

Chapter 1361: Comfort

"I'll send you home," Brother Ding said.

"Home?" Ding Xiaomei smiled, but tears streamed from her eyes. "Do I still have the dignity to go back? What if Mom, Grandfather, and Grandmother ask about my brother? What should I say? Do I tell them how I lost my brother? Or how I escaped and would rather walk in every corner of every city, drinking dirty water to quench my thirst and eating food from the garbage can? I don't want to go back to my hometown. I can't bring myself to go back during the most difficult time of my life, and now I'm even more ashamed to go back! Why don't you return my brother to me? You don't have to chase me away. I'll take my brother and leave. I'll never bother you again!"

"I don't want to chase you away—" Brother Ding was helpless and wanted to explain.

"Then tell them to get lost!" Ding Xiaomei interrupted Brother Ding's words.

Brother Ding looked at his daughter, then looked at Wen Yunfang and Sister Wen on the floor. He called for someone to send the two to the hospital and then asked the servants to pack their bags.

Wen Yunfang was beaten so severely that she could not even walk. Sister Wen's body was also full of injuries. She was used to being pampered, so how could she carry such a big daughter?

Brother Ding watched from the side. In the end, he walked forward and carried Wen Yunfang toward the parked car outside the door.

Wen Yunfang knew that she had made the right bet. She buried herself in Brother Ding's arms and cried in a low voice. "Godfather, I know I was wrong. I was too afraid that someone would take your love away from me. Godfather, don't be angry. Don't abandon my mother and me."

"Xiao Mei is angry now. I must have hit you too hard. Go to the hospital first. After you're done, go to Xiang City and stay there. When you get my other child back, I'll bring you back from Xiang City," Brother Ding said that to make Wen Yunfang stop scheming. She could only return to his side if she brought his son back.

"Godfather, I understand. I will go back and look for that child." Wen Yunfang nodded repeatedly.

Brother Ding stood at the door and watched as Sister Wen and Wen Yunfang got into the car. He watched the servants pack up their things and put them in the car before they left. After a few seconds, he turned around and went back.

The person standing there had already sat back on the sofa. When she heard footsteps, Ding Xiaomei said in a faint voice, "Can't bear to see her leave? She's only been with you for a little more than ten years. What about my mother? She has been married to you for more time than that wild woman has been with you, right? She even gave birth to your children and took care of your elderly parents. Why weren't you reluctant to leave then?"

Brother Ding stopped in his tracks. In the end, he did not answer her questions.

He turned around and called the servant to prepare a room for Ding Xiaomei. Then, he said, "Go upstairs and pick a room that you like. Then, rest well. I have something to do."

Ding Xiaomei looked coldly at Brother Ding, who had already left. In the end, her heart was still filled with disappointment.

Jiang Yao was in the room telling Lu Xingzhi what had happened in the main building. She told Lu Xingzhi that Brother Ding had almost crippled Wen Yunfang and even attacked Sister Wen. Then, he sent Wen Yunfang and Sister Wen to the hospital. He even comforted them for a while.

Ding Xiaomei did not know what Brother Ding whispered to Wen Yunfang, but Jiang Yao heard everything clearly. So, she told Lu Xingzhi everything.

Chapter 1362: Make Her Unhappy

After Lu Xingzhi heard it, he raised his eyebrows and said, "Brother Ding might have been reluctant to comfort Wen Yunfang and Sister Wen. After all, Wen Yunfang did sell Ding Xiaomei and her brother. There is a difference between a biological child and a foster daughter. His foster daughter had sold his daughter and son. One of them had been ruined and suffered so much. His son is still missing. Under normal circumstances, Brother Ding would have eaten Wen Yunfang and her mother alive. Therefore, Brother Ding did not show any mercy when he attacked Wen Yunfang."

"You mean to say that Brother Ding was only acting?" Jiang Yao thought about it and felt that it was very likely. "Wen Yunfang and Sister Wen know a lot about him. At that time, Brother Ding was in the best position to use people. He is also thinking of replacing Brother Jing and Ah Da. He is afraid that if he doesn't appease Wen Yunfang and Ah Da properly, those two women will betray him."

