

Chapter 1251: Young Miss

Ah Zhu's words finally stopped Gu Changshu in his tracks. The man saw how Gu Changshu laid back on the bed as he held his wife's hand tightly. No matter how he looked at it, those two people did not look like a fake couple; that old woman was talking nonsense. Just because the couple did not do anything the previous night, she announced that they were fake.

Did she think that Gu Junhui, a delicate girl, would not be tired after sitting on the train for a few days? Ah Zhu felt that Gu Changshu must have felt sorry for Gu Junhui, who had been tired for a few days.

"Brother, why are you in the factory so early in the morning?"

Ah Zhu knew that Gu Changshu went to the factory to earn money, but he pretended not to know. "Brother Ding has shares in that factory. I heard that someone was causing trouble there, so I went to take a look. I didn't expect to see a girl saying that you were being beaten up when I came in. I was shocked to hear that."

Then, Lu Xingzhi said, "To earn money..."

Jiang Yao explained in more detail. "Brother Changshu said that he couldn't sit around all day, so he wanted to take up some part-time jobs to earn as much as he could."

At that point, Jiang Yao continued to cry. "It's all because I'm useless. I don't know how to do anything, and I don't know how to earn money. That made Brother Changshu work so much harder."

"Hey, sister, don't start crying again!"

Ah Zhu was finally afraid of Gu Changshu's wife. He could not stop her from crying. "Don't worry about money. Brother Ding will be back in a few days. I say a few words on your behalf. You guys can stay here for the next few days and wait for the news. Changshu, you should take advantage of those few days to take good care of your body. Try to leave a good impression on Brother Ding when you see him."

Ah Zhu comforted Gu Changshu and Gu Junhui for more than an hour. Sometime later, he decided to leave the couple by themselves. After all, he still had many things to do, so he could not waste his time on the couple.

"Brother Zhu, I want to see you."

Ah Zhu got the summon as soon as he left the hospital. He was shocked when he heard that. "Has Young Miss returned?"

"She came back last night, but she did not show up. Just now, I happened to be in the factory. She probably wanted to ask you about the factory. Oh, right! The foreman that you beat up is one of her people." That person reminded Ah Zhu kindly.

Ah Zhu was astounded when he heard that. It meant that the young miss did not know anything about their plan when he beat up the foreman.

He had even told Gu Changshu and his wife that the foreman would go to the hospital to apologize to them. It seemed that would not happen. He could only do that himself.

After all, if Ah Zhu were to do it, it would not be much of a joke.

The young miss that they spoke of was Sister Wen's daughter, Wen Yunfang. She was only 21 years old. However, Brother Ding valued Sister Wen and that young lady, so very few people in Shu City dared to disrespect them. Even Ah Zhu, who was always with Brother Ding, had to respect them.

"Young Miss."

Ah Zhu walked to the front of a car and greeted her respectfully.

The driver seat's window fell, revealing a young woman's beautiful face. Her lipstick was like the reflection of the mountains in April. Her eyes were half-closed as she gestured at Ah Zhu to get in the car. Then, she raised the window again.

Ah Zhu did not dare to delay and immediately went to the front passenger seat. Then, he asked, "Young Miss, you are busy every day, and I don't usually get to see you. How may I help you today?"

Chapter 1252: How Cool!

"It is as I expected of Godfather's right-hand man. Even your words are endearing." The woman patted Ah Zhu's cheek gently. It did not hurt him, but her movements were slightly frivolous. Of course, she narrowed her eyes as she said, "You were quite imposing when you beat someone up today."

Wen Yunfang giggled softly as she noticed the change in Ah Zhu's expression. "Are you afraid? Don't worry; I'm not here to punish you. He is simply a tiny shrimp. It will not affect our friendship. I am here to ask about the man you sent to the hospital.

The woman asked, "He looks like a foreigner. He's a new face. Why haven't I seen him before? Does he know you? Is he your friend? What's his relationship with that woman who only knows how to cry?"

"Young Miss, you're asking about Gu Changshu?"

