

Chapter 1501

If the cover of C journal is a little far away from the vision of ordinary people, the news of one sentence from central mom will directly make people's gossip heart beat. Of course, the economic and Trade Commission and the two barrels of oil have something to do with the people every day.

But after all, it's too far away, and the tea vegetable hospital is different. In particular, some people in the tea vegetable urban area who have something to do with the tea vegetable hospital have gone crazy to inquire in recent days.

In fact, to tell the truth, even if the tea vegetable hospital resells natural gas, it is impossible to give them a note so that they can have any interests. But people's good face or curiosity is always so strange.

Shaohua is getting bored these two days. If people outside can't get through to Zhang Fan, they call Shaohua. If they are closer, they directly say to send some seafood to Zhang Fan Shaohua. If they are not familiar with Shaohua, they drag their relationship to Shaohua.

Even the chairman of the bank where Shaohua used to work called. After reviewing the past for a long time, people said they would ask Shaohua to return to the bank as a consultant! Shao Hua almost laughed. She said that when I was a teller, I didn't see you so enthusiastic.

Of course, I won't say it, but it's a kind refusal.

Not to mention others, even Jia SuYue was curious to death, because Yang Ma was too powerful. In the words of ordinary people, the less words, the bigger things.

At the weekend, Jia SuYue took Shaohua and Wang Yanan out to eat hot pot. Sometimes he had to sigh about the hot pot in Sanchuan. When Zhang Fangang came to tea, the catering industry here was still in full bloom.

The hand-held mutton and beef stick bone with national characteristics are equipped with yogurt brewed by local methods. Although it is not a delicacy, it really feels heroic outside the Great Wall in the snowy weather in winter.

There are not only beef and mutton, but also Xibe pancakes, rolled vegetables, goose stewed pancakes, horse meat and intestines of the Kazakh nationality, Naren noodles and butter tea of the Mongolian nationality, and butter ham of the Russian nationality. The barbecue stalls at night, all kinds of noodles, lungs, rice and intestines, really, although they can't get on the elegant hall, the flavor is still quite good.

But I don't know what's going on. It seems that in a year or two, these local characteristics have been beaten by the spicy hot pot in the capital of Sanchuan. They have all entered the farmhouse. You can't eat them if you don't drive out of the city for dozens of kilometers.

As for the city, the same Sanchuan dalongkan hotpot, the big general hotpot in the capital, and even because it is delicious or authentic, young people have become factions and formed a chain of contempt.

For this change, the only thing Zhang fan can do is to dislike eating out more and more.

However, Shaohua seemed to like it very much. Although they sighed the next day and said they would never eat spicy hot pot again, and their faces were full of beans, they were still happy next time.

As soon as Jia SuYue took the lead, Shaohua and Wang Yanan did not hesitate.

"Why didn't you go to the capital this time?" Shaohua asked Wang Yanan curiously.

"This time it's a matter of internal medicine. I don't hesitate to go. When will your black Buy River come back? Yan demon king is killing us these days."

Wang Yanan has an expression of life and death. The leaders in the hospital have gone to the capital these days. Yan Xiaoyu is alone at home.

Zhang Fan also said at that time that everything in the family would be handed over to director Yan, and there must be no accident.

This is both trust and pressure. Once there is an accident in the hospital, it is a matter of human life.

Therefore, Yan Xiaoyu, who has never been the No. 1 leader, is like an old cat at night these days, staring like a small lantern. Not only do I stand at the gate to catch being late every morning, but I also stand at the gate half an hour before work.

What's more terrible is that Yan Xiaoyu directly ordered the inpatient doctors to be on standby.

Let's talk about the hospital at night. Why don't you recommend going to the hospital at night.

First of all, there are not enough staff. Almost all departments are on duty by a doctor, especially surgery. Often when the attending doctor is not on duty directly in the Department, the inpatient is bald in the Department alone.

The superior of the inpatient is on standby at home. In principle, during the standby period, he cannot leave the urban area, turn off the power and be on call.

But if lower level doctors don't encounter a very troublesome condition, they won't easily call their superiors. Generally, if they can send them off, they can take them off.

As for the emergency department, when it is busy, it is often handled by relevant departments. Therefore, do not think that there are few patients at night and the efficiency of seeing a doctor is high.

Yan Xiaoyu directly asked the inpatient and the attending to be on duty together, and then asked the deputy director and the director to stand by. She was also ordered to sign every operation.

This makes the workload of the hospital larger. There are disadvantages. Doctors complain, because many doctors, especially those above the main treatment, often have daytime surgery.

But it also has the advantage that the probability of accidents is minimized. People feel that the tea vegetable hospital is going to celebrate the new year, and there are a lot of doctors in the evening.

Isn't it a pile? There are several inpatients in the hands of a chief physician. When the chief physician comes, can the inpatient come?

So, all of a sudden, doctors and nurses began to Miss Zhang Fan. They missed Zhang Fan's feeling of lifting weights like light. It seemed that the black boy didn't do anything. As long as his cool Luze stopped in the yard and sat in the office, the world would still be beautiful.

"Don't give my family Zhang Fanqi a nickname. Where is he black?" Shao Hua holds Wang Yanan's baby fat that hasn't subsided.

It's also strange that among the three girls, Jia SuYue is the most feminine in terms of appearance. Wang Yanan is still a tomboy, and even has a feeling of stopping in adolescence. Maybe this is the characteristic of technical women.

"Hey hey, is it black or not? You don't want people to say it exists. It's said that tea vegetable hospitals are selling natural gas. What's the matter?" Jia SuYue asked after helping Wang Yanan get rid of Shaohua's magic hand.

Shaohua certainly doesn't know. She hardly asks about Zhang Fan's unit.

"Can't say, you haven't reached the level to know this!" Wang Yanan said solemnly.