"Smart." Lu Xingzhi patted Jiang Yao's head.

Therefore, Brother Ding was only thinking about benefits.

"Do you think Brother Ding will kill Wen Yunfang and Sister Wen when he finds people to replace them?" Jiang Yao thought of that possibility.

"That depends on whether Brother Ding's son can be found. If he can't be found, then it's very likely." Lu Xingzhi nodded.

Brother Ding was not an ordinary man; he was not afraid of killing anyone.

Just as the servants in the manor had said, if Brother Ding really liked Sister Wen that much, he would have married her long ago. He would not have let her follow him for more than ten years without any legitimate status.

Therefore, based on Lu Xingzhi's information and the information he had gotten from Brother Ding, he thought that Brother Ding must have still cared about his family.

After Jiang Yao heard Lu Xingzhi's words, she clicked her tongue. When she looked at the main building, she saw Wen Yunfang's room. Her things were thrown down the window.

There were clothes, shoes, cosmetics, and many other things.

It turned out that Ding Xiaomei did not just want any other room, but she wanted Wen Yunfang's room. She even wanted to throw all of Wen Yunfang's things. She asked the servants to find someone to move all the furniture Wen Yunfang and burn them.

Jiang Yao tugged at Lu Xingzhi and chuckled. "I like Ding Xiaomei's personality! She's so bad that I like her!"

Seeing Lu Xingzhi's puzzled expression, Jiang Yao told him what Ding Xiaomei was doing. "I'd do the same if I were her! Then, I'd go and throw all the things that belonged to Sister Wen in Brother Ding's room! Throw them all away!"

The evil smile on Jiang Yao's face made Lu Xingzhi take another look at her. Then, he reached out and pinched her nose. "My wife is such a good person. Naturally, she has the best parents in the world. You don't have to do that kind of thing."

"If you ever make me unhappy, I will throw your things away! I find that very relaxing. It should be even more enjoyable to do it."

Lu Xingzhi touched the tip of his nose. He did not think that Jiang Yao would have that opportunity.

After watching the bustle in the main building, Jiang Yao tugged at Lu Xingzhi's sleeve and giggled. "Do you think I should go visit Wen Yunfang as a friend when I hear that she's injured and hospitalized? After all, she brought me around the city and even introduced me to handsome guys. I must be as close to her as a little sister. So, should I secretly complain to her and tell her that the new lady threw her stuff away and burned it to make her unhappy for a while?"

Chapter 1363: A Visit

"Go if you want to." Lu Xingzhi had no reason to stop his wife from doing such an exciting thing. "In a few days, when you return to Lu City, Brother Ding might send a trusted servant to take care of you."

That person would be there to supervise the situation.

However, the one who needed supervision was not Jiang Yao, the useless Gu Junhui, but Wen Yunfang and her mother.

Lu Xingzhi thought that maybe even Jiang Yao would be reminded to pay more attention to the movements of Wen Yunfang and her mother.

In fact, Lu Xingzhi wanted Wen Yunfang and her mother to turn against Brother Ding, and he was even looking forward to it.

Ding Xiaomei had forced them out of the house as soon as she came back. Even though that move surprised Jiang Yao and Lu Xingzhi, they did not plan to stop her.

With Lu Xingzhi's approval, Jiang Yao went to the hospital and even bought a fruit basket. She went to Wen Yunfang's ward and expressed her sympathy for the mother and daughter's condition.

Wen Yunfang was cursing Gu Junhui in her heart for coming at that time; she did not want to talk to her. She did not expect Gu Junhui would stammer and tell her about what Ding Xiaomei did after she left.

"What did you say? That b*tch took my room?" Wen Yunfang was so angry that she sat up straight. "She threw my things away and burned them?"

“Yes! She’s so fierce. How could she do that? That room used to be yours, but she took it the moment she came back. There are so many empty rooms in the main building. Why did she not choose one of those? Why did she choose your room? Did she do it on purpose?” Jiang Yao looked indignant.

