Master Hall, you misunderstood. I wanted Elena to understand the history of the Monor’s, so I asked her to organize these documents.”

However, in the next second, Elena, who was standing at the side, fell to the ground and lost consciousness.

“Sister-in-law ...”

Jackson was stunned. He immediately picked Elena up and rushed out.

Chapter 42 Help Me Guard Her

Nova, who was behind could not help but frown. This Elena was too good at acting. Why did she only faint when Jackson came?

Elsa, who was outside, saw that Jackson actually carried Elena and ran out. She immediately frowned and walked into the office, “What happened? Why did Jackson carry Elena out?”

Everyone in the company knew that Elsa like Jackson. Although she was by Roman’s side, she was chosen by Roman because of her outstanding abilities.

When Nova heard this, her face was full of dissatisfaction. “You’re still asking? I think she was just pretending. She was perfectly fine when she talked to me earlier. I didn’t expect she would faint after Jackson coming here.”

Elsa could not help but clench her fists when she heard that. This damn Elena actually dared to snatch her man. She must be irreconcilable with this woman.

On the other side, Jackson carried Elena to the car and rushed to the hospital. When he just came out, he found that Elena already had a fever and it seemed like it had not been long.

After coming to the hospital, Jackson took advantage of Elena being pushed in for a check-up and called Mrs. Baker to come over and take care of Elena. As a man, it was inconvenient for him to be here, so it was better to let her take care of Elena.

When Mrs. Baker heard this, she rushed to the hospital. Her expression was hurried and her face was full of anxiety. When she saw Jackson, she immediately ran over, "Mr. Hall, how is our Madam?"

"She just caught a cold and has a fever. The doctor has already given her a fever injection. It will be good as long as she wakes up. Before coming to the company, didn't you notice that she was not feeling well?" Jackson asked.

Mrs. Baker was Ryan's nanny and naturally had to take care of Elena. Why did she not even notice that she was sick?

"Last night, Madam was trapped in the company and had a fever when she came back. I wanted to let her sleep a little longer in the morning, but Madam insisted on going to work." Mrs. Baker explained.

"Why would she be trapped in the company? What exactly is going on?" Jackson frowned and asked.

Mrs. Baker was not clear about the company's matters. She only heard Elena say a few words when she came back. "It seems that the first day she came to the company, the people let her read a lot of documents."

Jackson understood when he heard this. He just did not expect Elena would rather work overtime than be laughed at by others. This woman's character was really similar to Ryan's.

"You can take care of her here. I have to leave first." After Jackson finished speaking, he glanced at Elena, who was lying on the bed and turned around to leave the ward,

In the car outside the hospital, Jackson called Ryan.

Ryan, who was in the middle of a meeting, saw that it was Jackson's phone and didn't take it. He did not like to be disturbed while working.

However, Jackson kept calling Ryan. Ryan had no choice but to pick up the phone outside.

"You better give me a reason to pick up your phone."

"Does it count if Elena fainted?"

“The reason.” Ryan’s tone was extremely cold. There was actually someone who dared to touch his woman. He was really courting death!

“Ryan recommended Elena to go in. it is inevitable that someone will make things difficult for her. As for the specific situation, I believe you know it clearly in your heart.” Jackson did not hide anything. Anyway, Ryan and Roman were already great enemies. He did not mind fanning the flames.

He also hoped that Ryan could make a move earlier. Roman had occupied that position for too long.

“Help me guard her. Don’t let her go back to the company before I go back.”

The Monor family company was a wolf’s den. After Roman introduced Elena to it, she would definitely become the target of public criticism.

Most of the people in the company were Roman’s men. Because Ryan was second young master Monor, they did not dare to do anything to him openly. But Elena was different. If someone knew Elena was Ryan’s wife, she would not be able to move an inch in the company in the future.

“I advise you to hurry back and rectify the atmosphere of the company.” Jackson could not help but remind her.

Elena’s personality was too stubborn. If she insisted on doing this, she would suffer. In the end, it would only bring harm to herself.

“Got it.” After saying those three words, Ryan hung up the phone fiercely in the next second.

Chapter 43 Jackson’s Counterattack

Jackson was about to say something, when Ryan directly hung up the phone.

“Hello...?” Jackson was stunned and could not help frowning.

This man is too overbearing!

However, Jackson also knew that if he let Elena return to the company these few days, there would be many more problems. She was Ryan's personal secretary. Some things were better to wait for Ryan to come back before dealing with them.

Roman's brilliant point was that he brought Elena in on the surface. He let Elena remember his kindness, but also secretly let others bully Elena. It was a good plan.

Just when Jackson was about to leave the hospital, his phone suddenly rang. When he saw the caller ID, he could not help sneering. "I haven't found you yet, but you have come to find me."

Jackson picked up the phone and said in a strange tone, "Yo, isn't this Young Master Monor? Why are you calling me at this time?"

"Did you come to the company today?" Roman's tone was somewhat unfriendly.

