

Chapter 141

"Excuse me, but are you guests in room 6602?"

The three of them were stunned, and the old lady said evenly, "I, we have something urgent to go up now, you have something to say later, Aang!"

After saying that, he pulled Jenny and An'an inside and ran.

Yet again, they were stopped by staff.

This time, it wasn't just the lobby staff, but also two security guards, one on the left and one on the right, who stopped them.

All three of them were serious, and the lobby staff stared at the old lady and said in a deep voice, "Sorry, your room has been in arrears for two days, before you said you would renew it today, that's why we let you and your granddaughter continue to stay, but today you haven't been contacted since morning, if you don't pay the fee today, I'm afraid we won't be able to let you and your granddaughter continue to stay!Down it goes."

Jenny was startled.

Turning to the old lady.

The old lady had a look of embarrassment on her face.

"Well...I was going to pay today, but I dropped my wallet while I was just eating, so can you guys give me a couple more days?I'll be sure to give you your money back when I find my wallet."

The staff sighed in frustration.

"Old lady, you already used that excuse two days ago."

Old lady: "..."

Jenny had never expected to run into such an awkward scene.

I saw Ann step forward, grab the staff member's sleeve and shake it gently.

The cute little head tilted slightly, ebony eyes blinking at her.

"This pretty sister, are my great-grandmother and I causing you trouble?! I'm really sorry, but we did lose our wallets, and if you don't believe me ask my Aunt Ninny, she can testify to that."

She said, one finger pointing towards Jenny who was standing behind her.

Jenny: "....."

Well, can someone tell her why the arrow is suddenly pointing at her?

What should she answer?

Seeing that Jenny was hesitant, the old lady even quietly gave her a wink.

Jenny was simply laughing and crying.

She probably sort of understood what was going on now, and without looking at the old lady, she said directly to the staff, "How much do they owe for the room?"

"The total owed for the three days is $17,664."

Jenny nodded, the Royal View belonged to a very high-grade kind of resort hotel, and it was natural for consumption to be higher.

She didn't say anything, she just took the card out.

"Swipe it off my card!"

The old lady was embarrassed, "How... how can I say this?"

Jenny tugged at the corner of his lips, not piercing the old woman's lie, only touching An's hair.

"It's nothing, just think of it as my gift to the kid! We're so connected, I've never given her a gift before!"

An An saw the situation and opened her big, bright eyes and smiled happily, "Thank you, Aunt Jenny."

The staff saw that they had to take Jenny's card and swipe it.

After paying his debts, Jenny asked the old lady, "What are your plans now, or is there anywhere you can go?"

The old lady was so guilty that her entire body shrank back without the chatty openness she had just had at dinner, "No, no."

Jennyton paused, his heart was actually a little unhappy with the old lady acting this way.

After all, anyone can see that all the wallet dropping and traveling is just a lie.

It's not like she doesn't understand that some people have a hard life even if they're scrounging for food and shelter with their kids, and picking a hotel like this, it's just that this....

Jenny sighed and couldn't say much more, bending down and picking up Anh.

"Since this

Kind of, then go to my house for the night first, it's getting late now, we'll discuss anything tomorrow."

The old lady's eyes lit up at the news.

Even Ann had an excited look on her face.

He hugged Jenny's neck and celebrated happily, "Yay! I can sleep with mommy again!"

Jenny: "....."

It's only been a few hours since we changed that name! What's going on back there?

She was helpless, but didn't bother to correct the old woman, and when she saw that the old woman was fine with it, she took the child with her and walked out.

The car drove smoothly down the wide avenue.

Jenny called Aunt Liu in advance and told her that she was bringing a guest back.

Biden Lu had a meeting tonight and would probably stay late at the office, having already told her about it in advance, so she didn't bother the man and just sent him a WeChat, believing that he should see it after the meeting.

The car stopped at Land Garden, and Jenny got out, opened the door for them, and took the child down.

Aunt Liu had already been notified to prepare at home, and when she heard the sound of a car engine outside, she knew it was Jenny coming back, and even welcomed her out.

"Ma'am, you're back! The guests have arrived, too..."

The word "bar" was still in his mouth, and when he saw an old man and a young man standing in front of the car door, he stared in shock.

The old lady looked at her without showing her face.

A pair of shrewd eyes but with a dark, warning glance.

Aunt Liu was busy subconsciously covering her mouth, and Ann had already excitedly run to the house.

"Yay, finally again, Ann's going to sleep with Mommy tonight."

Aunt Liu's eyes, which were already staring round, widened once again.

Nani?

Mummy?

Little Miss and Madam, you're just admitting marriage?

Oh, my God! What the hell is going on here?

Under Aunt Liu's shocked gaze, Jenny walked in with an old man and a young woman in tow.