As she spoke, Jiang Yao pretended to be scared out of her wits. “I saw her throw a lot of your things from the upstairs window. Shoes, clothes, cosmetics, and even your jewelry. She even threw a whole box of them down the stairs and your bed—”

Before Jiang Yao could speak, Wen Yunfang was so angry that she lost her rationality and smashed everything on the bedside table. Her voice was so loud that even the doctors and nurses rushed into the ward. When they saw Wen Yunfang’s reaction, they immediately sedated her.

Initially, Sister Wen wanted to administer the sedative. When she heard the doctors and nurses’ words and rushed over there, Wen Yunfang was already unconscious. When she saw Gu Junhui standing there with a frightened look on her face, she finally asked about the situation.

‘That woman!’ Sister Wen thought that she should have killed the two siblings back then. Unfortunately, she was too stupid. She was concerned that the two of them were Brother Ding’s children, so she did not act ruthlessly. She did not expect that woman would appear and bite them again!

Sister Wen looked at her daughter, who was lying on the hospital bed. Her heart ached so much that she almost could not speak. Who did not treat their children as treasures? Seeing her daughter beaten up by her man, Sister Wen knew in her heart that more than ten years of companionship could not be compared to the man’s biological children.

“Junhui, thank you for coming to see Yunfang. It seems like only you still remember us—” Sister Wen held Gu Junhui’s hand and said some nice words to her. If it were not for the current situation, Sister Wen would not have bothered with Gu Junhui at all.

However, it was different then. She could not stay in the house, so she did not know what was going on. Gu Junhui was easy to fool, and she had stayed with Wen Yunfang in Xiang City for a few days. That was why Sister Wen wanted to say a few nice things to influence Gu Junhui to help her spread the news and keep an eye on Brother Ding and Ding Xiaomei.

Chapter 1364: I’m Not Afraid

“Yunfang and I are good friends. It’s what I should do,” Jiang Yao said to Sister Wen; she looked embarrassed. She thought it was funny. She was there to see Wen Yunfang make a fool of herself, or rather, she deliberately tried to sow discord between Wen Yunfang and Brother Ding.

Jiang Yao only went to the hospital. When she went home, Ding Xiaomei and Brother Ding quarreled again. It was not because Ding Xiaomei deliberately occupied Wen Yunfang’s room, but because Ding Xiaomei offered to help Brother Ding. She had accepted what Wen Yunfang had done before, but Brother Ding refused her offer.

Ah Zhu tried to persuade Ding Xiaomei, but she did not care about him. No matter what Ah Zhu said, she did not even look at the man.

“You can live here. I’ll let you live wherever you want. I can give you anything you want, but I won’t agree to that.” Brother Ding’s face darkened. “You should give up that idea!”

Ding Xiaomei asked, “Do you think that I’m not as capable as your goddaughter? That I can’t help you? Can’t you teach me? Is Wen Yunfang born with those skills? You can take her hand, but can’t you take mine?”

Brother Ding frowned. “Wen Yunfang did really have the skills. She had used her eyes and ears since she was young. I did not even need to teach her.”

That was not the point. The point was that Brother Ding would not allow Ding Xiaomei to get involved in his business.

Brother Ding said, “You know about all those things that I’ve done. Don’t you understand why your grandparents and your mother won’t let me go back to see you? Even though those are all big businesses that can make money, I can’t guarantee that I’ll lose my life one day. You’re my daughter. I won’t let you get involved in that. Just stay here. I’ll buy you anything you want! You’re my daughter. It’s only right for me to raise you. Don’t mention this again!”

All those years, it was not that Brother Ding did not want to go home. His parents had disowned him, and his wife had blamed him. They did not understand his business.

Although Brother Ding was angry and resentful that his family did not understand him, he knew he deserved it. Therefore, when he heard that his daughter wanted to help him, Brother Ding refused to let her do it.

One day, his luck might run out, and he might lose his life. However, he had earned enough money and hidden enough to let his family live a good life.

He did not need his daughter to work for him. He did not want her to sacrifice her life.

“I’m not afraid.”

Ding Xiaomei shrugged. “Anyway, I’ve been like this my whole life. What’s the difference between living and dying? It might be good if I died, so I don’t have to live a life worse than death.”

Then, Ding Xiaomei went upstairs. Suddenly, she turned toward Brother Ding, who was standing in the living room. “I’m going to buy furniture later! Everything in my room needs to be replaced. I don’t want to see anything that the woman used!”

