Chapter 61 Elena's Father's Things

When Mason opened the box, he was also amazed by what was inside. There was a fake mountain carved on top it, and there were all kinds of small pavilions and boats. The eagle flying on top of the pavilion was even more lifelike.

Mason was overjoyed. "How do you know I like jade?"

Mason had two hobbies. One was to collect antiques and famous painting, and the other was this kind of jade.

"Grandpa, there is actually another mystery behind this piece of jade. I don't know if you can see it." Elena was not in a hurry to answer Mason.

Elena had not opened the box before, but when she saw the curving of this piece of jade, she knew what it was.

Mason picked up the jade and looked at it. There was a line of words behind it. Everything was smooth and harmonious.

'May Jun Ruyi be happy with the Zhu family.'

When Mason saw these words, his eyes suddenly turned red. He looked at Elena with excitement. "How do you know this?"

Elena lowered her head and looked at the piece of jade in Mason's hand.

"Grandfather, actually I don't know. This sentence was often said by my father when he was alive. Because he felt that family should always be happy. And this was also taught to my father by my grandfather, right?"

When Elena mentioned Nathan, Mason's tears flowed out of his eyes.

"Elena, it was grandfather who neglected you all these years. In the future, when you are not busy, go home and accompany grandfather. These few years grandfather did not have time to take care of you. In the future, grandfather will not let anyone bully you."

Amara, who heard Mason's words, was very angry. The expression on her face changed unpredictably.

But Amara was also somewhat curious. Where did Elena get this kind of thing?

“I don’t know where my sister got this treasure.” Amara began to ask.

Could this thing be more precious than her precious painting?

Elena smiled, “Older sister naturally does not know the origin of this jade. This is my father’s private stash. It is just that later on when our family business met with a crisis, my father sold this jade and a few other precious things.”

“Since it has already been sold, why did you bring these things back? Or is it that these things were stolen by you?”

“Amara, don’t talk too much. Don’t forget what day it is today.” Mason heard Amara’s words and looked very displeased. But this jade was not only an ordinary piece of jade, but it also contained his longing for his eldest son.

However, Amara did not understand Mason’s words. Instead, she continued to be aggressive. “It’s better to consider this matter clearly, grandfather. If someone comes looking for us one day, it will be a loss of the Lewis family’s face.”

“That’s right. Since Elena has already said that it was her father who sold those things, why would it appear in this woman’s hands now?”

“It’s not like we don’t know about what happened five years ago. It was because Elena stole those things that she was chased out of the Lewis family. I’m afraid that this jade isn’t from the righteous path.”

“What a coincidence. I bought everything Mr. Lewis sold.” While crowd was discussing, Ryan said calmly.

Everyone could not help but look at the man sitting in the wheelchair with a casual look on his face.

While thinking, Elena also figured out one thing. Back then, Ryan was still the all-powerful CEO of Monors. Buying these few things was just a matter of moving one’s finger.

Roman’s eyes darkened when he heard this. Had this man already started to please the people of Lewis family at that time? Could it be that he had already thought of using the Lewis family to consolidate his position?

If it wasn’t for the car accident that caused his legs to be crippled for the rest of his life, no one would have been able to match this man.

After hearing Ryan's words, everyone stopped discussing. After all, five years ago, Ryan could be said to be all-powerful. Naturally, there wouldn't be any problems.

"Oh? Really?" Mason was a little excited. There were very few things left behind by Nathan in the family, so he really wanted to leave these things behind for himself.

After all, Nathan was the eldest son that he was very proud of. If the eldest son was still alive, how could the business of the Lewis family fall into his youngest son's hands?

"I am Elena's husband. Naturally, I can't lie about this matter." Ryan looked at Mason after he finished speaking. "Grandfather, do you still not believe it?"

"Of course I believe you. But... Can I discuss something with you after my birthday party today?" Mason was a little excited. These were all things related to his eldest son, he had to buy them back.

The Lewis Group was no longer the same company as before. These were things that his eldest son had sold in order to make up for the loopholes in the company. Now that the company was on the right track, it was reasonable for him to buy them back.

Ryan smiled when he heard that. "Grandfather, if you have anything to say, just tell me. Why do you need to discuss it with me?"

Of course, Ryan knew what this old sly fox wanted to do, but in order to consolidate the status of Lewis family for Elena, why not just give up?

