

Chapter 1231

Another Thirty Thousand Years

At the same time, in the laboratory of the secret base.

Jane wearing gloves and protective goggles with her hair tied up in a bun, was performing an experiment, expressionless.

The laboratory was huge and full of advanced instruments, which was second to none nationally developed laboratories, displaying the abundant investment that was put into it.

Jane stood in front of the computer, her fingers rapidly tapping on the light-sensitive keys. The complex equations were shuttling and bouncing on the big screen one by one, and correspondingly in front of her through a tempered glass pool was a robotic arm that was being precisely adjusted and controlled.

Several strong men with white coats were standing at each corner of the lab, but they turned out to be guards instead of researchers.

Jerry with his chestnut hair stared at the complicated data on the huge monitor screen with his eyes shining and was deeply obsessed.

If it wasn't for someone who had enough scientific knowledge in further science, it was impossible to understand that the scientific research she's writing at this moment was so shocking!

"It's wonderful... I never thought that there would be such a way to perform fusion reactions... The power of FURY was originally constructed like this..."

Jerry turned his head stiffly, he was behind a screen, scorchingly staring at Jane, full of admiration and all kinds of complicated emotions.

The appearance of this woman had made those low class women incomparable. What's more valuable was that her wisdom had surpassed the limits of any human being!

What kind of man could be worthy of a woman like her...

"Teacher, if you aren't on that demon's side...that would have been great..."

Jane didn't seem to hear what he said and stopped whatever she was doing. She then turned around to the experiment table beside her and began to manually prepare some chemicals.

"Teacher, what are you doing, why did you stop?" Jerry said in dissatisfaction.

Jane raised her head and snorted at the glass pool, "It will take about eight hours to complete the fusion. I need to confirm the purity of some elements, which will affect the direct result of the final element synthesis."

Jerry looked at Jane suspiciously as she performed all kinds of strange deployments. In fact, although he was also specialised in this field, he was still far behind her.

However, even if it was unclear whether things were like what she said, he still believed that she dare not make fun of the lives of hundreds of innocent ill children.

“Teacher, you’d better not play any small tricks. You know very well of the consequences if there aren’t any results within three days...”

“You don’t have to remind me.”

Jane dealt with his words without raising her head, and continued to adjust her hands in an orderly manner. But in her mind, the flashbacks of the image that could never be extinguished of her childhood...

Back in the Italian church, in the moment of crisis, the innocent young boy who was now a man that she couldn’t reach, would he save himself from the abyss as he did in the beginning...

Coming out of the seafood restaurant, Ron followed Cai Ning to pay the bill for her.

Although Cai Ning repeatedly told Ron that he didn’t need to serve her so diligently, he pretty much still liked his job as a butler. He preferred doing everything by himself which made her somewhat helpless.

“Lady Cai Ning, will you like to return to the hotel or take a look at the market here? I can ask my daughters to shop around with you and be your tour guide if you need,” Ron suggested.

Ron squinted and smiled, “I understand that you’ll feel disappointed about His Majesty Pluto’s sudden leave. I only hope that you and Lady Rose can be happy on this trip.”

Cai Ning gave a kind smile in return, “It’s alright really, I am not a woman who’ll die without man. In fact, I am quite used to being alone.”

Ron was amused, “Lady Cai Ning, you are quite similar to Lord Persephone, but you seem to be more mature.”

“Persephone?” Cai Ning thought for awhile, “You mean Ruoxi?”

Cai Ning sighed in her heart, perhaps Ron and the others didn’t know yet, the Lord Pluto they respected and worshipped was afraid of his wife and would never dare to bring Lin Ruoxi here.

The old and young strolled across the pebble path beside the beach returning to their hotel. Suddenly, Cai Ning felt a familiar feeling of oppression, approaching them from the front.

Although she tried to keep it low, she still sensed them as they got closer.

Looking in front, a man with black curly hair, blue eyes and a copper spear tattoo on his stern face strode forward, showing a stance of courage and power.

“Where’s Hades?” The man immediately asked when he saw Cai Ning.

“Ares?” Cai Ning had met this fellow when Brahma of India attacked Zhonghai, and she immediately recognized him.

Ares was initially looking at Ron, he then frowned after being called by her and looked over, "You know me?"

Cai Ning stayed silent. She wasn't exactly surprised about his presence, after all Yang Chen mentioned that they would contact the other gods to come pay a visit after his call with Christine.

Ron immediately greeted the God of War with respect after knowing his identity, "You Majesty Ares, His Majesty Pluto went to the Baltic Sea and he will be travelling around Europe for two days to search for an important person."

"What, he's not on the island...no wonder I can't find him," Ares was slightly unhappy, "Hmmp, and I was thinking of having a battle with him, I supposed it can't be helped."

Cai Ning had entered the Soul Forming Stage so she did not feel inferior towards the God of War, "Is it even necessary, you've lost to Yang Chen in Zhonghai before. Now that his strength has further increased, you can only wish to be his opponent."

Ares disdainfully said, "Woman, what do you know, I wasn't giving it my all in the beginning, and I underestimated the enemy. If I knew that his Chinese internal energy and martial arts were the practice of the Chinese cultivators, I would've not underestimated the enemy. Whatever Xiantian True Qi... This god has faced the Chinese cultivators of the Soul Forming and Tribulation Passing stages. Although his method is eccentric, after I went back that time, I practiced with great concentration and I have come up with many methods to deal with him. I want to try it out with him."

Cai Ning was disdainful and Yang Chen also mentioned that although this guy was warlike, his strength was the lowest among the gods. However he knew that he was arrogant so there was no point in arguing with him.

It was at that moment, a smile came from behind.

"Haha, how amusing. It's been a long time since we've last met, but you still like to brag a lot Ares."

Cai Ning turned over and saw a handsome tall blonde man in a flower patterned shirt walking slowly from the beach with his arms around a charming lady who was in a white silky skirt and had long silver hair.. It was Apollo who was also known as Stern and Artemis who was also known as Alice.

"Hmmp, Artemis, Apollo, you came early too," Ares said in a rough manner.

Stern shrugged a little helplessly, "We could only come over and take a look after Aphrodite informed us. This ain't a trivial matter, how could we brother and sister miss out on the play."

Cai Ning was already confused, why was Apollo and the Artemis siblings here as well. These gods who were just legends in her thoughts, were now chatting like mortals right in front of her.

Alice on the other hand greeted Cai Ning nicely, "Hello beautiful, are you one of Hades's women too? Hehe...there are traces of cultivation on you, not bad huh."

The God of Sun and Moon, as the ones who were ranked higher among the gods, the siblings wouldn't take Cai Ning in the Soul Forming Stage too seriously.

“Isn’t it obvious, if she isn’t the woman of Hades, according to the covenant back in the days, any cultivator who is out of the territory of China will be our enemy. I would’ve taken action,” Ares snorted coldly.

Cai Ning was not convinced at once, “The question is, can you beat me?”

“What did you say!?” Ares raised his voice and asked angrily.

Stern hurried over to put off the fire, “Okay, since she’s Hades’s woman then she’s one of us. Ares, your bad temper will not change even if you were given 30,000 years. We will head to the hotel where Hades is staying. When Poseidon and Hermes are here, we shall discuss how to say hello to our old friends...”

Chapter 1232

Against The Order

The Norwegian sky was sunny yet chilly.

In the endless blue sea, only the thin and sparse clouds were floating in the reflection.

A night had passed, Yang Chen, who had been searching in various remote mountains and waters of Northern Europe for the entire night, stood frozen in the morning sky silently.

From the Baltic Sea, to Stockholm, Oslo of Sweden, and Bergen of Norway, there were eight terminals along the way, which were false targets created by those terrorist organizations to confuse people.

Yang Chen only managed to find some special military bases in local countries, and there was no secret nuclear test laboratory. If he hadn’t come to find it himself, it was assumed that his subordinates would cause conflicts due to wrong targets and it would really be a great loss for him to suffer.

If it wasn’t for his strong sensing abilities and speed by using the teleportation method to search, it would probably take about two days to complete the full investigation.

However, it’s still too slow!

“Sauron, how many more?” Yang Chen asked.

Sauron, who hadn’t rested all night, immediately replied, “Your Majesty Pluto, from the Norwegian Sea to the north, there is Wilwick, and further west, there are ships going to Iceland and Nuuk in Greenland; to the south, there is Rotterdam in Netherlands, Leipzig in Germany, Marseille in France, Lodz in Poland and so on...”

Yang Chen gnashed his teeth after listening, “Damn, they deliberately scattered the points. It will take at least a week to find them all!”

Sauron said, “Your Majesty Pluto, I think that we can actually exclude some points. For example, these locations in France are very close to the Mediterranean Sea and have a high population density, they are not suitable for hiding. The probability that they choose to conduct nuclear tests is very small. Also, relatively speaking, our troops will be able to search them easily, they won't be risking it. Why don't you go to the west to search, and I command the people below to search near those northern European cities?"

