

Chapter 1371: Having A Family

Ouyang's hands were still touching the gun frequently.

"There are more important things to consider."

Ouyang nodded and smiled. "But it is also true that I would like to take you for a ride, but you don't seem to enjoy going for a ride with me alone."

"Speak up if you have something to say." Jiang Yao drew her eyelids upward. "I have a family!"

Ouyang's face was frozen. His smile froze for a few moments before he opened his mouth to ask, "Is that so?" He made it clear that he did not believe her. Furthermore, he abruptly said, "You look very young. I am guessing your age is around 20 years old."

"In our country, the legal marriage age for women is 18 years old."

Jiang Yao smiled as she bared her teeth. "My husband has excellent taste. From the start, he had his gaze fixed on me. He married me when I reached adulthood."

That was a shameless sentence. She praised herself as well as Lu Xingzhi.

Even though Ouyang did not say anything, Jiang Yao could tell that he wanted to speak to her.

"Let's get down to business." Ouyang arched his brow.

He was still skeptical.

He was not in a hurry to probe further after realizing Lady Lu would not get close to him, so he started talking about business.

"Captain Hao wants you to do everything you can to cause strife between Sister Wen, Wen Yunfang, and Brother Ding. He wants to capture Brother Ding so we can get more information from him." When it came down to serious matters, Ouyang's expression changed dramatically. According to Captain Hao, Brother Jing would also use Wen Yunfang and her mother to attack Brother Ding. "We can use this opportunity to apprehend Brother Ding. Now is not the time for either party to have faith in the other. We will not arouse their suspicion if we attack now."

"Do you intend to apprehend Brother Ding and then blame Wen Yunfang and her mother for his capture? Brother Ding knows a lot of things. If he is apprehended, Brother Jing and the others will be on high alert. Aren't we putting our enemies on alert?" Jiang Yao asked. She was concerned that if the enemy were informed, she would be in danger.

Ouyang explained quickly. "On the surface, capturing Brother Ding appears to be a covert operation. It would look like he was killed. Brother Jing and Wen Yunfang have not spoken in a long time. Brother Jing will only suspect it was Wen Yunfang who murdered Brother Ding. Wen Yunfang and Wen Yunfang will presume that Brother Jing had murdered Brother Ding. Once Brother Ding is dead, everyone will be too preoccupied with dividing Brother Ding's assets to look into who killed him."

Brother Ding possessed a large number of assets as well as many subordinates. When Brother Ding died, the people of Shu City would undoubtedly be in disarray for a while. As a result, Captain Hao was correct. No one would have been in the mood to confirm who had killed Brother Ding; he was not their father or son, after all.

After learning of Brother Ding's death, many people would applaud in admiration.

They felt as if they had squandered a golden opportunity.

Jiang Yao agreed. "I understand."

"According to Captain Hao, Brother Ding had also arranged for a servant to keep an eye on Wen Yunfang. That servant is not just a servant; she is one of Brother Ding's subordinates. You must exercise caution around that person. When sowing discord between Brother Ding and the Wen family, you must also consider how that person will inform Brother Ding. Finally, don't let Brother Ding suspect you."

"Of course, I have a way!"

"I can't say anything else to make Brother Ding suspect that Wen Yunfang' and her mother are plotting to betray him!" Jiang Yao said confidently.

Chapter 1372: He Doesn't Need To Coax Me

As soon as Ouyang finished talking, Jiang Yao had already thought of a way to provoke Brother Ding's trust in Wen Yunfang and her mother. She only needed to make a move on the fake servant!

There was no trust between the two parties, to begin with. As long as the seeds of suspicion were planted, the subsequent matters would naturally follow.

Ouyang was very curious. "Tell me about it. You came up with a solution in such a short time? And you're confident about it?"

Jiang Yao curled her lips but was not ready to give Ouyang an answer. Instead, she looked at the time on her phone and said, "I'm going back."