"Ah! Ah! Ah! You flat princess said so, huazi, pinch her!"

After a while, Wang Yanan said, "buy the river to the head of the desert country..."

The two women listen to the book of heaven. Shao Huayue's eyes brighten and flash. She has a feeling that the stone in my house is black. What's the matter.

Jia SuYue is also stupid! "Operate on the head of state? Set up a national laboratory? Still have six or seven academicians? Don't drink. Why are you talking nonsense?"

Really, she really didn't think that all the mountain people who wanted to run away after eating steak had come to this step now.

Suddenly, the spicy hot pot is not spicy at all. It doesn't make people feel happy at all.

Life is so strange.

When they went, the military region was responsible. If helicopters were heavy weapons, they were really protected by heavy troops, but when they came back, they fell from the sky to the ground.

I don't know if Zhang Fan ate too much in Xiangshan. The tickets NIMA came back were paid by the tea vegetable hospital, which made Zhang Fan on the plane feel uncomfortable.

Looking at Zhang Fan's cattle coming and going, old Chen quietly asked, "what's the matter with Zhang Yuan? Is it uncomfortable? This is the largest plane to fly tea element. No matter how big the model is, tea element can't fall down."

"Is this a question of size? Didn't you contact the office before you left?"

Lao Chen didn't understand. He said in wonder, "no, what's the matter?" Then suddenly realized the same, "I'm not interested in asking about the ticket!"

"Hey! What do you say you are polite to them? Do you say you have a chance to enter the central government in the future? If you don't, what are you polite? You also get first class and business class, eh!"

"Hey, hey, after these people want to serve, I asked. The annual scientific research funds of these old men are estimated to be hundreds of millions."

"Oh, there are still projects?"

"Not only now, it is estimated that next year's projects are ready. If we all stay, we don't have to invest money in scientific research."

"Yes, President Chen is old-fashioned. Ask the maintenance if you can get a glass of milk for the old men because they are in first class!"

Talking and laughing, from the heart of China, facing the falling sunset, they went straight to tea. When a trace of sunset hung in the sky, Zhang Fan and them arrived safely.

Yan Xiaoyu wanted to organize beautiful nurses to pick up the plane. Xiao Chen of the medical department stopped him and said that hospital Zhang hated to ask the nurses in the hospital to come and go. Even if we rent some from the public relations company, we must not let the nurses go.

Therefore, only Yan Xiaoyu's several costars borrowed from the government picked up the plane.

Now the government has no choice for shameless units such as tea vegetable hospital. When it comes to money, the government leaders look at the extravagant flowers of tea vegetable Zhang Fan, leaving their saliva of envy.

But when she was stingy, zhennima pulled out of a realm. She didn't say she used the government car, but also used the government run guest house. She didn't give money when she ran out.

With the completion of the demonstration of the tea element TB experiment, the first batch of TB patients recruited also entered the tea element hospital. The patient group of 1000 people directly filled the second and Third branches of the tea element hospital.

A small number of infectious patients can also be treated in the tea element infectious disease department, but now there are thousands, and they can no longer be treated in the Department. This is unfair to other patients, and it is easy to cause nosocomial infection.

A large number of doctors from all over the world have also entered the tea element. To be honest, it's hard to say that China does small things. I really have to be praised for doing great things.

When Zhang Fan and his colleagues had not arrived for two days after they returned to the tea vegetable hospital, the top flow doctors from lung hospitals across the country gathered in the tea vegetable hospital from all directions.

The tea vegetable area in all parts of the world gathers the top and largest number of TB doctors in the country at one time.

Look at the posture, that is, the posture of doing great things.

Even meatball countries have sent applications to join.

Chapter 1502

There are many methods for drug testing in drug research and development, but they must be observed, including comparison, balance, randomization and repeatability.

There are many jokes here. For example, this is repetitive. When a university wanted to be upgraded, but the number of experiments was not enough, they opportunistically opened a Chinese Journal and began to copy it. Results the experiment was replicated, but the data could not reach repeatability at all.

As for the control, there is a classic experiment. In the early years, many leaders added trace elements, such as a leader of Jinmao added vitamins to supplementary foods. Another example is the selenium containing rice in China in recent years.

It's like if you don't eat this rice, you will be stunted and you won't have enough IQ.

In fact, this selenium experiment was carried out by scientists in the 1960s. A team of about 500 people was found. 250 experimenters added selenium especially. 250 people ate a normal diet without adding additional selenium.

As a result, the experiment was supposed to be done for 7 years, but it could not be done in the third year. There was no change in the control group. Whether to eat additional selenium enriched elements or not did not change at all. Why can't it go on? The boss who paid for it saw that the experiment can't be done. If it goes on, it's hard to boast in the future!

In fact, unless it needs to be added in some areas that are particularly short of selenium, there is no need to supplement it in normal areas, unless you have a lot of money and people are stupid.

For the TB drug experiment of tea element, there is no way to carry out double-blind experiment, so we can only choose the control experiment.

Thousands of TB patients need thousands of normal drug testing personnel. Tea element is congenitally deficient in this respect.

For example, in big cities, not to mention other bright and dark markets, first of all, a medical school can find many medical students. Tea is not good, because you are not a medical student. If you don't talk about science popularization first, it is easy to panic.

"Zhang Yuan, there are not enough people!" Lao Chen blocked Zhang Fan in the operating room. Lao Chen seldom entered the operating room, which was forced by a group of old men, so he killed him in the operating room.

"Do you think of a way? You are such a big Dean. Can't you even handle this matter?"

"My Dean, you can't let me start the army. This can't work. When we are ischemic, we look for the army. Even when the hospital moves, we look for the army, but this can't work."

"Hey!" Zhang Fan is sad. Although there are a lot of idle people on the tea vegetable street, it's really hard to find such a large number of drug testers.

