

“Er...” The young lady hesitated after she heard what Ye Fan said. She too, felt that Ye Fan had asked for too much for her to decide on.

“Looks like you can't make the call on this matter after all. In that case, I can't do anything then,” said Ye Fan as he shook his head and smiled before getting up and turning to leave.

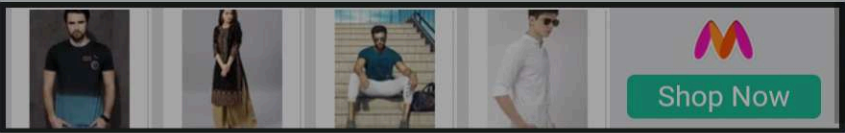

“Fine! I'll agree to it!” The young lady panicked when she saw that Ye Fan was turning to leave and cast all her worries aside.

To her, things like money and assets were just material wealth. What was half her family's assets worth compared to Grandpa Nuo's life?

The smile on Ye Fan's handsome face widened when he heard this.

He looked at the young lady and continued teasing her, “So...if I go to your family in the future and your father and brother refuses to give it to me, what should I do?”

“That won't happen. My brother and father dote on me the most! If I tell them to give it to you, they won't refuse," said the young lady confidently.

Ye Fan continued to shake his head. "We just happened to meet in this restaurant today, so I can't possibly take your word for it so easily. Tell you what, why don't you sign a note for me? State that if your father and brother refuse to give me half of your family's assets, then you'd have to become my mistress instead. How's that?" said Ye Fan with a faint smile as he spoke in a teasing voice.

Ye Fan was really just kidding with this girl.

He could tell that she was a kindhearted girl, and just her earlier gesture of treating him to food was enough to make Ye Fan want to help her already.

He was saying all this just to pass time since he had nothing else to do.

"I..." Her face blushed when she heard that Ye Fan wanted her to become his mistress. She looked down and wrung her little hands as she deliberated on her options.

Chapter 1248 I'll Agree to All of It

“Tsk, tsk, this poor old man. In order to save his Young Mistress, he was even willing to sacrifice his life. But his Young Mistress isn’t willing to make this small sacrifice in return for his life. How sad! How tragic! His sacrifice wasn’t worth it!”

There was no way a young and sheltered girl could possibly outdo Ye Fan’s wit.

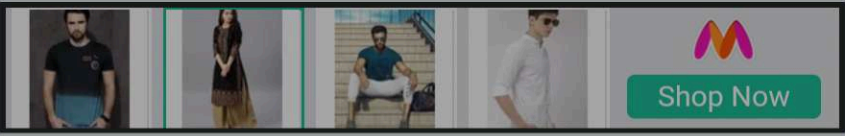

As expected, once Ye Fan said these provoking words, the young lady steeled herself and grit her teeth. “Alright then, I’ll agree to all of it. If my father and brother refuse to honor the promise I’ve made to you today, I shall become your wife.”

She got pen and paper from the restaurant staff, wrote all of this down and signed her name on it before handing it to Ye Fan.

“Angie Jones? You’re adorable and your name sounds nice too,” said Ye Fan with a pleased smile as he looked at the note in his hand.

“So can you help me to save Grandpa Nuo now?” pleaded Angie again.

“Of course.” Ye Fan walked over to press on parts of the old man's wounds to stop the bleeding, then used a special technique to set his broken bones correctly. Finally, he used Invoke the Celestial Cloud to gather energy and sent it into the old man's body.

After Ye Fan injected energy into the old man, his skin regained a healthier color, like a dried up tree welcoming spring.

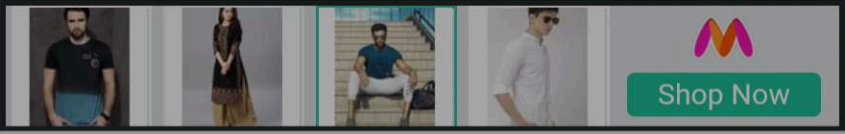

His shut eyes slowly opened again.

