Chapter 111

In that photo was a disheveled woman. She seemed to have been injected with some kind of poison or bacteria. Her skin was badly festered and only a few pieces of rags covered her body. In addition, her limbs were twisted, her mouth was open, and her tongue could not be seen.

Thomas raised his head, drank the wine in his glass and said slowly, "It seems that she won't come back to Z Country."

Under torture, she could only struggle on the verge of death with her last breath and suffer the pain alive.

"She shouldn't be under control now, right?" Mark asked calmly.

The assistant stepped forward to put away the photo and replied, "After finishing our tasks, we left her in the squatter settlement."

If no one had bothered to look for her, it was impossible to know that Ingrid, who had become disabled, was there.

Edward slowly lit a cigar. "I can't sympathize with that vicious woman. She killed a person like that. If we don't punish her, we might have to deal with sister-in-law next time."

Tony took out a few new glasses and began to pour wine for everyone, "Well, let's talk about sister-in-law. It's rare for Issac to take the initiative to ask us out. Issac must have something to say."

After that, everyone looked at Issac, waiting for him to speak.

Issac nodded slightly, raised his head, and met their gaze, with a cold face, as he usually did. "Tony, Edward, listen. This time, I want the Yankey Group and Sandgren Group, to destroy the Lakey Group and the Johanning Group. You can ask for any reward."

If the Prosperous Group made a move, it would definitely attract a lot of attention, so Issac could only ask the Yankey Group and the Sandgren Group to secretly take action.

Edward and Tony were shocked. "You've helped us so much before. It's rare for you to ask us for help, and we will go through thick and thin and do whatever we can to help you! We don't want an award. Don't say this again."

As soon as he finished speaking, Thomas couldn't help but report, "Issac, the ZC Entertainment has a video that can prove that she is innocent. It was obtained from two employees of the personnel and resources department. On the day of the incident, they happened to be watching everything. At that time, Serena rushed up and slapped sister-in law."

At the mention of Serena, Issac's eyes became more ferocious, and he had a frightening and gloomy aura. "Next, we can prepare for the meeting. The sooner, the better."

He didn't want his woman to suffer any more grievances.

Mark walked over to Issac and patted him on the shoulder. "Besides destroying the Johanning Group and the Lakey Group, how are you going to deal with Serena?"

This incident was fueled by the two main figures of the Lakey Group and the Johanning Group, but now they knew that Serena was malicious, and the nature of the event changed.

"Of course, we will settle some old scores together."

His thin, sexy lips slowly curled up to make an evil smile.

The others could not help but shudder, and they were even more certain that the woman Issac loved could not be provoked.

At this moment, at the front desk of Prosperous Mansion, a gorgeous and tall young woman was talking to the staff at the front desk.

"Miss Quenelle, Mr. Tort has not been in the company recently. If you are his friend, please leave your contact information here. I will help you pass it on." The receptionist took out a registration form and handed it to her.

The young woman was hesitant and raised her eyebrows.

(Pass it on? How could I surprise him?)

"Forget it. Since you said that Mr. Tort would return a few days later, I'll come back then."

With that, the young woman put on her sunglasses and walked out of the building in high heels.

As she was about to walk out of the gate, she caught a glimpse of a prominent recruitment board from the corner of her eye. The company was recruiting the director of the Product Planning Department.

She checked her step and smiled.

(Issac, we could meet again soon. It had been two years. I missed you very much.)

In the evening, after dinner, Elaine received a call from Edward, and Edward said a company car would pick her up and drive her to the ZC Entertainment's press conference the morning after tomorrow.

Issac leaned languidly on the sofa and looked at the slender figure standing in front of the French window, holding her cell phone, and saying something. He could vaguely see the joy on her face.

Not long after, Elaine ended the call and returned to the sofa.

Mark walked over to Issac and patted him on the shoulder. "Besides destroying the Johanning Group and the Lakey Group, how are you going to deal with Serena?"

Not long after, Elaine ended the call and returned to the sofa.

Issac put one hand on her shoulder and took her into his arms. "What's wrong? Who called you? Are you so happy?"

Elaine raised her head and excitedly shared her joy, "The manager called and said that the day after tomorrow the company was going to hold a press conference. He asked me to come forward and prove that I am innocent when there is public opinion that has been bad to me. He also asked me to relax at home and said that everything would be arranged properly."

Issac gave a dotting smile and looked into her clear eyes. "Well, it seems that you have finally survived."

