

Chapter 174

She held a cup and took a small sip, Biden Lu also poured herself a cup, took her hand and sat down on the sofa.

The hills got quieter and quieter at night, and in the transparent glass house, the two men just nestled together in the couch, casually drinking wine.

The stars twinkled in the sky, and at the foot of the mountain there were thousands of lights, and it warmed the heart to see them.

Jenny Jing boasted that he was a good drinker, so he had no qualms about drinking, but unexpectedly, his head was a little dizzy before he finished a cup.

She leaned against Biden Lu's body in a daze and asked, "Biden Lu, why am I a little dizzy?"

Biden Lu looked at her with low eyes.

It was an excellent bottle of Imperial wine that he had specially taken from the Bo family's cellar, and it had a great entrance, but a tremendous aftertaste.

That's why, he only allowed her one drink.

When I saw the girl's cheeks flushed and her cat-like eyes sleepy and confused, I knew that she was already drunk.

Placing the glass on the table next to him, "I'll carry you to the shower."

After saying that, he had already picked her up in a cross-country hug.

Jenny was confused and half-drunk, but his memory was still sober.

"What shower? Aren't we in the mountains?"

The man didn't answer her, and soon, he led her to a bathroom.

The bathroom is not big, but not small either. In the middle is a big bathtub, and the surrounding walls reflect the glistening water in the bathtub, which makes you feel like you are in a dream.

Biden Lu put the water on her and put her in the bathtub.

"Are you going to wash it yourself, or should I do it for you?"

Jenny was drenched in the warm water and sobered up slightly with a jolt.

When the realization of her situation hit her, her little face flushed red as if on fire, and she shook her head repeatedly with her hands on her chest.

"I... I wash myself."

Biden Lu smiled, but didn't force the matter and turned around to go out.

Time passes slowly.

Biden Lu waited outside for a long time, but didn't wait for her to come out.

I took a sip of red wine and looked at the time.

Forty minutes have passed.

The mountain had a temporary hot water system, but after all, it was cold and the hot water was not always available because it was temporary, so it wasn't always available.

Forty minutes and the water should have been cold by now.

In the meantime, he got up and walked over to the bathroom and knocked on the door, considering that although there was heat inside, the temperature difference between day and night here was already a bit chilly at this time of night.

"Jenny, are you done washing?"

And yet, unexpectedly, there was no one inside to respond.

The man's frown deepened and he pulled at the door, finding that it had been locked from the inside.

This little girl! Still alert?

Biden Lu couldn't laugh or cry, there were only the two of them in this place, if he really wanted to tyrannize, what could a lock top?

Some helplessly shook their heads, only to go back and find the key and open the door again.

"Jenny! Are you done? I'm coming in!"

Still no response.

That's when he felt something was wrong and he opened the door.

But in the bathroom, the fog had long since dispersed, the girl sat in the bathtub, leaning against the wall of the bathtub with her eyes closed, not moving, as if she had died in her sleep.

He was at a loss for words and walked quickly over to the water, testing the temperature with his hand.

As it turned out, it was already cold.

The face fell.

One more look back, then, and there was the sizzling view.

.....

Jenny was carried out.

She gave an unconscious wince and arched in the man's arms, humming softly, "Cold."

Biden Lu's face at this point could no longer be described as difficult to see.

Holding back the anger, and the fire that had been stirred up, he dried the girl off, carried her out of the bathroom, and threw her on the bed.

His movements were rude because he was angry, and Jenny finally woke up, stirring in fascination with open eyes.

"Biden Lu, what's wrong with you?"

The man looked at her with a gloomy face and a pair of dark eyes that danced with a burning fire.

She just realized something was wrong, why was her chest a little cold? It's also cool on the legs.

A glance down at himself.

I stared in shock and screamed, "Ahh," and crumpled under the covers.

"Ah! Why am I, why am I naked?"

The man smirked, "What do you think?"

"I..."

She just remembered that she was in the bathtub, soaking and seemingly falling asleep.

Did he carry himself out?

That's not seeing everything?

At the thought of that image, her little face blushed like a lobster, and her whole body shrank deeper into the blanket, revealing only the top of a furry hairpiece.

"I need to get dressed, you, you get out of here!"

But this time, the man was not going to listen.

While unbuttoning his shirt, he snickered in an extremely harsh tone, "You want me to stand outside in the middle of the night at ten degrees below zero to wait for you to get dressed?"

Uh....

Jenny was stunned, was it that cold outside?

Although it is in the twenties during the day in the small town of Cosma, the outdoor temperature does drop below zero late at night, with a huge temperature difference.

As she froze, her body sank and the man had pounced on her.

"Ah!What are you, what are you doing?"