“Go! Buy whatever you like!” Brother Ding nodded repeatedly. He felt better if his daughter would spend his money.

Ah Zhu was speechless, so when Brother Ding was not paying attention, he rolled his eyes helplessly at the young couple standing opposite him.

Jiang Yao covered her mouth and smiled, but she applauded Ding Xiaomei’s methods in her heart.

Ding Xiaomei hated Brother Ding and Wen Yunfang, so how would she get along with them? She only wanted to have the last word.

It was to make Brother Ding feel guilty toward her and so that he would not dislike her.

Chapter 1365: I Know It's You

"Junhui." Brother Ding suddenly remembered that Gu Junhui, who had just come in, was still standing here. He said, "Later, you will accompany Xiaomei to buy furniture. She has a bad temper. If she talks badly, you have to be more lenient with her. She has suffered a lot over the years."

"Ah?"

Jiang Yao was stunned. "I'm afraid she will despise me."

"How can that be? You're different." Brother Ding shook his head. "Wait for her here and then go out with her."

Then, Brother Ding called for Ah Zhu and Gu Changshu to leave.

Brother Ding had said that she was different. Gu Junhui was the only one in the entire house who was not involved in those things besides the servants. Furthermore, Gu Junhui was a naive girl. That was why he let Gu Junhui accompany Ding Xiaomei; he also wanted the two of them to interact more. It would be great if they could be friends.

Not long after Lu Xingzhi went out, Jiang Yao received a text message. It was from Lu Xingzhi.

"There's no need to reveal your identity at the moment."

He wanted to tell Jiang Yao that there was no need to inform Ding Xiaomei that he and Jiang Yao were undercover agents for the time being.

Jiang Yao replied with another message. When she heard Ding Xiaomei's footsteps coming down the stairs, she quickly deleted the text message from Lu Xingzhi on her phone. When Ding Xiaomei came down, she would become the silly and foolish Gu Junhui.

"Young Miss, Brother Ding asked me to accompany you to buy furniture," Jiang Yao called out to the woman.

Ding Xiaomei looked at the person standing there nervously. She looked at her for a few seconds and then nodded.

Brother Ding had asked someone to drive them, and the driver was already waiting for them. He did not ask where Ding Xiaomei and Jiang Yao were going; he took them directly to the best furniture shop in Shu City.

"I'll go in with her. You don't have to follow us. Just wait at the door. If I see anything I want, I'll ask someone to send it to the mansion!" Ding Xiaomei jumped out of the car and left a message for Gu Junhui to follow her in.

Ding Xiaomei was Brother Ding's daughter, so the driver would do whatever she said.

When they entered the furniture store, Ding Xiaomei looked surprised. After all, she had never seen such a big furniture store or such expensive furniture.

“Which one do you think is good?”

Ding Xiaomei no longer had the arrogance that she had when she was flaunting herself outside. She was like an ordinary woman who was confused and did not know where to start when she looked at the dazzling array of products.

“Young Miss, I don’t have good taste. Please don’t ask me.” In embarrassment, Jiang Yao smiled at Ding Xiaomei. “Buy whichever you think is nice.”

That was the only suggestion Jiang Yao gave her.

Ding Xiaomei’s gaze moved away from the merchandise and fell on Gu Junhui’s face. Then, she looked around and said, “I know it’s you—the doctor who helped me at the train station that day. I recognize your eyes. I won’t forget them.”

Jiang Yao was shocked by Ding Xiaomei’s words. When she saved Ding Xiaomei’s child, she was wearing a mask and a hat. She had never taken it off, and only her eyes were exposed.

She did not expect Ding Xiaomei would be able to recognize her just like that.

“Don’t worry; I won’t tell anyone.”

Ding Xiaomei smiled. “If I hadn’t said it just now, you wouldn’t have known that I had recognized you, right?”

“Your eyes are amazing. Do you have a photographic memory?” Jiang Yao did not pretend to smile anymore... Her tone and expression were very natural as she spoke to Ding Xiaomei.

