Chapter 66 Discuss Important Matters

Ryan looked at Jackson and Isaac, wondering why they were keeping him in suspense.

“Ryan, we have the latest news. Roman is going to work with a heavy cooperation in Western Europe. When the time comes, they will also work with Roman to attack you.”

When Isaac was on a business trip, he originally planned to handle the work overseas, but he did not expect to meet Roman in that manor.

Ryan fell into deep thought. It was not easy for him to do something. After all, he did not have any evidence, and he could not use any excuse to stop Roman.

“I’m just reminding you. You have to have a plan first. You can’t let that man climb over our heads just like that.” Jackson reminded them that if they let that man continue to develop, he would become a huge threat to them in the future.

“That man’s heart is not enough to swallow an elephant. Did he think that by opening the economic market in Western Europe, he would be able to sit firmly on the CEO’s throne? He is really too naïve.” Ryan did not mind. These few years, he had been hiding his strength and biding his time. Did this man really think that he had quietly disappeared from everyone’s sight?

“I didn’t settle the score with him for what happened back then. It seems like he really thought that this matter would be settled.”

Ryan’s face was full of ruthlessness. It wasn’t as if he didn’t know who did the accident that year. In the entire Monor family, besides Roman, who else would lay their hands on him?

Back then, when he went out, he only wanted to sign a deal, but was hit by a car for no reason. The driver of the accident was still missing. If it wasn’t for someone protecting him, how could he not have found out?

“The economic market in Western Europe has already been monopolized by us, so even if he wants to find someone to cooperate, he must get the approval of our forces.”

Jackson had already monopolized those markets before Roman, otherwise, how could he hold Roman back?

“How’s the investigation going at the Eastern European stone gambling market?” Ryan had Isaac keep an eye on it. If there were good raw stone material, he must buy them.

Isaac smiled when he heard this. “I have investigated clearly. There is an open stone market in Eastern Europe. I have acquaintances there. It is definitely not bad.”

Many years ago, he accidentally saved a person. That person was the owner of the stone gambling market.

“Since that is the case, it will be easy to handle. I will leave this matter to you. If the money is not enough, transfer it from the headquarters. As for the Monor family... We will slowly empty him out.” He had long been pessimistic about this company of the Monor family. That was why Roman was in a hurry to find a marriage partner.

The Lewis family was one of the best in the entire Hai City. Therefore, finding them for a marriage was most appropriate choice. At that time, perhaps only the Lewis family could help Roman fill in the hole.

“There’s one more thing I have to remind you about. Unless it’s absolutely necessary, you better not think about it. I know very well how you got here all these years. You can’t expose yourself in front of so many people just for a small matter.”

What Ryan did today really startled Isaac. If it was really exposed, it would definitely arouse suspicion. At that time, Roman would probably arrange another car accident.

Ryan recalled all the things that happened at the banquet today. He did not want Elena to be embarrassed in public. He also did not know why he could not control himself and wanted to go over to protect Elena.

“That Amara isn’t easy to deal with. Not only Amara, but all the people of Lewis family are putting on a show. They want to control Elena. If I give all those things to Mason today, then... I’m afraid none of those things will fall into Elena’s hands.”

In fact, Ryan wanted to show the Lewis family who Elena really was. Not everyone could bully her.

“But if you do that, you will undoubtedly make Elena the public enemy of the Lewis family. Those people will probably want a piece of pie when they see those things. So, if they want to harm Mason or Elena, I’m afraid they will...”

It would be fine if Ryan stayed by her side to protect her, but once she was alone, the people of the Lewis family would make things even more difficult for Elena.

When Ryan heard this, he laughed and said, “You guys have really underestimated Elena. She is not as weak as she looks. If she becomes strong, I’m afraid that even ten men will not be a match for her.”

Once her things were taken away by someone else, she will use all of her abilities to take back those things.

“Why are you saying stupid things?” Although Jackson knew Elena was different from other women, it was not like what Ryan said.

