

Chapter 1291: Grimace

It took a long time for the people in the room to snap back to their senses. Brother Ding was born in the countryside, so he knew that there were some methods that ordinary people would not understand but were sometimes very useful. Therefore, he did not doubt what Gu Changshu and his wife said.

However, after Wen Yunfang heard it, she was so angry that she trembled. "I would rather die than try that! You are here to see me make a fool of myself! Get lost! Get lost!"

If that were in the past, even if Wen Yunfang had courage, she would not dare to be so bold in front of Brother Ding, much less dare to tell them to get lost.

Wen Yunfang and Sister Wen were wise women. They knew what kind of women were loved by men. Therefore, she always had a sense of decency in front of Brother Ding. Even though she would occasionally act coquettishly and mischievously, she was still very reserved most of the time.

However, after being tortured by the grimace illness for a few days, Wen Yunfang ran out of patience.

She could not accept it after Gu Changshu told them the idea. Then, when Gu Junhui added to that, she felt that the woman was there to make fun of her.

Wen Yunfang threw something at Jiang Yao, and Lu Xingzhi reached out to protect Jiang Yao. He said coldly, "We've heard, we know, and we've said everything we needed to say. Believe it or not, it's up to you."

Then, he pulled Jiang Yao to him and left without looking back, as if he was furious that Wen Yunfang had thrown something at Jiang Yao.

Ah Zhu knew that he could not stay there any longer, so he also retreated and caught up with the two people in front of him.

Ah Zhu lowered his voice and muttered to Gu Changshu, "Changshu, you must never show your mood in front of Brother Ding and Sister Wen. It's probably okay with Brother Ding, but Sister Wen is very vengeful. Do you think Young Miss is acting? Is she crazy? If you ask me, she might have gotten that grimace illness from sleeping with too many men. Isn't there a kind of illness caused by casual intimate relationships?"

Ah Zhu paused for a moment before he said, "The reason Sister Wen picked you up in the middle of last night was that Young Miss was beaten up by the two men in the hospital last night. They said that she had infected them. If the nurses did not see and stop them in time, they might have beaten Young Miss to her death."

"Did Sister Wen not leave anyone in the hospital?" Gu Junhui asked.

Ah Zhu chuckled. "Even if she did, Young Miss must have chased them away. Her ghostly face would look so angry when she saw someone else's perfect face. Who would dare to stay there? I've heard that it's not like she hasn't touched cow dung before. Why did she look so miserable? We shouldn't underestimate the county folks' ways. Sometimes, they could be quite useful."

"Yeah, I think so too," Jiang Yao said as if she had the same opinion. "There are children in the countryside who cry incessantly in the middle of the night. The senior citizens would say that they were frightened and wanted to cry for their souls. After they cried out loud, those children would become much more obedient.”

As a doctor, Jiang Yao did not feel guilty when she said those words. There were still many phenomena in that world that were difficult to explain medically.

Of course, one should not be too superstitious. One still had to choose to believe in science.

As soon as Jiang Yao and Lu Xingzhi returned to their house, they saw Sister Wen and Wen Yunfang left the main house in the car. Jiang Yao thought it was the right time to give Moe more medicine. She told Moe to look for their vehicle and go with them so that Wen Yunfang could continue with the medication.

Chapter 1292: Rush Back

Wen Yunfang was not Brother Ding’s biological daughter after all. Once Wen Yunfang and Sister Wen left the house, no one argued in front of Brother Ding. So, Brother Ding’s mood was much better. Once Brother Ding was in a good mood, the atmosphere in the house also lifted.

In the evening, Brother Ding called Jiang Yao and Lu Xingzhi to go out for dinner. Naturally, Ah Zhu and his men also went with them.

Jiang Yao did not know how Lu Xingzhi and Xiao Xing had arranged it. During dinner, Ah Zhu’s phone suddenly rang. Jiang Yao’s eyes were sharp—that the caller was Xiao Xing.

It was the informant.

