

Chapter 147

"It's like this, the Evelin and Nina Hua you introduced earlier, I think they're both great, there aren't many actors like this young and strong and willing to work hard anymore, especially Nina Hua, that expressiveness really doesn't seem like something you can have in an actress as young as her."

Jing quietly listened and did not interrupt, waiting for him to finish.

The mind actually got about what he was going to say.

As expected, I heard Lu Yanzhi say, "In two months' time, the film will be finished. I have a friend who has a new film coming up, but he's a young director and he's not famous."

Jenny laughed.

"Director Lu, this is a good thing, why don't you tell Yao Yao yourself? Aren't you guys seeing each other every day on the set? Should have a better chance of saying so!"

Lu Yanzhi revealed a difficult expression.

"It's...truthfully, I've asked, and she didn't say yes."

Jenny was stunned, a little surprised.

She understands Nina Hua, and although she is now a top-tier flowing actress in the entertainment industry, she is by no means a watchdog, nor is she a snob who looks down on new directors.

Because of the backing of Fahrenheit, there is no lack of resources, even with her team is also very Buddhist, basically choose the drama are only based on like or dislike, do not look at the production big or small.

And since Lu Yanzhi dared to recommend it to her, it means that the script itself should be good.

It was a bit strange that Nina Hua didn't agree.

Jenny Jing nodded slightly, "In that case, she should have her own considerations! I'm just her friend and have no authority to make decisions for her, so I'm afraid it's useless for you to call me on this matter."

Lu Yanzhi said evenly, "I know this, and I'm not forcing you to say that you have to make her agree, but it's just that it's not the last minute, and I still want to try again."

He rubbed his hands as if embarrassed and embarrassed, "To be honest, this friend of mine, did have her in mind to play the female lead, I don't expect you to convince her, just please can you help me find out why she didn't accept, so we can get the right remedy!"

Jenny Jing thought about it, thinking that it wouldn't affect anything, plus Lu Yanzhi's attitude was indeed cliché, so he agreed.

But she also gave him a heads up, "Let me make it clear in advance that I'm just going to help you find out why, I'm not responsible for helping you talk your way out of it, and you can't blame me if it doesn't work out in the end."

Lu Yanzhi agreed, and only after they said goodbye did he leave with a thousand thanks.

Still left the gift box on the table when I left.

Jenny was a bit helpless and called Biden Lu to tell him about it.

Unexpectedly, Biden Lu only laughed and said, "I asked him to bring it, so you just take it."

Jenny was a little speechless.

But since he'd said so, she didn't say anything.

After she hung up the phone, she called Nina Hua over again and asked her to go out for dinner tonight.

Nina Hua promised.

At 6pm, after work, Jenny drove straight to the mall where she had an appointment with Nina Hua.

Nina Hua had been filming all this time, staying on the set all day, and had hardly been out at all, so today was a day to come out and relax.

Just by meeting him, Jenny Jing was keenly aware that Nina Hua's spirit didn't seem too good, and his face was a little pale, his entire body acting wan.

Jenny asked with concern, "What's wrong with you? Did you work too hard on the movie, or were you sick?"

He said he was going to reach out and probe her forehead.

Unexpectedly, Nina Hua staggered slightly on his back, his eyes flickering a little guilty, and shook his head, "It's nothing, just a little uncomfortable, or maybe it's from the recent night movie shooting."

Jenny didn't think much of it and nodded his head in understanding.

But still, I couldn't help but be concerned: "No matter how tired you are, you should take care of your health, haven't you brought several assistants with you? Let them make you a little nutritious soup to make up for it!"

Nina Hua barely smiled, "I fired all my assistants, and now no one follows me except for Snow."

Jenny was stunned, very surprised.

You know, Nina Hua used to go everywhere for filming, like a proud princess.

After all, she had the strength and the capital to do so, and outsiders wouldn't dare say anything.

Now yet with only one Yuki by his side, how unbelievable!

Nina Hua saw her look surprised and smiled helplessly to himself.

"Surprising isn't it? It's nothing really, people need to be on their own someday."

Jenny Jing was startled and asked, "What do you mean? Did you have a falling out with your old man?"

Nina Hua didn't conceal it and nodded his head.

"Why?"

However, Nina Hua shook his head as if he had no intention of mentioning it more, "It's nothing, it's all a mess, it's not easy to come out and relax today, let's not talk about it anymore, let's go shopping."

