

Nothing to Give but My Heart Chapter 1310 – 1319

Chapter 1310

When she ran downstairs, Jessica hurried home again and stuffed her bag back into her closet. It was full of pregnancy test sticks. It would be miserable if Victor Han saw it.

Wrong.

Jessica's movements stopped for a moment, and then she stared at her bag in a daze.

Why would Victor Han come to the store to look for her at this time?

“So Jessica thought of Lin Xuzheng who came to see her not long ago, didn't it? But... Brother Lin clearly agreed to keep it secret for himself? Why did you turn your head and tell it?”

While thinking about it, Jessica's mobile phone in her pocket vibrated, shocking her in the quiet environment, Jessica quickly took it out and took a look.

Then she almost stopped breathing!

Because of Victor Han, the person who called her.

Jessica took a deep breath, calmed her breathing, and then answered the phone, “Hello?”

“I’m going to look for you.” Victor Han called Jessica after hearing what Janis said, and Janis also told Victor Han about Jessica’s performance today.

“No, I’m going out right away, you are waiting for me, I will come to you.”

Jessica was about to turn around after speaking, but Victor Han’s firm tone came from the phone.

“Be obedient, wait for me at home, and don’t move.”

Jessica: “...”

“I am your boyfriend. These are all things I should do. There are some things I don’t understand. You can call me instead of walking towards me all the time, understand?”

Jessica would feel very moved if these gentle words were heard in normal times, but today she heard Victor Han’s words, but the more she heard them, the more frightened she became.

Because Victor Han is not like this usually, and suddenly became so considerate, could it be that she thought she was pregnant? That’s why you treated her like this?

Jessica bit her lower lip, “Um, do you know...”

“Ok?”

“No, nothing, are you really coming over?”

“Well, wait obediently. Auntie said that you are not feeling well today. I will take you to the hospital for an examination.”

After that, Victor Han hung up the phone, because he said he was coming, so Jessica didn't bother to run away, and simply stayed at home.

The question she should think about now is whether Victor Han came here because Lin Xuzheng had said something to him, and also became so considerate.

What if he thinks she is pregnant? How can she explain?

She hasn't tested it yet, and she doesn't know whether she is pregnant or not. After all, her menstrual period has been delayed for two days.

And she was not allowed during her menstrual period.

She is now both nervous and expectant, if not, then her expectation will fall to nothing.

Jessica changed her clothes and sat obediently in the living room. Before Victor Han came, she had been thinking about how she would tell Victor Han about this matter.

In this way, time passed.

When the phone rang, Jessica heard Victor Han say: "Open the door, I'm outside."

Jessica got up to open the door, and she saw him.

She bit her lower lip subconsciously, "Why did you come over suddenly? Shouldn't you be working in the company at this time? Could it be... Brother Lin went to you?"

When talking about the latter, Jessica's tone was obviously weaker, and she looked at Victor Han timidly: "Did Brother Lin tell you something?"

Victor Han walked in step by step, originally planning to take off her shoes, but thinking of taking her to the hospital for examination, he did not take off her shoes, just looked at her and said, "There are some things you should tell me yourself."

Hearing, Jessica's heart jumped.

"Wh, what do you mean..." She was so nervous that her lips trembled a bit, did Victor Han really know? Lin Xuzheng really told him? But... he clearly promised her!

con man! big liar!

For some reason, Jessica felt that she had been badly deceived, and she was very angry and angry.

Just as Jessica's mood was ups and downs, Victor Han had already approached her, put a strand of hair on her cheeks behind her ears, and held her white side face with warm palms.

"How to be a good boyfriend."

Ok? Jessica's eyes turned, "I don't quite understand, what you mean..."

"Lin Xuzheng told me that you were very busy running up and down in the store, saying that I didn't know I cared about you."

Jessica: "???"

Huh?

“It’s just that?” Jessica’s eyes widened, she was really scared to death just now, “I thought...”

“Why?” Victor Han looked at her carefully, “You have something to hide from me?”

“No!”

Jessica denied it quickly, and laughed: “How could I keep things from you? You don’t need to care about what Brother Lin told you. Opening a store is already very busy, and you are also very busy in the company. , You are so busy, how can you have time...”

She hadn’t finished speaking, the person in front of her bent over and took her into his arms, with a slightly hot breath spitting out from the back of her neck.

“Stupid, asking your boyfriend, acting like a baby, and being self-willed are all things you should do. You don’t have to be too sensible in front of me. If you are busy, don’t give me soup. Why are you so tired?”

Jessica originally had her hands hanging on both sides, but now she lifted it slightly, and carefully hugged Victor Han, and whispered: “I, I just want to meet you. I’m not tired. I’m very happy. .”

She sees Victor Han once a day, and when she sees him drinking the soup she cooks and eating the food she makes, she feels full of power throughout her body. How could she be tired?

Victor Han was silent for a long time after hearing her words.

If Jessica hadn’t taken the initiative, maybe he would have taken the initiative. Once Jessica had taken the initiative, he would become passive, maybe... he was wrong.

If it hadn't been for Lin Xuzheng to remind him, he might not know anything.

And his little girl still stupidly ran to the company every day to see him without saying anything.

Really stupid, too stupid.

But the more she was so innocent and without any calculations, and she had nothing to do with him in this relationship, and never expected anything, the more she made Victor Han feel guilty and liked her more and more.

His little girl...

Victor Han used his strength to hug her tightly in his arms.

Jessica didn't know what happened to Victor Han, only felt that his arms were so hot.

"That..." Jessica poked his back lightly with a finger, "Did you come here because of this?"

"Yeah. I heard your aunt said that you are not well, shall we go to the hospital now?"

"No, I'm just a little tired, my mother misunderstood."

"Tired? Then I will take a break with you?"

As soon as the voice fell, Victor Han's cell phone rang, he let go of Jessica and took the phone to answer the call.

"Mr. Victor, there is a document that needs your signature. May I ask you now..."

“Let it go, sign tomorrow.”

Su Jiu: “But this file will be used this afternoon, Mr. Victor...”

“Push it until tomorrow, first.”

Then Victor Han hung up the phone without any hesitation, Jessica was stunned as she looked next to her: “You can’t come here without finishing any work, right?”

Chapter 1311

Victor Han put the phone away and held her hand.

“Go, aren’t you tired? Go and rest.”

Jessica stood still and pushed him hard: “You answer me, you should be at work at this time. It was Secretary Su who called you just now, right? Is there something in the company? I’m fine. You don’t have to come to accompany me specially, you go back, the company is important...well.”

In front of him, it suddenly became black and his lips were sealed tightly.

Jessica pushed him, but Victor Han held his wrist and buckled her behind him, then he leaned over to deepen the kiss.

One second, two seconds...

She doesn’t know how long it took, Jessica’s whole body was kissed dizzy, clinging weakly to Victor Han’s arms, and then he was picked up by her waist and walked towards the bedroom.

When Jessica reacted, she was already placed on the soft bed, and Victor Han was taking off his shoes.

When the snow-white feet were held in his palm, Jessica's face couldn't help but flushed, and she subconsciously wanted to retract her feet.

Victor Han caught her foot, raised his eyes and raised his eyebrows to look at her: "Afraid of me?"

Jessica flinched, shook her head, tried to retract her feet again, how to kiss and get to the bed...

Does he want to be here?

Just when Jessica was thinking about it, Victor Han had taken the initiative to let her go, and then pulled a side quilt to cover her.

"Sleep well."