"You've only been out for less than half an hour. Aren't you afraid that Wen Yunfang will get suspicious if you go back so early?" Ouyang did not intend to stop the car. "I asked you out and sent you back in less than half an hour? It doesn't make sense. Why don't I treat you to supper? I'll take you to a restaurant that specializes in southern cuisine. Since you're from the south, you won't like the dishes in Xiang City. Therefore, the dishes would suit your taste very well.

"You know about that?"

Jiang Yao curled her lips.

"Girls who look like you are usually from the south. They always have gentle and graceful temperaments like those from the water villages of Jiangnan. No matter what clothes you wear, you can't hide it." He seemed very happy that he had guessed correctly. Ouyang's tone rose a few degrees.

Jiang Yao looked at Ouyang again. She was surprised that he was a sweet-talker.

If she were a young girl who was not married and had no partner, she would be delighted by Ouyang's coaxing.

"Turn around and send me home. I have my way of explaining so that Wen Yunfang won't be suspicious." Jiang Yao shrugged and then urged, "I'm making another statement. I'm married, and my husband is more handsome than you."

It was not until Jiang Yao made that statement that Ouyang realized that the woman beside him might be married. That was because the look in her eyes when she mentioned her husband could not fool anyone. At that moment, her eyes showed a different kind of tenderness.

Ouyang did not give up and asked tentatively, "Even if he is more handsome than me, there is probably no one who can make you happier."

"I am very happy, even if he doesn't have to make me happy." Jiang Yao's eyes blinked as she looked at Ouyang. "As long as I am with him, I am very happy. There is no need for him to make me happy."

Ouyang stepped on the brakes and looked straight into the eyes of the woman beside him. After a long while, he scratched his hair in annoyance. "I really envy your husband."

Then, he resigned himself to his fate and turned the car around, sending her back to Wen Yunfang's home with a depressed look.

Did all good women have sharp eyes?

He thought that it was the right time for him to meet a 20-year-old girl. It was rare to meet such an attractive and intelligent girl who made him want to take the initiative to woo her, but in the end, she was already married.

Wen Yunfang was not in the mood to care about how long Jiang Yao and Mr. Ouyang had been out. Wen Yunfang had already fallen asleep when Jiang Yao went back, but Sister Wen had not returned yet. When she entered the house, she met the servant that Brother Ding had arranged; the servant asked Jiang Yao where she had gone.

Jiang Yao was an honest girl. She said that she went for a ride with Mr. Ouyang. She was afraid that Gu Changshu would be unhappy if he found out that she had been alone with Mr. Ouyang for a long time, so she asked Mr... Ouyang to send her home as soon as possible.

Chapter 1373: Temptation

After hearing that, the servant did not ask any more questions, and Jiang Yao returned to her room.

Before she went to bed, she sent a text message to Lu Xingzhi. Then, Jiang Yao received a call from Big Ke informing her of Sister Wen's whereabouts.

Big Ke had followed Sister Wen to the train station. She knew that Sister Wen had left Xiang City alone overnight, but he did not know where she had gone. He knew that Sister Wen might have gone to find the child's whereabouts, and she was worried about who had done it. Therefore, she was prepared to take the child away personally.

Sister Wen did not worry about following Jiang Yao silently. The next day, Jiang Yao began to put sleeping pills in the servant's food. As a result, the servant was drowsy all day long.

Sometimes, she would fall asleep while wiping the table or taking an afternoon nap.

Wen Yunfang complained that the servant was too arrogant, as if she was there to enjoy herself and only knew how to slack off all day long. The older servants complained to Wen Yunfang, saying that the newcomer did not do anything. After Jiang Yao heard it, she did not say anything, looking like she was timid and did not dare to say anything more.

"Put away your expressions." Wen Yunfang was already annoyed by staying at home to recuperate, and there was another servant at home who stared at her like a wife all day long. When she slept and ate, she needed someone to serve her, which made her even more annoyed. When she saw Gu Junhui's cowardly face, Wen Yunfang immediately said, "Why are you afraid? Is she trying to bully me just because she's Brother Ding's woman? Does she think that Brother Ding chased my mother and me out and disrespected us? Sooner or later, we'll return to Shu City. When that time comes, I'll teach her a lesson!"

