Catch Me If You Love Me Chapter 137

Tears poured into his eyes instantly, and Zoey Gu looked at the man tremblingly. A long-lost name hovered in his mouth for a long time before shouting out forcefully.

"Chase!"

"Chase Gu!"

It was her brother Chase, that was the face of Chase Gu!

In the next second, Zoey Gu pushed aside the crowd like crazy, and stumbled in that direction.

"Chase, I am my sister, and I am your sister!"

But when she finally rushed over, there was no familiar figure in front of the counter that was originally full of people.

Everything happened too fast, and it was over before we could react.

Her brother Chase is still alive.

She only glanced at it, but it was gone again…

Tears came from Zoey Gu's eyes.

She stood in the same place at a loss, and kept turning around to look at the heads moving in front of her. The world seemed to be spinning with it, making her unable to distinguish between dreams and reality.

The next second, there was a panic cry from the crowd.

"what…"

"Quick! Get away!" The crowd waved at her with horror.

Zoey Gu slowly reacted and looked up along the direction of their fingers.

The ceiling chandelier on the top of the building above her suddenly fell down, falling straight towards her!

Zoey Gu's brain was blank, and she didn't react for a while. She stood there in a daze, letting the chandelier hit her all the way.

The crowd exclaimed again.

Zoey Gu closed her eyes subconsciously, thinking sadly in her heart.

She is so sad.

I just learned that my brother might be alive, but I am going to die…

Suddenly, a slender figure jumped over from the crowd, clasped Zoey Gu's waist with both hands, and pushed back vigorously.

With a "plop", the two fell to the ground together.

The man hugged Zoey Gu's body, gritted his teeth to avoid her injured arm, rolled on the ground and hugged her firmly into his arms.

Zoey Gu opened his eyes abruptly, and when he saw the face close at hand, he exclaimed in an instant.

"Liam Lu?"

He saved her.

Liam Lu's face was sullen, his face pale, and fine sweat loomed on his violently blue veins, but he tightly circled her and looked down at her.

"Are there any injuries?"

Zoey Gu reacted, trying to stand up by climbing on his shoulders, and groping to see if he was injured.

"I'm fine, Liam Lu, you…"

Before she finished speaking, she didn't know where she touched his arm with her hand. All she heard was a muffled snort, and her hand immediately touched a sticky layer!

Zoey Gu was startled, and suddenly raised his hand to look, his palm was full of blood.

"You are hurt!"

When he flew to protect her, the chandelier that fell quickly hit his arm. At this moment, it was filled with slag, and it was shocking.

Zoey Gu looked worried for a while, and stood up in a panic with a pale face, his hands trembling.

"Liam Lu…"

He didn't give her a chance to speak, he raised his hand to clasp her face, suddenly held himself against her forehead, and said quickly.

"Zoey, listen to me, just as if nothing happened, go to Mr. Fu immediately and be obedient!"

After he finished speaking, he didn't wait for Zoey Gu's reaction at all, he buckled her waist and lifted her up, and put her directly into the crowd.

The next second, he turned and strode away.

Zoey Gu was startled, and his face changed suddenly when he instinctively realized that something bad had happened to him.

As soon as he looked up, he could only see something shining in his neck flashing in front of him, and the figure disappeared in an instant.

"Liam Lu!"
