

Boss, Your Wife's Asking For A Divorce, Again Chapter 922

Why didn't I realize that he's so good at bullsh*tting? Still, he's kind of funny like this.

At the thought of that, Sonia burst into laughter.

When Toby saw her laughing, he asked, "What's wrong?"

Why is she laughing out of nowhere?

Sonia gave him a coquettish look. "What do you think?"

"I don't know." Toby shook his head as he really didn't know.

Wasn't she still angry at me just a few seconds ago? Why did she suddenly burst into laughter? The shift in her mood has happened so rapidly that I don't even know what's happening.

Noticing the confused look on the man's face, Sonia harrumphed. "Good for you. I'm not going to tell you why since you refused to let me down when I asked you to. This is my punishment to you. Hmph!"

Then, she spun around to stare outside from the car window while Toby was in awe as he looked at the smug look on her face.

If it weren't due to the fact that he was driving and needed to make sure that he was driving safely, he would have pinched her chubby cheeks. I bet they feel really soft.

Toby's tongue was pressed against the ceiling of his mouth as he thought to himself secretly.

40 minutes went past in a blink of an eye and they found themselves nearing the Lane Residence.

After Toby drove into Lane Residence's area, Sonia noticed Grace and Curtis standing at the entrance of their house. It was obvious that they were there to welcome them.

her face. "I already told them to not wait for me by the door, but ahead, he replied, "That's how they are. Although they

the people who were the closest to nice to me, and they would always wait for me by the pointed at the parking spot at the side before motioning for

Grace did, his intent gaze on the car revealed his joy upon seeing those instructions, Toby parked the car before undoing his seatbelt and got same time, Sonia got Grace, who was initially standing with Curtis at the steps by the door, quickly jogged toward her with a smile and her arms wide open. "Sonny, I missed you so much!

steps forward when she saw Grace running toward her before spreading her arms to Grace and Sonia hugged, Toby and Curtis looked at each other without saying anything. Compared to Grace and Sonia, they were much quieter each other like how Grace and they weren't close enough to do that host, he knew that he should

how to get along with Toby, he still had cleared his throat before extending his Fullers, so they barely worked together or had was nothing wrong with what Curtis said since they did hand to shake Curtis' hand. "Nice to meet you, Mr. Lane. However, you don't have to address me formally since we are not in a were extremely respectful, and Curtis couldn't find any to approach Toby because of his status as a that he wouldn't attempt to cross, and he'd still have to

Instead, he was here to meet his in-laws