Chapter 81 The Plan Has Changed

Although Henry's tone was a little blaming, he was really thinking for his sister. He could tell that Amara wasn't someone easy to deal with.

When Linda heard this, she became even angrier. "Brother, I am your biological younger sister. How can you say that to me? After Freya appeared, you don't like me anymore. Did she say something in your ear? I knew it! This woman definitely has malicious intentions. See if I don't teach her a lesson." Linda angrily walked towards Freya.

Henry pulled her back. "Linda, are you done messing around? Do you know what you are doing? Today is my wedding day. If you dare to disrespect your sister-in-law, I will not show you any respect."

Henry's parents saw that their children seemed to be quarreling. They walked over and asked with concern, "Henry, what's wrong? Why is Linda so angry?"

"You guys ask her." Henry did not want to say too much and wanted to Linda explain herself.

Unexpectedly, Linda's attitude became even worse, "Why should I say it? It was because of Freya that our family became like this. Don't think that I won't dare to touch her because she is pregnant now. Who knows whose child is in her womb?"

"Linda, who did you learn from? Your words are so unpleasant. Your sister-in-law is a very good child. She and your brother are in love. Don't make things difficult for her. Do you hear me?"

Henry's mother blamed Linda unhappily. Freya and Henry had been in love for three years. During these three years, Freya treated the two elders with respect and love. In the entire family, Linda was the only one who was not sensible.

Usually, it was fine. But today, she could not spoil Linda anymore and make her lose face in front of the guests.

"Mom, I think it was because she had played with Amara that she became like this. When she was young, she was so obedient. After mixing with Amara, she became so vicious." Henry would never allow anyone to hurt his wife. Since he had already married Freya, he could not let her feel wronged.

"Linda, your brother is right. Although Amara is the eldest granddaughter of Lewis family, her heart is not good. You better not interact with her in the future." Henry's father had worked hard in the business world for many years and had seen all kinds of people. The evil intentions in Amara's eyes could not be hidden.

Linda did not expect that her family would unanimously scold her for an outsider. She took a step back and raised her finger to point at them.

"All of you are on her side. Then just treat that woman as your family. From now on, I will cut off all ties with you." After saying that, she ran out.

Henry looked at his father. "You should send someone to follow her. Otherwise, you don't know what she is going to do."

Henry's father sighed. "This child really makes people worry. Tell Freya not to bicker with Linda. She's pregnant and cannot be provoked. You must take good care of her."

Henry nodded in agreement.

Amara saw that Roman finished drinking and was secretly delighted in her heart. Amara looked around and saw that the banquet was over and the most of people had left. Amara was confused for a moment. Had the banquet already finished?

Seeing the angry Linda, Amara immediately pulled her back. "What happened? Why did everyone suddenly leave?"

"It's still that Freya. You also heard it. My brother said that she is pregnant and needed to rest. Now that the guests were already left, it's not appropriate for you guys to continue staying here. It seems like we can only change our plan."

Linda helplessly spread out her hands. Now, she could only let Amara think out a way to bring Roman another place. If she missed this opportunity, it would be hard to find another opportunity in future.

"Why didn't I hear you mention it before?" Amara was somewhat anxious and had to think of a way quickly.

Chapter 82 It's Elena

"My brother didn't tell me either. Who knows if the child in that woman's womb belongs to our family?" Linda was so angry that her teeth itched. She didn't expect Freya to be so lucky and get pregnant so quickly.

If her parents and brother kept pampering Freya, then the Wright family would have no place for her in future.

“Freya has only been pregnant for a month. Investigate carefully. If there is any problem with this child, you can use this matter to stop her being together with your brother.”

Amara advised Linda. Although she did not want to interfere with the Wright family’s trivial matters, she was unhappy with the matter of a chicken turning to a phoenix. Why should a woman without anything to be able to climb to a higher branch? She was not allowed to do so.

“Forget it. You can handle this matter by yourself. I don’t know how to help you.”

Linda felt annoyed and left the Wright family without looking back. She wanted to run away from her home for some days to let her family understand her importance.

“There is no turning point when the bow is drawn. Roman has already drunk but Amara is unable to carry out the plan. How can she not be anxious?”

After Ryan finished speaking, Elena did not say anything else and pushed him to the door. She looked at Amara and said, “Older sister, why are you walking around the door? Did you lose something?”

“What does it have to do with you? Why are you guys here?” Amara was already annoyed and when she saw them in front of her, she became even angrier.

“The groom invited us sincerely. How can we not come? Elder sister, you look so worried, it does not seem like you came to congratulate the newlyweds.”