After a series of curses, Wen Yunfang turned to look at Gu Junhui. She suddenly changed her tone and asked, "Mr. Ouyang didn't ask you out these past few days?"

Wen Yunfang was looking forward to Gu Junhui telling her that Mr. Ouyang had not asked her out since that day. She was also looking forward to Gu Junhui telling her that Mr. Ouyang had been asking her out non-stop.

Wen Yunfang felt that a normal man would enjoy chatting with a woman like Gu Junhui, who was dull and uninteresting. To put it bluntly, even if such a woman got into bed with them, they would not be interested in her. Other than her gorgeous face, her personality was as dull as boiled water.

Wen Yunfang felt that it was normal for Mr. Ouyang to give up after asking Gu Junhui out once.

However, when she realized that Mr. Ouyang would not ask Gu Junhui out, she was worried that Gu Junhui would not get along with other men. She was unhappy that she would not get a chance to be with Gu Changshu.

"Yes, but I think you're alone at home and always need someone to talk to, so I did not agree," Jiang Yao answered shyly, with her face lowered. "Mr. Ouyang is very warm. I'm not used to being so warm."

Wen Yunfang felt as if her heart was stuffed with something, but she still pretended to smile. "You can tell whether a man likes you from his attitude toward you. If he really likes you, he will be warm toward you. He can't be with you 24 hours a day. Do you think he's like Gu Changshu?"

Chapter 1374: He's Busy

"Mr. Ouyang doesn't like me. He's just a friend!" Jiang Yao corrected her with a serious face. "Brother Changshu is very good."

“What’s good about him? Only a silly girl like you would think Gu Changshu is good. He just got out of prison and has no one by his side. Of course, he wants you to wash his clothes and cook for him. You’re just free labor. And a free bed warmer. When he’s successful and rich, let’s see if he still likes you then.” Gu Junhui lectured Wen Yunfang with a thoughtful expression. “I know a lot more about men than you do. You haven’t seen your Brother Changshu much lately. Did he say he missed you? Did he call you several times a day?”

“He’s busy!”

Jiang Yao laughed in her heart. Gu Changshu was not good? If he was not good, why would Wen Yunfang be so obsessed with him? Why did Wang Gu Junhui break up with Gu Changshu and take the man for herself?

Seeing that Wen Yunfang was about to repeat something, Jiang Yao spoke before Wen Yunfang did. “And I’m not Brother Changshu’s free servant! At home, he cooks for me. He does all the housework for me. He doesn’t want me to be tired. Even if I want to wash a piece of his clothes, his heart aches for me. He didn’t want me to catch a cold! Brother Changshu is a dull person, but he’s a good man. My aunt also said so. My mother also said he is a trustworthy person!”

Even if Lu Xingzhi were acting as Gu Changshu, Jiang Yao would not allow Wen Yunfang to say bad things about him. She would not believe it even if it was fake. After all, Lu Xingzhi was good wherever he was!

She was not used to hearing bad things about her man!

Wen Yunfang’s mouth twitched. She almost could not suppress her temper and tell the woman in front of her to get lost.

If not for the determined expression on her face, Wen Yunfang would have suspected that Gu Junhui was showing off in front of her.

Even Sister Wen had never met a man in her life who would wash clothes and cook for her.

After a long while, Wen Yunfang snorted enviously. “What’s so good about a man who has been in prison?”

“It was not Brother Changshu’s fault that he was in prison. It was his stepfather’s fault. Brother Changshu is a victim. He’s also very pitiful. Anyway, Brother Changshu is the best man in the world! If you continue to say that Brother Changshu is not good, I will ignore you,” Jiang Yao said.

Wen Yunfang could finally see that the woman was really stupid.

“Enough, I don’t want you to accompany me! You’re not happy just because I’m telling you the truth! If Mr. Ouyang wants to ask you out, just go ahead. Didn’t you say that he wants to be your friend? You only have one or two friends. If you keep rejecting him, you’ll lose him as a friend.” Wen Yunfang laughed coldly and pulled up the blanket to cover her head.

