

Chapter 1311: No Need For That

“Zhou Junmin found Mrs. Ge by accident in a very remote and poor village. Mrs. Ge was sold to a family with dwarfism as a wife of three brothers. It doesn't look like she could recognize anyone. Those three brothers put her on a dog leash all day long. Zhou Junmin heard from the neighbors that Mrs. Ge is almost two months pregnant.”

Lu Xingzhi's eyes darkened. “Mrs. Ge was sold to the three brothers by a local leader. She was already crazy when she was in their hands. When Zhou Junmin found her, she did not recognize him at all. When Zhou Junmin found a chance to talk to her alone, he called her Mrs. Ge. She struggled as if she had seen a ghost. Since she could not run away because of the leash, she dug herself into a hole. So, Zhou Junmin retreated as he did not want to attract other people's attention. With Mrs. Ge's mental state, it might be a little difficult to find Ge Wenwen's whereabouts.”

Jiang Yao was speechless. “Could she and Ge Wenwen have been sold by the same man?”

“We don't know yet,” Lu Xingzhi said. “We still haven't found the man who took her, so we can't be sure yet.”

They could not rule out the possibility that the man thought that Mrs. Ge and Ge Wenwen were a burden to him and decided to leave them. Of course, perhaps the man had sold Mrs. Ge and Ge Wenwen.

However, Lu Xingzhi did not understand what Mrs. Ge had experienced in that half a year that transformed a good person into a mentally deranged person?

Zhou Junmin investigated and learned that Mrs. Ge had gone crazy before she was with the three brothers. So, who had forced her into that state?

If it were a human trafficker, that would not usually drive a normal person crazy. The price of a normal person was much higher than that of a madwoman.

Lu Xingzhi shook his head. “There's no need for that at the moment. Mrs. Ge is in such a bad state. It's useless to inform Sergeant Ge for now. He is already married and has a new family. It's unlikely that we'll be able to bring her back. Furthermore, Zhou Junmin is watching over her. We can't alert the enemy now. Let Mrs. Ge continue to stay there.”

Lu Xingzhi did not think that Mrs. Ge was in a miserable state at all. In fact, Sergeant Ge was in a more pitiful state. He had lost his future and even his daughter. If it were not for Mrs. Ge's selfishness and arrogance, would he have fallen into such a state?

After resting in the hotel for two hours, Lu Xingzhi dragged Jiang Yao around the city to prevent her from thinking too much. Sometimes, he coaxed her to buy two pieces of clothes, and other times, he coaxed her into buying some jewelry. Since she was still not in the mood, he simply let her choose a few gifts to take home to her family. Only then did Jiang Yao focus on finding something to do.

However, after she finished shopping, Jiang Yao returned to the hotel and stared blankly at the large French windows.

When Lu Xingzhi noticed that, he walked toward Jiang Yao, pulled out a chair, and sat beside her. He said, "Rest early. Perhaps we can go there tomorrow morning to take a look?"

Chapter 1312: Medication Change

"I think I'd better go over now." Jiang Yao suddenly stood up. She accidentally bumped her nose into Lu Xingzhi's chest. She pouted, touched her slightly reddened nose, glanced at Lu Xingzhi, and patted his chest. "Are you made of iron and stone?"

"Did it hurt?"

Lu Xingzhi's heart ached when he saw her reddened nose. "How old are you? Why are you still so reckless?"

He raised his hand and rubbed the tip of her nose before asking her again, "You want to go over now? But the other people in the hospital are probably resting now, right?"

Jiang Yao said, "I'm going to the hospital to look for the doctor who will perform the surgery on her tomorrow. I want to see their plan and medication. I want to change some of my medication for her. Perhaps it will give her a little more chance of survival."

That was the only thing she could do. Sure enough, if she took over the surgery, the success rate would be higher, but it was not 100 percent successful.

It would be fine if she were in a vegetative state, but if Madam Cheng died on the operating table, it would mean that it was her fault that she had died. The medical system would trigger the self-destruct program.

She still had her family who loved her, and she also had Lu Xingzhi. Madam Cheng was not the only family member she had to take care of in that world.

Everyone in the Jiang family and the Lu family was more important to her than Madam Cheng.

Therefore, giving Madam Cheng the right medicine was the best she could do for her.