Jenny could only nod at the sight of it.

They did a little shopping together and picked out a nice upscale restaurant for dinner.

Jenny saw that she was in a bad state and specially ordered a few of her usual favorite dishes.

But unexpectedly, as soon as the food was served, Nina Hua frowned tightly.

"What's wrong? You seem really uncomfortable, want to see?"

Nina Hua even waved his hand and barely smiled, "I'm fine."

Jenny was filled with worry, but seeing how determined she was, it was hard to insist.

It didn't take long for the food to all come up.

Nina is slender, noble and cold looking, but she is a very cute carnivore in private.

This was something that Jenny, who had grown up with her since childhood, knew best.

Therefore, as soon as the food came up, Jenny Jing clamped a piece of beef into her bowl, and while helping her with the food, she also said, "You, you must pay more attention to your body, although filming to keep your body in shape, but also can't eat nothing, today out as a holiday, eat a little more, eat a fat can't be much, don't worry."

In the meantime, Nina Hua looked at the piece of meat in the bowl, his eyebrows cresting imperceptibly.

But in the end, I didn't say anything, picked it up with chopsticks and brought it to my mouth with difficulty.

However, before it reached my mouth, just the smell of the meat made me feel a sourness rise up from my stomach.

She even put down her chopsticks and quickly said, "Excuse me."

Immediately afterwards, they hurriedly got up and rushed to the bathroom.

Before Jenny could react, the person in front of him was already gone.

She sat there dumbfounded for a few seconds before she realized what was happening.

This, this...this reaction....

No way!!!!

Chapter 148

Inside the bathroom, Nina Hua was holding the toilet and vomiting into the dark.

Jenny hurriedly ran in, and when he saw her in distress, he was almost certain of what he was thinking, and was distressed.

She even went out and brought her a glass of water and a tissue.

Patting her on the back as he cared, "How are you?All right?"

Nina Hua waved his hand and shook his head.

It took a long while to find his voice, "I'm okay, I'm fine."

Jenny Jing handed her the water, she took a sip, and after rinsing her mouth and wiping her mouth with a tissue, she said, "Sorry to spoil your fun."

Jenny was busy shaking his head, "What are you talking about? You're like this, what's the point of mentioning spoilers?"

After a pause and a bit of anger, he asked, "Why didn't you tell me even though something so important happened? What's going on here?"

Nina Hua looked at her, knowing that she had already guessed and bit her lip.

It took a little while before he said, "As you can see, I'm pregnant."

Jenny nodded, "You're reacting so strongly now, I think anyone with a heart can see that."

Nina Hua barely smiled, a smile that was endlessly pale.

"That's why I had a falling out with my dad."

Jenny frowned tightly, "What's going on here? Why did you fall out with your father? And who is the father of the child? Why didn't he come forward?"

"The father of the child..."

Nina Hua muttered a sentence, followed by a sad smile.

"Never mind, let's not talk about it, Jenny, can you keep it a secret for me?"

Jenny frowned, obviously very upset with her for avoiding the question of the child's father.

However, she also knew that Nina Hua was an adult, and since she had decided not to tell anyone, she could only respect her choice as a friend.

She sighed and nodded, "Don't worry, I won't tell anyone about this. But what are you going to do with the kid? After all, you can't hide your stomach, not to mention you have to film every day!"

Nina Hua was a bit startled, and his eyes were dazed.

After a long while, she shook her head, "I don't know, but the film will be finished in two months, so I'll try my best to keep it hidden from people, and as for the future... we'll see!"

Jenny's frown deepened at the sight of it.

But in the end didn't say anything and helped her out with him.

They were both back in their positions again, and their moods had changed dramatically.

Jenny Jing sighed, "To be honest, I was actually asked by Lu Yanzhi to try to persuade you to act in that play he mentioned to you before, but now it seems obvious that it's impossible."

Nina Hua nodded, "He talked to me about this movie, it's actually a good script, and I'm tempted, but obviously, I'm not in the right state."

Jenny nodded, his fingers unconsciously playing with a spoon on the table, contemplating.

Both of them were clearly not in the mood to eat now, and it took a moment before Jenny asked her, "So where do you live now? Yuki is just a seventeen or eighteen year old child who doesn't understand a lot of things, can she take care of you by herself?"

Nina Hua turned her head to look out the window, it was already the beginning of Chinese lights, and outside the window was a large road near the street, the road was full of traffic, a scene of prosperity, but she felt desolate and barren in her heart.

