

Chapter 1134 A Shocking Sight

Amidst their shock, Xur He felt himself caught by someone before he crashed into the ground.

It was a middle-aged man who was dressed in a military uniform.

Despite his strong features, he did not appear fearsome nor intimidating.

In fact, he gave everyone the impression that he was a perfectly ordinary man.

He was the sort of man who would not draw any attention to himself if he were to walk down the street.

Yet, it was this seemingly ordinary looking man who had caught Xur He with a single hand behind the latter's back.

He pulled Xur He down to the ground and began marching towards the crowd with Xur He in tow.

His face revealed no emotion. No one knew the power that hid within his strong and sturdy form.

What blew everyone away was how the earth cracked and splintered under his feet and how deep cracks appeared in hard cement with every step that he took.

The skies stretched out behind him while the vast army of soldiers bowed before him.

An overpowering aura exuded from his person while the deafening sound of his footsteps resounded in the air as he made his way towards Xur Jun-Lin and Ye Fan.

A fearsome power filled the air. The waves of authority that this man exuded sent fear coursing through everyone's blood.

"Is this...is this the Military God of China, Long Bai-Chuan?" Li Er and the others blurted out in horror as they stared at the man approaching them.

They had not felt such fear when Xur Jun-Lin had appeared.

This man did not seem like a man at all. He seemed to tower above them all like a mountain.

"What a bunch of ignorant fools. You have no idea what Bai-Chuan is truly capable of!"

laughed Xur Jun-Lin when he saw the terrified looks on everyone's faces. His eyes glimmered with scorn and disdain.

These men were but village idiots who had not seen the world.

The general turned towards Ye Fan and leveled a look of sympathy at the latter. Ye Fan was nothing but a corpse to him now.

He was a dead man walking.

Long Bai-Chuan was the Military God of China and the highest commanding officer in the military. He was a fearsome fighter in his own right too.

No matter how powerful Ye Fan might be, he wasn't going to be a match for Long Bai-Chuan.

This man was the man whom Xur Jun-Lin had carefully chosen out of tens of thousands of men. A mere young punk like Ye Fan could hardly compare with Long Bai-Chuan.

"This is the end for you, punk. We're going to end our games here," laughed Xur Jun-Lin mirthlessly before turning his gaze towards the approaching Long Bai-Chuan. “Bai-Chuan, deal with this, please. Kill this audacious punk.”

The tone of his voice was heavy with the threat of violence and death.

Xur He echoed his father’s sentiments.

“Uncle Long, you’ve finally arrived. This is the scoundrel who insulted my father and disrespected the Xur family. He killed my nephew, Shao-Hua, too. Please, take him down!” Hate and resentment dripped heavily from his words as he spoke.

Their voices rang out loudly in Haiyuan Restaurant, and their words an open declaration of their murderous intent.

Long Bai-Chuan walked up to Ye Fan with Xur He in his arms.

Everyone expected him to put Xur He down and launch a relentless attack against Ye Fan. Yet, the unexpected happened next.

Amidst the stunned stares of everyone, the reinforcement that Xur Jun-Lin and his son had hoped for lifted Xur He above his head and flung him onto the ground.

The ground shook and cracked.

The force of his throw splintered the earth under Long Bai-Chuan's feet.

Blood erupted from Xur He's injuries as his bones shattered and his flesh was smashed into a pulp. His cries of pain pierced the air.

He passed out instantly upon impact, then lay immobile in his own pool of blood.

"Bai-Chuan! What are you doing?!" Xur Jun-Lin was flabbergasted. His eyes widened with shock and nearly popped out of his skull.

He had not expected the reinforcement that he had gotten would pummel his own son into a pulp instead.

Was Long Bai-Chuan an idiot? Had he gone completely mad?

Long Bai-Chuan disregarded Xur Jun-Lin's questions completely.

He stepped over Xur He's body expressionlessly and continued to approach Ye Fan.

Everyone watched as the Military God bent his knee and greeted Ye Fan with utmost deference.

His posture and his words showed nothing but humility and his greatest respect for the man before him.

