

Lv Zi-Ming was a mature man. Even though the family's patriarch had died, the old man didn't panic as much as Lv Hua. Instead, he seemed unusually calm.

He knew this was not the time to panic.

Now that Lv Song-Liang was dead, he no longer had the support of a supreme grandmaster.

He had to calm down and help the Lv family get through these dangerous times.

Despite Lv Hua's fears, Lv Zi-Ming calmly drove as he comforted Lv Hua.

"It's useless, Dad. He's too strong. He's like a demon from hell. There's no way he will let me live. He won't let me off for sure. After what I did in Jiangdong, there's no way he will spare me. He'll cut me to pieces. Dad, I'm dead meat. I'm a goner..."

Lv Hua was beside himself with fear. He sat slumped in the seat as he cried with tears and snot on his face.

Lv Hua had lost all hope.

The moment Lv Hua saw Ye Fan defeat his grandfather, Lv Hua had collapsed to the floor.

He had almost resigned himself to the same fate as his grandfather.

If Lv Hua's father didn't yank him aside in the nick of time, Lv Hua would have probably ended up like He Chen and the others and died before sinking to the bottom of West Lake.

"Stop it! You are a man. How could you lose heart? How can you call yourself my son and the progeny of the Lv family?" Lv Zi-Ming was agitated when he heard what Lv Hua said and yelled at him angrily.

He was so disappointed with his son.

"D-dad, I don't want to lose hope either. But I'm at my wit's end. He's too strong. We can't outdo him. Why don't you hand me over to him? Since he is out to get me, the family might have a chance of surviving if I die," said Lv Hua as he cried. He had become despondent and wanted his father to hand himself to Ye Fan.

It seemed Lv Hua had genuinely lost all hope.

Then again, it wasn't the first time Lv Hua crossed paths with Ye Fan.

Ye Fan had gotten Lv Hua in big trouble while they were in the Amazon rainforest, so Lv Hua had witnessed Ye Fan's prowess with his own eyes.

Lv Hua had only dared to wreak havoc on Jiangdong because he thought Ye Fan was dead.

Now that Ye Fan had returned even stronger and killed Lv Song-Liang with a single blow, Lv Hua was completely overwhelmed by Ye Fan's strength.

He desperately wanted to live, but he didn't know if he could.

He had lusted after Qiu Mu-Cheng and dreamed of taking over Ye Fan's legacy in Jiangdong.

Any one of his actions was enough for Ye Fan to kill him.

Lv Hua knew that he had committed truly unforgivable sins, so it wasn't hard to see why he was beginning to despair.

PAK!

The moment Lv Hua finished his sentence, Lv Zi-Ming slapped Lv Hua.

"Shut up, you unfilial boy! How dare you say this? What would your deceased grandfather think? Even in his death, he wanted to protect you. Do you have a right to give up?" scolded Lv Zi-Ming furiously.

Lv Hua said nothing. He just kept crying in fear helplessly. What should they do now?

Should they go back home?

What use was it to go home?

His grandfather had been a supreme grandmaster, but even he had been unable to stop Ye Fan. Since the rest of the martial artists in his family weren't even grandmasters, they were as good as chickens and dogs to Ye Fan. They were probably incapable of holding back Ye Fan for a second. How could they protect Lv Hua?

"We will go to Yanjing. We will go to War God Castle. Yes, we shall go to War God Castle! It was a major crime for Ye Fan to kill a supreme grandmaster appointed by War God Castle, so the leaders of War God Castle won't let him off. You will be safe once I send you there. No matter how powerful Ye Fan is, would he dare to barge into the place on his own? Once we tell Sword Saint and the others that Ye Fan killed a supreme grandmaster, they might even capture him right away. Whatever it is, you will live.”

After Lv Zi-Ming analyzed the situation, he decisively headed to War God Castle in Yanjing.

“You are the family’s last hope and our future, so I won’t let you die,” said Lv Zi-Ming solemnly.

His voice was resolute.

Lv Zi-Ming called home while they were on the run.

-----

“Bro? Don’t waste time asking. Listen up closely. Tell the clan to leave the estate and Lin’an immediately. Don’t even pack. Just leave as quickly as you can. You have to leave home and get out of Jiangbei. Go as far as you can.”

HUUU!

The car wheels spun as the wind howled deeply like a demon.

Lv Zi-Ming spoke to his second younger brother sadly over the phone.

His second younger brother was shocked to hear what Lv Zi-Ming said.

“Zi-Ming, what’s wrong? Did something happen? Dad just became a supreme grandmaster. Shouldn’t you be at West Lake celebrating right now? Why do we suddenly have to run? What on earth happened?”

The entire Lv family was now celebrating Lv Song-Liang’s accomplishment of becoming a supreme grandmaster.

The rest of the family who stayed at home were having a celebratory feast as well while the banquet at West Lake was going on. They had invited famous politicians, entrepreneurs, and celebrities.

However, the family was shocked and completely unprepared to receive such a call from Lv Zi-Ming on this grand day.

“I told you I have no time to explain. Just do it. Everyone has to run now. It’s a matter of life and death for the clan.”

BAM!

While Lv Zi-Ming was still roaring away, a deep rumble could be heard through the phone suddenly before tragic cries rang through the phone.

Lv Zi-Ming instantly panicked. “Bro? Are you there? What happened? Say something! Tell me what happened! Say something, will you?” Lv Zi-Ming roared frantically in a deep tone.

