

Chapter 122

Hassan was curious about Alyssa's identity.

It was reasonable to say that the family of someone who could be friends with Ella would not be poor.

But at first, when she went to his company for an internship, the internship salary was only three thousand five yuan, and she did not refuse. Later, she even accepted the job because of the money. Probably because the New Year was coming up, she had to give up her job. Otherwise, she would still work at Citic now.

After she left Citic, he found several other interns.

But none of them were up to his standards.

If Alyssa was really short of money, then he would be happy. At least he could use the money to get her back to work.

Alyssa looked at Hassan and smiled, "I'm not short of money, Mr. Wood!"

Hassan was smart.

It was best not to play tricks in front of him.

And it was good to be honest.

Hearing this, Hassan laughed, "Well, at that time, you took the card I gave you so quickly."

"I deserved to take the money I earned myself." Alyssa glanced at Hassan and smiled gently at him.

Looking at Alyssa's calm smile, Hassan suddenly found her even more interesting. No intern had ever dared to talk to him like that.

Deserved?

Without the platform he provided, how could she earn money?

But seeing her composed look, he suddenly didn't want to talk about it anymore.

Hassan nodded and brought another glass of champagne to Alyssa, "Miss Graham, cheers!"

Alyssa was still in the process of getting pregnant. Besides, she couldn't drink. So she refused, "Mr. Wood, I can't drink."

"You're not giving Ella face? It's Ella's birthday." Hassan was smiling, but there was a hint of oppression in his tone.

It was a little oppressive. Alyssa glanced at Ella out of habit.

"Ella must not want to be unpleasant on her birthday." Hassan deliberately reminded Alyssa. He believed that Alyssa was really good to Ella, which could be seen from the way she helped Ella lift her dress just now.

For Ella's sake, she might compromise.

Sure enough, Alyssa took the wine glass.

Watching Alyssa take the glass, Hassan was satisfied with Alyssa's performance.

Alyssa was about to drink her wine and get away from Hassan. But before the glass could reach her mouth, it was snatched away by a pair of large hands.

She followed the glass and saw Leon standing behind her at some point.

She was surprised to see Leon. But before she could say anything, Leon had already put her behind him.

"Mr. Hunter?" Hassan extended his hand to him gently, "It's Ella's birthday today. I didn't expect you to be here."

"I'm here to accompany my wife." Leon smiled at Hassan and then, turned his head to look at Alyssa, "Alyssa, you've met Mr. Wood?"

Alyssa came over, "I just met Mr. Wood. He was joking with me and offered me a drink!"

Hassan heard this and immediately understood.

Leon's wife was Alyssa.

Alyssa's last name was Graham.

She was not just a student, but the Grahams' daughter?

Ella had not told him such important information.

He and Leon had nothing to do with each other in business. But because of Alyssa's identity, he was embarrassed.

"Mr. Wood, do you still want to drink with me? It's getting late, we have to go back."

Seeing Leon come back, Alyssa now just wanted to hurry up and leave.

Now, Ella's purpose had been achieved. She had given her the gift as well. There was no point in her staying here now.

Hassan didn't say anything. Alyssa turned to get a glass of wine, but Leon stopped her hand and took it, "You're not feeling well lately. Let me drink for you."

Alyssa smiled.

Leon drank already.

Hassan now knew that Leon and Alyssa were married.

When he reacted, he saw that Alyssa and Hassan had walked off into the distance.

At that moment, Kole walked over. Watching his cousin look into the distance, he turned his head and looked over, only to see the backs of Leon and Alyssa leaving.

"Are you interested in Leon or Alyssa?"

"Who do you know better?" Hassan withdrew his gaze and looked to the empty glass in front of him.

"Both."

"Hmm, you know Alyssa well?"

"Alyssa is Grandpa Graham's granddaughter and has been friends with Ella since she was a kid. She and Ella are very close and she comes to my home often. Of course, I know her well. I also know Leon well, and we are very close friends. We don't work together, but we do talk together."

"This is my birthday gift for Ella. She was surrounded by her classmates, so I didn't give her the gift. I have something to do for work, so I'll leave now."

"You're leaving now? You haven't talked to Ella for a long time, and Ella misses you."

"That girl is very smart. To help the Lloyds show off their wealth, she asked me to book this venue for her. Now, I got the gift delivered too. She'll have to beg me if she has anything more to do."

By then, he could make a request by the way.

Kole looked at Hassan and smiled.

Hassan frowned, "What are you laughing at? Did I say something wrong?"

"Not really, Ella is naturally smart. But Ella didn't come up with this idea. Alyssa did."

"Alyssa?"

"Yes." Kole nodded, "Ella has always been taught by grandpa not to enjoy a high profile. How did she come up with this?"

"Interesting!"

Hassan smiled at Kole and turned to leave.

As he watched Hassan leave, Kole wondered what else had occurred to him. At that moment, he suddenly felt an extra person behind him. He turned his head to see Hugh Lloyd.

"Grandpa, you're here too?"

"I came to see Ella. The Lloyds' little princess should have been like this a long time ago. Today's birthday party is a real treat. I saw so many boys smiling at Ella!"

"Yes, you're right, grandpa. Ella is a princess. She's been too low-key all these years."

"Ella is still too simple. It's good for her to have a friend like Alyssa by her side. She can still give Ella a heads up sometimes."

Hugh didn't like Alyssa before, but after seeing the way Ella's eyes glowed when she talked about Alyssa several times, he felt that Alyssa was really different from before.

He had just been sitting aside to observe Alyssa and felt that Alyssa was indeed different. She had become a lot more mature.

From what Ella said, it was also Alyssa's idea this time.

Alyssa was completely different from before.

Even his granddaughter didn't look quite the same this year.

Hugh looked at his grandson and said, "This is the world of the young. I won't get involved with you guys. I'll go first."