Elena curled up the corner of her mouth and mocked. She deliberately wanted to make Amara even angrier. It would be better if she could anger Amara to death here.

“Elena, don’t speak nonsense. I am not in the mood to argue with you today. Hurry up and get lost.” Amara was flustered and exasperate and did not care about her manners at all.

“Aiyo, in such a good day, why are you so angry, older sis? Be careful that you will spoil your body. At that time, being a bride won’t bring you any good fortune.”

Elena approached Amara and spoke provocatively. Seeing her arrogant matter, Amara wished that she could tear apart her face.

“Good bye, big sister.” Without waiting for Amara’s reply, Elena pushed Ryan into the car which was waiting for a long time. Xavier was preparing to drive back to the villa.

Elena stopped him. “Don’t worry, I want to see how Amara will deal with this matter.”

Amara was anxious as an ant on a hot pan. She wandered around the door and thought of a way. When she turned around, she saw Roman walk out. His face was flushed red and his footsteps were unstable. He looked like he was drunk and only Amara knew that there was something fishy about it.

She went forward to support Roman and pretended to be concerned, "Why did you drink so much? You can't walk steadily. Why don't we find a place to rest."

Roman felt dizzy and his whole body was hot. When Amara touched his body, he couldn't control himself.

At the banquet, he didn't take the initiative to drink. The only cup was brought by Amara to him. He felt something was not right.

Roman asked sternly, "What did you give me to drink?"

"I just casually took a cup of wine. Roman, did you drink the wrong drink or eat something wrong?" Since Roman did not have any evidence, Amara pretended to be stupid and wanted to divert Roman's attention.

Roman shook his head. He wanted to wake up a little, but the desire in his body grew more and more. He could not suppress it no matter what.

He looked at the woman beside him in a daze.

Elena?

Roman thought he had seen wrongly. He rubbed his eyes and still saw Elena standing in front of him.

"Why are you here?"

Amara was stunned. She thought that he had lost his sense and spouting nonsense.

Amara held Roman's arm and wrapped it around her shoulder, "You are drunk. I will take you to rest."

The next second, Roman pulled back his arm and push her far away.

"Don't get too close to me. I am afraid I will hurt you." Roman's eyes were very gentle.

Amara was puzzled. She had been with Roman for so long, but she had never seen him have such a warm pulse.

Chapter 83 Good Show Is Still Coming

Amara stepped forward and pulled Roman back. His palm was boiling hot. It could be seen that the medicinal effect had taken effect. She did not intend to dawdle any longer. She ignored Roman's refusal and pulled him into her car.

Seeing all of this in the car, Elena shook her head in disdain, "I thought Amara could learn to be smarter, but in the end she was still so stupid. If Roman woke up and found that something was wrong, she definitely would not have a good life in the future."

"Let's go back first. The good show is still coming."

Ryan ordered Xavier to drive away.

If this matter could really succeed, Amara would definitely publicize it. The one who would be affected would only be Roman. After all, the Monor family was a prestigious family. If this matter was reported on the news, the Monor family would never forgive him.

Amara finally managed to get Roman to the front passenger seat. Just as she was about to go to the hotel, Roman rushed over and firmly grabbed the steering wheel.

"Roman?" Amara did not know what he wanted to do, so she tried to push him away.

Roman did not move. The veins on his arms were bulging and his forehead was covered with sweat.

He used his other hand to pinch his thigh to keep himself awake. This time, he finally saw the person in front of him clearly. It was Amara.

"Amara, what do you want to do?"

Roman shouted angrily. The man who was as gentle as water just now suddenly changed his appearance. Amara was so scared that she trembled.

"Tell me, what is going on?" Roman's eyes were scarlet and fierce like a beast. He pinched Amara's neck and asked.

His current appearance was definitely because Amara had put something else in his glass of wine.

Amara had difficulty breathing and explained while trembling, "It really has nothing to do with me. I also don't know what's in the wine. Roman, don't be angry with me."

Amara already had some regrets. If today's matter was exposed, then all her previous efforts would be in vain. Roman would definitely not take another look at her.

“Amara, you better be telling the truth. If I find out that today’s matter has something to do with you, I will teach you a lesson.” After saying that, Roman got out of the car. His black figure staggered and blended into the darkness.

The real leather decoration on the steering wheel had been scratched deeply. Amara’s eyes were red. Even if it was so painful, Roman was not willing to touch her. Was Roman that clean and good, or did he not like her at all?

Thinking about it, Amara was still worried and got off the car to chase after him. Not far away was an ornamental lake.

