

Chapter 1035

But no one had actually seen them except for Gu Siqian and Bella Qiao.

So, in fact, if you actually had the chance to stand face to face with Nangong Jin, you probably wouldn't know each other either.

Jenny thought of this layer, and the doubts that had gone down, now came up again.

She asked curiously, "Mr. Nan, don't you have to work when you're traveling alone?"

Nanjin laughed: "I am a tourist, while working, Oh, I forgot to introduce myself, I am a photographer, I have always heard that the desert here is very beautiful, has always wanted to come over to take a few pictures, but has been no time, this year it is not easy to wait until the annual leave, this only got the time to come over, I show you my photos."

He said, taking his phone out and handing it to them.

Jenny picked it up and read it.

As it turns out, there were so many beautiful photos of this side of the landscape as well as the customs.

There are several more, of the desert at night, and you can tell that both the composition and the coloring have been carefully matched.

She couldn't help but smile, "It's pretty."

Ann nodded as well, "Nice picture, I like it."

Nanjin, however, was hard pressed to show some embarrassment.

"If you like it, I'll print a couple of them out as postcards for you later."

"Yeah, yeah, yeah."

Ann clapped her hands together in glee.

Jenny Jing saw this, and only then did he completely drop his doubts.

It didn't take long for the car to arrive at the hotel where Nanjin was staying.

When she got out of the car, Ann specifically asked for his contact information, which existed in her own little phone.

Waving goodbye to him again, this closed the door of the car.

The car drove away from the hotel and headed to the castle of Mo Caiwei and Quexu.

Mo Caiwei and the others had arrived home, and remembering that their car was right behind their own car, they never saw them return, so they called to inquire.

Jenny Jing answered the phone and smiled, "It's fine, I met an acquaintance on the way and helped a little, we're coming back here."

Although Mo Caiwei was surprised to hear that they would meet someone they knew here as well, it was not surprising to think that Biden Lu had traveled all over the world doing business and knew people everywhere.

So that's when she hung up the phone.

After hanging up the phone, Biden Lu asked, "That person just now, what happened? You've met before?"

What happened at the theater was not yet known to him because Biden Lu had been walking behind with little Jing Ze in his arms, a distance between them, and because there were too many people and too much noise, so he didn't know what happened then.

Jenny then told him roughly what had happened at that time.

Biden Lu listened and nodded his head in understanding.

"So that's it."

Since he was someone who had already received Jenny's approval, he didn't think much of it.

Soon, the car reached the castle.

The family got out of the car and happily walked to the castle.

After entering the house, Mo Caiwei ordered the kitchen to prepare a snack, and after the family finished eating, Jenny first coaxed the two children to take a bath and go to sleep before returning to her own room.

Tonight, little Jing Ze also ran off to his own little room, so there were only Jenny Jing and Biden Lu in the bedroom.

Jenny drank the medicine that Quexu made for her to stop vomiting during pregnancy and it worked.

I feel tired after a long walk.

After her bath, she lay on the bed and allowed Biden Lu to squeeze her legs gently for her, squinting as she enjoyed it, saying, "The person we met today, I thought it was Nangong Jin at the time, but thinking about it, all the places don't match, so it shouldn't be."

Biden Lu also whispered, "I'm thinking of the same thing as you."

Jenny opened his eyes and looked at him, quite amused.

"Really?"

"Well." Biden Lu nodded, "But I didn't go by the name, but by the feeling he gave, I always felt that he didn't seem like an ordinary passerby, much less whatever photographer he was talking about."

Jenny was stunned, "How so?"

"Because it's illogical, he says he's a photographer and he's renting a car, but what photographer would rent a $3 million car as a ride? I don't know about photographers, but anyone who does this, whose fingers often hold a camera, should have calluses on the place where the index finger's joints are, but he didn't. Instead, he had some calluses on the palm of his hand as well as on the belly of his fingers, which was enough to prove that he was lying."

Jenny was surprised.

Because she really didn't expect that in just such a short period of time, almost just a glance, Biden Lu had already observed the other party so clearly.

She was silent for a moment and asked, "And what do you think...what is he? And why are you here?"

Biden Lu shook his head.

"Not sure, but it's possible we're overthinking it, let's see what happens first, if he doesn't show up again after that, everything's fine, if he does, I'll send someone to keep an eye on some and check his bottom line."

Only then did Jenny nod.

That night, for some reason, Jenny didn't sleep very well.

