

Chapter 1189

Galia and Rayna on the side looked dumbfounded.

After paying the money, Arron turned around and said to Suzi: "Go downstairs and buy gifts for mom. I've taken care of it here. Go down and look for you."

Suzi nodded obediently: "Yeah."

Just when she turned to leave, she saw a man nestled in the sofa of the set of furniture that Arron chose.

Suzi subconsciously walked in and said, "Is it you?"

Kraig still has a beard and sc*m: "Um... I have half the credit for buying this set of furniture for your mother and aunt. I actually chose this set of furniture."

Suzi didn't appreciate at all: "If you don't go to Sister Shan, what are you doing sitting here!"

Kraig: "..."

At this time, the only kid from Suzi came to Kraig from behind. She looked at Kraig angrily: "Uncle Jun! I will get Aunt Shanshan back to me within ten days of you! You! If you don't get me back, I won't let you hug me again! I won't let you k!ss me! Don't let you pinch my face! Humph!"

The little girl said, tears came out.

Kraig: "..."

This little girl is very cute.

Every time Kraig saw the only one, he would hug her, k!ss her forehead, and squeeze her little cheek.

Now that the little girl has announced these benefits, he is gone.

At this moment, Kraig smiled suddenly.

Laughing like a dream.

He thought of Dalia.

She always wanted a baby.

But he never thought of giving her a child.

If so, if their first child didn't fall, he should be bigger than the only one now, right?

If there is such a child between them, how could she be able to leave?

"Huh!" You still laugh!

Lilly, indiscriminately, suddenly raised her feet and stepped on Kraig's military boots worth hundreds of thousands.

Within a few seconds, Kraig's army boots were stepped on and they were dirty: "Uncle Jun, you hate it! You hurry up and get Aunt Shanshan back to me."

"You get up quickly, don't sit on my grandma's sofa." The six-year-old girl rushed forward, also very cruel.

Don't look at Kraig commanding thousands of troops and horses.

However, at this moment she was the only one who could not beat Shen.

Kraig, who had a pair of military boots trampled on, got up from the sofa and said to Arron: "I am here, I will only provoke your little queen. I'll go back. I didn't drink today. , I can drive myself."

Arron glanced at the bulging Lilly, and then said to Kraig: "Tomorrow, let's go to the countryside of the only grandma to relax together?"

Kraig shook his head: "No, I want to expand the search scope and find her as soon as possible. Otherwise, the two queens of your family can strip me alive."

Arron: "..."

Christopher behind: "Puff..."

Ming Junye looked frowning, how funny it looked in Christopher's eyes.

However, Christopher did not dare to laugh out loud.

He just covered his mouth and winked at Lilly, his expression seemed to say, beautiful!

Kraig didn't care about the sloppy eyes of Christopher and Shen's only two, he only looked at Suzi with a sullen expression: "By the way, Suzi, if she wants to call you again, don't ask her if she is Where, I'm afraid to scare her away again."

Suzi asked: "Then what am I talking about?"

"Ask her if she wants money. You give her money. She is too innocent and has no work experience. If she has no money, she can't live." Kraig said.

Thinking of this, Suzi became even more angry: "I knew she was incapable of surviving, so why did you go?"

As soon as her voice fell, the phone rang.

Suzi glanced at him, is it a stranger from a foreign country? A heart immediately became excited, and she connected non-stop: "Hey..."

On the other end, Dalia's voice was heard clearly: "Suzi, you...can you lend me some money?"

Chapter 1190

Hearing Dalia's voice, Suzi felt that she was more happy than seeing the 18 million pieces of furniture.

She cried out with tears of joy: "Sister Shan, you..."

She was about to ask where Dalia was when she suddenly thought of what Kraig had just said.

It is Kraig who knows Dalia.

Don't look at Dalia in his thirties, but Dalia is too pure.

She went out without the ability to survive, which was really guessed by Kraig.

Dalia really called to borrow money.

Reached out to himself and said: "Sister Shan, how much do you want to borrow, I will lend you?"

Here, when Suzi and Dalia were on the phone, Kraig had already called to inform his subordinates and began to monitor the phone number Dalia was calling.

At that end, Dalia, Collin, and Collin's mother are still on their way back to their home in the Northeast.

This way, they walked very hard.

First, Collin's mother suddenly developed a fever. They used to take the cheapest bus, but only half of the journey was completed. Because Collin's mother suddenly caught a cold and had a fever, she had to get off the bus halfway and be treated in a local town.

As soon as Collin's mother's illness improved, her mother was no longer willing to hang on to water.

The money on his body is indeed limited.

Three adults, even if they are begging, they won't give it to you.

Collin carried his mother on his back, and the three of them walked along the road, hoping to catch a ride.

It's okay, it looks like they've taken about three hundred kilometers.

But after getting out of the car, Dalia vomited out the jaundice.

At first thought it was motion sickness.

She can stop and go, and it has been three days, and she still keeps vomiting.

Dalia felt that if he was hungry and full this time, he must have eaten up his stomach.

Collin insisted on taking her to the hospital for a checkup, taking her to the hospital and on the way, Dalia disagreed.

Because there is no money.

Collin comforted her: "It's okay. I can work in the local area for a few days. I can still carry cement for decoration. I have done the job. I have strength. I have to see you first anyway."

Dalia couldn't be more than Collin, so he came to a local town hospital for a checkup.

The inspections came and went. I spent hundreds of money, but I couldn't find out what was wrong.

Later, an older doctor asked Dalia: "Are you... pregnant?"

Dalia was surprised.

Then, she blushed.

Why didn't she think about it?

Blame her too!

Because two months ago, she had just had a depravity operation, she thought it could not be so fast anyway?

The senior doctor advised her to buy a pregnancy test stick.

Dalia bought a pregnancy test stick for a dollar, and when the result was checked, her eyes were instantly dark.

She is really pregnant!

Dalia was filled with joy and sorrow, and he couldn't laugh or cry.

She looked at Collin apologetically from time to time: "Brother Han, I...I can't go back to your hometown with you, I have no face."

Collin said, "What's wrong?"

"I..." she said embarrassingly: "I...I'm pregnant."

Collin: "..."

He was indeed a little surprised.