Lu Xingzhi did not ask Jiang Yao where she got the medicine. When he heard her say that, he stood up and picked up her coat and scarf. He helped her put them on before putting on his own coat. They took a taxi to the hospital.

Jiang Yao was a little sleepy when they were looking for the doctor who would operate on Madam Cheng the next day. After all, most of the doctors were off duty.

However, when Master Cheng heard that Jiang Yao wanted to intervene, he thought Jiang Yao was the Divine Doctor. He immediately arranged for the doctors to be brought to the hospital.

Although Jiang Yao was very young, Master Cheng believed that Old Master Liang would not lie to him. If Old Master Liang said that Jiang Yao was the Divine Doctor, then she must be one.

Furthermore, Master Cheng also felt that Jiang Yao had no reason to hurt his wife, especially after knowing that Jiang Yao was his wife's daughter, born 20 years ago. Naturally, Master Cheng had a little more trust in Jiang Yao.

While waiting for the other doctors to gather, Master Cheng stood by the side and watched Jiang Yao and the doctors who had already arrived discuss the plan for the surgery and some medication. Since Jiang Yao did not speak the local language, Lu Xingzhi helped her translate the entire process.

Master Cheng watched as the couple's brows furrowed and relaxed for a while. Soon, the two parties began to argue non-stop.

"Lady, your request is ridiculous. We have every type of medication in the hospital, and we have prepared them in advance. You said that you would replace them with the medication that you brought with you? Do you have any certificate for your medication?"

The doctors were displeased that they were called to the hospital at that time of the night. However, they did not dare to voice their anger because Master Cheng was there.

The doctors were furious when they heard that a young lady wanted to discuss the details of the surgery with them. Fortunately, the discussion was rather pleasant because they realized that the young lady was also a doctor. She might even be a senior doctor. Each of her questions would hit the nail on the head.

Chapter 1313: Show Some Respect

Everyone was pleased with the exchange between peers, but it did not take long for them to be angered by the young woman's excessive demands.

Even though they saw that the woman's medicine was sealed, it still made them feel ridiculous. They could not find any information on the production license for those medicines.

Master Cheng glanced at the doctor who spoke. Seeing that he pushed Jiang Yao after throwing Jiang Yao's things back on the table, he took two steps forward and stood beside Jiang Yao and Lu Xingzhi. Then, he said, "Please treat my daughter with respect."

Master Cheng spoke in the local language. Jiang Yao did not understand, but Lu Xingzhi understood clearly. Therefore, his expression was the same as those of the doctors. He was a little shocked.

The doctors were dumbfounded. They knew that Master Cheng had two sons, but they did not know that he had a daughter, who seemed to be a doctor.

The rude doctor immediately apologized to Jiang Yao, but he told Master Cheng that Jiang Yao wanted to change the medicine.

Jiang Yao waited for the doctors to finish talking before she looked at Master Cheng. She said, "Those medicines are all unique to me. Since I dare to use them, I'm confident that those medicines will not be wrong for her. If you want your wife to have a higher success rate in tomorrow's surgery, you'd better persuade these doctors to use my medicine."

After a pause, Jiang Yao said again, "Madam Cheng is your wife. This is your decision. My medicine can't guarantee a 100 percent success rate in surgery, but it will increase the success rate. However, tomorrow's surgery will ultimately still depend on the doctors' medical skills and Madam Cheng's physical condition."

Jiang Yao told Master Cheng that the doctors should use her medicine. However, they had to use it willingly and not forced. If the doctors were dissatisfied, it might affect the surgery.

The rest was up to Master Cheng. He could throw away her medicine, or he could think of a way to get the doctors to use her medicine.

She had done what she could. She had a clear conscience.

Jiang Yao did not turn around to see Madam Cheng. Instead, she went back to the hotel with Lu Xingzhi.

After showering, she laid next to Lu Xingzhi. Her mind was filled with thoughts about the hospital. She was not sure if Master Cheng would believe her.

After all, she was very young. Sometimes, age was a complex wound in the eyes of others.

"Don't think too much. Master Cheng will arrange it." Lu Xingzhi saw that Jiang Yao's eyes were wide open as if she could not sleep. He knew that she was probably thinking about Madam Cheng's surgery. "Master Cheng will get those doctors to use your medicine."