Chapter 1366: No Need For This

“It’s not me, but your eyes have left a deep impression on me. You are the first person I’ve met who did not mind my child and me being dirty since I brought my child to wander around for so long. That’s why I remember your eyes. In fact, I’ve always wanted to find you and thank you. I thought I wouldn’t have the chance, but I did not expect to meet you again.”

Ding Xiaomei’s eyes could not help but redden when she mentioned the incident where the two of them met at the train station. “Doctor, thank you very much. If it weren’t for you, I’m afraid that my child might not even be alive right now. He’s so young, but he was scared that I would worry, so he did not even dare cry out in pain. ”

When she mentioned her child, a trace of gentleness appeared on Ding Xiaomei’s face. “I’ve been living in pain every day for the past few years.” My child has left me with only one ray of light. Even though I hate the child’s father and family, I love my child very much. My child is also very sensible and loves me very much.”

Ding Xiaomei said, “When he got a little older, whenever that man punched and kicked me, he would rush up and protect me with his tiny body. When he saw that I was tied up, he would feed me water, steal food for me to eat, fetch water to wash my hands, and help comb my hair. He would hug me and tell me to bear with it. He said that he would help me to escape when he's all grown up. And that he would earn money to support me.

"When the weather was cold, he would go next door to ask for a cup of hot tea for me. Then, he would carefully carry the hot cup back to me. It was so hot that his little palm was so red that he could not bear to let go. He was so silly; he was afraid that the water would be cold if he let go."

When Ding Xiaomei talked about her child, she had a lot to say. It was not until she finally realized that she had said too much that she smiled embarrassedly and explained, "I just want you to know how important my child is to me. I want you to know how much I owe you for helping me. I know you are wary of me. After all, Ding Xionghe is my biological father. That's why I left my son with the army. That way, you might have more faith in me."

"Actually, you don't have to be so careful." Jiang Yao was a little moved. Ding Xiaomei was a simple village girl. She had to suffer a lot to harden her heart.

Ding Xiaomei smiled. "I deserve it. The army trusted me and asked me to come to Shu City. I should also do something to make you feel at ease.

Ding Xiaomei and Jiang Yao talked more freely with their arms open. Jiang Yao did not pretend to be a silly girl like Gu Junhui, who did not know anything about the world anymore.

After the two of them picked out the furniture, they went out of the shop like they did when they came in. They did not even make eye contact in private.

When Lu Xingzhi came back that night, he reported that Wen Yunfang and Sister Wen were going to Xiang City tomorrow. Wen Yufang and Sister Wen's injuries had to be treated slowly. Naturally, the two of them did not want to stay in the hospital. They would rather return to Xiang City. After all, it was their home.

"Brother Ding asked me to tell you to keep an eye on the two of them. No matter what they did, you can tell him if you find it strange. Brother Ding is a suspicious person," Lu Xingzhi said, his eyes twitching slightly. "Even if he sent a servant to keep an eye on them, he's afraid that the servant will take bribes. So, he asked you to keep an eye on them. At the same time, he also wants to see which of the two is more useful to him."

Chapter 1367: Trust

"So I should still send information that Brother Ding wants, right?" Jiang Yao leaned against Lu Xingzhi's chest and giggled. "Brother Ding doesn't trust anyone, so he has his doubts."

"Don't act rashly. I think Brother Jing is planning to use Wen Yunfang and her mother to do something," Lu Xingzhi patted the small head on his chest and said, "Sister Wen is more difficult to deal with than Wen Yunfang, so you'd better not make any moves for now. Don't let them find out that you're watching them."

"Do you think it's a coincidence? Sister Wen asked me to keep an eye on Brother Ding's movements, and Brother Ding asked me to watch the mother and daughter duo. The three of them have been together for more than ten years, and Sister Wen has been accompanying Brother Ding for more than ten years without a name or status. In the end, the two sides are constantly on guard against each other.”

That was not a coincidence, but even an outsider like Jiang Yao felt a chill in her heart when it came to it.

She rubbed her head against Lu Xingzhi’s chest. After a while, she moved away in satisfaction. “We will never be like that.”

If the two of them were together and stingy with their trust, what was the point of being together?

To live together?

It was not like they could not live without a partner. Why did they have to do that?