"A thousand days of drowning myself in iced waters could not melt my burning loyalty for my lord. Your humble servant extends his greetings towards the almighty Dragon Master!"

BOOM...

Long Bai-Chuan's words fell heavily upon them like hail upon the land.

A sudden wind began to howl, sweeping fallen leaves off the ground and stirring Ye Fan's sleeves.

Time seemed to have come to a standstill.

Everyone was shocked at the sight of Long

Bai-Chuan on his knees.

“What the hell is going on?” gasped Li Er as he widened his eyes in shock.

Lei San shook violently and nearly stopped breathing.

Chen Ao had gone completely still. It was as if someone had just hit him hard on the head. His eyes were going to pop out of his head any moment now.

The others trembled and gaped as if they had been put in a stranglehold.

None of them could have foreseen that Xur Jun-Lin’s final trump card would fling his son onto the ground and address Ye Fan as his lord and master.

“Has this world gone completely mad?” blurted out Shen Fei.

Qiu Mu-Cheng’s eyes were filled with shock as well.

Xia Xue appeared equally surprised, her chest heaving heavily from the well of emotion swelling inside her.

Wu Wei-Tao, who had been observing everything from afar, had trembled too. The cup of coffee in his hands slipped and fell to the ground, shattering upon impact.

“What is going on? Is Long Bai-Chuan an idiot? He’s the Military God! Why did he just kneel before a young punk like Ye Fan? He should be kneeling before Master Xur Jun-Lin instead!” growled Wu Wei-Tao furiously as his face darkened.

He had heard of Long Bai-Chuan.

He had thrown in his lot with the Xur and Lu families without hesitation because of this man.

Long Bai-Chuan was a battle-won fighter who had beaten the three armies without any help. Xur Jun-Lin had recommended that he be promoted. He had a strong relationship with the Xur family.

Wu Wei-Tao had been convinced that no matter how powerful Ye Fan was, he wouldn’t be a match for Long Bai-Chuan.

He had not expected to witness this scene before him.

The Xur family's final trump card, whom they had taken such great care to summon to their aid, had kneeled before Ye Fan and called the latter his master.

What was this world coming to?

After a brief moment of shock, Wu Wei-Tao quickly calmed down.

There was a severe look in his eyes as he stared at the young man who stood proudly and with his hands folded behind his back. The wariness and doubts he had about Ye Fan grew.

"Ye Fan, how many secrets do you have hidden?" Wu Wei-Tao realized that he didn't know Ye Fan at all.

He had thought that he had understood the man.

But he now realized that he knew nothing about Ye Fan at all.

A deathly silence continued to reign in Haiyuan Restaurant.

The earlier scene had shocked everyone into utter silence.

They had no idea what to say. In fact, they dared not utter a word.

Of them all, Xur Jun-Lin had suffered the greatest blow.

His son had been turned into pulp. The help that he had anticipated had declared his loyalty to Ye Fan instead.

He felt like the Jade Emperor who had called for help from the Buddha when the Monkey God had barged into his courts and begun thrashing his palace. When the Buddha arrived, instead of helping him, he had slapped the Jade Emperor's wife instead, then called the Monkey God his father.

This was an absolute farce.

The old general was ready to burst into tears from sheer anger and aggravation.

He stood frozen to the spot.

His face was absolutely pale.

The scene that had just unfolded before him

Chapter 1135 An Utter and Complete Defeat

had struck him like a bolt of lightning.

He couldn't believe what he had just seen.

“Long Bai-Chuan, what are you doing? Are you mad? You're the Military God, the head of the military and the commander of the three armies. How can you call this man your master? You should be kneeling to me if you are to kneel to anyone! I'm the one who made you who you are today. I'm the one whom you're indebted to. Without the Xur family's help, you wouldn't be where you are today. Get up! I command you to kill this man. Take him down immediately!”

Something had finally snapped in Xur Jun-Lin when he had seen Long Bai-Chuan kneel before Ye Fan.

He began yelling at Long Bai-Chuan like a madman.

Long Bai-Chuan didn't give him the time of the day at all. With a single blow, he sent Xur Jun-Lin flying.

He had injected only one-tenth of his strength into that attack.