Ah Zhu instantly understood her meaning. "Gu Changshu and Gu Junhui just arrived in Shu City yesterday. They can be considered acquaintances of mine. They're friends of my friend. Brother Ding wants to hire new people, so he will observe Gu Changshu for a few days before deciding to let him join us."

"They have the same surnames. Are they siblings?" The woman's red lips curled upward, and there was a hint of joy in her tone.

"No, they're husband and wife."

Ah Zhu shook his head. "They grew up together as neighbors. They're from the same town. I heard that they have the same surname—Gu."

The woman's expression immediately changed when she heard that they were husband and wife. She snorted coldly. "That Gu Changshu is very protective of his wife, huh? His wife is beautiful, but she only knows how to cry. Does he like her that much?"

Ah Zhu said, "Young Miss, Gu Junhui is akin to Gu Changshu's life! Gu Changshu has been in prison for more than nine years. He was just released a few months ago. His mother has left him. For more than nine years in prison, Gu Junhui was the only one who had stayed with him. She goes to prison every week to visit him. She saves money to buy food, clothes, and necessities for him. One can say that Gu Changshu has spent the rest of his life living for Gu Junhui. He treats Gu Junhui as something more important than his life."

Ah Zhu was a little envious when he mentioned that. If his woman were to treat him so well and not give up on him while he was in prison, he would also protect that woman as if his life depended on it.

"Nine years in prison? Has he been in prison before? No wonder when he looked at everyone with hostility just now. He had also refused to admit defeat. That kind of man is rare these days. He has courage, backbone, and even knows how to dote on women."

The woman praised Gu Changshu and asked, "Do you know why he was sent to prison?"

"He killed someone."

Of course, Ah Zhu knew about that. "He killed his stepfather when he was 19 years old."

"Oh, how cool. Murder..." Then, the woman sighed and waved at Ah Zhu. "Okay, you can go now. Help me take care of the man."

Ah Zhu's feet had just touched the ground when the car sped off; it was as if he was an inconvenience. If the person next to him did not pull him away, the vehicle would have been dragged by the speeding car.

Ah Zhu's legs were inconvenient. If it weren't for the person beside him pulling him, he would have been dragged into the car by now.

"What did she say to you, Brother Ah Zhu?" The person beside him asked jokingly.

Ah Zhu glanced at the hospital. He thought about the young miss' words before she let him off the car. He had a hunch that someone might have taken a fancy to Gu Changshu.

Ah Zhu was a little annoyed; he did not know whether that was a good or a bad thing.

Chapter 1253: I Will

Of course, the young miss had developed feelings for Gu Changshu. If Gu Changshu were the type of person who could adjust to any scenario, it would be a good thing for her.

However, the trouble was that Gu Changshu was not the type of guy who could adapt to a new circumstance. Gu Changshu loved Gu Junhui, he could tell. He would go all out to kill for her with just a few words. Gu Changshu truly considered Gu Junhui as his life.

No, she was more important than his life.

He was a gentleman. He had not known home for a long while; no one cared about him. Therefore, he knew that once he met her, he would want to hold on to her forever.

Lu Xingzhi and Jiang Yao in the hospital were unaware of Ah Zhu's current concerns... They had no idea Sister Wen's daughter had returned to Shu City. Jiang Yao's attention was only on Lu Xingzhi. Her heart ached as soon as she turned her head and saw Lu Xingzhi's bruised and swollen face.

"Later, while the others are asleep, I'll apply some medicine to you. What a pretty face! Those folks must have noticed how attractive you are, so they focused on your face." Even though her heart was breaking, Jiang Yao still mocked Lu Xingzhi. "I'm terrified that your recovery will be slow. I'm getting tired of looking at your face."

Lu Xingzhi looked around the room before he stretched forward to seize Jiang Yao's hand. He whispered hoarsely, "I will merely be ugly for a few days. The doctor did not say anything about scars. I will still look perfect after the scars have healed. Just be patient for a few days. Wait for me to recover. Your husband is still very handsome."