The warm palms fell on her cheeks, and after a while they covered her head and gently touched her hair.

She doesn't know why, this action reminds Jessica of her father.

"Because when I was young, my father liked to touch her head like this, with a kind expression and a loving smile on her face."

Jessica's father did this movement and she wouldn't feel anything. Now when she sees Victor Han pursing his thin lips, doing this movement blankly.

No matter how you look at it, she feels that it is extremely contrary.

Ahem...

Jessica don't open her face, blushing honestly: "Then what about you, are you going back to the company?"

"Look at you."

"What?"

"Do you want me to stay with you?"

When asked this question, Victor Han's voice was deliberately lowered a few points, giving people a very seductive feeling, as if deliberately teasing her.

Jessica immediately shook her head: "Don't do it, there are so many things in the company, you go back first."

"Which so many words? Close your eyes and go to sleep first, and leave the rest alone."

Jessica: "...oh."

She closed her eyes, but after closing her eyes, she could always feel Victor Han's gaze falling on her face, which made her very uncomfortable, so she opened her eyes again and saw Victor Han staring at her.

After the two people met, Jessica turned around and changed her actions.

Turn your back to him.

If he were to stare at her to sleep again, she would definitely not be able to sleep, so she had to face his back.

And Victor Han probably understood her predicament, and had no other sign of her turning around, still sitting quietly beside her.

The room was very quiet. At first, Jessica could hear the breathing of avoiding Victor Han and her own breathing. Later, she gradually became sleepy.

The eyelids became heavier and heavier until they were completely closed without hearing any sound.

Victor Han kept guarding her until he heard the girl's even breathing. He was not in a hurry. He waited quietly for a while to make sure that the girl was asleep. Then he got up to cover her with the quilt, and watched. In her sleep, she looked at it for a while, then leaned over and dropped a soft kiss on her forehead.

Jessica slept in a daze, feeling as if something soft had fallen on her forehead. The touch was very soft, almost like jelly.

But soon, this feeling disappeared.

She didn't study it carefully, and soon lost consciousness again.

By the time she woke up, it was already night, Jessica rubbed her eyes and lifted the quilt to sit up and saw that it was dark outside the window and there were conversations coming from the living room.

She got up and put on slippers and walked outside while yawning.

When she walked to the living room, Jessica was still rubbing her messy hair, yawning one after another, why was she still so sleepy? She really want to sleep for a while.

But soon, Jessica's sleepworm was scared away, because she saw an extra-long figure in the living room. At this moment, the man was sitting on the sofa, his legs were so long that there was almost no place to rest. , And his cold face was slightly sideways, his face was kind, and he was talking with Father Zhou.

Han Han Victor Han! !

Jessica's consciousness finally returned. She thought of Victor Han's visit to her before going to bed, but she didn't expect that she would wake up in her own home.

And she ran out like this, without looking in the mirror, Jessica knew how sloppy she looked at this time.

Fortunately, Victor was talking with Father Zhou and didn't notice this.

So when she was going to sneak back to the room to change clothes, Janis's voice rang out of time.

"Yan Yan, you girl is finally willing to get up? But why are you standing there stupidly? Hurry up to clean up and wash your face and hands to prepare for dinner."

Jessica, who was about to sneak along the room quietly: "..."

And because Janis had said something, Father Zhou and Victor Han over there also followed the sound source and saw Jessica.

Jessica was so annoyed that she was so anxious that she wanted to find a seam to drill down. However, it was too late at this time, and she couldn't see what Victor Han's expression was like. Turning around, she stepped on her slippers and ran in. In his own room.

Boom!

After closing the door, Jessica rushed into the bathroom to wash her face and brush her teeth. She combed her hair and found that her hair was messed up by her sleep, but now it is completely too late to wash her hair. There is no other way but to tie a ball head and change into a vigorous daily outfit.

But she doesn't seem to have a very good complexion, how about a lipstick?

But is it too deliberate to add lipstick now?

Jessica took out a lip gloss and opened it, and gestured to herself in the mirror. Should we paint it?

A bit tangled.

Knocking——

While thinking about it, suddenly someone knocked on her door, and Xiao was surprised by the knock on the door, and poked her mouth with the lip gloss when she flicked her hand.

Ahhh!!

Jessica almost jumped up, so she could only put down her lip gloss quickly and wipe the lip gloss off her mouth with a tissue.

“You damn girl, what are you doing inside? I asked you to clean up. You have to clean up for so long?” Janis's voice came from the outside. Jessica's lip gloss was specially bought, and it was said that it was a non-stick cup during the promotion. It is not easy to decolorize, it is a must-have lip gloss for every girl, and so after listening to it, she bought it.

“But later found out that the upper lip would still be a little discolored after dipping the cup. She still said behind the back that the slogan of this lip gloss was too deceptive! But when I put it on my skin today, why is it so hard to rub?”

Chapter 1312

Because her skin is white and the color of the lip gloss is heavy, even if she wipes it quickly, there are still traces left on the fair skin.

Jessica had no choice but to take the makeup remover cotton compress and put it on as she said, "It will be done soon."

"You girl, what are you doing with you?"

"Auntie, go sit down first."

Victor Han's voice suddenly rang outside the door, Jessica was taken aback, why did he come too? Why come to join in the fun this time?

Fortunately, she removed the lip gloss, but what was worse was that the foundation she had used before was removed.

Jessica: "..."

It's really right that the fleeting year is unfavorable today, no matter what she does is not going well.

Jessica can only remove all the foundation and wash her face with facial cleanser.

When Victor Han opened the door and came in, he saw her coming out of the bathroom with water drops on her face.

The two faced each other.

Jessica suddenly wanted to cry in her heart. She clearly wanted to behave better in front of him, but why did she mess up again? She could only smile awkwardly and explained: "I just woke up not long ago, so I wanted to wash If you have a face, you will be more energetic."

“Yeah.” Victor Han nodded, took out a veil from his pocket and walked forward to wipe off the drops of water on Jessica’s face.

“Okay, let’s go out to eat, uncle and aunt have been waiting for you for a long time.”

Jessica just wanted to take the veil and wash him clean, but Victor Han had put it away and took her out. In fact, Jessica wanted to ask, why would he stay and have dinner with us??? Is he always here in the afternoon?

“You won’t stay by my bed and watch me sleep, will you?”

However, when these questions came to her lips, she still didn’t ask them in the end.

After going out, Zhou’s father and Zhou’s mother had already sat down. When watching them walk over, Janis stretched out her hand to push her husband, “Old man, do you think they two match well?”

Father Zhou was wearing presbyopic glasses, he glanced at the two of them when he heard the words, and then said: “Mr. Victor is indeed a talented person, that is, our girl is a bit...”

“I’m pooh, what are you talking about, the girl is yours, are you hurting your girl like this?”

“Just because it’s my girl, I know what she is like.”

“Hmph, I don’t care, anyway, my daughters are more than enough to match anyone. Two people are good matches and they are right.”

Father Zhou: “...”

He doesn't bother to care about Janis anymore, and the relationship is not the right thing to say, it's all about the person involved. Some people look very similar in appearance, but what can be done if the heart is not close?

At first, after Zhou's father knew that his daughter's boyfriend was President Han of the Han Group, Zhou's father was actually shocked.

Those who don't know may not know what kind of concept Han's enterprise is, but Zhou's father, who worked in Ye's Group, really knows it too well.