"Yes, what's wrong?" He had indeed gone to the company. So many people had seen it, and he had even taken Elena away. But so what?

"Jackson Hall, don't forget your identity. Our Monor's isn't a place where you can come and go as you please." Roman scolded.

He wanted to rope Jackson in, but this man didn't know how to appreciate his kindness. Since he was on Ryan's side, he shouldn't blame Roman for being heartless.

Jackson wasn't someone who could be easily bullied. When he heard Roman's words, he immediately said unhappily, "Young Master Monor, no matter what, our two families are friends. Besides, I have a deep relationship with Ryan. Ryan is now on a business trip overseas. Is there anything wrong with me coming here to help him?"

"Since you say so, then aren't you skipping work now?" Roman did not want to let Jackson go easily.

"Yes, I am. You can do whatever you want. If there is nothing else, I will hang up first." Jackson immediately started acting like a rascal.

Roman was really angry. He really could not do anything to Jackson.

However, Roman did not come to him because of this matter. It was because of Elena.

"Did you come to the company today to take Elena away? What reason do you have to take her away?" Roman said. Elsa had just told him about Elena being taken away by Jackson. He brought Elena into Monor's to monitor her every move, but he did not expect that she would be taken away by Jackson.

Hearing this, Jackson let out a cold laugh, "So young master Monor also knows about Elena. You and I both know Elena's identity. She has a fever of 39 degrees. Don't tell me you, as the big brother, don't care about her? What more do you want her to continue sorting out?"

"What did you say? Elena has a fever?" A trace of surprise appeared in Roman's eyes. He indeed did not know about this matter.

However, Jackson kept pressing forward step by step. "I think you did it on purpose, taking advantage of the fact that Ryan isn't bullying his wife. Only you, Roman Monor, could think of such a method."

"Don't go too far with your words. It's not your place to talk nonsense about my brother and me." Roman shouted angrily.

"I really don't want to interfere with the matters between you two brothers, but Elena and I are also considered as friends. Since we are friends, I can't just watch her get bullied in the company. Also ... since Elena is sick, I will take a leave on her behalf. Before Ryan comes back, she will not go to the company to work. As the CEO, you better take care of your subordinate."

Without waiting for Roman to speak, Jackson hung up the phone.

On the other side, Roman was quite angry. Jackson's temper was indeed the same as Ryan's.

However, he did not expect Elena to have a fever. When he thought of her youthful and lovely face, Roman did not know why, but he felt a little restless in his heart.

Chapter 44 Ryan is Back

Elena was lying in the hospital. It was as if she had a long dream. There was a car accident, blood, screams and a big fire in the dream.

When Elena woke up, she found that she was in a white room. Elena looked around and found that she was in the hospital.

"You're awake?"

A magnetic voice came to Elena's ear. Elena was shocked and turned her head to see the man beside her.

Elena was immediately surprised, "You? Why and when did you come back?"

Because of the fever, her throat was already somewhat hoarse.

"I know you are sick. I came back last night." Ryan said with heartache.

Elena looked carefully and found that Ryan's face was indeed a little haggard. It was probably because he had been through the night.

Elena sighed helplessly. "You are so busy with work. There is no need to come back. I am just having a fever. There is no big problem."

"My work isn't as important as yours." Ryan said and the door was opened.

Mrs. Baker walked over with a thermos box. "Madam, I made some porridge at home. You should drink it while it's hot. The doctor said that your fever has gone down. It's better to eat something light."

After Mrs. Baker finished speaking, she placed the things in her hands on the bedside table and said, "You do not know how anxious Young Master was when he came back last night and rushed to the hospital. He did not even eat and did not rest for the whole night."

"Mrs. Baker, go and get the chopsticks." Ryan did not seem to want Elena to hear this and directly stopped Mrs. Baker from continuing. Mrs. Baker smiled faintly and walked out of the room.

Elena looked at the man in front of her, "Are you tired? Do you want to come up and rest? I am fine now."

"I am fine." Ryan said and handed the porridge to Elena. "Eat it while it's hot. Your throat is so hoarse."

After saying that, he looked at the time. "I'll go back and deal with some business first. I won't be going to the branch office for a business trip for now. I'll stay at home to accompany you during this period of time." Then, he sat in a wheelchair and left the ward.

Elena, on the other hand, was a little surprised. Why did this man suddenly worry for her? Elena clearly remembered what he had said to Spencer back then.

But thinking about it, Elena felt relieved. Everything was because of the marriage. She and Ryan had not reached the point where they could not be separated. Thinking about this, Elena did not feel so uncomfortable.

At night, Elena had already completed the discharge procedures. She did not like the atmosphere in the hospital, so she went back after visiting her mother.

When Elena returned to her room, she found that Ryan's study door was closed. It seemed that Ryan was still handling work inside.

"It's so late and you still don't want to rest?" Elena opened the door of the study. Ryan was concentrating on his work and did not hear Elena's question.

Seeing him unmoved, Elena could only return to her room. After thinking for a while, she went to the kitchen to prepare some food and waited for Ryan to finish his work.