Yang Chen thought for a while and vetoed, "No, on the contrary, we shall search from low latitudes to high latitudes. Cities and regions close to the Mediterranean Sea will be searched first."

Sauron was taken aback, "You think that they are doing the opposite, deliberately using locations that we think is impossible as their secret base?"

"It's not that simple," Yang Chen analyzed, "I just remembered it when you said it. It's impossible for a laboratory to be supported by a few scattered people. The best way for a group of people to hide for at least two years, is to hide them in the crowd. Therefore, I think the more prosperous the area, the more suitable it is to establish such a laboratory. Of course, it is just my assumption, but we might as well bet on this rather than searching around like headless flies."

Sauron nodded on the other end of the phone, "You are right, I will mobilize my people immediately to search the south!"

After Yang Chen hung up the phone, he hurried to Marseille, France. Although the sudden appearance in various places in broad daylight might scare some people, he couldn't care less now.

With his moving speed, most of the people would only take it as some hallucinations.

He was still thinking about Sicily, the Caesars conference should be opened, and Christine, he should have notified several other guys, hopefully there won't be any big disturbances, at least before his return.

The huge elliptical Colosseum was made up of heavy granite stones. It was originally located on a stable site extended by the continental shelf, so it could be safely carried.

After the renovation of the facilities in the Colosseum in the contemporary era, the Mafia had been maintaining it all year round and it looked extremely modern as well. Except for various ancient Roman style frescoes and decorations, everything else was similar to a modern sports stadium.

Mercenary groups from all over the world, rich men, nobles, as well as important military personnel and politicians of some major countries, had taken their seats throughout the venue.

There were more than 30,000 seats in the audience, and many ordinary soldiers of the mercenary group could only stand by the aisle.

Except for the elite mercenaries who were going to compete on the first day, the atmosphere of the audience was like a gathering of fans watching a football game. The noise of various languages and accents were deafening.

In a VIP room above the Colosseum, Cai Ning and Rose had already taken their seats early, and there were also Stern and his sister Alice and Christine. As for Ron and his son Fidero, they were at the side serving them carefully.

“When are they going to start the fight, it’s been an hour since the opening ceremony ended,” Rose started to get anxious.

“Why don’t I play a few more rounds of cards with you, just to kill time?” Cai Ning teased.

Rose bit her lower lips and snorted lightly, “Hmmp, just laugh as you please. It’s just losing the game, it’s not a big deal. Those were professional gamblers, it would’ve been weird for me to win.”

Rose gambled from yesterday night until this morning and lost a few million euros, but as a woman who didn’t bother much about money, it didn’t really affect her mood.

“Oh right, Ms Christine, uhm...am I supposed to call you Venus instead?” Rose looked over suspiciously.

Both Christine and Alice at the side were holding a fashion magazine, discussing the outfits displayed on it and neither one of them looked like one of the gods.

Christine smiled politely after hearing Rose call her, the simple and plain-dressed blonde beauty made Rose, who was also a woman, startled with just a smile.

“Anything is fine, just don’t call me Venus in public,” Christine winked.

She had contacted Rose once in Zhonghai, so she didn’t feel strange at all.

Rose nodded, “I just wanted to ask if you recognize those white cloaked freaks? You all don’t seem to be reacting at all.”

Christine pointed at the other VIP room opposite them. There were three men in different seats there, Poseidon in a navy uniform, while Hermes and Ares were in suits and leather shoes.

The three male gods weren’t fond about sitting in the same room with women. However, even if the three were in the same room and had known each other for more than ten thousand years, they didn’t really talk much.

“Look, they are also waiting, so are we. We can only confirm when they appear. Besides, Hades isn’t here and we can’t reach out to Athena, it won’t be easy if we face our old opponents without having everyone here.

Rose was even more curious about those freaks after hearing Christine’s words. At the same time, she was hoping for Yang Chen to return as soon as he found Jane, a bad feeling was channeling in her mind, thinking that something bad might’ve happened.

In the midst of boredom, the hosting stage finally issued an announcement that the first round of the competition was about to begin.

Due to the large number of participating teams, the first day would mainly be elimination rounds. There were six teams playing each round, after two-by-two, the winners would enter the second day of the competition.

The Caesars Conference forbade killing opponents in the ring, but if it was “accidental death” or “disability” etc, they would not be disqualified. This agreement had been signed before the competition.

In fact, even if the mercenaries who dared to participate in the competition were not confident in winning, they all had their own ability to escape. It was not easy to deliberately kill them. So in the past few years, those who died in the ring were only a few.

One after another, in the three battle arenas at the center of the Colosseum, six teams came out head-on.

What disappointed Rose and Cai Ning was that the Sea Eagles elite team did not appear in the first round. However, the two women soon came to light. A guy with a white cloak went on stage, facing the opposite five opponents alone.

One against five! This was allowed in the rules, but this was obviously a complete contempt for the opponent!

Regardless of Stern, Alice and Christine or the three gods in the VIP room opposite, the moment they saw the white cloak man, they stood up with a solemn expression!

“It really is them... how did they come back...” Hermes couldn’t help muttering.

“Hey, isn’t it good. We shouldn’t have left them in the beginning, this time we will completely get rid of them!” Ares geared up.

Chapter 1233 - Centimani

Centimani

Poseidon looked solemn, and frowned at Ares’ arrogance, “Get rid of them? Do you think that you are Zeus or Athena? Do you really think that you can do it when they couldn’t? Since they are able to come back, they must have some kind of special entry. If they aren’t confident enough how could they appear in front of us in such a flashy manner.”

Ares was disdainful, “Poseidon, I think you are living behind in time and getting more and more timid. They are just a group of prosecutors and thieves of the gods, even after 20,000 years, they still can’t change what’s deep within them!”

Hermes grinned, “Stop fighting both of you, it’s better to think about notifying Athena. Now that Zeus is not there, and we don’t know if Hera, Hephaestus, and Dionysus are awake. If she doesn’t come, I really don’t know how to control this situation.”

“Hmmp, didn’t you always hate Athena and tried to prove yourself to be better than her?” Ares laughed in sarcasm.

“Although it’s true that I hate her, we are still on the same side facing the common enemy,” Hermes said.

“Hypocrite.”

“Hehe, whatever you say...” Hermes was the least bit bothered.

All kinds of screams and cheers had sounded around the venue. Some people were excited and some felt that it was too arrogant for such a strange team as DEICIDE to only send one member into the game.

It was at this moment that the five members of a mercenary troop from Africa, rushed up to the white cloaked freak with despise for their opponent!

These five African mercenaries had very strong physical qualities. Although their attack methods were rough and simple, they were fast and would hit the vicious parts every single time!

The golden-faced man stood there without having the means to move at all.

Even when the five of them had touched his body, the golden-faced men still stood steadily on the spot, motionless!

The five only see it as slightly weird, but their combined force managed to hit the golden-faced man's face, chest and waist.

However, their power was as if the clay ox entered the ocean and had no effect at all!

This abnormal phenomenon caused them to lose their response to the next step.

But at this moment, a soft snort came from behind the golden-faced man's mask. And immediately afterwards, the five men felt a surge of power, coming from behind the white cloak!

This was a kind of pure physical elasticity, just like the reaction force of the ball after scoring a ball!

The five of them never expected that this seemingly ordinary figure would have such fierce physical power!

Anyways, the five of them were shaken out of the ring without knowing what happened!

The electronic referee on the sidelines immediately announced that DEICIDE would be entering next round and the speculators around were also exclaiming in surprise.

The golden-faced man didn't bother at all, he looked up as if pointing and glanced in two directions.

The six gods in the VIP rooms were obviously his targets. His eyes were filled with provocation and disdain.

"It can't be wrong, this kind of physique and looks, without any spiritual energy fluctuations, it's them," Stern frowned.

"But since they came out, why would they come to participate in such a conference for human competitions, shouldn't their goal be us?" Alice was puzzled.

Stern shook his head, "Not sure for now, but if we declare war with them, it won't be as easy as 20,000 years ago, and may cause a worldwide panic, we shall see how things go."

Rose and Cai Ning aside were confused, and couldn't help asking, "Who are they? Since you know, mind telling us?"

Christine sighed and asked with a wry smile, "Have you heard about... A race named Giant?"

“Giant?” Cai Ning thought for a moment, “I heard that the champion of the previous Caesars Conference was obtained by a family mercenary named Cyclops, the name of the family seemed to be Cyclopes?”