Ye's Group, Han's Group, and Lin's Group are all well-known. In the past, Zhou's father arranged Jessica to join the company, hoping that his ordinary daughter could find someone who works in the company, and then after marriage He lived with Meimei and married her son, but she didn't expect her to leave midway, making him very angry, but later Zhou's father also figured it out. He thinks that his daughter is happy. Only life and health are the most important thing in a person's life.

Of course, if he hadn't walked through the ghost gates, he might not have understood the truth, so he always thought that the people his daughter liked should be ordinary, and even more powerful would be a company management, but he didn't expect she actually took Mr. Victor home.

Although the daughter's boyfriend is very good and makes Zhou's father very happy, as a father, he is both happy and a little worried.

After all, it was Victor Han from the Han group. He had heard some rumors before that he knew that Victor Han was not close to women, and that no woman had ever appeared around him. Suddenly he was with his daughter. Is it because he has reached his age? Want to get married? So just pick a woman to make up the number?

"But no matter how much you make up, it is impossible to get your own daughter."

Later, Janis told him that Jessica and Victor Han's sisters were good sisters. They had been meeting each other when they were abroad before, and Zhou's father was a little relieved.

But despite this, he was still worried.

Of course he loves his daughter, and it is normal that because he loves his daughter, he is worried that Jessica and Victor Han will be wronged together. After all, what if such an excellent man doesn't care about his daughter at all?

"What will you throw away when you say throw away in the future?"

Of course, Father Zhou held these words in his heart and didn't say it.

It was the first time Victor Han came to the house as a guest. He didn't have time to bring anything, but Janis bought a lot of good things to entertain him.

"Victor Han, it's the first time you came to aunt's house for dinner. Auntie didn't know your taste, so she probably did some of it. Don't dislike it."

As soon as she was on the table, Janis spoke to Victor Han enthusiastically.

Zhou Jessica and Victor Han were sitting together. They were stunned when they saw the dishes on the table. She grew up so old and had so many meals at home. This was the only time she had seen the heartiest meal. Can be comparable to the hotel's five-star supply.

A bit extravagant, Jessica thought.

There must be so many things to eat.

Victor Han was also quite surprised, but seeing Janis's enthusiastic smile, he knew that Jessica's mother was very enthusiastic to him, and of course he might also be afraid of neglecting him because of his identity, so he let go of all the indifference and defense on his body. , Said softly: "Auntie doesn't need to be so busy in the future, I'm not picky about eating, and everything is fine."

Janis smiled: "How can these be homemade dishes? You must not be used to it? But in this life, it is better to eat more homemade dishes. You can't always eat foreign food, although my aunt is more skillful in cooking. Not as good as those big chefs, but my aunt is definitely healthy and hygienic."

Jessica listened to Janis's broken thoughts and felt very embarrassed. Generally, only restaurants that did not pass the sanitation standards would be unsanitary, but the kind of five- or six-star chefs, or the chefs that Victor Han invited home, They must be qualified, and they also pay attention to health preservation.

"Mom..." Jessica interrupted her, "Let's eat."

After speaking, she looked at Victor Han and said carefully: "If you are not used to eating, then we can..."

"No." Victor Han smiled, "This feeling is very warm, I haven't experienced it for many years."

Later on, he was always alone, and he was also a deserted person when he ate. When he was in high school, he and Lin Xuzheng went to his home for the New Year. That was how Lin Xuzheng's hometown was, and he made a big table during the holidays. Food, and then a group of people gathered around, talking and laughing, very lively.

Chapter 1313

After the excitement, there is only infinite loneliness left behind.

So later, Victor Han was no longer willing to follow Lin Xuzheng home to celebrate the New Year.

Because every time he goes back home every year, he has to face the kind of big cold house. Although there are servants, there are no relatives in it.

He was also afraid that he would go too many times, and that he would be more and more unable to bear the loneliness in the future, so he stood up hard, and of course no one would know what he was going through and what kind of light he was in.

Jessica doesn't know much about his past. Now when he says this, there seems to be a flash of loneliness in his eyes, but soon he is enveloped by other emotions and can't see it anymore. Jessica wants to anxiously. Went to search, but couldn't find it.

"Look at what I do? Eat well." Victor Han's hand moved around the table, held her palm, and squeezed her gently.

With this kind of action, Jessica's face immediately turned red in front of her parents, so she didn't look around, and immediately lowered her head to eat.

The Zhou couple on the opposite side couldn't help a faint smile in their eyes watching the interaction between the couple.

At the beginning of the meal, everyone was a little cramped, but gradually began to chat. Zhou's father began to talk with Victor Han about some work-related issues. Later, when talking about certain companies, Victor Han's attitude has always been very good, and Zhou's father I got interested and wanted to drink.

But because he was injured in the last car accident, Zhou's father decided to keep in good health. When Janis heard that he was going to drink, she immediately squinted at him.

“Isn’t it for health preservation? What wine do you drink for health preservation?”

Father Zhou immediately patted his thigh, and said, “Isn’t this Victor Han coming? I’m happy, so I will accompany him for a few drinks.”

Janis didn’t want to agree to it, but after thinking about it, Victor Han finally came here. Anyway, he just drank it once today, and it was nothing.

So she agreed.

Seeing that Zhou’s father was in high spirits, Jessica could only get up to get the wine, and then said to Zhou’s father, “Dad, happy to be happy, you can’t drink too much.”

“Go, go, what is the little girl doing with so many movies?”

Jessica sat down next to Victor Han again, and whispered: “My dad used to drink well, so don’t drink too much for a while.”

What should we do if he is too drunk? How will he go back then?

“Yeah.” Victor Han replied, and his big hand stretched out from under the table and held Jessica’s hand tightly. Jessica’s face turned red and tried to pull her hand back, but Victor Han used some strength, so that Jessica never pulled his hand back.

Because her parents were opposite, Zhou Jessica didn’t dare to make any major moves. After a few strokes, he didn’t pull his hand back, so he gave up.

After that, the two men started drinking. Janis was worried about Father Zhou’s body. When he was drinking, she got up and went to the kitchen to make soup. She was ready to use it later if the two were drunk.

Father Zhou said to drink a little at the beginning, but when he really drank it, it was really non-stop, and the more he drank, the higher he got. In fact, most men's friendships are very simple, no matter what hatred, just drink together. If they do, they will become brothers, or they will let go of their guards.

And Zhou's father is such a person. Before, he thought Victor Han was a little unreliable, and he was a little prejudiced about his identity, but now seeing that the other party is willing to sit and drink with him like this, after talking about the world, Zhou's father has less prejudices against Victor Han. Deepened, he kept pulling him to talk.

"Xiao Qing..."

Zhou Jessica on the side was a little embarrassed when he heard this call, "Dad..."

"No problem." Victor Han squeezed her palm again and gave her a calm look.

After Janis walked out of the kitchen, she called Jessica, Jessica had to get up, and Victor Han released her hand.

Jessica ran into the kitchen.

"Mom, what's the matter?"

"How's your boyfriend Victor Han drink? Can you drink it? Your dad's drink amount, just drink it, just in case..."

Victor Han's alcohol volume?

Jessica has a headache because Victor Han's drink volume seems to be very good. When she was not with Victor Han before, she used to take Stella and Victor Han out to toast. She kept drinking until the end. They were all drunk, but when she recalled the next day, Victor Han was steady and steady, and in the end he took her back, and then...

Jessica was embarrassed to remember the later things, a bit embarrassing.

And she was hurt by his words the next day, even now, thinking of those words still hurt her heart.