“Oh,” Jiang Yao replied. She stood up from the chair and was about to leave. When her feet touched the floor, she deliberately made a sound so that the eavesdroppers outside the door would leave.

As soon as she opened the door, she was not surprised to see a figure who seemed to have just walked over.

“Miss Gu, has Miss Wen woken up from her nap?”

Jiang Yao smiled at the servant, who was unable to hide her sleepiness. “She’s awake. Neither of us had a nap. You woke up so early today. ”

Jiang Yao smiled. It seemed that she would have to increase the dosage tomorrow... The servant would probably develop antibodies to that sleeping drug, so her sleeping time had decreased.

Chapter 1375: Sleeping Pills

The servant’s mouth twitched stiffly. She had set an alarm clock to wake herself up that day, so her body was still in a state of exhaustion, but she was holding on.

“Yes, I’m awake. I don’t know why, but after coming to Xiang City, I became very sleepy. Maybe it’s because I’m not acclimated to this place yet.” The servant found an excuse for herself.

“If I’m not acclimated to a place, I’ll experience diarrhea and so on. But I’ve never heard of people being lethargic because of that. I thought you were pregnant or something. I heard that pregnant women get lethargic when they are pregnant.” Jiang Yao teased her with a light laugh.

“Miss Gu, you are so funny. I’m already so old; how would I get a child?” The servant was not ready to say anything more to Gu Junhui but was prepared to find Wen Yunfang.

Unexpectedly, Gu Junhui, who was behind her, muttered softly, “If you’re not pregnant, then you must have taken sleeping pills, right? In the past, when my aunt had insomnia, she would take sleeping pills. After taking one, she would be able to sleep peacefully for an entire night.”

Gu Junhui had reached downstairs when she said that. When the servant heard the end of that sentence, her voice was so low that it was almost inaudible.

However, that sentence made the servant’s body tremble. She could hardly hide the shock in her eyes.

The servant clenched her fists. She looked as if she had suddenly realized something!

That was right! She was wondering why she fell asleep every day when she arrived in Xiang City. Sometimes, she would fall asleep halfway through her work.

When she thought about it, Wen Yunfang and Sister Wen must have drugged her with sleeping pills! They were afraid that she would keep an eye on them, so they deliberately let her sleep every night in a daze so that she could not do anything.

Without her surveillance, the mother and daughter could do whatever they wanted without Brother Ding’s knowledge, right?

She wondered why she had not seen Sister Wen for so many days. It was probably because she did not know where she had gone.

The servant thought of that and walked quickly. She knocked on Wen Yunfang’s door and walked into the room. She asked, “Miss Wen, may I ask when Sister Wen will be back? It seems like I haven’t seen Sister Wen for many days. ”

“Why? Why does my mother need to explain to a servant like you?” Wen Yunfang was already in a bad mood because of what Gu Junhui had said. Then, the servant had come up to her; it was apparent that she did not have a good attitude.

After saying that, she remembered her mother’s instructions and explained, “Didn’t Brother Ding ask us to find that boy? My mother went to find him herself.”

The servant said tentatively, “I see. She has been gone for a few days, right? Sister Wen should be back by now, right? Should I prepare some dishes that Sister Wen likes?”

“You?”

Wen Yunfang was amused and replied sarcastically, “You’d better go back to sleep. I don’t dare trouble you with such a small matter.”

Wen Yunfang’s sarcasm was an explanation to the servant. Sure enough, Wen Yunfang must have given her sleeping pills to let her sleep every night so that she would not touch anything in the kitchen.

After the servant came out of Wen Yunfang’s room, the first thing she did was go back to her room, take out her cell phone, and call Brother Ding. She told him about how Sister Wen had disappeared for days and how she suspected that Wen Yunfang had given her sleeping pills because she had not stayed awake since she arrived in Xiang City. She slept 24 hours a day, and sometimes she could sleep fifteen or sixteen hours a day. When she woke up, she was still in a daze and could not do anything.