Jiang Yao thought that; she and Lu Xingzhi would never reach that stage.

She and Lu Xingzhi were together because of love. He could even entrust his life to her, so what was there to distrust?

She could even risk her life for him, let alone trust him.

“Yes.”

Lu Xingzhi’s hands covered the backs of Jiang Yao’s hands. “No matter what happens, I can always turn to you.”

Jiang Yao pressed the corners of her lips together and smiled quietly. Just as she was about to speak, Lu Xingzhi suddenly lifted her by her waist and carried her to the bed.

Jiang Yao wrapped her hands around his neck. “You haven’t finished speaking yet. Can’t you think of something else in your mind?”

“You can still talk now. I’m listening.” Lu Xingzhi placed her on the bed and was not in a hurry to do anything else. Instead, he slowly unbuttoned her shirt. When he saw that Jiang Yao was just staring at him without saying anything, he opened his mouth again. “If you don’t say anything, I’ll start.”

They appeared to be conversing, but he did not allow Jiang Yao to speak.

His hands did not stop moving, but his lips had already pressed down on hers.

Jiang Yao could detect a faint tobacco smell from his kiss. It was different from the brand of cigarettes he liked to smoke in the past. It seemed to have a more pungent aroma. Even after he brushed his teeth and washed up, Jiang Yao could still smell it.

“Smoke less.” Jiang Yao, who was still confused from the kiss, remembered to remind him of that sentence at the last moment before her rationality faded away.

She did not know if Lu Xingzhi could hear what she was saying, but he did agree with her. However, Jiang Yao felt that a man obsessed with her would choose to brush her off no matter what she said.

Since the mother and daughter duo were still in the hospital, they needed their discharge papers when they went back to Xiang City. Sister Wen and Wen Yufang set off in the afternoon, while Jiang Yao, who had been tormented for half a night, stayed in bed for a long time. After that, she carried her belongings to the hospital and met up with Sister Wen and her daughter.

Lu Xingzhi sent her to the car. She did not know if he did it on purpose, but he bent down and kissed Jiang Yao's lips through the lowered window. One of them sat in the car with a confused look on her face, while the other sat outside the car with a faint smile in his eyes. He did not seem to care about the gazes of the people around him. Then, he told her to close the window so that she would not get cold.

Chapter 1368: Don't Blame Me

Wen Yunfang sat in the passenger seat; she was so angry that she was trembling. However, she still gritted her teeth and teased the two of them. She said, "Gu Changshu and Gu Junhui, you two are really close."

Brother Ding stood at the side and squinted his eyes as he looked at them. He said, "The newly married couple is probably cursing me in their hearts for keeping them separate."

"How can that be?"

Jiang Yao shook her head repeatedly. "I know that you are doing this for my own good, Brother Ding. You don't want me to meet Brother Jing."

"It's good that you don't blame me." Brother Ding smiled and told the driver to drive them away.

Then, Jiang Yao looked at Lu Xingzhi. She waved her hand and took in the look of reluctance in Lu Xingzhi's eyes.

Lu Xingzhi's personality was unshakable. Nothing could make his expression change too dramatically, obviously.

When he was happy, he would laugh, but he rarely laughed aloud. Most of the time, he would only laugh with his eyes, and the corners of his lips would twitch slightly, or he would even laugh in a low voice.

When he was unhappy, he would only hide his emotions behind his eyes.

No matter what, if one did not observe him, one would not be able to see any changes in his emotions.

If it were not because he was too reluctant to part with her, perhaps Jiang Yao would not have been able to capture such emotions in his eyes at that time.

Jiang Yao understood that as long as she and Lu Xingzhi were separated, not only would he be reluctant to part, but he would also have to worry about her safety every minute and every second. He regarded her as more important than himself.

The driver was Sister Wen. Wen Yunfang sat in the front passenger seat, while Jiang Yao and the servant sat in the back seat. The servant was a quiet person, so naturally, she would not talk to Jiang Yao. Meanwhile, the two people in front were in a bad mood. Therefore, the mother and daughter did not speak along the way.

The four of them arrived at Xiang City in silence. As soon as Sister Wen heard that Jiang Yao was staying downstairs, she immediately asked Jiang Yao to move upstairs. Her original room was given to the new servant.

