Chapter 59

Chapter 59 Exchange Gifts

Elena was stunned when she heard Ryan's words. Then she looked at the man in front of her in surprise.

"Didn't you say that you got this painting yourself? Why is it... So precious?"

Isaac interrupted. "You don't know about this sister-in-law. Our, Second Brother, don't even know how many such precious things he has collected."

"Our, Second Brother's, collection is definitely real. But if this painting were to bump into that woman, it would be a pity."

Jackson unconsciously touched his chin, looking helpless and regretful. He had asked Ryan for this painting for a long time and had not given it to him. But he did not think that the painting would have stolen and benefit Roman and Amara for nothing.

Ryan called someone and hung up. He pushed the wheelchair to Elena's side. "Don't worry about this. Isaac, take this painting away. Someone will send something else later."

"It can't be. Are you planning to bring your own genuine product over?"

Ryan was so generous?

Elena immediately showed a touched expression. "Thank you, Ryan."

"We are husband and wife. This is a matter of your face. Maybe she only took this because she knew our gift was this. So before this farce begins, we still have to try our best to resolve it."

Ryan's expression didn't change. It was as if he had experienced this kind of thing countless times. Dealing with this kind of thing wasn't a problem at all.

On the other side, everyone surrounded Amara and bragged. "Director Lewis, you really raised such a good granddaughter. Not only you have such a filial granddaughter but you also find such a good grandson-in-law for you. It really makes us old bones envious."

"Director Lewis have such fortune. Even if we wanted, we won't have such fortune."

“Hahahaha, everyone praises me too much. This granddaughter of mine is usually spoiled by me. When she can come over and not cause me trouble, I have already burned my incense.”

Mason said politely with a bright smile on his face.

Amara, on the other hand, reproached him. “Grandpa, I have chosen a gift for you for a long time.”

“Hahaha, good, good, good. Grandpa likes it very much.” The more Amara behaved like this, the more Mason felt that his face had more face. He could not help but laugh again.

A golden light flashed in Roman’s eyes. The more Amara was doted on by Mason, the higher the chances of her inheriting the company in the future. It was necessary to please the old man.

Elena was wearing a formal dress today. Her pretty face was also very delicate. If he really compared Elena and Amara, he felt that Elena was better.

“Grandfather, I saw that Elena also came back. I will go and take a look.” Amara reminded Mason without leaving a trace. She wanted to see what Elena had prepared.

Mason immediately nodded his head, “Go, don’t cause any trouble for grandpa. You little brat only know how to cause trouble for grandpa”

Amara’s heart shivered. This old man was hinting her not to cause trouble for Elena, but if Elena made grandpa lose face in such an occasion, grandpa would definitely hate her even more.

“Don’t worry, grandfather. Today is your birthday banquet, how could I lose face for you? Don’t worry. I just want to have a good chat with my sister. I haven’t had a good chat with her in the past few days.” After Amara finished speaking, she emphasized the last few words, as if she was suppressing the emotions in her heart.

Amara pulled Roman to the front of Ryan and Elena. Although Ryan was sitting in a wheelchair, his knife-like eyes and handsome face made people unable to keep their eyes away from him.

So what if he was good-looking? He was just a cripple and would not be able to inherit the family business in the future. He was just a piece of trash.

“Elena, if it wasn’t for grandpa’s invitation, I’m afraid you wouldn’t even be able to enter the door, right? You have never attended such a banquet in the past five years. Don’t you feel that today is very grand and imposing?”

Amara's tone was harsh, totally not as innocent as when she was in front of the old man.

Elena smiled and was generous and proper. "Cousin Sister is right. But I came here because Grandfather personally invited me. I just don't know who invited you, Cousin? Uncle or aunt?"

"Talented. But even so, you still can't beat me." Amara raised her hand and grabbed Roman's arm, as if showing off.

Isaac looked at Amara indifferently, then turned to Roman and said, "Brother Roman, although you two look the same today, your clothes are a little different. Don't you think Amara's clothes look more high-end?"