Chapter 1376: Seeds Of Doubt

Jiang Yao stood in the courtyard, basking in the sun as she listened to the servant complaining to Brother Ding. The sun shone on her face, and even her smile was soaked in the sun.

After listening to Brother Ding’s instructions to the servant, Jiang Yao knew that Brother Ding must have become suspicious. He might even find someone to investigate Sister Wen’s whereabouts in the past few days.

The servant told Brother Ding that Wen Yunfang had drugged her with sleeping pills to prevent the servant from spying on her and Sister Wen. When Brother Ding heard about that, it was a huge blow.

Brother Ding must have thought that the mother and daughter were trying to do something behind his back. That was why they had drugged the servant so that she would sleep like a pig every day.

Not long after that, Jiang Yao’s phone rang. She was not surprised at all. She took her phone and went to the corner to answer the call.

The call was from Brother Ding. He pretended to care about Jiang Yao and asked her how she was doing in Xiang City. Then he asked her how she had been getting along with Wen Yunfang. Did Wen Yunfang go out to meet anyone? Did she hear Wen Yunfang mention Sister Wen’s whereabouts?

“I heard from Yunfang that Sister Wen went to look for the child.” Jiang Yao’s voice was soft and gentle. It was easy to let down one’s guard with such a voice. “Yunfang has been recuperating at home. She hasn’t left the house, and no one has come.”

“That’s it?” Brother Ding was puzzled. He thought that Wen Yunfang had given the servant sleeping pills to leave the house secretly.

“Yes, she has been staying at home all this time. But it’s strange. She seems to have a lot of phone calls. I can often hear her talking on the phone with someone. But sometimes, when she sees me, she will immediately hang up the phone. She would seem a little nervous. Is she dating someone? Is she afraid that I’ll feel embarrassed if I find out? I was the same when I was dating Brother Changshu in the beginning,” Jiang Yao said.

Jiang Yao smiled shyly, perhaps with hopes that Brother Ding would hear that. When Brother Ding hung up the phone, her smile quickly faded.

No one trusted each other, anyway. Since the seed of suspicion had been planted in one of them, what happened after that would follow naturally.

Jiang Yao thought that her goal of sowing discord between Brother Ding and Sister Wen should be accomplished soon.

After ending the call with Brother Ding, Jiang Yao sent a message to Ouyang, asking him to buy her a train ticket to Tingzhou City in two days.

Then, during lunch, Ouyang drove to the residence to look for Jiang Yao. Everyone was preparing to eat, and Wen Yunfang was sitting at the dining table. As soon as she heard that Mr. Ouyang was looking for Gu Junhui, she immediately pushed Gu Junhui outside. She told Gu Junhui to eat and chat with her friend.

Jiang Yao looked as if she had been pushed out of the door and repeatedly turned her head to look at Wen Yunfang with resentment. She only put her bitter face away after she got into Ouyang’s car.

After Ouyang drove away, he finally laughed. “Lady Lu, that expression of yours just now is a reflection of your heart, right?”

“If you think it is, then it is.” Jiang Yao smiled and stretched her hand toward Ouyang. “Where’s the train ticket that I asked you to buy?”

Ouyang took the train ticket from his pocket and handed it to Jiang Yao. “What for?”

Jiang Yao said, “For the servant. Brother Jing lives in Tingzhou City. Show that train ticket to the servant. Let the servant think that Wen Yunfang is preparing to go to Tingzhou city. If Brother Ding knows about that, what he thinks will be his business.”

Ouyang frowned. “What if Brother Ding goes to question Wen Yunfang? Aren’t you afraid of being exposed?”

Chapter 1377: Can’t Find The Child

“After I show the train ticket to the servant, I’ll destroy the evidence. Who would suspect me? If Brother Ding questions Wen Yunfang, she would only deny it. If Wen Yunfang denied it, then Brother Ding would suspect Wen Yunfang and Sister Wen even more.” Jiang Yao smiled as she waved the train ticket in her hand. "So, what can I do in the middle of that? Wen Yunfang would think that the servant was lying to frame her and Sister Wen deliberately."