“You’re right, but Cyclops is just one of the giants. They also have close relatives named Centimani. According to the Chinese, it represents a hundred armed giants,” Christine explained, “The legend of the giants, the myths and stories written by humans have been there since ancient times, some are false, but some are true. The Cyclops family is actually a hybrid descendant of giants and humans. It only inherits the blood of giants, but can already overpower the top mercenaries in the world. The true Cyclops and Centimanis all originated from one ancestor, and their ancestors were similar to the ancestors of the Gods, but that was a long time ago and it also happened in our hometown, Mars. The physical power of the giants surpassed the gods, but their spiritual power is not as good as ours, so the use of the law of space is weak, and they aren’t our opponents at all. In the past, they were all driven for us as low-level races. After Mars could not survive, the Gods came to Earth, and some powerful Cyclops and Centimanis also came here. They stood on the same line with us at the time, and Cyclops also assisted Hephaestus and created a lot of artifacts for us. The Centimanis also wiped out a lot of Chinese cultivators for us. However, in the middle, they discovered that the body of us Gods is difficult to have offspring, and would need to use the human body to reincarnate so they became rebellious. After all, as our people became fewer, their lifespan and reproductive ability were stronger than us, and they had the opportunity to break away from our shackles. It was also the accumulation of generations of grievances that made them no longer willing to bear us. The six strongest representatives among them proposed to Zeus to divide the world outside of China equally, or else they will go against them instead. Zeus did not give them the opportunity to negotiate and suppressed them with the Thunder, so they were locked in a different dimension. That is, in the rift between parallel spaces, the turbulent space. It stands to reason that with their space laws and spiritual power, they should not be able to come out. So I did not expect them to reappear 20,000 years later.”

“If it’s like what you mentioned, they don’t seem to be very strong. Didn’t Zeus finish them alone?” Rose followed.

Christine smiled helplessly, “If it can be done, Zeus would have killed them directly in the beginning. Their body is too strong, even Zeus’s thunder could not destroy them. Finally, they were forced to enter the other dimension. Although we may not be afraid of them, we still have to put in a lot to fight them. Moreover, it’s still a mystery on how they managed to come out. Maybe they have some special ability, otherwise they would not have looked at us so blatantly.”

“Zeus is said to be the strongest among all of you, can’t he do it?” Cai Ning said in disbelief.

Christine and the Stern siblings looked at each other, as if there were things that couldn’t be spoken.

In the end, Alice said, “If we still have the original strength we had on Mars, they wouldn’t even stand a chance, but unfortunately.... We aren’t the same anymore.”

“What do you mean...”

“Hah, don’t ask too much now you two. Do contact Hades quickly and ask him to return as soon as possible,” Christine laughed.

The two noticed what these people knew, but they didn't want to speak. Although the two felt puzzled, they didn't ask further.

Germany, over the Bavaria region.

Yang Chen, who returned from Marseille in France without any outcome, was ready to go to the next area, Leipzig, Germany.

But when he passed through the city of Munich, he stopped.

Originally, he was comparing the targeted areas with Sauron, but at the moment, the signal which was originally clear got affected.

Sauron on the opposite side wondered as Yang Chen fell silent, "Your Majesty Pluto, did you find something?"

Yang Chen pondered for awhile and asked back, "Sauron, the telecommunication frequency band we are using is an independent design and has its own satellite, right?"

"Yes, Your Majesty. This is to prevent other organizations from eavesdropping, we even added a password protection function," Sauron said.

"Meaning, if the signal got blurry out of a sudden, is it possible that someone has interfered with the satellite signal from the inside?" Yang Chen asked.

Sauron understood his context out of it, "If this is really the case, it's definitely possible. After all, our signal has been strong and clear all along."

Yang Chen immediately turned back for a short distance and heard the vague signal again. Although it was very short, he still managed to notice it with his distinctive senses.

"Check it out for me right away, is there any place in this Bavarian area that's possible to build a base!" Yang Chen's heartbeat began to accelerate.

After Sauron took the order, it took him just a while to send the bitmap to Yang Chen.

"Your Majesty Pluto, this area is mainly an industrial park. Except for those abandoned coal mines, nothing seems to be suspicious."

"Coal mine..." Yang Chen pondered, "You mean...the coal mines during the East German era?"

"Correct, but even if the coal mines in that era were huge enough, it's often extremely deep and the temperature is high, which shouldn't be conducive to the construction of labs," Sauron said.

Yang Chen smiled in excitement, "You are wrong, Sauron, that's the key! Because of the high temperature, they may build a base there."

Sauron was taken aback and exclaimed, "Could it be...geothermal energy!?"

Chapter 1234 - Backup Plan

A laboratory, especially a high-energy weapon development laboratory, would inevitably arouse suspicion if it continuously transported energy from the outside, but if it was geothermal energy, it could be said to be inexhaustible, and silent!

Sauron was amazed by Yang Chen that he managed to think about this.

Yang Chen didn't bother to speculate with Sauron and landed onto a suburban wilderness in a flash.

Although the Bavarian area was a strong economic area in Germany or even the world with developed industries, there were still some desolate areas, especially mining areas that were exhausted.

As soon as he landed, he immediately dispersed his divine senses, carefully searching various levels on the upper and lower ground.

Within a moment, Yang Chen's mind was full of ecstasy!

Indeed there was an area with a structure that was obviously different from other underground coal mines in less than one kilometer ahead. If not mistaken, it should be the target he was looking for!

Standing in front of the huge radiation shield, Jane looked calmly at the inside of the protective glass, and the robotic arm accurately performed the final assembly of the experimental results.

The fully automated smart arm had previously produced two silver gray, half-human tall streamlined bullets.

Jerry, with a look of excitement, looked at the results greedily in his eyes and smirked almost madly.

"FURY... it's finally here. Teacher, you must be very excited too. This is a masterpiece that has subverted the entire human civilization! Even the gods cannot have such a surging and great power, right?"

Jane looked indifferent, "I've never thought about making it, it's just my imagination. If you still treat me as your teacher, listen to my advice, don't use it..."

"Haha!" Jerry laughed and pressed a button on the console.

The two completed FURY were immediately taken from the inside by the robotic arm and transferred to another channel.

"Don't worry, teacher, if the demon obediently submits, of course we don't need to use our nemesis, but before that, we must produce enough capital to destroy the world, and our funder is waiting. After completion, only then we will have the capital to negotiate terms with the world," Jerry grinned.

Jane sighed, "Although I don't know who you are working for, and what organization it is, the power of FURY cannot be controlled by humans. You all will regret it."

"Teacher, oh no, I should call you Miss Jane, I should be the one advising you to not be pretentious," Jerry said with a weird smile, "You are just the same kind of person like me in my eyes! We are both people who place massive efforts into scientific research, the final destination of our souls is our research! Exceeding the limits of mankind and exploring the root of the universe is the most essential survival meaning in our bones! If you are not looking forward to creating FURY and breaking the current limit of human nuclear weapons, why would you sketch out FURY's concept and keep it until now!? Didn't you study medicine and perform surgery for the sake of the most direct physiological experiments on the human body? Those ordinary stupid human beings are actually experiments in your eyes. They are all experimental figures like little white mice in the cage, there is no difference between them! Even if you don't use FURY to destroy the world! I suppose... In your heart, you are looking forward to the effect of FURY, right?"

Jane raised her head with blurry eyes, "I really didn't expect you to think of your mission and me this way. I studied medicine to help my beloved man get out of pain at first. I designed FURY, thinking that the principle would be to increase the utilization rate of nuclear energy, but I gave up because of the fear of it being used by the country to make weapons. You are right, I have integrated scientific research into my blood, but that is not all. There are many things in this world that deserve our anger, but you shouldn't be a slave to anger and hatred."

"Stop your nonsense! Jane, don't act too nobly. You may be my teacher in the research institution, but now you're just my prisoner! I am your master!"

Jerry suddenly grinned and took a few steps forward, approached Jane's body and hugged her waist!

Despite wearing the white coat and not resting for a few days, she still managed to move away quickly.

"Jerry! What are you doing!?"

"What am I doing?" Jerry smiled eerily, "I can finally relax after completing my task, how can I not enjoy a beauty like you. Isn't it a waste to give it to someone else?"

"You...I am your teacher!" Jane looked at the student in disbelief as if she didn't know him at all.

"Bullshit! I don't give a damn about you being my teacher! You are younger than me by three years, did you really think that I'd worship you as my teacher if it weren't for your skills? Forget it man, there's no teacher and student here, just a man and the girl who's about to become a woman!" Jerry continued approaching her with joy.

After all, Jane had learned a lot of defense and fighting skills. She stepped forward thinking to throw Jerry to the ground, but she stopped immediately in the next second!

Jerry suddenly took out a silver pocket pistol from his pocket, pointed at Jane's forehead and shrugged one of his shoulders "Sorry, I know you are very tough, so I prepared a gun. To tell you the truth, there are more than a dozen guards outside of the lab who are stronger than you, you can't escape."

Jane clenched her fists and bit her lips, her eyes were filled with anger and grievances.

"What are you still dreaming about, take off your clothes, I'm still in a hurry to claim from the organization," Jerry looked up and down greedily at her graceful figure, "I've waited for three years to be in ecstasy with you. I am finally getting what I wanted, you have to let me enjoy..."

"Shoot me if you dare," Jane's eyes were as cold as ice.

Jerry sneered, "If you wish to die, you can, but if you don't cooperate with me, then I may... plant a bomb at the Santa Maria Orphanage...Oh, yes, and I will also 'take care of' the schools that you have invested in."