Lu Xingzhi's attitude indicated that he was concerned that she might leave him because he was unattractive. Jiang Yao snorted as he looked at Lu Xingzhi. "Just pray that you do not get disfigured. Otherwise, I am not going to want you!"

Lu Xingzhi's heart plummeted. "You won't."

"I will," Jiang Yao responded firmly. "Didn't I tell you I admire your face?"

Lu Xingzhi paused for a time before shaking his head. However, he came to a pause a few seconds later. After careful consideration, his wife seems to have stated that his beauty was suitable for usage.

Lu Xingzhi's heart tightened even as he considered it.

Then, he whispered, "Brother Ding should come to meet us tomorrow."

"You were not beaten up for nothing."

If Jiang Yao had known that Lu Xingzhi had gone to the factory for their task, she would undoubtedly stop him. There were numerous ways to persuade Brother Ding to appear sooner. That was a terrible trick.

Lu Xingzhi was placed in a ward with only three beds because Ah Zhu had arranged that with his connections. The room was calmer and cleaner than the others.

Jiang Yao waited for the other patients to fall asleep before lifting the bed curtain and administering medicine to Lu Xingzhi. Lu Xingzhi did not ask after seeing Jiang Yao grab some ointment from her suitcase. He simply assumed that Jiang Yao's routine as a doctor was to keep some generally used medicine in her bag. He felt much better after that.

That night, Jiang Yao and Lu Xingzhi slept in the same bed. They finally have proof that Lu Xingzhi's effort was not in vain. The following morning, Ah Zhu and the foreman arrived at the hospital. Brother Ding was also with them.

However, Ah Zhu did not tell them Brother Ding's identity, and the man did not greet them either. He stood behind Ah Zhu as if he were a subordinate.

Chapter 1254: Gouge Your Eyes Out

Lu Xingzhi and Jiang Yao pretended not to know about Brother Ding. However, when Jiang Yao poured some water for Ah Zhu, she also enthusiastically poured a cup for Brother Ding. However, she snorted at the foreman and did not even give him a sip of water.

“Young man, I’m sorry. I was wrong yesterday. I’ll apologize to you and compensate you. I’ll even pay for your hospitalization. Here are a hundred bucks; I hope you won’t mind the amount.” The foreman knew there was a sword hanging above his head. It was even scarier than the weapon in Ah Zhu’s hand yesterday. After all, Brother Ding was watching from the side. If he said anything wrong, he would be the one to die.

Lu Xingzhi took the money without much hesitation. Then, he said, “If you look at my wife again, I’ll dig your eyes out!”

The foreman was so scared that his neck shrank, and he quickly looked down at the ground. He could not control his eyes. He liked looking at beautiful girls. He could not control himself and forgot that he was there to apologize. Ah Zhu and Brother Ding stood next to him.

“Enough, get lost.”

Then, Ah Zhu said, “Changshu, that’s right. Don’t have anything against money. You’ve suffered and been beaten. If you don’t take the money, then you’re stupid. You can’t go against money.”

Ah Zhu was afraid that Gu Changshu’s stubborn temper would look down on the 100 bucks that the foreman had paid.

Gu Changshu smiled helplessly. “If I had money, I wouldn’t even look at that 100 bucks. I don’t have money now, but I still have a wife. And since I don’t have money, I can’t refuse the money.”

Then, Brother Ding interrupted him. “You are right. You can’t be too rigid. You have to look at the situation. When you don’t have money, you have to be flexible. When you have money, you can’t be short-sighted and only focus on that money. If you have money, you should kill that foreman today.”

Lu Xingzhi looked at Ah Zhu as if he had just noticed that the man had brought an extra person. He asked, “Is this your friend? What he said made a lot of sense and touched my heart. If it weren’t for the fact that I have no money, I would have killed him for how he treated my wife yesterday. I don’t have anything in my life. Only my wife is more important than my own life.”