"Auntie Liu, this is An'an, this is An'an's great-grandmother Mrs. Cen, help me arrange two guest rooms for them, they're staying here tonight."

Aunt Liu hmmm spat, wanting to say something, but under the old lady's stern gaze, she eventually swallowed the words in her throat and turned around to clean up her room.

The old lady turned her head and looked at Jenny with a smiling face, "Miss Jing, how much trouble this is for you, I'm so sorry."

Jenny Jing laughed lightly, "It's okay, the child is so young, we can't let her suffer along."

Ann took her hand, and Jenny thought she was going to say something, subconsciously bending down to listen.

The child suddenly stood on his tiptoes and gave her a "bar" k*ss on the cheek.

Jenny was startled.

Then I heard the gnome's clear voice, "Thank you, Mommy."

Jenny couldn't help but laugh.

After tidying up the room, Jenny let the two of them go to rest, An'an pestered her to sleep with her, but tonight Biden Lu still has to come back, how would Jenny dare to agree?

Finally, after a half day of grinding, the gnome agreed to go over later to tell her a story and lull her to sleep before she went to bed.

Aunt Liu was speechless as she watched the two get so close.

The last time An An came over, Aunt Liu was on holiday, so she didn't know about it.

At this time, watching Jenny get wrapped up in the little package, I felt only happy and a little sad.

By the looks of it, Little Miss should be approving of Mrs. as her mommy, which is reasonably good.

But the old lady insisted on hiding from Not Mrs. Knowing their true identities, how could this end in the end?

It's so pathetic, too, Madam!

Chapter 142

Sympathy aside, under the old lady's stern gaze, Aunt Liu didn't dare to say anything.

Not long after, Biden Lu returned.

He naturally received Jenny's message, but didn't think much of it, just assumed that some of her friends were coming over for a small stay.

As for who the other guy was, he had little interest.

However, all of these thoughts were completely shattered when he stepped into the home.

In the living room, the old lady and Ann were sitting on the sofa, and since it wasn't time for bed yet and Jenny was taking a shower, the old lady sat there playing untie the rope with Ann.

Auntie Liu was standing beside them smiling, and the TV was playing cartoons that Ann liked to watch, so the atmosphere was incredibly warm and harmonious.

"You guys..."

"Ay yo, this must be Miss King's husband! So handsome!"

The old lady suddenly stood up from the sofa and looked at Biden Lu with a smiling face.

Biden Lu: "?????"

Aunt Liu's mouth twitched slightly, and she was busy stepping forward to receive the jacket in Biden Lu's hand.

"Sir, you're back."

Lu Jing took a good deep breath before suppressing the shock in his heart.

Just as I was about to say something, Jenny's voice came from the direction of the stairway.

"Biden Lu, you're back."

She was freshly showered, wearing a nightgown and her hair still damp and wrapped in a towel, so she walked quickly down the stairs.

"Let me introduce you, this is Ann, this is Ann's great-grandmother, Mrs. Sham, they are my new friends, they are staying here for the night, is that okay?"

Jenny was actually quite worried about Biden Lu's rejection.

After all, the man looked mild and actually had a hard time talking at times.

Especially in a place like home, she found he didn't like having outsiders in.

Like the last time Nina Hua came over, Biden Lu wasn't too happy.

Biden Lu once again took a deep breath.

He looked at the old woman, who still had her smiling expression, yet anyone who knew her well could see the flash of warning and harshness in the depths of those old, sharp eyes.

He tilted his head again to look at the small package sitting on the couch.

The little bundle had white skin and wide, bright eyes, like a delicate, fragile magnetic doll, blinking expectantly at him.

There was no guilt in his face after doing something bad.

Biden Lu's heart was a bit mixed at the moment.

Jenny saw that he was silent and only thought that he was unhappy, but it was not good to say it in front of people in consideration of her face.

So moved down and leaned in close to him tugging on his sleeve and shaking it.

Lowered his voice: "They are very poor, no one at home to care for them, they even dropped their wallets when they came out for a trip, an old man and a young woman are penniless, and it's not convenient to live outside..."

Biden Lu sneered out.

Turning his head to Jenny, "Pity? Nobody cares?"

Jenny nodded seriously.

Biden Lu tried very hard not to let himself show the discontent in his heart.

"Fine, let them live if they like! You come with me."

I said, and went straight upstairs.

Jenny looked at the man's dark face and streaking back and stroked his forehead with a headache.

"Miss King, are we interrupting something?"

The old lady asked with some embarrassment.

Jenny even laughed.

"No, that's the way his nature is, he's cold on the outside and hot on the inside, nothing more than that, you mustn't think too much of it."

"Oh, that's good."

"Well, it's getting late, you guys should get some rest too, I'm

Up first."

"Eh, okay."