"Despicable..."

"Hurry, take it off!" Jerry looked grimly.

Jane took a deep breath, a strand of determination flashed through her eyes. She took a cotton ball from her pocket all of a sudden then quickly put it in her mouth.

"What are you doing!?" Jerry cried out in shock.

Jane chuckled in disdain, "Don't you see it? I'd rather die than let a scumbag like you touch me. If you don't mind a cold and poisoned body, be my guest..."

That being said, Jane's face turned bad rapidly, her lips gradually turned pale, she then started panting and collapsed weakly to the floor.

Jerry's bloodshot eyes widened. He couldn't believe it, and muttered to himself, "Why is this... how did you get the poison..."

Suddenly, he recalled about her saying that she would perform some element detection manually yesterday.

At that time he still couldn't understand and was suspecting what kind of medicine she was producing. Now that he thought about it, she probably prepared the poison under his own supervision.

She had predicted his interest toward her body long ago, that's why she had backup plans!

The more he thought about it, the angrier he got. He got deceived! He rushed forward and kicked the woman's stomach who had fallen to the ground without mercy!

"Owh!"

Jane cried, she rolled a few rounds after being kicked. The pain made her curl up, her face covered with sweat causing her amber hair to stick on it and she looked bad in general.

Seeing the woman who was already dying like this, Jerry naturally lost the interest in touching her, but he still felt the regrets. He shouldn't be in a hurry, it would be much easier if he secretly drugged her first!

"Well, I didn't expect your temper to be so strong, I've misunderstood you," Jerry sneered. "I am not interested in your body. However, the beasts in the Black Forest will probably have a sense of interest toward your flesh. I'm afraid no one would have imagined that the wisest woman standing at the top of the pyramid in the world would die in front of my eyes and be thrown into a pile of beasts!"

He didn't bother to delay further and put the pistol back in his pocket. With a cold snort, he turned to leave the lab.

As soon as he was about to take a step, a loud bang sounded and the steel door was blown open from the outside!

Chapter 1235 - Destruction

Destruction

Jerry thought he was hallucinating, but this was a protective door made of alloy that could not even be broken by armor-piercing bullets, how could it get blasted off that easily?

Instead of blasting, the door was rather twisted off from the outside!

Electric sparks were overflowing and amidst the rippling smoke, the figure of a man walked into the lab, stepping on the steel door which had turned into scraps.

Like a demon walking into an abyss, behind the man, blood was flowing into a river, the heads, hands, body parts and gooey brain juice from all from the guards of the lab were scattered. They were forcibly torn off and divided by him!

Obviously, these people have become the cannon fodder to vent his anger!

Yang Chen, who found this base area, just vented his anger about Jane's arrest. But as soon as he saw the situation in the laboratory, especially the woman lying on the ground and curling up, his mind seemed to be ignited like gasoline!

"Jane!!!"

He screamed and slammed forward, carried the woman, shook her and patted her face.

"What happened to you? Are you poisoned!?"

He immediately used the 'Endless Resolve Restoration Scripture' and examined her body.

Jane gasped faintly and showed a smile of relief looking at the man before her vaguely.

"Don't be stupid! I'll heal you!!"

Yang Chen's eyes reddened. He couldn't find out immediately what poison Jane consumed, he could only detect the presence of it in her body which made her body function degenerate rapidly.

However, the toxin was too concentrated and had a high degree of fusion with the blood, Yang Chen could only use his Heaven and Earth energy to channel it out carefully.

This somehow made Yang Chen extremely desperate – her symptoms weren't relieved by even a bit!

"What kind of poison are you on, tell me how to deal with it!?" Yang Chen said loudly.

The blood stained her cherry lips, but the woman shook her head slightly, "It's the poison I prepared last minute. In order not to let them save me, I used some special techniques... It will slowly stop my body from functioning... It's too late..."

Yang Chen couldn't believe his ears, as if it was like a bolt from the blue! He trembled and kept shaking his head, "Impossible...Impossible..."

Suddenly remembering something, Yang Chen turned his head to Jerry who was shrinking at the console with fierce eyes.

"You beast, it's all because of you. If you heal your teacher immediately, I shall remain your body as one..."

Jerry felt the huge sense of oppression as if the might of heaven was coming at him, making his legs weak, especially seeing the piles of corpses in the tunnel, how disgusting!

But the hatred towards Yang Chen made him laugh madly, "You devil, although I don't know how you found this place, but I'm telling you! No way! The poison that Jane formulated can only be solved by herself! It's a pity that she is dying, and you can't save her!"

"You asked for it..." Yang Chen's patience had reached its limit.

Seeing that Yang Chen was about to attack himself, Jerry yelled, "Don't come over! If I die, this laboratory will detonate because the biological timer expires! At that time, the two FURY that have been built here will be completely detonated! Not to mention you, even the whole of Bavaria! The whole of Germany! They will become a purgatory on earth! Are you going to sacrifice hundreds of millions of lives to bury me?"

Yang Chen's anger was being forcibly suppressed and he turned to Jane, "FURY, the weapon he mentioned, is that the reason why they kidnapped you?"

Jane nodded weakly, "Yes...I gave it the name, it means 'Vengeance'..."

"What is it then?"

"It's...a kind of...advanced nuclear weapon...one bullet...equals to...five hundred bullets of hydrogen bombs explosions..."

"What..." Yang Chen was stunned.

Five hundred bullets of Hydrogen bombs? General hydrogen bombs could produce pure radiation of nearly a 1000 kilometers. Let alone Germany and the neighboring countries, if it wasn't detonated in a concentrated manner, the entire Europe will turn into a purgatory!

What kind of ambition did the North Bureo Clan and other terrorist organizations have to create such an inhumane monster!?

"Hehe, now you know how amazing it is right? I am delighted to be killed if you dare!" Jerry smiled triumphantly, "You devil, is it painful watching your beloved woman die in front of you? Haha! I waited for this moment for too long, you deserve it! You should go to hell!"

Yang Chen was at his wits end and was about to explode, but he really didn't dare to make a hasty decision with the lives of hundred millions of people in his hands.

“What’s wrong, you aren’t daring enough are you?” Jerry laughed wildly, “You came just right today. I shall avenge my father, my mother, and my sister who was just three years old!”

Jerry sneered, “Of course you don’t remember, you killed so many people, how are you supposed to remember all of them? You may have forgotten, five years ago in Simbokrog, Belarus, a village called Wozic.”

Wozic?” Yang Chen frowned. He really didn’t know that there was such a place. After all, there were some small places where he didn’t know the name at all.

“You really don’t know huh,” Jerry’s eyes were full of flames of revenge, “Our village had 186 lives, among which are 30 children, I was the only one who wasn’t at home because I was studying in another city and you led people to slaughter them all! Just because one of your enemies came to our village, you killed all of them and didn’t bother to spare anyone! Even if you wanted to kill, why didn’t you let a three years old child go? Is the three-year-old girl posing as your bastard mercenaries!? You couldn’t find them all, so you killed innocent people indiscriminately, and even set our village on fire, not even leaving the dead bodies behind...”

He finally remembered that period of time, but it was very vague. At that time, he was in the most uncontrollable stage of his own mind and it was also the stage of bloodthirst and he was almost turning into a demon.

He vaguely remembered that he indiscriminately slaughtered more than a hundred ordinary people and Seventeen slapped him hard.

He couldn’t help feeling a desolate loneliness when he heard Jerry say so bitterly.

No matter how much he tried to pursue a peaceful and stable life, no matter how he tried to live an ordinary life, perhaps in this world, people who hate him would do everything possible to find their own revenge.

Although he thought about it now, many of the killings in the past were not what he meant in his heart, but he had indeed been a complete executioner, butcher, and demon.

“Now, do you remember?” Jerry wiped away his tears and said gloomily, “You should also be punished. Originally, the organization promised to avenge me, so I took the hatred and endured it till now. But today, since you’ve found this place, I don’t plan to leave alive.”

Yang Chen pulled away from the scarlet memories. Hearing Jerry’s words, he couldn’t help but raise his voice, “What are you going to do! Did you think that by detonating FURY and killing me, you’ll be able to avenge your parents and the rest? Forget about your fantasies, you’ll just kill more ordinary people than me!”

“So what!? It’s all your fault! It was your evil deeds that made me embark on such a path!! Don’t try and fool me, even if I leave today, you will still find me and kill me! I might as well bring hundreds of millions of people to my burial! The lives of these people are all sacrificed because of you!!! Hahaha!!!...”

“Beep! Beep! —-”

The sound of the alarm came through and the female electronic voice began to announce mechanically, “Destruction mode has been turned on, the laboratory will be exploding after the countdown, thirty...twenty nine...”

Jerry opened his arms and smiled in relief.

Yang Chen was stunned. He can’t kill the person or else FURY would detonate, but now even the lab would explode, wouldn’t it be impossible to stop this devastating nuclear explosion!?

Looking at Jane who was dying in his arms, he clenched his teeth and dashed out carrying her!