“What’s the matter?” Janis waved her hand in front of Zhou Jessica. Zhou Jessica recovered and saw Janis staring at her, and then shook her head: “Nothing, just remembering, mom, Victor Han’s drinking its good, but don’t let them drink too much.”

“That’s over.” When Janis heard it, the expression on her face immediately became sad: “If your father, a drunkard, let him catch a good drinker, he must have a drink with others all night. I knew it should have been stopped. “

“But didn’t Mom stop it just now? Dad is very interested, forget it, it should be fine for one night.”

Although Jessica is also a little worried, but drinking too much is very sad, but if it is only for one night, it shouldn’t be a big problem, right? And tonight is special after all, so Jessica didn’t have too strong an intention to stop it.

“Forget it, let them drink if they want to drink, but your boyfriend has to go to work tomorrow. You should go out and tell him later, let him pretend to be drunk, if your dad sees him being drunk by himself I will definitely not drink anymore.”

“Well, I know Mom.”

When the mother and son came out of the kitchen, they already had sober soup in their hands. As soon as they smelled the odor, Zhou’s father wrinkled his nose in dissatisfaction: “You said we are drinking wine, this Soon after drinking, what sober soup you will make?”

Although this sounded a bit of blame, Father Zhou’s tone and eyes were full of helplessness, and he didn’t mean to blame.

“What’s wrong? Can’t I prepare it for you in advance? Do I have to wait until you drink and get on the ground before I cook?” Janis gave Father Zhou a glance without hesitation.

Father Zhou: “...”

“Look at what you guys say, how could I drink and get down? My neighbors know how much alcohol I drink!”

Jessica also took the hangover soup and sat down next to Victor Han. Taking advantage of the time between Father Zhou and Janis talking, she quietly approached Victor Han’s ear, and whispered: “My dad is not only good at drinking, but also good at winning. He will definitely drink until he drinks it down.”

Hearing, Victor Han had a faint smile on his lips, he gave Jessica a look, and then patted her hand gently from under the table to signal her peace of mind.

Chapter 1314

After receiving his eyes, Jessica probably knew that Victor Han understood what she meant, and at this time Father Zhou also came back to his senses, “What did Xiaoya film tell you, Xiaoqing? Come on, Xiaoqing we continue to drink.”

“Good uncle.”

Victor Han raised his glass and touched Zhou's father's glass again.

One cup, two cups, three cups...

Jessica looked anxiously beside him, because time passed by, but neither of them had any intention to stop.

She had clearly mentioned it to Victor Han just now, could it be that he didn't understand what she meant? This is impossible. According to his IQ, he can guess it even without her.

So what is his reason for doing this?

Just when Jessica was about to say something, Victor Han became drunk, but he still held the cup steadily and placed it on the table, then smiled a little apologetically at Father Zhou.

"Sorry, Auntie, I'm a little overwhelmed with alcohol."

Hearing that, Father Zhou was overjoyed in an instant, patted his thigh and said, "Xiaoqing, you got drunk so soon? You are not good at drinking? How much did you drink!"

Janis on the side listened to her and pinched Father Zhou in a small gesture. Father Zhou knew what she meant, but she was still very happy at the moment.

"Really can't drink anymore? I just started warming up, I didn't drink it!"

In fact, Father Zhou had almost drunk, he knew he could not drink too much, but once some things started, as long as the other party was not defeated, he was embarrassed to call to stop, so he could only stay in a stalemate.

If Victor Han falls, then he won't have to drink anymore if he has gained face, and he has the best of both worlds.

So on the surface, Father Zhou seemed to be calling Victor Han to accompany him to continue drinking, but what he thought in his heart was to fall down quickly. I don't have to drink if you fall.

And Victor Han did not fail his expectations, propped his forehead with one hand, "I'm sorry, uncle, it's really too much to drink."

Father Zhou: "How can this work? How long have you been drinking now, Xiaoqing, you..."

"Okay, are you?" Janis squeezed Father Zhou again. This time she squeezed his strength a little harder. She gave Father Zhou a fierce look and complained: "Can you be a little bit older than Xiaoqing? I can't say enough to drink, do you want him to drink?"

"Cough cough..." Father Zhou coughed lightly and waved his hand: "Okay, since Xiaoqing is too strong to drink, then stop drinking, Yan Yan girl, give your boyfriend some hangover soup, and then help him to rest. Right."

Hearing this, Jessica sighed greatly, and quickly brought the hangover soup next to Victor Han, "Drink a little first, and then I will help you to rest."

Victor Han took a few sips, and then Jessica helped him to rest.

As soon as people left, Father Zhou, who had been stiffening, finally released the cup in his hand at this moment, and then lay weakly on the table, while sighing: "Jessica, this boyfriend...the drinker is not light."

Hearing, Janis couldn't help rolling her eyes all the time, disgustingly said: "That's not it, and people are young, what good is it for you to drink him? If possible, he is still our future son-in-law!"

Father Zhou lay on the table, motionless, only saying: “You don’t understand, I’m trying him.”

“Try? What to try?”

“Try his true heart for our beauty.”

When Janis heard this, she became even more speechless: “Try your sincerity? You are really amazing. You, try your sincerity by drinking.”

“Huh, you don’t understand, I don’t want to explain it to you!” Father Zhou, who was already a little drunk, began to play a child’s temper. Janis had no choice but to coax him to drink sober soup. Who knew that Father Zhou was actually Say: “Who wants to drink that kind of thing? I drink so well, I don’t need it at all. Take it away, I don’t drink it.”

“Don’t drink it? This is the sober soup that I have worked so hard to make. Do you dare to drink, Believe it or not, that my old lady hacked you?”

Father Zhou: “...”

The other Jessica helped Victor Han walk to his room. When she walked into the room and saw his bed full of girlish hearts, Jessica’s mind reacted with a thud.

Why did she bring someone to her room? Actually, they have a guest room at home, so she can take him to the guest room.

When Jessica was hesitant to change lanes midway, Victor Han was already lying on the bed with her support.

Jessica: “...”

Okay, now it's impossible to change lanes.

After Victor Han lay down, he closed his eyes and raised his hand to squeeze his temples, frowning slightly, looking painful.

“Are you okay?” Jessica was still embarrassed, but after seeing him like this, all the embarrassment was gone. She sat down on the edge of the bed and looked at Victor Han nervously.

She suddenly thought of something, got up and said: “You wait a moment.”

Then ran into the bathroom, took a towel, washed it and wrung out, and ran back to wipe Victor Han's sweat.

Victor Han drank a lot of alcohol. In fact, his alcohol volume was not bad, but he would inevitably feel uncomfortable if he drank too much. She felt something cold and cold on his forehead. Victor Han opened his eyes, a pair of pale colors. His eyes saw his little girl wiping his forehead and cheeks for him with a nervous expression on her face.

Seeing him open his eyes, Jessica couldn't help but said, “Why don't you listen to me? If you admit defeat earlier, wouldn't it be all right? Wouldn't it be uncomfortable to have to drink the way it is now? Or I can cook it again. Sober up?”

As soon as she finished speaking, Victor Han held her hand.

“No trouble, I'm fine.” Victor Han's thin lips were pursed, and he said lightly. In fact, there is a reason why he didn't admit defeat so early. As a man, how could he not see the temptation in Father Zhou's eyes and admit defeat. Yes, but he neither defeated too early nor too late, so Victor Han could only control the time and the amount of alcohol, and he would accept it when it was almost time.

So judging from the look behind Zhou's father, he should be successful.

Just don't tell the little girl about these things.