Ah Zhu answered the call for a few seconds and then hung up... He immediately said, “Sister, that was Xiao Xing. Your mother’s family called him just now. They said that your mother had been in a car accident, and it is quite serious. They want you to go home with Changshu immediately.”

Jiang Yao immediately unleashed her acting skills. Her palm-sized face quickly lost its color. The faint smile that was on her face a second ago suddenly stiffened. The next second, her eyes reddened as she cried.

“My mother... my mother...”

Jiang Yao sobbed so hard that she could not say a word. She looked very pitiful.

“Sister, don’t be anxious—”

Ah Zhu also became anxious when he saw the young woman cry so terribly. He turned his head to look at the person beside him and said, “Changshu, comfort your wife!”

“Wife, don’t be scared. Mom will be fine. I will take you home immediately.” Lu Xingzhi hugged Jiang Yao, who was crying like crazy in his arms and looked at Brother Ding. He said, “Brother Ding, I’m sorry. I have to bring my wife back to our hometown. If you’re okay with it, I will come to Shu City to work with you after I settle the matters in my hometown.”

Actually, that was also a good opportunity for Lu Xingzhi to retreat for his next move. If he did not show his eagerness to blend into Brother Ding's circle, Brother Ding would not suspect that he had any ulterior motives.

"You should rush home in case something happens to your mother-in-law."

Brother Ding looked at the couple. He could not bear to see Gu Changshu's wife crying like that. He knew that Gu Junhui and her mother had been separated for a long time, and they had just found each other again. Gu Junhui's mother was very good to her. It was no wonder that Gu Changshu's wife would cry like that when she heard the news.

"Then I'll drive you back to pack your things and send you to the train station. By the way, do you have enough money on you? Do you want me to lend you some money first? You might need some for the hospital." Ah Zhu knew that he could not help with anything else. However, it was okay to lend them some money. "Sister, don't worry. With this money, you can go home and transfer your mother to a better hospital for treatment. A bigger hospital doctor will always have more skills."

"Thank you, Ah Zhu."

Jiang Yao sobbed and thanked him. "No matter how much money you lent us, Changshu and I will remember it. We may not be able to pay you back for a while, but we will work hard to earn money to return it to you."

"We can talk about that later."

Ah Zhu waved his hand and looked at Brother Ding. He asked, "Brother Ding, should I bring them back first?"

Brother Ding nodded. Then, he took a stack of money from his wallet and put it in front of Gu Changshu. "This is a small token from me. Take it and use it first. When things are settled at home, you can come to Shu City to look for me."

Chapter 1293: He Did Not Want To Admit It

Lu Xingzhi looked hesitant for a second before he reached out to take the money—it looked like there were 1,000 bucks in that stack.

That was a small sum. One's monthly salary was less than 100 bucks, and some better jobs might pay a little more than 100 bucks. That 1,000 bucks could even match the annual salary of some people.

Ah Zhu drove them to the train station and even bought train tickets for them. He accompanied the two to the train station and chatted with them. He was worried that Gu Junhui was in a bad mood, so he continued to tease her. Although he failed to make her laugh even once, he was really exhausted.

"Brother Ah Zhu, I'm fine now. Brother Changshu is with me." Jiang Yao knew that Ah Zhu had been waiting for her and Lu Xingzhi to watch them board the train personally, and Ah Zhu had been teasing her to make her happy. "The train is here. Brother Ah Zhu, we will call you when we get there. You haven't eaten yet, so hurry back and eat something."

"It's fine. You guys get on the train. I will go back now." Ah Zhu nodded and watched the two of them board the train before leaving.

When Jiang Yao and Lu Xingzhi reached Gu Junhui's hometown, they used Gu Junhui's mother's phone to call Ah Zhu to let him know that they were safe before taking another plane back to their hometown.

The two of them did not inform their families in advance. They got off the plane and rented a car to go home. They did not go to the Lu family; they went straight to the Jiang family instead.

