Chapter 14

Chapter 14

"Then why are you in the YW Group building?"

During dinner, Elaine tried to start a conversation to break the silence.

"Just took a look around. Have you passed the audition?" Issac asked.

Elaine took a sip of the soup and shook her head, "Not yet, but the director is quite satisfied with my performance. In addition, I was introduced by my teacher. I think I will pass the audition. I am now waiting for him to inform me."

Issac saw an expectant look on her face and he smiled faintly, "Congratulations in advance."

"Thank you."

As soon as he said it, the phone on the table suddenly rang, "Ring.Ring."

When Elaine saw the name appear on the phone, she quickly answered the phone and made a gesture to signal Issac to keep silent.

"Hello, director."

Elaine tried to hide the excitement and calm down, then she greeted the director. When she heard the words from the phone, the expression of excitement froze on her face and her eyes dimmed.

Issac paused eating when he noticed her strange reaction.

Soon, she hid her unhappy expression and replied calmly, "Okay, I see. It's alright. It's a pity that we can't work together. I'll keep working hard. Well, bye."

Hung up the phone, Elaine put it down and sighed. She forced a smile, "The audition didn't go as well as I thought."

Was this the punishment for not striving for her career and not seizing any opportunity before? Now when she just saw hope again, she had been poured cold water.

"What happened?" Issac cared about her.

Elaine picked up her chopsticks and pretended to be casual, "The director said that someone else got the role at the request of the investor, so I failed. But he said that he would contact me next time if there is a suitable role."

Issac frowned, "What's the name of that drama?"

"The Arrival of the Empress! It's June Jasmine's work. I like her work very much! The role I auditioned for this afternoon was named Barbie Saffel, who is one of the best friends of the heroine. She is a very important supporting role!"

When talking about this drama, Elaine became so passionate, and her eyes sparkled with admiration.

Something in Issac's eyes was fleeting, and he said softly, "Alright." It seemed that he was thinking about something.

Seeing that Issac was not interested in this topic, Elaine just finished the talk and ate the food quietly.

After dinner, Issac drove her back to school.

Before she got out of the car, he reminded her, "Don't forget to have three meals on time every day."

Elaine nodded, unfastened her seat belt, and said casually, "I see. Thank you for today. I'll treat you to dinner next time."

If she hadn't met Issac in the afternoon, she really didn't know how long she would have struggled to leave.

Hearing the last sentence, a smile lightly drawn on Issac's face in an instant. He replied, "Okay. I'll wait."

Elaine paused when she was opening the door. Then she hid the surprise in her eyes and got out of the car, "I'm leaving. Bye."

Issac nodded and smiled faintly. After watching her disappear, he took out his cell phone and made a call.

Soon, the phone was answered. Before that person speak, Issac asked directly, "Did the ZC Entertainment invest in a drama called 'The Arrival of the Empress?'"

Hearing the cold voice, Thomas Larney, who was flirting with a beautiful woman, suddenly sat up on the bed, "How did you know this drama? You want to enter the entertainment industry?"

"Did you invest in it?" Issac repeated with a calm tone.

Thomas raised his eyebrows proudly and hugged the woman next to him, "Of course I did. How could I miss such a good opportunity to make money? This novel is going to be shot into a TV series, which has caused a great influence on the Internet. The ZC Entertainment is the biggest investor."

After receiving the answer, Issac said simply, "The Prosperous Group is going to invest the ZC Entertainment."

After saying that, Thomas was quiet for a while. Then, the man's shocking roar came, "What? Really? I'm not dreaming, am I? I have asked you to do it but you rejected me!"

Issac glanced at the quiet school and said, "The condition is that there is a role in the 'The Arrival of the Empress' called Barbie Saffel, it must be played by Elaine Curd from the HY Movie Academy."

Thomas hardly heard a woman's name from Issac, so he became interested in her immediately, "Of course, there's no problem. That is just a supporting role. The ZC Entertainment can even decide the heroine. By the way, what's this Elaine's background?"

Issac ignored his question and started the car slowly, "Send the contract over tomorrow."

With that, he hung up the phone and quickly drove away from this area.

At noon the next day, when Elaine received a call from 'The Arrival of the Empress' crew, she was still in shock.

Didn't the director call last night to say that the role of Barbie Saffel had been taken by someone else?

Today, the crew actually called to tell her that she had passed the audition for the role of Barbie Saffel! And even asked her to attend the opening ceremony of the 'The Arrival of the Empress' the day after tomorrow!

She felt so happy suddenly!

Thinking of this, Elaine checked her contact list and called her good friend Kelly first.

"Hey, Kelly, I have good news! I passed the audition!"

The girl couldn't hide her joy and walked towards a store in the school while chatting with her friends.

They chatted for a while. Then Elaine put her phone in her bag and took a bottle of water to the cashier.

The cashier took a look, "Three dollars."

"Okay."

As soon as Elaine took out her wallet, a big hand handed the money to the cashier. A deep male voice sounded beside her, "Let's settle the bill together."

Hearing the voice, Elaine raised her head reflexively, noticing that a young man in casual clothes stood beside her, with a gentle look on his angular face.

"Mr. Jasmin!"

Leopold Jasmin nodded gently with a faint smile at the corner of his lips. He replied calmly, "Hi Elaine."

Elaine hid her surprise, "What a coincidence! I was planning to go to the office to look for you."
