

Chapter 135

He tried to take Alyssa's hand, but he didn't have a chance. Grandpa kept holding Alyssa's hand, and he could only stand behind them. When they were seated, he could only sit face to face with Alyssa.

The most important thing was that grandpa's hand was not separated from Alyssa's hand at all.

Alyssa was clearly his wife. But he didn't even have a chance to take her hand.

Leon sat on the side and didn't say a word.

Kevin said to Alyssa, "You need to eat more since you are pregnant. Do you still go to school? If you don't want to go to school, you don't have to. There's no need to take a year off from school, and you just take some time off. It's okay for you to study at home. If you think it's hard, you can stop studying for now. You can do that after you have the baby."

Kevin was worried that Alyssa was upset about the delay in her studies. She was pregnant now and had to stay at home. So he reassured Alyssa, "You don't have to worry about school. Leon knows the principal of A University and can take care of it. By the way, do you have anything you like? I'll buy it for you now."

Kevin wanted to buy Alyssa something from the bottom of his heart.

In the past, Kevin was not this generous. He rarely offered to buy things for others.

He always felt that people should earn money to buy what they wanted.

He had expected Alyssa to say at least one or two things that she liked. But Alyssa didn't say anything for a long time, so Kevin was surprised and asked softly, "Alyssa, why don't you say anything? Don't you have something you like?"

"No, grandpa, I have a lot of favorite things, but I think I have to earn my own money to buy what I like. I appreciate grandpa's kindness. I feel that I am the happiest person in the whole world if grandpa loves me and likes me. There is nothing happier than this."

People who had died once knew how important it was to be loved by others.

Kevin smiled, "I rarely say things like that. If you like shares of Hunter Group, I'll give them to you if you tell me. I'm glad you're pregnant."

"I know." Alyssa said with a smile, "I got pregnant willingly. I really want to be with Leon, so I don't want anything. I just want Leon to stay with me and never leave me."

Leon suddenly remembered what Alyssa had told him last night before she fell asleep.

Alyssa asked him not to leave her.

He looked at Alyssa and just felt warm and happy.

The anger he had just been left alone completely disappeared.

She was just like sunshine that could dispel all the gloom.

They ate their breakfast at the table. As the warm sunshine came in and shone right on Alyssa's face, Leon looked up and suddenly froze.

Alyssa looked more beautiful than before when the sun shone on her.

After breakfast, Alyssa couldn't resist the sleepiness and wanted to rest.

Leon prepared to take Alyssa to bed. Alyssa had already asked for leave from school. When she saw Leon leaving, she grabbed his hand, "Where are you going? To work? How about I take you to work? I'll go home and rest."

"This is my old room. You can rest here. I won't leave. It's just as well that grandpa and I have something to discuss."

Hearing Leon's words, Alyssa already understood, "It's about Emily?"

"Yes."

"Good then."

Knowing that Leon was not leaving, Alyssa laid down at ease.

Probably because she came back too late yesterday and didn't sleep well, so now she especially wanted to sleep.

The bed in the bedroom was clean and tidy, and there was a unique scent of Leon's body. Smelling the scent, Alyssa quickly fell asleep and slept soundly.

The Hunters' old house.

The study.

Kevin and Leon sat opposite each other. Kevin took a cup of tea and sipped it slowly.

Watching Kevin leisurely drinking tea, Leon said, "Grandpa, Emily has come back from C City. Do you know about this?"

"I only learned about it the other day after checking. She said she had to take time off work because of some family problems. The people in C City are all from the Coles, so it's easy for her to get out." Kevin already knew about it. He looked up at Leon, "You've been waiting for the Coles to make mistakes, but they're not stupid. Since they knew that you've been watching them, how could they easily slip up! If you really want to catch their mistakes, you need to think of a way."

"I've already arranged for someone to do this. I believe they will soon reveal their faults."

"So you came to me today to say this in the hope that I would agree to let you take care of this?"

"The first thing Emily did when she came back was to target Alyssa. She bribed the cook at my villa to put drugs that would affect the fetus in our meals. Fortunately, we found out in time. Grandpa, you wouldn't want to see us in danger."

"I know. You need to figure out what to do. I gave you everything of the Hunters a long time ago. It's only natural that you should be able to handle this."

Kevin patted Leon's shoulder, "You're going to be a father, so you need to be more steady, take care of Hunter Group, and live a good life with Alyssa."

"I know." Leon nodded, "And George?"

"Do you trust George?"

"I don't know."

He didn't know exactly what George was thinking.

But so far, they didn't have any conflicts.

The rumors that they were at odds were not true. At best, he and George were not in regular contact. They had played together as children, and George had always looked up to him as a role model, trying to be as good as he was.

Besides, they were both men of few words.

"I don't know. After all, the Coles are on his mother's side. George was brought up by his mother. He was spoiled when he was young. He's not like you. I just think that if you want to be the president of Hunter Group, you have to be independent. Once George really confronts you one day, what you have to do is not to cajole and persuade him, but to make your brother understand one thing in the simplest way."

Hearing this, Leon looked up at his grandpa.

Kevin smiled, "George is the descendant of the Hunters. His last name is Hunter, and he is your brother!"

Everything was clear.

All the responsibility was placed on Leon's shoulders.

There was no specified way to treat George. It all depended on his attitude.

It was after ten in the morning.

Alyssa woke up from her nap.

She opened her eyes and looked around the strange environment, suddenly a little nervous. After a closer look, she realized that this was the Hunters' old house.

This was Leon's room.

The room still smelled like Leon.

There was a sudden sound of the door opening outside the room. She turned her head and saw Leon walking in hurriedly.