Their eyes locked, and the atmosphere gradually became subtle and complicated.

A big hand once again grabbed the back of her head, and he did not allow her to struggle. He stared at her red lips and kissed her slowly...

"Mr. Lakey, Elaine hurt Mrs. Lakey. What do you want to say to Elaine?"

They could hear clearly the interview on TV.

Issac suddenly stopped and they looked at the entertainment news at the same time.

There was an interview with Serena at the entrance of the B City police station this morning.

Serena took the questions for Chris and began to talk nonsense with a serious face, "They have nothing to do with each other. My husband had been to HY Movie Academy before, and Elaine, who was in charge of reception, wanted to hook up with him. My husband was not interested in her at all, but she never gave up. I didn't expect her to be so vicious. When we got married, she took me as a target for revenge and gave our child to..."

Elaine twitched her lips and slowly sat up straight.

(She was targeting me. Did she think her reputation was not bad enough? She was stirring up trouble!)

“You didn’t give up on that man?”

Issac said in a cold and probing tone, and she could feel the danger.

Elaine felt a chill on her back. “She is talking nonsense! How could I not give up on him?”

“Then how can I prove it?”

She felt a warm breath in her ear.

“Well, there’s no need to prove it at all! Anyway, I’ve broken up with him and cut off all contact.”

Facing Issac’s oppressive eyes, Elaine almost raised her hand in front of him to swear that she was not lying.

“Then, if you’re given another chance to choose again, would you choose me or Chris?”

Elaine thought, “I choose to die.”

However, in order to save her life in this situation, she blinked her eyes fawningly, “... Of course, I will choose you!”

Issac narrowed his eyes slightly. “Why?”

“Look at you. You’re rich, responsible, and handsome. You can cook and are good at sex. Oh, no, no! That’s not what I meant. ...”

In the end, Elaine completely didn’t know what to say, flushing with shyness.

Oh my god, it was all Kelly’s fault! She liked to talk to her about some strange things!

“Hahaha..”

Issac laughed heartily and held the girl in front of him with both hands. He approached her, saying in a low and hoarse voice, “What should I do? Baby, you’re so cute.”

The next moment, just as Elaine was about to speak, her lips were immediately kissed by him...

Soon, on the day of the press conference, almost every netizen following the event waited for the live broadcast to see what the infamous Elaine would say shamelessly.

The press conference was held at a luxurious five-star hotel owned by the Prosperous Group. The president of ZC Entertainment booked the entire lobby for this important release.

Changing into a low-key black dress, Elaine wore light makeup to cover her slightly haggard look. She got into a luxurious business car, rushing to the conference.

Half an hour before the conference, journalists from various entertainment media had arrived in the lobby, fiddling with their cameras, ready to take the clearest picture when Elaine appeared.

Not long after, a staff member from ZC Entertainment came.

He picked up the microphone on the table, telling the journalists to keep quiet. Then he stood aside, waiting for the others.

Soon, a familiar figure came into everyone's sight accompanied by her agent. Then there were sounds of clicking of shutters and contemptuous boos.

Under everyone's burning gaze, Elaine sat awkwardly in the seat with her name on a plate before her. Edward sat beside her.

There were two other empty chairs, but no one knew who would come to this meeting along with Elaine.

Leaning closer to Elaine's ear, Edward said in a low voice, "Don't be nervous. Don't panic. Otherwise, the reporters will make a fuss about everything you do and mar your image. Today, your job is to prove your innocence and clarify those false statements that are tied to you."

Nodding, Elaine took a deep breath. She then looked at those reporters who were taking pictures of her with cameras.

After filming The Arrival of the Empress, she missed the promotional meeting of the show for personal reasons, so she did not attend such an important occasion where she would be faced with numerous cameras. She did not expect that the first time she showed up on such an occasion was for cleaning up her reputation.

Edward looked at the time on his watch. It seemed that it would take a long time before the conference began. A little agitated, the reporters began to point fingers at Elaine. At the same time, the live streaming had already begun and there was numerous bullet screen in the live room.

Calming down, just as Elaine was about to ask Edward when they could start, a tall figure came in from the entrance, followed by two assistants in suits.

"Sorry, I'm late."

A steady and powerful male voice sounded. The man walked towards the table under everyone's astonished gaze.

Picking up the microphone in front of him, Edward introduced the man officially, "Ladies and gentlemen, this is Mr. Larney from ZC Entertainment. Today, he will attend the interview together with actress Elaine, who is involved in a controversial accident recently."