First, we should be healthy. Second, we must be able to understand popular science. Third, we need to take some risks.

So it's hard.

Suddenly, Zhang Fan thought of a way, and then looked at Lao Chen with suspicious eyes. Lao Chen's innocent expression was like a fox who had to say he didn't steal a chicken.

The state has regulations on the treatment of drug testers. We must inform them of adverse drug reactions. Once there is an accident, the hospital must bear the treatment cost.

In addition to these, we have to give fixed funds, and subsidize nutrition, transportation and one-time expenses, which are about 1000 yuan.

Although many drugs have been tested by animals, there are still risks. Many big cities have drug heads that make money, just like group performance heads, they can form business.

We can't find anyone for tea. We can only rely on the government. To tell the truth, this thing can only be done by Zhang Fan or Ouyang. Others really can't take it down. No wonder Lao Chen pretends to be crazy.

After Zhang Fan changed his clothes, he drove to the tea vegetable government.

Under the blue sky, kuluze slipped into the door of the tea government like a fish, which was particularly conspicuous. If left in the past, Zhang Fan's car in the frontier government was too ordinary.

A leader is the king of the desert. Now he can't. kuluze has become a cheetah and the four circles have become a red flag. It's not easy to meet a sunny day, and it's better this year.

The boss of the government stood by the window, basking in the sun and looking at the factories allocated land, especially the modern enterprises on the other side of the high-tech zone, which made the leaders feel quite different. This is the river and mountain laid by Lao Tzu.

As a result, I saw Zhang Fan's kuluze in the corner of my eye. This car is so easy to recognize. This is the kuluze tea with a red card, and there are a row of passes from province to city and from city to county on the window. I don't know. I thought it was a United Nations car.

"It's bad. There must be no good. Whoever leaked the news of me, I was chased by someone when I entered the office. Be sure to find out who it is."

The boss of the government is very angry. He is not afraid to see Zhang Fan or Ouyang. He is afraid that Ouyang will ask for debt. It is said that the tea vegetable government went to the capital this time. Ouyang seems to have been personally commended by the general manager.

Nima used to be arrogant and unreasonable. Now it is estimated that NIMA is even more powerful.

"I don't think he came to ask for debt?" The director of the next office replied. After answering, he wanted to slap himself.

This thing is right. There is no reward. It's wrong. When Ouyang leaves, the boss estimates that he will vent his anger on his long mouth.

Hey!

After a while, boss Cha Su saw Zhang Fan's smiling face, and Zhang Fan was alone. The boss breathed a sigh of relief. He really didn't come to charge. If he came to charge, he wouldn't be Zhang Fan.

"Make tea for Zhang Yuan. Don't make green tea. Just Tie Guanyin. Zhang Yuan likes to drink it." Tea vegetable laughed and said to the office director. The office director greeted Zhang Fan with a smile. Really, he was like wearing a pair of angular Gauguin shoes on a grand occasion. He was painful at every step and had to put a thick smile on his face.

After making tea, Zhang Fan politely took out two gadgets from his handbag. "This is a gift to the leaders in the capital. It's not worth money. It's just a thought."

When Zhang Fan took out the gift, boss Cha Su's face turned white. It didn't mean that he was afraid of what a thick card Zhang Fan's gadget was, because he believed that Zhang Fan was telling the truth. Just because he believed the truth, he was afraid.

When did these two goods of tea vegetarians give gifts? They wanted to give them gifts by themselves.

This guy is a rare gift today. It's definitely not a good thing.

The boss hurriedly pushed his hands. "We can't do anything valuable or worthless. We can't break the rules. No, No."

"Worthless, worthless!"

"Don't say it's worthless. Even if it's worth money, it's really not worth it."

They are like aunts on the street.

Finally, Zhang Fan still didn't take it out. Zhang Fan actually had a reason to speak. You want me to say it, but you don't want me to say it. Seeing that the leader was facing a great enemy, he put the souvenirs ordered from Xiangshan in his handbag.

Zhang Fan looked at the office director, meaning that the boss didn't want you to have one? The office director's face has changed. Let Zhang Fan drink tea.

Zhang Fan was not polite when he saw it.

At the moment of sitting down, Zhang Fan seemed to hear a sound:

Shh!

"After the meeting of the Committee of our tea vegetable hospital, we decided to pay dividends to relevant pharmaceutical enterprises at the end of next year. After all, this year is profitable."

As soon as I said this, if the dean of Su University Clinical College was there, he would jump to swear. You bastard, you stole the teacher.

As soon as the boss of tea vegetable heard that he wanted to pay dividends, he was happy, and then at the end of next year, his lost heart was broken.

"Can you make it a little earlier, for example, by the end of this year? After all, let's see if the contribution of tea vegetable hospital is not good."

Zhang Fan certainly won't promise to pay dividends this year. It is estimated that the dividends at the end of next year are to let the fish take the bait.

Zhang Fan looked embarrassed. "It's too late to pay dividends this year, but it's OK to advance a little, but it's estimated to be the middle of next year. It's difficult to pay dividends as early as possible."

"Hey!" Boss Cha Su knew at a glance that Zhang Fan didn't really want to pay dividends, so he didn't want to take over.

"If you don't give me benefits, don't want me to take over."

Zhang Fan looked at it and sighed in his heart, "Chinese talents are gathered in the system. That's true."

When the president said this, Zhang Fan was very upset, but this one in the opposite side has always been thinking about the law and asked Zhang Fan to implement it early. As for others, he won't take the bait at all.

"I wanted to pay dividends early, but..." Zhang Fan was interrupted halfway through.

The leader seems to suddenly think of something very important. He should get up and leave immediately.

"Director Yang, is there another important meeting? Why don't you let the room chief come and talk to Zhang Yuan!"