"He's awake! Grandpa Nuo has woken up!!" Angie was so excited that she ran over and laughed through her tears as she flung her arms around the old man's neck.

"Don't be too happy yet. I've stabilized his condition for the time being, but once he uses up all the energy I've given him, his life will be in danger again. The most important thing to do right now is to send him to hospital for treatment. That way, he'd be able to keep his life," Ye Fan's words rained down on the girl like a tub of cold water.

Her relieved expression instantly tensed up again.

"Could you help me to send Grandpa Nuo to the hospital? I don't know how to send him there all by myself," said Angie as she pleaded with Ye Fan again with tears flowing down her cheeks.

She had lived under the shelter and protection of her family all her life and never had to lift a finger to do anything.

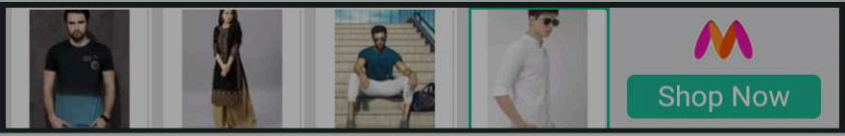

Asking her to send an old man to the hospital all by herself in a city she had never been to before was definitely a job too hard for her to undertake.

A rich young lady like her really had no experience in doing anything like this.

"Fine, I'll be a good guy today then." Ye Fan nodded and took both Angie and the old man to the nearest hospital.

The doctors at the hospital were horrified by the old man's injuries. They couldn't believe he had actually survived such severe injuries.

But of course, the mundane world could never possibly understand the world of martial arts.

Chapter 1248 I'll Agree to All of It

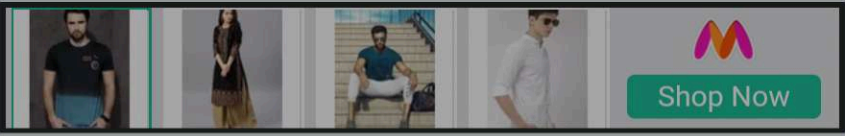

“Young lady, why are you still following me around? Shouldn't you stay by the old man's side in the hospital?” Ye Fan walked out after settling the two of them in at the hospital, only to find that the girl had followed him out.

Angie was a little embarrassed that Ye Fan had noticed her, but she stubbornly replied, “I know we're not related in any way and I don't have any reason to follow you. But I can help you. I know all of you are here for the spirit energy fruit. But the rainforest is huge and it's hard to find the trees without anybody to lead you there. But I know where they are and I can lead you there. I just need you to give me one or two of them when you get the fruits. Is that ok with you?”

Ye Fan was surprised that this young lady knew so much. She even knew the existence of spirit energy fruits.

“But young lady, I don't think you practice martial arts, right? Why do you want this fruit for?” asked Ye Fan curiously.

It was indeed strange that a completely inexperienced young girl from a rich and powerful family would come to such a dangerous place to fight for spirit energy fruits when she barely had any survival skills herself.

But when Ye Fan asked this, Angie's little face puffed up as she pouted.

"Humph! It's because I'm going to prove to my father and brother that I'm also very formidable! I can do everything that they can, and I'll do them better than they can! I'm all grown up but they still treat me like a child! They refuse to let me be part of anything and keep saying that I'd only get in the way! I'm going to prove myself to them this time!" huffed Angie angrily as she waved her tiny little fists about.

Ye Fan figured it out immediately. She was just a rebellious teenager trying to prove her worth to her own family.

In normal circumstances, Ye Fan would have just laughed and ignored her. But now, Ye Fan was interested in what she had to offer.

She was right after all. The Amazon rainforest was huge, and Ye Fan didn't know much about the spirit energy fruits too. If this little girl could lead the way, it would save him a lot of trouble.