Mason was very satisfied with Ryan's answer and expressed his gratitude.

"These things belong to my eldest son. He sold them all those years ago to make up for those loopholes in the Lewis Group. My son has passed away a long time ago, and the things he left behind are few and far between. So, I want to ask you, can you sell my son's relics to me again? No matter what price you want, I will accept it."

Jonathan was slightly stunned when he heard that and then he became excited. "Dad, this is the thing that big brother sold. How can you get it back? Big Brother died in a car accident. You..."

"What? Are you questioning my decision?" Mason's tone was unfriendly.

Jonathan knew he had said something wrong when he saw his father's serious expression. He nodded slightly. "Dad, I'm sorry. I was a little excited too. Big Brother sold these things to fill the vacancy in the company. It was because I didn't care about the overall situation."

Mason saw how serious Jonathan's apology was, so he didn't argue with him. He turned to look at Ryan, not knowing what he meant.

"Grandfather is being too polite. Since you have already spoken, I will sell these things to you at the original price."

"However... Grandfather, I have a request as well."

All these years, the value of these items had increased by several times. There was a huge difference in price between these items. Ryan wouldn't be foolish enough to sell these items to Lewis family at such a low price.

"Just say whatever you want to say. As long as you can sell all these items to me." Mason still insisted on his own idea. It showed how much he loved his eldest son.

"It's very simple. Since these things belong to my father-in-law, I will naturally leave them to Elena in the future. I just want to transfer all these things to Elena's name."

Elena looked at Ryan in disbelief. Under such circumstances, Ryan was still considering her interests. Elena was instantly moved and a warm feeling seeped into her heart.

"Why? Since it was my grandfather who bought it, why should I give it to Elena?" Amara heard this and became unhappy.

This Ryan was really scheming. If he left all of these things to Elena, wouldn't it still belong to the two of them?

"Yes, Dad. These things were bought by you. How could you agree to leave all of them to Elena? Amara is also your granddaughter. You can't bring injustice with a bowl of water." Adeline urgently said.

Such a thing was already priceless, let alone all of it.

The loopholes in the company back then were not small, to be able to fill such a huge hole. It could be seen how valuable these treasures were.

Hearing that these people were already starting to think about her father's property. Elena instantly exploded. She looked at Adeline in front of her and said.

“Aunt, there are some things that you don’t need to say anymore. My father sold his things in the past to fill the hole in the Lewis Group. If Aunt is willing to take out the money that filled in the company back then, I don’t want any of these antiques.”

Seeing his wife’s flushed face, Ryan forced himself to hold back his laughter. His little wife was really cute.

“If grandfather has any objections, then I think it’s better for me to keep it. After all, if I leave it all to Elena, then it can be considered a part of my friendship with my wife.”

Ryan said and started to play with the watch in his wrist. He didn’t look at the expressions of those people anymore.

Jackson hid behind Isaac and laughed so hard that he could not stand straight. These people were completely tricked by Ryan.

“Shut up! Don’t you know what kind of occasion it is? If you laugh, be careful that those people will beat you up!” Isaac felt that this man was too shameful, so he might as well throw him into the mental hospital.

“Hahaha, this is very funny. These people are still fighting for property in such an important occasion. Whether they want it or not, they need to seek Ryan’s permission. This matter is entirely up to Ryan. Those people still don’t understand their situation.”

Jackson said in a low voice while laughing. Those who heard him also pretended not to hear him.

Isaac blushed in shame. “Do you think everyone is as evil as Ryan?”

If he played some tricks, entire Lewis family would not be match for Ryan.

“You are right. These are the personal belonging of Elena’s father when he was alive. They should be under Elena’s name. I just wanted to keep them for myself.” Mason knew that he had let down Elena these few years. It was reasonable for him to leave this things to Elena.

“Since Grandfather has already said so, tomorrow I will get someone to draw up a contract and record all these things under Elena’s name.”

Amara immediately angered. Just as she was about to step forward and argue, she was stopped by her father, Jonathan.

“Grandfather, did you give all these things to Elena just like that? No, I am not willing. There are so many good things. I can’t let that little slut get away with it.”

Amara’s eyes were red with envy. Those antiques back then were already worth hundreds of millions. Now, wasn’t it going to be several dozen times more expensive?