Victor Han took away the towel in her hand, and then pressed one of his hands, Jessica's body leaned forward, and then one hand was wrapped around her, holding her tightly.

Jessica lay directly on Victor Han's body.

"Uh..."

What is he doing? Jessica subconsciously wanted to struggle. After all, this was in her own home, and her parents were there. They didn't close the door when she helped him in just now. What if Janis ran in because of worry and saw this scene later?

That's embarrassing.

While Jessica was pushing and struggling, Victor Han tightened the force in his hands, and leaned his chin gently on Jessica's head. The sweet and greasy breath of a girl lingered between his nose.

"Don't move, let me hold it for a while."

His voice was hoarse, but it was deeply impressed on Jessica's heart.

Chapter 1315

After that, Jessica really didn't move anymore, lying on Victor Han's body obediently. Because Victor Han's voice sounded not only hoarse, but also a bit tired, probably because of drinking too much alcohol, she couldn't help much at this time, so she could only be as good as possible.

It didn't take long for Jessica to feel that the breathing of the person in front of her seemed to become smooth and even.

She blinked her eyes, guessing, is he asleep?

No, she's still lying on him right now, he just fell asleep holding himself?

Jessica waited for a while, his breathing was still steady.

It seems to be really asleep.

At this time, there was a soft knock on the door. Jessica was surprised at first, and then quickly calmed down. She gently removed Victor Han's hand on her waist, and then got up and walked outside.

Janis stood outside the door waiting for her. Originally, she wanted to go in directly, but she thought that they were a boyfriend and girlfriend after all. If she saw something that shouldn't be seen, wouldn't it add embarrassment to the mother and daughter?

So Janis stood outside the door and waited for a while, and then knocked on the door when she heard the silence inside.

"Mom."

Jessica walked out, Janis kept looking behind her, "Where is Victor Han?"

"He... fell asleep." Jessica twitched her mouth, and then explained: "I fell asleep not long after I entered."

Fell asleep?

Janis was a little surprised, did this person sleep so fast?

“Didn’t you say that he has a good drinker? He fell asleep so soon? Is he drunk or?”

“It is estimated that he has been drinking too much, and he has been working a lot recently, so he is tired?” Jessica said casually. In fact, this is also her own guess. Victor Han has always managed the company alone. It’s very tiring. Although he doesn’t need to do a lot of trivial tasks, all he does is highly brain-consuming things. In addition, sometimes once the workload increases, his mind will always be in a very tired state.

So he fell asleep quickly.

“That’s the case. It’s really tiring to manage a company. If you marry him in the future, do you have to help him?”

The sudden question made Jessica’s face flushed: “Mom, that’s the future, who will know? I’ll talk about the future.”

After speaking, Jessica stepped forward and took Janis’s arm and led her away from the door of the room.

Janis was a little bit dissatisfied: “You girl is shy, I think he is not too young, is there no plan to start a family? Although you two have not been together for that long, you should be rushing to get married in the beginning. Right? You should calm down and think about this, otherwise, if he suddenly attacks the proposal one day in the future, how can you react?”

Propose?

Victor Han propose to her?

In any case, Jessica felt that she couldn’t imagine such a picture.

So how could a cold and steady person kneel down and propose to her?

But... that is a person who is so cold and steady, after they fall in love, he will take the initiative to ask her for a kiss, and when he was traveling abroad, his reaction that night was also very...

Anyway, it is very different from his usual steady and restrained appearance.

Jessica is embarrassed to continue thinking about it, and can only say, "Mom, don't talk nonsense anymore, I know this matter myself."

"I don't think you have counted them at all. Every time Mom mentions you, you avoid this topic. You girl doesn't want to play with other people's feelings? You just want to fall in love without getting married?"

Jessica: "..."

She really convinced Janis. How did she come up with this aspect?

"Huh? I got it right?"

"Mom, it's impossible... I won't be entangled with other men in this life except him, let alone marry other people." Jessica had to show loyalty.

"That's fine. He is not young anymore. You get married and have children earlier."

Jessica: "..."

She didn't want to continue talking, and when Janis mentioned this topic, the expression on her face became a little subtle, as if she thought of something important.

"By the way, last time you..."

“Mom, I still have something to do. I’ll go back and see him, I’m leaving now.”

After speaking, Jessica turned around and slid back to the room, closed the door, and leaned against the door with her chest. Fortunately, she slid fast, otherwise her mother’s inquiry could drive her crazy.

Jessica adjusted her breathing, then returned to the bed and saw Victor Han slept very deeply. She felt that she might not be able to sleep here tonight, or she would give him the room and go to the guest room to sleep by herself?

However, Jessica has become accustomed to taking a bath at night and sleeping. She has slept for a long time today and has not taken a bath yet.

It would be embarrassing to take a shower here.

Finally, Jessica took the clothes and ran to the guest room to take a shower.

When she came out of the shower, Jessica ran back to open the cabinet and took the quilt and pillow to the guest room.

When she was doing this, Janis didn’t know where she came out, leaning against the door and looking at her.

“I said Yan Yan, aren’t you all together? Why are you still moving into the guest room?”

Jessica: “...”

She felt that her mother was really gossiping, she even cared about her daughter’s emotional life, and also cared about such embarrassing issues.

“Mom, it’s late, won’t you go to bed?”

“My daughter doesn’t sleep, I chat with my daughter, what’s the problem?”

After finishing speaking, Janis even walked inside and sat down on the edge of the bed, “Look at you girl, the bed is not made well. Are the sheets made like this? After a while, you turn over and the sheets ran away.”

Janis laid the sheets for her while scorning her daughter, and then she mumbled about it before leaving.

Jessica finally breathed a sigh of relief, pulled the quilt and lay down on the bed. She slept too much in the afternoon. Now she is awake and thinking about things in her heart, so Jessica can’t sleep at all.

She turned over, then took out her mobile phone to search for signs of pregnancy, and fell asleep watching it.

Next day

When Victor Han woke up, his hand subconsciously leaned toward the bedside, trying to use the clock to see the time, but what he found was a comb.

He froze for a few seconds, opened his eyes, and his goal was the strange ceiling.

The surrounding area is light blue. When Jessica’s room was decorated, she chose blue as the theme. The light blue room was white, and the decoration looked like a girl’s room.

What lingers in the nose is the sweet and soft breath of girls, whether it is a quilt or a pillow.

And Victor Han discovered at this time that the quilt he covered was actually light blue, and it was a cartoon style.

After being silent for a while, Victor Han's thin lips curled up slightly.

Yes, he remembered. Yesterday he ran over to find the little girl, then drank wine and fell asleep with her.

Chapter 1316

Victor Han didn't move either, because he didn't seem to relax like this in a long time.

He just hugged her last night and quickly relaxed and then fell asleep.

Unexpectedly, when I woke up, it was already broad daylight.

He lay on the bed and looked at the room where the little girl lived. It was really completely different from the environment he lived in.

There are no extra colors in his room, the style is simple, and it looks boring. Although many people like the simple and generous, they will feel that there is no anger or meaning after a long time.

Suddenly seeing the girl's room, Victor Han only felt novel and energetic.

It's like a black and white world suddenly infused with color. A piece of dry land is infused with life.

He lay quietly.

The Jessica outside the door stood there tangled, because she was already awake, but at this time she was tangling whether or not to go in and call Victor Han to get up.

It's time for the company to go to work, but she is worried that Victor Han will sleep uncomfortably after drinking alcohol last night, so he will have a headache if she wakes him up too early.