Ryan did not say anything. He knew Elena. How could roses that grew in adversity not have thorns?

Chapter 67 You Deserve to Die for Your Sins

A playful smile appeared on Ryan’s face when he heard this.

“If that’s the case, why don’t we make a bet? If Elena can solve this problem personally, why don’t you give me your family’s antique painting?”

When Jackson heard this, his eyes widened and he immediately flew into rage. “Ryan Manor, you cunning man, what kind of bet is it? You actually want my antique painting? You are really asking for an exorbitant price.”

“It’s you who doesn’t believe that my wife has the ability to do so. So I had to bet with you for the sake of my wife’s reputation. If I lose, all of my ancient painting will be in your hands. What do you think of this bet?”

Ryan said indifferently.

Those antiques and paintings were worth several billion. If this man said he didn’t want them, he wouldn’t want them. Jackson didn’t believe such foolish words.

Besides, this man had lived with Elena for so long, so he naturally knew what kind of character she had. He was not stupid enough to bet with this man.

“Brother, can I admit that I’m a coward? I don’t want to bet with you. I know that even if I bet with you, I won’t be able to win. At most, it will be a matter of losing face. My antique painting is worth tens of millions. If I lose to you, even if I jump into the Yellow River, I won’t be able to make up for the regret in my heart.”

Jackson should eat the snacks on the table quietly. After today, he was afraid that he wouldn’t be able to eat them again. After all, Ryan was a jealous man. If he wanted to eat the desserts made by his sister-in-law again, he and Isaac would probably be sent to Syria by this man.

“Brother, can I admit defeat? I don’t want to bet with you..”

Just as Jackson was about to eat the snacks on the table, Isaac unexpectedly took out his phone and played a recording.

Jackson choked, “Isaac, I’m going to kill you. Hurry up and delete this for me or I’ll play you to death.”

Isaac, however, raised his phone high. “If you have the ability, you can come and get it. Oh my, I remember now. When I went to your house earlier, I took fancy to a coral vase. Why don’t you give it to me in exchange for this recording?”

Jackson was so angry that he gritted his teeth, and veins popped out on his fists.

The fact that he admitted defeat was not worth mentioning in front of the two of them. If this matter was spread out, his reputation would be tarnished.

Jackson originally planned to step forward and kick the man, but because the man had his weakness, so he had to soften his attitude. “Big Brother, I was wrong. I’m begging you, quickly delete this recording. If you want the coral vase, I can give it to you. It’s not just a vase, I can give you whatever you want.”

“Me?” Isaac raised his eyebrows.

“Big Brother, I’ll give it all to you.” Jackson could only admit defeat. After all, these two men were not easy to deal with. As long as he fought them, it would be fatal.

“Ryan, the shower in the bathroom... You... What are you doing?” Elena walked out and wanted to tell Ryan that the shower in the bathroom was broken. She did not expect to see Jackson squatting in front of Isaac just as she went downstairs. He looked pitiful as if he had been wronged.

When Jackson saw Elena, he immediately stood up and explained, “Sister-in-law, it is not like what you saw. Actually, we are... The two of us are playing around. You must not think too much.”

Elena, “...”

Under such circumstances, it was not possible to not think too much.

“That... Actually, I did not see anything. You guys can continue. I still have things to deal with in my room.” After Elena finished speaking, she ran back to her room.

The two of them were playing around. If she continued to stay here, Isaac and Jackson would be even more embarrassed. She might as well leave by herself and let the two of them solve this problem by themselves.

Ryan laughed and said, "You deserved to die for your sins."

He had just heard Elena say that there was something wrong with the shower. Ryan wanted to go and see what was going on. He could not let these two men delay the matter of his wife.

"Ryan, we plan to stay here. Do you have a guest room?" Isaac held back the smile on his face.

"It's the same old place. The door is not locked. You two can move in by yourselves. Remember, don't break our bed." Judging from their attitude, if they didn't fight, it would be hard to calm the anger between the two of them.

