

There was complete silence in the café.

Time seemed to have stopped.

The only thing moving was the fresh blood slowly dripping down Xur Shao-Hua and Lu Ming-Feng's dead bodies.

These two probably never imagined they would end up this way.

But they couldn't blame anybody for their predicament. They were getting what they deserved.

If they had stopped themselves in time and left Jiangdong early like what Wu Wei-Tao advised them to instead of trying to kill Ye Fan and covet his wife, then the two of them might not have ended up like this.

The two young men's deaths was a huge blow to everyone in the café.

Li Er and Lei San remained rooted to the floor.

Their faces were ashen.

From the moment the two scions died, Li Er and Lei San knew that this matter was going to blow up.

But while everyone else was still trying to recover from their shock, an old Audi A6 had just reached the hotel.

The car door opened and a middle aged man in a suit ran like a lunatic into the hotel, disregarding any image he had to maintain.

He soon found himself at the café on the sixth floor of the hotel.

“Mr Chu, please spare them!” yelled Wu Wei-Tao anxiously as he barged into the café.

But the minute Wu Wei-Tao set foot into the café, he saw Lu Ming-Feng and Xur Shao-Hua’s bodies lying quietly in a pool of their own blood.

Wu Wei-Tao’s face instantly turned pale. He didn’t say a word and just cautiously stepped forward.

He bent over and placed a finger beneath their noses to see if they were still breathing.

When he realized they were both very dead,

Wu Wei-Tao shuddered violently and felt like he had been struck by lightning.

He turned around to look at the calm looking Ye Fan standing behind him and asked in a stammering voice, "You...you...you...killed...th-them?"

Ye Fan's lips curled upwards in to a cold smile.

"Why, you have a problem with that?" Those were such bone chilling words.

Everything that Wu Wei-Tao was angry about and wanted to complain about immediately disappeared after Ye Fan spoke so icily to him.

His face even started twitching uncontrollably out of fear.

He finally managed to reply quietly, "N-no, no problem..."

Ye Fan smiled.

He didn't care about Wu Wei-Tao's response at all anyway. Since he was done with Lu Ming-Feng and Xur Shao-Hua, Ye Fan turned and walked towards Qiu Mu-Cheng.

“Mu-Cheng, let’s go home.”

All the murderous tension and iciness in the air immediately disappeared.

Ye Fan was back to looking like a harmless youth again.

A warm and friendly smile appeared on his handsome face.

He reached his arm out and put it around Qiu Mu-Cheng’s waist, then walked out with her like that.

The respect and reverence that Li Er and Lei San had for Ye Fan had increased.

They found it difficult to imagine how much control one had to have over his own emotions in order to reach Ye Fan’s state of mind. He was so calm and indifferent even after killing two men.

“His face doesn’t flinch even when the mountain collapses, his eyes don’t even blink when a deer suddenly appears in front of him. Mr Chu’s state of mind is truly a testament to this proverb. It's really not easy for an ordinary person to reach his level," sighed Lei San in admiration as he watched Ye Fan leave with Qiu Mu-Cheng.

Li Er immediately kicked him. "Good heavens, you're still in the mood to curry favor with Mr Chu now? Lu Ming-Feng and Xur Shao-Hua are dead! What should we do now?"

Li Er looked down at the two dead bodies on the floor and his heart was jittery with fear.

Lei San replied very calmly, "There's no point in being so uptight. What's done is done, and there's no way we can undo this damage. We'll just take one step at a time." Lei San just shrugged helplessly.

"Look at what you two have done! I told you to find a way to stop Mr Chu! Is this how you stop Mr Chu?! Do you know who on earth died today?! Do you know what sort of disaster is about to befall Jiangdong now?!" yelled Wu Wei-Tao furiously at Li Er and Lei San with a livid face. Now that Ye Fan had left, Wu Wei-Tao didn't have to be scared anymore and could start shouting at others.

Li Er immediately glared right back at Wu Wei-Tao. “What the hell? How dare you turn around and blame us! Wu Wei-Tao, if anyone is to blame for the deaths of these two fellows, it’s you! What did I tell you? I told you to watch these two carefully and make sure they didn’t provoke Mr Chu.”