Otherwise, let him sleep a little longer.

After making a decision, Jessica turned around and went back to the guest room.

Who knew that as soon as she sat down, Janis's voice rang, "Yan Yan, get up."

Accompanied by the sound of her voice, there was a loud knock on the door.

Jessica's face changed slightly, she stood up from the bed and rushed out to see Janis standing in front of her room, patting the door panel while calling.

When she saw Jessica standing in front of her, Janis was quite surprised: "Yan Yan? You actually got up? Where did you go?"

Jessica: "...Mom..."

Her face was embarrassed, Janis was taken aback, suddenly thought of something, and then looked into the room.

Because the first thing Janis wakes up in weekdays is to call her daughter to get up, because Jessica always stays in bed for a long time, so this has become a habit.

So Janis forgot about Victor Han resting in Jessica's room last night, and went straight to pat the door, only to react now.

Soon, Janis put her hands away, smiled awkwardly at Jessica, and walked forward and pushed Jessica back to the guest room.

“Mom didn’t mean it. I used to wake you up, so I forgot that Victor Han stopped in your house last night.”

The two people here were talking, and Victor Han also got up under Janis’s loud voice. He opened the door and raised his eyebrows when he saw that the door was empty.

And here, Jessica and Janis finished speaking. After they came out, Janis explained stiffly: “Xiaoqing, are you awake? Auntie forgot that you were in the room last night, thinking that Yan Yan was here. Where’s the girl, did you wake you up? Sorry!”

“Morning, you talk to Yan Yan, and my aunt will prepare breakfast.”

“Work.”

When Janis went to the kitchen, she thought to her that the boyfriend her daughter was looking for was really considerate, and it was a complete way of talking to her elders.

Jessica pulled Victor Han into the room, then found a new toothbrush and cup from her locker and handed it to him: “You can wash yourself first. Are there any discomforts?”

Victor Han reached out and rubbed his head, “No, I slept well.”

Hearing, Jessica breathed a sigh of relief: “That’s good.”

After breakfast, Victor Han drove back to the company.

His car stopped downstairs all night, and after he left, the neighbor ran up to Janis and the others to chat.

“Janis, who is the man who drove away just now? He looks so tall and handsome, isn’t it your Yan Yan boyfriend?”

“I remember there is no relative in your family? It must be your Yan Yan’s boyfriend. The boyfriend that Aunt Zhang introduced to your Yan Yan some time ago is so bad. Now this looks like a talent.”

“Yeah, Yan Yan, how did you find such a rich boyfriend?”

These people talked about each other, each one said and the other picked up again, Janis and Jessica were surrounded, hearing a lot of talk from each other, and only felt a headache.

However, Janis still admitted: “Yes, it’s our Yanyan boyfriend, but it doesn’t matter if we have money or not. The important thing is that we have good character and good looks for us. This is the most important thing.”

“Yes, yes, the most important thing is character, but Jessica, a boyfriend, is indeed very rich. What brand of car is he driving?”

“Where do you work? What academic qualifications? Are your parents alive? I’ll tell you Hou Yanyan, this man is best to find the kind of parents whose parents are dead, and you won’t have to be angry when you marry.”

Zhou Jessica: “...”

Although Victor Han’s parents were long gone, he felt extremely unhappy when he heard the other party’s remarks.

Before her seizures, Jessica's mother Janis frowned beforehand, staring at the man displeasably and said, "How do you guys talk? It all depends on fate."

"Oh, Janis, I didn't make a mistake. If you find a family with alive parents, this wealthy family, your Yanyan will definitely be aggrieved after marrying. I heard that, these wealthy mother-in-laws are better than each other. It's awesome, it's not easy to mess with!"

"Your Yan Yan is so honest, don't you want to bully when you marry in the future?"

In fact, some people didn't speak maliciously, but they were mean-mouthed. They liked to say something that others didn't like to hear. Just like these, she and Victor Han hadn't gotten to the place to discuss marriage, but they began to discuss the aliveness of their parents. Both parents died before.

This makes Jessica really uncomfortable. She doesn't like other people talking about her man right and wrong behind her back, no matter what it is.

So she interrupted aloud.

"Aunt Lin, you don't have to worry about my relationship life. If you are free, why not help your daughter-in-law with the children? I think she has to go to work every day, take the children, and do housework. Yes, to be honest, if the mother-in-law and daughter-in-law in the world can do their own thing, don't care about what they shouldn't, and won't fight."

Everyone: "..."

"What do you say, girl? We are just here to care about your marriage, why did we lose our temper?"

Jessica smiled faintly: "You don't need to care, come back."

After finishing talking, Zhou Jessica took Janis's hand and walked back, and a group of people cursed behind her back: "It's amazing, this week's daughter is now getting a big money, and her words are hard to speak."

"That's right, I didn't talk like that before, but now it's really... this person really changes when he meets money!"

Janis gave her daughter a helpless look.

"Why are you so angry?"

Jessica pursed her lips, the air pressure was a little heavy: "Victor Han's parents disappeared very early."

Chapter 1317

Hearing, Janis was a little surprised, "It's all gone?"

"Ok."

Jessica nodded. Although Victor Han didn't say anything about this matter, she and Stella lived together for such a long time. During that time, Victor Han was the only one in the Han family. Later, he found his sister.

It seems that he finally found his only affection, flying abroad every day to accompany his sister.

What kind of environment and state of mind did the expectation and protection of relatives accumulate? Jessica never guessed about Victor Han's psychology, she felt that he had been extremely difficult in the past.

If possible, she naturally hopes that everything is well for Victor Han, and her parents are alive, just like she is now...

The family is peacefully together, and they have a meal together during the holidays. What annoying things can they discuss together?

And he? During those endless years, they were all carried over by one person, and they also shouldered the responsibility of finding a sister.

Jessica only knew that if it were her, she might not be able to sustain it.

When Janis heard the words, a touch of distress appeared in her eyes, "This kid is really...no wonder he had a weird look in his eyes when we were eating together last night. I also said, how can a big man have such a look? , It turned out to be..."

"Probably thinking of his parents." Jessica whispered, "I can usually respect them, but now I have a boyfriend. Those neighbors can't talk like this, it's too ugly."

"After hearing what you said, Mom understood. It's okay. I was originally a neighbor. Just talk if I can. If we don't talk, we don't rely on them for food. If they don't say nice things, then we don't need to give them a good face."

Jessica glanced at Janis, "Mom, aren't you angry? In the future, they will definitely tell me that I am impolite or have no tutor. These pots will be on your head."

"Silly girl." Janis reached out and knocked on Jessica's head, speaking softly, "How can the outside voice be so important? You and your dad are my dearest and loved ones, except for you, no one else is important."

"Mom, you are so kind." Jessica held Janis's hand tightly and hugged her.

The mother and daughter went upstairs.

Han Group

When Xu Yanwan came to work today, she wanted to work as usual, but she was stopped by a few people. One of them was the front desk, and none of the three or five next to her was seen.

She paused, looking at the people who stopped her.

“What’s the matter? It’s working time now.”

Her voice was soft and reminding.

“Are you the fiancée of President Han?”

The front desk nodded with excitement: “It’s her, it’s her. She had been to the company to find Mr. Victor before, and she said it herself when he asked her.”

Hearing, Xu Yanwan frowned slightly.

“Really? Are you really Mr. Victor’s fiancée? Do you know that Mr. Victor now has a girlfriend?”

“Yes, his girlfriend often comes to the company.”