She had several dreams, one in which she was on a boat with someone crying, and another in which she was in Visterdem long ago, when she had just learned of her mother's death, standing in the rain, drenched like a drowned chicken.

All in all, none of them were good dreams, all of them were her deepest fears.

Jenny shuddered and suddenly woke up, subconsciously opening her eyes.

Only the house was still dark, but it was cold around the edges, and there was no one left.

The curtains were drawn tight, and the house was so quiet that the only sound was the purr from the air humidifier.

She panicked at once.

Lifting the covers off the bed, he searched the room first, then headed out.

"Biden Lu!Biden Lu!"

Biden Lu had just gone downstairs to pour the water.

His routine had always been steady, even with the time difference between here and home, and the short days and nights, he woke up early and was already running around downstairs.

Now just back, pouring a glass of water and drinking it while preparing to go back to his room to take a shower, he saw Jenny running out of the bedroom with his hair loose and his clothes in disarray.

He turned pale and immediately put down his glass of water to meet it.

"Jenny, what's wrong?"

"Biden Lu!"

Jenny lunged at him at once, jumping over his arms and holding him firmly in his arms.

Biden Lu's body stiffened, his hands still raised in the air, not daring to fall.

He even felt the person in his arms tremble slightly.

Chapter 1036

"Jenny, don't be afraid, I'm here."

He reached out and took her in his arms, patting her back gently and soothing her with a warm voice.

"Tell me, what happened?"

Jenny didn't say anything, just hugged him tightly around the waist and buried her face in his chest.

At this time, because it was still too early, both Mo Caiwei and Quexu were still awake.

The two little ones even more so, are sleeping soundly in bed.

Only after Biden Lu felt the person in his arms, after the trembling curve gradually became smaller, did this hold her shoulders, pushing her away from himself a little, and then look down at her face seriously.

But the woman in front of me had messy hair, her eyes were a little red, and her face was uncharacteristically pale.

His eyebrows knitted together.

And then looked down, only to find that she had no shoes on and was treading barefoot on the ground, her little snow-white feet actually a few points whiter than Jizaka.

It was not a face.

"Why don't you even have your shoes on? Not afraid of catching cold?"

He said, and without missing a beat, he picked her up in a hug.

Jenny didn't move either, just nestled in his arms and let him hold her like that.

When they entered the bedroom, Biden Lu placed her on the bed and first went to get a towel and carefully wiped her feet before squatting in front of her, looking up at her from the bottom up and asking, "Tell me, what happened?"

By this time, Jenny had woken up.

She still didn't look good, but she was better than before.

She shook her head.

"I'm fine, just...had some dreams."

Biden Lu looked up and wiped some of the fine beads of sweat seeping out of her forehead for her.

"What dream?"

"Just some..." frowned Jenny.

I don't know why, but the dream that was so clear just a moment ago actually became blurry.

It's like, she knows what she dreamed about last night, but she can't say anything about it now.

Biden Lu looked at her frowning and depressed look and about guessed her situation.

He said quietly, "It doesn't matter if you can't remember, since it's a dream, it's fake, no matter how scary, and now that you're awake, all that's gone, so there's no need to think about it, okay?"

Jenny looked at him, half-heartedly, before nodding his head.

"Hungry yet? Do you want something to eat?"

Jenny shook her head and pursed her lips, "I want some water."

"Well, wait a minute then, I'll be right back."

Biden Lu said, and got up.

Jenny, however, immediately took his hand in a tense grip.

As soon as he turned back, he saw the woman's intense eyes, looking at him as if she had seen the only straw she had to save her life.

Biden Lu's heart was soft.

He didn't know what dream Jenny had just had that would scare her like this though.

But understood that it was her attachment to herself, deeper than anyone else's.

As a man, he is undoubtedly happy and fortunate to be so dependent on the woman he loves so much.

Thinking this way, Biden Lu smiled, suddenly bent down, and picked her up again in a horizontal hug.

Jenny was stunned and asked subconsciously, "What are you doing?"

"You're not afraid?"

Biden Lu smiled narrowly, "So scared that you can't let me leave for a minute? Then I'll just carry you down with me for a drink of water."

Jenny's face turned red at the news.

Held him by the neck and struggled a bit.

"Don't you do that, put me down."

"No release."

Biden Lu smiled, "Let you go, what if you get scared again?"