Jenny Jing reassured the old lady and followed quickly up the stairs.

First floor bedroom.

Biden Lu undid his tie, and when he turned his head, he saw the small woman who walked in carefully with a cat on her back.

Looking at her as if she was also walking, he suddenly didn't know whether to be angry or to laugh.

Sit down on the bed and wave at her.

"Come here!"

Jenny knew that he was unhappy, and didn't dare to disobey him at this time.

As soon as he reached the heel, his wrist tightened and the whole man fell into his arms as he pulled him to sit on his lap.

Jenny exhaled softly, her hands subconsciously wrapped around his neck, and asked in shame, "What for?"

Biden Lu looked at her with heavy eyes, "How did you meet them?"

Jenny was stunned, not expecting him to ask this, so he told her about the two times he had met Ann.

I don't know if it was her delusion, but it always felt like the more she talked, the worse the man's face would look.

She just assumed the man didn't like having strangers in the house, but she really liked Ann and couldn't let such a small child out to live so late at night.

So I hugged his neck and begged, "Just for one night! I promise, I'll help them contact their families tomorrow, and I'll never cause you any trouble."

Biden Lu looked at her and gave a cool smile.

I don't know whether to laugh at the woman's simplicity or her cuteness.

He nodded anyway, giving her a gentle pinch on the waist.

"Okay, so how do you bribe me?"

Jenny blushed a little.

Knowing what he wanted, he leaned in and flew up to k*ss him on the lips.

She was about to back away, but a large palm suddenly pressed against the back of her head and the man pulled her into his arms, deepening the k*ss hard.

After a k*ss, Jenny opened his eyes with a gasp.

Into the eyes is the man's handsome and unrivaled face, the depths of the eyes, there is also a hidden taste of emotion.

"And half a month."

Jenny was slightly startled, reacting to what he meant and bit her lip.

White teeth nibbled on brimming red lips, like tempting red cherries.

Biden Lu's eyes deepened, and the Adam's apple rolled again, in the end, pressed up against the longing in his heart, and only said in a deep voice, "You promised me, do not break your word."

Jenny nodded lightly.

Half an hour later, Jenny left the bedroom and went to the downstairs guest room.

In the room, Ann had finished her bath with the maid waiting on her, and was leaning over the bed, waiting for her to come and tell her story.

When Jenny entered, he saw that the little gnome was wearing a pink furry nightgown, and he didn't know where the maids had found it, but it was quite cute.

It set off the little gnome's already white and delicate skin, even more like a porcelain doll, and her entire body smelled like pink.

"Aunt Ninny, you're here!"

The little gnomes were always called as she was in the mood.

Since she knew the gnome didn't have a mother, Jenny didn't correct her and smiled, walking over to the bed and sitting down.

"Well, I'm here, what story does little Ani want to hear tonight?"

"I want to hear the story of the Ice Queen."

"It's the Ice Queen again!"

Jenny found out that the gnome really liked the Ice Queen and was going to listen to that last time too.

It's good to know from the last experience, and I even swiped my phone to look up the story in my spare time afterwards, and this time the telling was much more complete.

The gnome nestled in her arms and listened quietly, falling asleep shortly after.

Chapter 143

Jenny looked at the child's serene and beautiful sleeping face, his heart was warm and soft.

Gently drawing her arm away and dropping her down, the child blurted out a vague whisper, unconsciously holding her hand and crying out softly, "Mommy-!"

Jenny was slightly startled, his heart tingling.

The more I felt so much love and compassion for the child in front of me, I sat for a while longer, patting her gently with my hand until she was asleep, then I pulled my hand back and turned off the light and left.

Outside the door, Old Mrs. Sham was standing there, and when she saw her come out, her face immediately filled with a smile.

"Ann is asleep, you don't have to worry, and get some rest."

The old lady nodded, "Girl, you're a good person."

Jenny was startled, then laughed.

Good people?She didn't think she was.

Just did have a natural affinity for this child, perhaps because she was extraordinarily enthusiastic about herself the first time she met her!

Jenny didn't think much of it, and after saying goodbye to the old lady, he went back to his room.

Upstairs in the master bedroom, Biden Lu was sending a WeChat to the old lady.

Biden Lu: "What the hell are you doing?"

Old Mrs. Sham: "Shut up you kid! If you say one more word, I'll fix you!"

Biden Lu: "Grandmother, if you want to see Jenny, just come here, why do you have to take An An around for such a big circle? And you actually teach Ann to lie?"

Old Mrs. Sham: "What do you know? If I didn't worry about your vision, I wouldn't have to come all the way here to look out for you. Huh? Good intentions as a donkey's liver and lungs, just like your father who is all heartless!"

Biden Lu: "....."

Why is this about his father?

Biden Lu: "So you're always relieved now that you've met the people?"