It was the word girlfriend again, Xu Yanwan’s eyelashes drooped, her voice couldn’t hear her emotions.

“I’m not sure. It’s working time. You talk to me about this kind of thing, isn’t it? I have to work.”

“What are you afraid of? Let’s talk for a while without delaying you.”

“Yeah, just tell us, are you and Mr. Victor really unmarried? Then you are at this company’s company does he know?”

“Why does President Han let you work in this department? Is it because he has a girlfriend, so he doesn’t recognize his fiancée? So he sent you here?”

“No.” Xu Yanwan pursed her red lips, and looked at the people on the opposite side: “Victor Han is not this kind of person, but I don’t want him to know. As for the questions you asked, I’m sorry, they were all from my childhood, so I I don’t know how to answer you now.”

When the front desk heard it, my eyes lit up.

“That means you and Han are always childhood sweethearts? My God, what kind of person was President Han before? Is he always so cold and hard to follow?”

“When you were a kid? Why didn’t things count when you were a kid? Did your parents agree?”

“Then you are so pitiful now, your fiance has been robbed, can you still work here so calmly?”

“Yeah, if I were you, I would definitely want that woman to be good-looking, so I dared to be a junior. You are the original match, what are you afraid of?”

Three or five people were talking about it, and Xu Yanwan had a headache. She didn’t expect that the front desk would find so many people to surround her.

“I asked, your name is Xu Yanwan, isn’t it? Have you considered picking up that little mistress in the past? We all think she is not pleasing to the eye. She obviously has no abilities and doesn’t look good. She?”

“Yeah, she just doesn’t have any characteristics. She opened a broken ramen noodle shop and brought food to President Han every day. She didn’t have any promise. It really shame our women. Miss Xu, I have seen you. The resume, and the qualifications are too good, so excellent, it can be said to kill that junior.”

Listening to these words, Xu Yanwan didn't know what kind of feeling she felt in her heart. She always felt weird. After all, the word Xiaosan... can't be used indiscriminately, right?

But... she didn't want to say anything.

After a while, Xu Yanwan adjusted her mentality, and then smiled faintly: “I don't know what you are saying, and I don't want to be clear. Everyone has a choice about their feelings. Since she can be President Han's girlfriend, Then she has the ability.”

“Ability?”

“Where does she have any abilities? On her terms, I don't think Han always would like her.”

Xu Yanwan smiled: “Han always looks at her, so she naturally has a point to attract President Han.”

In fact, she would like to know what Jessica attracted Victor Han. A man who used to be so cold and expensive, she and his childhood sweethearts did not even think that he would like him, but as long as he was willing to listen to the family, Marry yourself together, even if you have no feelings after marriage, a sense of responsibility is enough.

Because for Xu Yanwan, she has always believed that Victor Han should be so deserted by nature, and would not have overly passionate feelings for any woman.

But now that he chose that woman as his girlfriend, there must be something special about that woman.

“I just don’t know how their feelings are.”

Is it because she has always delivered food and is very virtuous, so Victor Han thinks she can be with him for life? But... the rumors she heard all said that the woman was just coveting Victor Han’s status.

Think about it, too. How can they be together because their status is so different?

“What attracts President Han? How come she doesn’t have any?”

At this moment, one of the girls suddenly thought of something, with an unkind expression on her expression: “Could it be... because of the great skill in a certain aspect?”

Chapter 1318

“A certain aspect? What aspect?”

At the beginning, other colleagues hadn’t understood the deep meaning of this sentence.

“It’s a certain aspect. I heard that some women rely on their own fox charm skills to hook men, don’t you know? Such women are generally not beautiful and have no abilities. That is, they are very good at hooking men. It’s fascinated.”

When Xu Yanwan heard this, she subconsciously wanted to deny it!

But the reason she denied it was that the Victor Han she had in her impression was not such a superficial person at all. He is absolutely unlikely to like a person because of a woman’s skin, and even less likely to be dizzy because of that aspect of things. .

So Xu Yanwan is now more and more confused, what is the attraction of Victor Han in this woman!

“My God, if you say that, it makes sense. Although there are many people in our company who like President Han, after all, everyone secretly likes it, or makes occasional encounters, but no one. Have you used that kind of trick? If this woman uses that kind of trick to hook our President Han, maybe...”

Speaking of which, the eyes of several girls were angry, and they were all uneven.

Then they collectively looked at Xu Yanwan.

“You are President Han’s fiancée, you can’t just sit idly by?”

“Yes, yes, Xiao San is really shameless, he must be cleaned up.”

“Mr. Victor originally belongs to you, Yan Wan, you can’t just let your fiancé be like this.”

Everyone looked at her expectantly, but they didn’t see the anger they expected from Xu Yanwan’s face, there was not a single bit of it.

Xu Yanwan’s expression was as usual, and she even smiled faintly:

“Everyone, it’s really working time now. I don’t think you should discuss these things anymore.”

“You...are you not angry at all? Your fiance is...”

Xu Yanwan said softly, “There is no evidence for what you said. Why should I believe you? Besides, for me, I just want to work hard. As for Mr. Victor... this kind of thing also depends on fate, if He really likes that person’s words, so... I can’t help it.”

After speaking, Xu Yanwan nodded to them, “Well, I still have work to be busy. I’m leaving first, so you can go back quickly.”

After Xu Yanwan left, several girls stood on the ground and looked at each other.

“I’m so mad, is she the fiancée of President Han? How can she be so calm after all her men have been robbed?”

“That’s right, why did she just want to work hard, is she serious?”

“I think she is very stylish. She may think that Mr. Victor and Xiaosan are true love, so she automatically quit.”

“Then if you know that Mr. Victor and Xiao San are not true love, then this Xu Yanwan will...”

“The question is, how do we know if Jessica has used that kind of trick to hook our President Han?”

A group of people are still talking, and Xu Yanwan has gone farther and farther.

After walking far, she stopped, turned and went into the bathroom, she washed her face, and then looked up at herself in the mirror.

She is now facing the sky.

She didn’t even have money to buy cosmetics. The exquisite, elegant, and high-ranking sister Xu has long since disappeared. How can she have any chance to compete now?

She has nothing.

Moreover, Xu Yanwan knows very well that those colleagues are definitely a bunch of good deeds. As long as they catch a little bit of everything, they will dig deeply. Are they trying to help themselves?

No, they were just jealous of the woman next to Victor Han.

It can be seen from the look in their eyes, their tone of voice, and their expressions. When they talked about the next method, a touch of annoyance flashed in the eyes of several people.

Thinking of this, Xu Yanwan smiled faintly.

She can guarantee that at that moment there must have been in the hearts of those few people, why the idea of why the person who used this kind of tricks was not my idea appeared.

After all, if this is the case, you can become Victor Han's woman.

And Xu Yanwan also knows very well that if the person standing next to Victor Han is herself, this group of good deeds will definitely treat her like Jessica.

Therefore, she will not go with them.

Xu Yanwan patted her cheek lightly before leaving the bathroom.

She has performed very well in her recent work, so the boss appreciates her very much and has given her a lot of work, so she must work hard and work harder.

As long as she works hard, she can definitely get what she wants.

On the other hand, Jessica finally has time to study the pregnancy test stick.

As soon as she saw it today, she would do it. She never learned it for a long time before. She thought it was probably because she was too nervous.

But after Victor Han went to her home, she was not so nervous.

She waited quietly for the result.

When the results came out, Jessica was stunned, sitting there with the pregnancy test stick in her hand, and did not react for a long time.

