

Catch Me If You Love Me

Chapter 101

Her voice was so loud that it smashed into the huge living room, as if there was still an echo.

Suddenly, a group of people fell silent, all staring at Zoey Gu with horror.

To be precise, she looked behind her.

Zoey Gu only felt a chill in her back, followed the eyes of everyone, and suddenly froze in place.

Liam Lu, dressed in white clothes and black trousers, stood broadly in front of the door, with a suit jacket hung on his arms, standing there with an ugly expression on his face.

Zoey Gu's heart jerked up, calmed down completely, and stepped back subconsciously.

"You, are you back? I just..."

The man strode towards her with a chill, looking at her with a deep expression, his voice with a strong sense of oppression.

"Give you a chance to say again, marry or not to marry?"

Zoey Gu looked up at him.

I always felt that it was my own illusion. His recent mood was volatile, and he always lost his temper inexplicably because of her words.

Is it just because of marrying her that he gave up his beloved woman Anna Yun?

Thinking of this, Zoey Gu felt suffocated and lowered her head somewhat sullenly.

"I just think it's too ostentatious. Our union is not... Isn't it good to go through a simple ceremony? If you must have a wedding dress and a ring, it is simple and pure."

Besides, she also knew that he didn't really want to marry her.

She even didn't want to stand up to the infamy from Berven City people and walk into the auditorium arm in arm with him.

But the more she said, Liam Lu's face became darker and uglier, the blue veins on his forehead violently, and there seemed to be a silent anger in his eyes.

She didn't understand, she frowned and looked at him puzzledly.

"Am I wrong? The person you want to marry is not me..."

Liam Lu's cold eyes gripped her fiercely, and closed his eyes forcibly, only to endure the urge to strangle her.

The next second, he turned around abruptly and looked at Shigetsu behind him.

"Remove everything and keep everything simple as she wants."

After he finished speaking, he sneered again suddenly.

"But just marry a woman to come in. You don't like it, but it saves me a lot of trouble."

Zoey Gu lowered her eyes.

She obviously proposed everything, but when Liam Lu agreed without hesitation, she felt congested inexplicably, and she was so sad that she wanted to cry.

Seeing him turn upstairs, she suddenly called him.

"Liam Lu."

She clenched a fist slightly, looked at his back and asked softly.

"If Anna Yun is the one who proposed this to you today, would you start your marriage with a simple ceremony as she wishes?"

Liam Lu had a meal.

For a moment, he laughed coldly, "You and her are not comparable."

As if an arrow pierced the heart, Zoey Gu's face and eyes were flushed instantly.

The heart is dead.

At night, there are endless laughter and joy in the return garden, which is extremely lively.

Knowing that Liam Lu was going to marry Zoey Gu, Alina Yin was the happiest person.

On the first night after she was discharged from the hospital and returned to the garden, the little girl entangled Zoey Gu for a long time before she fell asleep.

Zoey Gu closed the door lightly, and when he came out of Alina Yin's room, he saw the light in Liam Lu's study not far away.

She stood there hesitated for a while, and walked towards the study.

She did not expect that he would suddenly agree to marry her.

But now, many things can no longer be concealed.

For example, she has given birth to a child.