She was in a state of shock and fought even harder to get under the covers, yelling, "Don't you come near me!I'm not wearing any clothes!"

The tiny body, arched under the blanket, wrapped the blanket around it as hard as it could, like a silkworm baby.

Biden Lu was suddenly so angry and funny.

It took half a day to pick her head off.

At this time, the girl's hair had already been messed up, her little face was red and puffy, like a ripe red apple, and her eyes were wet, looking especially pitiful, making one want to take a bite.

He pressed down on the pity in his heart and smirked, "Now you know you're afraid?Why didn't you think of that in the shower just now?"

Jenny knew he was at a disadvantage and was somewhat aggrieved.

"I... I didn't mean to!Why don't you turn around first?!I'll call you when I'm dressed."

"Heh!What part of you is there that I haven't seen before?"

Jenny: "....."

That just stuck!

She didn't know she was going to fall asleep in the bathtub either, blaming it on that glass of wine.

Oh, no!It's all this man's fault. He must have done it on purpose!

Thinking about it, she looked at him with an angry little face and bright eyes, but she didn't know that she looked like this at this point, not like she was angry, but more like she was a petulant.

She had no idea how much of an impact a man would have when faced with the woman he loved pampering himself, especially again in such an ambiguous environment.

Biden Lu's eyes went even deeper.

Jenny Jing's heart trembled as he looked into those eyes that shone green like a wolf's.

Shrinking back under the covers, he stammered, "Why are you, why are you looking at me?"

Chapter 175

The man's eyes narrowed dangerously.

"Honey, it's such a nice atmosphere, don't you think we should do something lovey-dovey?"

"Sh, what do you love to do?"

"You really don't know?"

"I, I don't know..."

"Then I'll tell you now."

"Well, Biden Lu...!"

.....

The next day, Jenny woke up with a sore back.

This man, last night, was like clockwork, so cruel that he wouldn't let her go, no matter how much she begged for mercy.

Jenny was about to die of regret!

If I'd known, I wouldn't have agreed to him last night and come so far up the mountain!

But there was an advantage, because her legs were too sore and weak to go down the mountain properly, so the next morning, Biden Lu took the initiative to undertake the task of carrying her down the mountain.

The temperature during the day was not as low as at night, and the humid air on the beach came in with the salty smell of seawater.

Jenny was lying on the man's back, a little weak due to lack of sleep.

Biden Lu looked at her like this and smiled, "Don't sleep yet, the mountain is rather cold, don't catch cold."

Jenny gave a weak "oh".

After descending the mountain, Biden Lu put her down and they slowly walked back along the beach.

Since she had booked a flight back to Visterdem this afternoon, Jenny was busy packing her things as soon as she entered the house, just waiting for the time to leave this afternoon.

When Biden Lu saw that she had been busy, he couldn't bear to watch, and pulled her hand over to sit down on the sofa.

"Take a break and I'll take you out for lunch."

Jenny frowned.

"I thought we were booked on a 2pm flight? What if you don't pack up ahead of time, what if it's too late?"

"No, it's really not going to work, just ask Mo Nan to help collect it when the time comes."

Biden Lu said, not caring if she agreed or not, he took her jacket and put it on, holding her hand and walking out.

"Where to?"

"You'll see when you get there."

Not far from the villa, there's an upscale restaurant, the only one of its kind in town.

Both of them had intentionally avoided this one a few days ago, after all, they had come here to experience the local customs, and if the food, clothing, accommodation and transportation were still the same as in Visterdem, it would be meaningless.

But today, Biden Lu dragged her directly into the restaurant.

Only just inside the door, I heard a joyful shout, "Mommy!"

Jenny was stunned.

In the next second, a small pink gnome was seen flying towards her with a speed like the wind.

Jenny was shocked.

"Mommy, I miss you so much!"

Ann hugged Jenny and rubbed her head in her lap with a face of attachment and joy.

Jenny stared.

"Ani?What are you doing here?"

Not far away, the old lady came out a little guilty.

"Ahem, Jenny, here we are again."

"Old Mrs. Sham?You're here too?"

Jenny was a bit confused, the old lady nodded with a dry smile, "Yeah, I brought An'an out on holiday, and I just happened to run into you guys here, it's quite a fate!"

Jenny: "....."

She turned her head to look at Biden Lu, only to see the man's eyes and nose, not looking at her at all, as if he didn't see what was happening in front of him.

Jenny didn't frown.

Why did she feel a little strange?

r

This coincidence...isn't that a little too coincidental?

It made sense to run into each other twice before in Visterdem, but this time they were coming up to such a remote town and they still met?

But suspicion aside, Jenny was not good enough to show it, and in the end, he still greeted her politely.

"It's quite a treat, are you guys eating here too?"