"Is there any difference?" Amara customized Roman's and her cloths. He was only in charge of wearing them to accompany Amara to the birthday banquet.

Isaac walked around Roman and observed the cloths. "Although the colors of your clothes are familiar, black and they seem to match well, you should know that I am a designer. If you look closely, there are some parts of your cloths that don't match."

"Isaac, what do you mean? Don't try to sow discord between us. This set of clothes that Roman and I are wearing is specially customized!"

Amara showed a dissatisfied expression. She spent a lot of money and a long time to make this dress. In the end, she was rejected by this man.

"It's just a dress. You don't have to be so calculative." Roman's tone was heavier than before. He could probably tell that something was not right.

Amara quickly changed the topic, "Elena, today is Grandfather's 70th birthday, why didn't you bring any gifts? Do you really think that by receiving Grandfather's personal invitation, you can avoid gifts?"

"How do you know that I didn't bring any gifts?" Elena had a smile on her face. She seemed to be able to confirm what Ryan said before.

Ryan did not say anything from the beginning to the end, because he wanted to see these people act together. He had to say that these people from the Lewis family acted as well as those movie stars.

Amara sat on the sofa and poured herself a glass of wine. She drank by herself. "I really don't expect you to bring any gifts for grandpa with your poor look. If you need money, you can tell me... If I don't have a lot of pocket money in a month, I can lend you a few million."

"Big Sister can be a little louder. This is grandpa's 70th birthday. Let the guests guess that the Lewis family treats two young ladies differently. What do you think other people will think of grandpa?"

Elena spoke unhurriedly, completely suppressing the arrogance of this woman. Amara's dress was a long black dress with a long dress with a few dazzling diamonds hanging on it, while Elena was the opposite of her white. This dress did not have many decorations, only a bow tie was tied around her waist, but it showed her waist even more.

The two of them stood together in a completely different style, but Elena completely crushed Amara in terms of imposing manner.

"Elena, you are only so arrogant because of the special treatment Grandfather has given you during this period of time! Don't forget how you got married into the Monor family! What right you have now is just a gift from me."

Amara stood up and pulled Elena, whispering in her ear with hatred.

Ryan estimated that it was about time and saw Jackson coming in from outside.

Jackson naturally could not miss such a good show.

Jackson placed the box in Ryan's hand. "I have brought the thing over for you. Remember to thank me."

Amara saw the wooden box and became energetic. "This is the gift you prepared for grandpa. Let me take a look first."

Just as Amara was about to take the gift, Elena quickly snatched the box and placed it in her arms. She did not want Amara to touch it. "Since Big Sister has already given Grandfather a gift, then let's wait for a while before looking at this. Anyway, it is the same as early and late."

"Heh, what good things can you guys take out? It is just some worthless thing, right? I'll just wait here and see how embarrassing you are." After Amara finished speaking, she sat down again. She did not believe that Elena would have anything that could be taken out.

Ryan was now a cripple, and there was nothing to be afraid of.

Amara shouted from afar. "Grandfather, Elena said that she has a gift for you. Quickly come over and take a look."

Hearing Amara's call, Mason put down the things in his hands and walked in front of her.

"Didn't I tell you not to embarrass yourself? Which family's young lady shouts so loudly like you?"

"Grandfather, I am also worried for Elena. When they just came in, they forgot to give you a gift. So the reason why I called you over this time is to see what the gift they prepared."

After Amara finished speaking, her gaze once again fell onto the wooden box. Who would need this kind of wooden box to store things now? It could be seen how shabby this gift was.

Mason naturally saw the wooden box too. Elena revealed a smile and handed the thing in her hand to Mason. "Grandfather, when I just came in, I did not see you, so this gift is for you to accept."

Just as Mason was about to open the box, Ryan slowly opened his mouth and said, "Grandfather, you have to take it lightly and put it lightly. It is very expensive."

When everyone heard what Ryan said, they became even more curious about what was inside.

Even Mason's curiosity was aroused. The next second after the box was opened, everyone was stunned on the spot.

"So beautiful..."