At that point, Lu Xingzhi looked humiliated. “He could insult me, but he just—”

“It’s okay. Work well with us from now onward.” Brother Ding looked satisfied. He liked people with integrity and perhaps even ruthless, but he was afraid that such a person would be difficult to control. Therefore, a person who had killed another person and been in prison was simply the best choice for him. Gu Changshu, who had a weakness, was simply the best choice for him.

Such a person would not be sloppy when they do things; they would not have second thoughts. That was because Gu Changshu’s wife was a weak and gentle girl. She was also a simple and gullible girl. As long as he controlled Gu Changshu’s weakness, it was the same as having control over Gu Changshu. He was not afraid that Gu Changshu would not want to work hard for him.

“Oh, look at me. I have been concentrating on your wounds that I forgot to tell you.” When Ah Zhu saw Brother Ding talking to Gu Changshu, he patted his head in annoyance.

Chapter 1255: Making Him Your Son-in-law?

“This is Brother Ding, whom I have mentioned to you. He is a righteous man and treats his employees very well. I can get to where I am today is all because of Brother Ding. He is my benefactor. Brother Ding returned to Shu City last night. He wanted to come to see you when he heard that you were hospitalized.”

Brother Ding was delighted to hear Ah Zhu’s kind words. “It’s mainly because Ah Zhu is very reliable. He is my right-hand man. Ah Zhu said that you have nowhere to go, so you came to Shu City to seek refuge with him. If you are willing, you can come and work for me. I might be unsure of anything else, but I know that you can make a lot of money with me. When you are rich, who will dare to look down on you?”

“Really?”

Jiang Yao was pleasantly surprised. “Brother Ding is willing to bring us to make a lot of money? Ah Zhu said the reason he could build a grand mansion in his hometown was because of you, Brother Ding!”

Lu Xingzhi’s face flashed with surprise, and then he looked disappointed again. “I’m illiterate. I just got out of prison, and I don’t know anything. I only have my strength, so I don’t know how I can help you, Brother Ding.”

“You can learn, slowly but surely. There’s no rush. Get well first. When you’re better, you can move to my place and live with Ah Zhu and me. Then, I’ll teach you how to achieve great things.” Brother Ding patted Gu Changshu’s shoulder in satisfaction. Then, he gave Ah Zhu a look, a signal that meant they should leave.

After exchanging a few more pleasantries, Brother Ding left the hospital with Ah Zhu.

Ah Zhu saw Brother Ding’s expression and knew that he was very satisfied with Gu Changshu.

The two of them had just returned to the mansion when Wen Yunfang heard the news and went to look for Brother Ding. He had gone to the hospital due to Ah Zhu’s report and Wen Yunfang’s instigation. After Wen Yunfang went home the previous night, she said many nice things about Gu Changshu. That only piqued Brother Ding’s curiosity, and so he went to the hospital to test it out personally.

“Godfather, how did it go? Is Gu Changshu as good as I said?” Wen Yunfang sat next to Brother Ding and held his hand coquettishly as soon as she entered the living room. “Quickly, tell me what you think of Gu Changshu!”

Brother Ding did not keep her in suspense. “He’s not bad. He’s a good man. Let’s wait a few days for the couple to move in before confirming if he’s someone we can use. However, I do think we can use him.”

“He’s in a foreign town by himself, yet he dared to fight so many people over a woman. He won’t be a bad choice.” Wen Yunfang smiled gently. Then, she asked, “It seems like you think that he’s not a bad choice either, Godfather. You can confirm that after he moves in here. By the way, what do you think of making him your son-in-law?”

Wen Yunfang did not hide the fact that she was interested in Gu Changshu. When he heard that, he furrowed his brows and asked, "What? You like him? That kid is not bad, indeed. But I'm not looking for someone who can let you do whatever you want. I want someone who can help me accomplish great things."

"Godfather, I'm not doing anything. I'm already 21 years old. Shouldn't I find someone to marry?"

Chapter 1256: It's Inappropriate

Wen Yunfang pouted and acted coquettishly. "Godfather, think about it. Who else is more reliable than one of our own? As long as Gu Changshu becomes your son-in-law, he will be one of our own. Don't you feel more at ease using someone in the family? I can even keep an eye on him for you. You won't have to worry that he will have second thoughts."