Since he couldn’t stop the explosion of the lab and the detonation of FURY, the only thing he could do was to carry Jane and leave the place immediately!

Chapter 1236 - Collar

Collar

While the thought of Jane’s life was passing rapidly, Yang Chen’s heart was aching.

In a blink of an eye, he had already carried her from Bavaria to an uninhabited mountain area in the south of Austria.

At this distance, even with a nuclear weapon’s explosion on the German side, it wouldn’t affect them, at least not in the meantime.

In the dense cedar forest, he found an area covered with soft and withered leaves. He put her down and hugged her lightly, then carried out another examination.

It was meaningless to ask for help, he could only do his best to save her.

Jane’s breath was getting weaker and weaker, as if it would stop at any point now.

Yang Chen was disappointed once again after running the Heaven and Earth energy through Jane’s body.

Her bodily functions seemed to be decaying, but still maintaining a rate of degradation, heading towards death...

“Damn it, Jane, talk to me! How can I save you!!?” Yang Chen hugged her upper body. Her eyes were red and tears were filling it up from anxiety.

It was this woman who spent countless nights without rest just to develop a cure for him when he was in a state of loneliness, pain and helplessness... she was the one who brought him out of his nightmare.

He had never repaid her well but only asked for her help and commitments all along. Now, she was losing her life in his hands and he couldn’t do anything about it!?

He felt water running through his face but he didn't notice that he was in tears.

Tears somehow fell from his eyes and he couldn't control it.

A faint smile appeared at the corner of her mouth, "It's alright... You... Can't cry... I'm... So happy... That the last person... I see... Is you..."

He couldn't help but burst out in tears, like a helpless child, burying his face on the chest of the woman.

"How can you just leave like this... You are too cruel... I... I can't forgive myself anymore... You saved me so many times and did so many things for me... I can't even save you...I'm such a useless moron..."

Yang Chen suddenly raised his head, and in grief, he slammed himself into a cedar on the side!

"Bang! Bang! Bang! Bang!..."

The cedar shook from the impact, and a large piece of bark fell from a hollow in the tree and stuck to Yang Chen's forehead.

Jane's eyes were filled with tears and she opened her mouth weakly, 'No...don't do this...'

He grabbed her ice cold hand that felt like it was going to turn stiff at anytime.

"Alright, I won't...Jane, don't die...I...I can't imagine you leaving me..." He cried like a helpless child, looking at the women eagerly.

Her voice was getting weaker and softer, "I...I want to...ask you...a question..."

"Go ahead, I'll tell you anything and I'll do whatever you want!" He immediately shouted incoherently.

A glimmer of light flashed through her sapphire eyes, "Yang Chen...I just want to...know you...in the end...do you...love...me..."

"Yes, I do, I've always loved you very much...You are one of my favorite women..." Yang Chen blurted out without hesitation. These words would never have been said to this woman all his life.

A filthy, blood-stained prodigal son like himself was not eligible for the holiness of this girl in the past, let alone she was his benefactor.

And now, he had a destination, a family and he couldn't let such a woman who was standing on the altar commit herself for him.

Yang Chen would never doubt his love towards Jane. It was probably just puppy love when they were young, but as they grew up it naturally became a man's love for a woman.

This kind of love was not the ordinary but sincere love of a couple with Lin Ruoxi, but a kind of love between men and women that surpassed ordinary people's understanding, time, ethics, even lives and deaths.

Perhaps in this world, there were so many women that he liked or loved and they could give everything to be with him, and in return he could also overcome difficulties for them.

However, the true love in his memory may only be Seventeen; in reality it was only Lin Ruoxi; and the lover who seemed to be a dream was only Jane.

“Really?” Jane didn’t expect that so she asked again while trying to open her eyes.

He nodded as hard as he could, “Really, what I said is true, you have to believe me. I never dared to expect you, because I feel that I am not worthy of you. I lose a man’s courage only in front of you...I’m sorry...I’ve only said this until now...”

Jane’s eyes were filled with joy and relief, and a happy smile made that pale and beautiful face beam.

“Honey...I knew it, you loved me....”

Yang Chen was already sobbing and unable to speak, so he could only silently nod his head and tell the woman how much he loved her.

Jane smiled gently, then suddenly lowered her head and opened her mouth, wanting to bite something...

Yang Chen noticed it and looked at the direction she was going for in confusion.

“Collar...” She faintly uttered a word.

Although he was blur, he still pulled the collar of the white coat with his trembling hand so that she could touch it with her lips.

“Jane, what are you doing? You are biting the collar...for...”

She didn’t answer, but exhausted her last effort, closed her mouth and sucked on the collar.

Soon, the collar was wet with saliva.

It was at that moment he discovered that a faint blue colour appeared in the soaked part of the collar...

If it weren’t wet, the colour wouldn’t have been found.

Just when he was puzzled, something shocking happened!

“Phew...”

Jane let go and let out a suffocating breath, as if it was holding her up.

Immediately after, her complexion rapidly got better, as if her fever reduced quickly and her vitals were restored!

As if being beaten by a big clock, an incredible thought popped out of his mind.

He didn’t know if he was in ecstasy or dumbfounded. In short, Yang Chen was completely stunned!

Looking at Jane in his arms with his eyes widened, witnessing her who was about to die and now suddenly her azure sapphire eyes regained their spirits in less than half a minute.

Jane licked her cherry lips with her pink tongue with a shy look. After biting her lower lip, she pursed her mouth and smiled, “What’s the matter, dear, are you shocked? I am not resurrected, I am alive.”

“You...how did you...what...”

“How did I become normal again? Because I cured myself,” Jane smiled, exerting some strength, she sat up, and got out of Yang Chen’s embrace, then began to slowly comb out her messy hair.

Yang Chen glanced at the blue collar again, then looked at Jane’s joyful face as her conspiracy was successful, and cried out, “You lied to me!?”

“Who asked you to be easily fooled, how could you even fall for it so easily ...” Jane raised her head proudly, her swan-like neck was slender and white, “Who am I? I’m Jane, I’m that foolish Jerry’s teacher! Can I lose to a student who hasn’t graduated from me?” You underestimated me too...suicide? Huh, that will be for those stupid women out there, not me!”

Chapter 1237

Heat In The Forest

Yang Chen was left speechless. Looking at the woman in front of him being so energetic as if nothing had happened, he started to think that whatever he saw before was just a dream!

“It was all part of your plan?” Yang Chen asked foolishly.

Jane shrugged, “Yes, do you think you could find me by luck? When I was using their computer, I secretly set up a link to your Sea Eagles satellite. As a teacher, I know Jerry is not proficient in computer knowledge, so he didn’t realize at all. As long as your people pass through this area, the satellite will be jammed. Didn’t you realize that if you go over the base, the received signal will be blurred?”

Yang Chen nodded, he did find her because of that.

Although he expected someone would purposely play some tricks behind, because of the urgent situation he couldn’t think carefully. Indeed, it was all Jane’s plan to save herself!

“Then what about the poison, what’s that...” Yang Chen obviously noticed her vitals and bodily functions being restored!

Jane continued with a playful smile and said, “That’s true. I did secretly mix up a new type of poison, which is actually a kind of ‘pseudo-death drug’, which can stop the body’s functions for a period of time as if you are dead. If you don’t take the antidote, the body will freeze in an hour and fake your death, after 24 hours, you will slowly recover the body temperature and wake up. This is what I plan to protect myself. If they find me dead, they may find a place to bury me or do other treatments, so that I have a chance to escape. Of course, this is just my last resort as I cannot guarantee that they will not cremate me. But anyway, under the premise that no one saves me, I can only fake my death to avoid being harmed by them. Fortunately, you arrived in time, so I used the second plan...”

Jane pulled her collar lightly and winked, “I applied the antidote in secret earlier, as long as I suck it in within an hour, I’ll go back to normal immediately.”

Yang Chen didn’t know whether to laugh or cry, “Why would you even trick me, didn’t you notice that my heart was broken into pieces?”

Jane opened her arms and wrapped around Yang Chen's neck. Her fluffy mountains covered his face and she placed her cherry lips on his forehead.

"If I didn't take this chance, you'll never tell me those words, right.... My dear Yang Chen," Jane whispered softly.

"You...mhmm!"

Yang Chen wanted to comment about her mad actions, but before he got to open his mouth, Jane blocked it with her lips!

After a light kiss, Jane showed a begging face, her pitiful eyes were as if they could talk.

"Honey, don't be mad at me. I only wanted to be with you, if you don't tell me, I'll be sad forever," Jane pouted her lips.

Yang Chen sighed, after escaping for so many years, the day had eventually come, it was probably fate.

"You've designed everything since the start, waiting for me to jump into the trap and I actually cried like a baby, how embarrassing," Yang Chen smiled bitterly, but was still happy inside after seeing Jane healthy.

Jane stuck her tongue out playfully, "I was just going with the flow because Jerry threatened me with the lives of those children so I didn't have a choice."

After hearing this, he slapped his head, "Oh no! FURY! Germany is doomed!"