After that, Thomas, who was dressed in a decent gray suit, sat down beside Elaine with a gentle smile on his face. One of his assistants also sat next to him.

Looking shocked, Elaine did not expect Thomas would appear today.

"Interview? Didn't Elaine come here to apologize?"

"Yes, all the videos on the internet prove that Elaine is the culprit to make the wife of the Lakey Group's president miscarry."

"Is ZC Entertainment trying to prove its actress innocent?"

There were all kinds of objections and blaming in the room, and some reporters had even prepared how to write the eye-catching headline.

Frowning slightly, Thomas picked up the microphone in front of him, saying confidently, "The incident attracted heated discussion recently. We wanted to solve it in private, but you ask us to give you an explanation in public. Now we plan to do it. But before we could say anything, it seems that you don't care about what we will say. Do you want to make another big scandal to tarnish ZC Entertainment? Come on, tell me, which company are you from?"

After saying these rather powerful words, the reporters at the scene finally stopped making a scene.

Only then did Edward begin to speak." We're sorry to hear that Miss Johanning fell down the stairs and miscarried after her dispute with our actress at the entrance of the ZC Entertainment. However, after a small controversial video was uploaded online, our actress Elaine was blamed and slandered for no proper reason. In the past few days when we were silent, we had been looking for evidence to prove that our actress Elaine was innocent in this incident. Later, we will present the full video of that day to everyone today to make you guys clear about what happened at that time.”

At this moment, some of the netizens were attracted by Thomas and became fans of him, while others continued to scold ZC Entertainment for preparing to distort the truth.

Soon, after that, the staff played the video onto the big screen.

The first video clip was copied from the surveillance camera at the entrance of the company.

In the black-and-white video, Elaine and a female friend walked out of the door of ZC Entertainment. Serena suddenly rushed forward, slapping Elaine without saying a word. Then she pointed at Elaine and said something vehemently. From this angle, the viewers could see that Elaine had been talking to her calmly, but Serena seemed unwilling to let Elaine go, attracting a lot of onlookers.

Chapter 113

She pounced and grabbed Elaine's arm. Elaine struggled and Serena staggered down the steps. Finally, Serena fainted.

It was shown in the video. Elaine tried to push Serena away in the video and it could not prove that Elaine was not involved in Serena's fall.

Before the reporters asked, Thomas said, “Next, we will play the second video.”

The second one was taken by a staff member and the video was clear and noisy.

As the video zoomed in, they could see that Elaine gritted her teeth and was speaking when Serena pounced. When Serena gripped tightly Elaine's arms, Serena smiled. The video was paused.

Edward walked to the screen and magnified Serena's face. He said to the reporters, “Please remember Miss Johanning's smile.”

After that, the video was resumed.

This time, everyone could clearly see that Elaine was so pained as to push Serena away with a frown. And Elaine didn't push her hard.

Then, Serena staggered back. She could stand still but she deliberately took two steps back. Finally, she fell down, resulting in her bleeding and miscarriage.

Thomas unscrewed a bottle of water and said casually, "Can you see it clearly? Should we play the video more times in case someone will claim the video to be a fraud? The two videos will be uploaded and please pay attention to the Twitter of the ZC Entertainment."

The video was played twice more. The reporters who found something wrong for the first time were more certain about their judgment when they watched the video again.

"Apart from the video, I believe the question you want to ask more is that someone claimed that Elaine is a mistress."

Thomas turned to Elaine beside him, "Come on, Elaine. Say hello to the audience."

Elaine didn't speak before and gradually calmed down. She picked up the microphone, "Hello, I am Elaine. I act the role as Barbie Saffel in The Arrival of the Empress."

Then, Edward took the floor, "Miss Johanning cursed Elaine at that day and fabricated rumors to incite netizens afterward. Thus, many people cursed Elaine. Elaine is seriously impacted and we will call to account!"

As soon as he finished speaking, a reporter asked, "Miss Johanning said Elaine is his husband's mistress. Is it a rumor?"

Elaine took the microphone and said to the cameras without hesitation, "Yes. The president of the Lakey Group was my boyfriend when I was in college, but we broke up and never contacted each other again. Miss Johanning must misunderstand me. I swear that I never take the initiative to contact Chris after we broke up."

The reporters didn't expect her to be frank and asked, "Miss Johanning, you said that you took the initiative to pester Mr. Lakey while he was not interested in you at all."