After Jiang Yao entered the new room, she heard Sister Wen call out to Wen Yunfang in the study. The first thing she said was that Wen Yunfang's methods of torturing Gu Junhui were too feeble. If Gu Junhui told Brother Ding about staying in the small guest room on the first floor, Brother Ding would overthink it. He would think that the mother and daughter were guarding against Gu Junhui and Brother Ding.

She saw Wen Yunfang clench her fists and sit on the chair in the study room, crying. Wen Yunfang's injuries were much worse than Sister Wen's. Even when she was lying down, it would aggravate her wounds. Her body seemed swollen.

"Mom, Brother Ding didn't treat us like family at all. He said he would send a servant to take care of me, but isn't she here to spy on us? Look at that servant's expression; she's so arrogant!" Wen Yunfang was angry about that. "Look at my injuries. I've worked for him for so many years, but I can't beat his daughter! Brother Ding is rich and capable, but we haven't helped him for so many years, would he have his current position?"

"We're a consolation prize for him. How do we compare to his biological daughter? I've been too stupid all these years. I helped him wholeheartedly. He hadn't returned to his home for more than ten years, and he never mentioned them. I thought he thinks of us as his wife and child. I'm so stupid. How can we be the same?" Sister Wen sneered, "I should have killed Ding Xiaomei and her brother back then."

"Mom, what should we do now?" Wen Yunfang asked. "Send someone to find Ding Xiaomei's brother? But it's been so many years. What if we can't find him? What should we do? If we can't find him, we'll never be able to return to Shu City. "

Chapter 1369: A Good Life

"Find him! We must find him as soon as possible! After we find him, we'll hold him in our hands!" Sister Wen's eyes hardened. "People like Brother Ding are ruthless toward others. We must keep him with us. Otherwise, we won't even have a chance to live!"

Jiang Yao listened to the mother and daughter as they spoke, then remembered the names of the people and places they mentioned. She sent the info to Ouyang. After Ouyang's confirmation that he had received the message, she deleted all the messages.

Sister Wen left in a hurry without having any dinner. Jiang Yao asked Moe to follow her. When it was past seven o'clock, Ouyang suddenly drove to the house. When the servant went to announce his arrival, Jiang Yao was chatting with Wen Yunfang cordially.

Wen Yunfang wanted to learn news about Brother Ding from Gu Junhui, so she also talked to Gu Junhui patiently. When she heard that Mr. Ouyang was there for Gu Junhui, she was surprised.

"You know Mr. Ouyang?"

Wen Yunfang looked at Gu Junhui.

“I don’t think so. I met him when you took me to the cocktail party last time. We talked a little.” Jiang Yao scratched her head as if she had no impression of that person. “Many people came to talk to me that day. I don’t remember which one is Mr. Ouyang.”

Wen Yunfang looked at Gu Junhui and felt a wave of jealousy in her heart.

After a few seconds, she said coldly, “You’re really lucky.”

Even though she had an evil grandmother and uncle, she also had an aunt who treated her as her own child and a mother who doted on her even though they had not seen each other for many years.

That was not all. She also had a good man like Gu Changshu. Not only was he good-looking, but he also doted on his wife and did not indulge in other women. Although he was poor, he could still improve his life. Even Brother Ding praised him for being helpful. Sooner or later, he would have a bright future.

She did not care about all that. She wanted to find a man for Gu Junhui, but she did not expect Gu Junhui to meet someone like Mr. Ouyang, who was also a gem.

Wen Yunfang knew that Mr. Ouyang did not like women like her. Therefore, although Wen Yunfang thought that Mr. Ouyang was good, she did not act on him. She knew that he did not like her.

“Mr. Ouyang is young and promising. He is a good person. He asked you to go out for a walk. Since you are bored, why don’t you go? You can learn a lot of knowledge and broaden your horizons with him. This is an opportunity that others can’t get even if they ask for it,” Wen Yunfang tried to persuade her.

In fact, she was angry and aggrieved.