"Hah..."

Jane couldn't help but to laugh and pinched Yang Chen's nose, "I told you all of these were just my plot, how would I actually detonate FURY?"

"Huh? This...what's going on? That's fake too!?" Yang Chen was stunned.

Jane nodded as expected, "Can't you think about it? Will I gamble with hundreds of millions of lives for a group of children? No matter how emphatic I am, it wouldn't be up to that extent. FURY is actually just a concept that I designed, how is it possible to complete it within one or two days? The synthesis of artificial elements it requires are unstable, and it takes at least a year or a half to complete the experiment. What I showed Jerry was just an unstable man-made element. Once FURY is activated, the result is as though a supercar's fuel tank that cannot be ignited and it will just turn off."

Yang Chen finally came to his senses and smiled bitterly, "So, that Jerry must be extremely pissed when the lab exploded just now?"

"Maybe," Jane chuckled, "But let's put those aside... The Germans will settle the mess. I am so happy and fulfilled right now, I want you to kiss me!"

"Huh?"

“What do you mean huh? You say that you love me, you must compensate me since I’ve suffered for so many days,” That being said, Jane raised her head and pouted her lips.

After all, she was still in her best years, no matter how smart she was, the energy and passion still came out of her when it came to men and women affairs. However, even if the western ladies were open-minded, they would still blush at these moments.

Seeing her beautiful and delicate face and her cherry lips with a faint smell of blood, Yang Chen finally got relaxed and showed a wicked smile.

This woman made him cry miserably with her cleverness, he shouldn’t let it pass!

As soon as he put up his smile, Jane realized that she had become the little sheep beside the lion’s mouth.

Her small chin was pinched by a slightly rough hand, and the two perfectly curved lips were forced open by him. They were as bright as pink cherries that got picked in the morning dew.

Immediately, she was kissed gently by him....

This happened in an instant and the breath of the man’s desire channeled around her and made her freeze.

Western women were born to be good at kissing. Not long after Yang Chen kissed, Jane began to cater, her toes curled up happily, her height of 1.7 meters was enough for her to rub the man’s messy hair with her fingertips.

The breath from the beauty’s little nose brushed Yang Chen’s ears, and her big and sapphire eyes that were clearer than the plateau lake gazed at him with full attention.

He clearly felt that there was something called affection inside. A beast like himself seemed to have captured a pure girl who had fallen in love with him many years ago.

In the cedar forest, the two began to kiss deeply and passionately.

Jane tilted her head back playfully, and gently stroked her slender fingers from top to bottom along the edge of Yang Chen’s lips, staring at this bad guy who had kept her dreaming countless times, and then ignited more passion. Suddenly she drew him closer, sucked the man’s sexy hot lips into her mouth, and stuck out the tip of her tongue, sliding like a snake between his lips...

Wandering softly around his taste buds, a thin groan came out of his throat involuntarily and finally leaving a whistle...

The ten minutes of damp and hot fragrance fled.

It could’ve gone on longer, but Jane’s stomach was growling as she didn’t eat much these few days, only relying on nutrient solutions.

Yang Chen resisted the urge to play with this newly determined woman naked in the field, fixed his looks and took her to a nearby town on the edge of Bavaria to eat some simple food.

Before that, he should inform Solon and the rest that the search is over and Jane is safe.

Jane was still blushing and salivating, but it didn't matter anymore. In front of her lover, she clearly remembered what her unscrupulous mother Catherine once said, "Lady? That's just for the sake of other men to see."

The two arrived at a restaurant from a small town in the German countryside and ordered two steaks in a random restaurant. Many of the town residents felt weird when they saw Jane with her blood stained lab coat, but the population there was quite sparse so it didn't cause any scenes.

Yang Chen also knew that they wouldn't gain much attention which was why he brought her here. The folkways were simple and honest, which could make her relax.

While Jane was starving as she waited for the steak to be served, Yang Chen noticed a sign across the street and his eyes brightened.

"Honey, wait for me here, I'll shop across the street."

Yang Chen then got up in her puzzled gaze and walked out of the restaurant towards a shop across the street.

Chapter 1238 - Biased

Biased

The night had fallen in the city of Palermo, Sicily.

The colosseum above the sea was shining bright yet empty.

The first day of the competition had ended without much surprise, the strong mercenaries from the past terms all entered the next round and the actual fight should commence tomorrow.

At the huge open air balcony of the Cassano Hotel, a middle-aged man wearing white chef outfit and hat was slicing the salmon rapidly with the knife in his hand.

Each slice of salmon was being cut mechanically, and the degree of neatness was impressive, it just happened to be the thickness that could slowly melt in the mouth.

The two servants of the hotel continued serving the standard seafood platter to the long table not far away.

By the table, Christine raised the glass of champagne in her hand and toasted with Rose who was nearer to her.

The two smiled together and finished the glass after the clink sound.

Both their faces were slightly flushed, it was obvious that they drank a lot of alcohol before the dishes were served.

"Aphrodite, you don't seem to be worried at all, how's the drink?" Ares who was leaning on the chair lazily, showed some disdain.

"Why not? I am here for a holiday," Christine said in a carefree tone.

That being said, Christine turned around and spoke to the chef, "Poseidon, are you done? I want to eat."

The God of Sea whose occupation was a chef frowned as he looked up, "No one touches the food before I finish, or else none of you gets to eat."

Christine could only shrug and turn back.

Cai Ning, who had been staring at Poseidon cooking for quite some time, never expected the God of Sea to be a chef in Hawaii at the same time as a retired navy.

Seeing Poseidon cooking with such focus was indeed surprising.

"Ms Christine, why must we wait for him to finish cooking?" Cai Ning couldn't help but asked curiously.

"Let me answer you," Alice, who was slightly annoyed by the wait, said, "Poseidon is very serious when it comes to dining. As long as he wishes to prepare a meal, everyone must wait for him to finish his 'work' and serve them before eating, or else he will feel that it's imperfect."

"Basically, he's very stubborn when it comes to cooking, a perfectionist chef," Stern blinked his eyes.

Cai Ning and Rose were quite speechless, these guys had been living for more than ten thousand years and were like antiques, but they still looked like some playful kids with weird personalities.

But if they thought about it in another perspective, it wouldn't be difficult to understand. After all, the days were long, if the gods didn't find some activities to kill their spare time and develop their hobbies, the former Hades wouldn't be the only one who had no will to live.

After another couple of minutes, Poseidon finally finished the sashimi platter and placed it on the long table. The entire seafood feast looked colourful and attractive.

He even took out his mobile phone to snap a pic of the table with a proud face.

After being teased and ridiculed by the other gods, he then sat down and let them eat, at the same time asking the waiters to leave.

It was Christine who initiated the dinner earlier this afternoon. Although there were many grievances between the gods, and the competitions against each other had never ended. They were still from the same race, so it wasn't anything unusual for old friends to gather around for a meal.

The reason why Cai Ning and Rose were able to attend, one was Yang Chen and the other was the acknowledgement of their abilities from the gods.

After all, they were the ones who had fought with Chinese cultivators, they could still sense the 'irritating' aura on the two.

"Hermes, we are already on the island, can't you take your black suit off? Don't you think this it's unsuitable here?" Christine was a bit tipsy as she pointed at Raphael opposite her.

He gracefully took the white napkin and wiped his mouth, "Rest assured, the blood race doesn't have any body temperature."

"Who cares if you are feeling hot? Besides, you could just consume blood to survive, why eat with us?"

Raphael chuckled, "It's a recognition to Poseidon's culinary arts."

"I don't need that, it's already perfect," Poseidon praised himself in a relaxed tone.

Rose and Cai Ning looked at each other without saying a word, these guys were not just weird in terms of personality but shameless as well.

The food in front of Ares disappeared rapidly as he gobbled down everything and the long hair God of War walked outside of the balcony after finishing.

"Ares, where are you going?" Stern frowned and asked.

"Why is that even a question?" Ares turned back.

"It's not the time to look for them yet, do you think you can defeat them by yourself?"

Ares snorted, "I don't have the time to eat with you guys until midnight, neither am I interested in watching the human's mercenary conference. I am here to fight with them."

"Hey brother, do you want to go into reincarnation again?" Hermes teased.

"So what, never try never know," Ares said in disdain, "I am not interested in their conspiracies, I dare to go if you don't!"

Stern and Alice frowned at his madness, how ridiculous.

At that moment, the group noticed something and looked toward the sky at the north, and both Cai Ning and Rose looked happy.

In a blink of an eye, Yang Chen landed on the balcony board, and he held a large box wrapped in blue silk cloth in his hands.

The annoying Hades, you finally came back. We thought you ran away in fear!" Christine chuckled.

Yang Chen gave a 'tsk' and glanced at everyone present, "Everyone is here huh. Nothing happened when I wasn't here right? My apologies, I went to Wales that's why I came late."

Since Jane had to return to Wales to attend the New Year's celebration, he sent her back to the palace.