Elaine didn't lose her temper but smiled, "You can ask Mr. Lakey if I went out with him. If he helps his wife to slender me, I can prove his lie and they will have eggs on their faces."

"Miss Johanning claimed to sue you, but you didn't go to the police station when you were summoned. Is it true?"

"No, it isn't. I went to the police station when I was summoned. You can call the police station to verify. Please don't spread rumors."

"Miss Johanning indicated that you got the role in The Arrival of the Empress by pestering Mr. Lakey. Is it true?"

"Absolutely not. Elaine auditioned for the cast herself and was signed by our company. ZC Entertainment is the biggest investor in the drama. Both Mr. Larney and Mr. Waldow appreciate her. She deserves it and didn't get it by any improper way."

Edward answered the question for Elaine.

Thomas responded, "He is right. It is simple but she intends to distort the truth. From the videos, we can see that Miss Johanning was rude to Elaine and slandered and scolded her for no reason. Elaine lightly pushed her away, but Serena deliberately fell down when she could stand still after taking a step back. Different people have different views, and I won't point it out. I hope she can look out for herself"

The interview and live broadcast were going on. It was rare for a big company like ZC Entertainment to accept the interview under great pressure and many people were watching.

Owen watched the live broadcast at work and Issac stopped working to watch it. They saw how easy Elaine was when she answered the questions.

Ian knocked on the door and reported rigorously, "Mr. Tort, I've sent the copy of the recording anonymously to the reception of the Lakey Group."

A smile touched Issac's lips and a glint of grim sparkled in his dark eyes. He said, "Good job."

And then Issac picked up his phone and called, "Edward, you can start."

Chris, who broke up the meeting, saw the package on his desk when he returned to his office.

He raised his eyebrows curiously and opened the package with a penknife.

There was a common voice recorder with a note, which was printed. It read, "Mr. Lakey, please listen to it. You will be surprised."

Chris looked it up and down and then turned on the play switch, "Is it a good way to vent your anger? Don't hesitate. You will get one million dollars if you do as I say."

It was Serena's voice.

Chapter 114

Chris immediately put away his unconcerned expression.

“Are you sure I won't be caught by the police? This is murder!” An unfamiliar voice of another female sounded.

“Don't worry. If the police come, you can make someone else a scapegoat. I promise that you can easily escape abroad. Don't you see how you end up in trouble just because of Elaine? Compared to killing her, don't you want her to live a life worse than death?”

“Have you investigated her father's daily route?”

“Yes. Take this piece of information. Anyway, when you see him, just step on the gas and rush forward.”

He kept listening to the record.

When Chris heard this, his breath suddenly choked, and his blood seemed to stop running. He felt a shiver running down his spine, his hand holding the recording pen trembled unconsciously.

What the hell had happened?

Serena conspired with someone else to plot Elaine's father's car accident?

“Mr. Lakey”

The new male secretary walked into the office respectfully. “Mrs. Lakey is waiting for you outside.”

Chris came back to reality. He stroke his hair irritably, and turned on the computer. “Tell her I have something urgent to deal with. Let her go back.”

The male secretary was slightly surprised. “Okay.”

(There is obviously nothing else to do after the meeting... Besides, I've heard that he is going back to the Johanning family with his wife, isn't he?)

After the secretary left, a box of hot news popped up on the computer screen where on the front page was the topics that everyone was paying attention to this morning: Elaine, who had been embroiled into a heated discussion of public opinion this time, made her voice for the first time.

Chris clicked the replay for some inexplicable reason and frowned with his heart laden with anxiety.

“Elaine, you’ve worked too hard recently. This press conference is a success. You’ve done well. Go back and have a rest.”

On the way back to Splendid Villa, Edward was sitting in a black MPV and browsing the internet about the press conference of ZC Entertainment and Elaine.

Most people exclaimed that the situation had reversed too suddenly, and some maintained a wait-and-see attitude, saying that they would wait for Serena to respond, but the abuse of Elaine also had a tendency to abate.

Elaine heaved a long sigh of relief. “Edward, thank you today. Please extend my gratitude to Mr. Larney.”

Originally, she wanted to thank Thomas in person, but he was busy. After the press conference, he left in a hurry with his assistants.

“Well, I’ll convey the message to him. Because of those negative effects recently, you basically don’t have any work to do now, but since you have come forward to respond, I think your career will gradually reco

“Okay, I’ll be patient. By the way, my father’s coffee shop has decided to open this Sunday. If you’re free, what about coming to have fun?”