“Alright then. Since you’re so insistent, I’ll bring you along. But once we’re in there, you are not to be disobedient, and don’t simply go around doing things on your own. If you end up dying somewhere deep inside the rainforest, don’t blame me for it.” Ye Fan eventually agreed to taking Angie into the forest with him.

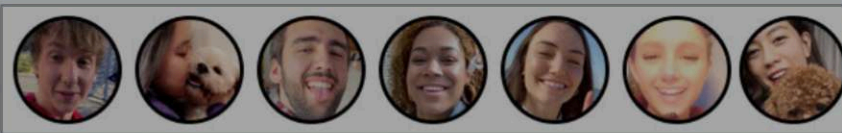

“Thank you! Don’t worry, once we enter the rainforest, I’ll listen to everything you say and I won’t make any trouble for you,” said the young lady excitedly. Her tinkling laughter sounded beautiful in the dark night.

“Let’s look for a place to stay first, shall we? We’ll head for the rainforest first thing tomorrow morning,” said Ye Fan as he took Angie with him to look for a hotel.

He couldn’t be bothered to look for Kong Ming and the rest.

The only worth they had in the first place was probably helping him to find the spirit energy fruit trees.

But with Angie around, the only worth they had was no longer of any value, so Ye Fan didn’t see the need to move around with those three.

“You mean you didn’t book a hotel beforehand? If you didn’t, then you can stay with me.”

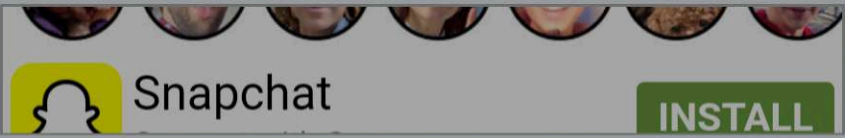

Angie had booked a hotel way before coming to this city, so she led Ye Fan to where she was staying since he didn’t seem to have a place to stay.

But after arriving at the hotel, Angie didn’t intend to rest for the day. After letting Ye Fan put his things down, she dragged him out with her to do some shopping.

She had done a lot of homework before coming to this place.

The forest was huge and it was hard to say when she would be able to come out of it. The forest was also filled with insects, and food and water was sometimes hard to come by as well.

She ended up purchasing two gigantic backpacks, as well as enough food and medication to fill up both backpacks to its maximum, before finally returning to the hotel with Ye Fan.

“Why did you buy so much? We’re not going to the desert. There are many plants in the rainforest, so we can always eat fruits if we’re hungry and drink from the river if we’re thirsty. You won’t go hungry in there,” said Ye Fan helplessly as he shook his head.

“That’s hard to say. What if the fruits are poisonous? And you might not get clean drinkable water either. Besides, this trip is filled with great dangers, so it’s nice to reward yourself with good food and drink other than taking a rest from time to time. Life is short, so we all ought to treat ourselves a little better,” said Angie very seriously to Ye Fan as she checked through all the items she wanted to bring along the next day.

Ye Fan smiled even more brightly after hearing this. “You really know how to enjoy life, eh? Alright then, if you want to bring all these along, go ahead. I’m not the one spending any money but I get to eat and drink this stuff, so I don’t have any objections.”

But immediately after Ye Fan said this, Angie turned to glare at Ye Fan. “Faaaan, there’s no free lunch in the world, you know? If you want a share of all this, then you've got to carry this huge bag!"

After spending half the day with him, the two of them had become familiar with one another, and Angie started calling him 'Fan' as well after he told her his name.

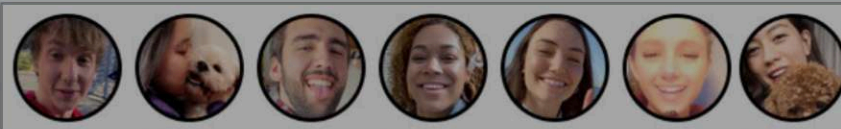

"What on earth?! So this was a trap all along?!" Ye Fan stared at the black backpack that was almost as tall as himself.