Before she could call out, a figure fell into the water with a splash. Amara ran over and saw Roman soaking in the cold water.

Amara fell to the ground and tears flowed down unconsciously. She originally thought that she could really have this man today, but things turned out like this.

A few minutes later, Roman walked to the shore. His whole body was drenched, and the strange heat had completely disappeared. He looked coldly at the woman in front of him and found that Amara’s face was full of tears.

Perhaps this matter really had nothing to do with Amara. Roman suddenly felt a heartache and went forward to pull Amara into his arms. “I’m sorry, I shouldn’t have shouted at you like that just now.”

Hearing his words, Amara cried even harder. All the grievances she had suffered just now poured out with her tears.

Roman comforted her, but he was suppressing a wave of anger in his heart. If he found out who had done this, he would never let that person go.

After returning to the Lewis family, Amara got off the car. Roman didn’t say anything and drove away.

Amara stood at the door with mixed feelings.

“Miss, what are you standing here for? Why aren’t you entering the house?” The butler went out and saw Amara standing at the door. She seemed to have suffered some kind of grievance.

Amara covered up her tears. “Nothing much. I drank some wine at the banquet today. I stood here and have some wind.”

“The one who sent you back was Mr. Monor, right? Why didn’t he come in?” The butler asked with concern.

Usually, Roman would personally send Amara home. Seeing that Amara did not look very happy, could it be that they had quarreled?

Chapter 84 His Cousin Who Has Nothing to Do with Him

“Roman isn’t feeling well. I let him go back first.” Amara casually explained a few words and went straight back to the room.

She must not let anyone know that she wanted to make a move on Roman.

Early in the morning in Greenhills Villa.

Elena and Ryan had breakfast and went to the company.

On the way, they deliberately searched but did not find any major news. The corners of Elena’s mouth curled up.

“Looks like Amara did not succeed.”

Ryan did not say anything. His phone suddenly rang. He frowned and hung up the phone.

Elena saw that the caller ID was “Jasper.” She asked, “Why did you not answer?”

“It’s probably about the company. We’ll be there soon. I will go and ask him directly.” Obviously, Ryan did not want Elena to ask more.

Elena was a little sad. There was no employee in the company who called Jasper. She originally thought that their relationship was already very close. Now it seemed that... There were still many secrets of Ryan that she did not know about.

After coming to the company, Ryan deliberately left Elena’s side and called back, “Did you find him?”

“Sir, that woman disappeared after saving you. I don’t know if those people found out and took her away.”

Jasper turned the entire Hai City upside down, but he couldn’t find a single person called Ella.

“Continue searching.” No matter what, she was his savior. If it was really because of him that she was in danger, he had to find that woman even more.

After giving Jasper a few instructions, Ryan returned to his office and devoted himself to his work.

Elena was outside with a heavy heart and was distracted.

She and Ryan had clearly developed an intimate relationship. They had done everything that couples did. But still there were many things that Ryan didn't want to share with her.

Did Ryan not trust her?

There was knock on the door, which pulled Elena out of her imaginations.

“Is Mr. Monor inside?”

It was a beautiful woman like a doll. Her face was delicate and she had a sweet smile that could melt people's heart.

“May I ask why you are looking for him?”

Due to the sixth sense of a woman, Elena could feel that the relationship between this woman and Ryan was not simple.

“If he is inside, I will go in directly.” Before Elena could stop her, the woman walked towards Ryan's office with a smile.

Through the window, Elena could clearly see their every move. The woman rushed straight into Ryan's arms. She still had a smile on her face and a happy expression.

Elena hid away. She was afraid to see Ryan hugging another woman passionately.

Elena did not see it. The moment she turned her head, Ryan pushed the person in his arms away in disgust.

“What are you doing here?”

“Cousin, you haven't been to our house recently. My mother said she wanted to make a big meal and treat you well.” Tina's eyes were full of expectation.

“I don't have time.”

Ryan returned to his seat and continued to work on the documents. Tina did not expect him to reject so directly.

She walked forward and sat next to Ryan.

“My father passed away early. We are the only ones left in the family who rely on each other. No one has any idea what happened. Cousin, you promised before that you would take care of us.”

Ryan pushed her away, “I did say that, but it doesn’t mean that I have to visit you all every day. If there is nothing else, you can go back first. After some time, after I finish dealing with the company’s matters, I will bring my wife there.”

Tina’s body stiffened when she heard the word wife. Although she knew Ryan was married, it was just a business marriage. The two of them should not have any relationship, so why did Ryan insist on this?