Mr. Ouyang was different from Gu Changshu. It was not difficult for Wen Yunfang to take Gu Changshu for herself. Wen Yunfang was confident that as long as Gu Changshu and Gu Junhui were separated, Gu Changshu would still work for Brother Ding, and Gu Changshu would definitely accept her.

However, Mr. Ouyang was not a man she could control. Wen Yunfang also knew that Mr. Ouyang looked down on women like her.

If Wen Yunfang had to describe Mr. Ouyang, he was like a bird flying in the sky, and a person like Wen Yunfang was like a loach in the mud. Mr. Ouyang was beyond her reach.

Furthermore, Wen Yunfang heard that Mr. Ouyang was very clean, and there had never been a woman around him. Therefore, Wen Yunfang knew that he had high expectations for his woman. For a woman like her, who had no lack of men around her, Mr. Ouyang would not like her at all. He might even think that she was dirty. The existence of a person like Mr. Ouyang made Wen Yunfang feel inferior.

Chapter 1370: A Date With Ouyang

Therefore, Wen Yunfang was angry when she heard that Mr. Ouyang had gone out with Gu Junhui. If it had been any other man who had gone there to ask Gu Junhui out, Wen Yunfang would not have been so jealous. However, it was Mr. Ouyang who, according to the rumors of outsiders, was a good character. Wen Yunfang did not doubt that he would marry Gu Junhui after Gu Junhui and Gu Changshu separated!

She heard that Mr. Ouyang did not have any elders in his family; it was entirely up to him to find a wife.

Jiang Yao did not know that Wen Yunfang's heart was boiling with jealousy. As Gu Junhui, she knew that she should reject him, so she shook her head. "It's better not to go. I'm not familiar with Mr. Ouyang. If I were to be alone with a man, people would gossip. If Brother Changshu knew about it, he would be unhappy."

Wen Yunfang laughed out of anger when she heard that. "Gu Junhui, are you stupid? What era is this? Is it still important for men and women not to be intimate? Are you still living in the past? You come from the countryside, so you are quite narrow-minded. Go to the city and take a look. Isn't it typical for men and women to walk together? What's there to be unhappy about even if Gu Changshu finds out? If you have one more friend in Xiang City and get to know one more person, it will be good for you in the future. He will be more than happy."

Seeing Gu Junhui's stubborn look, Wen Yunfang continued to say, "If you get to know Mr. Ouyang, you might be able to get him to help Gu Changshu too! Mr. Ouyang is the boss of a big company. When you get to know Mr. Ouyang, you can do anything and earn more money in the future."

After Wen Yunfang finished speaking, her eyes lit up when she saw Gu Junhui. She asked, "Is it true?" She cursed Gu Junhui in her heart for being stupid. Then, she nodded with a smile on her face.

Wen Yunfang sneered in her heart. If she were Gu Junhui, she would not care whether Gu Changshu would still look for her. Gu Changshu was good, but he could not be compared to Mr. Ouyang.

Gu Junhui hesitated before going downstairs; she did not even think about going back to her room to change into a better set of clothes. Wen Yunfang muttered in her heart, 'Does a man like Mr. Ouyang like a woman like Gu Junhui who is so stupid that she has nowhere else to go?'

Did every man in the world like a woman with no brains like Gu Junhui? She looked pitiful and adorable, but in fact, she was just putting on a show.

After Jiang Yao finished her performance in front of Wen Yunfang, she happily got into Ouyang's car. She did not care what Wen Yunfang thought of her.

Ouyang waited until he drove the car far away before he looked in the rearview mirror. His alert eyes scanned the surroundings, then he said, "I've already sent the message you gave to Captain Hao. He said that there should be news soon. We must find Ding Xiaomei's brother before Sister Wen's people do."

"You called me out to say more than that, right?" Jiang Yao looked at Mr. Ouyang; then, her gaze fell on his palm controlling the steering wheel.

Ouyang's fingers were stunning, like the hands of a pianist. However, upon closer inspection, one would discover that there were calluses on his palm.

Recalling the way Ouyang had looked around, Jiang Yao could guess Ouyang's identity.

Ouyang should be a veteran or police officer from a good background. Captain Hao stated that he had studied at the military academy before transferring abroad to study economic management, which could also be verified... Perhaps, it was mostly nonsense.