When Ryan finished his work, it was already midnight. He stretched his body and walked out of the study. Only then did he realize that the light in the living room was still on.

Ryan sat in a wheelchair and came to the living room. He found that Elena had fallen asleep at the dining table. The food on the table had long since cooled down.

"Elena, wake up. Go back to your room and sleep." Ryan said.

Elena opened her sleepy eyes and looked at Ryan. "Have you finished your work? I prepared some food for you, but I didn't expect you to take so long to finish your work. These dishes are all cold."

"It doesn't matter, just heat it up. I'm hungry too. Come and eat with me." Ryan did not want to waste Elena's hard works.

Elena stood up and went to the kitchen to heat up the dishes. She brought them back to the dining table. "Quickly try it. Is it suitable for your appetite?"

Ryan picked up the chopsticks and tasted it. "It's very good."

The three simple words were undoubtedly affirmation of Elena. After hearing the praise, Elena was very happy. "If you think it's delicious, then eat more."

"Yes." Ryan looked at the woman in front of him as he ate. Then he seemed to have thought something. "How are you handling the matters at the company?"

"My first day at work only allowed me to sort out some information about the past and let me understand the company's history."

“Then what do you think?” Ryan asked.

When Elena reported all her thoughts, Ryan's eyes were filled with praise, “I didn't think that I would really pick up a treasure.”

Ryan smiled and put down the bowls and chopsticks in his hands. He said in a serious manner, “Do you know that the transaction funds of Monor family have changed a lot in the past few years?”

“Indeed. It should be because of the high demand of goods over the past few years that such a problem occurred. However, the specific situation still needs to be analyzed.”

“Did those people bully you?” Ryan suddenly asked.

“Ah? I don't think son. Maybe because I'm new, I'll get better in a while.”

Elena knew the rules of the company. A small fry like her would naturally become a topic of conversation for the seniors.

“Didn't you think of resisting when they bullied you?” Ryan frowned.

Elena just smiled faintly. “Being patient for a while doesn't mean that you will be patient for the rest of your life.”

Ryan once again showed an approving look. “You are very smart.”

“Thank you.” Elena also gladly accepted it. She had stayed in her father's company for a period of time before, so she was already used to those mutual deception in the company.

It was just that these people's methods were too lowly, so she did not have the mood to pay attention to these people.

“If you feel well tomorrow, come to work with me.” After Ryan said that, he picked up the chopsticks and started eating again.

“Don’t we need to avoid arousing suspicion?” Elena looked doubtfully. When she went to the company, she did not reveal her identity to the public. She did not know if it would affect Ryan.

“No need.” Because Ryan had a better plan, of course. It’s got to be a two-person relationship.

After saying that, the two of them returned to their bedroom and went to bed to rest.

However, just as Elena fell asleep, she heard a ringing sound in a trance. Ryan took out his phone and looked at the caller ID. Then he sat in a wheelchair and walked out of the room.

“Did you find anything? Do you know who that woman was?” Ryan asked excitedly.

“I’m sorry, boss. We found out where that woman lived, but the landlord said that she moved away two months ago. As for where she went, we don’t know.”

Hearing Xavier’s answer, Ryan felt a little annoyed. He thought he had found out about the woman, who saved him, but he didn’t expect to cut off the clues this time.

After a while, Xavier said, “Sir, there is one more thing I need to tell you.”

“Speak.” Ryan’s tone was a little unhappy and there was a trace of coldness in his words.

“Ella is the fake name of that girl but she did not reveal the real name to the landlord. After all, that is the old city, so the investigation on the identity card is not very strict.”

If what Xavier said just before made Ryan feel a little disappointed, then what he said just now would undoubtedly push Ryan to the bottom of the valley.

If he didn’t even know the real name of a person, then this matter would be like throwing a stone into the ocean.

“Got it. Let’s stop this matter now.” Since the girl had already moved away from that place, it must be because she felt that it was too dangerous there.

This was also good, in case those people came looking for trouble with her again.

After hanging up the phone, Ryan took out a necklace from the drawer.

“How on the earth should I find you?”

The next day, Ryan and Elena came to the company. When Nova saw Elena, her expression was not good, but because Ryan was here, she did not want to flare up. She could only mock, "Miss Elena is so weak and still came to work? Better rest at home for a few days."

Elena could not help but smile and looked at Nova in front of her. "I am afraid that you will snatch my seat, so it is better for me to come back and take a look."

"You ..." Nova originally wanted to curse but found that Ryan was looking at her and forcefully swallowed those words back into her stomach.

Elsa saw that Ryan had come back to work and immediately softened her stance, "General Manager, I have put the information this time in your office. After you sign, you can report it to the president."

"In the future, don't put this kind of documents in my hands. These things don't need me to care." After saying that, Ryan went to his office desk.

Elena was the only one standing outside. Elsa looked at her indifferently and smiled disdainfully. "Huh, I didn't expect you to hook up with Mr. Hall. Elena, you are really good."