"This guy wants to run!"

Zhang Fan hurriedly said, "why don't you let the European Academy come?"

"It's not necessary, it's not necessary. There are a few minutes left. We'll hurry up. You're a big expert. The hospital can't do without you. I can't waste your time. Let's make a long story short."

The leader looked at it and frowned like a knife. He thought, "it's too difficult! Why is it so difficult."

"Well, the test personnel..."

Listening to Zhang Fan's words, the leader's face was green, red and white, and his hands trembled.

Don't I owe you some money? Are you such a bully?

"Those who give subsidies, those who give subsidies, 1000 yuan per round."

"Five thousand!"

"Er, let..." Zhang Fan wanted to ask Ouyang to talk, but he thought again that he couldn't always scare people with the European court. If he frightened the skin, people wouldn't be afraid.

"Leadership, five thousand is really not good. I'm in charge, one thousand one, no more!"

"Four thousand, or there's no need to talk about it. Your hospital is not under the leadership of tea vegetable now. Don't scare me. The government still owes hundreds of millions to the bank."

After struggling for a long time, seeing that Zhang Fanshi couldn't take it out, he pushed the price at fifteen. When he got out of the door, Zhang Fan got on the car singing.

To tell the truth, leaders are smart enough, but they are not only unfamiliar with the field of medical treatment, but also have little concept of money estimation.

After fooling the leaders with professional knowledge for the first time, Zhang Fan felt quite proud. Really, this sense of achievement is no less than the feeling of passing the practice examination.

Chapter 1503

The tea element in winter, to be honest, is not quite like most winters in the northwest and northeast. Because the winter in the northwest is dry and cold, and the breeze blows, there is really a pain in cutting your face with a knife. This is also the reason why there are two red groups on the faces of northwest people.

Tea is not dry in winter, because it is the only place in China affected by the Atlantic warm current, which is mixed with the cold air from Siberia to the south.

In the early morning of winter, when you go out, the cold fog fills the whole world. Before noon, the sun is a lantern, and there are cars walking in the snow, with flickering lights.

Hazy, like a layer of yarn hanging, all kinds of shaking small lanterns, like sending all kinds of signals everywhere.

The sad clouds in the government are bleak. "I heard my old man say yesterday that he is financially tight and will not give any year-end bonuses and benefits this year."

"Doesn't it mean that the government has made money this year? How can so many international enterprises in the high tech Zone be tight? Last year, they all issued more than 3000 year-end awards. Why don't they do it this year? I'll go. NIMA, the leaders are tight."

Zhang Fan and tea vegetable leaders need to be so urgent. The leader is not that sun Dasheng can turn a pile of monkeys by plucking a pile of hair. Therefore, he tries to find a way.

Then the grapevine came, saying that the government did not pay benefits, and even sunshine wages would be in arrears.

At this moment, others dare to be angry, but the aunts of various elderly care departments are not happy, chirping and arranging all kinds of pink or black stories of leaders.

When they go to work, the government leaders speak in person, sunshine wages are paid on time, benefits are doubled, and some people have to be selected to give more than 1000 extra rewards.

This time, the government staff became more and more excited. Everyone stared at the extra 1000 awards, not for the money, but because the quota was the trust of the leaders.

Sometimes it's like this. China's history is so deep that people play with people one pit after another.

The year-end experiment of the tea element hospital was carried out. Seven or eight experimental groups began the experiment one by one. Tuberculosis patients came in and went out, came in and went out. Some patients even coughed and breathed like father-in-law for many years.

After treatment with tea, although it still looks so weak, it doesn't cough anymore, and the blue gray on his face slowly turns ruddy.

From the beginning, various problems occurred frequently, and the teams gradually became harmonious. The progress after running in was obviously different. It can make people feel that a new car has a tangle of tearing film and an old car has the pleasure of violent driving.

Because the academicians have a good relationship with the hospital, in fact, the tea vegetable hospital has a large collective shadow. Then, under the deliberate construction of Ouyang and Zhang fanshuang's quick money, the hospital makes the academicians feel that they have returned to that year.

Therefore, academicians are also involved in tea vegetable teaching. At the beginning, academicians are invited to hold an occasional symposium to broaden the horizons of students and doctors, like boiling frogs in warm water. Slowly, academicians change from a guest seat to a part-time promotion lecture of some courses, and then become a regular lecture.

In Ouyang's words, you must smooth the hair before grinding. Zhang Fan thought for a while and felt that this remark seemed to scold him, because Ouyang seemed to teach himself that way.

The lectures of tea vegetable are too powerful, and most of the medicine in the powerful bird market can't help it, because other students who don't come to tea vegetable make a lot of trouble.

To tell you the truth, the most tolerant people in the society are not the elderly, but the children. Even if this group of beards and big breasts are already quite spectacular, they are still students and children before they leave school.

"We shouldn't have agreed to set up an internship because of the trouble brought by tea."

In the Medical University of Niaooshi, the president and the secretary sat together and talked about tea vegetable sadly.

Recently, not only big four and big five students are making trouble, but even freshmen who have just entered the school are making trouble, saying they want to go to tea.

The Dean had the heart to ask, "you haven't even learned the diagnosis. Even if you go to tea and ask the academician to give you a class, can you understand?"

"It's a fait accompli. We'd better find a way, otherwise we can't go on like this."

"I've seen the science and education center of tea element. It's large enough. There was no problem putting a clinical department in the past. Now I don't know whether tea element will be accepted or not."

The Dean sighed to the secretary.

"Hey, I heard that the dean of the tea vegetable hospital is not easy to deal with. He might not say anything if he let 200 people go. He's afraid that when there are more people, he will think of ways to get benefits. Isn't Wang Hong the director of the hospital office of their hospital? Why don't you contact Wang Hong first and find out what to say. If Zhang Fan doesn't want much, let the students go.