Wen Yunfang's mouth was really sharp; her words made Ding's heart move.

"Young Miss, Gu Changshu is already married." Ah Zhu tried to remind her.

"So what if he's married?" Wen Yunfang sneered. Was that a joke? Her godfather was also married, right? However, she and her mother had lived happily with Brother Ding and earned a lot of money with him even though the man had a wife and children in the countryside.

However, Wen Yunfang did not dare to say such words in front of Brother Ding... Instead, she said, "I saw that woman at the factory. She's so delicate. Other than crying, she has a face that can trick men into feeling sorry for her. Can she compare to me? Gu Changshu is not blind; he will choose me."

Even though Ah Zhu did not say anything, he felt disgusted in his heart. It was more accurate to say that only a blind man would fall for Wen Yunfang.

How could Wen Yunfang compare to Gu Changshu's wife? That girl might have been a crybaby, but she had cried for her husband. That girl was simple, kind, and naive. She was not a shrewd woman, so she stubbornly followed Gu Changshu everywhere he went. Which man would leave her for a lowly woman like Wen Yunfang?

However, Wen Yunfang was the master, and he was the servant. No matter how much Ah Zhu despised her, he did not dare disrespect her.

Although Wen Yunfang did not receive Brother Ding's immediate nod of approval, she knew her words had moved him. Wen Yunfang was an intelligent woman. She learned to quit when the time was right. Then, she chatted with Brother Ding about their daily life and asked about his health. She tried to be a good daughter.

Brother Ding was pleased when Wen Yunfang fussed over him. So, he took Wen Yunfang and her mother to go shopping to buy clothes and jewelry in the afternoon. After dinner, Brother Ding called Ah Zhu to his study and asked for his views on making Gu Changshu his son-in-law.

Ah Zhu was not like Brother Ding; he did not like doing things behind one's back. He did not want to see that good girl hurt because she was Gu Changshu's wife.

“Brother Ding, I don’t think that is appropriate.”

Ah Zhu expressed his opinion. “I have interacted with Gu Changshu and his wife more than you, Brother Ding, so I know that they have a great relationship. I don’t think Gu Changshu would abandon his wife.”

“Continue.”

Brother Ding listened with interest.

“Think about it, Brother Ding. Gu Changshu has no family. He’s been in prison for more than nine years. During those nine years, only Gu Junhui visited him without any hesitation. Gu Changshu told me that Gu Junhui is the only person in the world who still cares about him and loves him sincerely. I can see that Gu Changshu really dotes on his wife. Otherwise, he wouldn’t have come to Shu City with her. He even brought her along to do odd jobs. I’m afraid that something will happen to his wife if he’s not around her.”

Chapter 1257: The Answer

Ah Zhu was well aware that every argument had two sides to it. “Gu Changshu is biased toward his wife, even though she is excellent. Take the foreman as an example, who Gu Changshu threatened to gouge out his eyes. Gu Changshu will never leave his wife, Gu Junhui, without a fight.”

Brother Ding nodded in agreement, as though Ah Zhu’s words had finally made sense.

“In other words, Brother Ding, think about it. Does Gu Junhui owe Gu Changshu anything? After nine years of companionship, Gu Junhui followed him without hesitation and left her hometown for him. She trusted him wholeheartedly and relied on him. Gu Junhui loves Gu Changshu, but she can’t find any fault with him. If that’s the case, Gu Changshu must be heartless to abandon Gu Junhui. Brother Ding, do you think you’d want a heartless man to curry favor with you?” Ah Zhu asked the man a rhetorical question.

Brother Ding thought about it for a while. Wen Yunfang had made sense, but Ah Zhu had also made sense. He hesitated for a moment.

If Gu Changshu abandoned his wife, he must be a heartless person. However, if Gu Changshu married Wen Yunfang, Brother Ding would have Wen Yunfang’s help to keep an eye on him. He could put the man to good use. Furthermore, the man was isolated and helpless in Shu City. Therefore, he was not afraid that Gu Changshu would cause any significant trouble for the time being.

