

Catch Me If You Love Me Chapter 118

When the voice fell, the more he stopped while holding the child at the door, he looked over with a smile.

“What? Young Master Yun suddenly changed his mind?”

Yun Zhihan clenched his fists tightly, his knuckles and teeth made a “click” sound at the same time, his face was blue, and the eyes were filled with crazy red.

It’s a compromise!

“Take my son away to my subordinates. Since Master Lu wants to see that woman so much, I will take you there myself.”

As Yun Zhihan was talking, a strange arc suddenly appeared at the corner of his mouth.

“It’s just Liam Lu, don’t regret it!”

Damn...

The door of the dark room was pushed open, and the lights on all sides suddenly lit up.

Liam Lu followed Yun Zhihan and walked down the steps step by step.

The air is humid, and the sound of “ticking, ticking” water is still heard from time to time.

Thinking of her staying in such a dark and damp place for so long, Liam Lu’s face became more horrified, and his eyes filled with bloodthirsty coldness.

After walking down the steps, Yun Zhihan in front suddenly turned his body sideways, raised his hand and pointed forward.

“Here, people are there.”

Under the light, Zoey Gu was huddled in the corner tremblingly, straightening her clothes. Her face was waxy, her hair was disheveled, and her lips were so dry that there was no trace of moisture.

Looking down, the hands she hugged her knees were full of blood, her nails had already been polished, and the backs of her hands were covered with blood and bruises.

Such Zoey Gu made Liam Lu’s heart abruptly, and a bloodthirsty storm swept across his scarlet eyes.

Bang!

A fist hit Yun Zhihan's face hard...

He was caught off guard, and fell straight back with a muffled snort.

The next second, Liam Lu grabbed the collar and pulled it back.

The man's voice contained a fatal chill.

"Yun Zhihan, how dare you move her?!"

Yun Zhihan immediately raised his hands and gasped with a grin.

"Liam Lu, you know who I am. I don't like this kind of woman at all. If I guessed correctly, she should not be able to adapt to this environment."

Liam Lu had a meal.

In the next second, he fell into a dark nightmare and heard the movement of Zoey Gu. He rushed forward and grabbed Liam Lu's trousers tightly, begging tremblingly all over.

"Please, turn on the light, okay?"

"Please don't lock me up. I'm afraid. I'm afraid that there are walls on all sides. I'm afraid I can't see the light. I'm afraid that when Liam comes back, I won't see anything..."

For an instant, Liam Lu's heart was dull, as if he had been scalded by boiling water.

He remembered that after five years of separation, when he used her strong for the first time, she also grabbed his trouser legs so hard and begged him bitterly.

"Liam Lu, please, turn on the light, OK?"

Being imprisoned by Lydia Lin, five years of dark life gave her a fatal fear of the enclosed darkness.

It's a nightmare.

He should have thought of it!

In the next second, Liam Lu bends down abruptly, pulls Zoey Gu into his arms, and embraces her with both hands open.

"Zoey, be sober, I am Liam Lu, I am by your side!"

"Zoey..."

He held her whole in his arms, tried to free a hand to touch her face, and tried to pull her back from the nightmare.

“You obediently open your eyes and look at me... um!”

Coldly, Liam Lu suddenly changed his face with a muffled cry