Edward smiled and readily agreed, “Sure, I’ll be there.”

Later, when Elaine returned to Splendid Villa, Kelly called.

Knowing that Elaine was in Splendid Villa, Kelly immediately put aside her work and rushed over. They hadn’t seen each other for a while. Kelly was worried about Elaine and had helped defend her against many critics online.

“Elaine, I’m so worried about you these days! Fortunately, your company helps you resolve the crisis. Otherwise, there’s nothing you can do to remove the stigma off your name. Serena is too wicked! Her miscarriage is mostly caused by herself, since she schemes day and night to control the public opinion.”

“Okay, don’t be angry. Do you want a cup of coffee?”

Elaine brought a cup of coffee to Kelly and sat down beside her.

“Thank you.”

Kelly took the glass and calmed down. She then asked thoughtfully, “By the way, Elaine, is Thomas really the boss of ZC Entertainment?”

Elaine nodded. “Yes. What’s wrong?”

Kelly twitched her lips. “Nothing. It’s... Quite unexpected.”

Kelly really didn’t expect the boss of ZC Entertainment to be a playboy, though he looked quite serious in front of the camera this morning.

But she’d better stay away from him. It was not advisable to have extra contact with this kind of man.

It was at night.

Serena went to her parents’ home alone and returned with grievance.

As soon as she turned on the light in the living room, she saw a familiar figure sitting on the sofa.

Chris held a bottle of foreign wine in one hand and a glass in the other. His once deep, attractive eyes became vacant at this moment, and his face was gloomy.

Serena, who had wanted to throw a tantrum, immediately restrained herself and asked agreeably, “Honey, what’s wrong with you?”

Hearing the her voice, Chris looked up and saw Serena walking towards him with a concerned look on her face.

His lips curled into a sneer, “What’s wrong? Don’t you know? In just one day, all the industries of the Lakey Group and the Johanning Group have suffered a serious loss! The stock price also plummets. All the money was lost! planned to pay the loan from the bank by this month’s deadline, but now I can’t take out a single cent to cope with the emergency. Both the Sandgren Group and the Yankey Group rush to take this opportunity to buy those industries from the bank!”

Serena’s eyes widened in disbelief. “How could this be?”

Chris raised his head and gulped down the wine in his glass. He then chuckled, "No company can help the Lakey Group and the Johanning Group now. This time they're really over"

Bang!!

After he finished speaking, he smashed the glass on the ground, and fragments flew everywhere, some of which hurt Serena's calf and skin.

This time, it was as if someone had been secretly plotting against them for a long time. The two companies were to be destroyed in one fell swoop.

Serena, who had been enjoying his pampering recently, frowned unhappily, "Honey, calm down. My legs are scratched by shards!"

Chris looked up at her and said coldly, "You're not dying. Is it necessary to make a fuss for the little cut?"

impatient with me because the Johanning Group is also unable to protect itself from this crisis? Were you pretending to be good to me these days!"

He made a sarcastic smile.

With a sneer, Chris took out something and threw it at her feet. "Listen, Serena, see what you've done."

Serena glanced at the recording pen at her feet in confusion and bent down to pick it up.

The next moment, when she listened to it, her brain went blank and her look stiffened in an instant.

Chris leaned lazily on the sofa, examining the change in her expression with a straight face. "How is it? You vicious woman, why do you think I should treat you nicely now? Haven't you seen the live broadcast of the ZC Entertainment press conference today? You made it up out of nothing! Your fall was deliberately caused by yourself! Elaine didn't push you!"

"Bang!"

The recording pen slipped out of Serena's hand.

She staggered forward, her face filled with apprehension. She grabbed Chris' arm, and tears uncontrollably rolled down. "No, it's not the truth. Honey! Someone set me up! It must be Elaine.

Chris shook off her hand mercilessly, stood up slowly, and looked down at her. "Serena, enough! Stop pretending you're pitiful. You're so disgusting! We'll divorce!"

Serena slumped to the ground. "Divorce? No, how can you divorce me! I was pregnant! How can you be so heartless!"

Chris smiled coldly. "But are you pregnant now? The answer is no! Pack up your things and get out of here before I'm completely irritated! We'll get the divorce done tomorrow!"

He then picked up the recording pen and glanced sideways at Serena, who was slouching trembling on the ground.