“Brother Ding, let’s make a hypothesis. If Gu Changshu refuses to marry Young Miss and Gu Junhui gets angry, Gu Changshu will leave the city with Gu Junhui. Then, you will have one less person to use. I recommended Gu Changshu to you, Brother Ding, and I think he is a good person. He might be able to help you in the future.”

“Young Miss is good-looking and intelligent. There are many men in the world who are more handsome than Gu Zhangshu. Gu Zhangshu can be your subordinate, but he is not worthy of being your son-in-law. You have pampered Young Miss since she was young, so you can’t simply choose a man for her. There are many young masters in Shu City who are more suitable for Young Miss.”

Ah Zhu breathed a sigh of relief when he saw that Brother Ding looked to have been swayed once more by him. He had the following thoughts in his head, 'You didn't address me as Brother Ah Zhu for nothing, Sister. I have gone out of my way to make sure you are both okay.'

"Alright, you can go back and rest."

Brother Ding did not say anything to Ah Zhu and waved his hand to tell him to leave.

Ah Zhu lived in Brother Ding's house, but it was a vast compound, so he lived on the other side of the house.

After Ah Zhu left, Brother Ding thought for a long time in the study room by himself. Then he summoned Wen Yunfang to his study room and said, "I know you're waiting for my answer, so I won't tease you any longer. I'll tell you directly that I won't meddle in the matter between you and Gu Changshu. If you can make Gu Changshu come to me and say that he wants to marry you, then I'll agree to our marriage."

Wen Yunfang's expression froze, but she also knew that there was no changing Brother Ding's decision. When she thought of how Brother Ding had stayed in the study room with Ah Zhu for so long, she held a grudge against the other man. It must have been something Ah Zhu said that Brother Ding would give her such an answer.

Chapter 1258: A Reminder

Wen Yunfang continued to smile and nod merrily. "Godfather, you are a lifesaver! It's okay; I trust myself. No matter what, you brought me up. How can I be inferior to that country bumpkin? Just wait to greet your son-in-law."

Then, Wen Yunfang left Brother Ding's study with a face full of joy. The moment she left the study, her happy face darkened.

Gu Changshu? There was no man in the world that Wen Yunfang could not get her hands on!

The confident Wen Yunfang was already looking forward to meeting Gu Changshu after he was discharged from the hospital and moved into their house. After she left the study, she returned to her room for a facial. She was prepared to show her most beautiful face when she met him for the first time.

As for Ah Zhu, after he left Brother Ding's study, he did not immediately return to his room. Instead, he made another trip to the hospital.

When he went to the hospital, the first thing he did was to transfer Gu Changshu from his original ward to a single ward. He claimed that he was afraid that other patients would snore at night and affect their rest, but in fact, he had something to say to the two of them in private.

"Ah Zhu, do you have something important to tell me?" Lu Xingzhi asked after he entered the new ward.

It was not difficult to guess. He would not have done that if he did not have something urgent to tell him, though he realized that Ah Zhu was not in the mood. It was almost time for the hospital's designated rest time, so Ah Zhu had done the process for them hurriedly.

If Ah Zhu had been worried that he would not have a good rest at night, he could have called the hospital to get them to change his ward. There was no need for him to come to the hospital personally.

“Staying here with your wife will save us trouble.”

Gu Changshu was smart, and Ah Zhu was happy. He knew that Gu Changshu would be discharged from the hospital the next day. He was afraid that he would not have the chance to speak to Gu Changshu and his wife alone then. Therefore, he rushed there to inform the couple.

“Young Miss returned to Shu City last night and is now living in the main house. I have some bad news. She has taken a liking to you, Changshu. She wants to make you her husband. I tried to persuade Brother Ding, but I was not sure what Brother Ding would decide, so I came here to give you two a warning.” Then, Ah Zhu looked at Gu Changshu’s wife. He saw the girl’s angry and aggrieved expression. He said, “Sister, I have tried my best to persuade her. When you move to the main house, try to avoid the young miss.”