So many academicians are not only an opportunity for the promotion of tea vegetable hospital, but also an opportunity for the great promotion of bird city medicine. We want to invite these academicians on weekdays. Even if others come, we can't afford to pay. "

"OK, I'll contact you as soon as possible. If Zhang Fan doesn't go too far, we can let the clinical sophomores go there. There's no need for freshmen. The basic courses are not over, and it's useless to go."

They really don't know what Zhang Fan thinks. If they know, they won't go even if tea is full of academicians, because Zhang Fan wants to merge and want to be their leader. They are not stupid and won't go to find a mother-in-law for no reason.

Tea element, Zhang Fan has just come out of the operating room. These days are busy enough. In the past, when it was winter, there were more patients in respiratory, endocardial and orthopedics, but this year is different. Because of the influx of tuberculosis patients, there were more thoracic surgery.

It's not a problem that tea is now a large department. It can be pulled out to compete with provincial hospitals, but it still lacks information. Small departments or some departments with high difficulty are not developing very fast.

For example, thoracic surgery is an example. Because of the influx of tuberculosis patients, some patients who have to undergo extrathoracic surgery make tea element thoracic surgery sad.

Zhang Fan has been doing thoracic surgery almost every day these days. He has no time to do other operations at all.

This training of medical treatment takes too much time. To put it simply, a doctor who can perform appendectomy independently has to go to general surgery for at least three years, so this kind of thoracotomy can't be won without a chest surgeon who has worked for ten years.

No way, Zhang fan can only help with the operation in the operating room of thoracic surgery.

"Zhang Yuan, good news." Wang Hong is at the door of the operating room. Like a thief, she has to lie down in Zhang Fan's ear to say.

For Wang Hong's good news, Zhang Fan generally has no hope. Because the head of the goods, Zhang Fan would have changed if it hadn't been for her performance in the infectious diseases department at that time.

"It won't be the leader who will come to inspect again!" Zhang Fan asked angrily as he walked.

"The president and Secretary of Medical University are coming!"

"Huh?" Zhang Fan stopped, "did you say anything? What are they doing here?"

"Hey, hey..."

"Speak well. It's a ghost." Zhang Fan said impatiently that this is the problem that Zhang Fan is most concerned about. Who is in the mood to see Wang Hong make trouble.

"Well, that's right. The president of Medical University contacted me in a private capacity this morning!"

Zhang Fan's mouth is crooked. God NIMA's personal identity!

"He asked us about the conditions of the science and education center and the students' dormitories, and how the experiment was going. At first, I wondered, but later I heard what he meant. It seemed that he wanted the students of the clinical department above sophomore to come to tea."

"Good thing, did you promise?" Zhang Fan was happy all of a sudden, which is really a good thing.

"I didn't promise or refuse!" Wang Hong said proudly.

At this point, Zhang Fan's hair stood up. "You..."

"Dean, don't worry. Listen to me. The president of Medical University also asked from the side what they would pay if the students came. I know from my listening tone that they are very urgent now.

I wondered if they would have doubts again if I promised directly. "

Zhang Fanbai glanced at Wang Hong and didn't boast about it, but he praised it in his heart. The woman finally came to her senses.

In the office, the leaders of the hospital came, and the doctor of soy sauce in charge of science and education also came.

"Oh, look forward to the stars, look forward to the moon, and finally look forward to the school leaders to understand. It's not easy!" Ouyang Le can't even sit still.

"This can't be too urgent. I suggest that they come to investigate first. After the investigation, we retreat and let the relevant teachers of the school come with the team. We don't lack clinical teachers, but what about some basic disciplines."

Yan Xiaoyu has a position in front of Zhang Fan after being an independent gatekeeper. Otherwise, there was a chance for her to speak freely.

"Don't worry, don't worry, you can't worry about this. Once you're worried, you'll be beaten. It's best for them to speak by themselves. As for the training fees they want to pay, it's not necessary. How much do they pay a year.

But we can't want nothing, as if we were in a hurry... "

The president and Secretary of the Medical University arrived at the tea plant at the same time. Zhang Fan took all the team members to the airport to meet them in person. Even the government was alarmed. He didn't know that the general manager was coming.

According to the level, Zhang Fan's level is the same as that of the president of Medical University. In fact, you don't have to be so eager. You can't stand Zhang Fan's greedy body.

After getting off the plane, the president and Secretary of the medical department were stunned and nervously smiled in the car.

When entering the hospital, Zhang Fan directly led the president and Secretary like showing off his wealth. Where he was advanced, where he was high-tech, where he was valuable.

Along the way, the headmaster and the secretary were frightened. They kept communicating with their eyes.

"What are you doing? Thinking about our special education fund?"

"No, even if we give them all our special funds, we can't buy their 7-prefix NMR!"

Chapter 1504

The two leaders of the school didn't believe it until they left the tea vegetable hospital. It is widely said that Zhang Fan, who used to drag the roots of a bird, was so talkative that he was not only willing to accept the clinical department, but also wanted other disciplines to come.

Of course, clinical achievements have been made, and other disciplines are not necessary, so they were declined by the two leaders. They didn't even use the internship expenses they prepared. The two happily left tea vegetarians.

Let the members of the whole team receive and send tea. They feel very face-saving. Zhang Fan of tea respects knowledge very much!

Zhang Fan looked at the two school leaders who left and sighed slightly.

"It's too hasty! You shouldn't talk about all subjects just now. You should talk about anesthesia first, and then oral cavity. It's unrealistic for you to let people come over all subjects."

Ouyang heard Zhang Fan's sigh and said a word to Zhang Fan with a smile.

She was not a little disappointed. To tell the truth, it used to be hard for tea vegetable hospital to want a medical university graduate to practice. Now it has almost got a clinical college directly, which is quite satisfactory.