"Yeah, yeah, yeah!Uh..." the old lady's eyes rolled around and she suddenly smiled, "You haven't eaten yet, have you?You want to come along?Just in time for me to thank you for helping us before."

Jenny said evenly, "You don't have to be so polite, it's just a hand up."

"Yes, yes, yes, there aren't many nice little girls like you nowadays, beautiful and thoughtful, everyone likes them, Mr. Lu, don't you think so?"

Biden Lu's face was a little dark.

Jenny thought he wasn't happy to be at the same table, and secretly tugged on his sleeve to show him otherwise.

The man stiffened, but in the end, he snorted softly and took Jenny into his arms.

"How good is my wife, do I need to tell you?"

Old lady: "..."

Jenny glared at him and secretly lowered his voice to grind his teeth, "Can you be more polite when talking to an old man?"

Biden Lu: "....."

The old lady was busy smiling and making rounds.

"It's not in the way, it's not in the way, young man, it's fiery, I understand!"

That said, he still glared darkly at Biden Lu a few times.

Biden Lu felt pain in his chest.

Forced by the old woman's enthusiasm, Jenny could only follow her inside and entered the box, seeing that there was another old man there as well.

Compared to the hale and hearty old lady, the old grandfather looked a bit frail and pale, and was sitting in a wheelchair.

The old lady introduced him, "This is my old man, just call him Grandpa Lu."

Jenny was stunned.

"Also surnamed Lu?"

The old lady's smile faltered for a moment, quickly recovering, "Oh... yeah, so it's a coincidence isn't it?"

Jenny nodded, "Well, it's quite a coincidence."

She darkly turned to look at Biden Lu, only to see him with a dark face, pinching his eyebrows, his eyes not even looking this way, a depressed expression on his face.

She had a meeting of minds and laughed softly.

Turning back to the old man, he looked at him and called out politely, "Grandpa Lu."

"Eh, well, well. Sit down! You're hungry after a long night's work, aren't you? Hurry up and eat more, you're so skinny."

Biden Lu stiffened.

Jenny Jing was downright generous, smiling slightly and nodding, "Thank you Grandpa Lu for your concern."

The old lady was busy secretly squeezing the soft flesh of the old man's waist, and the old man didn't react yet, looking at her in some confusion, "What's wrong? Why are you pinching me?"

Old lady: "..."

For a moment, a dry smile.

"Nothing, huh? Let's eat, let's eat!"

The food is already up, and since it's by the sea, naturally seafood is the majority.

The good news is that the chef is very skilled, and the table is full of dishes that are so delicious that you can't help but eat them.

The old lady has been warmly greeted, Jenny also did not polite, and soon, a meal is very warm and happy atmosphere to finish.

After dinner, the old lady yelled at me to watch.

Jenny looked at the time and realized that it was still early for boarding, so she didn't refuse and took the three of them for a walk around the villa they were staying in, where Ann had been sticking to her like a cowhide, refusing to go anywhere but her place.

Jenny did like it, though, and she felt a strange affinity for the child, carrying her to the garden at the back of the house and teaching her how to weave several garlands.

Chapter 176

It wasn't until she had to go out that the old lady came to take Ann away.

Looking at the little bun's reluctant appearance, Jenny was actually quite reluctant to leave.

Unexpectedly, Ann suddenly pulled her by the horns, blinked her big eyes, and said crisply, "Mommy, I heard from Grandma that you and Daddy will give me a little brother soon, is that true?"

Jenny: "???"

The old woman was stiff.

Even Biden Lu, who was standing to the side, could not stop his men's movements and looked at her in dismay.

It was as if time had stopped at that moment!

Ann was a little confused, and it took a few seconds for her hindsight to dawn on her that she'd missed the point!

She screamed, her small, fleshy hand fiercely covering her mouth.

A pair of large, watery eyes blinked and looked pitifully at Jenny.

55555....Mommy, Ann didn't mean it!

Ann wasn't trying to lie to you, Ann just wanted to stay with you!

Grandma said you'll never leave Daddy until you have a little brother to stay with Ann forever!

555555....Ann was wrong!

Jenny turned her head and looked at Biden Lu.

Only one of the man's handsome faces was very complicated, and the corners of his mouth were slightly drawn, only hating the idea of a hole suddenly appearing on the ground and burying himself.

On the other hand, Mrs. Sham finally reacted and laughed twice in embarrassment.

"It's, it's... how do I put this..."

The old lady was so embarrassed that she didn't know how to explain, but she was at a loss as to what to do in the end after having seen so many storms and waves.

Jenny suddenly laughed.

"I told you how Ann and I were so meant to be! I especially liked the little one from the first moment I saw her, and she kept pulling at me and calling me mummy, so it turns out it's really a family, so I guess I've got a pretty good sense of what's going on."