Tina’s eyes reddened. She looked at the man in front of her. “Cousin, do you hate me?”

“No.” Ryan denied it verbally, but there was a trace of impatience in his eyes.

This cousin of his was just a distant relative of his. She only kept in touch with them because of her grandfather. He did not expect that the mother and daughter would not treat him as an outsider anymore.

Tina immediately smiled when she heard what Ryan said. “I knew cousin would not be so cruel. If there is a chance, you can bring sister-in-law to my house. I have never seen sister-in-law before. I don’t know which woman is so lucky to be able to marry cousin.”

“She’s outside.”

Ryan raised his head and his eyes were cold. It scared Tina so much that she shivered and quickly changed her words. “Sorry, to be able to become cousin’s wife, sister-in-law must be very outstanding. My mother has been talking about you these few days. When you are no longer busy, you must bring sister-in-law to my house.”

After saying that, Tina revealed a sweet smile again.

“Yes.” Ryan did not raise his head and replied faintly. Tina knew that it was not fun and could only leave.

Bride of the Mysterious CEO chapter 85

Elena only returned to her seat when she saw Tina leaving. She did not glance inside and directly started to work.

When she saw Ryan walk out, she was a little hesitant and did not know if she should ask more.

“She is my cousin. Her words and actions do not have a sense of propriety. You are not angry, right?” Ryan saw that Elena was not around and guessed that she might have misunderstood something.

Elena shook her head. “She is only your cousin. I do not need to fuss about it. Besides, she did not do anything.”

“If she comes again, just chase her out.” He observed Elena’s expression. He did not know if she cared about the two of them being alone.

“Hahaha...” Elena burst into laughter.

Ryan was a little embarrassed, “What are you laughing at?”

“I’m laughing. Why are you so serious?” She saw Ryan being so careful, like a child who had done something wrong. The haze in her heart instantly disappeared.

It seemed that Ryan cared about her very much.

“Tina is the child of a distant aunt of mine. Although she said she was an aunt, she was just a goddaughter that my grandfather previously acknowledged. Later on, they did not interact much. Previously, their family went bankrupt, so they came looking for help.”

Now that he was no longer the CEO of the Monor’s, the mother and daughter still depended on him.

“I think she is quite pitiful. Let’s pay a visit when we have time. We can get to know each other.”

Elena’s answer surprised Ryan. If it was an ordinary woman, wouldn’t she think that the other party was a love rival? Why was this woman rushing to someone else’s house?

“You really don’t care?”

After saying this, Ryan felt a little regretful. If Elena didn’t care about it at all, it would be very shameful.

Elena took a step forward and leaned closer to Ryan. She asked somewhat mischievously, “You want me to care?”

The distance between the two was only a few centimeters. Seeing that they were about to kiss, Ryan finally could not help but lock Elena into his arms and bite her lips.

“You dare not mind and try.”

Elena became shy and wanted to escape Ryan’s embrace. In the end, the more she struggled, the more strength he used.

“You still want to escape?”

While struggling, Elena felt that somewhere in Ryan’s body had already straightened up. She did not dare to move randomly anymore, and her tone sounded like she was begging for mercy.

“I want you...” Ryan laid beside Elena’s ear and spoke in a low and sexy voice.

Gentle breathing spread in Elena’s ears. Her legs felt numb and her face was red. She did not dare to breathe loudly.

“This is the company.” Elena reminded him in a low voice. She did not dare to raise her head to look at Ryan.

“There is a lounge inside.” Ryan’s words were filled with desire and Elena felt even more embarrassed.

Ryan suddenly turned on the wheelchair and Elena fell on his lap. She subconsciously hooked her arms around his neck.

“It is time for work. What if someone comes to the office to look for you?”

“No one will come in.”

Ryan pressed the remote control and the door outside the office automatically locked.

Elena was still a little nervous. Ryan smiled and said, “Don’t worry, the soundproofing of this office is very good.”

Elena was a little jealous. “How did you know? Could it be that you brought other women here before?”

After saying this, she wanted to bite off her tongue. She blamed herself for being too nervous and blurted it out without thinking.

Ryan was stunned for a moment and then laughed. He scratched her nose and said, "Hahaha, I didn't expect my little wife to be so cute when she gets jealous. My office is soundproof to prevent people from eavesdropping."

After hearing this, Elena was so shy that she wished she could find a hole to hide in. Without waiting for her reaction, Ryan put her on the bed and leaned forward.

The temperature rose. The whole room was filled with the sound of heavy breathing. The atmosphere was alluring and charming.