Chapter 1135 An Utter and Complete Defeat

The general would have been killed instantly otherwise.

Long Bai-Chuan continued speaking to Ye Fan in the utmost respectful tone.

“I received Han’s instructions yesterday and hurried to Yunzhou as soon as I could. But I still arrived too late, after the Xur family had. I failed to arrive in time to protect you. Please forgive me, Dragon Master!” Long Bai-Chuan lowered his head guiltily.

“You may get up. You might be late, but you still arrived in time to carry out your duty. I won’t punish you for your lateness. But make sure there isn’t a next time. I don’t want my Dragons to be incompetent fools who don’t know how to turn up on time,” said Ye Fan sternly and in an uncompromising tone.

Cowed by Ye Fan’s authority, the Military God remained on his knees and did not say a word.

Long Bai-Chuan was one of the four Dragons of the Dragon God Hall.

Each Dragon was charged with their separate duties. One commanded political power, another, wealth, the third, military might and the last, death.

The Sun Dragon, Xue Ren-Yang, held the fort in Yanjing and was given command over the Dragon God Hall's political power.

The Rock Dragon, Iwai Zen, resided in Japan and wielded the Dragon God Hall's wealth.

Long Bai-Chuan, on the other hand, was the River Dragon, the Dragon who had the three armies under his command and held immense military might in his hands.

Ye Fan had instructed Han to contact Long Bai-Chuan and get the latter to hurry to Yunzhou to offer his protection.

Ironically, the Xur family had requested Long Bai-Chuan's aid at the same time.

The series of coincidences had led to the shocking turn of events that had unfolded earlier.

Of course, without Long Bai-Chuan's aid, Ye Fan could still have handled the Xur family on his own easily. He simply had to get his hands dirtier and expend a little more energy in the process.

But he wasn't going to complain if an easy solution were to present itself to him.

He needed Long Bai-Chuan's help with Operation Sparks too.

After long and careful consideration, Ye Fan had finally decided to activate this agent that he had buried deep in the Chinese military.

"Why? Give me a reason why you're doing this, Long Bai-Chuan. Hasn't the Xur family treated you well? I've always treated you like one of our own. I was the one who recommended you for the position of commander of the three armies. You owe me a debt. Why have you betrayed me and called him your master instead? Why? Did the Xur family not treat you well enough? Did I not treat you well enough?" roared Xur Jun-Lin, his voice heavy with resentment as he interrupted Ye Fan's reprimand.

He didn't understand what was going on. He simply couldn't.

Chapter 1135 An Utter and Complete Defeat

How did things end up like this?

The victory that he had believed was within reach had slipped right through his fingers. He had been the one who had suffered a complete and utter defeat.

He was the founding general of the nation and the patriarch of one of the most powerful families in Yanjing. But he had been trampled under the feet of a young man.

The three special troops that had been his pride and joy had been utterly thrashed by Ye Fan's Green Dragon Force. They remained immobile on the ground.

His final trump card, Long Bai-Chuan, had betrayed him and declared his loyalty to Ye Fan instead.

"Why? Why did things end up this way?"

Xur Jun-Lin's eyes were bloodshot and looked crazed.

Long Bai-Chuan appeared unaffected by Xur Jun-Lin's furious interrogation. His reply seemed cold and heartless. "You're right. I do owe you a debt for your recommendation. But the good that I've done for the Xur family over these years would have paid off that debt. There would have been others who would have done what you had done for me. I had proven myself strong and worthy. No one could beat me then. If you had not recommended me for the position of commander, someone else would. I would have gotten to where I am today anyway."

Chapter 1135 An Utter and Complete Defeat

"There are many like you, but only one Dragon Master. The Dragon Master made me who I am. Without him, I would still be a farmer in the countryside. He was the one who gave me strength and allowed me to reach where I am today. I have pledged my life to protecting the Dragon Master from everyone, and that includes you."

Every single word that Long Bai-Chuan had uttered was like a dagger to Xur Jun-Lin's heart.

Despair overcame Xur Jun-Lin. He knew that he had lost this battle against Ye Fan. The Xur family had lost. It had been an utter and complete defeat!