Seeing him walk into the room, only Jackson and Isaac were left. Jackson looked at Isaac with a bitter look. "It's all your fault. If it wasn't for you, how could I lose face in front of sister-in-law? I can't live this life anymore. How can I face sister-in-law in the future?"

"I just want a coral vase from you." Isaac smiled shamelessly. He used to playing and fooling around. He never cared about others.

"You... Do you have a knife? Let me cut myself in half first." Jackson sat on the sofa and touched his forehead. If time could really be reversed, he must pretend to be a gentleman in front of his sister-in-law.

Chapter 68 Are You Jealous?

"No, I remember there was a packet of rat poison in Ryan's house. You can take it. But if you take that packet of rat medicine, remember to buy one for Ryan." Isaac said as he walked upstairs.

"Isaac, if I don't fight with you today, I will have the same surname as you." After saying that, Jackson went forward and grabbed Isaac's collar, wanting to fight outside.

However, Isaac casually said it out loud. "The last time I punched you, you still have bruises, right? Are you sure you want to continue?"

Hearing this, Jackson immediately put down the man's clothes. "By the way, I remember now. I seem to have something to do today. I'll go back to my room to rest first."

"Good..." Isaac smiled and shook his head when he saw Jackson jumping around.

When Ryan returned to his room, he saw Elena checking the shower in the bathroom.

Ryan walked in. "Did something happen?"

"I was going to take a shower and go to bed to rest. I didn't expect the shower to be broken." Elena pressed on the shower. There was no water on the shower. There was water on other parts of the shower. Elena's clothes were wet and stuck tightly to her body, revealing a hazy beauty.

Ryan stared blankly and a flame of fire instantly ignited in his heart.

"Ahem..." Ryan came back to his senses and coughed. He pressed on the water pipe. The sprinkling of water gushed out.

"That's it?" A trace of surprise appeared on Elena's face. It was that simple?

"This is also my fault. I did not remind you that this water pipe was used to sense with your fingerprints. This fingerprint belonged to a week ago. I was the first one to take a shower. But today, this problem occurred because you took a shower first."

Ryan said gently. If those two saw this man's appearance, they would probably drop their jaws in shock. They had never seen Ryan have such a gentle side.

"Those pastries..."

While the two of them were silent, Ryan said something that caught Elena off guard.

Elena smiled. "Don't worry. There are still some pastries left. If they want to eat, I can continue to make them."

"You can only make them for me to eat in the future." Ryan threatened. Elena was his wife and could not serve those two brats.

"Hahaha."

"What are you laughing at?" Ryan really did not understand.

"Ryan, are you jealous?" Elena approached Ryan. The man's face was red.

"No. No..." Ryan turned his face away.

“Don’t worry, from now on, the pastries I make can only be given to you alone.”

“About Lewis family... What do you plan to do with it? The people of Lewis family are all smart. They can’t possibly suffer losses like this. If grandfather passed away, Amara would probably think of these things. Grandpa said that he bought all these things in order to leave a thought behind. But the real purpose was to give Amara a chance to sell them secretly.”

Although Elena did not leave in Lewis family, she knew her grandfather very well. What kind of person is he?

“Amara is very utilitarian. Have you thought of how to deal with her?”

“Amara is not a problem. The ones that are difficult to deal with are her mother and father. Amara has big breasts but no brain. She just wants to marry Roman and enjoy her life. She is not a threat at all.”

Ryan narrowed his eyes. He did not expect Elena to say such a thing. He originally thought that Elena was more or less afraid of Amara.

“Have you already thought of a way to deal with your cousin?” Ryan knew that this woman would definitely not be as silly and sweet as she looked on the surface. Elena’s intelligence was not something ordinary people could compare with.

“Of course I have thought it through. She is naturally a paranoid. With a simple provocation, this woman will fall into my trap.”