"Where did I... " Jenny was embarrassed, but the silent fear she felt when she thought of the dark room she had just woken up in alone made her shut her mouth again immediately.

As soon as Biden Lu looked at her, he knew what she was thinking.

His eyes deepened and he didn't say anything else, carrying her downstairs.

Downstairs in the living room, Biden Lu put her down and sat her down on the sofa before going to pour a cup of warm water over, and only after seeing her drink it with her own eyes did he ask, "How are you feeling now?"

Jenny licked her mouth, "Much better, I'm fine."

"Do you need more sleep then?"

Jenny looked at the sunlight outside and shook her head, "No sleep."

"Then go to your room and change."

Biden Lu said, picking her up and walking all the way to the bedroom.

Back in the bedroom, Jenny changed her clothes, and by this time, the fear she felt in her heart had completely disappeared.

Biden Lu held her hand and came out of the bedroom, and it just so happened that here, Mo Caiwei and Quexiu also came out of the bedroom.

Seeing them, Mo Caiwei smiled, "It rained last night, did you guys hear that?"

Jenny was stunned and shook his head, "No."

Mo Caiwei smiled, "It's rare for it to rain over here, it's dry most of the year, you guys came and actually ran into it, too bad it was night, you didn't see it, otherwise you could have been happy for a while."

It's normal for this area to be in the desert with little rain.

Jenny didn't think much of it.

She went to the next room, woke Ann up, and helped the newly awakened little competitor get dressed, and took them to wash up, before we all went downstairs for breakfast.

Breakfast was made by the maids, porridge and small dishes, not a specialty over here, but a Chinese breakfast more suited to Jenny's and their tastes.

As we all ate, we chatted.

Mo Caiwei said about last night's performance and suddenly asked, "By the way, you guys said you met someone you know yesterday, who was it? Is the other side in some kind of trouble?"

Jenny shook his head.

"It's not really an acquaintance, it's just that yesterday at the theater, Ann was about to fall and the other guy helped Ann, and then when we were coming back, we saw his car broken down and parked on the side of the road, so we stopped and gave him a ride."

Mo Caiwei nodded, "I see, I thought he was a friend from Biden's business."

Regarding the conjecture about Nan Jin's identity, neither Jenny nor Biden Lu had any definite evidence yet, so it was not good to say anything to Mo Caiwei.

But after she mentioned that, Jenny suddenly thought of a way out.

So, after breakfast, she called Bella Qiao and asked if she had a picture of Nangong Jin.

Bella Qiao was still a little surprised to hear her ask that.

"What do you need his picture for?"

Jenny Jing then told her about last night's events.

"I don't blame me for being nosy, it's really this matter involves you guys, I have to be cautious, in case that person is really Nangong Jin, then he definitely knows us, knows us and deliberately pretends not to know us, close to us, must have another plan, so just to be safe, let's be right."

Bella Qiao thought about it and said, "I don't have a picture of him, and there's very little information about him out there, I've only seen him with my own eyes, it's hard to describe ah, let's do it this way, wait a bit, I'll go find someone to draw a picture and give it to you tonight."

Chapter 1037

Jenny thought about it, and thought that was fine.

So it was agreed.

"Okay, so you draw it and send it straight to my phone."

"Okay, no problem."

After Jenny informed Bella Qiao of this, he ignored it.

During the day, they went to other places in the city to stroll around, Mo Caiwei accompanied them the whole time, while Quexu didn't come out because he was too busy over there in the lab to leave, so he didn't come out.

It went on until the evening, about eight o'clock, when we all came back as happy as we could.

As soon as he got home, Jenny received a call from Bella Qiao.

"Jenny, I've sent you the portrait I've drawn to your phone, take a look."

"Good."

Jenny hung up the phone and opened the text message, and saw the picture from Bella Qiao.

The pictures were dictated by Jochie and then had them painted by a professional painter, through her narrative.

The painter's skill was very good, and the only thing I saw on it was a lifelike portrait of a person, and when Jenny saw that portrait, his entire body froze at once.

She never would have imagined that there would be such a coincidence in this world.

The person in that portrait didn't look ten out of ten like the man named Nanjin they had met last night, but it at least looked seven or eight points like him.

After all, it's a verbal portrait that can't be 100 percent complete.

Therefore, it's normal to have some differences in the middle.

But Rao was already enough of a surprise for Jenny.

Surprised, she immediately took the portrait and showed it to Biden Lu.

