

CEO's Unexpected Wife by Charlie

Chapter 4

Chapter 4

Issac in front of her remained to be serious, but in fact, he was deliberately flirting with her. "I'm serious. My family is very traditional. It's a deadly sin to 'eat forbidden fruit' before getting married! In order to atone, you have to marry me."

Such a lame excuse almost made him laugh out loud.

Elaine's lips quivered. "Hey bro, are you kidding? Although I respect your family's thoughts, we are strangers who don't know each other at all. It's too irrational to get married all of a sudden!"

"Considering what happened last night, do you think we are still strangers? As for knowing each other, you can take your time. Actually, I know you very well. You, Elaine, whose boyfriend was Chris, who cheated on you. And you broke up."

Oops. Elaine felt depressed and embarrassed with her face darkened.

What had she told him when she was drunk last night?

Issac did not continue to force her. Instead, he suggested, "You don't feel good, do you? I'm not bad myself. If you marry me, you can make that man regret, and I can help you to humiliate him and his mistress, letting them know that you're no pushover! Even without him, you can live a good life. I promise I won't disappoint you, okay?"

He felt like he was trying his best to sell himself out. Anyhow, he was the behind-the-scenes boss of the Prosperous Group with huge assets in the B City and the secret controller of the entire financial industry in Z country.

Hearing this, her eyes twinkled. She looked up at his calm and deep black eyes and asked, "Really?"

She indeed felt bitter, and she didn't want to be teased by Chris and the other woman!

"Of course." Issac nodded, and a sly gleam flashed in his eyes. "By the way, when I helped you carry your handbag last night, I happened to see that you had your household register in your bag, didn't you? Today is destined to be the day. Let's go and get things done."

Elaine was speechless.

She had originally brought her household register as an annex for the personal information that the school needed, but she didn't expect that she would get married with it...

Soon, after the assistant brought some clean clothes and a car key, Issac urged her to get dressed without a pause and then took her to the Civil Affairs Bureau.

A seduced little wild cat was foolishly lured into the lair of a big gray wolf...

Not long after, when two freshly marriage certificates were in her hands, Elanie had an urge to shake her head to check if it ran well.

She didn't even know the man's identity and his basic information, but she had actually gotten the marriage license with him in a daze and believed that he would deal with the scumbag and the mistress!

"Where do you want to go next?"

In a gray, low-key Audi, Issac grabbed the steering wheel with one hand and took two marriage licenses from her with the other.

Elaine calmed down and smiled sweetly at Issac in the driver's seat. "Well... I suddenly realize I don't want to get married. Why don't we go and get the divorce certificate too?"

In her plan, her husband would be Chris. The two of them had a stable relationship and had planned to get married at the end of the year. Her father also acquiesced to their marriage.

Now she suddenly got married to a man she had known for less than a day. Her father would kill her if he knew!

Issac was putting the licenses into the storage box in the car when hearing her words, his face darkened. "Then should I thank you for letting me experience the ups and downs of my life in such a short time?"

After that, he started the car and drove away from the Civil Affairs Bureau.

Did she want to divorce? No way! Having left for more than ten years and got this chance right after he came back, he could finally trick his little wild cat into his mouth. How could he let go?

Seeing his gloomy expression, Elaine had no choice but to shut her mouth and turn to look out the window.

At the same time, the scene she saw last night unconsciously came to her mind. Her nose twitched, then she cast down her eyes and said, "Well, drive me back to the school. I live in the dormitory of the HY Movie Academy."

Issac did not answer, but turned around and headed for where she mentioned.

Soon, as they were about to arrive at the school gate, Elaine caught a glimpse of a pharmacy from the corner of her eye. Then, as if being reminded of something, she quickly asked him to stop at the next intersection.

“What’s wrong?”

Issac stopped the car and looked at her confusedly with his dark eyes.

“If my classmates see us, it won’t be good.”

As she spoke, she unbuckled her seat belt and added, “Well, thank you for driving me back.”

Although she just lost her virginity last night, she knew that she should take the pill!

Issac picked up the phone beside her, quickly typed a string of numbers on it, and then dialed to himself. “My name is Issac Tort”

Although it was written on the marriage license, he knew that she hadn’t paid much attention to it, so he had to reiterate it himself.

“I’m Elaine Curd.”

When Elaine looked up, Issac had already handed the phone back to her.

“I might be a little busy these days. You can call me if you need anything. Remember to answer when I call you.”

She nodded perfunctorily. Just as she put her hand on the doorknob, the man’s figure got close to her unexpectedly.

“Click”

The seat belt that was fastened to the girl was unfastened, and the man’s breath, which was so close to her, sprayed on her little face, creating an intimate atmosphere.

“This gesture is perfect for kissing, along with other things.” His lazy and attractive voice seemed to bring her back to the crazy and intense scene last night.

She felt like her cheeks were on fire and deliberately avoided looking at him. “I, I’m leaving!”

After that, before the man could do anything else, she hurriedly ran out of the car.

Seeing her like this, Issac in the car pinched his thin lips to hide the smile. When the girl closed the door warily, he continued to tease, "Honey, I'm leaving now. Don't you say goodbye to me?"

Elaine coughed and her ears turned red, then she quickly ran away.

After confirming that he had left, she calmed herself down and walked quickly into the nearby pharmacy.

It was really exciting to recall that not long after she found out her three-year boyfriend had an affair, she turned to spend an indescribable night with another man, and they had even gotten married.

Sure enough, she became stupid after drinking too much. It was a must to find a time to talk about the divorce with him...

The next day.

She had just briefly told her best friend Kelly Youngblut what had happened the night before yesterday, which made Kelly dumbfounded.

"What? Really?"

"I thought you had been back that day! It's too dangerous for you to go to the bar without telling me! What's worse, how could you get your marriage license with a strange man!"