Mrs. Sham sent a smiling look over.

Old Mrs. Cen: "Don't worry, that's a complete relief, let me tell you, Jenny is a good girl, you mustn't bully her, if I find out you treat her badly, see how I'll deal with you!"

Biden Lu: "...You'd better think about how you're going to explain to her then!"

After Biden Lu said that, he didn't reply to the message.

On the other hand, the old lady put away her phone, thinking about what Biden Lu had said at the end, inexplicably feeling a little guilty.

Jenny is so gentle, sensible and understanding, I don't think she'd blame her!

What's going on with the growing uneasiness despite the thought?

Ann had not slept well, and woke up confused, and saw her standing there looking apprehensive, holding out her little hand to her.

"Grandma."

"Eh, why is Ann awake?"

Ann looked around and didn't see Jenny and pouted, "Where's Mommy?"

"Your mummy's gone to stay with Daddy, so you'll sleep well here while Grandma keeps you company, Aang."

Ann blinked.

"Did Mommy go with Daddy to give me a baby brother?"

"Yes yes, in a little while you're going to have a little brother."

"Well, for the sake of my little brother, then, I won't look for Mommy."

An'an was very relieved to be sleeping, and the old lady was finally relieved, busy picking up her phone again to send a message to Biden Lu.

"Remember, you two aren't getting any younger, have another baby sooner! Ann is too lonely by herself, and deserves a playmate."

The other side didn't return at all.

The next day.

Early in the morning, Jenny received a call from the company that an artist had an emergency and needed to be dealt with immediately.

Originally she was going to arrange for the departure of An's grandparents today, but now she had to put it off for the time being and attend to company business first.

When she left, Mrs. Sham sent her off with a smile on her face.

"There's no need to rush, just get busy with your work and then help us arrange it."

Although Jenny Jing found the old lady's attitude a bit strange, he didn't think much of it and nodded his head.

Biden Lu intentionally or unintentionally procrastinated at home today, refusing to go out until he waited for Jenny Jing to leave, then he blackened his face, looked at the grandparents standing in front of him, and said in a deep voice, "Go back to Kyoto by yourselves, or I'll send someone to send you back, choose for yourselves!"

The old lady looked at him with a cold face and deflated her mouth in dissatisfaction.

"I've only just met my granddaughter-in-law, and I haven't lived here long enough! How can we leave now?"

Bobbie joined in the fun, nodding his head repeatedly, "Right! I want to live with Mommy too!"

Biden Lu saw the situation and smirked gloomily, "Fine, then I'll call her back now and tell her the truth, as to what to say, you can explain it to her yourselves!"

He said he was about to pull out his phone, and the old lady saw his face change and stopped him in his tracks.

"Come on, come on, can't we just go? Really!"

She couldn't help but roll her eyes with a pained look on her face.

"Thanks to my childhood so painful you, a handful of poop and pee to pull you up, now grown up wings hard, even grandmother here a few more days are not happy, hum, really heartless white wolf, should have known that you should have left you on the roadside, regardless of you have to."

Biden Lu saw the situation and darkened his face.

But not bothering to pay attention to her, he turned his head and instructed Vicky, "Send the old lady and little miss to the airport."

Summers nodded in response and drove the car over, smiling and opening the door.

"Old lady, young lady, please!"

The old lady glared at Biden Lu and snorted heavily, before reluctantly bringing An An into the car.

Not long after Jenny arrived at the office, he received a message from the old lady.

They said they had gotten in touch with their families and were heading to the airport now, ready to go home.

Jenny was a little surprised, but since he was contacting his family, there must be no problem.

After a few more explanations on the phone, Ann said in a brittle voice on the inside that she would see her next time before hanging up.

At the airport, an old man and a young woman were just coming out of a convenience shop when they saw two familiar figures not far away.

An'an was quick-eyed and happy and shouted "Auntie" and then ran towards her excitedly.

When Lu Lanzhi heard the sound, she was surprised to see a small pink gnome pouncing towards her with a breeze of electricity.

She was so shocked that she subconsciously reached for it, and when she saw that it was actually Ann, she stared in surprise.

"Ani, Mom, what are you guys doing here?"

Beside her, Guan Xuefei also smiled slightly and greeted politely, "Hello, old lady."

Old Mrs. Cen was also surprised to meet them here and nodded, then asked Lu Lanzhi, "What are you guys doing here? Didn't you tell me you went abroad to see a fashion show? How did you end up in Visterdem?"

Lucian squeaked and couldn't speak, clearly looking guilty.

Guan Xuefei saw the situation, slightly restrained her eyes and smiled, "The fashion show has been rescheduled due to a little accident, I heard that the scenery here in Visterdem is good, and I happened to have time, so I brought Aunt Lu over to take a look."
