Finding Ella

My whole body is shaking, and I'm still dizzy from whatever drugs were given to me. Mistress Ava is beside me, holding me close as she yells at the guy that was sent in here. I can't make sense of what they are saying, even though I'm trying my best to understand them. I keep hearing the word sorry, but that's all I can comprehend. I can tell the guy was feeling bad after he found out that he was lied to. I remember Mistress Ava suggesting that he leave before my Dom arrives, but he insists on staying.

"ELLA!" I hear my name and the familiar voice that I know so well.

"J-Jace..."

"I'm here baby!" I'm being jostled, and when I try opening my eyes, the room spins.

"I'm going to be sick!"

Something is shoved in front of me, and I realize it's the waste basket that Nessa threw my water bottle in. I reach in and pull the empty bottle out before hurling inside of the can. Once I think I'm finished, I sit back, and Jace tries to get me to drink more water, but I shake my head.

"Drugged..."

"It's okay, baby, it's only water."

push his hand away again, "No, drugged!" My eyes begin to focus on him and even though he's still a little blurry, I can make him out for the most part.

"You were drugged?" he asks me, and I nod.

I hold up the water bottle that I pulled from the bin and point to the mug on the table, "Nessa..."

"Nessa fucking drugged you?!" He roars, and I can't feel any pity for the woman at this point.

"Master Jace, listen to what this guy has to say." I hear Mistress Ava instruct him..

I can faintly hear the guy explaining what had all transpired, not leaving anything out, even knowing that Jace will be pissed, but the guy remains truthful. This alone indicates that he truly never meant me any harm, but Jace must not see it that way because he lets me go and jumps up, heading over to the stranger.

"You dared to put your hands on my girl? I'm going to beat you to a fucking pulp!"

"Jace!" I call out, stopping

He nods, "Good," leaning in, he presses his lips against mine for a brief kiss, "I am so sorry, Ella. I shouldn't have let you go off with Kia like that."

"Jace, you can't blame yourself for everything that goes wrong with me. For some reason, danger is attracted to me," | chuckle, "You can't follow me around everywhere, all you can do is what you are doing right now; being here for me in the aftermath."

"Grr," he presses his forehead against mine, "How can you be so calm about this?"

“Because I know you will take care of her for me, and I can rest easy knowing that I have you to help me get through it.”

“God, I fucking love you!” He says and then kisses my forehead before letting my face go to buckle my seatbelt.

I watch Jace walk around the front of the Jeep, and even though I still feel a bit high, I’m no longer dizzy or nauseous anymore. What I do feel, though, is arousal taking hold and I lick my lips as he climbs in beside me. He notices me staring and grins, “What’s that look for?”

| shake my head, “I don’t know what she gave me, but I’m starting to feel horny, Jace. How fast can you get us home?”

“What the fuck did she do, give you Viagra or something?” He scowls, “She was trying to get you to get in the mood to have sex with someone else!”

“Jace,” | stop his ranting, “Let’s not talk about her right now, please. Just get me home, so you can take care of this need of mine.”

“You were just attacked, Ella. I can’t do that to you, it wouldn’t be right.”

“But I need it, Jace; I need to come...” I feel myself getting warmer, ‘like someone turned the heater on, but it’s off. Not caring that we are still in the vehicle, I slide my hand between my legs and start playing with myself.

“Jesus, Ella! Are you trying to get us into an accident?” Jace chuckles as he tries looking back and forth between the road and where my hand is currently.

“I’m sorry, but I can’t help it...I need to...Ohhh!” | come right then and even though I feel a little better, I can still tell that my body needs more, “It’s not enough, I need you, Jace!”

“I’m not fucking you when you aren’t in your right state of mind, Ella. You will have to take care of yourself.”

I hate that he’s right and that he won’t touch me because of it; all I want is to feel his hands all over me and have his girthy cock fill me up. I guess I’ll be on my own for tonight, at least I’ll have my trusted purple pussy eater to help with my dilemma.
