

Chapter 141

Oop!

Suddenly, a car appeared in front of their car.

Leon quickly stopped the car. Leon's hands tightly held Alyssa. Even with the seat belt, he was still worried.

Alyssa was originally very scared, but because of his hands protecting her, she was suddenly not afraid.

She shook her head at Leon. Leon was relieved that she was okay. When he turned his head, he noticed that their car was surrounded by several cars.

There were about seven or eight cars outside, and they were surrounded by them. It was impossible for him to drive out.

"Don't be afraid. Our people are behind us." Leon was worried that such a scene might scare Alyssa, and he whispered in her ear, "We'll wait in the car!"

Bam!

The windshield at the back of the car was smashed.

Alyssa only felt Leon hold her tightly in his arms. He unbuckled the seat belt from her body. Instead of feeling the impact, she heard Leon's voice, "You just sit in the car and don't go anywhere. I'm going to take care of this."

"Leon, I'm going with you." Alyssa took Leon's hand, not wanting Leon to go out alone.

Even if Leon's people were behind him, he would still face a lot of danger.

Leon quickly got out of the car. Luckily, just as he got out of the car, Leon's men immediately fought with them.

Seeing that Leon no longer needed to do anything, Alyssa was finally relieved. She sat quietly in the car and waited for Leon, who also walked in the direction of the car.

"How is it? Are you hurt? Let me see!"

Alyssa turned on the lights in the car and saw some scrapes on Leon's forehead. There was also blood on his wrist. She quickly reached out and pulled his shirt open, and saw a large, long cut on his arm.

It was a cut about seven or eight centimeters long, not too long, but it looked pretty deep and it was still bleeding.

Alyssa took off her jacket, wrapped it around his wound, and said calmly, "Help me find a car. I need to take you to the hospital now."

"It's okay. It's just a minor injury."

"A minor injury?"

Alyssa was not stupid. This wound was obviously caused by a knife.

If the knife had hurt his veins, it would have been serious.

Leon liked Alyssa's calmness. Such calmness made him feel very comfortable.

Other girls would have fainted in fear when they encountered such a thing. She was brave enough to say she would take him to the hospital.

He found a car to take him and Alyssa to the hospital. The bodyguard drove and Alyssa accompanied him. Their car was followed by the bodyguard's car.

Ten minutes later.

Hospital.

Alyssa watched the doctor disinfect and bandage Leon's wound. The result of the examination came back. Leon did not hurt any bones or blood vessels. He only lost a lot of blood. When he returned, his wound could not be exposed to water. He also couldn't do strenuous exercise and had to rest more. She silently kept this in her mind.

Fortunately, Leon was fine.

Leon was still in the observation room. Alyssa took care of Leon's consultation in an organized manner and poured Leon a glass of warm water.

"You need some water. You don't look well." Alyssa put the water in Leon's hands. When he didn't drink, she asked, "Why aren't you drinking it?"

"My arm hurts. I can't lift my arm."

"I'll go get you a straw." Alyssa thought she was being stupid. She was also a little sorry. She had actually forgotten to get him a straw.

She was about to leave, but Leon pulled her back with his other hand.

"Don't go. Here's a spoon, you can feed me water with it." Leon looked at Alyssa with an expectant look on his face.

Alyssa nodded and took the spoon to feed Leon water.

Alyssa suddenly thought that Leon looked like Yummy when he drank water. She couldn't help but laugh.

"What are you laughing at?" Leon knew that Alyssa was not laughing at his injury, so he was more curious about what she was laughing at, "What are you laughing at?"

"Last time, I observed the way Yummy drank water. You're pretty much the same as it now."

Hearing Alyssa's words, Leon looked at Alyssa's eyes, "Alyssa, you actually compared me to a rabbit."

"A rabbit is also a life. And rabbits are so cute. People say rabbits are stupid, but I think Snow and Yummy are both smart. When I bring them food, they both look at me with red eyes as if they are begging me for food pitifully. You've seen that, haven't you? I just think rabbits are the cutest."

"And what about me?"

"You're my husband, much more important than the rabbit." Looking at Leon's petty look, Alyssa added, "Not only that, you are also the father of my child, the man I love the most."

Hearing these words, Leon really relaxed.

Watching Leon relax a bit, Alyssa continued, "Are you hungry?"

"No." Leon noticed Alyssa's tired face, "Are you tired?"

"No, I'm not tired at all with you. The doctor said you can go after a little more observation."

Alyssa was already thankful. Fortunately, he hadn't broken any bones.

"We're going back now. The house is already cleaned up. Let's just go back. Besides, we all need to rest. It's very unsafe to be watched all the time out there." Leon told Alyssa to sit down, and then Alyssa sat down. When he looked at Alyssa who was well behaved, Leon continued, "You go get the bodyguard to drive, and then you help me out. I'm going to make me look weak now."

Alyssa quickly understood Leon's meaning. She nodded and said, "I got it."

With Leon, she just had to do what Leon wanted her to do.

Leon was weakly led out by Alyssa. They went back home. On the way, even when Leon didn't say anything, Alyssa could feel that they were being watched.

They arrived home.

Leon was much better. He could walk on his own.

Alyssa, however, was still worried and kept holding him.

Wendy came out and saw that Mr. Hunter was hurt and Mrs. Hunter looked bad, so she rushed to get Mrs. Hunter's medicine.

Seeing that Wendy was still busy with other things, Alyssa thoughtfully told Wendy to work on her own.

"I'll go make you some porridge. You wait here for me. If you're tired, just rest. I won't disturb you." She was still in shock about the cook's drugging earlier. Even though she hadn't said anything, she still wanted to try to do things by herself.

Leon nodded. He could see that Alyssa was still nervous about what had happened earlier. In this case, it was useless for him to say anything reassuring. So, he simply let her do it herself.