Lu Xingzhi was very sure about that because Master Cheng told those doctors that Jiang Yao was his daughter. It meant that Master Cheng valued Madam Cheng so much that he had also given Jiang Yao a little more trust.

Furthermore, Jiang Yao was the Divine Doctor, so Master Cheng believed in her identity.

If Master Cheng were not going to let the doctors use the medicine, he would have stopped Jiang Yao when she asked him to write the dosage for the medicine.

Jiang Yao nodded, then buried her face in Lu Xingzhi's chest, closed her eyes, and enjoyed the peace.

Chapter 1314: Soft-hearted

Madam Cheng had been awake ever since she found out that Jiang Yao had gone to the hospital late at night. She waited for her husband to go back to her.

"That child is still worried about you." Master Cheng walked over and touched his wife's face lovingly. "She came here to find the doctors who will perform the surgery on you tomorrow and asked about it. She even brought the medicine that she made herself."

When Madam Cheng heard that, her heart was touched. "That child has a sharp tongue but a soft heart. She even rushed here at this time. I'm afraid that after she leaves, she will worry about my surgery for the entire day."

“Yes, Huang Cheng also told me that my sister is a very soft-hearted person.” Cheng Jinyan was not surprised at all. Huang Cheng had told him about Jiang Yao’s character back then.

Cheng Jinyan had also quickly accepted the sudden appearance of such a sister. Even though Jiang Yao was not related to him by blood, his half-brother was her half-brother, and her biological mother was also his mother. That was the one person he respected the most.

Therefore, Cheng Jinyan did not require any psychological transition period to accept a sister.

When Madam Cheng was undergoing surgery, Jiang Yao did not stay in the hospital. Instead, she stayed in the hotel room in a daze.

She did not go because she was afraid that she would not be able to control herself if something unexpected had happened. She was also scared to see Madam Cheng enter the surgery room alive, but—

Whether it was to escape the situation or be timid, Jiang Yao did not leave the room after waking up in the morning.

Her phone was switched on, and Cheng Jinyan would occasionally send her messages. At first, he asked if she would go to the hospital. Later, he asked if she wanted to send someone to pick her and Lu Xingzhi up.

She knew that Cheng Jinyan wanted her and Lu Xingzhi to go to the hospital, but she did not reply to any of his messages.

At the same time, something happened in Shu City, and everyone gossiped about it.

Two wealthy families in Shu City went to the countryside to collect fresh sheep dung and cow dung. After asking around, they found out that they wanted to cover their faces with it. The villagers were delighted. They laughed and told the rich people that they had a unique fetish as they wanted to cover their faces with such smelly things.

Sister Wen brought Wen Yunfang to a hospital outside the city. However, Brother Sheng and Brother Liang were still in the hospital in Shu City. They did not know how they found out about Lu Xingzhi’s method of dealing with Wen Yunfang. After enduring another two days, the two of them gritted their teeth and left the hospital by themselves. They asked their families to get those things for them. They were prepared to do whatever it took.

After three days of vomiting and having their sense of smell numbed by the stench, Brother Liang realized that he had looked better after he washed his face on the fourth day. That discovery made the two men feel that it was worth it, no matter how smelly they were.

Meanwhile, the situation in the foreign hospitals was getting worse and worse. In the end, they had no choice but to give up on returning to Shu City. Wen Yunfang’s face was becoming even more terrifying. It had only been a red rash. Then her entire face was filled with blisters that had pus. Even her eyelids were not spared. She could barely open her eyes. The blisters even grew to her neck.

If the pus were not handled properly, it would carry a foul smell. When Wen Yunfang arrived at the house later, the nanny subconsciously covered her mouth when she saw her. Fortunately, she did not shout out loud.

Brother Ding had gone back to the house for a visit when he heard that Wen Yunfang had returned. When he saw Wen Yunfang's ghastly face, even an experienced man like him felt disgusted by it.

Wen Yunfang went to a very famous fortune-teller. As expected, the fortune-teller said that she would meet a nemesis in her life. If she could not defeat that person, that person would become her ultimate nemesis.

The fortune-teller even figured out that it was a woman and where she had come from.

The north! That was Gu Junhui's direction?

"Godfather, where is Gu Junhui? Tell her to come and see me!" Wen Yunfang was furious. "Let her help me apply the medicine! She knows how to use the soil method, so let her do it!"