She absolutely couldn’t let them fall into Elena’s hands just like that. She was the true successor of the Lewis family’s Eight Classics. All these things should belong to her.

Jonathan looked around and saw that everyone’s attention was on Mason and Ryan. He then whispered in Amara’s ear, “Didn’t you hear that your grandfather wanted these things to stay by his side? Think of it as a thought? When your grandfather dies, everything will be inherited by you. Even if these things are said to be Elena’s, when the time comes, you will sell all of them. What can she do if there is nothing?”

Hearing her father’s explanation by her ear, Amara immediately understood what he meant. “Dad, you are still very thoughtful. Since that is the case, these things will temporarily be under Elena’s name. Anyway, when grandfather passes away, who knows whom these things will belong to.”

The banquet continued. The main character of the banquet was the Old Master of Lewis family. He went up to the stage to speak.

Mason walked up to the stage and looked at his two granddaughters. Amara and Elena were already very beautiful.

Elena already had her own home.

Although Amara was not married, the marriage with Roman was already set in stone.

“I am very happy that you give this old man face and attend my birthday banquet. I hope everyone can have fun. In addition, there is one more thing, my two granddaughters Amara and Elena. They are this old man’s favorite children. I hope that in the future, they can able to live a happy life and make our Lewis family proud.”

Mason’s words were undoubtedly paving the way for his two granddaughters.

“Let them have a better future. Then please invite these two granddaughters of mine to come and blow the candles with me.” Mason smiled as he looked at the two girls below the stage.

Hearing Mason also inviting Elena, Amara was furious. She walked to Elena's side and lifted her high heels to step on a corner behind Elena's evening gown.

Crack...

Just as Elena was about to step forward, the sound of clothes tearing could be heard. Everyone looked over and only saw that Elena's clothes had been torn in half.

A wave of sighs could be heard from below the stage.

Hearing the discussion of those people, Amara's face revealed a trace of a smile of success. Then, she turned to look at Elena. Her current appearance was really shameful.

"Amara, you..."

"Oh my, I'm sorry. I was really careless. I still have a spare suit here. Why don't I lend it to my sister to wear first? Anyway, our figures are about the same. Sister won't mind, right?"

After Amara finished speaking, she immediately looked at her grandfather who was standing on the stage. Under such an important situation, Elena actually dared to do such a shameful thing. Mason's face darkened. She was afraid that her grandfather was very disappointed in Elena.

Roman, who was standing at the side, furrowed his brows. Amara's means were really despicable. Furthermore, she did not care about the overall situation and the people present here.

When Ryan saw his wife being bullied in front of so many people, his blood started to boil. He was so angry that his entire person was emitting a dangerous cold aura. He wanted to rush there and hide Elena in his arms.

Isaac pressed Ryan's arm on the wheelchair as soon as he lifted it up. Isaac shook his head at Ryan.

Ryan could only endure his anger, took the wheelchair and walked to Elena's side.

In front of everyone, he tore off the part of dress that Amara had torn off just now. The dress that originally had a tail turned into a short skirt.

Ryan held the torn rag in his hand and handed it to Amara. "Thank you, cousin, for helping my Elena to change her past image."

Elena looked at the man. She was so touched that her tears were about to flow out. In this world, no one could take care of her better than this man.

Amara's face did not look good. She originally wanted Elena to make a move in front of everyone but she did not expect that after Ryan's actions, Elena would appear even more delicate.

"No need to thank me. I did not do it on purpose. But sister's dress is really too sloppy. After this change, it really looks like her figure is curvaceous."

No matter how unhappy Amara was at this moment, she could only say that. After all, this matter started because of her. If things went on as she wished, Elena would be extremely embarrassed today. But with Ryan's action, it was impossible for Elena to be embarrassed.

Seeing that the situation below had settled down, Mason's facial expression returned to normal. He didn't need to think about to know who had done this.

Mason looked at Amara coldly. Amara looked away and lowered her head.

Chapter 64 Strategy for the Future

After the banquet ended, Elena said goodbye to her grandfather and ignored her aunt and uncle's family. She followed Ryan out.

Seeing the group of people leave, Mason's expression instantly became deep. He raised his hand and gave Amara a slap. Amara screamed immediately, "Ah! Why did you hit me, grandpa?"

Jonathan and Adeline, who were standing at the side, were shocked.