Most importantly, how could he question Wen Yunfang when he knew about the train ticket? Brother Ding would only keep that matter in his heart and try to figure it out for himself.

Ouyang deliberately went to find her during mealtime to have a proper meal with the woman, who did not want to meet him.

Finally, Ouyang brought her to the southern restaurant he had mentioned before. He ordered a table full of southern specialties and smiled as he watched the woman opposite him taste the dishes with great interest.

"I knew you would like these dishes."

Ouyang was relieved. "I was afraid that I would make a fool of myself on the way here, but I'm relieved to see you like this."

Jiang Yao saw that the dishes on the table were delicious, indeed. When she was full the last time, Lu Xingzhi had made her a bowl of noodles. While she was in Xiang City, Jiang Yao felt full every day. She even felt like she had lost a bit of weight in the past few days. When Lu Xingzhi saw it, his heart would ache again.

Sometimes, Jiang Yao hated her fussy mouth. She really could not train it to eat anything no matter how hard she tried.

Furthermore, during her time with Lu Xingzhi, the man would compromise with her taste every day. He gave her what she wanted to eat according to her appetite. The more he did that, the fussier she became. As a result, when she was at Xiang City, she did not find any food that suited her palate, and she had lost a lot of weight over the past few days.

Well, it was the same anyway. She was never plump, to begin with, so her weight loss had been pronounced.

It was rare for her to go out for a meal. Jiang Yao could only fill her stomach quickly and strive to eat as much meat as she could.

However, when she heard Ouyang's words, she could not help but tease him. "If it were just my husband and me for a meal, I would eat more."

Ouyang's expression stiffened. Jiang Yao lowered her head and continued to eat, and Ouyang felt as if an arrow had pierced through his heart. He had to admit that Lady Lu always knew where to press his buttons.

However, Ouyang felt that it was quite interesting.

"From now on, I will bring you food every day."

Ouyang curled his lips into a smile. "I will even cook for you."

Jiang Yao thought that Ouyang was joking, so she asked about his progress in finding the child. "It's been so many days. Is there any news?"

Ouyang nodded. "Yes. That child was sold to a family. That family later thought that the child was quite old, and no matter how much they beat and scolded him, he refused to call them parents, so they sold the child to another family. The child kept thinking about finding his sister. When he was seven or eight, his family also abducted other children, so he hated his adoptive parents. The family was afraid that they would raise an enemy, so they sold the child again. The child ran away from the third family before he disappeared."

Jiang Yao paused... "So, you can't find the child."

Chapter 1378: On A Date

Ouyang nodded. "Yes. That child was sold three times in two months before he ran away. It's been several years now, so naturally, we can't find him."

Even though a seven or eight-year-old child could remember his family, he had never left the village. Unless he could remember the village's name, he probably would not be able to find it.

Furthermore, he would not have any money to buy a bus ticket home if he left his adoptive parents' house.

Jiang Yao thought that the child had been thinking about finding his sister. It was possible that after leaving his adoptive parents' house, his first thought was not to go home but to find his sister, who had been sold, like him.

After so many years, it would be difficult to find her.

If Ding Xiaomei knew about that, she would not be in so much pain. The country was so big. How could she find such a tiny person?

Jiang Yao said, "If you can't find the child, then it's even more impossible for Sister Wen to find him. Sister Wen had not planned to give the child back to Brother Ding even if she found the child. If the child can't be found now, she might be able to use that to her advantage."

Then, Jiang Yao continued to eat with Ouyang and talk business. Wen Yunfang waited for her to leave, then immediately returned to her room and called Gu Changshu, who was far away in Shu City, and whom she yearned to get her hands on.

Wen Yunfang believed that she knew more than that idiotic Gu Junhui when it came to catching a man's heart.

"Gu Junhui went for a meal lunch with Mr. Ouyang. He has been meeting with Gu Junhui privately. Don't blame me for telling you. Although Gu Junhui is in Xiang City with me, I can't control who she goes out with. If she doesn't come home with me in the future, you can't blame me for that."