The night passed quickly.

Once the first sunrays hit the land, a new day arrived.

At the same time, teams of martial artists hailing from many different countries who had rested the night before started to make their way towards the nearby Amazon rainforest.

"Where's Ye Fan? Why isn't he here yet?" Kong Ming only realized that one of his team of four was missing after they had finished getting ready and were good to go. After looking around the hotel, they couldn't find any trace of Ye Fan at all.

“Oh wait, did Ye Fan come back to the hotel with us yesterday?” asked Kong Ming when he suddenly remembered what happened the day before.

Lu Yan-Xi shook her head. “I don’t remember. I assume he did.”

Ye Fan was so unimportant to the three of them that none of them remembered if Ye Fan had returned to the hotel with them or not.

But then again, since they saw him as an immature and useless youth, they weren’t going to be bothered about him at all.

They didn’t think he was of any help on this trip, so they didn’t care if he stuck to the team or not.

“I think the events that unfolded yesterday must have frightened him off. He’s just a punk who’s never seen the world before, and he’s probably never even seen a fight before. The fight yesterday was so bloody, I think he must have been scared to death. Perhaps he’s already at the airport waiting with a return ticket back home.”

“Elder Kong, he’s just a useless fellow, we don’t have to bother ourselves with him. Without him around, we’ll have one burden less too,” said Lv Hua with a snort. His words had nothing but disdain for Ye Fan.

Lu Yan-Xi nodded and chimed in, “Hua makes sense. The fight yesterday might really have frightened him off, so he’s left without even saying goodbye.

After hearing their analysis, Kong Ming agreed with their logic. He shook his head and said, “He’s still too young after all and hasn’t seen such things before. He’s so frightened by just one simple fight. It’s going to be hard for him to ever succeed in the future with such a timid spirit. Forget it, let’s not think about him anymore. Let’s go.”

Kong Ming didn’t want to waste any more time on an unimportant youth, so once they couldn’t find him the first time round, he gave up searching and took Lv Hua and Lu Yan-Xi towards the rainforest.

On the other side of the rainforest, a man and a woman were carrying gigantic backpacks and also headed for the rainforest.

Chapter 1249 Blue Beams of Golden Flowers

This couple was Ye Fan and Angie.

“Fan, I really can’t walk any further. I’m too tired and I need to rest.” Angie was a young and weak girl, plus she was carrying so much. It wasn’t surprising that she was covered in sweat in no time.

Ye Fan sighed helplessly. “I told you that you’re carrying too much. Of course you wouldn’t be able to walk far like this. Pass me your bag,” said Ye Fan.

He was a martial artist and this sort of weight was nothing to him.

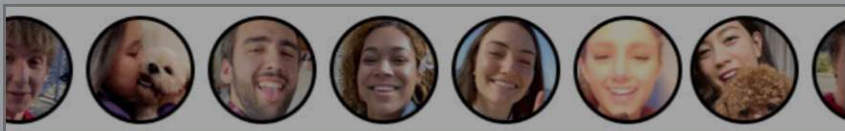

But Angie refused his offer. “No need. I’ve got an idea.”

Angie pulled out a piece of meat from her bag and flung it onto the ground.

In no time, a black bear that seemed to have smelled it from afar, came close to them.

“Angie, watch out!” Ye Fan was immediately alarmed and was ready to kill this black bear.

“Fan, don’t worry. Just watch.” Angie smiled sweetly and walked towards the black bear without any fear at all.

Ye Fan watched as Angie's beautiful eyes suddenly glowed with a blue light, and the image of a gold colored flower rotated within the blue beam.

When the black bear met these eyes of hers, it shuddered and its violent tendencies disappeared completely. Instead, it became very obedient and gentle.

It quietly rested at Angie's feet as if she was its goddess.

"Could this be...could this be the Blue Beam of Golden Flowers Eyes?" Ye Fan was shocked and his pupils constricted suddenly.