Rate the Translation to Get 2 Pearls.

Wait! I Have Something to Say!

Send a Gift to the Writer!

No one answered Lv Zi-Ming's cries.

"Dad, what's wrong? Don't tell me something's happened back home?" Lv Hua's voice trembled. He felt even more anxious when his father's face lost all color.

Lv Zi-Ming shook his head and said powerlessly, "I don't know either."

Just as Lv Zi-Ming was about to hang up, a voice came from the phone.

Lv Zi-Ming was instantly delighted and hurriedly asked, "Bro, what happened? What caused the commotion at home?"

Instead, Lv Zi-Ming heard an unexpected answer as a cold, threatening voice echoed by his ear. "It seems you two escaped."

Lv Zi-Ming and Lv Hua instantly trembled when they heard the voice.

In an instant, Lv Zi-Ming's eyes opened wide in shock.

"A-are you...Ye Fan? Where is my brother? Where are my family members? What have you bloody done? You have already killed my father. Isn't that enough? Do you have to kill us all? Why can't you just spare us?"

Lv Zi-Ming's eyes reddened. He could almost imagine what must have become of his family even though Ye Fan hadn't said anything about it.

Perhaps out of fury or sadness, Lv Zi-Ming was roaring into the phone.

However, the young man laughed when he heard this.

"Spare you? Don't you think it's hilarious for you to say that? Why don't you ask yourself what you, Lv Hua, and the rest of your family have done before you say that? Did you spare my family? How can you blame me for the slaughter if you were heartless to begin with? You asked for it!"

BAM!

Ye Fan's shout exploded thunderously.

A crackle could even be heard through the phone from Ye Fan's shout.

Lv Zi-Ming felt as though his eardrums were about to burst.

His heart turned cold as Ye Fan clearly wasn't planning on letting his family off.

"Ye Fan, you evil man! You are a monster!

You murderer! You are absolutely ruthless! Aren't you afraid that the Chinese martial arts circle will punish you for this? War God Castle won't let you off!" roared Lv Zi-Ming deeply like a wild animal.

Ye Fan naturally ignored his threats.

Ye Fan wasn't afraid of War God Castle to begin with, let alone now when there was barely anyone else on earth who could pose a threat to him.

He merely sneered coldly. "It sounds like you're running to Yanjing to get War God Castle to protect you, right? That would save me some trouble. I need War God Castle to explain themselves as well. Now I can settle it all in one go. Feel free to go first. I'll see you soon."

A voice as calm as a breeze rang before Ye Fan stomped the phone to bits.

Lv Zi-Ming and Lv Hua were stunned and terrified.

Was Ye Fan going to kill his way even into War God Castle?

-----

The Lv family's lavish estate located in the most prime district in Lin'an was now almost reduced to rubble.

All the bungalows on the estate were now razed to the ground.

Broken tiles were scattered everywhere as steel bars covered with dirt lay exposed.

Blood could vaguely be seen trickling down slowly from the steel bars.

Many people were buried in the rubble, and their cries and moaning were faintly audible.

There was blood and fire throughout the estate.

A young man stood proudly above the rubble.

The last of the Lv clan had fallen to the ground with a thud and a look of fear and regret in his eyes.

Although Lv Hua's attack on Jiangdong had initially started just for the fun of it, ever since he got out of martial arts court unscathed, all his actions towards Jiangdong had been approved by the clan.

Otherwise, Lv Hua couldn't have single-handedly defeated the Green Dragon Force and even forced Qiu Mu-Cheng and Ye Xi-Mei to hide in the military zone.

From this perspective, the rest of the clan was anything but innocent.

Although their lives meant nothing to Ye Fan, he was no psycho killer.

He only killed those who deserved it.

Since the Lv family had approved of Lv Hua's actions to harm his mother, wife and business, they should have seen this coming from the moment they coveted his legacy in Jiangdong.

Murderers like them deserved to die!

Ye Fan turned to leave after taking out the Lv clan.

The twilight scattered on the young man.

From a distance, he seemed as surreal as a god as he walked.

Behind him was blood and fire rising from the rubble.

Ye Fan had stained Jiangbei with blood by wiping out the Lv family.

A powerful martial arts family who had over a century of history in Jiangbei was destroyed by Ye Fan.

Their huge lavish estate was now reduced to ruins.

At first, only the people nearby knew about this, but it spread wildly before long. The entire city was shaken by the catastrophe that had struck Lv family.

More and more people gathered and drove over to find out what happened.

Countless Lin'an residents looked at the wreckage in shock.

No one saw this coming. A few hours ago, the grand home of an important family whom everyone admired still stood here. Before the day was through, it had already become debris.

The entire estate had been razed to the ground, and no one from the Lv family survived.

The tragedy shook all of Jiangbei!

"Heavens! Was it an earthquake?"

"What bloody earthquake? The rest of Lin'an is fine! It can't be that an earthquake only happened within this estate, right? It feels like someone has taken the place apart."

"Call the cops. This is awful."

"How could such a huge family suddenly get wiped out overnight? Did they offend someone? Even if they did, who would be capable of doing this?"

The crowd kept gossiping.

News of the Lv family's tragedy swept through the city like a storm!

Rate the Translation to Get 2 Pearls.

Wait! I Have Something to Say!

Send a Gift to the Writer!