Wen Yunfang's tone was filled with helplessness and impatience. "Gu Changshu, Mr. Ouyang is the Prince Charming that every woman in Xiang City dreams of having. He is different from other men. He must have fallen in love with Gu Junhui. Once that kind of man starts to pursue a woman, no woman would be able to resist him."

“Mr. Ouyang?”

Lu Xingzhi repeatedly said that person’s name. That should be Ouyang, Jiang Yao’s new informant in Xiang City.

‘Mr. Ouyang, are you very handsome?’ Lu Xingzhi thought to himself; his wife was a woman who liked to look at attractive faces.

Wen Yunfang raised her eyebrows and said, “Indeed. He is fair, clean, tall, and huge, the same as Gu Junhui’s type. To be honest, Gu Junhui is much more compatible with Mr. Ouyang than with you. He is handsome, and he knows how to please the ladies. Every time he sees Gu Junhui, he always smiles.”

Of course, Wen Yunfang made up the last sentence, but it did not matter whether it was true or not. As long as Gu Changshu believed it, it would be fine.

“Oh.”

Lu Xingzhi ended the call without even finishing his sentence.

Wen Yunfang held the phone in her hand for a few seconds before she threw it back onto the bed with a snort. She felt that she did not need to be angry because Gu Changshu must be mad. She just had to wait for Gu Junhui to come back and receive a phone call from Gu Changshu and have a big fight.

The feelings between those two lovers would be gone if they quarreled.

At the dining table, Jiang Yao received a text message from Lu Xingzhi. When she read it, she almost spat out a mouthful of rice on Ouyang’s face.

[I heard you’re out to a meal with a fair, clean, tall, and pretty boy who is more attractive than me.]

[I hear he makes you happy, and every time you see him, you go home happy.]

Chapter 1379: Better-looking Than Your Man

Even though she did not spit out the food, Jiang Yao nearly choked on her soup. She had taken her phone out to look at it while eating. She did not expect that Lu Xingzhi would send such a jealous text message.

“Why are you so careless while eating?” Ouyang saw that Jiang Yao’s face was red from coughing, but she was still holding her phone, laughing and coughing, so he handed her some water. “Drink some water to calm your breath.”

Jiang Yao glanced at Ouyang, thanked him, and took the water. When she swallowed the water, the impatient man had already called her.

Jiang Yao waited until she finished coughing before she put down the glass and picked up the call. “You’re not satisfied until you choke your wife to death, right?”

Jiang Yao immediately scolded Lu Xingzhi. “Who said that? So, you know what I’m doing?”

Lu Xingzhi snorted. “All you have to do is tell me if you’re having a meal with a gigolo. I’m not by your side for two days, and you’re already attracting men.”

She could feel his jealousy surging through the screen.

Jiang Yao could not help but laugh. "Wen Yunfang told you that, right?" She could only think of that person.

Lu Xingzhi said, "Yes, she specifically called me just now to inform me that my wife had gone out to eat with another man. She said that you went out on a date every day and came feeling happy. Is that the new informant?"

Lu Xingzhi did not know who Ouyang was, but Wen Yunfang did not suspect that he was an acquaintance who frequently went to look for Jiang Yao.

"No," Jiang Yao replied.

Lu Xingzhi asked again, "Is he good-looking? Better-looking than your man?"

"How can that be? My husband is the most handsome man in the world." If she did not comfort Lu Xingzhi well that day, he might settle the score with her when she went home. The one who would suffer would be her tiny waist.

As expected, Jiang Yao's words did make Lu Xingzhi feel a little happier.

Lu Xingzhi's heart was bitter, but it was not because he believed Wen Yunfang's words and felt that Jiang Yao would cheat on him. He was bitter because he could not have meals with Jiang Yao. He was bitter because he had not seen his wife for a few days. On the other hand, other men could see her every day.