Although Jane was reluctant, she still missed her playful mother Catherine and told Yang Chen that she would come to him after the New Year event.

Yang Chen had to meet Catherine and have a talk with her, so he didn't rush back to Sicily until night.

"Not for the time being, but there might be something after this one sends himself to death," Stern sneered at Ares.

Yang Chen was confused but still walked to Rose and Cai Ning and handed the big box to Cai Ning.

"Here, Ning'Er, this is a gift I specially brought back to you," Yang Chen said cheerfully.

Cai Ning was a little dazed, after receiving the gift with blinking eyes, "Gift? Didn't you go to search for Princess Jane, how did you..."

"Jane is already safe, the gift is compensation from me not being to finish dinner with you, you can't blame me anymore after taking it," Yang Chen said.

"I never did," Cai Ning looked at the box with a smile, "What's in it?"

Yang Chen played mysterious, "You are not allowed to open it now, you may do so when we return to the room."

'Mhmm," Cai Ning said happily. She didn't expect Yang Chen to get herself a gift when he was busy trying to rescue someone else so she couldn't help but to lower her head shyly, hoping for the dinner to end soon.

"Honey, you are so biased, why did you only bring presents to Ning'Er!?" Rose squeezed Yang Chen's waist in a frantic manner.

Yang Chen grabbed her hand in embarrassment, "Next time, I'll get you one next time. The thing is there was only one left when I bought it."

"Really?"

"Of course, why would I lie to you my dear Rose?" Yang Chen quickly kissed the woman's cheek.

Rose didn't take it too seriously either and laughed after listening to what Yang Chen said. She was more curious about what Cai Ning was getting.

After giving the gift, Yang Chen asked what had happened. Christine briefly explained the identity of the giants and how Ares was going to find them.

He sighed after hearing the context, he should really study the history of the gods, he didn't expect the giants to actually exist.

Just like other gods, Yang Chen couldn't think of why these guys would participate in the Caesars Conference, and whether there was any conspiracy behind them.

Thinking of this, he directly said to Ares, "I advise you not to go. I've come across one of them, although I don't know their true strength, I still know that even you won't be able to defeat one of them."

Chapter 1239 - At Least There's One Man

At Least There's One Man

"Are you looking down on me?" Ares said unpleasantly, "Hades, don't think that I am much weaker than you because you defeated me last time. It was my carelessness as I didn't know the 'internal energy' you used was the Chinese cultivator's practice."

"Since you say that, then I won't further persuade you. It's fine if you want to die, but it won't be good for us to be judged later on," Yang Chen pretended to think and said, "Let's do it this way, you wanted to fight with someone right? Since all of us are here, you can fight with Raphael?"

Raphael, who was drinking wine, choked out immediately. He quickly wiped it with his napkin and revealed his fangs, "Damn it Hades, are you kidding me? Who wants to fight with this one!?"

Ares's eyes brightened in excitement. In fact, his hands were just itching, as for being able to defeat the person, that's none of his concerns!

Raphael looked confused, "Gray coat? What gray coat?"

"It's more unreasonable for you to have no flaws and pretending to not know anything, because those subordinates must have been sent by you," Yang Chen was particularly certain that the counterfeit gray coat last time was played by Hermes, "Although I don't know why you brought out a fake charm belt, but you didn't just provoke me alone."

"What!?" Christine got up angrily, "Hermes! The fake belt last time was your doing!?"

"Aphrodite, you just believe what he says? Why would I do such boring things?" Hermes spreaded his hands and said innocently.

Christine was even more furious, "Stop your nonsense! Hades is not a person who says such things casually, he must have his reasons! More importantly, Hermes, we knew each other for more than 30,000 years! You usually act calm when you lie! Do you think that we are fools!?"

"You..." Hermes gritted his teeth and looked at Poseidon and the others, "What about you guys? You all think it's my doing as well? Think about it carefully, what would my intention be!? What good will it do for me?!"

Stern and Alice kept quiet, but they held a 'stop pretending' expression on their faces.

Hermes was so angry that he slammed the table hard, "Fine, since you all know me so well, I admit it's my doing! I was bored and wanted to play around, what's wrong with that!?"

"Hehe, Hermes, I don't care about whatever nasty things or dirty tricks you are playing. If you are mad right now, how about going a few rounds with me?" Ares took the opportunity to say.

Hermes was also extremely bored and raised his voice, "Come on! I shall play with you lunatic!"

After he glared at Yang Chen fiercely, a pair of wings appeared beside his legs and his figure flew rapidly to the distant ocean.

Although Ares's speed was not as fast as his, he still followed immediately.

The two would definitely be fighting hard for a few rounds, if they don't find an open sea area, they would inevitably destroy a large area.

"Aphrodite, Hermes has used your belt, aren't you going to help Ares?" Alice joked.

However, Christine threw away her anger and returned back to normal, "No way. If I join forces with Ares, the probability of us winning or Hermes will just be 50%. If it wasn't for helping Hades in the act, I wouldn't bother to care about him using my name."

"Whatever it is, letting Hermes accompany that madman to extinguish his anger is better than fighting the giants now," Stern said.

Yang Chen had never faced the giants before and couldn't help but ask, "What are you guys planning to do? Just watch?"

"They obviously brought us here deliberately, otherwise they would have not gone to the hotel where you wanted to stay in advance. They didn't directly attack you, they were just waiting for us to get together. Obviously, they were going to make a big scene. At this time, if we act rashly, we may get caught in their trap. Instead of doing so, we should just wait and see what sort of trickery they have. After all, Athena hasn't come yet, so we can't completely assume our victory," Poseidon analyzed, shaking his glass.

"You're so confident in Athena huh," Yang Chen smiled helplessly.

"You've seen her abilities, shouldn't I be confident?" Poseidon grinned surprisingly.

Yang Chen's mind got struck and he recalled the memories of that night in Korea which made his scalp numb.

He didn't know where did the confidence of those giants come from to challenge the gods.

Later on, he briefly chatted with the rest and ate something. He then got up and planned to take the two women back to the room. Cai Ning was still waiting eagerly to see what the gift was.

But Rose suddenly remembered something and said, "Honey, I've promised Christine to shop around the night market on the island. You and Ning'Er can go back first, I'll come back later.

That being said, the woman winked her eyes.

Yang Chen couldn't help being touched, she really deserved to be a woman who had been with him for two years. Her mindset was as clear as crystal and knew how to create opportunities for her man.

Cai Ning also came to realize that Rose was giving the two a chance to spend time alone and felt grateful and shy at the same time.

Needless to think about it, what Yang Chen would do tonight after a few interruptions.

Yang Chen naturally didn't feel any nervousness. He grabbed Cai Ning's hand with a grin and returned to the VIP suite, her other hand held the big box tightly.

In the quiet corridor, stepping on the soft carpet, Cai Ning could even hear her own heartbeat and her head was numb and excited, yet nervous.

Pausing in front of the door, twisting the golden door knob, Yang Chen pushed Cai Ning to the door as soon as they got inside and pressed against her, kissing her passionately on the lips.

It wasn't the first time for Cai Ning to kiss, she gave in as much as possible after being ignited by the man's enthusiasm. However, it felt a bit stiff and strange, as if the theory and practicals didn't come close.

At least ten minutes later, they separated. The woman's cherry lips turned swollen after Yang Chen's bite, her pink lips resembled fresh cherries.

Panting, she stared at the man with watery eyes and asked, "Honey, can I look at the gift first..."

He couldn't help but look back at the woman, she was quite cute and silly.

"Yeah, of course."

Yang Chen let go of the woman's waist and let her go to the table. She tore the silk cloth and revealed a simple and elegant oak box.

Cai Ning took a deep breath and slowly lifted up the lid of the box...

After seeing the contents clearly, it took Cai Ning a long time before she recovered and looked at Yang Chen with some doubts.

"This is...clothes?"

"To be precise, it's a set of dresses I bought for you, a special one," Yang Chen smiled.

"Dress?"

"Yes," He stepped forward and picked up a colored garland worn on the head in the box, helped Cai Ning stroke her silky hair and put it on her head.

Cai Ning's facial features were originally delicate and feminine, after wearing the flower wreath, it enhanced her beauty and elegance, with a touch of European style.

"Put on the remaining ones, I'll help you," he took the light blue top and said.

She nodded. Although she felt shy, she still took off her outfit leaving on her bra and underwear, letting Yang Chen dress her with the outfit in the box.

When the man's hand touched her delicate skin, she couldn't help but shiver and started blushing.

However, he seemed to be exceptionally serious. With no evil thoughts in his eyes, he looked at the breathtaking fair lady in front of him, as if he was appreciating an artwork.

The skirt was extremely beautiful, the open collar, waistband, sleeves and cuffs of the top were all trimmed with white lace. The apron style skirt was simple yet solemn, and was embellished with embroidery.

As for the pair of white stockings, it sketched the beauty of a woman's slender legs and combined it perfectly with the skirt, adding a touch of temptation.