Everyone was stunned.

Jenny didn't mention that they were deliberately hiding their identities, nor did he say anything else, nor did he get angry.

Instead, he said this with a cloud of lightness, revealing the embarrassment before him.

This, this is too....

That's so understanding!

The old lady was so moved that she was about to cry, a pair of red eyes, she stepped forward to hold Jenny's hand and choked, "Jenny, I'm sorry, I was..."

"I understand all that." Jenny smiled and patted her gently on the hand she held in hers as a reassurance.

"A parent's love for his son is a far-reaching plan, and the old lady wanted to see what kind of woman her grandson was marrying, but it was a piece of bare-bones caring, and although the method was a little wrong, the beginnings are always good, I can understand that."

The old lady was moved to sobs.

"I knew that we Jenny were the most understanding."

Jenny Jing smiled faintly and didn't say anything.

She looked at Ann and squatted down.

Ann also looked frustrated because she had done something wrong and covered her face with her hands.

Jenny Jing couldn't help but laugh, reaching out to remove her fleshy little hand from her face, laughing, "Don't cover such a pretty little face, be careful of covering up the marks how unattractive it is!"

Ann peered through her fingers, looked at her carefully, and asked, "Aren't you angry, Mommy?"

Jenny shook his head, "Not angry."

"But Ani lied, Ani bad!"

"Be good, as long as Ann doesn't do that again next time."

"Really? Just change it next time and Mommy won't be mad?"

"Well, really."

Jenny Zheng (16th century BC), Ming dynasty poet

Focusing on the main point, Antoine leapt up and let go of her hand to throw himself into her arms.

"5555... Mommy, Ann misses you so much, and Ann finally has a Mommy too."

The soft little body held in his arms, Jenny's heart warm and soft.

Even the slight tingling discomfort seemed to disappear a lot.

She smiled, patted her back gently and said lovingly, "Well, Ani will have Mommy, and Mommy will love you."

Ann was so happy.

It's just that time can't be delayed anymore, Biden Lu looked at his watch and said, "We're going to the airport, you guys play here for two days and also go back early."

After a pause, he added, "After a while, I'll bring Jenny back to Kyoto to see you again."

Naturally, An'an was reluctant to part with Jenny, but she was very obedient and finally sent to the airport, or reluctant to say goodbye to her.

Before leaving, Jenny kissed her forehead and gave the child a small jade pendant she had brought with her, it was an amulet she had brought up since she was a child, I had heard that Ann was not well, so I hoped that it would bring her some good luck.

After saying goodbye, you boarded the plane.

It would take another two and a half hours to fly back, and as soon as he boarded the plane, Jenny sat in his seat and closed his eyes, looking like he clearly didn't want to take care of it.

The smile was no longer there either, and the cold face was clearly angry.

Biden Lu looked at her apprehensively, feeling chagrined, but also knowing that this matter was indeed his own fault.

He should have stopped the old lady from fooling around with An'an, and should not have left them to it.

The plane took off and the cabin fell silent, no one was making noise, and even the occasional conversation was so low that it was barely audible under the air currents.

Biden Lu also didn't know if she was asleep or not, and now in this situation, he was also grieving, off to the side and didn't dare to say anything or ask anything.

Finally, for fear of her catching cold, I took off my jacket and draped it over her.

Unexpectedly, the clothes just fell away and the woman waved them away.

Yoo-hoo, it's not sleeping?

Biden Lu became even more nervous and asked in a small voice, "Angry?"

Jenny snorted and didn't answer him.

Biden Lu can only grudgingly explain, "I originally wanted to tell you, but one is afraid of being in front of the old lady, so that she can't wipe her face, and the other is that I also want her to explain it to you herself later, so it's easier to say, I didn't think that An An would say it herself today, Jenny, I didn't mean to."

Jenny finally opened up and lifted his eyelids to look at him with a sneer.

"So, that's why you're keeping it from me?"

Biden Lu was busy straightening down and said in a deep voice, "No."

"Then what are you explaining here?"

"I..."

He actually ran out of words.

The grand president of Lu has never whispered and begged in his life, so much so that he doesn't even know what to say if he wants to ask for it now.

In the end, he was secretly annoyed and said solemnly, "I'm sorry, I was wrong!"

Jenny smiled coolly.

"I know, I shouldn't have helped Grandma hide it from you all together, I was really wrong!"

"Heh!"

"Jenny, forgive me!"

Jenny don't look away, ignoring him.

Biden Lu looked at her, reached out his fingers, carefully squeezed the corner of her coat and shook it gently.

"Wife~~"

Sheesh-!

The Demon King is a spoiled brat. Have you ever seen that?

Jenny almost had goosebumps, turning to glare at him and grinding her teeth, "Let go!"