"Oh, what a pity!"

Modern medicine can be divided into four categories: preventive medicine, health care medicine, clinical medicine and rehabilitation medicine. Although it is said that everyone is equal, in the current medical industry, unless some small and rich countries pay more attention to rehabilitation and health care medicine, even Jinmao is only the most powerful clinical medicine.

There are many clinical disciplines, such as foundation, pharmacology, anesthesia, public health, nursing and testing. In fact, these are all peripheral disciplines. Clinical alone is not enough, so Zhang Fan is a little disappointed.

It's only a subject for a long time. When can we get together!

Zhang Fan lamented that people are very strange. When he was in Quark and was reluctant to buy clothes in winter, would he think that he could develop to a school that cares about others? Or a university?

The students entered very quickly, especially the fifth year students. Of course, not all the students came. Anyway, those who want to have some ideas on medical treatment came. Those who only want to stay in bird city and enter the Affiliated Hospital in the future are certainly unwilling to come to tea.

"Now that the students are here, we should stay well, not only in medical technology, but also in medical quality. I don't want to hear anything full of complaints affecting the students."

On Monday, Zhang Fan held a rare general meeting of the whole hospital. In the past, Ouyang often did this. When he had nothing to do, he called for all doctors and nurses to have a meeting. In the era of Zhang Fan, Zhang Fan rarely organized meetings.

Even Monday's hospital affairs meeting can not be held. This whole hospital meeting makes everyone a little uncomfortable.

"Why does heima Jiang attach so much importance to student babies?"

"I don't know. It's estimated that he's holding something bad. Although he smiles all day, he's actually wilting."

The nurses managed to get together and murmured to arrange Zhang Fan. They spoke loudly and quietly. Yan Xiaoyu took the microphone and shouted: pay attention to the discipline of the venue. Those who get together, why don't you come up and talk!

Zhang Fan doesn't care. It doesn't matter if everyone doesn't pay attention. In fact, they all listen.

There's no need to make everyone do it straight with their back hands like the children in the kindergarten.

Since you want to take students, you should take them well. The chief physician and deputy chief physician are responsible for the student teaching of the whole department, and the attending physician personally takes the students to start.

Even Li Cunhou brought seven or eight students. For a while, the tea vegetable hospital seemed to look like a pill hospital.

A director went out with five or six students. He was like a big man with social status.

Zhang Fan also brought students. These students are not fixed. One department is a month. Zhang Fan has been in thoracic surgery recently, so he brought students of thoracic surgery.

There is an inexplicable excitement with Zhang Fan's four students. Now the medical model in the border areas is no longer an old clock involved in SARS and an old Hu studying cardiac electrophysiology, but Zhang Fan of tea vegetable hospital.

In particular, boys feel that what old clock and Hu are not as good as Zhang Fan, who can be the Dean after graduation. Therefore, when Zhang Fan takes four boys into the operating room, these boys have a feeling that they must learn well and maybe they can copy Zhang Fan's idea after graduation.

"Zhang Yuan, today the second hospital sent patients with tuberculosis beads on the chest wall!" When the director outside the chest saw Zhang Fan, he said from a distance.

"OK, leave it to me. You can do other operations."

"Can Jin Leshan and his team be your assistant?" The director outside the chest asked Zhang Fan while signing for the little doctor next to him.

"Let Jin Leshan bring someone over. Don't I have several assistants!" Zhang Fan said with a smile.

The director outside the chest stopped his signing hand, looked at the four interns behind Zhang Fan, and then looked at Zhang Fan strangely, but he didn't speak.

Zhang Fan then turned to the four students and asked, "you are all senior five. Even if you go to graduate school, you will enter the clinic. How about being an assistant for me? Do you have confidence?"

"Yes!"

"Teacher, don't worry. When I was in class, I got full marks for animal surgery!"

"Well, at first glance, it's a good seedling for surgery!" Zhang Fan smiles.

The director outside his chest glanced and didn't say a word.

General hospitals, not specialized infectious hospitals, generally do not have specific infectious operating rooms.

For example, there are three operations, a normal appendix, an appendix with tuberculosis, and a breast mass resection.

No matter how early you enter the operating room in the morning, you have to wait until the breast mass is completed and the normal appendix is cut off, and the appendix operation with tuberculosis can enter the operating room.

Moreover, after other operations, the operating room can continue the next operation, but after tuberculosis surgery, the operating room will be stopped and can be used only after 24 hours of continuous disinfection.

In the afternoon, when all the operations were over, Zhang Fan's operation was ready to start.

After entering the operating room, Zhang Fan didn't want to do anything. These interns began to have quite independent disinfection sheets. Although they were stiff and could make people see dental acid, they didn't violate the aseptic rules.

Because Bayin has gone home for maternity leave, the head nurse in the operating room is now concurrently held by the former head nurse and the current nursing director.

The director of the nursing department stood on one side like a tiger, eyeing the operation of these students, although Zhang Fan was also on the other side. If they violated the aseptic rules, they would be driven out of the operating room, and then they would never do it again in their life.

"Zhang Yuan, I'm coming!" After all the patients were anesthetized, Jin Leshan, the attending physician outside the chest, ran into the operating room.

"Are there many operations today?" Zhang Fan saw the sweat beads on Jin Leshan's forehead and knew that the goods had just been operated on.

"More, several times more than before." Rubbing his white hands covered with gloves, Jin Leshan is ready to brush his hands and change his clothes.

"Seize the opportunity. There are not many such opportunities. Whether you can break your bottleneck depends on this period of time. Thoracic surgery is not sharp yet. It depends on who can jump out first!"

Zhang Fan gently said that Jin Leshan, who originally planned to go home after the operation, solemnly nodded without saying a word. While brushing his hands, he thought about Zhang Yuan's words in his mind.