It was also a coincidence. It was supposed to be dinner time, but the Jiang family was very lively.

Or rather, it was very noisy.

Jiang Yao saw Mrs. Sun standing in front of the Jiang family's door with that fool and his mother, arguing with her parents. Mrs. Sun was sure that the Jiang family had hidden her daughter, so she asked the Jiang family to hand her over.

She did not know how Mrs. Sun had coaxed the idiot, but the idiot just stood there obediently and waited. He kept muttering to himself. "Take my wife home, take my wife home."

"Get out of the car."

Lu Xingzhi parked the car by the roadside and turned to look at Jiang Yao. He saw her looking at the idiot through the car window. He knew what she was thinking.

The man who had scared her twice was actually her biological father.

"That—"

Jiang Yao focused on that fool. She thought that everything was a dream.

"Is he really my biological father? But I don't feel it at all." It was strange, and there was even a psychological trauma from being scared in the past. She wanted to stay away from that crazy person.

"Yes, that's the result of the paternity test."

Lu Xingzhi patted Jiang Yao's head and paused before continuing. His voice was very gentle, as if he was afraid that he would make her sad if he said too much, "If you don't want to acknowledge them, then don't. No one will blame you. You were abandoned because of him. Your biological mother gave birth to you. Your family brought you up and loved and cared for you. That man did not provide you with anything. You don't owe him anything."

"I don't want to acknowledge him as my father."

Jiang Yao bit her lip, not because she despised him for being a fool, but because she despised what he had done.

"Then, don't do it."

Lu Xingzhi nodded. Then, he took Jiang Yao's hand and got out of the car.

Chapter 1294: No One Could Take It

Jiang Jie was the first person to notice Jiang Yao and Lu Xingzhi. When he saw them, he heaved a sigh of relief, but he immediately took it back.

“Yaoyao—” Jiang Jie looked at Lu Xingzhi. When he saw the seriousness on Jiang Yao’s face, he knew that Lu Xingzhi had told her.

Jiang Jie tugged at his parents’ arms and whispered, “Yaoyao and Xingzhi are home.”

Mr. and Mrs. Jiang immediately looked out of the door. Mr. Jiang was fine, but Mrs. Jiang burst into tears when she saw Jiang Yao.

“Yaoyao...” Mrs. Jiang ran toward Jiang Yao and hugged her. “Whoever dares to steal my daughter will have step over my dead body. Yaoyao is my daughter! No one can steal her!”

Jiang Yao wanted to cry when she heard the worry and sadness in her mother’s tone. She had never seen her mother cry. Even when the family was at their most miserable, her parents were always happy. They told her that the poor could be happy too; there was no need to envy the rich. It was fine to be poor, as long as their whole family was safe and sound.

However, that strong parent had hugged her and cried.

“Mom, I am your daughter. I will always be. No one can take me away from you.” Jiang Yao released Lu Xingzhi’s hand and hugged her mother.

At that moment, Jiang Yao suddenly felt that her mother had grown old.

Her mother, who was originally taller than her, was shorter then.

She had grown up, but her mother had grown old.

Jiang Yao’s words were like a pill reassurance for her parents. Then, Mrs. Jiang lifted her hand to wipe her tears and said, “It’s not that we don’t want you to acknowledge your biological parents, but they’re too much of a bully!”

Mr. Jiang walked toward Jiang Yao and Lu Xingzhi. He was so angry that his entire body was trembling. “That woman!”

Mr. Jiang raised his hand and pointed at Mrs. Sun. “That woman claimed to be your biological mother. She hasn’t even seen you yet, and she’s already clamoring for a divorce between you and Lu Xingzhi! Even if she’s your biological mother, don’t acknowledge her. That woman is unreasonable!”

“How am I unreasonable?” Mrs. Sun’s eyes had also reddened. She tried to pull Jiang Yao away, but the younger woman dodged her. Her outstretched hand missed, and she immediately cried. “Child, do you hate me? It’s not that I don’t want you. They deceived me, and then you were gone. When I saw you, I felt a closeness between us. I wanted to be close to you. God must have treated me well since they let you live.”