Now, it seemed that the one sister in front of her was the only one who could make her feel some warmth.

She shook her head, "I don't know, my dad froze all the bank cards in my name to force me to turn back, he took back the house I was living in, including the one on the east side of the river, and I'm staying at the hotel on the set."

She paused and smiled pallidly, "But that's okay, take it one step at a time! Can't force me to die."

Jenny Jing hurriedly held her hand and said in a deep voice, "Don't you dare talk nonsense! You still have me!"

She said, thinking about it, and pulled a bank card and a set of keys out of her purse and put them in her hand.

"Take this card, the password is my birthday, the money is not much, but spend it first and take it easy later, the key is the key to the flat I used to live in, it's not a big house, you will be alone for a while, I will visit you regularly."

The company has been in the process of developing the new product for the past two years, and is now in the process of developing the new product for the next two years."

Nina Hua looked at her, his eyes gradually reddened, until finally he couldn't hold back, and tears rolled down in large gobs.

She bit her lip fiercely and lowered her head, only after a long while did she tremble, "Thank you, Jenny."

Jenny also forced a smile, her eyes following the soreness, and only after a long while did she wipe away the tears, laughing, "Okay, don't act as if the sky is falling, this is not the Yao Yao I know. If you want to have this baby, don't worry, I'm your godmother! There won't be any problem, as for the child's father, show up or not if you like, who cares about him!"

Nina Hua knew that she was trying to comfort herself, and although her heart was still sore, it was at least a little easier.

She accepted her kindness and laughed along, which eased the atmosphere a bit.

After they finished their meal, based on Nina Hua's physical condition, Jenny Jing didn't let her follow her to continue shopping, but instead sent her straight back to the set.

After seeing Nina Hua off, Jenny drove home by herself and called Lu Yanzhi on the way home.

She didn't mention Nina Hua's pregnancy, just that it was really inconvenient for her to take the film.

Although Lu Yanzhi was mentally prepared for the phone call, he couldn't hide his disappointment when he really heard the answer.

Jenny also understood, after all, this thing called drama was sometimes very subjective.

Since the creator has identified one of them to play the role, he or she will always use that as a template in the creative process, whether intentionally or not.

It would naturally be disappointing to learn later that the person could not participate.

She said comfortingly, "There's nothing I can do about it now, you can ask your friend to look for someone else, there aren't many of this type in Yao Yao, but if you look carefully you should still be able to find someone who can replace them."

Lu Yanzhi smiled bitterly and said, "Truth be told, I also had a hand in writing this script, and the role we identified as Nina Hua before was just that we never understood her and didn't quite dare to ask, but then we worked together on Hidden River Fang Hua Record, and only then did we identify her even more as the one to play the role, and now we're going back to find a new actor, how can we find one that easy?"

Chapter 149

"Besides, this one is not like Hidden River, it's just a small production, nowadays the actresses who are slightly famous refuse to act, and those who are willing to act are not good enough, there are very few people like Nina Hua who don't care about the production and just look at the script."

After he finished, he sighed, and Jenny couldn't say anything.

After a moment, Biden Lu said, "Actually, Clara has contacted me recently, saying that she wants to be a part of the film and is interested in the female lead role, but because of her sudden illness, I'm not sure about this person.

Although she should be able to get by with her appearance, if you add the late Hattori these, at least better than the others, I'm still worried that she'll get halfway through the act and make some kind of scandal, and then it won't end well."

Jenny was stunned, a little surprised.

Her eyes shifted and she asked, "Does Clara want to take the role too?"

Lu Yanzhi said, "Yeah, honestly, even though my friend is a new director, he's good at what he does, otherwise I wouldn't have helped him. So there are quite a few people who want to be in the show, but there's just nothing suitable.

If you can't, in the end Clara is a really good choice, although she has been too many scandals recently and her image is not too good, but this is not a loss of flow, as long as the drama is good, the back repercussions should be good.

After all, it's only a small production, and it's not really possible to get a curry like her in the past."

Jenny Jing dropped his eyes, thinking slightly, and suddenly hooked his lips and smiled.

"Okay, I know about that, but if it's convenient, can you send me a copy of the script? I'll reply to you tomorrow."

Lu Yantai was stunned, a little surprised, and didn't know what she meant by that.

But he didn't ask too many questions, promised to do so, and then hung up.