The surroundings seemed to become silent, only the sound of her heart hitting her body.

Boom!

Boom!

She really... is pregnant.

Unexpectedly... She was really pregnant.

Jessica couldn't tell what kind of feeling she felt in her heart. She felt hot in her eyes. She stretched out her hand to cover her mouth, tears rushing out of her eyes.

She is pregnant!

She has a baby! !

She has the baby of her beloved one!

Jessica almost cried with joy, covering her face and crying too hard.

She was nervous before, but at this moment, all the negative emotions have disappeared completely, leaving only joy.

No wonder everyone says that being a mother is happy.

It turned out to be true!

Jessica stayed in the bathroom for a long time. It took a long time to control her emotions, and then she cleaned up and returned to the room.

In front of the mirror, Jessica saw that her eyes became a little swollen. She was very happy now and wanted to share this with Victor Han to know, but it was just the result of the pregnancy test, she was not so sure. Will it be true.

It is estimated that she will have to go to the hospital for an examination, and she will not be sure until the hospital's results come out.

Moreover, even if she was really pregnant, Jessica felt that she would not dare to speak directly.

Because once she said that she was pregnant, she seemed to have deliberately pressured Victor Han to force him to marry her.

Although she wanted to marry Victor Han very much, she was already very active when she chased him. In addition, the damage she suffered later was probably that the blow to her was too deep, so Jessica wanted to take a step now. Be careful.

From being bold and fearless at the beginning to now she dares not say, she dares not move forward...

Finally, Jessica thought for a while, still picked up the phone to send a message to Stella.

“Stella, are you free today? Come with me to the hospital.”

Chapter 1319

Hospital

When Stella came, Jessica was already waiting at the gate.

Stella didn't come by herself. After she got out of the car, she was still following Walter, who was holding the small bean sprouts in her arms.

Seeing this scene, the corners of Jessica's mouth twitched, and then she pulled Stella and said, “Although I really want to hold small bean sprouts, don't take her in casually in places like hospitals. There are many germs in the hospital, and the small bean sprouts are now healthy, so there is no need to go in.”

When Jessica said that, Stella also felt reasonable, so she turned to look at Walter.

“Then you go home with the small bean sprouts first.”

Walter said with a cold face: “...”

“Why the duck? Do you want to take your daughter to the hospital?”

He said blankly: “You can give her to the driver to hold her first.”

Stella stared, “This is your daughter. Are you willing to give her to the driver? What if the driver takes your daughter away?”

Actually no, the drivers of Yejia are trustworthy. This sentence was deliberately teased by Stella.

However, the driver stood by, flushed when he heard these words, and hurriedly stepped forward to defend himself: “My grandmother, I am not such a person, and I will never do such things. Guarantee of personality.”

The young lady suspected that he would carry the child and run away. This was a serious matter, so the driver was sweating in a hurry.

Stella was a little bit dumbfounded, but she still spoke to Walter’s heart, and looked at the driver warily.

Driver: “... Mr. Walter, I can’t do this kind of thing. I have been a driver in Yejia for many years, and there are old and young in my family. If I do this kind of thing, don’t I want to live?”

“Okay, don’t worry, I’m just kidding.” Stella patted the driver’s shoulder: “It’s because I believe you, that’s why I make such a joke, without stress.”

After Stella explained this, the driver almost cried with joy: “Really? The young lady didn’t doubt me?”

“Of course.”

But Walter was holding the small bean sprouts with a dark face. Stella walked over and squeezed the small bean sprouts face: “Little dear, wait here with your daddy. Mommy will accompany your aunt. Once in the hospital, I will come out later to find you and Daddy, OK?”

“Gluck...” What responded to her was Xiaodou Sprout’s innocent laughter.

Walter was obviously unhappy, his eyes swept to the side of Jessica, who quickly avoided his gaze, straightened her back.

She didn’t steal him, she just asked him to accompany her to the hospital. What’s the matter?

Humph, she is not afraid!

After that, Stella and Jessica left together. After walking a long distance, the sharp eyes behind them disappeared.

Jessica covered her face and made a fright: "I was scared to death, what's the matter? Why is Mr. Walter following you every day like a child? When you come to the hospital, he will follow?"

When asked by Jessica, Stella was helpless: "I don't know what happened to him. Since he recovered his memory, he has become very clingy, as if he was afraid that I would disappear."

But he was obviously the one who disappeared. If you want to worry, you should worry about it yourself.

On the contrary, he himself became clingy, and now besides bringing small bean sprouts, he is with her.

Had he not seen his previous work and management skills, Stella would almost think that Walter wanted to be a super milk tea and soft rice man.

But Stella didn't mind at all. If Walter really wanted to be the one who ate soft food, then she wouldn't be able to afford it.

Although the money she made was nothing compared to the profitability of the Ye Family Group, it was nothing to feed him and have two children.

Looking back, Stella sighed.

At the beginning, when she was with Ben Lin, she thought about the ordinary life for a lifetime, and then her life changed rapidly.

Sure enough, things are impermanent.

“By the way, you suddenly asked me to accompany you to the hospital, what’s wrong?”

Stella pulled back her sanity, and then asked Jessica.

When asked by her, Jessica’s white cheeks were stained with two red clouds, “Um...I want to tell you one thing, but you have to promise me not to tell others.”

“What are you talking about?”

“You promise me first, you can’t tell others, only the two of us know.”

Jessica was so serious that he even stopped and stared at her seriously, “You promise me bleat?”

Stella: “...”

“What the hell is it, it’s so mysterious, you can’t let others know, then what are you doing in the hospital?”

“You promise me first! Stella, we are still not good sisters!” Jessica was too anxious, shaking Stella’s hand vigorously, “Promise me quickly.”

“Well, well, I promise you that!” Stella was so dizzy that she could only respond.

Jessica breathed a sigh of relief, then glanced around, making sure that Walter had not followed up with the small bean sprouts, and then she leaned into Stella’s ear and said something quietly.

After speaking, she quickly retreated.

At first, Stella didn't hear what she was saying. After she retreated, she looked helpless: "Why are you acting like a thief? Also, the voice you just said was too small, the hospital was so crowded. Many, how can I hear clearly?"

"What? Didn't you hear clearly?" The expression on Jessica's face suddenly became tangled, and it took a long time for her to hesitate: "I, I suspect that I am pregnant..."

Stella: "???"

Nani!

She didn't react. When she reacted, Stella's pupils dilated unconsciously: "Pregnant?!"

Jessica hurriedly covered her mouth: "Hush! Don't say anything, I am not sure now, I just doubt it! So I have to come to the hospital to check and make sure!"

Stella blinked, Jessica let go, "I secretly tested it myself, but I don't know if it's for sure, so..."

"So you didn't dare to come to the hospital for an examination, or even to tell my brother the news. If you didn't feel uncomfortable in your heart, you would definitely not ask me to come, right?"

Stella knew Jessica too well, and as soon as she said this, she had already grasped Jessica's thoughts and thoughts thoroughly.

"What you said is right, I actually don't want to tell you, I'm just a little afraid that this is an oolong incident."

Before she finished speaking, Stella took her hand, and the warmth of her palm was continuously transmitted from the touching skin.

“What are you thinking about? Generally speaking, the pregnancy test paper is very accurate, especially in the early stage. And even if this is an oolong incident, what about? Anyway, you and my brother will get married sooner or later, pregnant. Things just happen sooner or later, why are you nervous?”

Hearing, Jessica blushed: “Who knows?”