Mrs. Sun’s tears fell. “Child, I’m so sorry. You are still in high school, and yet you were forced to marry. I feel sorry for you. My child, if you had not left my side, you would be very carefree today. Why would you stay with your in-laws? You guys are so young; how would you know what a marriage is? I’m afraid that you will follow in my footsteps when I was young and end up with a heart-wrenching ending.”

That fool finally saw Jiang Yao. He pushed everyone aside and ran toward Jiang Yao. “Wife! Wife! You’re back? Let’s go home. I’ll take you home.”

“Hey, hey, hey! Son, that isn’t your wife. That is your daughter!” An old woman quickly pulled her son away and explained patiently. She pointed at Mrs. Sun and explained, “That is your wife, and that’s your daughter.”

Chapter 1295: Where’s The Evidence?

“She’s not! She’s not!” The fool shook his head and pointed at Jiang Yao. He said, “She’s my wife! She’s my wife! I want a wife, not a daughter, not a daughter!”

Even though Jiang Yao knew what the fool was talking about, she still felt sad when she heard what he said.

Even if he were crazy and foolish, her biological father still did not want her as his daughter. Since she was born, he had never doted on her for even a second. So, why did she want to acknowledge him as her father?

“He doesn’t want her, but our family wants her!” Mr. Jiang pushed the fool away in exasperation. “The daughter you dislike is our Jiang Family’s precious daughter! Since you don’t want your daughter, you should leave. Don’t come here and make a fuss!”

“Honey! I want my wife. Honey, let’s go home.” The fool tried his best to reach out to Jiang Yao to pull her, but Mr. Jiang and Jiang Jie stopped him.

“Granddaughter, how can you let other people bully your father? Don’t you have a mouth to shout?” Old Madam Lin felt sorry when she saw her son bullied by someone else. She raised her head and shouted at Jiang Yao. “Why are you so heartless? You think your biological father is a fool, right?”

“Stop shouting. Who is your granddaughter? Didn’t you bury your granddaughter alive a long time ago?” Jiang Yao sneered at her before she looked at the crying Mrs. Sun coldly. If Lu Xingzhi had not told her in advance that the identities of Mrs. Sun and Madam Cheng were to be investigated, she would have been fooled when she saw Mrs. Sun crying so movingly.

“Who said I buried you alive? If I did that, would you still be alive?” the old woman retorted.

“You did not bury her alive because it was too cold, and you were too lazy to dig a hole, right?” Mrs. Jiang replied sarcastically.

The old woman was rendered speechless. The truth was that she was indeed too lazy to dig a hole because it was too cold. The soil in the mountains was frozen in the winter. She dug with her hoe and realized that she was too lazy to dig since it was too cold at that time. An infant would probably freeze to death in less than an hour. There were so many wild beasts in the mountains, and they would smell and listen to the sounds to find the child. The baby would not survive, so she left the child in the mountain. She thought wild animals would hear her when she cried. She left the child on the grassy ground and went home.

“No matter what, he is your biological father!”

The old woman knew she was old and would not live for long. She was only worried about her son.

If she died, what would happen to her son?

Since that wretched girl, who should have died, was still alive, she should be the one to take care of her father.

Furthermore, Jiang Yao had married into the Lu family, the wealthiest family in the county. If she acknowledged her granddaughter, she and her son would be able to rely on her and enjoy life with her and the Lu family.

“Where’s your evidence? There’s no proof. You think it’s true because you said so?” Jiang Yao asked. Lu Xingzhi had said that he had changed the paternity test report, so she just refused to admit it.

“Child, he really is your biological father.”

Mrs. Sun took two pieces of paper from her bag and handed them to Jiang Yao. “This is the paternity test from the Jindo City hospital. It proves that we are mother and daughter... He is your biological father.”

Chapter 1296: How Can It Be Fake?