Jenny drove back home, just into the door, the phone "ding" a ring, a new e-mail came in the letterbox.

As she changed her shoes, she opened it and read the electronic version of the script that Lu Yanzhi had sent.

Biden Lu had already arrived home, knowing that he was going shopping and eating with his little sister today, so he didn't disturb her.

By this time the man had finished his meal and gone to his study.

Jenny changed her shoes and went upstairs, not looking for Biden Lu, but going straight back to the bedroom.

Opened the computer and read the script sent by Lu Yanzhi in its entirety, from beginning to end.

The script wasn't very long, it was only an eighteen-episode show after all, but it took a lot of time because she watched it carefully.

Biden Lu came out from the study and saw her sitting in front of the computer reading something, she was very focused, so she didn't disturb her.

Unexpectedly, when he got out of the shower and cleaned everything up, he found her still sitting there, engrossed.

He looked at the time, it was twelve o'clock at night, and frowned.

"What are you looking at?"

Jenny was watching attentively when a low, magnetic voice suddenly came from behind her, startling her.

Once he turned around, he was relieved to see that it was Biden Lu.

"Oh, nothing, just a script."

"What script necessarily?"

The man said, already bending down and wrapping his arm around her to click the mouse, and immediately saw the name of the script.

—The Cannonball Raiders.

The man raised an eyebrow, and Jenny couldn't help but blush an old face, fidgeting and explaining, "It's just a tentative name, it should be changed later, uh... that, it's a script for a play, the production isn't very big, I'll take a look at it first."

Biden Lu smiled coolly, "Just a script, and it's worth the time you've seen it?"

he

I said, and deliberately fingered the hands on my watch.

Only then did Jenny realize how late it was, she gave a "mmm" and reluctantly agreed.

And now, the other side.

King family.

Clara is calling Lu Yanzhi.

It's late, but not too late or even early for someone in this business.

Naturally, Lu Yanzhi was no exception, known as a night owl, and at this time had just come out of the hotel after discussing the project with a producer, when he received a call from Clara.

"Oh Maya, what's the matter?"

Clara squeezed the phone nervously, a smile piling up on her face.

"Director Lu, it's like this, I hear you have a script in your possession and are looking for a woman, yes?"

Lu Yanzhi slightly rested his eyes, even though he knew Clara's intentions, he still expressed his embarrassment.

"Yes there is, but it's not me directing it, it's a friend of mine, he's just starting out in the industry, he doesn't have much experience..."

"It doesn't matter who's the director, as long as it's a good script."

Lu Yanzhi laughed.

"I see, so did you call my friend?"

At the mention of this, Clara came to anger.

The new director, Lin Shufan or whatever his name is, is not very famous, but he has a temper.

She's at least a top-tier flower nowadays, and her fan base is still there, despite the scandal now.

She's giving him face by being in his work, and he's not even saying yes?

What an insult!

But now this situation, Clara has no other better choice for the time being, she has always picked the movie, picking and choosing the role of this one is more suitable for her.

And knowing that Lin Shufan is a good friend of Lu Yanzhi's, and that Lu Yanzhi is also a producer, you know the quality can't be any worse.

It's hard to say, but the show is at the height of its popularity right now, and it's hard to say if it might be able to curve as a result.

When I think of this, Clara took a deep breath, secretly suppressing her dissatisfaction, and smiled: "I made a phone call, but Director Lin doesn't seem to know me very well.."

To be honest, Lu Yanzhi was actually somewhat tempted.

After all, according to Lin Shufan that kid's urine, if he can't find the right candidate, the drama might just be delayed.

The world thought they were the most shafted, but that was because they didn't know Lin Shufan.

Someone as talented as him wouldn't be in this mess if he wasn't too axial.

They're all middle-aged and still a new director.

Thinking of this, Lu Yanzhi sighed.

He was trying to get a hold of his best friend, so he said, "I'll go talk to him about this!! I'll call you then, if I can."

That tone of voice is probably actually a promise.

Clara was finally relieved.

Laughing, he said, "Thank you, Director Lu."

Lu Yanzhi hung up the phone with a "hmm" and didn't say anything to her.

The next morning, he went straight to see Lin Shufan.

Lin Shufan set up his own is a studio, might as well be called a small workshop of his own.

It's hard enough to be poor and not be able to afford a decent piece of equipment, and it's hard enough to shoot a movie all on rent.
