

CEO Daddy Is Too Passionate –

Chapter 5

Wenjo took a day off and went to the hospital.

With the pregnancy list in hand, the whole brain is blank.

She was only twenty years old, and her life had just begun. She didn't even know who the man was that night. Why did she have a baby?

Back home, her mother Su Yue'e found her abnormality and asked with concern, "Qiao Qiao, what happened?"

Wen Qiao gave Su Yue'e the pregnancy list in her hand. Su Yue'e immediately clapped her thigh and cried, "my poor child, how can it be like this? Blame your useless father! Child, this child can't have it! "

Wenqiao holds Su Yuee, and the mother and daughter cry together.

Half a month later, I thought I would get back on the right track if I knocked out my child. However, the usurers reappeared.

They don't know where they got the news. They know that winjo is pregnant. They come to fulfill the agreement.

Su Yuee cried and begged those people, but it didn't work. She either gave birth to her child to them, or paid double the amount of the original debt.

Father Wen Shengsong knelt down in front of Wen Qiao. His face was red and swollen. One of the elders cried bitterly, "Qiao Qiao, Dad, I'm sorry for you! Dad's going to die. You can't ruin it on them!

Wenqiao had already been numb, his eyes were dry, and his tears were dry.

What's the difference between the original operation and the present pregnancy? Anyway, it's all for the nameless life, a child!

"I was born! Dad, I have a baby

The next day, wenjo went to school to cancel school.

When walking through the library, unexpectedly, I met Xu Tianyu again. There was a beautiful figure beside him.

The day after she refused him, Xu Tianyu agreed to the pursuit of the school flower.

Calm heart once again set off ripples, see him again, Wenqiao did not imagine calm, she turned to escape, but do so will only show her desire to cover.

Now that she had chosen this heartless way, no matter how sad she was today, she had to go on.

Besides, now that she is pregnant, it is impossible for her and him.

Wen Qiao clenched the textbook in his hand, bowed his head and walked towards Xu Tianyu.

At the moment of passing by, she felt that a heart was about to jump out.

She couldn't help glancing at her side. Xu Tianyu's face was expressionless and didn't squint. His big hand held the hand of Xiaohua tightly, and Xiaohua's face was happy and nestled up to his arm.

Wenqiao instantly red eyes, quickly away from the eyes, quickly left.

Nine months later.

“Ah Wenjo was lying on the delivery table in the hospital, sweating with pain and without any strength.

“Joe, try hard. The child’s head is stuck. If it can’t regenerate, the child will lack oxygen! Push The doctor was sweating, wiping sweat on her and handing her water.

The hospital for delivery and pregnancy check-up was selected by Su Yuee, while the middle-aged doctor who was delivering Wenqiao was su Yuee’s distant cousin.

The two families haven’t contacted each other for many years. By chance, Su yue’e contacted this cousin again.

Those people simply investigated the background of the hospital and doctors, found no problems, and did not interfere. What they care about is their children.

Half an hour later, a baby’s cry cut through the heavy air above the delivery room.

The woman with glasses rushed into the delivery room and snatched the child from the doctor.

Wenqiao was so weak in pain that when he saw this scene, he burst into tears and cried out: “child!

My child! Please give me a look at my child

The woman held the frame and said without expression: “Miss Wen, this child is not yours!

Remember, your child died as soon as he was born

Until I watched the people go away, the doctor hurried back to the operating room, “Joe, relax, the second child will come out soon!”

Half an hour later, another fat baby was born.