Jiang Yao looked at Lu Xingzhi in confusion. Did he not say that Mrs. Sun was using her and the fool to do the test? How did Mrs. Sun get that result?

When she saw Lu Xingzhi frowning slightly, Jiang Yao knew that Lu Xingzhi did not know about that situation either.

However, Jiang Yao had an answer to that doubt.

She scanned the paternity test a few times and found the reason.

Jiang Yao laughed happily. “You’re trying to fool me with a fake paternity test? Are you trying to fool a medical student like me with a fake paternity test? Is there something wrong with your brain? Just because you can’t understand the content doesn’t mean that I don’t understand it either. Do you think I’m the same as you, who only read a few sentences at the end?”

Jiang Yao threw the paper at Mrs. Sun’s face. Her actions were frivolous and rude. “Take your fake stuff back to Ping City. Don’t try to get your hands on me.”

Mrs. Sun thought of thousands of possibilities, but she did not think that Jiang Yao would be able to see through the fake paternity test at a glance.

Panic flashed across her tearful eyes. “How can it be fake? You don’t want to acknowledge me as your mother, right? We look so much alike. How can we not be mother and daughter?”

Jiang Yao raised her eyebrows. That woman had been exposed, so she decided to act shamelessly, right?

Lu Xingzhi stood forward and protected Jiang Yao behind him. “You used a fake paternity test report to say that she’s your daughter. Your motive makes people think deeply. Just because you look alike, do you think that gives you the right to say that she’s your daughter? Many people look alike in this world. For example, your twin sister, Xie Qiuxiang, also looks similar to my wife. Perhaps your sister will also acknowledge and say that my wife is her daughter?”

“You—” Mrs. Sun looked at Jiang Yao’s husband in shock. She was only a little flustered when the fake paternity test was exposed. However, she was stunned when the name Xie Qiuxiang was mentioned.

It had been a long time since she heard the name from the lips of an outsider.

It had been so long that the name had almost disappeared from her life.

How did Jiang Yao’s husband know about Xie Qiuxiang? How did he know that she had a twin sister? Did Jiang Yao’s husband investigate her?

If so, what did he find out? How much did he find out?

Why did she always feel that when Jiang Yao’s husband mentioned Xie Qiuxiang’s name, he meant something else, as if he was warning her about something?

There was a voice in Mrs. Sun’s heart telling her that it was best for her to leave immediately. That was the wisest choice.

However, she was not willing to accept it.

She had already gone that far. If she were to go back then, how could she accept it?

She had time to wait, but her daughter did not have that luxury.

Mrs. Sun advised earnestly. “Child, I am really your mother. If you don’t believe me, you can ask the people who knew us in the past. Ask them your mother’s name. I know you hate me. You hate that I did not protect you well. Can you give me a chance? Let me make it up to you properly.”

“Fake is fake. You even fake a paternity test. How can you be a real mother?” Jiang Yao interrupted Mrs. Sun when she saw that she was about to defend herself. She did not give her a chance to speak at all.

“Don’t say that I’m wrong. If you’re really that shameless, I can call Jindo City Hospital to find out if that paternity test is real or fake.”

Chapter 1297: Her Favorite

“D*mn you, girl! You don’t want to acknowledge your biological parents. Sooner or later, you will be struck by lightning!” Old Madam Lin scolded Jiang Yao when she saw the situation.

Jiang Yao sneered, then took out her phone and called the police in front of everyone. “Hello, this is the Jiang village. Someone is causing trouble at my house. They created a fake paternity test and are trying to scam me.”

Then, Jiang Yao told the other party the address of her house before hanging up the phone.

“Dad, Mom, let’s go back into the courtyard. Those scammers can stay wherever they want. If they don’t leave, the police will come and take them away later.” Jiang Yao pushed Mr. and Mrs. Jiang back into the courtyard. After Lu Xingzhi and Jiang Jie entered the door, she closed and shut Old Madam Lin’s curses outside the door.