When Serena saw the recording pen in his hand, her expression froze and her face muscles even tensed, as if she was very afraid of it, which recorded her sins.

Chris narrowed his eyes slightly and said in a soft but sinister tone, for more Daily updates visit :- "Don't worry. At least you're my wife now, so I won't drive you into a corner. I won't make this recording public or give it to Elaine so that she can call the police with it. As long as you give up dividing up my assets, I will let you go."

He then brandished the recording pen. "Can you do it?"

He pressed on

This was a good way that he could completely get rid of Serena. He didn't love her at all. He was with her these days only because of his guilt, but he didn't expect her to be so vicious.

He not only gave up the idea that he could make do with this vicious woman, but also felt disgusted when he saw her.

Finally, under his cold and oppressive gaze, Serena compressed her lips hard and nodded reluctantly. "Okay, that's the deal."

[In the rich villa area named Splendid Villa]

Elaine was standing by the bedroom window, enjoying milk comfortably and watching the video of her interview with her phone.

At that time, her anxiety was gradually replaced by calmness mostly because of Edward and Thomas' support.

Issac, who came out of the bathroom, saw her figure by the window and slowly approached her.

The next moment, before she could react, a strong arm wrapped around her slender waist from behind. A deep and sexy male voice whispered in her ear, "Honey, sleep early tonight."

His tone and words were so seductive.

Elaine suddenly held her breath and blushed.

Through her thin and soft nightgown, she could clearly feel the burning palm on her waist.

"... I'll play with my phone for a while. You can sleep first."

Why was this man so energetic? She wanted to rest for a few more days.

Hearing her words, Issac reluctantly loosened his grip and said, "Don't play too long. Staring at the phone might damage your eyes."

He then walked towards the big bed alone.

Elaine secretly breathed a sigh of relief. Standing by the window, she chatted with Kelly on WhatsApp and went to bed after agreeing to go shopping together tomorrow. She glanced back at Issac and found that he was lying on the bed with his eyes closed.

She was secretly happy. Then she put down her phone, quietly scurried to wash her hands, and got into bed neatly.

However, at the same time, Issac, who should be asleep, suddenly opened his eyes and pressed his body against hers. His eyes were fixed on the startled girl, and a flirtatious smile appeared on his beautiful lips. "You can't escape, babe."

Looking at the handsome face close by, Elaine subconsciously swallowed. Her rapid heartbeat and breathing echoed in the quiet room.

In the dark bedroom, her clear round eyes were as gentle as spring breeze. It was so warm that he indulged himself in them.

Elaine knew that she could not escape tonight, so she had to accept her fate, throwing her arms around the man's neck and pressing her red lips against his...

The next morning, Elaine was woken up by the sound of running water in the bathroom.

She opened her eyelids in a daze and found Issac was not beside her. Elaine was ache all over but she could bear it.

Propping herself up, she lifted the quilt and got out of bed, finding that she had already changed into a clean bathrobe.

Her little face turned slightly pink. After glancing at the closed bathroom, she walked to the coat hanger and took down her bag.

After quickly rummaging it and taking out a bottle of birth control pills she had bought in A City, she put the bottle on the table and walked out of the room to get a cup of warm water.

Not long after, Elaine returned to her room, throwing one pill in her mouth and gulping the water down.

However, just as she screwed the cap back on the bottle, she suddenly heard a cold and deep male voice from not far away. "What are you eating?"

Elaine suddenly froze, and the bottle in her hand fell to the ground. "Bang."

Most of the small pills were spilled out of the bottle, and the bottle rolled to the side.

Issac, who had come out of the bathroom for some time and was rubbing his hair dry, paused slightly. His gaze rested on the pills scattering on the ground, and he frowned. "Why do you take the medicine? Are you okay?"

"No."

Elaine shook her head and quickly squatted down to pick up the pills on the ground. Issac walked to pick up the bottle and then approached Elaine, helping her to her feet. He said gently, "Let the maid do it."

Elaine nodded and reached out, intending to grab the bottle in his hand.

Issac glanced at it unintentionally, and the words "birth control" burned his eyes.

His face darkened instantly. He looked up at Elaine and asked coldly, "Did you take the birth control pill just now?"

Elaine's eyelids twitched and she replied softly, "Yes."

Issac's hand, which was holding the bottle, suddenly tightened. for more Daily updates visit :- The veins on the back of his hand bulged, and his tone became colder. "Have you taken it every time after we have sex?"

She compressed her lips and nodded silently again.