There was no reason for her to suffer such a disgusting thing alone while Gu Junhui hid and watched her make a fool of herself.

Wen Yunfang did not doubt that Gu Changshu would not be able to kiss her even if he wanted to.

"Stop fooling around! Gu Junhui's mother was in a car accident. Gu Changshu accompanied her back to her hometown," Brother Ding shouted impatiently. "Go back after your face is healed. Keep an eye on what you're doing, and don't let anything go wrong."

"A jinx! She must be a jinx. Her mother just acknowledged her, and she got into a car accident not long after that!" Wen Yunfang clenched her teeth. 'Gu Junhui, you'd better not come back here. Otherwise, I have a thousand ways to kill you!'

There was no reason for Wen Yunfang's Jinx to be alive.

Wen Yunfang was usually not popular in that house. After all, her personality was too violent. If she were not happy, she would beat or scold other people.

Ah Zhu heard that Wen Yunfang had been vomiting for a few days because of what she smeared on her face. Even when he was busy, he would take a minute to laugh heartily about it.

Chapter 1316: Return Home

It was a beautiful winter scene in HL. It was snowing there. Jiang Yao spent half a day looking out the window at the city covered in snow.

It was already past lunchtime. The hotel's lunch had already been served on the table. Jiang Yao only took a few bites and lost her appetite. Then, she supported her head and watched as Lu Xingzhi ate all the food she had left.

At that moment, Jiang Yao's phone rang. She hurriedly jumped from the chair and ran back to the French window to pick up the phone.

“Mother’s surgery was very successful. Now, she has been sent to the ward. The doctors said that the medicine you gave her was magical. Your medicine gave the doctors many chances to save her.” Cheng Jinyan’s tone was a little moved. “Jiang Yao, thank you.”

“Okay,” Jiang Yao replied in a low voice. Then, without saying anything, she hung up the phone.

She held the phone in her hand, and her heart was beating rapidly.

“How is she?” Lu Xingzhi asked carefully.

“Let’s go home after we’re done eating.” Jiang Yao smiled in relief. There were tears in her eyes, but she forcefully held them back.

Seeing that, Lu Xingzhi knew the answer. The heavens were kind to Madam Cheng. She would come out of the operating theatre alive.

Since Jiang Yao did not want to go to the hospital to visit Madam Cheng after the surgery, Lu Xingzhi did not force her to go. After dinner, the two checked out of their room and went back to their country.

When they reached their hometown, it was already past five o’clock in the morning the next day. When they entered the house, they saw Mrs. Lu, who had gone downstairs to the kitchen to make breakfast. When she heard the sound of the door opening, Mrs. Lu saw that the couple had returned home. They were exhausted, and she was shocked.

“Why are you back at this time?” Mrs. Lu rushed to the door. “Look at you two; you look so tired. Go upstairs and rest.”

Jiang Yao and Lu Xingzhi were very tired. They had rushed home from HL. Lu Xingzhi had been accompanying her and worrying about her every day for those few days because of her problems. She had not had a good rest, and she also felt sorry for Lu Xingzhi.

When she heard Mrs. Lu urging her and Lu Xingzhi to rest, she did not decline. She went back to their room with Lu Xingzhi, and the two of them fell asleep immediately.

When they woke up, it was already afternoon. It was already past lunchtime, so it was clear how deep the two of them had slept.

“You’re awake?” Mr. Lu and Mrs. Lu were in the living room, watching TV with low volume. When they saw the two of them coming downstairs, they hurriedly went to the kitchen to get a hot lunch for the two of them. “You two look much better after a nap. You looked like refugees in the morning.”

“Yaoyao, you’ve lost a lot of weight.” Mrs. Lu’s heart ached. “Tell me, why did you follow your teacher to the countryside? Did you suffer? Did you have to work on a farm under the sun? Just like the educated youths in the past?”

“That’s not the case. I just went there for a free clinic. I was exposed to too much sun,” Jiang Yao replied casually. It was only natural that her skin would get tanned. After all, the sun was like poison in Shu City. Even in winter, the wind in Shu City could blow people away.

Jiang Yao thought, 'It looks like the next time I return to Shu City, I'll have to get some sun protection lotion from the system. If I'm not pretty anymore, my dark face won't be as lovable as it is now.'