The police responded quickly. Perhaps they knew that Jiang Yao was Lu Xingzhi’s wife, and she was the one who made the call. They arrived in 15 minutes and escorted those outsiders into the police car.

Then one of the police officers knocked on the door. When he realized that Lu Xingzhi had opened the door, the expression on his face became even more respectful.

Lu Xingzhi exchanged a few pleasantries with the police officers before sending them off. Then, he returned to the courtyard and called his home to inform them of his and Jiang Yao's return.

Mrs. Sun and the rest of the outsiders were causing so much trouble that Jiang Yao's parents did not get the chance to explain to Jiang Yao. Therefore, they were explaining to Jiang Yao how they had carried her home that year.

Jiang Yao's parents did not hide anything from her. They told her everything about how they had discovered Jiang Yao in the mountains that year. However, they did not want Jiang Yao to hate her biological parents; they only wanted her to know that they found her abandoned. She had the right to know about the truth.

If Jiang Yao did not know about her background, the Jiang family would hide it forever. They also did not create a beautiful persona for the parents that abandoned her—it was unnecessary. They did not want to mislead the poor child. How could those parents be so heartless?

After listening to her parents' explanation, Jiang Yao stayed in her mother's embrace and refused to leave, "Mom, I don't care. Anyway, since you and dad picked me up, I would be your child for the rest of my life. I am only your child. You guys are so good to me and love me so much. I even have two brothers who spoil me. I won't leave this family no matter what. I won't leave, even if you chase me away one day!"

Jiang Yao's coquettish words made Mrs. Jiang burst into laughter. She reached out and patted Jiang Yao's head. She choked on her sobs and said, "Silly child, you're spouting nonsense. Why would we chase you away? It's too late for them to dote on you. How could we bear to chase you away? We have two sons. We don't expect you and Xingzhi to take care of us in old age. We don't want to be a burden to you two. That's why we don't want you to leave just because they might dote on you. Yaoyao, do you understand? Even though I didn't give birth to you, you're just like your two brothers. You're my favorite."

"Mom, I know, I do know that." If her mom did not love her like she was her favorite, why did she hear complaints from her family when she left so insensibly back then?

Even though they were disappointed, they were more worried about whether she had suffered outside.

Chapter 1298: Nothing Changes

They were such good parents; how could they not be her biological parents?

How could she bear to disappoint them?

No matter who her biological parents were, she would not acknowledge them because they did not raise and dote on her.

After chatting with Jiang Yao for a while, Jiang Yao's parents finally calmed down. Jiang Yao was stronger and much more sensible than they had imagined.

“You didn’t have time to eat when you came back, did you? I will cook something for you now!” Mrs. Jiang slapped her thigh and remembered that the family had not had time to eat dinner because of the people they found outside. Then, she called Mr. Jiang to help her cook in the kitchen.

Lu Xingzhi saw that Jiang Jie had something to say to Jiang Yao, so he waited in the courtyard. Before Jiang Jie said anything, he reached out and patted Jiang Yao’s head. It was the same as when she was a child; nothing had changed.

“You’ll always be my precious little sister.” That was the first thing Jiang Jie said. “I remembered when Mom and Dad brought you home. You were so small, and I’ve loved you since the moment I saw you. Look at you all grown up and sensible now.”

Jiang Jie’s words shook Jiang Yao’s calm mood. “Eldest Brother, I’ll always be the Yaoyao who refused to grow up. When Second Brother bullies me, you’ll still have to help me beat him up like before.”

“Okay.” Jiang Jie smiled. That was good; the family was still the same. Nothing had changed. Their family would always stay together and would not change because of some outsiders.

After eating, Jiang Jie rushed back to the town dormitory. After all, Wang Xian was still in town. He was afraid that the problems at home would disturb Wang Xian, so he did not bring her back.

Maybe he and his wife could bring the first joy to the family.