“But look at what happened in the end! Lu Ming-Feng sent people to blast Mr Chu’s house with grenades, while Xur Shao-Hua coveted Mr Chu’s wife and wanted to take her as his own. You were the one who didn’t keep tabs on them, so you’re the one who has to bear the responsibility for their deaths!” After getting reprimanded by Wu Wei-Tao, Li Er got angry and argued back immediately.

“You...you...you’re spouting nonsense!” retorted Wu Wei-Tao with a nasty expression on his face.

“Enough, both of you. It’s not the time to decide on who should be blamed for what. Let’s think about how we should clean up this mess first,” Lei San interrupted them.

There was no point in talking about who was right or wrong now. The first thing they needed to do was to get rid of these two bodies.

Otherwise, things would get even more out of hand.

Wu Wei-Tao got some men to take the two corpses away carefully, then sealed off the hotel so that professional cleaners could clean the place thoroughly.

Once all of this was settled, Wu Wei-Tao and the rest were ready to leave the hotel. They didn't want to think about what to do next right now. All they wanted to do was to go home and sleep first.

Even though the crisis that Jiangdong was going to face was far from over, they just wanted to take a breather before continuing this fight.

But just when they were about to leave, Qiu Lei and Han Li came running after them in hope of getting a ride home. "Er...Master Er, we're Mr Chu's in-laws. Could you give us a lift? It's a bit difficult to get a cab at this hour."

When Wu Wei-Tao heard that these two were

Mr Chu's in-laws, his tone immediately became more respectful. Before Li Er could respond, Wu Wei-Tao cut in first, "Oh, you're Mr Chu's family? Please come over to my car, I'll send you home."

Qiu Lei and Han Li were immediately overjoyed at hearing this.

They could brag about how the mayor of Yunzhou sent them home personally for the rest of their lives.

"Oh please! Get lost!" Li Er kicked Qiu Lei and Han Li aside just before they could get into the car.

"Li Er, what are you doing? Are you nuts? They are Mr Chu's in-laws!" Wu Wei-Tao yelled at Li Er after witnessing this horrifying scene.

But Li Er just smiled coldly. "In-laws? They're just two idiots! Do you see that bruise on that woman's face? Mr Chu did that."

Wu Wei-Tao's lips immediately twitched when he heard what Li Er said.

"Wha-what? Mr Chu did that? You mean Mr Chu slapped his own mother-in-law across the face?" Wu Wei-Tao was in shock.

Wu Wei-Tao's impression of Ye Fan was that he was someone who took very good care of his family.

Most people who took care of their families viewed familial ties with utmost importance.

So when Wu Wei-Tao heard that the bruise on Han Li's face was caused by Ye Fan, he was really surprised.

Li Er nodded. "Uh huh. But I can't blame Mr Chu for doing that. These two idiots asked for it. They were trying to force Miss Qiu to divorce Mr Chu, and had secretly tried to matchmake Miss Qiu with Xur Shao-Hua. How can anybody endure such a mother-in-law? Besides, I heard that during the last three years of their marriage, Mr Chu had to suffer a lot of humiliation while living with them. Mr Chu has a really good temperament, I must say. If I were him, I would have thrown them into the river by now," said Li Er in a disgusted tone of voice.

Wu Wei-Tao finally understood the story behind these two.

"I see. No wonder Mr Chu hit her. You're right, this couple are really just two idiots." Wu Wei-Tao shook his head and drove off without bothering about Qiu Lei and Han Li anymore.

After Wu Wei-Tao left, Li Er and Lei San turned to leave too.

"Master Er, what do we do with these two? They saw everything that happened tonight after all," one of Li Er's subordinates came forward to check with him.

Li Er glanced at Qiu Lei and Han Li, then said calmly, "Beat them up, then leave them somewhere along the road. They can say whatever they want about tonight, since we can't hide it for long anyway."

Han Li and Qiu Lei were frightened when they heard that Li Er wanted to beat them up.

in-laws! How dare you hit us! My son-in-law won't let you off!" Han Li threatened Li Er as he got into his car.

It would have been better if Han Li hadn't said this.

After she said that, Li Er got out of his car again and kicked her in the stomach.

Han Li yelled and sprawled on the floor face down.