“Is she Brother Ding’s daughter?” Jiang Yao’s eyes reddened in a fury. “Then Brother Ding must have helped his daughter to fight me for Brother Changshu!”

“She and Brother Ding aren’t related by blood at all. Brother Ding adopted her because he was with her mother. We’re all on the same side, so I won’t hide it from you guys. Her mother, Sister Wen, is Brother Ding’s lover. They have been together for more than ten years, so she has a lot of weight in Brother Ding’s say. However, she can’t surpass Brother Ding. He is not the kind of person who is easily swayed by honeyed words. Even though Brother Ding dotes on those two, I’ll tell you the truth. Based on my understanding of Brother Ding, he still loves his family. Otherwise, why hasn’t he married Sister Wen after more than ten years? He has a family in his hometown. He has a wife, children, an old mother, and even a grandchild. He doesn’t mention it, but he is worried about them.”

Chapter 1259: Fancied By A Latrine

When Ah Zhu mentioned that Wen Yunfang, he did not hide his displeasure, “Young Miss really thinks that she is Brother Ding’s daughter. In fact, she doesn’t even think about it. Brother Ding and Sister Wen have been together for a long time. If Brother Ding really loves her, how could he not even mention marrying her? No one in the countryside would get a marriage certificate. They would throw a ceremony and consider it done. Brother Ding’s real wife has ignored him for a long time, perhaps more than ten years. If Brother Ding really wants to marry Sister Wen, it’s just a matter of having a wedding dinner in Shu City. But after so many years, Brother Ding still hasn’t shown the slightest hint of that intention.”

After Ah Zhu finished speaking, he patted Gu Changshu’s shoulder earnestly. “Changshu, let me remind you. Nowadays, it’s not easy to find a woman who would pour her heart out to you. You can’t be stupid. If you disagree, Brother Ding can’t force you to marry Young Miss. So you have to control yourself.”

“I will never let my wife down.” Lu Xingzhi held Jiang Yao’s hand tightly. “Junhui, don’t worry. I won’t let you down.”

“I know.”

Ah Zhu clapped his hands. “Young Miss knows how to earn money, but it’s not a good idea to marry her. You just arrived at Shu City and didn’t know that she—”

Ah Zhu shook his head. He almost used the word disgusting to describe her. “She is a young woman, but she is very wild. She has had a man by her side since she was 16 years old. Over the past four to five years, every good-looking man in Shu City has slept with her. To put it bluntly, even the women in the nightclub are more decent than her.”

Jiang Yao was still in shock, and her heart was throbbing. How dare such a woman try to snatch her man from her?

On the other hand Lu Xingzhi felt disgusted; it was as if a latrine had taken a fancy to him.

“Although Shu City can’t be compared to other cities, there are still quite a number of influential families here. If the parents really care about their son, they wouldn’t let him marry Young Miss. Although marrying her will certainly allow the man to build a relationship with Brother Ding, Young Miss had a terrible reputation in Shu City. That’s why she hasn’t gotten engaged even though she was already 21 years old. She doesn’t like any of the men because she knows they were there because of Brother Ding. She doesn’t like any of the government officials either.”

Not only did Jiang Yao look down on Wen Yunfang’s wild personality, but she also looked down on people like Brother Ding.

“After you move into the main house tomorrow, don’t contradict Young Miss because Sister Wen can hold a grudge. Young Miss is even more petty. But don’t be afraid of offending her if you don’t want to marry her. Brother Ding is not the kind of person who listens to a woman’s honeyed words. Follow Brother Ding’s lead. You just have to be loyal to him and try your best to do what he tells you to.” After Ah Zhu finished his sentences, he was relieved. Then he decided to leave.

Jiang Yao sent Ah Zhu to the stairs before turning back. As soon as she closed the door, her face darkened.

The thought of a woman thinking about her man made her furious.

Moe got out of her coat pocket, wagged his tail, and waved his white claws. “Meow! Kill that woman!”