Jiang Yao and Lu Xingzhi stayed in the Jiang family’s house for the night, in Jiang Yao’s room before her wedding. The small room was still spotless, as if it was waiting for the return of its master at any time.

Life in the countryside was to sleep and wake up early. Jiang Yao’s parents went back to their room to rest at around ten at night. After Lu Xingzhi took a shower, he returned to the room and saw Jiang Yao in a daze with his phone.

“What’s wrong?” Lu Xingzhi walked toward her.

“The police station called and said that Mrs. Sun and Old Madam Lin insisted that I was their child. They said that they weren’t liars and that my parents had admitted that they picked me up years ago. Old Madam Lin had left me that year. Mrs. Sun took out a photo of her when she was young. The police station said that I was completely different from her when she was young, so they wanted me to go to the police station tomorrow to discuss how to resolve this matter.”

“What did you say?” Lu Xingzhi asked.

“I told them that Mrs. Sun’s daughter, Sun Xiaoshan, was by her side, right? Why are they looking for me?” Jiang Yao spread out her hands. “That’s the truth. Even the paternity test was fake. That Mrs. Sun is definitely not my biological mother. Then, it should be just as you guessed. Madam Cheng is the real Xie Qiuran.”

Sun Xiaoshan was a little older than Jiang Yao, so Mrs. Sun could not clearly explain Sun Xiaoshan’s identity. She could not prove that she was Jiang Yao’s biological mother.

“If I tell Mrs. Sun that my teacher can’t cure congenital heart disease, do you think she will still cling to me?” Jiang Yao raised her eyebrows and snorted. “No wonder I did not like Mrs. Sun from the first time I saw her. She was born with a bad character, so I was ruthless toward her... Even though Sun Xiaoshan might be my cousin, I still don't like her."

Chapter 1299: Send Me To Jail

Jiang Yao told Lu Xingzhi that she could cure congenital heart disease, but she did not like Mrs. Sun, so she would not treat Sun Xiaoshan.

The term benevolent doctor sometimes worked well for her, but sometimes it did not.

She was a normal person with emotions, not a goddess to help all living beings.

Lu Xingzhi grunted but did not say anything. He just hugged Jiang Yao and coaxed her to rest early. After a few days of traveling, even a man like him felt tired, let alone the petite Jiang Yao.

After confirming that Jiang Yao was asleep, Lu Xingzhi took out his phone and made a call. He asked people to start paying attention to information about Master Cheng, who was overseas, or rather, to detail about Madam Cheng.

Jiang Yao thought that Mrs. Sun, who was taken away by the police, would not be able to cause any trouble. She did not expect a person she had never seen before would be waiting at the Jiang family's door the following day. As soon as he saw the Jiang family's door open, he directly barged into the compound.

"Who are you?" Jiang Yao looked at the young man who was fighting with Mr. Jiang in the courtyard. She said in an unfriendly tone, "This is our home, not the main road."

"You must be Jiang Yao, right?" The man recognized Jiang Yao at a glance. "I'm your uncle, your mother's cousin. I'm here to talk to you and explain on behalf of your mother."

"I don't want to hear what you want to say. Get Out." Jiang Yao raised her hand and pointed at the door.

The man scolded her, "Jiang Yao, you can't be as heartless as you are. That's your biological mother."

"So what if I'm heartless? Is that against the law? Take me to jail then." Jiang Yao crossed her arms; she was not afraid. Her self-proclaimed uncle's rebuke did not even make her eyebrows twitch.

What nonsense! Mrs. Sun's identity was fake. How dare she talk to her about being heartless?

The man was speechless. He had never seen anyone so brazenly admit that they were a heartless person. Even a genuinely cruel person would defend themselves. After all, that was a matter of respect.