"This is the national costume of Bavaria, Germany. Their traditional women's clothing is rarely circulated now. Generally, this colorful skirt is only worn on special festivals. I found it in a small town in the German countryside, but it's a pity that this is a handmade dress, there is only one such, but...it seems that it is destined to be yours," Yang Chen explained.

She evaluated the outfit on her and could even smell a faint floral fragrance.

The skirt danced lightly as she gracefully turned around, as if a blooming Begonia.

"Do you like it?"

"Yes, I like it," Cai Ning made no attempt to hide her joy.

Yang Chen held the woman in his arms, and said softly in her ear, "You said that day, you have been envious of other girls since your childhood, as they could wear beautiful skirts... Ning'er, what I wish to tell you is that from now on, at least one man in this world will always buy you beautiful dresses. You no longer have to envy other women, and you no longer need to borrow your sister's. Don't worry about not having a dress to wear...because I will buy you so many dresses and dress you up beautifully..."

One by one, the words entered her ears, after being stunned for a moment, her eyes started to moist and warm up.

A sweet smile appeared at the corners of her mouth. Cai Ning felt that the skirt on her body seemed to be warm, melting with her skin, and she never wanted to separate with it...

Chapter 1240 - Fostering You

Fostering You

The colourful light shone on the various Mediterranean style patterns and decorations at the seaside night market in Palermo, just like a country in a fairytale.

The street performers were showing off various talents along the drums beats, singing their lungs out, dancing modern hip-hop, samba, and chacha, driving the bodies of many tourists to sway along the rhythm.

In the lively crowd, the vendors fluently used various accents to chat with tourists from all over the world. From time to time, there were conflicts caused by bargaining of prices, which even aroused the surrounding crowd.

In a shop specializing in women's products, Rose in a purple camisole and tight cropped stood in front of a large variety of colorful women's swimsuits, looking up, biting her red lips, looking one by one carefully.

Due to the regional culture here, most of the women's underwear sold here had ethnic and religious colors, but they were perfectly combined with the world's avant-garde fashion tastes. Rose regret coming so late as these clothes here really moved her.

"What is it? You want to buy swimsuits?"

Christine wearing a pair of nig sunglasses and a pink cap, came up from behind and asked with a smile.

After all, she was a world-wide influential superstar. In order to go out shopping, Christine not only deliberately put on makeup, but also spent a lot of time dressing in a different style before coming out.

"Yeah, these swimsuits are beautiful, but the colours seem to be too bright and not suitable for me," Rose felt regretful.

In terms of dress code, Rose tends to be conservative. It's not that she was afraid to wear it, but she used to be the leader of gangsters before. Wearing too revealing would only make her look like a little girl without authority.

However, even if those responsibilities had been removed now, she was still a young lady in her mid twenties and would still be interested in bold outfits.

“Let me guess, is it for Yang Chen to see?” Christine asked teasingly.

Rose turned away, “No way. I’ll be staying in the Mediterranean for a long time, of course I need more swimsuits.”

“Hey, are you shy now? In fact, you gave him time to be alone with Miss Cai, you still feel unpleasant inside right?” Christine blinked playfully.

Rose started blushing after being exposed and said unnaturally, “I didn’t think that much, I am just afraid that Ning’Er would be shy. Besides, it’s fun to shop around here, aren’t you the one who asked me out?”

Christine stared at her deeply for a moment and made her embarrassed, in the end she stomped her foot slightly.

“Fine, I guess I am a little jealous, but I am not reluctant toward it, it’s all voluntary. Why should a woman make another woman’s life hard? We still have a long way to go and Ning’Er isn’t someone who likes to play tricks, it’s good to have peace with her.”

“Honest women are usually more charismatic,” Christine used her finger and hooked her rosy chin, “Little beauty, this is an advice given to you by an old beauty who has lived for more than ten thousand years.”

Rose clenched her teeth, bulged her mouth and asked curiously, “Right, Christine, you gods use human bodies for reincarnation purposes, meaning these aren’t your actual appearances right?”

“Of course.”

“Then how did you all look like before? As in your original form, yours would definitely look beautiful right?” Rose asked curiously.

Christine smiled stiffly, “I suppose if you get to see my original form, it won’t be something good to be happy about.”

“Why?”

“Sleep with me tonight and I’ll tell you,” Christine suddenly licked her cherry lips charmingly.

Rose shuddered, took a step back and rolled her eyes, “No way, I don’t bother to know anyway.”

Christine chuckled as if she had encountered something fun and pulled Rose’s hand, “Come, jokes aside, I’ll pick a few ‘brutal ones’ that can definitely catch Yang Chen’s eyeballs firmly!”

That being said, Rose already got pulled to a piece of erotic underwear.

Seeing the clothes that Christine was referring to were made up of threads and muslin, as if it was for the sake of not weaning clothes, Rose felt ashamed.

However, when Christine picked up a black tulle, with exotic patterns outlined using silver threads and lace embellishing the bra, Rose already wanted to buy it with pure aesthetic sense.

“Well, isn’t it very tempting? Even a woman, seeing you wearing this one, can’t help but want to have a baby with you,” Christine said solemnly.

“Nonsense, how can two women have children?” Rose snorted.

“Hehehe... Beautiful Rose, you’re so amusing, don’t be so serious when we are joking,” Christine seemed to be immersed in the fun of teasing Rose.

Rose ignored her tease and grabbed another beige coloured underwear, she whispered, “Can this...really attract his eyes?”

Christine shook her finger, “NO, NO, not to attract his attention. Yang Chen that pervert won’t even let my maid go, he always likes to stare at beauties like you, but if you wear this, you can hollow out his heart and liver.”

Rose heard the key of the sentence!

“What? Your maid?”

“Oh...” Christine covered her mouth and blamed herself for her big-mouth and smiled embarrassingly, “It’s not a big deal, I let my maid help him do something with her mouth when he came to my house for a visit.”

Rose gasped and sighed, “Forget it, I knew that bad guy likes to cheat. I ain’t his main partner, who cares!”

Christine shrugged, this woman was bold.

As they talked, the two women began to compare and choose one by one. Christine was a big fan in the fashion circle, and naturally had a precious taste for all styles. Even if these clothes were not well-known brands, she could still describe them properly which made Rose tempted to buy all of it.

Just when Rose was excited to pick a few last items to pay for, a vigilance made her frown!

“Slap!”

Rose slammed her hand behind her and a hairy hand that was about to touch her buttocks was caught upright!

Christine frowned and looked over, but no one could see her true expression under her sunglasses.

Turning over, she saw that it was a middle-aged Asian man with a square face and a plump body. He was wearing a white blouse, huge straight flowery trousers with golden frame spectacles.

“Hehe, miss, your amazing back figure makes it hard to restrain myself. Please forgive me, you are too beautiful and I noticed you among the crowd at my first sight.”

“Japanese?”

“Let go of our lord!”

The two tall Japanese men who looked like bodyguards came forward and motioned Rose to let go of her hand.

She snorted and swung his fat hand away, then spoke directly in English irritably, "Go away!"

The middle-aged Japanese man scolded the two bodyguards reproachfully and turned back embarrassingly. He stared up and down at Rose's chest and slender legs, "Miss, I know that many of you like to pretend to be good girls to raise the price, but you can't fool me. By looking at the underwear you are choosing, it's obvious what kind of woman you are. I know your market well, go ahead, as long as the price is reasonable, I am willing to pay for one week to have you!"

Rose and Christine looked coldly at the man at the same time, she was so mad that she could crush her teeth. This guy actually treated her as a prostitute!

Christine couldn't help but laugh, "Rose, ask him if he's willing to pay a billion for a day?"

"How are you still laughing? I want to kill him now!" Rose clenched her teeth.

The Japanese man only noticed Christine at that point. Although she was wearing big sunglasses, he knew from the figure and temperament that she was not some ordinary person.

The man's eyes suddenly glowed, and he drooled and asked, "You two are together? Great, how about I take you all?! I can pay one hundred thousand euros a day!"

Involving herself, her beautiful eyes behind those shades turned icy cold, "One hundred thousand? How about I pay you one hundred thousand for a kick? Fat pig from Japan."

"Idiots! How dare you cheap prostitutes scold me!? Owh!"

Without waiting for the Japanese man to finish shouting in rage, Christine kicked him to the ground with one foot and he cried out loud!

"Not only do I want to scold you, I want to kick you too!"

The Japanese man who was kicked had his internal organs tumbling, and it was thanks to Christine that she didn't want to cause a scene, so she kept him alive.

Seeing that their master was beaten, the two Japanese bodyguards suddenly became furious. After one lifted the short and fat man up, the other rushed forward to capture Christine!

Although the gods didn't unseal themselves and they only possessed human bodies without the Space laws, but under the strengthened action of powerful mental power, their bodies had precisely controlled their growth to the limit. It was not an exaggeration to say that they were super humans, their acuity was still much better than ordinary humans.

Indeed Japanese men had received professional special forces training, but before even reaching in front of Christine, he was thrown to the ground by her lightning fast leg hitting on his shoulder!
