

Chapter 474

Bella's POV

The wedding was finally over.

Everything was the same as what Herbert said. Although his mother didn't seem very happy, she didn't make trouble for me.

Before the wedding was over, she had already left.

Herbert told me not to think too much. There were some things that couldn't be changed for the time being. There was no other way.

After all, I'd spend the rest of my life with him.

I agreed with his words.

The wedding was smooth. Next, what we looked forward to would finally happen, our honeymoon.

We originally wanted to go to New York for our honeymoon, but we felt that it was too boring later.

As a result, our honeymoon trip was set in China.

Ever since Herbert recommended some Chinese dishes to me, I had been very interested in this country.

That night, I was preparing for my honeymoon trip.

Herbert suddenly hugged me from behind. "Honey, I have something to tell you."

Herbert's expression was too serious, which made me nervous.

"What's the matter?" I put down the clothes in my hand.

"In fact, it's not a big deal. I have to take Connor with me on this trip. I have some very important work to deal with. He has to follow me to China. On one hand, it's convenient to deal with work, on the other hand, he needs to inspect some Chinese partners."

"I'm sorry. This is supposed to be our honeymoon trip. Logically speaking, I shouldn't have gotten my work involved."

It turned out that this was it, and it was not a big deal.

Since Connor would tag along, should I bring someone along as well?

Joey would go with us too. I might even be able to create some time for them to get along with each other.

And I wouldn't be bored.

"Bella, are you unhappy?"

Herbert's voice made me regain my senses.

I smiled and hooked my arms around his neck. "I'm not unhappy. I'm just wondering if I should bring Joey with me."

"If she's willing, of course, we can take her with us. But we have to make a deal that we'll spend some time together, okay?"

"Okay, no problem."

I took the initiative to hug Herbert. "Dear, I like our current state."

"Our future will be better and better."

"We will be together for the rest of our lives..."

"I love you, Herbert."

"Bella, I love you..."

Just as we were expressing our love for each other, my phone rang. It was Joey who called.

Joey said excitedly, "Ah, Bella, I won the prize."

"I've bought a few home appliances, haven't I? The merchant held a lottery. Just now, the merchant called and said that I won the first prize!"

Hearing this, I said excitedly, "Hurry up and tell me, what's the prize for the first prize?"

"A free trip in China for eight days." Joey's voice was full of excitement.

"No way! I'll go to China for my honeymoon tomorrow. Since it's such a coincidence, you can book a plane ticket for tomorrow. Let's go there together." I said in surprise.

"But if we're both gone, what should we do with the company?" Joey asked worriedly.

I lowered my head and thought for a moment, then said, "Anyway, we did not get any big cases recently, so I can just ask Amy to stay here. You worked hard to set up the company a while ago, so you can take a vacation. We can work hard after the holiday!"

"That's great." Hearing my words, Joey was about to jump up.

Then I smiled and said, "But I have something to tell you in advance."

"What's the matter?" Joey asked in confusion.

I said, "Connor will go to China with us."

Joey was silent for a long time before she said in pain, "Why am I so unlucky to run into him everywhere?"

"If you don't want to see Connor, then you can change your schedule..."

Before I could finish my sentence, Joey interrupted me. "Why should I change my schedule because of him? Do I have to be afraid of him? I'll just treat him as air and pretend he doesn't exist."

"Is it that serious? Didn't you have a good impression of Connor in the past? Why are the two of you on bad terms now? Right, I heard that you two seemed to have quarreled yesterday. Why did you two end up in such an awkward situation?" I continued to ask.

"Forget it. It's all in the past." Joey said grumpily.

"Well, don't be angry. Didn't you say that you would treat him as air in the future? Well, I won't talk to you anymore. I have to go back and prepare my luggage. The two children, as well as Gary and Miranda, are joining us too. It's probably going to be like moving," I said.

"Then I'll go back and pack up. Bye!" Joey hung up the phone.

The next morning, we arrived at the airport terminal.

At this time, Joey, who was pulling the suitcase, had already arrived.

Today, she was wearing a denim cotton coat and a denim cap on her head. She was dressed very casually and she looked very young. It was impossible to tell that she was more than 30 years old.

"Joey!" I ran to her happily when I saw her.

Behind me, Miranda was holding Lucas, while Gary was pushing the baby car. Lucky was in the baby car, while Connor was pushing the luggage. Herbert was walking by Connor's side.

I glanced at Connor's expression. It wasn't too good.

Oh, I hoped they could get along with each other peacefully.

However, that was their business. My honeymoon with Herbert was finally happening.

When the plane flew 8,000 meters into the air, my mood seemed to be flying as well.

Herbert was sitting with me, and we were holding hands, acting intimately.

Originally, I didn't have enough confidence in this marriage.

After all, he was too aggressive sometimes.

Although he was still overbearing.

But when I saw his changes, I had more confidence in my marriage.

I looked out of the window at the blue sky, and then at my handsome lover.

Everything that happened in the past flashed through my mind like a movie.

"Now, I have a lover who understands me, two lovely children, and a new career."

Herbert's mother still didn't like me very much. Ryan might still cause trouble. Betty's depression hadn't completely recovered yet. Joey and Connor were still quarreling.

But as Herbert said, life was not a novel, and not everything could be perfect. Things would not happen according to our wishes.

There must be more challenges in the future, but I already had the courage to face them.

Everything at the moment was the best ending.