The man knew that it was impossible for him to speak to Jiang Yao alone, so he immediately spoke in the courtyard. "Jiang Yao, are you disowning your mother because of Sun Xiaoshan's matter? Sun Xiaoshan is your aunt's daughter. She is your cousin. Your mother was heartbroken when she lost you, and something happened to your aunt. Your cousin lost her father and mother, so your mother took pity on her and raised her by her side. However, your cousin can't replace you, a biological daughter. Your mother still feels pain when she thought of you all those years ago. Your cousin's health isn't great. She was born with a heart attack, so she doesn't want to provoke her. She doesn't know about all these, so your mother wants to know whether you can keep this a secret from your cousin for the time being."

That story was precisely the same as what Jiang Yao and Lu Xingzhi had guessed when they were in Shu City. After Jiang Yao heard it, she wanted to applaud Mrs. Sun and that man who claimed to be her uncle.

That story was made up as if it were real. It was not creative at all. It was exactly as they had guessed.

“If she is my biological mother, why did she fake the paternity test?” Jiang Yao laughed coldly.

Chapter 1300: All About The Heart

“Fake?” The man scratched his head. “How can it be fake? Who knows what’s going on in the hospital? Did the hospital make a mistake? Did they give the wrong result? But the result is right!”

“Tell her to come to me with a real paternity test result, and we’ll talk then.”

Jiang Yao pointed at the door. “If you don’t go out now, I’ll call for my husband. My husband is a soldier, and it hurts when he hits people. Don’t say that I didn’t warn you.”

“You!” The man was furious. “I’m your uncle!”

“Get lost!”

Mr. Jiang dragged the man out of the door and chased him out. “Didn’t you hear what my daughter said? Get a real paternity test result before you come here! You’re only using a fake one to fool us. Fortunately, my daughter is smart and was not fooled by you!”

Mr. Jiang carried a hoe with him. Then, he closed the door to the house.

Jiang Yao watched through the locked door as the so-called uncle cursed and swore like a local hooligan on the street, swaggering away. He even turned around and spat in the direction where her father had left. It was extremely rude.

After walking for more than 200 meters, the man bumped into Mrs. Sun, who had not shown up yet. As soon as the man saw Mrs. Sun, he complained, “Cousin, what kind of daughter is that? She has been mocking me ever since I entered the house. She has no upbringing at all. To think that I’m her uncle!”

“What kind of upbringing can a wild child raised in a small village have? Do you think all the children in the world are as obedient as my Xiaoxiao?” Mrs. Sun seemed to like hearing her cousin scold Jiang Yao. A smile appeared on her face. “Did you tell her what I asked you to say to her?”

“I did, but she did not respond. I told you to get the real paternity test and then say that you’re related to her. In my opinion, that child is an ingrate. Even if you can get the paternity test, she won’t recognize you.” The man pursed his lips, “What’s more, you—”

The rest of his words were stunned by Mrs. Sun’s gaze, and he silently swallowed them.

“Why do you want to acknowledge her anyway? She’s not even your daughter. But I heard that her man’s family is rich. Is that true? Is she even richer than your husband’s family?” The man looked greedily in the direction of the Jiang family. “If she’s wealthy, then it’s not bad to have such a relative.”

“Do you think the Lu family members are fools? Do you think that their money would fall into my hands?” Mrs. Sun asked mockingly.

“If it’s not for money, then why are you going through so much trouble?”

The man looked at Mrs. Sun like she was crazy. “You’re running back and forth without spending money? Doesn’t Xiaoshan need money to treat her illness? Or is your family rich?”

“If it’s not for money, can it be for something else?”

Mrs. Sun’s gaze gradually became vicious. “It’s never about money. I’m after the heart in her body!”

“Heart?!”

Mrs. Sun’s viciousness immediately suppressed the man’s expression. “Cousin, are you trying to take her life?”

“So what if I am?”

Mrs. Sun’s expression became somewhat crazed. “My daughter is living a life worse than death in the hospital. I envy every ordinary person who can jump when they want to, laugh when they’re happy, throw a tantrum when they’re angry, and feel sad when they’re unhappy. Her heart can’t wait for her. The doctors in Jindo City say that if I can’t find a suitable heart for surgery, my daughter will die in less than a year!”
