

Chapter 121

What kind of question was that?

Ella certainly wouldn't like it.

Any gift from anyone who came here today would be much more expensive than this book!

However, the next moment, Ella laughed. She walked over and hugged Alyssa directly.

"I knew you would know what I like. I've loved this book for a long time. I think this author's signature is very precious. Alyssa, thank you for giving me such a meaningful gift on my birthday. I really love your gift."

Everyone was stunned to hear Ella's words!

Alyssa, however, expected it and hugged Ella, saying, "We grew up together. How could I not know what you like!"

"Thanks, Alyssa, your gift is the best gift I've ever received."

Alyssa had known that Ella would like her gift.

It upset the people around them even more to see Alyssa smiling.

Salma scoffed, "I've heard about Alyssa's good luck before at school. It's incredible that the gift she gave actually happened to be Ella's favorite book."

"Dumb luck."

Hearing those jealous words, Ella naturally understood what those words meant.

All of Alyssa's accomplishments had nothing to do with luck. No one understood better than she did about how hard Alyssa really worked.

She was about to speak when she felt her hand being pulled. She turned her head to see Alyssa smiling at her.

"It's your birthday today. Have fun, don't think about unhappy people and things. I heard that there will be a musical fountain here later. Let's go and see it together, okay?"

Ella smiled and said, "Okay, but you have to be by my side later. You've been by my side every year on my birthday, and Alyssa, you have to promise me that you'll be with me at every moment on my future birthdays, too."

"How greedy, but okay, I promise you." Alyssa nodded. Seeing Ella looking at her and smiling, she reached out and hugged Ella, "Ella, I wish we could always be together too."

She also wanted them to be together forever.

In this world, besides her parents and her lover, the one who treated her the best was Ella.

Ella took Alyssa's hand, "Come on, let's go to see the musical fountain now. There's a dance party later. You have to dance with me."

"I haven't been able to dance since I was a kid." Alyssa looked at Ella with some embarrassment.

"I can let you step on my feet. You'll dance with me and step on my feet."

Alyssa couldn't help but laugh.

Seeing Alyssa's smile, Ella smiled even more than she just did.

With Alyssa with her, she no longer had the desire to even deal with those hypocritical people. She directly pulled Alyssa to run in the direction of the musical fountain.

Alyssa followed Ella, occasionally helping her pull up her dress that had fallen to the ground, but she forgot that her dress had also fallen to the ground because she was running.

Hassan, who stood in the corner talking to someone, saw the scene and suddenly smiled.

He thought he would have a windfall today before he left home, but he didn't expect that this windfall would be Alyssa.

Although he had thought that he might meet Alyssa today, he did not expect it to happen so soon.

He stood looking at Alyssa from a distance, only to see her helping Ella, who was happy to run forward, carry her dress and run behind Ella.

They ran forward happily, looking completely different from their usual.

Leon, who stood on the top floor, happened to see Alyssa and Ella running forward together. They kept running forward. He looked down at Alyssa, who was carefully helping Ella lift her dress.

She could stand in front of people, and she could also willingly fall behind. The wise were capable of being pushed out and in.

Kole walked over. Seeing that Leon looked out seriously, he said, "My sister is beautiful today. Do you regret it? You had to marry the Grahams' daughter at that time. Now it's too late to regret it."

Leon didn't say anything but patted Kole's shoulder, with a face that was clearly gentle and elegant.

Seeing Leon walk away, Kole had to quickly follow him.

Ella ran with Alyssa to the musical fountain. Just as they approached, colorful lights instantly shone around them.

Ella nervously covered her face, but strangely enough, no water fell on her at all.

At the moment, the warm yellow light shone on Ella's body.

Ella took a few steps backward, only to feel several lights flashing before her eyes. Pillars of water rapidly radiated from the colorful lights.

Only at this moment did Ella see clearly that the water pillars around her were not real water pillars at all, but 3D images.

But these images were just like real.

At this moment, Ella and Alyssa stood together. They were standing inside the circle of lights. All the lights were on their bodies.

Alyssa knew that the star of today was not her. She naturally stepped back.

Ella saw Alyssa stepping back and hurriedly pulled her back, "Alyssa, don't go."

"Today you are the princess. I will go to the back." Alyssa smiled at Ella, "Don't worry. I'm always behind you."

Alyssa patted Ella's shoulder, signaling her to be brave.

Ella nodded. Her purpose today was to tell people who were suspicious of Lloyd Group that Lloyd Group's finance was fine. Moreover, her family was very cohesive and had a lot of support. Mathieson Group would never be able to beat Lloyd Group in their next life.

Ella stood in the center with the spotlight surrounding her. Her golden dress floated up. At the moment, she looked like a real queen.

Alyssa stepped back and soon felt a man behind her. As she turned her head, the person behind her had come up and taken her hand. She turned her head and unexpectedly saw Hassan.

Alyssa said, "Mr. Wood?"

"It's so rare that you still know me."

"How could I not know you! Are you kidding me?" Feeling her hand being pulled by Hassan, Alyssa hurriedly took a glass of wine from the side and brought it to Hassan.

Hassan looked at the wine and felt that he would be somewhat disrespectful to Alyssa if he didn't take the wine.

He could only let go of Alyssa's hand and reach for the wine.

Alyssa stepped back quietly and kept her distance from Hassan.

Hassan looked at the blue velvet dress on Alyssa and said, "Your dress is too formal. You're Ella's friend and classmate, you should wear the same as Ella."

"I'm not like Ella. It's Ella's birthday. She is the star. I really didn't expect to meet you so soon, Mr. Wood. I have friends waiting for me. I have to go now."

"By friends, do you mean those girls? Those girls are not very friendly to you. I heard them say that you deliberately approached Ella. Why did you approach Ella? Because Ella was rich?"