Lu Xingzhi knew that Jiang Yao was eating, so he did not talk much to her. Instead, he urged her to eat more. Then, he hung up the phone. Before he hung up, Jiang Yao heard Brother Ding's voice calling for him.

When Jiang Yao was on the phone, Ouyang kept quiet the entire time. Even when the waiter came to serve the food, he gave a silent signal to the other party. He waited for Jiang Yao to hang up the phone and put it back on the table.

"Your husband?" Ouyang asked.

Jiang Yao smiled brightly. "Yes. Now, do you believe that I'm married?"

Ouyang Zhi rubbed the tip of his nose. Indeed, he had no choice but to believe it. When a woman spoke to the man she loved, her expression and tone were completely different. Even when she spoke in an insulting tone, her voice was still gentle, full of sweetness.

"Do you still want to ask me out for a meal in the future?" Jiang Yao ate the food that had just come up and commented, "This restaurant's dishes are pretty good."

Ouyang gritted his teeth. "Yes! No wall can't be pried open; only a hoe that doesn't work!"

Chapter 1380: The Situation Is Different Now

If Lu Xingzhi had not heard Brother Ding's footsteps, he would not have been willing to hang up the call with Jiang Yao so quickly. He had been busy with Brother Ding and Ah Zhu almost day and night in those few days, so he had not called Jiang Yao much. It had indeed been two days since he had heard Jiang Yao's voice.

She had laughed at him on the phone. It was soft, like a gentle cat's paw scratching his palm. He could not suppress the urge to see and hug her.

Anyway, his wife had always been only responsible for flirting with him, not appeasing the shame in his heart.

"Were you on the phone with your wife just now?"

Brother Ding asked when he saw him holding the phone.

Lu Xingzhi said, "Yes. Just now, Young Miss called me and told me that Junhui went out to eat with a man, so I called to ask her about it."

Brother Ding knew what Wen Yunfang was thinking. He knew very well that Wen Yunfang was up to something. Perhaps she wanted the two of them to quarrel. It would be best if they fought to the point of divorce. That way, she would have a chance to take advantage of the man.

"Maybe it's just meal with a friend. Don't overthink it. I can tell that Junhui is very obedient. She is loyal to you." Brother Ding did not care whether those words would have the opposite effect in the future. Then, he said something else, "Brother Jing called me and said he would come to Shu City tomorrow. So, pack up and leave in the afternoon. When that time comes, I will find someone to arrange for you to be with Brother Jing. When you are with Brother Jing, you have to think of a way to make him trust and use you. However, don't do anything during that time. You just have to help me keep an eye on Brother Jing."

Lu Xingzhi nodded and asked, "Brother Ding, don't you need me to do other things? So you're not preparing—"

Before Lu Xingzhi could speak, Brother Ding shook his head and interrupted him.

Brother Ding frowned. "The situation is different now. Let's put it aside for now. I received news from the people in Xiang City that Wen Yunfang and Sister Wen have been acting strange recently. The two women drugged the servant with sleeping pills. Sister Wen left Xiang City when she arrived, saying that she would look for my child. However, she hasn't sent me any news for so many days. I'm afraid that she's a cover."

"Brother Ding, you are worried that Sister Wen will find Brother Jing and betray you?" Lu Xingzhi looked surprised. "I don't think so, right? You've been very good to them, and you've been together for more than ten years. I don't think so."

"How loyal do you think those two women are?"

Brother Ding said sarcastically, "They wouldn't have sold my daughter and son back then and kept it from me for so many years! If they're loyal to me, why would they give the servant sleeping pills? If they're loyal to me, why haven't they found my child after so many days? I've finally seen through them. They wouldn't find my child."

Brother Ding should have thought about that long ago; he should have sent someone to find the child himself and not asked Sister Wen and Wen Yunfang to look for him. Even if they found him, they would not tell him.

Brother Ding had lived with those two women for more than ten years. He knew better than anyone else how they work.

Lu Xingzhi's expression was solemn when he heard Brother Ding's words. However, he was smiling in his heart. It seemed like he would reunite with his wife soon.