Chapter 1317: I'll Go By Myself

"If you want to go out and bask in the sun often, then remember to put on some skincare products. You still have to protect your skin well. After all, our skin doesn't look like a grown man's," Mrs. Lu said as she looked at her tanned daughter-in-law. "You two must have a tacit understanding—both of you are so tanned."

Jiang Yao lowered her head and stuck out her tongue secretly. They were together all that time, but they could not be tanned together?

After dinner, Jiang Yao and Lu Xingzhi went out. Sun Xiaoshan had fainted at the Jiang family's house the last time, and her health had been very poor. She had been hospitalized, and she had not been able to leave until then. Mrs. Sun was also in the county.

"Yaoyao, what are you going to do?" Lu Xingzhi held the steering wheel and said, "If you want to deal with Mrs. Sun, you don't have to do it yourself. Such a small matter is something that can be traced. I'll arrange for someone to handle it."

Lu Xingzhi did not want Jiang Yao to worry about Mrs. Sun. During that period, Jiang Yao had been with him in Shu City. It was rare for her to return home, so Lu Xingzhi hoped that Jiang Yao would have a good rest because she might not be able to return to Shu City for a while.

"I'll go by myself." Jiang Yao shook her head gently and then smiled. "How boring would it be if I didn't do anything interesting by myself?"

She knew that there were many ways to punish Mrs. Sun, but the woman had caused her parents to worry for so long, caused trouble in the Jiang family, and even caused Madam Cheng to worry.

Jiang Yao thought that she would let Mrs. Sun have a taste of her own medicine—she felt aggrieved.

Lu Xingzhi parked the car at the hospital entrance. Lu Xingzhi could handle anything in town with ease. Therefore, he found Sun Xiaoshan's ward with just a call.

After parking the car, Lu Xingzhi led Jiang Yao to the third floor of the inpatient building. Before the two of them arrived at Sun Xiaoshan's ward, they saw Mr. Sun carrying a hot water kettle.

"Jiang Yao." Mr. Sun was pleased to see Jiang Yao. "You're here to visit Shanshan?" Mr. Sun knew that his wife had been going to Jiang's village those few days, so when he saw Jiang Yao, he thought she was visiting her cousin.

He was delighted. It seemed that his wife's efforts over the past few days had not been in vain. She had finally moved the girl.

"That is your husband, right?" Mr. Sun had never seen Jiang Yao's husband before, but they must be husband and wife since they held hands. Mr. Sun and Lu Xingzhi took the initiative to greet him. "Hello, I am the husband of Jiang Yao's biological mother. My surname is Sun."

Mrs. Sun heard her husband talking to someone outside the ward, so she poked her head out to take a look. When she saw Jiang Yao, she was shocked.

“Jiang Yao!” Mrs. Sun immediately walked out of the ward and asked, “What are you doing here?”

Obviously, Mrs. Sun was not stupid enough to think that Jiang Yao was there to acknowledge her as her mother.

She was worried that Jiang Yao was there to talk to Sun Xiaoshan about something else. She was afraid that Jiang Yao would hurt her daughter, so she forgot to pretend to be a loving mother.

“Mrs. Sun... Oh, no, I should call you Xie Qiu—”

Jiang Yao called out her name as Mrs. Sun panicked. “Xie Qiuxiang, of course, I’m not here to acknowledge you as my fake mother. I know why you came to me. You’re here for my heart.”

Chapter 1318: Turn Yourself In “Xie Qiuxiang? I’m Xie Qiuran, and I’m your mother, not your aunt,” Mrs. Sun shouted angrily, her heart trembling with fear.

How did she know her intention? Did her stupid cousin tell her?

No! Her stupid cousin had returned to Ping City! There was no way he would have the chance to tell her that, and her cousin would not have had the guts to ruin her plans.

Then how did Jiang Yao know about her plan?

And how did she know that she was Xie Qiuxiang?

“Stop pretending. The truth can’t be faked, and the fake can’t be the truth.” Jiang Yao sneered lightly; her expression was incomparably arrogant. “Didn’t you want to use my heart to save your sickly daughter? Unfortunately, you won’t be able to get it in this lifetime. You can’t take anything that belongs to me!”