Then he decided that if he was not going home in the past six months, he should review the general position of hospitalization again.

In medical treatment, especially in large hospitals, there is nothing that can succeed without paying. Especially at the level of governance, just like in the army, step by step. If you can't step on it on time, there will be no future in the future.

For example, if a battalion commander doesn't go up in a certain number of years, what he is waiting for is to take off his military uniform and go home, and so is the chief treatment. If he doesn't take the lead in entering the ranks of deputy directors in the Department at the same time, don't think about it. In the future, the Department Director and discipline leader have nothing to do with you.

At the beginning of the operation, Zhang Fan took the lead and Jin Leshan helped. Four interns were arranged for the operation by Zhang Fan. Originally, two more would be enough, but Zhang fan arranged for four.

The patient was originally a small female patient. He fell in love with six big men at once. It seemed like the so-called meeting.

"Knife!" The director of the nursing department took the stage as an instrument nurse in person.

To tell the truth, the doctors and nurses in the hospital really don't like the operation of infectious patients. Really, in the early years, a hospital encountered an AIDS patient with a car accident fracture, which caused the departments to strike, and then the director of the department took the deputy director to the operation in person.

Sometimes there is no way to say this. Normally, doctors shouldn't do this, but on another thought, what if a person accidentally becomes an occupational exposure, so an unwritten rule gradually formed in the medical industry, who is the leader first.

This is one of the reasons why the chief of surgery is so arrogant.

"Everyone should be careful. Several students should also improve their attention. Don't be careless. This TB patient."

Holding the scalpel, Zhang Fan said softly when he cut the knife.

Then without nonsense, start the operation directly. A large S-shaped incision was made directly in a parallel direction from the lower edge of the patient's scapula, the medial edge and the key line of the spine.

The skin opened gently. The yellow, white and red tissue was like a sandwich of strawberry bread, and the bright red juice slowly flowed out.

Electrocoagulation, gauze and attractor are the same as the barbecue kitchen. To tell the truth, doctors who do more surgery do not need to see the patient. Just smell the smoke from electrocoagulation, you can know the patient's fat and thin.

Thinner patients have a smell of rotten eggs, because there is less fat. After muscle burns, the smell of rotten eggs is emitted after protein burns, while fatter patients have more fat. After electrocoagulation, there is really a smell of fat burning before seasoning is put on the barbecue stand.

The incision continues. After the junction of trapezius muscle and rhomboid muscle, the bone biting forceps directly bite the ribs, and the ribs are broken by cards, cards and cards. Women's thin ribs can easily make a light click like a lamb chop.

After opening the chest cavity, I saw that the chest wall of the patient was covered with pupae like caterpillars before hatching. The cyan gray objects looked particularly strange and pale against the surrounding bright red muscles and blood.

The dense pupae made the hair of a group of interns stand up in an instant, and there was a feeling that this thing could climb onto themselves.

"Come on, you touch it and feel it. This is the beaded lesion of tuberculosis!"

How did the teacher take Zhang Fan back then, and how does Zhang Fan take the students now. It's like the original dermatology department. It's a big move as soon as it comes up!

Chapter 1505

If it is normal to say, the most frightening things that medical undergraduates have seen in school are some specimens in the Department of pathology.

Many people would say it's human anatomy, but it's not. The general teachers of human anatomy are treated. First, there is no skin, and the tissues are decomposed. Moreover, they are dehydrated and soaked in formalin.

Over the years, if there were no more characteristic organs in the head and limbs, you told the new students that it was beef jerky, and they would believe it. It's no exaggeration. The specimens of Undergraduates in medical school look like a lot of beef jerky.

This can play a limited role in learning.

Only after entering pathology can we see some slightly deterrent, such as hydatidiform mole and various tumors, but because they are not fresh, the degree of nausea is not too high, which is for the non-medical industry.

For ordinary people, this thing is still a little scary.

When students enter the hospital and practice, they rarely encounter nausea and can only encounter tragic.

Because during the internship, they will be asked to do what they can, such as going to the emergency department to help lift the patient. Many students are patients who lack arms and legs after several car accidents in the emergency department. From then on, they suddenly have an idea that they must change careers after graduation.

The really disgusting and cruel things, in general, will be contacted bit by bit under the leadership of the teaching teacher only after passing the examination of a licensed doctor.

There are few big moves directly, that is, the wonderful Hospital of tea element, because there are no masters and doctors in school, so that undergraduates can see it early. Generally, this kind of operation will not bring undergraduate interns.

Even if you bring it, you won't be allowed to go to the operating table. You can only stand by the operating table like a quail and take a look at it from a distance under the supervision of itinerant nurses.

To tell the truth, sometimes Chinese education is slightly out of touch in school. How can I say it? For example, many times I can hear the news about what happened to so and so students by their teachers and what happened to so and so students' underwear and socks to their tutors every day.

In fact, in the undergraduate stage of education, teachers still treat students as children, and then wait for students to enter the society. Most of them suddenly don't adapt. They always feel that this society doesn't seem to be the society they have studied for many years.

Like a group of little white rabbits into a forest full of big gray wolves, one was accidentally stripped off.

To tell you how the theories of these undergraduates can be arranged for Zhang Fan, to tell you the truth, they all have good grades on weekdays.

But the gap between theory and practice is 18000 miles, but it's not close. The simplest thing is that bones may be able to distinguish clearly. If blood vessels, ordinary students can't distinguish them at all. For example, if you ask him about a valuable vein, you can say that there are many arteries.

It's no exaggeration at all. It's not that people don't work hard. That's why medical education, three years of study in school, and then start to enter the hospital. One year's internship, one year's internship, and then five years of rotation. To tell the truth, zhennima is late in the medical profession.