"You stupid bitch! You're really shameless! Didn't you despise Mr Chu so much earlier? Didn't you want your daughter to divorce Mr Chu just moments ago? Seriously! You only remember that Mr Chu is your son-in-law when you get beaten up? And you even try to use him to threaten me? It's way too late! Mr Chu has already cut ties with both of you a long time ago! To him, you two are just two fools!" cursed Li Er as he kicked them both viciously.

In the past, Li Er didn't dare to offend these two on account of Ye Fan.

But now, Li Er could see that Ye Fan was on very poor terms with this couple.

Since that was the case, Li Er didn't need to worry about offending them anymore.

"You two idiots! How dare you look down on Mr Chu! If Mr Chu hadn't protected you two, did you think you two are worth anything in this province?!" yelled Li Er as he kicked them again.

Finally, he spat on them, and left in his car.

Qiu Lei and Han Li were left behind on the road, howling in pain.

"You asshole! How dare you hit us!!"

"You're doomed! You're dead meat, you hear me?! I'm going to call my daughter right now and tell her to make you kneel down and apologize to us!!"

Han Li got up from the ground and started cursing and yelling in the direction of where Li Er had left with a mouth full of blood.

But just when Han Li took her phone out, she saw that Qiu Mu-Cheng had sent her a message.

daughter will call you this way. All these years, Ye Fan and I have gone along with both of you regardless of everything you two did. Even when you chased us out of the house, we still remained filial. We have fulfilled our duties to the best that we could have!”

“As your daughter, I have also repaid you for bringing me up. From now on, I, Qiu Mu-Cheng, will owe both of you nothing. I never had you two as my parents, and the both of you never had me as your daughter. We have our own paths to take, and there is no need for us to ever meet again.”

BOOOOOM!

Han Li and Qiu Lei felt like their heads were struck by lightning when they read this message. They immediately went into a panic.

All these years, the two of them had relied entirely on Qiu Mu-Cheng for their living expenses.

If Qiu Mu-Cheng was going to sever ties with them, it meant that she wasn't going to provide for them anymore.

In their panic, they tried to call Qiu Mu-Cheng and texted her as well.

But once Qiu Mu-Cheng had decided to cut ties with them, she had already blacklisted their numbers in her phone.

This time, Qiu Mu-Cheng was really disappointed in her parents.

She and Ye Fan had listened to them and gave in to all their whims. But what did she get in return?

They only hurt Qiu Mu-Cheng time and again.

If Ye Fan hadn't appeared in time tonight, Qiu Mu-Cheng felt that her parents would have sold her to Xur Shao-Hua like she was a piece of meat.

She didn't need such parents anymore.

So she decided to just cut ties with them and never see them again. This was a sort of liberation for both sides.

Ye Fan had already brought Qiu Mu-Cheng back to the bungalow in the west.

Since Mount Yunding Villa had been destroyed, they had no choice but to move back to the bungalow that they used to live in.

After she sent that message out, Qiu Mu-Cheng couldn't control her emotions anymore. Her eyes were bloodshot as she leapt into Ye Fan's arms and bawled loudly.

She looked like a hopeless and helpless young lady hugging onto the only person she could rely on.

After today, Qiu Mu-Cheng had no parents and no family.

All she had was Ye Fan.

When he saw how upset she looked, Ye Fan felt bad for her.

"Mu-Cheng, if you really can't bear to let them go, we can always fetch your parents back home. For your sake, I'm willing to endure anything," said Ye Fan softly.

"No! I don't want them anymore! I don't want to see them anymore! Ye Fan, why? Why do I have such parents? Why do other people have such kind, loving and understanding parents? But I get such selfish and mean parents? Why?"

Qiu Mu-Cheng couldn't stop crying. Her miserable sobs echoed in the room.

Qiu Mu-Cheng cried for a very long time that night.

It was as if she was crying for all the hurt and suffering she had gone through at one shot.

She was finally liberated.

In the end, Qiu Mu-Cheng stuck to her decision to sever ties with Qiu Lei and Han Li.

Perhaps she might feel guilty, or some pain, or a little yearning sometimes.

But all of this was nothing compared to all the humiliation and suffering that Ye Fan went through.

She had used the first half of her life to repay her parents for bringing her up.

Now, she was going to use the other half of her life to repay Ye Fan for everything she owed him.