“Go away!” Jiang Yao glanced at Mo, who had an aggressive look on his face. She could not kill people directly, but it would be easy for her to deal with that woman after moving into the main house.

Moe went back into Jiang Yao’s pocket, only showing his tail toward her.

Chapter 1260: Moving In

Lu Xingzhi did not understand what Moe was saying, but when he heard Jiang Yao talking to Moe, he knew that they were chatting.

His face was bruised and swollen, so his expression was not noticeable. However, he felt uncomfortable when he thought about a latrine staring at him.

“Wife, give me a kiss.” Since he and Jiang Yao were the only ones in the ward, Lu Xingzhi did not have any scruples when he spoke.

Even though Ah Zhu had placed a person there to keep an eye on him in the hospital, that person was afraid that he would be discovered. He did not even come close to the ward, so naturally, he could not hear what Lu Xingzhi said to Jiang Yao.

Jiang Yao knew that Lu Xingzhi was in a bad mood, but she smacked her lips twice and looked at Lu Xingzhi's face. She was in a difficult position. "If it's hard to say, forget it."

The man, who was already upset, felt even more unhappy when he heard his wife despised him. He directly pulled her down and gave her a wolf kiss. He said fiercely, "Don't scorn me!"

Jiang Yao held her belly and laughed. She raised her hand and touched Lu Xingzhi's face gently. She did not say anything to make Lu Xingzhi feel even more upset. Instead, she took some ointment and applied it to Lu Xingzhi's bruises.

The next day, the doctor decided to discharge him from the hospital. When Ah Zhu heard the news, he sent someone to fetch the two of them from the hospital. Then, he brought Jiang Yao and Lu Xingzhi to the rental house to pack up their things and move to the main house.

Ah Zhu was not spouting nonsense when he said that the main house was luxurious. Brother Ding had many kinds of business in his hands. Therefore, he earned money quickly, so his life was very comfortable.

As soon as Moe entered the main house, he took the medicinal powder that Jiang Yao gave him and fumbled inside. That medicinal powder would melt as soon as it came into contact with the air. It was colorless and tasteless. However, once a person's skin touched it, red bumps and blisters would immediately appear.

Moe carried with him the arduous task of finding Wen Yunfang so that she would not be able to go out that day.

The room that Ah Zhu had arranged for Lu Xingzhi and his wife was on the same floor as his, but there was another room in the middle. It was a villa, and the people staying there were all Brother Ding's subordinates, but they were also divided into different levels. Confidence-seekers like Ah Zhu naturally stayed in the best room. There were many rooms on that floor, but Ah Zhu was the only one who stayed there.

Although Lu Xingzhi and Jiang Yao were new arrivals, no one had dared to say a word when they moved to the best floor.

"There are people who clean the house every day, and there are also servants. Whenever you are hungry and want to eat anything, just tell them. I didn't lie to you, right? Isn't life here delightful? Just reach your hand outward, and you'll get everything."

"It's a bit like watching a movie." Jiang Yao played a country bumpkin who had just entered the city; everything was new to her. She touched everything as she sighed discreetly. The house for the servants was a lovely villa, but what about Brother Ding's home?

Brother Ding was so rich!

However, when she thought about how Brother Ding's way of earning money was through destroying other people's lives and families, Jiang Yao felt that such a luxurious house was full of vulgarities.

Wen Yunfang was Brother Ding's adopted daughter, and her mother was Brother Ding's woman, so she naturally lived in the main building. When she heard the servants say that Gu Changshu and his wife had moved in, Wen Yunfang immediately got up and chose the most beautiful and sexiest dress in the wardrobe. She applied makeup in front of the mirror. Then, she went straight to the building where Ah Zhu lived.

The building where Ah Zhu was staying was the closest building to the main building in the entire compound. It was less than 200 meters away. Wen Yunfang was walking elegantly in her high heels when she suddenly felt a white shadow passing in front of her eyes. She was so scared that her face turned pale, and she almost lost her balance. However, when she snapped back to her senses and looked around, she found nothing around her. There were no other footprints on the ground.