

CEO is Chasing Ex-Wife Back Chapter 6

Chapter 6 You Are Dumped by Me

Zac looked angry, "Aurora, what are you trying to do? The Bennet family went bankrupt so you try to sell yourself? Do you know where this is? Who are you taking the clothes off for?"

Aurora stared at Zac and chuckled, "Isn't this what you want? Isn't it good for me to satisfy you?"

As she spoke, she struggled to break away from Zac and go back to the stage.

"Don't you dare dance again." Zac was so angry and his cold eyes swept across every inch of Aurora's face.

As soon as the music stopped, it was silent. Everyone shivered as they were looking at Zac and Aurora.

"She ... she is not Lena!" A girl cried out.

Everyone looked at each other, not knowing how Aurora managed to mix in with these dancers and became the leading dancer, Lena.

The real Lena was full of red spots on her face. She broke in with the procuress and bodyguards, "This is the woman who locked me in the locker room!"

The procuress was angry but she wanted to stabilize the situation. She instructed the bodyguards to get Aurora out.

Aurora raised her eyebrows coldly, her noble aura making people stop.

"Yes, I am not Lena. I am Mr. Buchanna's wife. But at this moment, I am no longer his wife. Because I want a divorce from you, Zac! I am the one who abandoned you."

They must divorce, but she would not be like a stray dog. She would repay the pain that Zac brought her.

This was Aurora.

Daniel inhaled, "Even Zac, who is so successful in business, has been ... divorced by a woman?"

"Shut up." Martin noticed him.

"Do you know what you're talking about? You're playing with fire," Zac said. He was gripping Aurora's wrist even harder.

Aurora did not avoid Zac's anger. She looked at him directly, and took out a document from her bag, smiling, "Zac, do you think I am afraid of death now? You made me do this. I have no other way to meet you."

With the pleasure of torturing others, Aurora laughed.

"This is what I have been wanting to do for the past two years. Zac, it is me who wants to divorce you. From now on, I have nothing to do with you. I can be a stripper or a singer if I want and it's none of your business."

The documents fell on the carpet, accompanied by Aurora's vow.

"From now on, your marriage and children, happiness and sadness, and life and death are no longer my concerns. I wish you a long but lonely life."

Everyone was surprised!

No one had thought that this pretty woman could speak so ruthlessly.

"Aurora, words are useless." Zac's voice was as cold as ice.

Zac stared at Aurora's beautiful face, but his words were so cold, "Do you believe that I can make you disappear in Berchun City?"

"I do. How could I not believe you?"

Aurora smiled and nodded. Her red lips moved as she mocked, "But so what? Do you think that I still care about that?"

She tried to break away from Zac. At first, Zac did not let go, so she used a bit more strength. In the end, she broke free from Zac. Aurora felt as if her arm was dislocated.

She took two steps back. Aurora ignored the existence of Zac and looked around at the people in the room with different expressions. She smiled. "Sorry for my disturbance.

Goodbye."

After saying this, she tidied up her messy hair and clothes and rushed out the door.

The people in the room were stunned.