Zhang Fan asked four students to touch it. He didn't embarrass them. Tell the truth. He didn't mix water at all. He should be grateful for what he taught you when he left school. Some people may have a bad temper and don't seem to respect others when teaching you.

When some people teach you, they seem to be very impatient. There is always a kind of charity, which makes some young students have a sense of disgust with the people who teach them. After entering society, it is quite good to have hands to teach you.

Many people smile with you, like relatives and brothers. It's no problem to eat meat and drink, or even let him pay. It makes you feel that he is your best brother.

But he just doesn't teach you about work. When you ask, he says, ah, ah, I won't do this. Even when he works, if you come closer, he will stop, afraid of being learned by you.

Medically, yes! A lot more.

Zhang Fan won't. this is also Zhang Fan's throwing knife. Not only is the technology welcome, but also because Zhang Fan teaches people back, which makes doctors like it.

In fact, there is a saying in the Jianghu that was said by a very famous doctor in an extremely developed city in the south.

"With my hands-on teaching, he may not be able to learn it!"

When Zhang Fan said to reach out and touch, four boys, two of them hesitated a little and immediately stretched out their hands.

"Gently, feel it with your finger on the ventral edge, feel its texture and activity, feel the information it sends you, remember it with your brain, and don't forget it all your life. This is tuberculosis beads."

Zhang Fan's voice slowly, like a deep fear of disturbing them, gently but clearly passed into their ears.

Touch the beading with a temperature higher than that of your fingers. With a little force, the beading will move with your fingers, just like a living creature. You want to climb along your fingers towards the back of your hand.

Dense beads are placed on it. With the peristalsis of muscles, the beads like insects keep peristalsis. At the beginning, the two students were a little nervous, but when they touched it, they got used to it.

The other two, whose face was obviously bad, had a sense of movement in their throat. When the two who stroked were over and the remaining two hesitated again, Zhang Fan's body had been straightened and continued the operation.

The two students who didn't touch had a cautious face. When they lost the chance to touch, they became lost and angry, and even had a desire to talk to Zhang Fan.

However, loss is greater than anger. It seems that all of a sudden, looking at the white insect pupa seems to slip away from your eyes, like an opportunity you can't touch anymore.

In fact, society is like this. There are opportunities, but not many people can seize them. Most of the newly graduated students are waiting for the opportunity to feed them to their mouths.

If students choose hospitals, hospitals should also choose students.

Teaching can be popularized, but not all the four or five hundred students can stay in tea. Zhang Fan and his teachers have begun to pay attention.

The operation continued. Zhang Fan had no time to empathize and consider the child's mood or self-esteem. I can't stand the ups and downs. It's also troublesome for him to carry this bowl of rice in the doctor's business in the future.

Beading, which can be said to be a vegetative organism, is familiar to many people. It is estimated that all kinds of small meat loss appear on the body.

Many people pay more attention to their own hygiene and never mix towels and other items, but it's inexplicable to lose small meat. This kind of persistence is not only your own problem, but also your closest people.

Of course, this kind of words, the general doctor will not tell you, will only vaguely say to maintain the unity of sexual partners. After hearing this, the patient seemed to feel that the doctor was questioning his or her quality, patting the table and swearing away!

The beads of tuberculosis are similar to the vegetations of HPV, and don't be smart. They are afraid to hang near blood vessels in rows, and use the least consumption to get the most nutrition.

The dense white beaded vegetations can only be used with a scraper. Pass the long handle scraper to Zhang Fan.

After Zhang Fan got it, he reminded him, "pay attention, there will be splash!"

With that, the operation began.

The scraper fell down from the top, Shua Shua, white liquid and residue like bean curd residue flowed out of the broken beads, and the dull breaking sound was like meat colliding with meat through a layer of cotton cushion.

Brush, brush, scrape every time, Yizhu quickly took the gauze and wiped all the white mucus and residue on the gauze at the first time.

There is really a way to feed yogurt, tofu, and then come out of the mouth. He also has to run around with his white bubbles.

At the beginning, not only the four interns, but also the director of the nursing department frowned, because this thing not only looked uncomfortable, but also had the smell of leftovers.

Watching, the four interns didn't know whether they were used to the taste or what. Their eyes were wide open.

In fact, even if they are interns, they know the great arteries and veins. See Zhang Fan holding a curette, fast near the main artery, Shua along the artery, Shua along the artery.

Look, they're all a little scared. If this thing deviates a little by a millimeter or two, the end will be like a fireworks fountain.

The more you look, the more surprised you are. The more you look, the more you feel that your hands can't help but want to stop Zhang Fan's continued action.

.....

This kind of operation is either very difficult or laborious. It took more than six hours to close the chest after entering the operating room after work.

After the operation, Zhang Fan directly asked Jin Leshan, "have you reported dinner?"

Under normal circumstances, doctors who have surgery can report the number of good people to the canteen in advance, and then have surgery without money.

"I'm too busy today. I forgot!"

"Then you have to invite them to dinner later!" Zhang Fan said with a smile and then got off the operating table.

As for treatment, there is no need for him to talk nonsense. If he still needs his advice, he will be a failure as the dean.

In the canteen, Jin Leshan paid for a five yuan ticket. However, there are few people. The director of the nursing department will certainly not follow Jin Leshan to rub rice. If Zhang Fan, she might come back and let Xiao Jin forget it.

The anesthesiologist will not come either. He will go home, and the elderly itinerant nurse will be more anxious to go home. Otherwise, the family will either drink or play cards. She will go back to fight.

Therefore, four interns followed Jin Leshan to the canteen.

After entering the canteen, the interns were stunned by the scene in front of them. God, the canteen even has braised cow tail and a large plate of chicken. What's more, it's unlimited.

In fact, they came late. If they came earlier, they would be more surprised.