"Yes Dad, Amara did not do anything wrong. Why did you hit her?" Adeline's face revealed displeasure. Even though Mason was Amara's grandfather, he shouldn't have treated her precious daughter like this.

"Why did I hit her? Ask her why I hit her? What day is today? Don't you know? You actually dare to harm Elena in such an occasion!"

Did this family think he was blind? He couldn't tell what was going on. If it weren't for Ryan, he was afraid Elena would lose face today in front of so many people. At the same time, everyone would know Elena, the Second Young Lady of Lewis Family, actually lose her face in front of so many people. It was not only Elena who lose face but also the Lewis family.

“Grandfather, I didn’t do anything wrong.” Amara’s tone was extremely cold.

“Amara, don’t be rude to grandfather.” Jonathan, who was standing at the side, reminded Amara. Currently, Mason was in the charge of the family. If she angered Mason, he was afraid that none of them would have a good ending.

“Although I am old, I haven’t reached to the stage where I can’t see things clearly. Why did Elena’s evening dress torn off? Do you really think I do not know? Your feet could not reach to Elena’s dress at all. If you did not do it on purpose, how could you step in her dress? It would not be a big deal in other occasions. But today is my 70th birthday! You actually dare to cause trouble at my banquet! I have warned you not to provoke Elena again and again. She is now the second young mistress of Monor family. If Ryan starts to get angry, do you think our Lewis family will have any good results?”

“Grandfather, I don’t understand. Why you always have been afraid of Ryan? He only had some abilities in the past, but now he is only a cripple. It’s impossible for him to become magnanimous. Why are you always afraid of him? I will definitely marry Roman in future. In future, Lewis family and Monor family will be under our control. Why are you biased towards outsiders?”

Amara really could not understand why her grandfather had always sided with Elena. Elena’s father had already passed away. That good-for-nothing mother of hers was still in the hospital.

How could Elena, an ugly duckling, be compared to her?

“That’s right, Dad. Ryan has already become a cripple. To the Monor family, he is just a person who doesn’t matter. Why do you have to care about Ryan’s face? Amara and Roman were now bound to be together. In the future, when the Lewis family and Monor family are connected by marriage, the benefits of the Lewis family is guaranteed.”

Adeline also didn’t understand. Mason was an old man who had been through a lot of business. Why would he be afraid of Ryan?

“You shut up. It was because you and Jonathan indulged her that she has such a temper. She has already such an attitude in our family. I really don’t know what she looks like outside!”

After scolding the couple, he turned to Amara, “If you want to stay in the Lewis family... If you want to take over the Lewis family business, you have to listen what I say. Elena was no longer the Elena who had been bullied for five years. If you continue to offend her, you will not have a good ending. Why do I repeatedly emphasize that you should not provoke Elena? It is to pave a way for you! I did not know my grandfather who I trained carefully would be an extremely foolish person. You really disappointed me.”

Initially, he thought that Amara was a smart woman and it was natural for her to take over Lewis family business. However, he did not think that this woman would only care about the benefits in front of her and did not care about the overall situation.

A lean camel was still bigger than a horse. Even if Ryan had lost his power, Amara should not easily provoke him.

“Grandfather?” Amara was still unhappy, but when she heard her grandfather say this was for her future, she felt less unhappy.

“If you still acknowledge me as your grandfather, you have to listen to me. You have to do what I want. Jonathan, Adeline, you two are not allowed to interfere in Amara’s matters from today onwards. For today, I will discipline Amara. Amara immediately return to your room to face the wall and reflect yourself. Tomorrow, you are not allowed to eat. I will let you know what the true rules of the family are.”

Mason could clearly feel that after experiencing rain and storm for five years, Elena was no longer as simple as before. He was getting more and more difficult to control her now.

On the other hand.

Ryan originally planned to bring Elena home, but he did not expect Jackson and Isaac to shamelessly get into the car.

He saw that these two did not have any intension of getting out of the car, so he immediately reminded. “The car of the two of you is over there.”

“The two of us planned to get a ride back today. You don’t have to care about the two of us. Don’t worry. Besides, the two of us still want to chat more with Sister-in-law.”

They had clearly seen that Elena was not as weak as she appeared on the surface. In fact, when facing certain things this woman was very brave.

Ryan’s face turned cold.