“What are you talking about?” Mr. Sun looked at the three people in front of him with a pale face as if he couldn’t understand what they were talking about.

“Take care of Shanshan. I’ll talk to this child alone. I don’t know where she heard that, but it’s a misunderstanding.” Mrs. Sun hurriedly pushed her husband, who was carrying a hot water bottle, into the ward. Then, she closed the door.

“Are you afraid that your husband will find out that you are Xie Qiuxiang, and you have been living as Xie Qiuran for 20 years?” Jiang Yao looked coldly at Mrs. Sun while she leaned on Lu Xingzhi. Her gaze locked onto Mrs. Sun’s face. Her eyes were filled with gloom, like a black fog that could swallow people.

Mrs. Sun met her eyes and inexplicably stopped in her tracks.

“Xie Qiuxiang, a wise man doesn’t beat around the bush. Even though you are not wise, I don’t have much patience for pretending to be related to you. You came to me because you wanted to use my heart to save your daughter, Sun Xiaoshan. You feel sorry for your daughter. Fine, I’ll fulfill your wish. I’ll give you a chance to feel sorry for your daughter.”

Mrs. Sun realized that Jiang Yao knew everything when she heard what Jiang Yao said, so she decided to go all out and walk toward Jiang Yao.

Mrs. Sun had to admit that she did not think that Jiang Yao, a 20-year-old girl, would have such an oppressive aura. Besides that, Jiang Yao's husband stood by her side, like a towering mountain that the younger woman could rely on.

The man did not say a word. His black eyes stared at her like a wild leopard in the dark night. His eyes radiated murderous killing intent.

That killing intent was intended for her.

Even if he did not say anything, Mrs. Sun could not ignore such a man.

"Xie Qiuxiang, I can tell you with certainty that if my teacher, the Divine Doctor, does not save your daughter, then Sun Xiaoshan will die if she can't find a suitable heart within half a year. Even if she finds a suitable heart, there is a high possibility that she will reject it. Once she rejects it, she will die."

When Jiang Yao said that, she quietly reached out and grabbed Lu Xingzhi's hand. She pulled it slightly. There was hatred in her heart, but she was unwilling to show it. She could only use that method to endure and hide it.

What she hated was the ruthlessness that Xie Qiuxiang had toward her sister.

Chapter 1319: Give You A Chance

"What a coincidence! My teacher, the Divine Doctor, has a way to cure your daughter, and it's a 100% cure. You've brought your daughter to the hospital for many years, so you must have heard of the Divine Doctor. So, you don't have to doubt my words. After all, my teacher has never done anything that he's not sure of."

Jiang Yao looked at Mrs. Sun and asked with a smile, "Are you tempted?"

That casual tone, a sweet smile like sunshine in March, was as if she was asking another simple question.

That temptation held a life in its hands.

Mrs. Sun's eyes twitched. How could she not take action?

"What do you want?"

Mrs. Sun was not stupid. Jiang Yao would not agree so kindly.

She had heard of the Divine Doctor. It was not that she had not thought about looking for the Divine Doctor, but she had no connections. She could not find any helpful information about the Divine Doctor, so she knew it was a fool's dream to look for him. She might as well put that hope in getting Jiang Yao's heart.

"I'll give you a chance to be a kind mother."

When Jiang Yao said that, she suddenly let out a soft laugh.

Her laughter was clear and crisp, ringing like a bell in the corridor of the hospital. It seemed to add a strange atmosphere to that depressing space.

Lu Xingzhi indulged her, so he did not interrupt her and listened to her quietly.

“Xie Qiuxiang, turn yourself in and tell the public that you killed your ex-husband and let Xie Qiuran go to prison in your place. When you turn yourself in, I’ll ask my teacher to come and take Sun Xiaoshan away for a heart transplant surgery so that she can live.”

Her laughter faded away and was replaced with the same expression as the man behind her, indifferent and proud, as she said, “Don’t you love your daughter very much? Don’t you want to do everything for your daughter? I don’t want your life as long as you turn yourself in and tell everyone about the dirty things you did.”

“Don’t be afraid that I will lie to you. I am the Divine Doctor’s only student. It is a surgery that will change your daughter’s life, but it is nothing more than a routine surgery for my teacher. It is just a small matter like having a fever or a cold.”

