

Chapter 119

After she said that, no one would pursue this matter anymore.

Kevin looked at Alyssa happily, "Alyssa, you're such a good girl. How about you stay home and have lunch with grandpa today?"

"Grandpa!" Hearing grandpa's words, Leon knew that Alyssa probably wouldn't refuse grandpa and hurriedly said, "She's a little tired these days and she has been preparing for her exams. In a few days, she will go to school. Right now she needs to get some rest."

Leon pulled Alyssa and headed out.

Alyssa smiled at grandpa and waved at him before she left. Then, she hurriedly followed Leon out.

In the black car, Leon looked at Alyssa.

Seeing Leon kept looking at her, Alyssa was a little curious, "What are you looking at me for?"

"Audrey may still make a move on us. She won't admit defeat easily. If we let her go today, it might cause us trouble later."

Alyssa came up to Leon's ear and whispered a few words.

Hearing Alyssa's words, Leon froze for a moment. He looked at Alyssa and smiled, "You're so bad."

"I just came up with the easiest way. Cutting off her money will burn her bridge anyway."

"Your call."

Alyssa smiled and looked Leon in the eyes, "I didn't know that you cared about George so much. Outsiders have always thought that you and George have been at odds."

"We used to play together when we were kids. Grandpa was tough on me and more tolerant of George."

"You didn't hate each other?"

"Yeah."

Leon finished and started the car.

Alyssa smiled. Actually, she didn't care about his relationship with George. She just thought she was wrong about Leon before.

Leon didn't seem to be the cold-blooded and heartless person that others had made him out to be. After weighing the pros and cons, he would make the most correct choice.

However, she should really think about how to deal with Audrey.

Although Leon could freeze Audrey's bank account, Emily and Audrey were in the same boat.

This was also a good opportunity to fix Emily.

Even if Emily didn't contact Audrey, Audrey would definitely contact Emily.

Emily could stay at the Hunters because of Audrey, and if Audrey wanted to go back, she could only rely on George and Emily.

They must be in contact with each other.

Alyssa thought about it the whole way.

When the car stopped, she realized that they had arrived home.

After eating, Alyssa went to take a lunch break.

The warm sunlight poured in and Alyssa felt warm all over.

Once warmed, she felt much more comfortable. At this time, she felt someone coming from behind her, and before Alyssa could turn her head, she knew that the person behind her was Leon.

Leon hugged her waist, "I asked Wendy to make some medicine for you. Later, you get up and drink the medicine before you go to sleep."

"Huh?" Alyssa turned her head to look at Leon in surprise, "How do you know that I am taking Chinese medicine?"

"You're not feeling well, so it's normal for you to take some Chinese medicine. I've asked Wendy to get you more medicines. Moreover, I also asked someone to check those medicines. There is nothing wrong with them, so you can take more."

Alyssa was a little embarrassed. That was the medicine that helped her get pregnant.

Leon had seen them and asked her to take a few more.

It seemed that he already knew the ingredients of those medicines.

Alyssa's face turned red.

Looking at Alyssa's back, Leon clearly felt her body stiffen for a moment. He hugged Alyssa more softly, "Relax, as long as you're happy, you can do whatever you want. I don't want to trap you into doing anything."

At that moment, there was a knock at the door.

Leon opened the door himself, brought in the Chinese medicine, and handed it to Alyssa.

Thinking about what Leon had just said to her, Alyssa was surprised and delighted. She was shocked that Leon said that he didn't want to trap her. This was another proof that Leon had let her go willingly in her last life. She was the one who insisted on jumping off the building.

She was happy that he knew exactly what was on her mind. He didn't stop or approve, willing to do everything according to her wishes.

This was his approval and encouragement to her.

She looked at the Chinese medicine Leon put on her hands.

The medicine wasn't hot. She took a sip. Although it tasted a little bitter, Alyssa didn't find it hard to drink at all. She quickly drank up a bowl of Chinese herbal medicine.

Leon took the bowl and gave her a piece of sugar in her mouth.

The sugar quickly melted in her mouth. She only tasted the sweetness.

Leon had only said a few words, but Alyssa felt as if their relationship had instantly become much closer.

In the past few days, Alyssa's period hadn't ended.

She was particularly lazy at night, and Leon took good care of her.

Alyssa spent the whole day in bed reading and listening to English, and finally got Leon's great care. She was sure she had experienced more joy in these days than she had in two lives.

After her period ended, Leon once again returned to his true nature. Every time Alyssa felt that she was about to be unable to stand it, she felt that Leon had definitely been suppressing himself before. Otherwise, how could he suddenly be so crazy lately!

The school would start soon. Alyssa whispered as she organized her things, "Time flies, and so does this holiday. I've only been home twice and school is starting."

"You don't have much academic work this semester. You can take a good rest."

"The old house seems to be very quiet lately. Did something happen?"

"The old house is indeed pretty quiet. With George with grandpa, I don't have to worry about grandpa's health. Do you want to go see my grandpa?"

"There's Emily, isn't there?"

"She's been sent to C City by grandpa."

Alyssa thought for a moment, then nodded.

Grandpa did say before that he would send Emily to C City, and she thought he just said it casually at that time. She didn't expect that he would really send Emily to C City.

It was a good thing that Emily had been sent away so that she and Audrey wouldn't get into any more trouble.

It seemed that Leon had taken care of it.

She looked at Leon with appreciation in her eyes, "Leon, it's Ella's birthday in a few days. Let's go to her angry party together."

"Okay."

Alyssa nodded. She liked Leon more and more now.

Ella's birthday was in three days.

Alyssa took a long time to pick her birthday gift.

Looking at the small gift Alyssa chose, Leon was a little curious about what she had chosen.

Seeing Leon's confusion, Alyssa opened the box, "This is the book I chose for Ella, with the author's signature inside. She has always loved this book. It took me a long time to find it."

Looking at the book, Leon suddenly felt that Alyssa always brought him surprises.

Originally he thought that she would give Ella a diamond or jewelry or something, but she actually chose to give Ella a book.

However, this book was much more valuable than the jewelry.