Biden Lu was also surprised after reading it.

He never expected that the person he met last night would actually be Nangong Jin.

Why is he here?

No, it should be said that although they didn't know Nangong Jin, but based on Nangong Jin's person's scheming and tactics, all the people around Bella Qiao and Gu Siqian he should have investigated.

So, naturally, he should also recognize Jenny and Biden Lu.

Before, it had always been him in the dark and Gu Siqian and the others in the light.

He was like a dragon's shadow over everyone.

I don't even know where to look if I want to find him.

But now, he suddenly jumped out on his own.

Why?

Jenny and Biden Lu were both puzzled.

And since he clearly knew Biden Lu and Jenny Jing, why did he pretend not to know them last night, and disguised himself as some photographer running to deliberately get close to them.

Yes, at this moment, Jenny and Biden Lu would never again simply think that last night's encounter was just a coincidence.

After all, where in the world are there so many coincidences.

It was obvious that they were deadly enemies, but they ran into each other so far away.

He must have premeditatedly and deliberately accepted them.

But why?

Jenny Jing and Biden Lu thought about it for a long time, but they couldn't figure it out, and finally, they had to call Bella Qiao to discuss it with them.

They didn't let Mo Caiwei and Quexu know about this, afraid that they would worry if they thought too much about it.

So the call was made when it was dark and everyone had gone back to bed and the two men were alone in the bedroom.

They made a video call, and after the call was answered, Bella Qiao and Gu Si Qian appeared across the room.

Bella Qiao looks pretty happy, but looking at the background, it looks like it's a hotel too, so they're probably not in the forest city.

Jenny thought about the clues that Biden Lu had told them about southern Yunnan earlier, and estimated in his heart that they should be over there by now, so he didn't ask too many questions.

As soon as the call came through, Bella Qiao smiled and asked, "I've already given you the portrait of Nangong Jin that you asked me for earlier, have you received it?"

Jenny nodded, "Roger that."

"What do you want with his portrait?"

Jenny pursed her lips and said after a moment, "You may not believe it, but we met him here."

"What?"

Across the room, Gu Siqian and Bella Qiao were clearly surprised.

After all, it's an unbelievable thing, no matter where you talk about it.

Sure enough, there was a frown from Georgie.

"I thought you guys went to the desert. What was he doing there in the good old days?"

"Who knows?" Jenny sneered, "Not only that, last night, he disguised himself as a passing photographer and accosted us, when his car broke down and parked by the side of the road, because he had saved An'an, so we stopped and drove him home?"

As soon as that was said, Bella Qiao's face changed.

"You mean, he investigated you?"

"Yes."

This answer had actually occurred to Jenny Jing and Biden Lu before.

Jenny Jing said in a deep voice, "He must have investigated us first when he came here, knowing where we lived and which road we would pass when we went back at night, so he deliberately stopped there to wait for us, but the strange thing is that he did nothing after he got in the car, he just left a number for Ann and got off, and to this day, I can't figure out his motive for doing so."

Bella Qiao also frowned.

Beside him, Gu Si Qian said in a deep voice, "Did he say anything special to you?"

Jenny thought about it and turned to look at Biden Lu, "Any special words?"

Biden Lu shook his head.

Jenny Jing then said, "The memory is not there, and the reason he disguised himself as a photographer is probably because he didn't want us to detect his identity so quickly, but he didn't expect that I would contact you and ask you for a portrait, so he shouldn't know by now that I already know his identity."

"What are you going to do about it?"

Kuskan asked.

Jenny fell silent.

Honestly, she didn't even know Nangong Jin's purpose right now, where would she know what to do?

Biden Lu and her thoughts were similar, so they both shook their heads.

"He hasn't made a move yet, and we don't know the purpose of his coming over this time, so the only way out of this is to hold back the troops."

"That's fine."

Bella Qiao said, her tone betraying some worry.

"But I'm worried that he's approaching you on purpose with an ulterior motive, what if he does something to you?"

Biden Lu smiled coldly at the news.

"I'm not afraid of him, but if he does it's best, over here, am I going to be afraid of him?"

Bella Qiao smiled at the news.

She was concerned, how could she have forgotten, who was Biden Lu?

That was a dreadful character, so how could he be afraid of Nangong Jin?

Moreover, I heard that Jenny's mother was also over there and that Quexu was even a big local figure, so with them, there was no need to worry at all, even if it was a strange place.