Jiang Yao’s voice was slightly cold. “Xie Qiuxiang, you can think about it, but your daughter doesn’t have as much time to wait for you to think about it as you do. She might die; she might live. In the end, her fate will depend on how you choose.”

As she looked at Mrs. Sun’s face full of pain, Jiang Yao felt delighted in her heart.

Mrs. Sun was a selfish person, but she loved her daughter so much that she had to choose between herself and her daughter. Was that not interesting?

The surgery to replace Sun Xiaoshan’s heart was only a small matter for Jiang Yao. It was a piece of cake. Sun Xiaoshan was innocent, but was Jiang Yao not innocent as well? Was Xie Qiuran not innocent?

If Sun Xiaoshan died, then the only person she could blame was Mrs. Sun, her mother.

“I don’t believe you!”

Mrs. Sun retreated to the wall, her hands trembling as she leaned against the wall. “You’re lying to me! You don’t know anything; you’re just here to lie to me!”

Mrs. Sun kept telling herself that the girl was only guessing everything, so she deliberately used the Divine Doctor to make her jump into the pit.

Chapter 1320: Are You Stupid?

Xie Qiuran did not have anyone. She had not returned to Ping City even after being released from prison for so many years. She was alone, and she would have died a long time ago!

She must have hated her so much when she was in prison. If she had been released from prison, she would have returned to Ping City to seek revenge if she were still alive. She would not have disappeared without a trace for so many years.

Maybe not!

Maybe Xie Qiuran had already died overseas, and perhaps her bones had turned to dust.

“Xie Qiuxiang, are you stupid?” Lu Xingzhi sneered. “She gave you a chance, and you did not take it. Do you think you can continue to be a fake Xie Qiuran and get away with it?”

Jiang Yao’s appearance would get the Cheng family to start an investigation. Once Madam Cheng found out that Mrs. Sun had tortured Jiang Yao, she would not let Mrs. Sun off that easily, let alone the overprotective Master Cheng.

Once Madam Cheng’s health improved and the Cheng family returned to the country, Mrs. Sun would not even have the chance to answer Jiang Yao’s question.

“Xie Qiuxiang, I’ll give you one night to think about it. Give me an answer tomorrow morning. Otherwise, when I leave, you won’t have the chance to beg me even if you wanted to.” Jiang Yao took Lu Xingzhi’s hand. Then, she left the hospital with Lu Xingzhi in large strides.

The choice that Jiang Yao gave Mrs. Sun was undoubtedly the greatest torment for Mrs. Sun. She admitted that she was the only person in the world who could save Sun Xiaoshan, but she wanted Mrs. Sun to turn herself in exchange.

Jiang Yao was looking forward to how far Mrs. Sun would go for her daughter. She did say that she would do anything for her.

Mrs. Sun had committed serious crimes. First, she killed her ex-husband, and then she asked someone to take her place in prison. Even though Jiang Yao did not ask Madam Cheng what had happened, she could feel it. Madam Cheng would not have voluntarily taken Mrs. Sun’s place in prison. Mrs. Xie and Mrs. Sun must have conspired to push Madam Cheng, who had no one to rely on, to do that.

Once she was found guilty for those two offenses, Mrs. Sun’s best outcome would be life imprisonment, and the worst outcome would be the death penalty.

One was life in prison, which was worse than death, and the other was death.

“If Mrs. Sun doesn’t give me an answer before we leave tomorrow, you can arrange for someone to reopen the case in Ping City. Mrs. Sun is Xie Qiuxiang. There’s no reason for her to be Xie Qiuran for the rest of her life,” Jiang Yao snorted coldly. “If she can turn herself in tomorrow, I will applaud her. Isn’t she used to being smart? I want to see how smart she can be.”

“Okay,” Lu Xingzhi nodded and agreed.

Jiang Yao was trying to torture Mrs. Sun. It should be quite painful for such a selfish person to sacrifice herself for her daughter’s life.

Lu Xingzhi understood that Jiang Yao did not let Mrs. Sun off because of Xie Qiuran, her biological mother. She wanted to return her identity to her. She still considered it as returning a favor to her birth mother.

Madam Cheng's words had a significant impact on Jiang Yao. She was a soft-hearted person. Her words were sharp, but her heart was soft. Madam Cheng's feelings made Jiang Yao feel troubled.
