

Chapter 1089 Final

"Eh, what do they go out and say?"

Nina Hua looked at her, then at the door.

Only then did he lower his voice and say, "Kepler wants to move his headquarters back to China to develop it, and is recently fighting with that group of old guys from the Jin family, looking for Biden Lu to presumably learn from them."

As we all know, Lu used to be in the hands of the old man and did not develop seriously.

After all, the old man was a soldier by birth, and was fine at leading a war, but really had no talent for business.

He is a man of great pride, does not like to be calculating, and when doing business, he always does more favors and makes less money.

That is, thanks to the thick land family, this has been able to grow.

Not so with Biden Lu.

He is a true businessman with a stern style and a ruthless wrist, and many times he can turn the tide against the Jedi.

If Kepler wanted to return to China to develop, consulting him would be a natural choice.

Jenny finally put his mind at ease after hearing this.

To be honest, she had been worried ever since she learned of Biden Lu's hidden identity.

From time to time, you worry if he's going on another mission and will be in danger again.

It couldn't be helped, after all, the two were now husband and wife, in life and in death.

It's simply impossible to be completely unworried in the face of the man you love.

The good thing was that Biden Lu also knew what she was thinking now, and would tell her in advance every time something happened.

But even so, it was still inevitable that Jenny would occasionally be on edge.

After all, if there really was a mission, there was no way for Biden Lu not to go.

The two men talked outside for a long time.

Nina Hua teased the children for a while, until they were tired and sleepy, then he put them back to sleep in their cribs.

Himself was sitting on the edge of the bed, chatting with Jenny.

Today, Starlite has been fully integrated into Anning International.

Nina Hua's contract with the entertainment company that Hua's father had previously set up for her had expired, and now that she was Mrs. Ji, she originally didn't have to come out to act.

But Nina Hua loved acting, and Kepler was occasionally a little jealous though, especially when he saw her acting against the male actors.

But Kepler didn't dare to say anything.

After all, in Nina Hua's words, it was called professional.

You can't be too narrow-minded to look at any industry with tinted glasses.

Naturally, Kepler couldn't speak to her, so he could only order that all the scripts about Nina Hua would be read in advance in private.

No making out scenes, no k*ssing scenes, and even less bed scenes are allowed.

Even if there is an emotional line, it can only progress to the hand-holding stage at best.

In fact, even holding hands was originally not allowed by Kepler.

After all, it was his woman, and being held by another man in love and all, he wanted to kill the other man just thinking about it.

In the end, it was the owner of the entertainment company who tried to talk him down.

TV and movies are considered art, after all, and sometimes some drama is necessary.

If she couldn't even hold hands, it would restrict Nina Hua's acting too much and she wouldn't be able to do anything.

Kepler still considered Nina Hua's feelings in the end, so he finally agreed.

After Nina Hua's contract expired, he was re-signed under Anning International.

She was a lazy person who didn't care much about anything and originally had her own studio, though she had plenty of competent assistants and agents to help her with her problems.

But she, the boss, still has to make a lot of decisions.

Nina Hua was constantly having a headache over this, but now that he was signed to Serenity International, everything had someone else to fu*k with.Heart.

She'll just be a shirker and act in a play she loves.

Don't worry about anything else.

Jenny often laughed at her for being a lazy person with lazy blessings, and Nina Hua didn't deny it.

After they chatted for a while, Biden Lu and Kepler returned.

Coming back again, Kepler's appearance was significantly more relaxed.

As soon as Jenny looked at it, he knew it was a problem solved.

She looked at Biden Lu, who returned her reassuring glance.

Nina Hua saw that they were done talking too, so he stood up.

"Jenny, it's getting late, we'll go back first, you rest well, I'll see you next time ah."

Jenny nodded.

After Nina Hua and Kepler left, she turned around and asked Biden Lu, "Kepler is coming back to China for development?"

Biden Lu nodded.

"After all, F is the Jin family's home base, Kepler has no sense of belonging there, and many people in the Jin family are eyeing it, which is why he wants to move his headquarters back."

Jenny Jing smiled, "Then won't you be competitors from now on?"

Biden Lu also laughed.

"Not so much, we each attack different areas and even if we were competitors, that would be benign."

Jenny thought about it.

But if Kepler is going to be based in China, it means that Nina Hua will stay in China as well, which is good.

After Biden Lu answered her questions, he went over to the cradle to see Little Gem and Little Moon.

The two children were sleeping, their two little fists clenched tightly and their pink lips pursed.

If you don't know, you think they're dreaming.

Jenny Jing's heart was warm and soft as he watched him focus on the child.

She smiled, "Biden Lu."

"Well?"

Biden Lu turned back.

Jenny's gaze was gentle, and he whispered, "It's good to have you."

Biden Lu was stunned for two seconds before reacting and returning to the bed to gather her into his arms.

"Fool, I should be the one to say that, with you really, Jenny, you really are my angel, bringing me so much happiness and joy."

Jenny leaned into his embrace, wrapping her arms back around his waist and resting her head gently on his shoulder, her heart at peace.

Just then, the door was pushed open.

"Second brother, second sister-in-law....Ouch, sorry sorry! I don't mean to disturb you, I'll go out and you can continue."

Taylor Feng took Evelin and headed outside.

Jenny Jing and Biden Lu had already reacted, Jenny Jing blushed and pushed Biden Lu away, calling out to him, "Go what? Still not in?"

Only then did Taylor Feng bring Evelin in with a smile.

He and Evelin are married and now Evelin is pregnant.

The Feng family also accepted Evelin, and they lived happily ever after.

Jenny looked at him and asked, "What are you doing?"

Taylor Feng smiled, "I came to see my little nephew and niece ah, and by the way I brought them a gift."

He said, and went in the direction of the cradle.

When you see that the kids are sleeping, you put the presents aside first.

"What a coincidence, still asleep."

"Well, just fell asleep."

Evelin walked up to Jenny and cared for him first.

Taylor Feng smiled again and said that when Jenny is out of the month, he will give the children a full moon banquet.

There was laughter in the ward, and Jenny's heart dripped with warmth as he watched them.

No matter how much they've been through before, now they can at least see them and everyone is okay, and that's all that matters.

Such is life, there is nothing more to be desired.