Before Ryan could speak, Jackson hurriedly spoke, “Hurry up and drive. The two of us did not eat anything here. We are planning to go your home and eat something.”

Ryan did not say anything. It seemed that he had already tacitly agreed the two of them to follow him back to villa.

When the car stopped in front of their house, Elena pushed Ryan out of the car. The two of them walked in and when the door opened, Elena didn't push Ryan in, but let the two guests in first.

Jackson was slightly stunned. He had to admit that Elena was indeed very polite.

After entering, Elena did not stay idle either. She went to the kitchen to bring the tea and refreshments to the tea table. "These things are some desserts that I personally baked before. I wonder if you guys like them."

Ryan, however, stared blankly at the things Elena was carrying.

These were the things that his wife specially baked. He was reluctant to eat them. Why should he give them to these two men?

"Ahem, they are not hungry. They cannot eat the sweet food." Ryan coughed. He seemed to remind the two of them that the food belonged to him. They were not allowed to eat.

"No, no, no, we are hungry! We can eat these sweet things! Moreover, the two of us especially like to eat sweet food. Sister-in-law, you really know the two of us too well."

After Jackson finished speaking, he picked up a plate in front of him and held it in his arms, as if he was deliberately trying to anger Ryan.

Isaac did not hold back and started eating the large plate in front him.

It had to be said that Elena's cooking skills were very good. Although these were desserts, it was sweet and not greasy. It was soft and moderate and was simply top grade.

"Sister-in-law, your cooking skills is totally comparable to the chefs in our hotels. If you don't want to go to work in the future, you can totally open a dessert restaurant by yourself. When the time comes, I will definitely bring all my friends over to eat. I will definitely become a regular customer."

After Jackson finished speaking, he stuffed a few pieces of dessert into his mouth again. This dessert was simply the most delicious thing he had ever eaten in his life.

"You two eat slowly. Eating so much sweet, aren't you afraid of diabetes?"

Ryan's face was full of resentment. These two people really did not treat him as an outsider. Those were roasted by his wife. He had only eaten a few pieces, but they had already eaten them all.

After a while, Elena took out the roasted biscuits from the kitchen and put them in front of Ryan. She said slowly, "I saw that you did not eat anything at the banquet. You just had a few glasses of champagne with everyone. That kind of thing will cause a little gastric. You should eat something first."

If the thing in front of Jackson and Isaac was a Master Michelin dessert, then the one in front of Ryan was a special level dessert. Ryan saw the shape on it. Every piece was in the shape of heart. She specially prepared these for him.

Ryan happily picked up a piece of pastry. When Isaac saw it, he wanted to reach out to grab it but was slapped back by Ryan. "Try touching it again. I will cripple you."

"Isn't it just a piece of pastry? Why is it so petty?"

Isaac muttered in a low voice. He didn't dare to look at Ryan who was protecting his food like that. Even Ryan didn't know that he looked like a hungry wolf that was protecting his bone.

"It's alright. There are still some at home. If you want to eat in future, you can come over. I will roast them for you. Usually, I have nothing to do, so I make some snacks at home. When you are hungry, you can put them for a while. Then you can eat them."

After Elena finished speaking, she went back to the kitchen and made a cup of milk for Ryan. "Drink some of this. With these desserts, it will not be greasy."

"Sister-in-law, you can't be biased. Why does Ryan have milk and we don't have milk?" Isaac teased.

He had lived half of his life, and he had eaten thousands of delicacies, but none of them were as smooth as the plate in front of him.

"I'm sorry, I don't have enough milk at home. Ryan drinks a cup every night. So when you come next time, I'll prepare the milk for the two of you."

Elena had an apologetic look on her face but Jackson and Isaac did not mind. It was already their fortune that the two of them came here and eat. If they asked again, Ryan would probably throw them both to Syria the next day.

"How long do you two want to sit here?" After Ryan finished the plate of pastries, he ordered them to leave. It was already very late. If the two of them did not go back, would they still want to stay here?

“Ryan, actually, the two of us came here because we have something to discuss with you.” Jackson changed his attitude and said seriously.

“Speak.” Ryan threw the tissue paper in front of Jackson. When he saw that there were still some leftover snacks in Jackson’s hand, Ryan felt that it was an eyesore.

Jackson looked at Elena. Elena understood what was going on and said, “I will go upstairs to wash up first. You guys can talk.”
